

Marry Ex's Uncle After Divorcement

Chapter 551-600

Chapter 551

She even gave birth to kids for another man, but... didn't want to have anything to do with him at all!

She was just saying this to prove that she didn't have any interest in him, wasn't she?

She really had double standards for treating him and other men!

In that case, he said the words without concern for what she would think.

Hearing Charlie's words, Theresa almost laughed out of anger at him.

She said angrily to Charlie, "We're getting divorced, so naturally I can't have kids for you. Mr. Calsis, you're not the kind of man who would change his mind about a woman just because of a child? And I don't think you like Leonard and Ben very much."

"So, you have kids for Roderick because he likes kids?"

Theresa didn't know how the conversation had come to this!

He even made up her kids with Roderick.

Now it was as if she had actually cheated on him and ever had a child with Roderick!

She was so dizzy that she didn't want to argue with him meaninglessly here, so, she said, "Maybe so and I'm going back."

With that, she took her phone and jacket and left his room.

Charlie stood in place. Seeing her back as she closed the door of the room behind her and went out, he clenched his fingers into fists so hard that his bones were squeezed and clicked. When Theresa returned to her room, Leonard and Ben were both asleep.

Cristina had gone to hang out with Eugene and hadn't returned yet. In order not to disturb Leonard and Ben, Theresa quietly went to the bathroom and took a shower.

Standing in front of the mirror, she saw the marks he had made on her body... Her skin was white and thin, and the places he had touched were bruised.

He was so drunk that he didn't know how to treat her lightly.

Theresa stood aside. Thinking about the argument she just had with him, she sighed helplessly. Actually, it's better this way!

She was a little unsure how to face him after doing this ridiculous thing with him before the two were going to divorce.

She couldn't sleep, so, she went to the hot spring on the terrace and took a dip.

This hotel was in the mountains. At this point, there was no one around. In winter, it's cold outdoors, but this spring was so warm that she didn't want to come out of it.

Soaking in the hot spring, Theresa was a little confused when she thought about Charlie. She suddenly realized that she had actually... slept with Charlie.

She couldn't drink as much as she wanted to in the future. It was ridiculous!

In the morning, when the two kids were still sleeping, Theresa got up and went downstairs. As she checked in, she saw a drugstore right in front of the hotel.

She was uneasy and thought she'd better go get some birth control pills.

She was not very comfortable because she drank too much wine last night, so she also bought some medicine for her headache. She was about to go back when she saw Jonathan walking. Seeing Theresa, Jonathan said, "Mrs. Calsis, good morning."

Theresa was a little surprised to see him, "What are you doing here?"

"Mr. Calsis drank too much wine last night and had a headache, so I came to buy him medicine for his headache. Huh, you've already bought them for him?"

When Jonathan saw the medicine for headache and sobriety in her hand, his eyes lit up. He didn't think Mrs. Calsis was still quite concerned about Mr. Calsis!

Hearing his words, Theresa looked at him, and then took apart the medicine and gave some to him, "Here you are."

Jonathan said, "Thank you, Mrs. Calsis. Would you like to see Mr. Calsis?"

Theresa shook her head at his words, "No."

The two of them fought last night and she didn't know what to say if she saw him now.

So, it was better for her not to go!

Jonathan didn't force her and he took the medicine back to the hotel. And the two parted at the elevator.

Theresa went back to her room.

In Charlie's room, Jonathan handed the medicine to Charlie and said, "This medicine was bought by Mrs. Calsis for you."

Charlie froze for a moment when he heard this and looked at Jonathan with suspicious looks in his eyes.

It was bought by Theresa.

Chapter 552

Chapter 552

Jonathan said, "Mrs. Calsis is still very concerned about you, otherwise she would not buy medicine for you early in the morning for worrying that you are not feeling well." At this hour, the drugstore was just opening.

Charlie remembered what happened last night... and a little hope surfaced in his eyes. Could it be that... she regretted treating him that badly?

He reached over and took the medicine. Taking a sip of water to swallow the medicine, he turned to Jonathan and asked, "How does she look?" He just hoped she had some conscience.

Jonathan said, "She's fine, and I saw her at the drugstore."

Charlie immediately responded, "Are you sure she was there to buy me medicine?"

Obviously, it was Jonathan who thought too much!

She was most likely buying birth control pills at the drugstore at this time.

He looked at the time and realized she was in a real hurry!

"Uh..." Jonathan said, "She can't be buying it for someone else?"

"That's very possible."

After what happened last night, he could already be sure that she didn't have him in her heart.

No matter what happened between him and her, Theresa would never love him.

The thought of it depressed Charlie.

Theresa went back to her room, took some medicine, and lay down peacefully.

It was a knock on the door that eventually woke her up.

She opened her eyes and Ben had gone to open the door, "Uncle Roderick."

Roderick stood in the doorway and looked at the little one that was already fully dressed, "Where's your mom?"

"Shh, my mom's still sleeping." Ben lowered his voice and was afraid Roderick would wake her

Roderick said, "Do you want to go for breakfast? I'll take you there."

He knew they must have had a lot to drink last night, and at this moment, Eugene and Cristina were also sleeping...

Ben heard this and said, "I'll tell my mom."

When he finished, he walked over. Theresa was already awake and turned to him, saying, "Go to eat with your Uncle Roderick!"

Ben said, "Mom, you are already awake? Are you feeling sick after drinking last night? Do you have a headache? Do you need us to buy you medicine?"

"I've already taken medicine." Theresa was impressed with her son's thoughtfulness, "Go ahead."

She was just in time to be lazy.

Ben said, "Then we're going. Bye."

He came over to kiss Theresa on the cheek and tucked her in with his little hand before he left.

She felt very heartwarming.

The two little ones used to need to be watched every step of the way, but now they could go.

outside on their own with someone in tow.

Theresa could be quiet for a while.

Soon they were out the door.

She went back to sleep.

Until Cristina came back.

Cristina took her clothes out of the duffel bag, and stood in front of the mirror to change, saying to Theresa, "Aren't you up yet? You drank less than I did last night, so why did you still sleep?" Theresa sat down on the bed and rubbed her long, messy hair, "I went downstairs this morning to buy some medicine for my headache, and I got a little sleepy after taking it."

Cristina took a look at the medicine Theresa had placed on the table and said, "Well! You're a lightweight. Unlike me, I can drink as much as I want and not get drunk."

"So why did you still go with Eugene?"

Theresa raises an eyebrow. Cristina was very good at bragging.

Cristina, "

Chapter 553

Chapter 553

She came over and leaned over Theresa, "Tess, you're making me so humiliated. I was drunk last night. Not only did you not bring me back, but you also let me get taken away by Eugene." "What's wrong? Did he bully you?" Theresa looked at her.

Cristina said, "No... He said I would only annoy him when I was drunk. Do you want to go down. to eat something? It's time for lunch. Eugene told me to get dressed and call you down to eat. Where are Leonard and Ben?"

"With Dr. Hill."

"Dr. Hill is so nice." Cristina said, "He's good to the kids. Why don't you just be with him in the future? Anyway, you're divorced from Charlie."

"Do you think that's possible?" Theresa was speechless at these bad ideas of hers, "You were the one who got me together with Charlie before. Don't mess things up!"

After she finished, she pinched Cristina's face, pushed her away, and got up from the bed.

"Holy shit!" Cristina stood behind Theresa in surprise, "Tess, you went on a fling last night?" Theresa was stunned for a moment when she heard this and hurried to put her clothes on.

Damn. She had forgotten about this.

However, it was too late to hide it.

Cristina had pounced on her and grabbed her arm, "Tell me what's going on, honestly. Was it made by Dr. Hill? Did you sleep with Dr. Hill?"

She thought it was a good possibility.

After all, Dr. Hill was very gentle and took good care of the two kids.

They all drank quite a lot last night, and Roderick was the only one who was sober. When he came back with the two kids, you might...

Theresa really admired her great imagination, "Don't talk nonsense and ruin Dr. Hill's reputation."

"Who was that man?" Cristina said, "Bad woman, you're trying to hide it from me again. If I hadn't found out about it, were you not going to tell me about this?"

Theresa pursed her lips, grabbed her clothes, and went to the bathroom. After changing her clothes, she washed her face and put on some skin care products, After that, she walked out.

Cristina kept her eyes on her and said, "How are you feeling?"

"What are you talking about?" Being stared at by her, Theresa was speechless.

Cristina said, "I mean... your feeling about having sex?"

Theresa's lips twitched, "What? I have nothing to say about this."

"I just want to know. Come on, tell me." Cristina shook her arm.

Theresa said, "I was drunk and I don't remember anything."

"Was it Charlie?" asked Cristina, who had just guessed for a long time. Since it wasn't Roderick whom she slept with, it was Charlie.

Tsk...

Tess, who was usually so cautious, slept with Charlie due to drinking.

Theresa said, "Are you going to eat?"

"Yes."

The two exited the room and went to the elevator. When the elevator arrived, they walked in and ran into Jonathan and Charlie inside.

He had just gotten up too. Eugene called him to go down for lunch, and he was just now finishing up and coming down.

As soon as Theresa saw him, she felt herself immediately become nervous.

He wore a turtleneck sweater with a black suit jacket over it, giving people a feeling of being ascetic.

Jonathan stood beside him and greeted Theresa kindly, "Mrs. Calsis."

Theresa responded, "Hmm."

And then she said nothing more.

Chapter 554

Chapter 554

There were just four people in the elevator and Cristina had thought the two would say something after what happened between them, but it turned out that..... Why didn't they say a word?

Especially Charlie, stood there looking ahead and did not take the initiative to say hello as if he did not see

Theresa.

Scumbagggg!

He was a scumbag!

With anger rising from her heart of Cristina, she looked at Charlie and said, "Isn't this Mr. Calsis? Did you drink too much wine last night that you can't speak?" He was so bad that he pretended to be cool after sleeping with Theresa.

He could look down on Theresa and dislike her past, but he had no explanation for when he took advantage of her when he was drunk.

He now was even more irresponsible than Eugene, and even worse than Eugene the scumbag.

After a glance at Cristina who showed no respect to Charlie, Jonathan spoke up. "Ms. Lagarde, you're overdoing it, and Mr. Calsis isn't feeling well now."

"Yes, he's not feeling well!" Cristina said, "Theresa isn't feeling well either. Even if they are divorced, they are not enemies, right? Shouldn't he say hello when he sees Theresa? And they are not divorced yet."

Theresa felt a headache when she heard Cristina's words. She tugged on Cristina's hand and said, "Cristina, stop it."

Cristina couldn't see her suffer a bit, but Theresa didn't want Cristina to say anything for her about what happened last night.

Charlie finally glanced at Cristina and said, "All you do is fool around with Eugene every day. And as a mother, you almost forgot that Leonard and Ben are your kids."

Theresa and Roderick were taking care of the kids all day yesterday, and as for Cristina, she didn't put her mind on the kids at all.

Cristina,"

She was speechless, looking at Charlie and saying, "Didn't you take the kids away? Why do you blame me now?"

You want to give them back to me? That's fine! I just want to take them away."

When she let the kids go back to the Calsis family, she wanted Theresa and Charlie to stay together so that the kids could have a complete home.

But now, both of them had signed the divorce agreement, and they would be divorced quickly.

The kids certainly did not need to stay in the Calsis family anymore.

Charlie said, "You don't deserve to be the mother of the kids!"

"So do you!" Cristina said, "You, the kids' father are not as good as Roderick is to the both kids."

After saying that, Cristina walked straight out of the elevator that had stopped.

Seeing that, Theresa followed out.

After following up with Cristina, she gave Cristina a look and whispered, "What are you doing? Why are you talking to Charlie about this?" She was speechless.

Theresa suspected that if she said any more, she was going to blurt out everything.

Cristina said angrily, "I just don't like that look on him. After taking advantage of you, he still pretended to be cool and didn't even say hello to you."

"I'll take care of my own business with him. Don't make a mess. Please!" Theresa finished and shook her hand. Looking at her with a pitiful look in her eyes, Cristina said, "Okay, I'll do as you say." When they got to the restaurant, Eugene and Roderick were there.

Leonard and Ben saw Theresa, "Mom."

Theresa sat down next to the two kids and Cristina sat down next to Theresa. Cristina looked at the two little ones and rubbed their cheeks, "Where did you go this morning?"

Roderick laughed, "I took them to the hot tub to play in the water for a while, and the two little ones were so happy."

Cristina said, "I haven't been to the hot tub yet. Theresa, let's go later."

Theresa nodded, "Okay."

Charlie walked over and Ben saw him, "Dad."

Chapter 555

Chapter 555

Looking at the two little ones who got up early in the morning and went out to play with Roderick, Charlie remembered Theresa saying that he didn't like kids and wasn't good for them... Every word she said made him so upset.

Eugene looked over at Charlie and greeted him, "Mr. Calsis, did you sleep well last night?"

Charlie would drink so much last night largely because of Eugene.

Hearing Eugene's words, Theresa felt her face heating up.

Although Eugene was just greeting Charlie, Theresa couldn't help but think more about it.

Eugene turned to Charlie and said, "Mr. Calsis, you weren't drunk last night?"

Charlie, of course, would not admit that he was drunk, "Yes."

"Then let's drink some more tonight."

"That's fine."

"That's enough of you." Roderick said, "Are you guys out for drinking? It's enough to drink once in a while and it's not good to drink every day."

Eugene said, "What's wrong with that? If everyone was like you, the wine sellers wouldn't be able to sell their wine!"

Roderick laughed, "Then you guys keep drinking, and I'll go back this afternoon."

"Why are you leaving so soon?" Eugene looked at him.

Roderick said, "There are some things at the hospital that need to be dealt with by me."

Theresa said, "I'm going back tonight, too."

She had stayed until now because she had asked Mr. Garson for leave.

Mr. Garson had just called her and told her to go back today anyway.

Dick needed her so much that he was going to get mad if he couldn't sleep well.

Charlie sat aside. Hearing Theresa's words, he looked over at her, "You're going back too?"

With Roderick?

Theresa was afraid that he would think too much, so, she explained, "I have some things to do and you guys can play a little longer over here. After all, you have come over."

It's the weekend, so, it's not too late for them to go back tomorrow morning.

"Why don't I know you have something to do?" Charlie looked over at her.

She hadn't even bothered to hide her relationship with Roderick in front of him anymore since they signed the divorce agreement?

Theresa said, "Of course, I have something to do with work."

Hearing her words, Charlie gave a cold laugh, "Are you sure you want to go to work? Or do you just want to go with Roderick?"

When he said this, Raderick, who was sitting on the side, went angry, "Charlie, you're overdoing it. Theresa and I am not the kind of relationship you think we are."

"Really?" Charlie said, "I have eyes, with which I can see. Forget it. You guys eat and I'm not eating!"

He finished and stood up, "I'll go back first."

He had thought that he could keep Theresa and the kids' company if they were going to play over here for a while longer

But he now realized that there was no need for that!

Charlie turned to Leonard and Ben and said, "Leonard, Ben, you two come back with me."

Of course, he would take his kids with him so as not to let them stay here to be the third wheel for Theresa and Roderick

Ben sat in his seat, looking at Charlie, and saying, "Dad, you're not going to eat?"

Charlie said, "Yes, I'll go back to eat."

He really couldn't eat here.

Ben looked at Charlie, "But... I want to be with my mom."

Chapter 556

Chapter 556

Hearing Ben's words, Charlie glanced at Theresa and said to Ben, "From now on, she's not your mother because she doesn't want you guys anymore!"

"You're lying!" Leonard looked at Charlie, "My mom wants me, and she just doesn't want you. I'm not going with you and I'm going with my mom."

After saying that, he tugged Theresa's hand.

Charlie watched the scene and just felt the corners of his mouth twitch.

This little ass-kicker!

He realized that he had really indulged Leonard too much.

That's why Leonard didn't take him so seriously.

Charlie walked straight over and picked Leonard up.

He was so tall that Leonard was just a tiny one in front of him. When Leonard, who didn't like Charlie in the first place, was picked up by him, Leonard struggled desperately. "Let go of me, big bad!" "Big bad? The teacher has been teaching you every day, and that's what you've learned?"

Cristina said, "Charlie, you're going too far. He may be a child, but he has the right to make his own choices. He said he doesn't want to go with you, so, who are you to force him?" "Who am I?" Charlie said, "I'm his father."

"You don't deserve it," Cristina sneered, "Have you ever taken care of him for a day since he was born? You haven't! You now want to be his father, but he doesn't even like you!" "I'm his father whether he likes me or not." Charlie glanced at Leonard, and he also didn't want to do that to his son.

But what could he do?

Theresa didn't want the kids. After their divorce, of course, the kids had to be raised by him, and he couldn't really give them to Roderick.

And he certainly couldn't give the kids back to Cristina.

Now, he had to do his part to take them away.

Leonard said, "You're not my father! I don't want to be with you, and I want to be with my mother."

He struggled.

Roderick said, "Charlie, don't do this! Do you know how much damage you'll do to Leonard by doing this?" With a glance at Theresa, Charlie ignored Roderick and walked out the door with a child in one hand. Cristina came over and stood next to Theresa, "Theresa, what should we do? Charlie is crazy!" Theresa glanced at Jonathan, who said, "Mrs. Calsis, I'll go back first."

Seeing this, Theresa followed them.

Charlie's driver had already parked the car at the door, and the two kids were shoved into the car. Theresa stood at the door, looked at the two kids who did not want to go with him, and said to Charlie, "Charlie why do you have to take it out on the kids when you're angry with me?"

Charlie said, "I didn't take it out on the kids, and I just didn't want to keep them here to cause you any trouble. We're divorced and they have nothing to do with you anymore"

Theresa,

She suddenly didn't know what to say, but she knew Charlie was just thinking from his position. He didn't know that the two kids were hers.

Theresa said, "I'll take them back when I get back this afternoon, and you can also go back that time." "That won't be necessary" Charlie said, "I'm not happy here and I'm afraid I'll do something in front of will displease you. And there's no way I can guarantee that I can control my jealousy perfectly." Theresa knew he just misunderstood her relationship with Roderick, so, she explained, "I have nothing to do with Roderick. You should know that! Can you not make up my relationship with other men?"

Charlie said. "But you took the pills in the morning promptly."

She went to buy birth control pills early in the morning, didn't she?

Theresa looked over at him, "What? Me taking pills upset you? What happened last night was an accident and I don't think you would want me to actually have another child for you. In your words, we each have two kids. Do you still want another one?"

She was really speechless. Why was he so angry about this?

Charlie said, "I don't mind having too many kids."

Chapter 557

Chapter 557

"I mind. You think having a baby is a joke?" She looked over at him and said in a consultative tone, "Put Leonard down, and he'll hate you if you keep doing that. You two have a bad relationship already. Do you want to make it worse? You weren't around when he was born. Do you want to leave him with such an image as his father?"

"I prefer not to have him forget who his father is in the future. Don't worry, I will take care of him and let him know who is his father."

Charlie had already made up his mind to get on well with Leonard.

Theresa looked at him, and for a moment she didn't know how to refute him. She knew he was getting serious now, so it was hard for her to persuade him. She said. "Then you let me have a word with them both."

Hearing this, Charlie did not refuse Theresa's suggestion.

Theresa opened the car door and Leonard ran over, "Mom."

He hugged Theresa tightly.

He was so angry with Charlie that he cried.

Theresa lowered her head and looked at him tenderly, "You go back with Dad first."

"No. He's a big bad guy and I don't want to stay with him."

"I have work to do this afternoon, and I'll be back when I'm done. It's a good time for you to spend more time with your dad. Leonard, he is your dad!"

If you didn't stay with him now, you wouldn't have a chance to stay with him later.

When Theresa thought of this, her eyes were already red.

She had already signed the divorce agreement with Charlie, and when she thought that her two kids would never see their father, she felt quite uncomfortable.

Leonard didn't get along well with Charlie and he was still young to understand this.

When he understood later, he would find out what a life regret it was for his dad to be absent from his world for so long. Theresa said, "Your dad was immature, but Leonard, you are a big boy, and you have to take good care of him. Hmm?" Hearing Theresa's words, Leonard looked up at her, his eyes red.

Theresa held out her hand and pinky swear with him.

Leonard looked at Theresa's expectant eyes and reluctantly put his hand out, "Then you come back early."

"Got it," Theresa said with a smile.

As long as Leonard was okay with it, Ben was easy to persuade because he liked his dad, and he understood when Theresa was talking to Leonard. After talking to the two kids and making sure they didn't cry anymore, Theresa closed the car door and looked up at Charlie, "That's okay"

Charlie stood aside and looked at Theresa, "You're more like their mom than Cristina."

The two kids listened to Theresa too much.

. " The words stunned Theresa.

She was supposed to be their mom!

She was now worried that Charlie would get suspicious. Fortunately, Charlie didn't think much of it, "Go back."

After saying that, he opened the car door and got into the car

Jonathan stood by, having expected them to have a big fight, but he didn't expect Theresa to get Charlie so quickly.

He breathed a sigh of relief and said to Theresa, "Mrs. Calsis, we'll go first."

"Bye."

After watching their car drive away. Theresa returned to the restaurant and saw Daphne who came over and was chatting with Roderick. Seeing Theresa come back, Cristina asked, "How was it?"

Chapter 558

Chapter 558

"It's okay." Theresa said, "I asked Charlie to take Leonard and Ben back first."

"Why don't you bring them back? Leonard and Ben are so pathetic." Cristina now really didn't like Charlie.

Looking at Cristina's nervous and excited look, Eugene stuffed a bun in her mouth. Cristina looked at him with wide eyes and took the bun off, "You're crazy!" "Mindless about other people's business." Eugene said, "Hurry up to finish eating, and then let's go back to sleep! I didn't sleep well last night, and I'm sleepy."

When Cristina heard Eugene's words, her face darkened, "What are you talking about? I didn't do anything with you last night."

He deliberately made it sound as if the two of them had done something unseemly.

Eugene said, "I mean you kept making noise last night when you were drunk and I didn't sleep well. Did I say anything else?"

Cristina couldn't resist pinching him. This scumbag... was going too far.

Looking at the two, Daphne smiled and asked Theresa, "Theresa, is Charlie okay?"

"He should be fine." Theresa said, "Don't worry, and I've talked to him."

"That's okay."

Daphne said, "Actually, I think Charlie cares about you quite a bit, which is why he cares so much about your relationship with other men."

She had just heard that Charlie misunderstood Theresa's relationship with Roderick.

Everyone knew it was impossible, but Charlie thought it was true. It could only be said that he was caring about

Theresa too much.

Daphne's words stunned Theresa and she nodded. Maybe so.

After lunch, everyone went to rest.

Theresa and Cristina went to the hot spring. Luckily there were not many people and only she and Cristina were in the girls' hot tub...

After the spa, Theresa went back to her hotel room.

Cristina went to Eugene's room to get her things.

Because she dropped her things at Eugene's last night.

After the hot tub with Roderick, Eugene just returned, sitting on the couch in his bathrobe. When he saw Cristina coming, he picked up her bracelet and said, "Are you going back with Theresa later?" Cristina nodded, "Yeah. I came with her. You still want to play over here?"

Eugene came over and stood beside her, hugging her, "Crisy, you're going with me."

Cristina was stunned by his gentleness, and her fingers froze on either side of him.

She remembered that Theresa had told her about Eugene's desire to marry her.

She took a deep breath before she got herself under control and pushed him away, "Stop it."

She lowered her eyes and tried to put the bracelet on her hand, but she failed after a few attempts, making her a little messy.

Eugene reached out with his long fingers to help her put it on

He looked at her and said, "Crisy, since we're all unmarried, how about you marry me? I heard that if we get married recently, we can get a $100 red packet from each of them."

"Cristina heard his words and said, "Eugene, are you crazy? Why would I marry you? I wouldn't marry you!! Just for those hundred dollars? I'm not that poor. Do you think I'm still the same as before and that I'll be touched by you with just a few words?"

"Are you sure you won't consider marrying me?" When he pulled out a velvet box from his pocket, Cristina instantly felt a little dizzy.

She could probably figure out what was inside the box, so, she grabbed his hand to stop him before he could open it. "Don't open it and I don't want to see the thing in it because I'm not mentally prepared to accept this."

So, when are you going to be ready?"

"Eugene, why are you treating me like this?" Cristina broke down and looked at him, "If you love me, why did leave without saying anything before? If you don't love me, what are you doing here now? You think that I would wait for you forever? There may be that kind of silly woman, but I am not forever.

Chapter 559

Chapter 559

She used to really fancy him, believe he was a good man, and believe he would always be by her side...

But he abandoned her just as ruthlessly as that woman.

Cristina said, "Since I was a child, I have known that marriage and love are the most unreliable in the world which will only make everything a tragedy and will only leave kids born without parents from an early age. After my dad had a new family, he almost forgot me, his daughter... No one cares if I'm living well and no one could be relied on, except Theresa."

Eugene looked at her, knowing that she was just like a fragile little girl inside, "Crisy."

Cristina said, "I won't give you another chance and it's you who gave up on our relationship."

If she was with such an irresponsible person, she would regret it later.

Eugene was about to say something when his cell phone rang. Picking up the phone and looking at it, he frowned. Then he opened the door to the balcony and went outside to answer the phone. Cristina looked at him through the window glass. This man even remembered to close the door behind him when he was on the phone, in case she heard him. Was such a man worth marrying? No, he wasn't!

She came out of his room with red eyes.

Theresa had already put things away. When she saw Cristina come in and sit down on the bed, she asked,

"What's wrong with you? Did Eugene make you angry again?"

Cristina lowered her head and lay down on her pillow, not saying anything.

Before leaving the hotel, Theresa came to say goodbye to Daphne. Theresa put both her and Cristina's luggage in the car as Daphne said, "Remember to contact me when you come over next time." Theresa said, "Okay, I'll treat you to dinner when you get back."

Daphne nodded her head.

Cristina said, "Bye, Daphne."

When she finished, she opened the door and got into the car.

Daphne said, "What's wrong with Cristina? Is she in a bad mood?"

"That's what she is." Theresa said, "She's just childish and it's okay."

After saying that, Theresa was ready to get into the car when she suddenly saw Eugene walking by.

He carried not much luggage to the car. Theresa wanted to talk to him, but he just got in the car and left without saying a word.

Roderick came over, glancing at Theresa, and saying. "Just go and be careful on the road."

Theresa nodded, "Yeah. What happened to Eugene?"

"I don't know. He didn't say anything when I saw him just now and he seemed to be in a hurry."

All right.

Theresa said, "We're off. Bye."

Theresa and Roderick's car came out of the hotel one after the other. Because there were few cars on this side,

They separated only when they reached the city.

Theresa drove Cristina home first and then went to Dick's place.

It was right at the end of the day and Jimmy had just come down from upstairs. As he was about to go home, he saw Theresa.

She's here again?

What the hell was this woman doing over here?

Jimmy was curious about her presence here.

He watched her get into the elevator and go upstairs...

Jimmy had been ready to go back, but after he saw Theresa, he sat in the car instead of driving away.

He waited for a long time until Theresa came down from upstairs.

It was probably about an hour or so.

This woman...

She was so close to Rawlins. Could she have something to do with Rawlins?

She had already found another man before she divorced Charlie?

And she didn't mind that Rawlins was so old!

Theresa reached the car and was about to get out when Jimmy suddenly got out of the car. "Theresa." She looked back and saw this man standing at the side of the car looking her over. She said, "What's wrong with you?"

Chapter 560

Chapter 560

There weren't many people in the underground garage, so, Theresa felt some panic.

She wasn't afraid of Jimmy, but she was not willing to be alone with him in a place like this as she was almost strangled to death by this man who had the potential for violence the last time.

Looking at her eyes filled with fear towards him, Jimmy was stunned for a moment. She was afraid of him?

She was afraid of him?

Thinking of this, he did not feel smug in his heart but felt angry instead. How could she be afraid of him?

As he walked forward, Theresa warned him, "Don't come over, or I'll call Mr. Garson who will be down at any time. At that time, you may not be able to continue to work in this company." Jimmy didn't want to do anything with her, and just asked, "Are you that afraid of me?"

He found it quite ironic.

She fancied him so much before!

And now she's afraid of him!

Theresa said, "I'm going back."

After she finished, she was about to get into the car.

Jimmy asked anxiously, "What is your relationship with Mr. Garson?"

Hearing his words, Theresa stopped her hand from opening the door and said, "This has nothing to do with you.

Why do I have to explain it to you?"

She didn't want Jimmy to know about what she was doing.

She also had no obligation to tell him.

Jimmy said, "You slept with him?"

Hearing these words, Theresa was stunned. She looked at Jimmy feeling disgusted, "Jimmy, can't you think of something nice? You think everyone is like you?" What the hell was he thinking?

He thought she had that kind of relationship with Mr. Garson.

Jimmy said, "Your orbits didn't touch. I can't imagine any reason for him to treat you so well if you didn't sleep. with him!"

That day, Mr. Garson even sent someone to drive her home.

Jimmy didn't think much about it at the time, but now the more he thought about it, the more disgusting he felt

She used to be such a proud person!

Now she had become like this.

Hearing his words, Theresa glared at him, "I have said I'm not obligated to explain to you and it's none of your business."

When she finished, she opened the door and got in the car, locking the car door behind her.

She backed her car out of the parking space, but Jimmy stopped at the intersection and seemed to be trying to say something to her. She didn't show any mercy and drove straight at him. But luckily, Jimmy dodged quickly. Jimmy stared in shock at the car driving away. If he was right, this woman had just tried to hit him?

Damn it!

This bitch....

She was really cruel to him now!

Theresa also felt strange. She was a good-tempered person, but when she saw Jimmy, she really wanted him to die.

Even if he was run over, she also felt that he deserved it.

The atmosphere in the study today was very depressing. Charlie was reading the file, while Leonard and Ben were sitting next to him reading books, without anyone talking. Leonard was just staring at the book as if he was looking at it very seriously.

It's a pity that.....

He hadn't turned the pages for a long time.

Charlie looked at him, "What are you doing?"

Noticing that Charlie's gaze fell on him, Leonard raised his head to look at Charlie and lowered it again. Even if Leonard didn't say a word, Charlie knew that the brat was throwing a tantrum because Leonard was upset with him.

Charlie said, "Is that how you read books? Look how much Ben has read, and how much you've read."

The two of them read the book together. Leonard had only read less than ten pages, while Ben was already halfway through his book.

Hearing Charlie's words, Leonard said, "I'm thinking."

Hearing this, Charlie put down what he was holding and looked at the little guy, "You can still think? What are you thinking about?" "I'm thinking about why kids can't choose their dad and why I have to look like you."

Chapter 561

Chapter 561

Charlie's face darkened, "Do you want me to beat you up?"

Really, he didn't know why Ben was well-behaved while Leonard was always touching his bottom line with them looking the same.

Leonard felt aggrieved as his son?

Leonard grunted, "Suit yourself! You can only bully kids. I'll grow up too."

Ben sat aside and watched the two. Oooh, why hadn't mom come back yet.

Fearing that Charlie would really beat Leonard, he tried to ease the atmosphere, "Dad, do you want some water? I'll go get you some water, okay?"

Compared with Leonard, Ben was simply gentle and cute.

Charlie glanced at Ben and said, "Keep reading your book."

Ben then looked to Leonard, "How about we switch books to read?"

Leonard, "..."

Knowing that Ben was trying to protect him, he stopped talking.

Charlie sat down, looked at Leonard, and asked, "You hate me that much?"

Leonard nodded his head heavily, "Yeah."

He even admitted it!

Staring speechlessly at the ceiling, Charlie looked at him and asked patiently, "Why?"

"There's no reason."

"There must be a reason when you hate someone."

He could see that Leonard not only hated him but was very disgusted with him.

Glancing at Charlie, Leonard wanted to say something but did not.

Charlie said, "You can just say it. If you don't say, I wouldn't know what I could do to make a change even if I wanted to."

"You will make the change?" Leonard looked at him, skeptical of what he was saying.

Charlie nodded his head.

Of course, he would make the change! He's not that insensitive!

"Then you should be nice to my mom."

Charlie," That's not possible."

It's impossible to get him to be nice to Cristina.

Leonard looked at Charlie in disappointment. With an 'I knew it look, he bowed his head.

Charlie said, "That's why you hate me?"

Leonard didn't say anything.

As long as Charlie didn't treat his mom well, he would never forgive Charlie or like Charlie for the rest of his life.

Charlie knew he was acquiescing.

All right!

He felt that he and Leonard would never be able to reconcile in this lifetime.

Just then, Leonard suddenly got out of his chair and ran to the window, "My mom was back!"

He suddenly became relaxed.

Looking at him like this, Charlie felt that he was simply unreasonable.

Leonard was closer to Theresa, his stepmother than to him, Leonard's father.

The housekeeper went to park Theresa's car, while Theresa grabbed her things and entered the door. She had just come out of the elevator when she saw Leonard standing at the door waiting for her as if he had been there for a long time.

She walked up to Leonard and said, "Have you eaten yet?"

"Not yet"

"Why aren't you eating?"

"I was waiting for you."

After saying that, he came over and hugged Theresa's leg.

Theresa said, "Let me put the bag down first."

Leonard reached over and helped Theresa take the bag over, "Let me help you."

Theresa looked at her son and said, "Thanks."

Charlie came out of the study just in time to see Leonard following Theresa around like a tail.

Chapter 562

Chapter 562

Seeing the two, Ben also left Charlie behind and ran over.

The two little ones surrounded her.

He found that when she was around, the two little ones were much happier.

He really didn't know how to live after she was gone.

Putting her things down, Theresa changed her clothes and took a shower before bringing her two sons down from upstairs for dinner.

Seeing Charlie sitting at the table, with a cool look on his face, she didn't know what he was thinking.

Theresa saw him and said, "You haven't eaten either?"

"Yes."

"Why don't you eat too?" Theresa complained, "You should eat with the kids, and you're not a kid anymore." Charlie gave her a look and said, "Look at Leonard. Do you think he looks like he's planning to eat? When I look at his face, i feel angry."

He was not even hungry anymore

Theresa," "

Did he not know that he looked like Leonard?

It's like he was badmouthing himself.

Forget it. Since she was going to take the two kids away, she would not take it seriously with him.

After Brenda brought the food over, Theresa took care of the two kids to eat. Once Theresa appeared, the two kids' faces changed obviously. The more he thought about it, the more he felt it was unfair. Why did these two little ones look like cute angels in front of her?

Theresa ate her meal. When she finished eating, she noticed Charlie was staring at her. She froze for a moment and wiped her face, but did not find anything, so, she asked, "Why are you looking at me?" Charlie said, "I just thought it was creepy."

I don't know what you mean."

Charlie said, "Have you ever thought about what will happen to these two kids when you're gone?"

Charlie's words made Theresa's heart twitch.

She didn't tell him she was taking the kids away.

Charlie didn't seem to have thought about it.

Looking into his eyes, she wondered if this thing was too cruel to him.

When Theresa didn't say anything, Charlie said, "You think it's cruel too, don't you?"

Theresa kept her sanity, fearing that she would be bewitched by him, "You will marry later!"

And naturally, he would have kids with his new wife.

He wouldn't only have two kids, Leonard and Ben.

And he didn't spend much time with these two kids since they were born.

All the Calsis family cared about was that the two kids were Charlie's kids, not because of any deep affection for them.

When she thought about it, Theresa felt better.

Charlie lowered his head and looked at her. Feeling a little guilty from continued eating. look,

Theresa lowered her head and

Jimmy arrived home in the evening. Seeing his return, Rose took the initiative to welcome him, "Honey, you're back?"

Jimmy gave her a look and responded indifferently, "Hmm."

After he changed his shoes, Rose asked, "Have you eaten yet?"

Jimmy had not been very happy since the last time she ruined his favorite suit by ironing it. Plus, he had just joined the company and was busy every day, so, they hadn't had any communication. Jimmy said, "No."

He stepped aside and sat down.

Rose said, "Look what I've got for you."

Jimmy looked at her in disbelief, and within a few moments, he saw her bring over a new suit from the side, much like the one that was ruined last time, with just a few differences in detail.

"What's this?"

Rose said, "I'm sorry I ruined your dress last time. After two days of shopping, I finally got one very similar to yours! Look, is this one the same as the suit you have?"

She knew he wasn't happy, so she ran off to the mall to shop. Until her feet were worn out, she finally bought a suit particularly similar to the one he had. Jimmy said, "Childish."

He didn't know how to tell her it wasn't just about a suit.

She wouldn't think it would be enough for her to buy a new suit?

Chapter 563

Chapter 563

Seeing his look of disgust, Rose froze for a moment. She had thought he was unhappy because of this suit, so, she had been looking everywhere for a suit similar to his for the past two days. Because she wanted to see him happy.

She didn't expect that he didn't seem very happy about it.

Jimmy had sat down and started to eat.

Rose came over, looking at Jimmy, and asked, "Honey, are you having any problems at work?"

"I'm fine." It was true that he was less prominent in Dick's company than he had been in Nandlall's Group before, but... at least, he didn't have to be angry all the time, didn't have to be suppressed by Charlie, and didn't have to be enslaved by the Calsis family.

Rose said, "I just feel like you're not happy."

"Yeah?" Jimmy said, "You're just too idle at home every day, and you should find something to do."

After Jimmy finished, Rose didn't say anything else.

Without coaxing him, he went to wash up after eating.

Sitting on the chair, Rose looked at his back. She specifically waited for him to come back today, but in the end, the two did not even say anything nice.

He seemed to have forgotten that today was the third anniversary of their love.

Rose cleaned up his bowl before returning to the room when Jimmy had finished his shower and was sitting in front of the computer.

After giving him a look, Rose didn't say anything and sat down, ready for bed.

Jimmy suddenly looked up at her, "You're ready to sleep?"

Rose said, "I see you seem to be busy, so, I won't bother you."

Jimmy said in a deep voice, "Come here."

When Rose heard his words, she came over and sat down on Jimmy's lap.

Seeing him being gentle with her rarely, she felt better at heart.

She was really a little sad just now.

Jimmy looked over at her and asked, "It's almost New Year. What's your relationship with your family like these days?"

Rose lowered her head and said gloomily. "Since my dad won't let you go back to the office, I don't want to go back to that home anymore."

After hearing her words, Jimmy said, "He is your father after all. How can you be like this? You should go back.

Even if he doesn't admit you as his daughter, you still have to admit him as your father."

Hearing Jimmy's words, Rose was a little touched, "Jim."

She didn't expect that he would think for her and her family when her father treated him so badly.

He was so nice! He was worthy of the man she loved. He never provoked her relationship with her family.

Jimmy reached out, and tenderly cupped her chin, gazing at her, and saying softly, "There's no need for you to quarrel with your family for me. After all, they raised you. Besides, I've had a new job now, so, you don't have to worry about that."

Rose nodded and took the initiative to lean into his arms, "Honey, you're so nice."

Looking at the woman in his arms, Jimmy didn't have any feelings in his heart.

After a moment, he asked, "I heard that Theresa is divorcing Charlie. How's that going?"

Rose said, "I don't know much about that. However, if Theresa's two kids are my Uncle Eugene's, they will definitely divorce."

Jimmy pursed his lips. He preferred Charlie to divorce Theresa because Charlie despised her

After all, those two kids were not Eugene's

Eugene wouldn't marry a woman who had been divorced twice.

Jimmy said, "I saw Theresa with Rawlins when I was leaving work today."

"Rawlins?" Rose didn't remember who he was for a while.

Jimmy knew she probably wasn't familiar with Rawlins, so, he explained, "He's Dick's chief assistant."

Chapter 564

Chapter 564

"How could Theresa be with Rawlins? It's really strange because my Uncle Charlie and Dick's relationship is not good at all. Could it be that Rawlins is trying to get the secret of my Uncle Charlie using her?" If so, they needed to take precautions in advance.

Although she had now left the Calsis family, Charlie was still her uncle, and her family while Dick was just an outsider

Hearing Rose's words, Jimmy said. "That's what I thought. Theresa is so stupid, and she probably thinks Rawlins really fancies her! Having been divorced twice, she now dares to seduce any man. But how could a man like Rawlins be interested in her? He's just using her."

Rose nodded, "If that's the case, I'll have to tell my Uncle Charlie to be careful, lest Theresa rats him out! I'm going back home tomorrow."

She hadn't even wanted to go back.

But...

Hearing Jimmy's words, she decided to go back.

Jimmy took a look at Rose. Theresa was about to piss him off today, and after talking to Rose for a while, he finally felt more comfortable.

He lowered his head and came over to kiss her on the cheek, "Let's go to bed."

Rose's face flushes instantly. Looking at Jimmy, she nodded her head and then Jimmy picked her up.

Since her baby was miscarried until now, the two of them have not had sex because of her poor health. But today was the anniversary of their love. Seeing him not ignore her, Rose felt much better in her heart. After eating, Theresa went back to her room and organized her things.

When Charlie came in, she had just put her things away.

But Charlie still saw the suitcase she had put aside.

He looked at her, "You're packing?"

Theresa said, "I'm planning to move out in a couple of days, so, I just packed some things."

When Charlie heard her words, his eyes locked on her and never moved away.

Theresa was a little breathless by his eyes, so, she avoided his gaze.

After a long time, Charlie held back his emotions and asked, "When do you plan to leave?"

"After Leonard and Ben get their report, I guess." Theresa said, "The divorce certificate should be issued before that?"

She was obviously urging him.

Charlie pulled the corner of his mouth, "Since you're in such a hurry, it's absolutely that it can be issued. In the meantime, I will also have Jonathan complete the formalities for those things that I promised you before as soon as possible."

They hadn't gone through with the divorce certificate because the formalities for those things he gifted to her still needed to be completed.

Theresa said, "Well I'm going to bed then! You should go to bed early too."

She didn't sleep well last night, so, she wanted to get a good night & sleep light now. When Theresa finished, she lay down on the bed. Charlie went to take a shower before coming back to bed.

Seeing her lying on her side, with her back to him, he wondered if she was asleep.

He lay down, and everything that happened last night passed through his head.

He felt like he was drunk, yet he didn't seem too drunk.

It was just that he then remembered that she was about to move away from his house. Why was he so cheap that he still didn't want her to go? Why was he so obsessed with her?

He obviously could find a better woman than her!

Thinking about it, Charlie rolled over, turned his back on her angrily, and started to sleep.

Chapter 565

Chapter 565

In fact, Theresa hadn't been asleep, and every movement of the men around her made her extremely nervous. She was also thinking about what happened last night.

After that, she was even more determined to hurriedly leave from here, otherwise, sleeping with him was too embarrassing.

She just hoped that the divorce certificate could be issued soon!

In the morning. Theresa, who hadn't slept much, got up from bed. Originally, she wanted to take a nap, but she remembered that she had to meet Dick in the morning, so she had to get up. When she came downstairs, she found Rose back.

Rose saw her and called, "Aunt Theresa."

Seeing her come so early. Theresa said, "You came back alone?"

"Of course." Rose said, "Is it possible that I brought Jim back with me? Because of you, he won't be able to come back to this house anymore."

Without her stirring up trouble around Uncle Charlie, Jimmy would have been able to come back.

Rose was also looking forward to Theresa leaving in a hurry

Hearing Rose's words, Theresa said, "You may be mistaken. It has nothing to do with me, and it's all he asked for You are the only one who takes this kind of man who even beats women as a treasure." Rose said, "It's wrong for him to hit a woman, but you also need to think about whether you are at fault. Why don't I see him hitting someone else but you?"

Theresa looked at Rose, who probably still didn't know why the Calsis family was so resistant to Jimmy.

After all, Jimmy was wrong to hit her anyway.

Rose, however, could not understand this.

Just as Rose's words were finished, she became nervous and then greeted very politely, "Uncle Charlie."

Walking over to Theresa and stopping, Charlie looked at Rose, who was sitting on the couch, and said, "How did you talk to your Aunt Theresa just now? You think what happened to Jimmy was caused by her?"

That matter had been settled long ago.

Biting her lower lip, Rose didn't expect that Charlie was still speaking up for Theresa when they were getting divorced

But after all, his leg was cured by Theresa, and she could understand.

Rose said, "I really put my foot in my mouth. I'm sorry, Aunt Theresa."

She was wise now and had learned to be patient.

As soon as Theresa left here, all would be well. There was no need for her to offend Uncle Charlie at this point for a woman who was about to leave the Calsis family.

Theresa walked to the dining room, where Brenda had already prepared breakfast.

She sat down and ate her breakfast with Charlie.

Thinking about how he defended her in front of Rose, she couldn't help but say. "Thank you."

Charlie looked at her as if he didn't hear her, "What?"

"Thank you for speaking up for me just now."

He was so childish when he was jealous of Roderick and the two of them were now in such a poor relationship, but when he saw her being bullied, he would still stand by her side. Hearing Theresa's words, Charlie said lightly, "That's the way it should be. As long as we are not completely divorced, you are still my wife."

Looking at his serious face when he said this, Theresa thought that the woman who married him in the future. must be very happy.

Although he spoke hard, but he surely would not let his loved woman suffer in the future because he would always protect her. After finishing her meal, Theresa put down her fork, "I'm going to work then."

Charlie gave her a look, "Hmm."

Chapter 566

Chapter 566

He had a meeting at work today, plus Theresa's workplace was just too far away, so he didn't give her a ride.

Theresa went to Dick's office to give Dick acupuncture as usual.

Dick looked good these two days and was getting more and more energetic.

He looked at Theresa and said, "I heard Rawlins say that you want me to invest in Cameron's Group?"

Theresa nodded, "Well, I expect you to protect Cameron's Group no matter what happened to it."

"You've cured Charlie. Why don't you ask him for help? He should have the ability to do that."

Although Charlie was his archrival in business, Dick had to admit that Charlie was somewhat capable.

Theresa said, "Aren't you going to say yes?"

Dick stared at Theresa and said, "I just feel that I'm at a bit of a disadvantage."

Theresa was a little disappointed, "Forget it then."

She now only hoped that Charlie would keep his promise.

Seeing her look of disappointment, Dick suddenly laughed, "I haven't said no to you. I promise you! As long as you can let me sleep well, I can not only invest in Cameron's Group... but I can also help you snatch Charlie's company up if you want. How about that?"

Theresa, "..."

In the entire SERAMETON, maybe he was the only one who could say such things!

However, it was true that she came to him in the first place because of his arrogance.

Theresa said, "I believe you will keep your promise."

Dick sat in his chair and looked at Theresa, "All right, you can go out now, and I'll get ready for bed."

He had a bed in his office.

He didn't use it before, but after Theresa came, he now could sleep on it for a while every day.

Exiting Dick's office, Rawlins walked her downstairs. As the two exited the elevator, and Theresa was about to leave, Theresa heard a familiar voice, "Aunt Theresa."

It was Rose!

She stood next to Leticia, holding Leticia's arm. Seeing Theresa, Leticia frowned.

When Rose said Theresa was in frequent contact with Dick's people, she didn't believe her. Now that she had seen it with her own eyes, she had to believe it.

Seeing Leticia, Rawlins politely said, "Mrs. Calsis."

The relationship between the Calsis family and the White family was very complex.

Dick and Charlie were business rivals, however, Charlie's second elder brother Adam was very close to Dick's father, so... when Rawlins saw Leticia, he was quite polite. With a glance at Rawlins, Leticia turned around without saying anything and went back to the car.

Rose followed her.

Theresa drove home herself. When she returned to the Calsis family and walked in the door, she saw Leticia sitting on the couch with a serious look on Leticia's face. Rose sat next to Leticia and said to Theresa, "Aunt Theresa, why are you with Rawlins? Everyone knows Rawlins

Is Dick's assistant, and Dick and my Uncle Charlie are business rivals."

Seeing Rose's impatience to sow discord, Theresa finally knew why Rose had come over today.

She was so angry last time as if she would never come back. And now she's back, just to pick a fight with Theresa!

Theresa said, "Jimmy can work at Dick's company, but I can't work there? Why?"

It was Jimmy who told her about her thing with Rawlins!

Otherwise, Rose couldn't have known about it.

Rose's face darkened and she didn't expect Theresa to drag Jimmy down when Theresa was in trouble. She turned to Theresa and said, "After Jimmy was fired by the company, no one dares to hire him now. If he doesn't get that job, we're going to starve to death. But you're different because you have better options. Why do you stay with Rawlins? You're so close to him. Could it be that you have some kind of relationship? Without divorcing my Uncle Charlie, you have found a new guy quickly?"

Chapter 567

Chapter 567

"Don't talk nonsense." Theresa reminded her.

She had to admit that Jimmy really had a bad influence on Rose.

What Rose said now was obviously affected by Jimmy.

Because yesterday in the garage, Jimmy just said he suspected her of having an inappropriate relationship with Rawlins.

Leticia sat aside and looked up at Theresa, her voice cold, "Then explain what your relationship with Rawlins is. I'd like to know that, too."

Before Theresa did not even explain about the kids but directly asked Charlie for a divorce.

Now, she even got involved with Charlie's rival.

Leticia could not help but feel disappointed with her.

She trusted Theresa so much before and even wanted Theresa to be Leonard and Ben's mother. Could she be wrong?

Theresa explained, "I was there to work. I'm an acupuncturist, and when someone needs help and pays for it, I naturally have to go. Charlie and I are getting divorced, so, do I have to treat someone depending on whether they have a good relationship with him or not?"

Seeing her impatience to distance herself from Charlie, Leticia really could not understand her.

Leticia sighed and asked, "Theresa, do you think you've been treated badly in our family. Charlie may have had some minor tantrums at times, but in the big things, he's never treated you badly." Theresa nodded, "That's for sure, and I never said you guys treated me badly."

"Dick is not on good terms with Charlie. Since you married Charlie, you should keep your distance from Dick. If Charlie knows that, he will be very upset. Even if you are getting divorced, after all, you have known each other for a while, haven't you? Stop contact with Dick and don't go there anymore. If you need money, I can give you as much as you want and our family isn't short of that money."

Theresa cured Charlie, so, as long as she didn't get involved with Dick, they were willing to give her as much money as she wanted.

When Theresa heard Leticia's words, her brows knitted slightly. It's not that she had to associate with Dick. It's just that she had to think of a way out for her family because she was going to take Leonard and Ben away. The Calsis family treated her nicely now because she had cured Charlie.

But if they found out she was going to take Leonard and Ben away, they wouldn't have spoken to Theresa as softly as this.

Seeing Theresa's silence, Rose continued, "Grandma, Aunt Theresa seems reluctant to say yes! I heard that she has a good relationship with Mr. Garson, and Mr. Garson seems to fancy her. Maybe she divorced my Uncle Charlie just to marry Mr. Garson."

When Leticia heard this, the look in her eyes also became more complicated.

Theresa said, "One moment, you think I'm having an inappropriate relationship with Eugene, and the next moment, you think Mr. Garson fancies me. How many people do you think I have relationships with?" Rose said, "How should I know? Since you can even cheat on your husband with no moral bottom line, it's no surprise you've relationships with many men. You just came over to treat my Uncle Charlie, but in the end, you let him marry you. This is the evidence."

Theresa said, "The evidence you're talking about is pretty ridiculous."

Looking at Rose, she had nothing but sympathy for her stupidity.

One day sooner or later, she would know who Jimmy really was, and then she could only cry!

Rose now only wanted her family to know about Theresa's contact with Rawlins.

She said, "Aunt Theresa, in fact, it is your freedom to be with any man after your divorce from my Uncle Charlie, my Uncle and we can't control you. It's just that Rawlins is Dick's assistant, and Dick has been a odds with Charlie. I'm afraid that with your low IQ, even if you are used by Rawlins, you won't know. In case you dragged my Uncle Charlie..."

She deliberately did not say the latter words.

Glancing at Leticia, she believed Leticia understood what she meant.

Leticia looked to Theresa, "Are you really not willing to cut ties with Rawlins?"

Theresa didn't say anything.

It will be finished after two more days of acupuncture for Dick.

She certainly couldn't stop halfway.

Chapter 568

Chapter 568

Seeing that Theresa did not express her position, Leticia was completely disappointed with her, "I can't handle this matter. I had thought that as long as you leave Rawlins, I will not let Charlie know about this matter. But now Theresa, I like you and I really want you to be by Charlie's side, but you... you really let me down too much."

Seeing Theresa repeatedly consume her patience, Leticia also gave up on her.

She and Theresa were really not destined to be mothers and daughters-in-law.

Hearing Leticia's words, Theresa said, "I'll move out in a couple of days and won't bother you."

After finishing this sentence, Theresa went upstairs.

Rose looked at her back, a little surprised. She really wanted to move out!

And she was so determined.

It looked like she was really going to be with Rawlins!

Seeing Leticia angry, Rose said, "Grandma, do you really want to tell my Uncle Charlie about this?"

"Sure." Leticia said, "I wonder what Rawlins will ask Theresa."

Rose said, "My Uncle Charlie will be very angry if he knows that. Alas... Is Aunt Theresa angry with my Uncle Charlie for not wanting her anymore, so she went to be with my Uncle Charlie's rival?"

Theresa packed all her things into the suitcase. As for Leonard and Ben's things, she decided not to take anything with her so that they wouldn't find out about her taking the two kids away.

Just then, the sound of the door opening came from the doorway, and Theresa looked back to see Charlie closing the bedroom door behind him.

He stood by the door, looking her over with complicated looks in his eyes.

Seeing him looking at her in a very different way than usual, Theresa knew that he should have heard all about today's events downstairs.

She spoke, trying to ease the awkwardness, "Back?"

"I heard you've been getting close to Dick's people lately."

Sure enough...

"I have some work-related dealings with them," Theresa explained calmly.

Charlie said, "So you went to meet Dick's people the last time I drove you to his office?"

Charlie's eyes were full of inquiry.

Just as soon as he came back, he heard about it downstairs.

At this moment, he was so upset.

Hearing his words, Theresa nodded her head, "He's just the client I work for."

They all thought she was in contact with Rawlins, but in fact, the person she was treating was Dick, which

Theresa didn't specifically explain to them.

They couldn't even accept her touching Dick's assistant, let alone touching Dick himself.

After Theresa said this, she found Charlie already standing in front of her.

He was taller than her. At this moment, he was looking at her from a high position, which made her feel breathless.

Theresa lowered her head and avoided his gaze.

Charlie looked over at her and said, "Theresa, what kind of a person... are you?"

His question caused Theresa to be stunned.

She looked at him in confusion, "What kind of person do you think I am?"

"Rawlins should be almost 50 years old this year. Why did you..."

Chapter 569

Chapter 569

"You also think I would be with someone like that?" Theresa looked at him and laughed. Don't you know why Rose came back today? Jimmy has been working at Dick's company recently, so he knew that I went to the White's Group. He deliberately asked Rose to come back and say that. You believe whatever they say? You're really kind of disappointing me like this."

The more he did this, the more ridiculous she felt and the more she wanted to stay away from him.

She felt that she was a despised being in his eyes.

He said he would treat her well but never trusted her

Charlie also knew what Rose and Jimmy were up to.

However, he could never accept Theresa hanging out with Dick's man for any reason. "Leave Rawlins and I'll believe you. I'm not divorcing for you to be with such an old man."

What the hell? It was okay if it was Eugene or Roderick. Why did she have to choose such an old man? Was she trying to humiliate him?

He simply couldn't accept it!

Theresa did not want him to interfere with her affairs at all now. "Don't worry. I'm moving out in a couple of days and I won't tell him about your business. Speaking of which, I have never paid attention to your company's affairs, let alone telling him about your business. You have nothing to worry about."

Leticia was worried because she didn't know where Theresa's relationship with Charlie had reached.

However, Charlie must know that Theresa knew nothing about his business, let alone betray him.

Theresa said, "I'm going to bed."

She walked away from him, about to go to bed. Charlie grabbed her hand and pulled her back. She was forced to lean against the wall, looking up at the man in front of her.

Charlie wrapped his arms around her waist and said in a low voice, "If you stay with Rawlins, I won't get a divorce." Theresa was shocked. "Why? Why do you want to meddle in my affairs when we're getting divorced? That's not fair!"

Charlie looked down at her. His face was very close to hers. "It's okay if you take my money and leave with a young man. How can you do that with an old man?" Theresa was helpless. "I said I didn't want your money, but you insisted on giving me. If you regret it, I won't take anything from you. I can leave with nothing" Charlie frowned. "That man is so good?"

No!

Theresa was speechless. What did he mean by saying that man was so good?

Somehow, it sounded like she was already having an affair with Rawlins.

Theresa was so annoyed that she didn't bother to explain. "I'm free to be with anyone after divorce. It's none of your business even if I'm with an eighty-year-old man!" Would she be able to divorce him if he kept going like this?

Charlie grunted. "Even if you leave me, you have to find someone better than me. Otherwise, I'll feel humiliated."

Theresa blinked and looked at Charlie. "Do you think that's possible? To find someone better than you? You might as well just tell me to stay single for the rest of my life" "You can stay single if you like."

Theresa glared at him. "In your dreams."

Although it was true that she had no intention of finding another man, she would not confide in him, let alone tell him what she was thinking.

Why did he have to worry about what she would do with the rest of her life when they were getting divorced?

Charlie said, "Anyway, stop seeing Rawlins."

"I'll stop seeing him when my work is done," Theresa said. "I told you it's just for work. I wouldn't go so far as to throw myself at any man I meet. Charlie, would you be happy if I said you were having an affair with another woman?"

Chapter 570

Charlie explained, Dick and I have been at odds and I'm worried about you" "You don't have to worry about me. Theresa said. Tll take care of myself" "So it's wrong for me to worry about you?"

"Of course not. I know you mean well, but I have made it clear to you, haven't 17 I'm an adult and I'll take responsibility for my own life."

She would be fine without him.

It was a big world. It was impossible that someone couldn't live without anyone else.

How long had she been with him?

She had lived without him before he came into her life.

Charlie said, "Then tell me, what if one day. Dick threatens me with harming you? Should I do anything about it?"

Theresa froze for a moment and said, "No! We don't have to care about each other after the divorce."

Charlie stared at her and said in a deep voice, "How can you say that? You know I care about you! You know that I can't ignore anything that has to do with you!" Theresa was stunned for a moment. Charlie sounded extraordinarily gentle when he said this.

She looked at him, only to feel her heart tingling and freeze where she was all of a sudden. She wanted to say something, but her mind was somewhat blank

Seeing how dumbfounded she was, Charlie simply lowered his head and kissed her.

Since the two of them had sex, Charlie had been in a bad mood, both anxious and troubled

He felt that they had finally gotten closer to each other, but she wanted to push him away.

He didn't even know what to do about it.

Now, he was kissing her. His cold hard heart softened the moment his lips met hers.

With his arms around her waist, he kissed her for a while before lifting his head to look at her. "Hold me."

Theresa didn't know what to say.

She was dumbfounded for a moment when she heard his words. She stared in disbelief at the man in front of her. Charlie had reached out, grabbed her hands, and placed them around his waist, making her hug him.

He finally appeared to be satisfied with this. Looking at her red lips, he held her waist with one hand and said. "Theresa, stay with me, okay? I want to take responsibility for you for what happened that night" Hearing the word "responsibility". Theresa refused him. "You don't need to be responsible for me."

It turned out that he was trying to take responsibility for her when he coaxed her like that

She knew he was a responsible person....

They couldn't pretend that nothing had happened after that night. That was why they had been having trouble since yesterday.

Charlie said, "But you do. Please be responsible for me. It was my first time and I haven't had any women before you! What? You're trying to deny it now that you have your pants on?"

Theresa's lips twitched. "Mr. Calsis, will you show some respect?"

He actually asked her to be responsible for him!

Charlie said, "Life is short. I am now halfway through it if I have a lifetime of sixty years. It took me half a lifetime to meet someone I love. By leaving me now, are you expecting me to spend the rest of my life looking for another one that! don't even know if I can find?"

Theresa was a little surprised to hear what Charlie said. Someone he loved.

She looked at the man in front of her. "Charlie, you love me?"

Chapter 571

Chapter 571

Charlie found it a bit embarrassing to talk about this topic

He had always been a stubborn man.

However he nodded seriously when he heard her words "Yes, I love you. So, stay with me, okay? We are not getting a divorce I don't want it! I agreed to divorce you because i was angry. In fact, I do not want to do it at all

Now after having sex with her, he didn't want to divorce even more.

His words made Theresa's heart flutter

Yet thinking about her relationship with him.

She knew he only wanted to be responsible for her.

Theresa said. "That night, we were both drunk. I told you that you didn't need to take it to heart. I'm an ordinary woman who was divorced. You can find someone better after leaving me. You are now pushing yourself here and insisting on being responsible for me. In the future, you will regret it if you stay with me for the rest of your life."

Charlie looked at her. "I'm pushing myself? What do I have to regret about being with the woman I love? You just don't believe I love you, do you?"

"No, I don't." Theresa said. "It's true that I have cured your legs and you are now able to walk. To me, you are just one of my patients and I would have cured anyone else. So, you don't have to force yourself to take responsibility for me out of pity."

Charlie had a headache as he heard her words.

He grabbed her hand and put it on his chest. "Do you feel it? Do you feel my heart? It's pounding because I love you. You don't believe I love you. What the hell do I have to say or do so that you'll believe it?" "That's ridiculous," Theresa said. "You're too good for me. Why do you love me?"

"You're good too," Charlie said. "You had to ask me why I love you, but how should I know the answer? I'm probably just an ordinary guy who loves your beauty as well as the feelings and days when you're with me."

He said that she was good too.

Theresa was surprised to hear that.

The man who had been sharp-tongued was now saying nice things to her one after another.

If it weren't for the fact that they had sex after drinking, Theresa would have been convinced.

"Charlie, what you are saying is not credible at all. People around you, like Paul and Jack all of them, including my father. From the moment you stood up, everyone thought that you would abandon me and choose someone else. Do you know why?"

"Why?" Charlie looked at her.

How could he know why?

He just thought that something was wrong with all those people.

Theresa said, "Because we are not right for each other in terms of status and background. Everyone knows that your wife should be someone who is good enough for you! They think it's a loss for you to have a woman like me."

"But I don't think so!" Charlie looked at her. "In my eyes, you are the woman who is good enough for me! They can think whatever they like, but they can't force you to leave me, can they? What's so important about what other people think? And what I think doesn't matter to you? Would you rather have a ma like Rawlins than try to love me? Am I not even as good as an old man of almost fifty like that in your eyes?" Theresa didn't know why he was talking about Rawlins again. "I told you I have nothing to do with Rawlins."

"Then stay with me"

"I don't want to be with you"

Charlie pursed his lips and stopped talking. He just stared at her with his deep eyes as if accusing her of going too far.

He had said all these things, but she showed no sign of changing her mind.

After a while, Charlie came to his senses and said, "What exactly does it take for you to not divorce me?"

"We have already talked about the divorce, haven't we?"

"I don't want to divorce now Charlie said.

Theresa laughed, "How old are you to backtrack on what you said?"

"I'll do anything to keep you from leaving me"

He had lost his face with her!

If he had known he would fall in love with her, he wouldn't have signed that stupid agreement when they got married!

Chapter 572

Chapter 572

It ended up being the reason for her to divorce him.

Theresa was at a loss for words. She didn't know what to say and nor could she think straight The man stood in front of her, saying those tender and affectionate words. It was touching Charlie looked at her. "You're not talking. Does it mean that you'll stay with me?"

"No, it doesn't."

Don't try to make a decision for her like that!

She had already made up her mind to leave him.

Why was he trying to sway her here?

Charlie said. "Then what do you want me to do before you say yes? I can fix what I did wrong."

He would fix what he did wrong?

What should Theresa say?

You did nothing wrong. You're just too good for me and I'm stressed out with you. Nor do I feel secure!

It was only that she was such a woman!

Theresa thought that was also why she hated Jimmy so much.

Charlie said, "I don't know what to say when you're like that"

"I'm going to bed," Theresa said. "We've made up our minds about the divorce, so let's not talk about it again. If you are worried that I have something to do with Mr. Garson, I can assure you that I have nothing to do with him and I can stop seeing him."

Anyway, the session would be over when she finished helping Dick with acupuncture in the next two days.

Then, she could leave with Leonard and Ben.

Charlie looked at her. "So you're just going to leave no matter what?"

"Yeah." She lowered her head, not looking him in the eye.

Charlie heard her words and gritted his teeth. "You're the most heartless woman I've ever seen!"

He had never tried to coax anyone else like that before!

He had almost swallowed his pride, only to find that she hadn't even wavered a bit.

He was such a failure as a man!

Seeing how resentful he was, Theresa knew she looked like a scum now.

However, she had been in a mess. Why should she get him involved in the struggle?

Theresa soon went to bed.

She heard him close the door and stared at the curtains for a while.

Charlie came down from upstairs. Rose had already left and Leticia was alone. When she saw Charlie coming down, Leticia asked, "Have you talked to Theresa?"

Charlie nodded. "Yeah."

"What are you going to do about her?" Leticia said. "There are so many men for her to choose from. Why does she have to be with Dick's assistant?" "She promised that she wouldn't see them again," Charlie said with a sad look in his eyes.

She would rather agree to all his conditions than stay with him.

Chapter 573

Chapter 573

"She promised?" Leticia was a bit surprised "She refused when I talked to her about it today. Dick's men are not to be messed with, so I was afraid she'd be fooled. Will she tell them about your business?"

Leticia was worried about Charlie.

Charlie heard his mother's words and said, "Don't worry. Theresa has never paid attention to that. She doesn't know anything about my business."

Leticia said. "That's good. When are you going to get a divorce?"

Hearing the word "divorce" Charlie had mixed feelings.

Leticia looked at him. "If you get a divorce, you should make it up to her If you don't handle women's affairs well, you'll have to suffer later"

Charlie said, "Theresa is not that kind of person

He knew what his mother was worried about.

Nowadays, there was a lot of news online about people who suffered because of women.

Leticia said, "I don't want to think of her in a bad way either, but I don't really know about Theresa. Well it's okay if she is with Eugene. Why does she have to be with Dick's man? She's the one who wants the divorce. Is she blaming you? I can't really tell what she's thinking."

Charlie raised the corners of his mouth in a smile. "She's not thinking anything. She just doesn't love me."

Because she didn't love him, she wouldn't stay no matter what he said.

Charlie felt humble in front of her for the first time

However, he thought that it was enough since she had said that today.

He would never pester her or go soft on her again!

When Rose got home, Jimmy was already back.

As soon as she entered the door, he took the initiative to welcome her. "Welcome back"

Rose said, "You're already back?"

"Yeah. How did it go?"

Rose said, "They knew about it now, I think Uncle Charlie will take care of it. Grandma wanted Theresa to stop seeing Rawlins and she would forget about what Theresa did, but guess what?"

"What?" Jimmy looked at Rose curiously.

Rose said, "Theresa actually refused! She sounded like she had to be with Rawlins. Grandma was so angry that she told Uncle Charlie about it and asked him to deal with it. Theresa is really crazy. I think she is now holding a grudge after being dumped by Uncle Charlie. She is deliberately hanging out with Uncle Charlie's rival. Does she think Uncle Charlie would have to keep her if she does that? She's so naive! What a shameless woman!"

"So when will they get a divorce?" Jimmy was curious about that now.

He would feel upset as long as Theresa was in the Calsis family

He had been waiting for her to get the hell out of the Calsis family!

Rose said. "I heard that the divorce agreement has been signed. It won't take long. Grandma was hoping they would stay together, but it would be impossible after what she did today. She is so ungrateful Jim, what did you see in this woman?"

Jimmy paused when he heard Rose's question. Then, he said calmly, "I told you, she's a good actress. You see, Charlie also fell for her, right?"

Rose sighed

In the morning. Theresa lay in bed, picked up her phone, and sent a message to Rawlins that she would be late today.

She was going to wait until Charlie was out before she went over

She thought it would be enough after she went to help Dick with his acupuncture today and tomorrow. After all, it was something she had promised to do. so she didn't want to break her promise.

After sending the message, she held her phone and checked the news online. Sarah was quick and had already released the material that Heard had done

They signed the contract and then had the commercial shot yesterday. At this rate, they would soon be spreading the commercial!

That was really fast

Theresa turned over and found that Charlie was still sleeping.

She opened her mouth and asked, "When are you going to work today?"

It was already twenty to nine and he hadn't gotten up yet.

When Charlie heard her words, he opened his eyes and looked at her asking. "Why?"

Chapter 574

Chapter 574

Theresa was afraid that he would know what she was thinking, so she said, "Nothing. It's the end of the year. You must be quite busy, right? It's twenty to nine. You should go to breakfast."

Charlie looked at Theresa without moving. "What? You want me to leave?"

Theresa was silent for a moment when he suddenly read her mind.

She looked at Charlie and suggested, "Why don't we get up and go to breakfast?"

She sat up, not wanting to sleep either.

She hadn't slept well lately with things on her mind.

She had just gotten up when Charlie said, "You can go without me. I'm not going to the office today"

Hearing his words. Theresa lay back down again and looked at him. "Why?"

I'm not feeling well."

"Is it serious? Shall I get a doctor to come over and check?"

I'm not feeling well inside

Theresa got it now. "You're in a mood again."

What a temper he had!

Sometimes she didn't even know what to say.

He was so temperamental.

She looked at him and said, "Get up. I'll go and make breakfast for you. What do you want to eat?"

Hearing this, Charlie looked at her and said indifferently, "No, thanks. We're getting divorced."

She was speechless for a moment. "Who said we could get along as we used to before the divorce?"

Theresa didn't want to coax him.

It was just that she had no freedom at all with him staying at home. She couldn't do anything with him watching her like this. When she finished speaking, she stood up, went to the dressing room, and got the clothes he was going to wear today. He usually chose what to wear on his own. Today, it was a rare occasion that she had done it for him. Theresa put the clothes aside and went to wash them up.

They came down from their room after getting cleaned up and Theresa went into the kitchen to make him breakfast.

Charlie just stood there, watching her

She got the food ready, brought it to him, and said, "Have some!"

Charlie looked at the delicious noodles in front of him and said to Theresa, "Do you want to go and see Rawlins?"

Theresa froze when she heard his words and said, "No."

"Liar" He looked at her. "If you didn't have something on your mind, would you be so nice to me? I've seen clearly what kind of woman you are." The corners of Theresa's mouth twitched. "No, I don't." She even wondered if he had the ability to read minds!

Charlie said, "I'll say it again, we're not getting a divorce if you don't stop seeing Rawlins"

"Give me two days, Theresa said. "I promised them, so I have to go and tell them! After these two days, I won't see them anymore, okay?"

Charlie didn't say anything

Theresa said, "Is it okay, Charlie? I never talk to him about you, not a word."

Seeing how she was begging him, Charlie didn't say a word.

Theresa said, "I'll take that as a yes if you don't say anything."

With a look at her, he was about to say no when she picked up her fork and took some noodles for him. "Here, try them"

She was so close to him that Charlie was in a bit of a trance. He reached out to snatch the fork out of her hand and his attitude turned cold. "If you want to divorce me. Theresa, don't regret it later To you, I've already been kind enough"

Chapter 575

Chapter 575

He didn't want to go on like this!

Since she wanted to leave, he would do as she wished!

Theresa looked at Charlie, who seemed very determined when he said this.

But Theresa, who had made up her mind long ago, didn't take it to heart when she heard him say that Wasn't this the way it should be?

It would be strange if the two people who were getting divorced were still as close as ever.

After dinner, Charlie went out.

And Theresa came out of the house and went to Dick's place.

Unlike before, Dick was just up today, sitting on the bed in his office, looking a little lazy.

Theresa said. "Mr. White, are you just up?"

Dick said. "I tried to sleep early last night and surprisingly I slept well."

It's been a long time since he woke up like a normal person in the early morning like this!

That wasn't a bad feeling.

Theresa laughed. "So it looks like I won't have to come over tomorrow."

Dick looked at her, "I heard from Rawlins that Charlie's mother came over yesterday. Are you okay?"

He was naturally aware of his relationship with Charlie.

Theresa was still not divorced from Charlie, so, if people knew that she appeared here, it would probably have a bad effect on her.

Theresa said, "I'm okay and I'm just here to work."

Dick looked at her and said, "All right. It's me who was overthinking"

After Theresa finished her acupuncture for Dick, she looked at him who was in a good mood. "Since you can sleep well, I won't come over tomorrow, as it happens that I have some things to do lately" Dick nodded, "OK, I happen to be on a business trip recently."

"Then I'll go back." Theresa gathered her things and just then Mr. Garson came in and said, "Mr. White, Jimmy's coming over

"Let him in." Dick had heard that Jimmy was coming to work for him. He was Rose's husband, the son-in-law of the Calsis family, so, Dick naturally treated him differently from others.

But he had been in a bad mood recently, so he didn't ask him to come over.

And today, he happened to feel good, so he called Jimmy over.

Not waiting for Theresa to go out, Dick had already walked out. Theresa stood in the room, continuing to pack her things when she heard Jimmy's voice and said, "Mr. White"

Dick sat in his office chair and stared at Jimmy. Facing his examining gaze, Jimmy didn't panic but smiled slightly at Dick. After all, he was also a man who had seen life

Dick then spoke up. "What's going on? You're uncomfortable at Nandlall's Group, so you're working at my place?"

Jimmy said ingratiatingly, "I've heard a lot of great things about you, Mr. White."

"Tell me the truth"

What Jimmy said seemed that he came over because he worshipped Dick. But Dick wasn't stupid, and couldn't believe him.

Jimmy confessed honestly, "I didn't get along with Charlie and couldn't stay at Nandlall's Group anymore, so I came over."

"That's strange" Dick said, "You're Rose's husband, and Charlie has always doted on her, his niece, so, why wouldn't he let you stay in his company"

Jimmy took the opportunity to talk badly about Charlie, "Charlie, the kind of arrogant person, is impossible to tolerate others. His wife seduced me, but he thinks it was my fault. I can't help it if he really wanted to think that way."

Charlie was arrogant?

She seduced him?

Hearing this, Theresa wrinkled. Sure enough, a scumbag like him would only blame others for what happened.

"Charlie's wife?

Dick thought for a moment. Uh, Charlie's wife was. Theresa?

He didn't expect that Theresa would seduce Jimmy

Was she blind?

Chapter 576

Chapter 576

Although he hated Charlie, Charlie was better than Jimmy anyway?

31

Jimmy nodded. "Yes. But Charlie is now divorcing that woman. However, I've had enough of doing things in the Calsis family depending on his emotions. so I can only come to you to make a living Kole, who recommended him to the company, told him that Dick was a particularly odd person who liked people talking badly about Charlie, so he was now undermining Charlie in various ways. When Dick heard this, his face really looked better and he said to Jimmy, "Go ahead and behave yourself. If you do a good job, I won't treat you badly" He didn't care what kind of person Jimmy was. As long as he hated Charlie, they were good friends.

Hearing Dick's words, Jimmy nodded. "Thank you, Mr. White."

It was only when Jimmy left Dick's office that Theresa came out of the inner room. When Rawlins saw her, he said, "Dr. Cameron Theresa nodded and glanced at Dick. She didn't expect Jimmy would be appreciated by Dick after he left the Calsis family.

It seemed that the more a person is hated by Charlie, the more Dick liked him.

Theresa was getting ready to go out.

Dick looked at Theresa and spoke. "Did you hear everything we just talked about?"

Theresa nodded her head, "Yes."

They were in the same office, so she couldn't help but listen even if she didn't want to.

Dick said, "Why did you have such a bad eye for such a man? You also seduced him? Is that why Charlie divorced you?"

Theresa's mouth twitched. This person.

He really believed Jimmy's words?

Theresa said. "You believe what he says? Mr. White, I had thought you were a wise man. Excuse me, I have to go back."

After saying that, Theresa went out the door, not wanting to explain to Dick

Rawlins walked Theresa out of Dick's office. Theresa hadn't said a word when she suddenly heard Rawlins say, "I didn't say anything to Mr. White about you and Jimmy. It's a private matter for you, and I felt there was no need to tell Mr. White about that. Of course, if you don't want Jimmy to stay in the company, I can mention it to Mr. White."

He knew Theresa's relationship with Jimmy was not good.

Hearing Rawlins' words. Theresa said, "No need. I don't want to bother Mr. White with my private business"

Theresa was an adult and knew that what she was asking for would inevitably cost her the same.

She was now helping Dick with acupuncture only to enable Dick to help her keep Cameron's Group.

She felt brazen enough to let him take charge of her family's small company by using his conflict with Charlie.

How could she bother him with anything else?

For Jimmy, she didn't need to do that!

Glancing at Theresa, Rawlins said, "Mr. White is in a good mood now, and he shouldn't refuse any request you make at this time."

"There's really no need." Theresa politely declined the Rawlins' offer of kindness and headed out the door.

After returning to the Calsis family, seeing that it was still early. Theresa went to see Old Mr. Calsis. She was leaving to take the two babies with her and in this family, the one she was most worried about was Old Mr. Calsis.

Old Mr. Calsis was sitting on the couch while the maid was taking care of his food, and when he saw Theresa enter, he smiled and said, "Sarah."

Theresa took a seat next to Old Mr. Calsis and said, "Grandpa."

Grandpa looked at her and said. "Are you done?"

Theresa said. "I just got back from work By the way, do you want to go out for a walk?"

Old Mr. Calsis said. "That's not good, and they don't let me go out."

#Chapter 577

Chapter 577

Chapter 577

It was too dangerous to let Old Mr Calsis go outside because if Old Mr. Calsis got up in a frenzy, no one could stop him. Theresa said, "I want to take you to your favorite opera, and I happen to have bought the tickets. Shall we go together?"

Old Mr. Calsis liked to listen to Peking Opera

He used to tell Theresa this when he played chess with her before.

Theresa always wanted to take him.

He seemed to be pretty bored every day either at home or at the hospital.

So, she wanted to take him to do something he liked to do.

Old Mr. Calsis said, "Really?"

"Well, let's go. Theresa said and stood up. It was just as well that the two children were home for school, so, she took Old Mr. Calsis out.

Of course, Abel and other maids followed them.

When they arrived at the theater, there were not many people at this time, but Old Mr. Calsis was very happy with listening to the play. However, Theresa did not expect to meet Rose when they came out to eat.

Seeing Theresa and Old Mr. Calsis eating here, Rose walked over and asked, "Why did you bring my great-grandpa out?"

Theresa looked at Rose and said, "I brought him out for a walk"

"Isn't he not allowed to go out? What if something happens?" Rose said with a cold face.

She had been very concerned about her great-grandpa and was very afraid that something would happen to him.

Theresa turned to Rose and said, "Grandpa has come out with me before, and nothing happened. It's not good for him if you always keep him at home like this Look, he is very happy now!" Hearing the play he hadn't heard in a long time, Old Mr. Calsis now was very happy.

Rose said, "Do you want to make my great-grandpa happy or just want to take the opportunity to please my Uncle Charlie? You and Dick's affair was exposed, and my Uncle Charlie should not let you go, right? So, now you're in a hurry to ride my great-grandpa's coattails?"

They had found out about Theresa's dealings with the Rawlins yesterday, but now she was still here pretending to be dutiful.

Theresa looked to Rose. "Whatever you think."

Rose kindly reminded, "Aunt Theresa, it is useless for you to do this. Since my Uncle Charlie wants to divorce you, you can't change anything even if you play pity. I advise you to divorce obediently because it's useless to pester a man who doesn't belong to you."

"Theresa looked over at Rose. "You're ridiculous. When have I ever pestered him? I was the one who initiated the divorce and wanted to leave him. But in your eyes, it's me who's pestering him?"

Rose thought that these words of Theresa were the funniest words she had ever heard. She laughed coldly and said, "You initiated the divorce? You wanted a divorce because your affair with my Uncle Eugene was exposed, right? I heard that you don't even admit that your children are my Uncle Eugene's, but if you didn't feel guilty, why wouldn't you bring the children back?"

Theresa said, "Don't you find you're annoying when you keep stirring things up like this?"

Rose had to involve her with Eugene. Had Rose ever asked Eugene for his opinion?

"keep stirring things up?" Rose didn't agree with her on that, "Our family has been messed up by you since you came to our house."

Couldn't she say a few words about Theresa?

"What nonsense" Theresa turned to Rose and said, "Okay, even if what you say is true. Yes, it's true, my children are your Uncle Eugene's. And when I marry your Uncle Eugene, you still have to call me aunt? Do you want to call me now?"

"You "Rose pointed at Theresa, "You take shamelessness as pride? And you can even cheat and have children for another man, which was a disgraceful thing?"

"Then isn't your Uncle Eugene also very bad for hooking up with a married woman? Do you think that will have a bad effect on Mr. Oneill if I say online that he has two kids with me?"

"Don't you dare!" Rose said, "How dare you ruin my Uncle Eugene, who has worked so hard to get to where he is today? Do you have any conscience left?" "If you're worried about him, say fewer things in front of me to upset me." Theresa said. "You should be glad that I'm with Rawlins now. If I was with your Uncle Eugene, you will have to call me an aunt for the rest of your life. Don't listen to Jimmy when he tells you to do something, because he always gives you bad ideas. Do you know that you seemed to be so stupid with listening to him?"

Rose finally made sure that Theresa was going to divorce Charlie, so, Rose wanted to teach her a lesson, but instead of doing so, Rose was taught by her! Rose was so angry that she was about to turn around when Theresa looked at her who was defiant, "Stop"

Chapter 578

Chapter 578

Rose stopped and looked back at her. furious, "What do you want?" Theresa swept the empty seat in front of her and ordered, "Sit down."

Of course, Rose refused. Why should I listen to you?"

It made her feel disgusted to sit at a table with such a woman.

Theresa said, "Well, why don't I say something online right now?"

Fearing that her Uncle Eugene's reputation would really be ruined by Theresa, Rose had to sit back enduring the humiliation.

Looking at that with satisfaction, Theresa knew that Rose was simple and had seen little of the world, so, she would be fooled by Jimmy like this

Theresa complimented, "That's good. That's what a good niece of mine should be like."

Rose blackened her face. "Crazy woman, what the hell are you trying to do?"

"Crazy woman?" Theresa raised an eyebrow, clearly not very happy with the title.

Seeing Theresa warn her, Rose had to change her words, gritting her back teeth, "Aunt Theresa." Theresa then let her go, "I just asked you to join me for dinner What? You are not willing?" "I've already eaten."

"Then you sit here and wait for me to finish eating.

"What the hell do you want?" Rose was speechless.

If she'd known that, she wouldn't have shown up in front of Theresa!

Theresa was crazy!

Looking at Rose, Theresa thought she was really hateful and pathetic.

Theresa was bored, so, she started a small talk, "How are you doing at the Watson family these days?"

"What's it to you?"

Theresa said, "I just wanted to know how you were doing"

"Of course, I am doing well."

Even if she was not doing well, she would not say it in front of Theresa.

"What happened to your hand?"

Theresa looked at her finger, where there was a scratch, which was not supposed to appear on her hand as a young lady.

Rose was stunned for a moment, not expecting Theresa to be so sharp-eyed, and then her face darkened, "I hurt myself accidentally."

"While doing housework? Theresa held her chin, "Tsk, you're too miserable that you, as Ms. Nandlall of the Nandlall family, have to do housework after you get married." "That's what I volunteered for." Rose looked at Theresa, "You think everyone is like you, who does nothing? In pursuit of profit, you can even ignore your own children."

To Rose, Theresa was a bad woman who abandoned her own children to please others!

In Theresa's eyes, there was no affection, bottom line, only profit.

Theresa said, "Sooner or later, you will find that those who only talk about benefits are often the ones who have the best lives, and those like you who are emotional can't get anything"

Theresa had mixed thoughts about Rose. She hated the fact that Rose worked in cahoots with Jimmy, but at the same time, she also felt sad for Rose who had been so badly cheated by Jimmy like she was back then.

Her misfortune today was all because of her own stupidity at the time, and now Rose was walking the same path she was walking at the time.

Rose said dismissively, "Don't put your values on me. You didn't have a good time with the Watson family before, so, of course, you think I'll be like you. But I'm not the same kind of person as you, and I won't end up like you."

Chapter 579

Chapter 579

"I hope you'll have this confidence to talk to me like this for the rest of your life" Theresa looked at her and smiled.

Sooner or later. Rose would regret it, and she was in no hurry

It was just as well that Old Mr Calsis had almost finished eating

Theresa was ready to take him away, "Grandpa, let's go back."

Rose sat aside and looked at Theresa.

Theresa said. "You go back too, and don't appear in front of me in the future. If you come to me again, I won't let you go as easily as I did today"

Rose looked very aggressive but was actually very weak and easy to be bluffed.

Rose came to Theresa today to trouble her, so, Theresa wanted to teach Rose a lesson so that Rose wouldn't try to bully her every time Rose saw her in the future

That was the way people were. If you didn't teach him a lesson, he would always try to touch your bottom lines.

When they reached the door, Old Mr. Calsis looked at Theresa and suggested, "By the way, what is Charlie doing? How about we go to see him?"

"Theresa didn't expect Old Mr. Calsis to make such a sudden request.

She said, "Charlie should be busy, so, we'd better not go."

The thought of going to see him at work when they were getting divorced made her feel panicky.

She had better not contact him lately!

That way, she wouldn't be so upset.

"Let's go." However, Old Mr. Calsis had already decided. After getting into the car, he said to the driver, "Go to Charlie"

Abel listened to him, and naturally, he let the driver take him to Charlie's company

When they arrived downstairs, Theresa followed her grandpa down from the car. Looking at him, she was a little embarrassed. Was she really going up there?

She was hesitating when Old Mr. Calsis looked at her, "Sarah."

Afraid that she wouldn't go, he even came over to pull her.

The news of Old Mr. Calsis' visit to Charlie's company soon spread into the company.

Theresa followed behind Old Mr. Calsis. After they entered, a bunch of people hurriedly came down from upstairs, led by one of the company's executives. Seeing Old Mr. Calsis, he said, "Old Mr. Calsis, what are you doing here today?"

"I came to find Charlie, Old Mr. Calsis said with an arrogant face.

When Old Mr. Calsis was young, he was also very exceptionally vigorous in work. He had three grandchildren, but each time he went out, he would take Charlie with him, and Charlie's fame went out that way. Everyone knew that Charlie was Old Mr. Calsis's favorite grandson..

Now he rarely showed up in public due to his illness, and Charlie made many of the family's decisions, but everyone's respect for him remained.

The executive led Old Mr. Calsis into the president's exclusive elevator and said, "Charlie should be busy at this moment."

Old Mr. Calsis said, "Never mind, and I just came to see him."

They got upstairs and entered Charlie's office door to find Paul there, sitting on the couch. When Paul saw Theresa and Old Mr. Calsis enter, he froze. The executive said hello to Paul. After Paul sent him away, Paul's eyes fell on Theresa. "Why did you bring grandpa here?"

Theresa said, "It's Grandpa himself who wanted to come over."

Paul said, "Charlie's busy, so take Grandpa back. Isn't he allowed to go out? Theresa, Grandpa is not a tool for you to use." Theresa looked at the well-dressed man in front of her and thought, "Tsk, he is worthy of being Rose's father, talking like Rose." She just wanted to take Grandpa out for a walk before she left, but in their eyes, it was her trying to use him to please Charlie.

Theresa looked at Paul and said, "Since you care so much about grandpa, then you take him back. Charlie shouldn't want to see me, so I'll go back" After Theresa said this, she turned to Old Mr. Calsis and said, "Grandpa, I'm going out for a while and I'll be back later."

She wouldn't come at all if Grandpa hadn't dragged her here.

She wasn't happy now to be being said like that by Paul, so she took the opportunity to get out

Theresa went straight out, giving Patil no reason to refuse

Chapter 580

Chapter 580

Seeing Paul, Old Mr. Calsis walked over, sat down on the couch, and asked, "Where's Charlie?"

Looking at Old Mr Calsis, Paul slowed his voice and said, "He'll be back right away"

"Right away"" Old Mr. Calsis was not happy. "Tell him to hurry back."

Paul looked over at Old Mr. Calsis and said, "Grandpa, how's your health these days?"

"I'm fine."

"That's fine." Paul said, "Theresa is a very sophisticated woman. So, don't always go out with her."

He thought Theresa was not a good person!

She either fooled Charlie's two children or his grandpa. The old and young in the family had all been fooled by her. She really knew how to take advantage of the weak.

Hearing Paul's words, Old Mr. Calsis looked at him and didn't say anything.

Someone brought over water for Old Mr. Calsis to drink. He picked up the glass to take a sip and spewed it straight out. Because Paul was very close to him, the water directly spewed all over Paul's face.

Paul was a clean person, who usually lived a very delicate life, and did not expect to become like this at all.

Standing aside looking at his boss, his assistant was startled and handed over a handkerchief, "Sir."

Abel stood by and apologized, "Sorry, Mr. Calsis, Old Mr. Calsis is still not quite conscious. I'm sorry for your suffering!"

Since his illness, Old Mr. Calsis was able to make a lot of trouble, so people were actually quite afraid to get in touch with him, except for visiting him normally.

Just like what happened now..

Paul was very reluctant to encounter it.

But what could he do if he really encountered this situation?

Old Mr. Calsis was a patient and his grandpa. Therefore, he could neither offend him nor blame him.

He suddenly felt that Theresa was deliberate.

The woman deliberately brought grandpa and left grandpa here in order to make trouble with him.

Old Mr. Calsis put down his cup of tea and asked, "Why hasn't Sarah come back yet? Where did she go?"

Old Mr. Calsis naturally did not listen carefully to what Theresa just said to Paul.

But Abel heard it.

It was obvious that Paul drove Theresa away with his sarcastic attitude. Although Theresa said she'd be back later, she probably wasn't coming back

Abel said, "Mrs. Calsis is supposed to have something to do."

Old Mr. Calsis said, "Where is Charlie? His wife is gone, but he is still not back!"

Paul looked at Old Mr. Calsis and said, "Theresa and Charlie are getting a divorce and Charlie is going to marry someone else! So, Grandpa, don't always be thinking about that woman." Just as Paul finished his words, Old Mr. Calsis' glass in his hand shook and smashed directly into him, "What did you say?"

Paul's face darkened again,"

It was hard to say that he did not mean it.

Theresa was really a bad woman.

She specifically left grandpa to him and gave him trouble.

Well, at that moment, Charlie came back

Charlie came in through the door. Seeing Old Mr. Calsis was here, he asked, "What's Grandpa doing over here? Who brought him here?"

Paul was in a mess already, with his clothes and hair all wet. His assistant handed him a towel and he was wiping himself.

Chapter 581

Chapter 581

When he heard Charlie ask about it he sneered. "It's Theresa. She brought Grandpa here and left him alone! Grandpa was not allowed to go out and who let her bring him here?"

Hearing Theresa's name, Charlie was stunned for a moment and then walked over. Taking a look at Paul, who was in a bit of a mess, Charlie knew Paul had been made to look like this by their grandpa.

"Theresa was here?"

When Old Mr. Calsis saw Charlie, he said, "Charlie, did you bully Theresa?"

Paul sneered and said, "Tsk, you just want to divorce her. She promised well on the surface, but behind the scenes, she's complaining to grandpa Charlie, it seems that you can't get a divorce. This woman is not at all easy to handle."

Hearing Paul's words, Charlie said, "You've misunderstood."

Paul asked, "What have I misunderstood?"

Charlie said, "She wouldn't do such a thing."

"I'm grateful to her for healing your leg, but you don't have to be so biased in her favor and she wasn't good enough for you."

Hearing Paul's words, Charlie said, "Why do you hate her so much?"

"Don't hate her," Paul said, "It's just that ever since she came to our house, all kinds of messy things have been happening. You've been so enthralled by her. And now everyone in our family has been brainwashed by her, with few normal people left."

Looking at Paul's attitude, Charlie kind of understood why Theresa had to divorce him.

Yes!

Everyone in the family had the same attitude as Paul. If it were him, he couldn't stand it either!

Charlie said, "You're overthinking it. I don't want a divorce, but she insisted on it. If I could, I'd rather not get divorced."

It was just that Theresa didn't give him a choice at all.

Hearing Charlie's words, Paul looked at Charlie with some surprise, "I didn't see you like this before when Sarah was gone! Charlie, can you tell the difference between gratitude and affection? You are unable to let go of this kind of woman?"

Theresa was not good enough for Charlie from the beginning to the end.

Charlie said, "It's okay if two people are happy together. Why do you have to think so much?"

"Yes, you're right! But with a woman like her, you probably have nothing in common. Can she understand what you're talking about? Even Jimmy doesn't fancy her, but you treat her like a treasure." When he heard the name Jimmy, Charlie's eyes darkened, "Stop it. The more you talked, the more you went overboard."

Paul said, "Okay, I won't say anything. I think you just haven't touched a woman for too long, so you favored her very much as if she was the only woman in the world. There are plenty of better women than her and I'll go arrange for you tonight. Anyway, you're getting a divorce"

Paul was talking when his grandpa, who was sitting on the side, brought the water over and poured it on his head.

It was poured directly on.

He was just spewing water before, but now he got Paul's hair all wet.

After that, Old Mr Calsis looked at him with an innocent look on his face.

Paul,

Shit!

Did Old Mr. Calsis really not mean it?

He could no longer lecture Charlie, but went to wash up

Jonathan went to find him a spare suit of Charlie's and gave him a change.

Changing clothes and getting back out, Paul felt a little broken, always feeling that grandpa was targeting him on purpose.

He spoke up. "Call Theresa back What does she mean by leaving grandpa here?"

Charlie sat on the couch, looked at Paul, and said, "He is our grandpa. What does grandpa have to do with Theresa after Theresa and I are divorced? Don't you think you are saying this is a little ridiculous? You were just saying all kinds of bad things about her, and now you want her to come over?"

Paul was a little embarrassed. "Didn't she deliberately bring grandpa here just to piss me off?" He just said a few bad words to her. Did she have to make trouble with him like that?

Chapter 582

Chapter 582

She was so going overboard!

"She didn't know you are here"

Paul sat down, specifically away from his grandpa this time, "She did it on purpose anyway. Is this something she and grandpa agreed on? Why grandpa throws water on me when I say something bad about her?"

"Grandpa was like this before she came to the Calsis family, but he got better after she came. Can she be blamed for that?"

He had already decided to stay out of her business in the future.

But Charlie did not want Theresa to be wrongly accused.

Charlie looked at grandpa and said, "Grandpa had just gotten out of the hospital where he had been staying before. After Theresa arrived, he was only much better. If grandpa knew Theresa was leaving, he would not be happy."

And the two children at home....

Charlie just found out that Theresa hadn't been here long, but many people in this family could not leave her.

But to her, they were just people who could be casually abandoned.

Paul said, "Don't make it sound so serious. Grandpa will be fine without her

"In that case, you take Grandpa back! I happen to have a meeting this afternoon."

Paul had just been made a mess by his grandpa and was still a bit scared at the moment.

But he did not believe that they can't live well without Theresa. In order not to lose face in front of Charlie, he forced himself to agree to do so.

He went out the door after discussing things with Charlie, taking Old Mr. Calsis with him.

After returning from Charlie's, Theresa didn't rush home but went to Keith's place.

Leo just opened a small clinic while Keith opened a high-end one.

Keith had just returned from a patient. Seeing Theresa, he said, "You're coming over."
"Keith," Theresa stood up.

He hurriedly waved his hand and told her to sit down, "You sit down and never mind me"

Keith took his jacket off and poured her a glass of water before coming over and saying, "There have been a lot of people asking me about you lately."

Theresa said, "What are they asking about me for?"

Keith gave her a look and laughed, "They want you to give them acupuncture. You have a much bigger reputation than me now! Do you think I'm taking advantage of you if I invite you over now?" Theresa laughed, "I've been a little busy lately. So, let's talk about it in a few days."

"What are you busy with?" Keith looked over at her.

Theresa said, "My private business. Divorce moving or something."

Hearing her say she was getting a divorce, Keith looked at her a little surprised, "You and Charlie are getting a divorce?"

Theresa smiled, "Surprised?"

"No"

This was her private business after all, and Keith couldn't ask any more questions, so, he only talked to her about work and things about Leo

"I've been so busy lately that I haven't visited Leo for a long time. How's he doing?"

"I didn't visit him either" Speaking of that, Theresa also felt very guilty, "I was planning to go see him."

If she didn't go to see him in these two days, she probably wouldn't see him for a long time after the divorce. So, she was planning to do all the things she hadn't done before the divorce.

Chapter 583

Chapter 583

Keith said, "Then let's go together!"

"Now

"Hmm." Keith said, "Call and ask if he's home. Let's go see him and have dinner with him. After all, he is old now."

Hearing Keith's words, Theresa nodded.

As Leo's last disciple, Theresa was certainly the closest person to him in these years.

After dinner, Keith was talking to Leo and Theresa was washing dishes in the kitchen when her phone rang.

She wiped her hands and came out to answer the phone, "Hello"

The phone call was from Paul, "Where are you?"

Hearing it was Paul's voice, Theresa said carelessly, "I'm busy. What is the matter with you?"

"Grandpa got lost. Paul was feeling speechless.

After he brought Grandpa down, grandpa kept trying to find Theresa, but she was not there.

As a result, Grandpa sneaked away later.

Paul had someone look for him and still didn't find him until now.

Fearing that something might happen to grandpa, Paul had no choice but to call Theresa.

Shit!

Could it be that their family really couldn't live well without this woman?

He wondered what she had done to his grandpa.

Hearing this, Theresa frowned, "Mr. Nandlall, what is wrong with you? Why did you lose Grandpa?"

"It's your fault for bringing him out." Paul was defiant, "Do you think this would happen if he had stayed at home properly?"

"Is keeping him at home the way for you grandchildren to be filial to him? Is this the way to make him well? I've taken him out before and he didn't run away. Now grandpa is missing when he stayed with you. Are you calling to blame me now?"

Paul was stunned. He certainly didn't call to pick a fight but wanted Theresa to think of a way.

He said, "You hurry over to help look for Grandpa."

"How can I find someone that you can't find with your great ability?"

Although she was also worried about grandpa in her heart, she didn't want to just listen to Paul.

What did he take her for?

Fortunately, Paul was the one who lost grandpa. If it was her who lost grandpa, he would not let her go easily.

Hearing Theresa's sarcastic voice, Paul said, "Aren't you worried about Grandpa?"

"He's not my grandpa and I'm divorcing Charlie."

"You "Paul was furious, "Is grandpa not treating you well? So, this is what you really think? You know very well that he only listens to you And he will only do as he is told when you are around. You hurry up and get over here!"

It was a totally commanding tone.

Theresa said, "I was busy now"

"Are you coming or not? Even if you have something big to do, you have to come over."

"I'm really busy

"If you don't fucking come over, I'll get down on my knees and beg you!"

Theresa," "

Paul said the weakest words in the toughest tone.

This was probably something only Paul could do!

Theresa cleaned up the kitchen and told Leo and Keith, "I have something to do, and I have to go back.

Keith looked over at her, "Who is lost?

He had heard it all when she answered the phone.

Theresa said, "Charlie's grandpa."

"Do you know where he's been?" Keith was a little surprised to hear about it. Theresa said, "No. I'll go back to take a look. Leo, I'm going back."

"Okay." Leo had his cigarette pipe in his hand, smoking with great pleasure.

Theresa gave Leo a look and headed out the door.

When she saw Paul, he was at Charlie's

Charlie was also there. They were trying to figure out how to find grandpa because he was lost.

Chapter 584

Chapter 584

Seeing Paul standing around in great anxiety, Theresa asked, "Where did Grandpa get lost?"

"Downstairs."

"Mr. Nandlall, you're really something." Theresa admired.

"You re talking sarcastically even now?" Paul gave her a look.

Theresa said, "I will go back if you keep talking to me with that attitude."

"Charlie, control your wife!" Paul pointed at her and asked Charlie for help.

Charlie just finished his phone call. Glancing at Paul, he said, "I'm getting divorced soon. Who knows whose wife she'll be? I can't control her."

Theresa.

Glancing at Charlie, she realized he didn't look very happy.

Why did she feel that he was talking even more sarcastically than she was?

Although they sent someone out to look for grandpa, they didn't stay idle themselves. They came down from upstairs and went in different directions, with Paul in one group and Theresa and Charlie in one group.

He drove the car, while Theresa sat aside, looking out the street outside the window, and searching for grandpa.

They searched for a long time but didn't find grandpa.

Theresa spoke, "Grandpa likes to listen to plays, so, let's go to the theater to look for him."

Hearing her words, he didn't say a word.

Theresa gave him a look, "Charlie?"

Was he listening to what she was saying?

He answered, "I heard you."

Theresa said, "It's so cold now, and I hope he'll be okay."

Hearing her words, Charlie said, "Why did you leave him behind when you knew that he only trusted you and that he would only be fine if you were there?"

His words carried a bit of grumbling. Hearing his words, Theresa explained, "I have something to do back then."

She couldn't say she just didn't want to see Charlie at that time.

Plus, she heard those words from Paul.....

How did she know that so many of them couldn't even take care of an old man?

Hearing Theresa's words, Charlie said, "Yeah, well, anything is important to you anyway, except that about me."

When they arrived at the theater, Charlie stopped the car, and then Theresa and he got out of the car.

They spent the afternoon looking for grandpa, but after searching many places, they still didn't find him.

They searched all the theaters in this area and before they came out of the last one, Theresa went to the bathroom. When she came out, she saw Charlie standing by the car. He had a slender figure, wearing a long black trench coat as if he had stepped out of a movie.

Theresa walked up to him and said, "Let's go."

He looked at her and said with some concern, "Do you think something will happen to Grandpa?"

Hearing him say this, Theresa felt like her heart was being grabbed.

No

There shouldn't be anything happening to him.

A strong will to deny welled up in her mind.

Theresa instantly felt very guilty.

Just then, Charlie's cell phone rang.

Charlie glanced at it and answered the phone, "Hello"

"It's me." What came over the phone was the familiar voice of Sarah.

Hearing her voice, Charlie said, "Nuts

He was about to hang up when he heard Sarah say, "Aren't you looking for grandpa? He's here with me:

"What do you mean?"

Sarah said, "I'm calling to tell you that I'm taking him back to the Calsis family, so you don't have to look for him."

With that, Sarah hung up the phone.

When they got into the car, Theresa looked over at him, "Sarah?"

Charlie responded and started the car, "Yeah."

The two drove back to the Calsis family. When they got out of the car and entered the door, they found Sarah had already brought grandpa back. Grandpa was sitting in the living room, and the whole family was there. Hearing the news, Rose also rushed over and followed along to look for grandpa.

Chapter 585

Chapter 585

Grandpa was taken back by Sarah, so, Sarah was there. She sat aside. Seeing that everyone was concerned about grandpa, she didn't say anything.

Grandpa whose clothes were a little dirty was sitting in the middle, looking somewhat messy.

"Where's Sarah?"

He was looking for Theresa.

But after looking around, he didn't see Theresa whom he wanted to see.

Sarah was sitting on the side. She was right there but Old Mr. Calsis was still looking for 'Sarah', which made her feel very unhappy.

Leticia's eyes were sharp. Seeing Theresa come in behind Charlie, she hurriedly spoke, "Theresa, hurry up and come over. Your grandpa has been looking for you!" The floor was full of things that grandpa. threw. When the maid picked one up, he threw one. Sometimes, he threw things on others and in their faces, simply a big devil.

He had only been back for a short while, but the house had already been made a mess by him.

Luckily, Theresa appeared. Seeing Theresa, he didn't throw the things he picked up in his hand again.

The maids were terrified.

Looking at grandpa's appearance, Paul, who was suffering from it, even had the urge to vomit blood.

Since Theresa arrived, and grandpa was picked up from the hospital, he hadn't been making such a fuss for a long time.

Good lord!

Paul didn't expect grandpa to be crazy today, and everyone got rattled by him.

The maids on the side were also injured by him.

Leticia stood up and gave Theresa the seat.

Sitting down, Theresa looked at grandpa and said, "Grandpa, where have you been."

"Sarah." seeing Theresa, Old Mr. Calsis instantly became quite calm.

Paul, "..."

Did he really not do it on purpose?

Theresa reached out, picked up the glass grandpa was holding, and placed it on the table..

Leticia said next to her, "Take him to his room to rest."

Hearing what Leticia said, Theresa responded and said to grandpa, "Grandpa, why don't we go play chess?"

"Okay." Old Mr. Calsis's eyes lit up when he heard about playing chess.

Upon hearing Theresa's words, Old Mr. Calsis stood up and obediently followed Theresa upstairs.

The group of people in the living room followed with a sigh of relief.

Everyone who was made a mess rushed to change clothes and treat wounds.

Sarah sat aside, and her eyes fell on Charlie, "Charlie."

Anyway, grandpa was brought back by her today, and she made a big contribution.

Charlie gave her a look and said, "You can go now."

Sarah's mouth twitched. Damn. She sent his grandpa back anyway. Without saying thank you, he wanted to kick her out? Sarah certainly wouldn't leave that easily, and she said, "I'm a little worried about Grandpa. I'll leave when he's better."

After she finished, she turned around and went upstairs.

When they got upstairs, Abel helped Old Mr. Calsis change first while Theresa waited outside.

Sarah walked in and Theresa gave her a look, "What are you doing here?"

"I was worried about grandpa, so, I came over to see him." Sarah said, "I heard that you took grandpa out? And you lost grandpa? If something really happened to him, does our whole family have to face the consequences for you? I've been doing pretty well with the company lately, so don't hold me back."

Hearing Sarah said Theresa was holding Sarah's back, Theresa was speechless.

How dare she said that!

Theresa looked at her indifferently and didn't want to talk to her.

Soon, grandpa came out.

Before Theresa could say anything, Sarah already came up, "Grandpa."

Chapter 586

Chapter 586

Glancing at Sarah, Old Mr. Calsis said, "Who are you?"

Sarah, She looked at Old Mr Calsis and said, "I'm Sarah, who took you back today Grandpa, why did you forget about me again?"

She was speechless!

Before taking grandpa back, she told him to let her be his grandson-in-law, and he promised her. But in just a moment's time, he forgot that

Old Mr. Calsis said, "Oh."

Sarah said, "Do you remember what you said in the car earlier?"

Old Mr Calsis said, "What is it?"

Sarah said, "You said you wanted me to be your grandson-in-law."

When Theresa heard this, the corners of her mouth twitched, "You are so shameless."

It was obvious that Sarah was trying to take advantage of the fact that grandpa was not in his senses.

With a glance at Theresa, Sarah said contemptuously, "That's what grandpa told me originally. Theresa, am I being shameless, or are you? Grandpa has called you Sarah until now, which is my name. Don't you think you're really me just because you've been pretending to be me for so long?"

Theresa said, "Then you can ask Charlie to see if he agrees with you!"

"That's not your concern anymore." Sarah looked at Theresa and said, "You are getting divorced, but why are you still living in the Calsis. family? You don't want to leave Charlie, do you? Hmm?" What are you arguing about?" Just then, Charlie came up.

He was followed by Paul.

Seeing the two of them, Sarah didn't say anything more. She was now so intent on pleasing Charlie that she was completely devoid of her previous arrogance in front of Charlie. She simply said, "Charlie, when I took grandpa back today, he said he wanted me to be with you. Do you think that's funny?"

Without speaking, Charlie glanced at Sarah and then at Theresa.

Paul stood aside and listened to Sarah's words, knowing very well that Sarah was trying to take advantage of today's event to come back.

He sneered, "You wish!"

He did think Theresa wasn't good enough for Charlie, but it was impossible for him to allow Sarah back.

What gave her the right?

Sarah said, "The marriage between our two families has been decided long ago, and Charlie's wife is either Theresa or me, which is what grandpa said. What's wrong?" "Then I'd rather it was Theresa," Paul said.

Sarah's face darkened and she looked at Paul. She had always heard that Paul did not like Theresa. But why was he defending Theresa now?

Sarah said, "But Theresa has two children with Eugene. Have you forgotten that?"

When Paul heard about the two children, his face darkened.

Sarah curled her lips and looked at Charlie, "Charlie, Theresa is usually quite busy taking care of two children, so don't make things difficult for her, and let her go quickly!"

Theresa looked over at Sarah, and although she was leaving, she was a little uncomfortable with Sarah's impatience to get rid of her

She retorted, "Who told you that my children are Eugene's?"

Theresa didn't think Sarah was still making rumors here even now!

Theresa was not stupid, and she knew Sarah's meaning.

Sarah said this was just to provoke Charlie and then let Charlie divorce Theresa quickly.

Sarah said, "What's the point of you denying what everyone knows?"

"Heh..." Theresa said, "You guys go out, and grandpa is going to rest"

After saying that, Theresa closed the door of the room directly.

Sarah was so noisy!

Theresa coaxed grandpa to lie down with Abel before coming out of the room.

When she came out, Sarah and Paul were not there, and only Charlie was standing in the doorway.

He looked at Theresa and said, "How is Grandpa?"

Chapter 587

Chapter 587

"He's already asleep." Theresa said, "He should be fine after a nap and some rest. Abel gave grandpa an examination and he wasn't hurt., so, don't worry."

It was just that his clothes got dirty.

Looking at Theresa, Charlie asked, "What do you think of what Sarah said?"

"What did she say?" Theresa asked, puzzled.

"She wanted to be with me. In the beginning, the marriage between the Calsis family and the Cameron family was decided by grandpa. So, my wife is either you or Sarah..."

Hearing this, Theresa was speechless, "So what? What do you think? Do you really want to marry

Sarah?"

"If you don't like it, I won't be with her." Charlie looked at her, "As long as you stay with me."

Theresa said, "If I don't stay with you, you're going to choose her?"

Was he kidding?

Was he out of his mind?

He had forgotten what Sarah had done to him before?

Naturally, Charlie would not stay with Sarah.

And he just wanted to see Theresa's reaction.

He responded, "Maybe."

Theresa didn't expect him could say something like that.

She looked at him and felt angry for some reason.

She left him in the hope that he would do well, and find a nice, matching woman that he could take out.

and not make him ashamed!

But he wanted to get Sarah back?

He must be out of his mind!

But what did she have to do with what he decided to do?

She sneered, "You can be with whomever you fancy, and you don't have to ask me.

After she said that, Theresa angrily walked away from him.

When she arrived downstairs, she saw Leticia and Sarah talking in the living room.

Leticia said, "Here is some money and sign on it! You deserve it for taking Old Mr. Calsis back today."

She hated Sarah, but it was Sarah who took Old Mr. Calsis back today.

Leticia was not a person who wanted to owe anyone a favor, much less Sarah. After thinking about it,

Leticia decided to give her a sum of money, so that she wouldn't pester them.

Charlie stood up and he knew that Sarah made a special trip to take grandpa back today just wanting to come back. This was not possible!

Sarah looked at the money. If it were before, she would have taken it.

But at this moment, she refused Leticia's kindness, "It's my duty to take grandpa back, so, you don't need to give me money."

Leticia said, "Take it, and you deserve it."

Sarah was very polite, "It's my fault that when grandpa was sick before... Now, I also want to do something for grandpa, so, you really don't have to be so polite." She spoke politely.

Leticia laughed lightly and exposed Sarah's true colors directly, "You're doing this because you want to be with Charlie, right?"

Sarah bowed her head and didn't deny it, "Yes. I've always loved Charlie."

"Are you kidding me?" Leticia said, "I remember what you said when I saw you not long ago. You said that Charlie was a cripple, that you would never marry him in your life, and that you wanted him to be with. Theresa! Now when Charlie's on his feet, you begin to love him?"

Sarah said, "I really wanted Theresa and Charlie to be together at that time. But in the present, they will soon be divorced. After thinking about it, I thought that since I had agreed to this marriage, I could not shirk my responsibility. In the future, I will definitely stay by Charlie's side. Also, I will try to find someone to cure grandpa's illness."

"It's not necessary." Leticia said, "When Theresa divorces Charlie, there will be someone else by Charlie's side. So, forget it and Charlie is not good enough for you, Ms. Cameron."

Chapter 588

Chapter 588

"... Mom." Sarah was so thick-skinned that she had already started to call Leticia mother, "There are always times when people do something wrong. I was young and didn't know how to behave before, so, please give me one more chance! I really love Charlie, and grandpa also wants me to be with him. Look, grandpa still remembers my name now, right?"

"..." Leticia's eyes darkened.

It was because of grandpa that Charlie was engaged to Sarah.

Also because of grandpa, Charlie later married Theresa...

She didn't expect these two women... to be ingrates!

Leticia didn't say anything.

Sarah looked at the time, "It's already late today and I'll go back. And I will come back to see grandpa later."

When she finished, she stood up and didn't take the check Leticia had given her.

She wanted to be with Charlie but she wasn't in a hurry.

She was going to wait until Theresa and Charlie got divorced!

It was only after Theresa moved out of here that she came back.

Seeing Leticia sitting aside, Theresa walked over. She gave Theresa a look, sighed, and said, "Your family is really thick-skinned."

Theresa looked to Leticia, "Don't mind her."

Leticia said, "If you were well with Charlie, she wouldn't have thought she still had a chance."

Theresa was at once speechless.

Leticia looked over at her, "Forget it. Go get Leonard and Ben down here and get ready for dinner."

When she finished, she stood up and went to the dining room.

Theresa sat on the couch, and not long after, Leonard and Ben came down by themselves.

Grandpa was resting at this moment and did not come down to eat because he had just returned from outside and was in shock.

Leticia turned to Charlie and said, "Charlie, when are you and Theresa getting divorced?"

Charlie said, "Next Monday, I think. Everything is almost ready, but I have more things to do this week."

Leticia said, "When you and Theresa are divorced, are you going to take your grandpa back to the hospital? Look at the way he is now. When Theresa is not here, there is nothing we can do to him."

Charlie glanced at Theresa. Seeing that she didn't make a sound, he nodded, echoing his mother's words, "That's what I thought." After dinner, Theresa went upstairs.

And Rose went back.

Paul sat aside, looking at Charlie, and asked, "Why don't you tell Theresa to stay and let her go back after grandpa is better? It's almost

New Year. How bad would it be to take grandpa back to the hospital?"

He felt miserable when he thought about it.

But if Theresa was not there and they didn't take grandpa to the hospital, they would probably not even have a good year.

Hearing Paul's words, Charlie said, "Paul, haven't you realized what happened? Now it's not that I want to divorce her, but that she wants to divorce me. Even if I keep her, she refuses to stay. What can I do?" Paul, "... Really?"

He was full of doubts about Charlie's words.

He always felt that Charlie was saying this to save Theresa's face.

Charlie said, "Why would I lie to you? She loves someone else!"

"Just tell her that Eugene won't marry her and let her give up the idea."

Paul thought that the reason Theresa had so much courage to want to divorce Charlie was that she and Eugene had two children.

Chapter 589

Chapter 589

Hearing Paul's words, Charlie said, "Those two kids of hers are not Eugene's. You all misunderstood, and it's Eugene himself who told me."

Paul, "But the last time he told me he'd been with Theresa."

"You ask him again." Charlie was really speechless at Paul, who didn't even get things clear and made him misunderstand Theresa.

Paul shut up in doubt.

Leticia said, "And who is the father of her children? Why does she keep refusing to bring them back? We're treating her well... Why doesn't she want us to know anything about the two of them?" When Charlie thought about his relationship with Theresa, his face went cold, "I'm not sure. She wouldn't tell me even if I asked her because she didn't even want to stay here."

Although Charlie thought that the two children were Roderick's....

Anyway, when he saw whom she was getting close to now, he couldn't help but suspect that the person was the father of the children.

But since Theresa did not want to tell him whose children they were, it seemed pointless for him to probe further.

Leticia and Paul were surprised to hear this, especially Paul, who had thought that Theresa was not good enough for Charlie after he stood up.

But the truth was that she didn't fancy Charlie.

Did they have to beg her on their knees if they wanted her to stay with Charlie?

This woman was really spoiled by Charlie... uncontrollable!

On Monday, it snowed a bit, but it didn't affect the trip.

Theresa changed her clothes and came downstairs, where Charlie's car was already waiting at the door.

She opened the door and got into the car. Giving him a look, she sat down beside him.

Neither of them said anything in the car. With her phone in hand, Theresa checked her Twitter and found that Cameron's Group had already released Lloyd's advertising campaign. It was just shot last week, and now it was officially announced.

It was so fast.

Theresa looked up through the window and could still see Lloyd's ad for Cameron's Group broadcasted on the mall's big screen.

Cameron's Group's sales were up, which made its competitors in the same industry jealous.

Inside the car, the driver's voice suddenly rang out, "Charlie, here we are."

Without making a sound, Charlie opened the door and got out of the car.

Today was the day of their divorce. After they went into the Civil Affairs Bureau, Charlie signed the divorce petition directly, so, they went through the procedure very quickly.

After getting the divorce certificate, the two of them came out of the Civil Affairs Bureau. Charlie walked in front, very fast, and Theresa looked at his back. From the beginning to the end, Charlie did not say a word to her.

Charlie looked like he was in a bad mood.

Theresa called out to him, "Charlie."

He stopped and stood by the car, one hand in his pocket, "I'm busy."

He obviously didn't want to talk to her much.

Didn't she want to get a divorce?

He fulfilled her!

From now on, he would never care about this woman.

Thinking of this, Charlie clenched his hands in the pocket of his coat into fists suddenly, with a strong sense of reluctance.

He looked back at her and said, "You should be very happy now, right? You can finally be with the person you like after leaving me!"

Hearing his words, Theresa walked up to him and reached out to help him straighten his inside tie.

She did this with a very gentle movement.

Charlie looked at her and couldn't stand her hypocrisy. "What do you mean by that?"

Theresa said, "I'm moving out in the next two days. After the divorce, live a good life. Don't be with Sarah."

Chapter 590

Chapter 590

Hearing her words, he sneered, pulled a somewhat cool hand from his pocket, and pinched her chin, "Do you think you are still qualified to meddle in my affairs now?"

Theresa said, "I'm not meddling in your affairs and I was just reminding you. There are plenty of good women in this world, and you don't need to be dragged down by us." Whether she or Sarah could only drag him down if they were with him.

Theresa knew that Old Mr. Calsis wanted Charlie to marry the Cameron family's daughter because of his friendship with her grandfather back then, but now, one old man had passed away and the other... didn't. remember anything!

There was really no need to make things difficult for Charlie like this.

Charlie heard her words, "You're so hypocritical!"

Although she said some words for his good, she was thinking of someone else in her heart right now!

He looked at Theresa and said, "Don't think you can change my attitude toward you by saying these words.

Theresa, from the moment we divorced, I will never forgive you in my life!"

When she heard him say this, Theresa felt a deep hatred in his tone.

She looked at him with some surprise, "You hate me? Why?"

Didn't they get along quite well all this time?

Charlie looked at her and laughed, "Why? How dare you ask me why? Do you think I shouldn't hate you?"

It was this woman who deeply trampled on his dignity as a man and failed his feelings for her.

Naturally, he would not forgive her!

Theresa looked at him, "Charlie."

"You go back! Move out of my house quickly. I'm going out for the next two days, and I don't want to see you in my house when I get back."

With those words, Charlie turned around and got into the car.

Jonathan stood aside. Seeing Theresa, he bowed deeply and then followed Charlie to the car.

Theresa stood alone. It was snowing today and the temperature was very low. Although the snow had stopped long ago, there were still piles of unmelted snow on the roadside. Seeing Charlie's car leave the road, she frowned. She breathed out a hot breath and blew on her hands before she hailed a cab from the side.

When she returned to the Calsis family, Leticia was taking care of the two children for dinner. Seeing her return, Leticia asked, "Did you get the divorce certificate?" Theresa nodded, "Yes."

Leticia looked at her, "Do you want to eat?"

Leticia knew that after the divorce was finalized, Theresa was leaving!

Leticia didn't know what to say for a moment.

It was just that they and Theresa were not destined to be a family!

Theresa had two children, after all, and this was her choice.

But no matter what, for the Calsis family, she was their benefactor who got Charlie back on his feet. So, Leticia didn't hate her.

Theresa glanced at the two children, only to see them looking at her with wide eyes.

Theresa smiled at Leticia, "You eat, and I'm not hungry. I'm going upstairs to see grandpa."

When she finished, Theresa went upstairs,

Abel was with her grandpa and she talked with grandpa for a while. Looking at her grandpa, she felt sad. During this time in the Calsis family, grandpa was very kind to her, and she took all this to her heart. And now when she was leaving, she felt very sad.

She played chess with grandpa for a while. While grandpa was out, she packed up her things and moved some things that she couldn't use back to the Cameron family.

Leah didn't go out today, and when she saw Theresa moving her things back, she said, "You moved all your things back?"

Theresa didn't say anything.

Leah said, "You and Charlie got divorced?"

"Yes," Theresa responded.

Chapter 591

Chapter 591

As expected, the next second, Leah said to her with a gloating tone, "You should not be too sad! We all know that Charlie is picky about women. With such a bad reputation and two children, it's already an honor for you to be his wife for a while. Ordinary women don't have this luck. Am I right?"

Theresa gave her a look and didn't say anything.

Leah sighed, "Alas, it's not that easy to be Charlie's wife, How could he possibly marry an average woman? Sarah is awesome. She hasn't been in the company for long but she's made the company a success. Today, in just one morning, our company's turnover has already reached hundreds of millions! She is really very capable."

"... Where's my dad?" Theresa interrupted Leah's bragging about Sarah.

Leah said, "He's gone to the office! He's been well for the past two days, so, he goes to the office. Your dad is lucky to have such a competent person like Sarah by his side. If I hadn't brought Sarah over, your dad would have died of anger just by you?"

Theresa looked at Leah who spoke contemptuously to her. Before when Theresa was in the Calsis family, they had to rely on Theresa, so Leah still spoke to Theresa politely.

But now it was different!

Theresa had nothing to do with Charlie after the divorce.

From now on, she would not have to do things depending on Theresa's emotions!

Everything in the Cameron family belonged to Sarah because it was Sarah who brought the company back from the dead.

After taking the things up and putting them down, Theresa came down.

What she brought back were things she couldn't use, and as for what she needed, she would take them with her when she left tomorrow. The next morning

Charlie didn't come home last night, so, Theresa was the only one sleeping in the bedroom.

She got up very early.

When she came down to have dinner with Leonard and Ben, Leticia was there.

Today was the day the two children went to school to get their notices.

Theresa turned to Leticia, "Cristina said that she wanted the kids to go to her place for a few days."

Hearing Theresa mention Cristina, Leticia said with some suspicion, "Does she have time?"

Theresa nodded, "Well, she's already on vacation."

Leticia said, "Charlie should not be happy if we take the children to her."

"Charlie is away on business for the next two days and I'll let Cristina bring them back before he gets back."

Theresa said, "Leonard and Ben haven't been with Cristina for a long time since they came back and they should miss Cristina too."

When she said these words, Theresa felt a little guilty.

But she had to say that to Leticia if she wanted to take the children away.

However, she didn't expect Leticia to say, "I always felt that Cristina was very irresponsible to the two children." Leticia was quite fond of Cristina at the beginning, but she realized that Cristina was not a reliable mother with more time.

So now, even though Charlie got divorced, Leticia didn't want to let Charlie marry Cristina.

Theresa said, "Cristina is careless, but it's she who gave birth to the two children and she will take good care of them. The point is... the kids will need someone to rely on when I'm not with them. What do you think?" She knew that Leticia loved the children.

She would not be as insensitive as Charlie in preventing the two children from associating with their 'mother'.

Hearing Theresa's words, Leticia said, "Okay."

Leticia previously thought that with Theresa around, even without Cristina, the two children were still very obedient.

But now Theresa was leaving, then the two little ones w certainly make a fuss.

In any case, Cristina was more reliable than a woman Charlie brought back from outside.

Theresa said, "So, I'll drop them off at Cristina's after I take them to pick up their notices? Mom, you also have something to do today, right?"

It was almost New Year and there was a lot to do at home.

Leticia nodded, "Yes. Thank you. These two children like you very much. When you leave later, they will definitely be very uncomfortable." Listening to Leticia's words, Theresa glanced tenderly at the two children.

She could feel that Leticia trusted her and never thought that she would take the children away.

Chapter 592

Chapter 592

She also felt that it was unkind to lie like that.

But she knew that if she told Leticia the truth, she wouldn't be able to take these two children with her.

For her children, she had to do it!

After dinner, Theresa took the two children out. Before getting into the car, Leticia even came to see them off.

"Leonard, Ben, don't catch a cold!"

It was getting colder and colder in the past two days in Serameton.

The two children were dressed thickly.

Seeing Leticia, Ben nodded and suddenly came over to hug her.

Leticia had never seen him so clingy, and after all, they were usually only clingy with Theresa.

At this moment, looking at Ben's well-behaved appearance, Leticia smiled, "Oh, you can't leave me, right? Then let your mother drive you back after you get your notices."

Ben shook his head.

Leticia thought they were just going to Cristina's, but Ben knew very well that he wouldn't be coming back here later.

He definitely had to go with Theresa.

Everything went smoothly.

After receiving the notices, Theresa took the two kids to Cristina's.

She left her car at Cristina's and took a taxi to the house her father had bought for her.

It was a small, detached cottage in a rather remote area, but there were schools right there, and it was convenient for living.

When she moved in, she wasn't going to appear in front of Charlie for a while.

Leonard and Ben's room was upstairs.

Theresa had cleaned up the room a long time ago, and those things that were left at Cristina's place when she lived in a rented house before also had been moved in advance. Both Leonard and Ben were happy to see their things.

In the evening, Rose went back home without seeing the two children.

So, she asked Leticia, "Aren't Leonard and Ben home?"

"They went to Cristina's." Leticia said, "What's wrong?"

"Nothing. It's just that I feel weirdly empty at home." Since Theresa had arrived, the house had been very lively.

Seeing that the house was suddenly so quiet now, Rose was still a little uncomfortable.

Leticia laughed, "Yes! Theresa said that the two kids haven't stayed with their mom for a while, so while your Uncle Charlie is away, we let the kids go to Cristina's for a couple of days."

Rose said, "So that was it. And where's Theresa?"

"She's gone." Leticia said, "They got the divorce certificate yesterday, and she left today."

Speaking of this, she let out a sigh.

In the future, Theresa would have nothing to do with her.

Rose still felt some disbelief, "She's really gone?"

Rose always knew that Theresa and Charlie were getting a divorce.

But she always thought that Theresa would have a big fight with her Uncle Charlie according to Theresa's personality!

She didn't expect Theresa to go so quietly.

This... was not like what she was like!

When she cheated on Jimmy before, she still pestered him. Why would she divorce her Uncle Charlie so easily now?

Theresa must think her Uncle Charlie was not to be messed with.

Chapter 593

Chapter 593

After returning from the Calsis family, Rose went out to dinner with Jimmy in the evening and told him about Theresa's divorce from Charlie and moving out of the Calsis family. Jimmy said, "Oh."

They... divorced quite quickly!

From the time Theresa married Charlie until now, Jimmy hadn't had a good day.

Now when he heard the news, he just felt happy and had a feeling of relief.

Hehe...

No one would protect her now!

After returning home from dinner, Jimmy called Gentry over directly.

He knew that Gentry had been displeased with the Cameron family these days.

The apparel market was just that big, and now Cameron's Group had earned all the money, so, other companies had nothing to earn.

Gentry was very angry, but he put up with it because Jimmy kept persuading him.

He went into the study. Seeing Jimmy sitting there, he said, "Jim."

Jimmy said, "These things are for you."

After saying that, he turned the computer around and put it in front of Gentry.

The computer had a lot of materials on it, some of which were about Lloyd's black history and some was evidence of the Cameron's Group donation not fully arriving...

Seeing this, Gentry was surprised, "Where did you get these materials?"

Jimmy said, "You don't have to worry about that."

He had previously been in Nandlall's Group for so long and had worked as a senior executive, so, of course, he knew a lot of things.

He couldn't do anything with Charlie, but he could easily bring down the Cameron's Group.

Gentry said, "Good lord. You're amazing! I am curious about what Cameron's Group will do when I release this information to the public. Huh-huh, I heard they spent a lot of money to hire Lloyd." Jimmy's face was cold, "Since they want to make money from the traffic, they naturally have to be prepared for the backlash of it. I told you a long time ago that they have been seeking death. Just go!" Gentry went out happily with the materials.

In the morning, Theresa took the two children to get familiar with the nearby vegetable market and supermarket and bought some things back.

Now that they had moved here, they would live well.

They didn't have many caregivers after leaving the Calsis family, but they had a pretty peaceful life.

She liked this kind of life.

When Lenard and Ben were surfing the internet on the cell phone and tablet computer on the couch, Ben suddenly spoke up. "Mom, come look at this."

"What is it?" Theresa was making soup in the kitchen with her apron on.

Seeing that she was busy, Ben walked up to her with his tablet computer and showed her today's trending, which was related to Lloyd...

A girl had exposed herself to being assaulted by Lloyd by her real name on Twitter.

Lloyd was now a hot celebrity with a huge fan base in the entertainment industry, with high popularity. In particular, his recent collaboration with the brand of Cameron's Group had made him more popular. When the girl broke the news on Twitter, Lloyd's company had already issued a lawyer's statement that the girl was making up rumors, but with more evidence unveiled by the girl, the matter still attracted a lot of attention. In fact, before this, Lloyd had already been rumored with many girls. But he had been a playboy, so people didn't take it to heart. After all, no one else could control whether he was in a relationship or not.

For online celebrities, falling in love might lose a large number of female fans, but Lloyd didn't care about that. He never responded to such things and did not care whether people unfollow him. Gradually, after he fell in love more often, people became accustomed to it.

But it was different this time because according to what the girl said, he was suspected of committing a crime! Ben looked to Theresa, "Is this person related to grandpa's company?"

He knew Theresa was concerned about this lately.

Chapter 594

Chapter 594

So, when he saw the news, the first thing he did was tell Theresa.

Theresa nodded and said, "You need to watch less of this. It's not for kids to watch."

Ben picked up his tablet computer and sat back down on the couch.

Theresa continued to make soup. Probably because she had heard Daphne mention it before, Theresa was not surprised to see the news at this moment.

She had known this day would come. Since it happened now, she could only accept it.

The branch of Calsis Films had an event in Nurkey, and Charlie was attending the annual meeting there.

In the afternoon, he was still in the lounge when he received the news brought by Jonathan.

"Charlie, what to do?"

Theresa and Charlie were divorced.

But Charlie had invested in the Cameron's Group.

Besides, he thought that Charlie wouldn't leave Cameron's Group alone.

Charlie said, "Got it. Wait and see."

This was Sarah's responsibility.

Last time, she came to his company and wanted to work with his company's artists, but Charlie didn't agree, so she went to Lloyd.

It was said that she spent a considerable amount of money.

Sarah was clearly a person who liked to take risks!

When the company was running out of business before, she donated such a large sum of money that she managed to attract attention and draw in strong traffic. After that, probably because she had tasted the benefits from the traffic, she did not work on the product but spent much money to hire Lloyd as their spokesman. Some people felt that she had won the opportunity because she dared to take a risk, so, they blew her up like a god.

But... in Charlie's eyes, this was the most stupid approach.

The most important thing in business was to be down to earth. She could gain momentary attention by doing this, but without roots, she would easily fail. Looking at Charlie, Jonathan said, "If Mrs. Calsis sees this, she should be very anxious."

"Mrs. Calsis?" Charlie said, frowning slightly.

Jonathan said, "I was wrong, and it's Ms. Cameron."

They... were divorced!

Jonathan found that Charlie would get upset every time he mentioned Theresa after they divorced.

He who had been by Charlie's side knew how much Charlie loved Theresa.

But now, seeing Charlie was so resistant to Theresa, Jonathan didn't know what to say.

Indeed, with Charlie's condition, he didn't have to be with Theresa.

Charlie said, "If she was really anxious, she would have called me, but I don't think she seems anxious right now."

They went up for divorce the day before yesterday, and until now, he and Theresa have not been in touch.

The matter of Lloyd was exposed this morning, and now it was afternoon, but she did not send him a message. Since she was not worried about the things of her family herself, he also didn't bother to worry about it.

When Dick came back to the office today, his assistants put a bunch of documents on his desk.

Looking at that bunch of documents, he felt annoyed.

Rawlins took out some important documents from the side and put them in front of him, which included that about Cameron's Group.

After a day, Lloyd's story spread all over the internet. In addition to the girl who exposed him, there were even other victims who came out to report him.

Looking at Dick, Rawlins said, "Before Dr. Cameron asked us to help her protect Cameron's Group. After this incident, I think Cameron's Group's image has been ruined. Should we do something about it?"

Chapter 595

Chapter 595

In addition to Lloyd's scandal, the previous donation of Cameron's Group was also revealed.

They had originally gained attention because of their donation, but now they were caught out in that their donation didn't fall into place, so their reputation suffered greatly. Dick asked, "What was Charlie's reaction?"

"I heard that he went to Nurkey and didn't take any action to settle the matter. And I heard that he and Dr. Cameron were divorced before he went to Nurkey!"

"Oh." Dick nodded meaningfully, "Something like this happened to Cameron's Group as soon as Charlie divorced her. No wonder she came to me and asked me to protect the company for her at that time. This man is really cold-blooded and heartless. Anyway, Theresa saved him and got him on his fee. How can he treat his benefactor like this?"

Dick could not help but deeply despise Charlie.

Looking at his boss's dislike for Charlie, Rawlins said, "That's the way he is! Unlike you, Mr. White..."

"That's right. I'm not the same kind of person as him."

Dick said, "Let's wait and see! As long as Cameron's Group doesn't go out of business. We'll talk about it in a couple of days."

Rawlins nodded, "Okay."

Dick said, "By the way, when is Dr. Cameron coming over?"

"She said she's been busy lately and won't come over."

Dick looked to Rawlins, "How would that work? I've been feeling tired for the past two days, but I'm not sleeping well. You call and tell her to hurry over when she's done." He needed to sleep, and this was a big deal!

Dick now even had the feeling that he could not rest until he saw Theresa every

It seemed that just seeing her pin could make him sleep well.

Rawlins said, "Okay, I'll contact her later."

In the evening, Theresa was teaching her two children their homework in the study.

Ben sat aside and asked Theresa, "Mom, do you miss Dad?"

Theresa froze when she heard his words. Looking at him muttering to himself, she asked, "You miss your dad?"

"A little."

Looking at Ben, Theresa rubbed his head, "We won't see your dad in the future."

"We won't see him for the rest of our lives?" Ben thought this sounded a little scary.

Theresa thought about it, "Probably?"

She didn't know what would happen if she saw Charlie and it was possible that by the time she saw him, she would never be able to keep the children with her.

So, they might as well not see each other!

Ben said, "Then how pathetic is my dad alone."

"He's not pathetic." Leonard said, "He'll marry a bad woman! He'll have new kids, and he doesn't even like me. Mom, when is Uncle Roderick coming? We've moved to a new house, so, should we invite him over?"

Theresa, "..."

She looked at Leonard somewhat hopelessly, "You like Uncle Roderick that much?"

"Uncle Roderick was exceptionally nice." Leonard rarely complimented a person that way.

Theresa said, "I'm afraid we can't see Uncle Roderick either."

"Why?" Leonard couldn't understand, "Uncle Roderick is a good man!"

Thinking of Roderick, Theresa said, "He's a very good friend of your dad. If he knows we live here, your dad will know! At that time, he will bring your dad here to take you two away. By then, I won't be able to stop that happening."

"Even if I want to stay with you, can't I choose by myself? I see on TV that when the kids' parents get divorced, they can choose for themselves whom they want to be with."

How is that possible?" Theresa said, "Your dad is not someone else."

The point is...

Chapter 596

Chapter 596

She remembered that Charlie said he hated her in front of the Civil Affairs Bureau that day!

It seemed like he wouldn't even want to be with her in the future!

In this situation, she asked him to give the children to her?

There was no way he would say yes!

She now only hoped that Charlie would not be with Sarah.

If he's really stupid like this, she would be too disappointed in him!

Compared to Theresa's calm, the Cameron family was a mess.

Sarah was back from the office and was in her room. After making dinner, Leah came upstairs and called her, "Sarah, go down to dinner."

Sarah was still in the room on the phone with Lloyd's studio, "What the hell do you mean? Hmm? Did our company pay you so much money for the ads to get us in so much trouble? Take care of it now!"

Damn it!

She was really pissed off!

She thought that Lloyd had a big fan base and that his company would help him out no matter what happened, but she didn't expect him to get into such a big mess. So, when they signed with Lloyd's studio, the terms of Cameron's Group's contract were very lenient.

Even if something like this happened, Cameron's Group could not get any benefit.

Moreover, everyone knew that Lloyd's legal team was notoriously powerful. Even if Cameron's Group had to fight with them in a lawsuit, Cameron's Group might not be able to win the case!

Sarah was furious at the thought of the risks she was likely to face next.

She could only hope that Lloyd's company could take care of the matter quickly.

On the phone, Lloyd's manager spoke kindly to Sarah, "Don't worry! We make sure people won't pay attention to this tomorrow. Lloyd has been exposed to so many romances before, but in the end, he's fine. These girls just want to piggyback on Lloyd, and it won't affect your company." "That's the best!" After saying that, Sarah was so angry that she hung up the phone.

Just yesterday, she was still delighted when she heard that Theresa and Charlie's divorce.

Thinking about the current performance of Cameron's Group, she was very happy, but she didn't expect that such a big thing would happen in the blink of an eye! She was really pissed off!

She turned back. Seeing Leah standing in the doorway waiting for her, she walked out, "Mom."

Leah said, "Is that serious what happened to Lloyd?"

She also saw the news today.

Everyone was talking about it.

At this moment, seeing Sarah's anxious look, she couldn't help but feel a little worried.

Sarah said, "It's not serious and it's just that some girls don't want to break up with Lloyd. You should not think too much. Do not worry, our company will be fine. Let's go to dinner." Saying that, she walked down to the dining room.

Johnson had already taken a seat at the table. When she saw him, Sarah greeted him, "Dad."

She felt a little guilty when she said it.

Johnson looked at Sarah and said, "Sit down."

Sarah had just sat down when she heard Johnson say, "What do you think about what happened to Lloyd?"

"I just told his manager to take care of it as soon as possible. It's not a big deal, nothing important, so, you don't worry about it."

"Are you sure this is not a big deal?" Johnson said, "I think we'd better terminate the contract with him quickly."

"That's not good." Sarah said, "We signed with them just now and the ads have just been released. If we back." terminate the contract at this time, we won't get our money

The endorsement fee paid to Lloyd alone was 100 million, and the advertising fee... If the contract was terminated at this time, they would not be able to get the compensation. That meant that they would lose all their money.

Her efforts all these days would be in vain!

She absolutely could not let that happen.

Chapter 597

Chapter 597

Johnson looked at her and said sternly, "This is a big deal, and you should have checked him out before you got him as our company's spokesperson. How can you do business like this?"

"But now I've got him signed as our spokesperson." Sarah said, "Dad, since I'm in charge of this matter, I'll take care of everything that follows. You are not in good health, so, you just rest well and leave the company's affairs to me. I will definitely take care of this matter."

"Are you sure you can do it?" Johnson was suspicious of her.

Sarah clenched her fist and said, "I can."

"Old Johnson, Sarah also wanted to do the best for the company. I didn't think it was a good idea to donate before, but isn't the company getting better now? I think we should trust her, don't you?" Leah couldn't help but speak for her daughter.

After taking a look at them, Johnson sighed and said to Sarah, "You should hurriedly terminate the contract with Lloyd and clear the relationship with him. I don't blame you for your inexperience, but you have to take care of this matter now."

Sarah nodded, "Okay."

In the face of Johnson, she could only agree for now, and she hope that Lloyd's company could take care of the matter quickly. Sarah said, "By the way, dad, have you called Theresa yet? She should have known about what's going on at home, right?"

"What does this matter have to do with her? Don't bother her with this."

He knew Theresa had just gotten a divorce,

So, he didn't want to cause her any trouble at this time.

As for what happened to the company, he would take care of it, and now he could only wait and see how it went!

Sarah said, "You can ask her to seek Charlie's help and Charlie won't leave us alone after such a big incident happened to our company."

"Do not bother her with these things." Johnson glared at Sarah, "Theresa and Charlie are already divorced. To be honest, our family was already sorry to Charlie, and now the company has nothing to do with him at all, so, he has no obligation to help us. I'd rather go bankrupt if we can't deal with this matter!"

Sarah was a little aggrieved after being blamed by Johnson.

Johnson stood up and went upstairs.

Looking at his back, Sarah lowered her head and couldn't eat anymore.

Leah looked at her and asked, "What's going on with the company? It really doesn't matter?"

"It's a serious matter." After being blamed by Johnson, Sarah didn't pretend to be fine in front of her mother, "I'm so annoyed right now, but I can just depend on how Lloyd's studio handles it! Charlie went to Nurkey and will be back tomorrow. I'll pick him up at the airport tomorrow."

This matter to Charlie was just a piece of cake.

Anyway, Charlie and they had plenty of skin in the game, and she knew he would not leave them alone.

Leah said, "Will he see you?"

Charlie seemed to be still angry with Sarah for her running away from the wedding.

Theresa had divorced Charlie, and they both felt it was an opportunity.

But Leah was still a little worried.

Sarah said, "I think Charlie still loves me. He is now treating me badly just because what I did before made him angry. If I explained to him properly, I think he will forgive me. Anyway, I was with him for so long before. What do you think?"

The next morning, Sarah came out of the house and drove straight to the airport.

Charlie had just arrived at the airport after attending the branch's annual meeting last night.

Chapter 598

Chapter 598

He was followed by Jonathan and two secretaries.

Seeing him, Sarah waved at him!

Charlie walked forward and ignored her, so Sarah took the initiative to come up to him, "Charlie."

Jonathan stopped her from getting closer, "What do you want?"

Sarah could only keep her distance from Charlie and said to him, "Charlie, you knew what happened to Lloyd, right?"

Charlie put one hand in the pocket of his English-style coat and walked towards the exit with his long you legs, "Yes, I knew it! You should be able to handle this trivial matter, right? It's so strange. Why did show up here? Did we run into each other by chance?"

"..." The corners of Sarah's mouth twitched. This man was so mean, not showing her any respect.

Sarah said, "You can help me think of a way."

Charlie said coldly, "I can't do it."

"I know you can." Sarah said, "Can you help Lloyd deal with his scandal? You also have film and entertainment companies. so, it will not take you much effort to help him with this."

She knew Charlie could do it!

It was a piece of cake for him to deal with this thing.

Hearing her words, Charlie gave a cold laugh, "My company has many artists, but... they never do things that are illegal and disorderly. I can't handle Lloyd's affairs."

When Charlie found out that Marlene was in a relationship, Marlene immediately broke up with the guy she was in a relationship with.

But she was just in a relationship and hadn't broken the law...

So, there was no way he would deal with these things with Lloyd.

What surprised him more now was that after such a big incident, Sarah not only didn't clear her relationship with such an unqualified spokesperson like Lloyd, but she even came over and asked him to defend Lloyd!

Sarah pleaded, "Charlie, please help me! I was the one who took your grandpa back when he was lost, so, your family still owes me a favor. You should pay me back, right?"

"Are you sure?" Charlie gave her a cold look, "If you say so, then please refund me that money your company owes me! I've helped your family a lot before."

She even wanted to use the matter of grandpa to ask him for a favor!

He didn't owe her anything.

On the contrary, the Cameron family owed him a lot!

Sarah didn't expect it's unworkable for her to say the matter of grandpa.

She said, "And you know you still have money in our company. If you don't help us, your money will go down the drain."

"It doesn't matter to me." Charlie said, "I'll take that money as a poker loss or as a donation to the disabled."

He said she was disabled...

The corners of Sarah's mouth twitched, but she still held back her temper, "So, you really don't help us?" Their two families were so close and he used to help with whatever happened to their company. Charlie said, "Give me one reason why I have to help you!"

Sarah pursed her lips and didn't say anything

Charlie rolled his eyes at her and continued on his way.

He was about to get in the car when Sarah ran over and stopped him, "You don't care about Theresa either? If it weren't for her, you wouldn't be standing up. Didn't you save her company just after you divorced her? In fact, you know that it's not a big deal to me. I'm just working for her. If the company is really going bankrupt, the one who should be most worried is Theresa! Aren't you quite good to her? She treated you so well before, yet you are so ungrateful."

Chapter 599

Originally, Sarah never wanted to bring up Theresa, but she was left with no choice.

She knew Charlie had always treated Theresa well and even owed Theresa. In fact, it was only because of Theresa that Charlie had been helping the company lately. Now that Theresa had left, Charlie immediately turned his back, so Sarah had no choice but to bring up Theresa and hope it might work. As expected, when Charlie heard Sarah say that, his expression changed. He looked at Sarah and said, "Since you mentioned your sister, if you want me to help your family business, ask her to beg me herself."

Sarah was at a loss for words. She was out of other ideas so she deliberately tried to provoke Charlie by bringing up Theresa. However, she never expected Charlie to actually... agree!

"Theresa must be really special to you for you to treat her so well!" Sarah looked at Charlie and said, "Charlie, are you trying to infuriate me to death?"

Charlie opened up the car door and was about to get in when Sarah said, "Have you forgotten you promised grandpa you'd marry me? How can you fall in love with Theresa?"

Jonathan's lips twitched as he heard what Sarah said. He could not fathom how Sarah actually had the guts to be so shameless and bring this up in front of Mr. Calsis.

He said, "You ran away from the marriage first, why are you making it sound like it was Mr. Calsis' fault?" "Who said I ran away? I was out learning. Charlie's legs were injured and could not stand up, so naturally, I wanted to help him cure it! I only traveled so many places because I wanted to find a good and reliable doctor for him."

Jonathan was speechless. He could not believe how absolutely shameless this woman was, so much so that he almost admired her for it! What a ridiculous excuse. Was Sarah saying that she only ran away from the message for the sake of Mr. Calsis?

Charlie looked at Sarah and said, "After you returned, you were afraid I'd not let you go no matter what, so you said you'd rather die than marry me. Those are your exact words, have you completely forgotten?"

'How dare she bring that up? How shameless can she be?'

Even Charlie could not believe it.

Sarah's body froze for a second. Back then, she had really thought Charlie would never be able to stand again, so of course, she thought she had to say the harshest thing to him, so he would give up. Who would have known now Charlie...

Shit!

'It's all Theresa's fault. If I had known Charlie can stand again, why would I ever do those things? That woman planned this, she wanted to see me burn!'

Sarah pursed her lips. Her eyes became red as she looked at Charlie with a pitiful expression and said in an extremely sincere tone, "That's because you and Theresa were already married when I got back. I saw how lovey-dovey the two of you were so naturally, I wanted the two of you to be happy. But the truth is, I've been miserable since then. I've always loved you, you know this! Have you forgotten how many foolish things I've done for you back then?"

Back then, she wanted to marry into the Calsis Family so badly that she had done all sorts of stupid things for Charlie.

Charlie looked at Sarah with disdain. He realized this woman was really an indisputable serial liar. She did such horrible things in the past, yet she wanted to find excuses now and make it look like she was not wrong for doing those things.

Charlie said coldly, "All I remember is grandpa got sick because of you, and your face when you laughed at me to my face for being a cripple. Oh, right, and the guarantee note, do you remember? You posted it online too. Ms. Sarah Cameron, do you really think everyone else is an idiot? Or do you think I have Alzheimer's and can't even remember things so recent?"

Recalling the guarantee note she had posted online so hurriedly back then, Sarah froze. She was so furious with her past self she almost wanted to kill herself. If only she had never done these things! Seeing the speechless look on Sarah's face, Charlie turned around and was about to enter the car. Suddenly, Sarah pushed Jonathan away and sprinted toward Charlie. She hugged him tightly from behind and said, "Charlie, I was wrong! I know I've done a lot of wrong things, and I regret them a lot. I just want to come back to you, and I really am not doing it because you can stand again. It's because now I remember the memories we shared when we were together. I really liked you back then, I've never liked anyone else so much in my entire life. I love you, and only you. So let's get back together!"

Chapter 600

"When you and Theresa divorced, do you have any idea how happy I was? Because I thought we can be together again! Can you forgive me? I know you still have feelings for me! You only treat Theresa so well because you want to make me jealous, right? Why else would you love a divorced woman so much? I don't believe you really love her! I'm the one you really love, me, Sarah Cameron, is the only woman in your life!"

Right after Sarah finished saying all that, Charlie immediately pushed her away with a big swing. As she was wearing high heels, Sarah staggered and fell onto the ground. When she recovered from the shock that Charlie had just pushed her onto the ground, Charlie and all his men had already left in the car. Sarah was left alone sitting on the floor outside the airport with a wounded knee.

Shit!

Sarah was furious and on the verge of crying.

'He's so violent! I'm already begging him like this, why won't he forgive me still? How long is he going to be angry with me? He was the one who forced my family into a crisis so that I would come back and marry him! Now that I'm willing to be with him, and he won't take me back?'

In the afternoon, when Theresa was decorating the new house and preparing for the festival, her phone rang. Ben brought her phone to her and said, "Mom, a call."

"Pick it up," Theresa said.

Ben picked the call up and put it on speakers.

"Hello," Theresa said first.

Sarah's cold voice came from the other side of the call. "Theresa, where are you?"

Theresa knew that Sarah was most likely the most concerned and anxious person when Lloyd had that incident. In the morning when Theresa woke up, she found out that none of the matters related to Lloyd got any better. In fact, several brands that had hired Lloyd as their ambassador had already terminated their contracts with him. However, surprisingly, Cameron's Group, which had the most public attention, had yet to make a statement about terminating their contract with Lloyd, which slowly destroyed the good public impression they had.

Therefore, Theresa was not surprised to receive a raging call from Sarah at this time.

Theresa calmly said, "What is it?"

"Quickly come home," Sarah said, "Where are you? Are you not concerned about your family at all after something so big happened? You really are a princess who doesn't care about these things, aren't you?" Sarah thought Charlie was crazy for wanting to make Theresa go see him. However, she now had no choice but to let Theresa deal with this, otherwise... If the issues regarding Lloyd took too long to be settled, her father would definitely be furious.

Hearing Sarah, Theresa laughed and said, "I don't know anything other than taking care of children, what's the point of informing me when something happens to the family?"

"Are you saying that you're not planning to care about what happens to the company?" Sarah said angrily.

Theresa calmly said, "You're really funny. When the company was doing well, you took all the credit. Now that it's in trouble, suddenly you thought of me?"

Sarah did not know how to rebut.

Theresa continued, "Also, about Lloyd, did I not remind you before you signed the contract with him? What did you tell me back then? And what reason are you using to ask me for help now?"

Sarah froze for a moment. Indeed, she did not listen to Theresa back then, who would have known it now turned out that Theresa was coincidentally correct.

Sarah clenched her fists and said, "All things aside, look at what happened to the company now, what's the point of arguing about these things now? Do you have any idea how worried dad is after something like this happened? Do you really want him to still worry about the company while he's still sick?"
