

Chapter 111 Leo Is Not Suitable for the Role.

Under this situation, even Caroline was very much looking forward to how Coco would react.

The reporters and audience were silent, seemingly waiting for Coco's response.

"Of course, we will work well together," Coco hollowly laughed, "I've already said that the past is the past, and I won't mix up personal feelings with my work. I am professional."

That is a quick reaction, Caroline thought.

Caroline had to admit Coco was good at handling the media. Coco's acting skills were even better than she was on the set. No wonder Coco would become an actress.

"I hope that people represent could give more your attention to this drama rather than my personal relationship with Caroline. Right, Carol?"

Coco suddenly threw the question at Caroline, which left Caroline unprepared.

The reporters' gazes all shifted to Caroline.

Caroline smiled brightly, "You are right, Coco. I always believed that we can work well together, after all, we are sisters."

"Then what does Miss Caroline think of the conference held by Miss Coco before? Coco said it was you who made her lose her baby." A bold reporter stepped forward to ask the question.

The entire room fell into silence!

How dare this reporter!

The organizer of this conference had already warned that these kinds of questions should not be asked to Caroline today!

Caroline's smile became even brighter or it could be called a kind of frankness.

She said, "I believe that in this world, the truth will come out one day. Don't you think so, sister?"

As Coco did to her, Caroline threw the question back to Coco!

Coco smiled awkwardly and said, "I agree with you, Caroline."

Coco's reply sent the media into a flurry of speculation.

No one could figure out what was going on between Caroline and Coco.

If what Coco said was true, then why was she still working with Caroline who killed her child? Although she Coco a point about not mixing up her personal feelings with her work, how could she forgive Caroline so easily if Caroline actually killed her baby?

If it was true and Caroline made Coco lose her baby. What Coco did now was unacceptable.

Now at the conference, Caroline didn't look guilty in front of Coco, instead, she was quite relaxed. If she indeed had made Coco lose her child, she should not have worn such a bright smile.

Unless Caroline was really a woman who was extremely vicious in her heart!

But the media was not certain that it was Caroline's fault.

How this conference was reported depended on the media present.

As the conference ended, the audience left. As Coco walked out of the stage, her expression soon changed. Wearing a long face, Coco got into her van.

Even the driver could notice that Coco was in a bad mood, and Coco's assistant didn't even say a word. No one dared to get close to Coco now.

"Coco, I know that you are not happy in your heart, but we have to do this," Chole said.

"Yes, I am not happy. I even want to kill Caroline right now! At today's conference, it was like she hit my face in front of the audience! It hurt in my heart!" Coco was furious.

This conference, no matter how the media reported it, was not favorable for Coco.

"It is okay. If this conference can catch people's attention, the drama will be more likely to be a hit. Isn't this good news for you? Remember, you are the leading role," Chole comforted Coco.

Coco glanced at Chole and thought Chole and she didn't think about the same thing.

There will be more similar situations ahead in the future like today's conference. Coco would meet Caroline on the set frequently at work and she didn't know what would happen then.

After calming down, Coco thought Chole was right. She should focus her attention on her career. As she gains popularity, she will be more important among the crew so that the prospects of her career will be brighter.

Once the conference ended, Caroline was relieved. She looked like she had gone through a war.

Gina noticed that Caroline didn't feel well so she sent her a bottle of water.

"Are you alright?" Gina asked Caroline with care.

"Yes, I am fine," Caroline took the water, looking up at Gina and smiling gently.

Caroline put the bottle down and turned to Gina, "You should have seen the news, right? You must have heard that Coco said that I killed her child. Since I am a vicious woman, why are you still so friendly to me?"

Gina showed a meaningful and bright smile as if she heard a joke.

"I don't think you're a vicious woman. I don't believe the news. To see is to believe."

"Coco looked far from a vicious woman, didn't she?" Caroline asked with curiosity.

Coco grew up as a lovable little girl and no one believed that she would have bad intentions.

"In order to get hype, people will always say some exaggerated words in front of the media. I am not new in the entertainment industry so I never believe those reports," Gina explained.

Gina spoke in a manner as if she had seen through the world. She patted Caroline's shoulder, "Moreover, I believe that a talented person will not waste their life on petty things."

Caroline and Gina smiled at each other.

"By the way, how come the male lead did not appear?" Caroline suddenly asked.

"I inquired about it. It is said that the male lead is still not decided," said Gina.

"However, I am so interested in the candidate. Who will play the charming man?" Caroline held her chin, full of anticipation.

"Then who do you think is the most suitable actor for the leading character Robert Powell?" Gina asked.

Caroline thought carefully for a while and said, "I am now searching the names in my head. There are really no suitable ones, but I like Kris! And Arthur!"

Thinking that her favorite actors might play the male lead in her novel, Caroline couldn't be more excited!

Maybe there would be a chance that she could touch her idol's pecs. Caroline was drooling when she was just thinking about it!

"But for me, the perfect candidate for the male lead was Leo Ellis!" Gina said with excitement.

Gina's words instantly pulled Caroline's beautiful fantasy back to reality!

"Leo is not suitable!" Caroline strongly said.

"Why? I think he is quite suitable! Leo is a great actor and I think he can play any role well," Gina said with red hearts in her eyes.

"I think he is so...sunny. So he is not quite suitable for such a complicated role as Robert."

Caroline explained that in terms of appearance, Leo was perfect, but Caroline was afraid that he couldn't present the role well. Robert is a great role! Caroline didn't want anyone to ruin him.

"I don't think so. I think Leo is capable of doing a good job, but I don't think he'll choose this drama," Gina said.

Gina shrugged her shoulders. It was her dream to work with Leo, the great actor in her heart.

The conversation made Caroline and Gina more close to each other.

After chatting for a while, they said bye.

Tomorrow the drama would start shooting so Caroline went back to Leo's apartment to prepare.

In the recent days, Leo didn't come back once. It was likely that he was staying in Richard's place.

As soon as she entered the door, Caroline felt something was wrong.

When she raised her head, she saw Richard sitting on the sofa.

Chapter 112 Do Something That A Couple Would Do

Richard sat on the sofa with a powerful aura around him. It looked like he had his own boundary, and people were not allowed to intrude.

His features were still delicate and his face was still cold. Under his eyes, there was a dark area, as if he hadn't had a good sleep for a long time.

"Why did you come?!"

Caroline hadn't seen Richard for many days, and now she was so surprised.

"And how did you get in here? I can sue you for trespassing!"

Caroline walked to the sofa and glared at Richard. Did this guy treat this place as his home?

Richard raised his eyes, "but this is my nephew's apartment, right?"

Caroline was speechless. She could not deny this. There was nothing wrong.

It seems like Caroline should explain why she was here.

Caroline pretended to be calm and cleared her throat, "But now I live here. You'd better hurry up and get out. We are divorced!"

She got out of the way leading to the door.

Richard hooked his finger at Caroline, and Caroline was puzzled, "What?"

"Come to me," Richard's tone was very light, different from what he used to be.

"Why should I come to you?" Caroline asked.

Caroline's feet turned in Richard's direction and two little people fighting in her head.

Go over! Don't go over!

Just after taking two steps, Caroline turned her head and thought, "Why should I listen to him?"

"What exactly do you want? You've already got the freight rights! What else do you want?"

Caroline stomped her feet and shouted at Richard.

Since he got the benefits he wanted and had a divorce, why did he still come to her?

Hearing this, Richard's brows furrowed, "What are you talking about?"

Richard was confused. What does this have to do with the port rights? Moreover, how did Caroline know about the freight rights?

Caroline sneered, "Richard, don't act in front of me. I will not believe you even if you say you like me and you didn't want to have a divorce with me!"

"How did you know about the freight rights?" Richard's voice lowered.

"If you want me not to know, you should do it! I know that the reason you were with me was that you wanted the freight rights of S city. Now that you got it, you can walk out of my life."

Richard's deep eyes were even colder.

Richard now realized why Caroline wanted to get a divorce before. She thought he wanted to use her.

Women like thinking. But Richard didn't expect that Caroline would misunderstand him.

However, he didn't want to explain for the time being.

"I am not here for you? I came to find Leo," said Richard.

What? Caroline turned embarrassed and just wanted to bury herself under the ground.

Could it be more embarrassing?

"Well, you can stay here and wait for him," Caroline quickened her steps into the bedroom.

What a misunderstanding! Caroline thought Richard still wanted to be with her.

Caroline thought she couldn't live in Leo's apartment anymore.

"Bad man! Go to hell!" Caroline cursed as she punched the pillow.

As if the name Richard' was written on the pillow.

The bedroom door suddenly opened.

As Richard walked in, he saw Caroline turning her back to him and cursing him while pounding the pillow.

"I'm standing right in front of you. You don't need a pillow. Do you dare come to me?"

Richard's voice came from behind, and Caroline was startled so she turned around. Richard had already walked to the bed, which made Caroline so scared that she fell on the bed.

"What are you here? It is my room, and you can wait for Leo in the living room!" said Caroline.

Richard leaned down and propped his hands on the bed, closing the distance between him and Caroline.

"Caroline, have you signed your divorce papers yet?" he asked.

"What do you mean?" Until now, Caroline remembered there was such a thing as a divorce paper, "I'll sign it right away!"

"Which means you haven't signed it?" Richard asked.

"Don't get me wrong. I don't sign it not because I'm still interested in you but because I have to examine whether you have set up any pits for me with the settlement!" Caroline turned her head to the side.

"Since you haven't signed it yet, we're still legally married now,"

Richard took off his jacket.

"What? What do you want to do?" Caroline asked in fear.

Even Caroline herself couldn't explain why Richard was so sexy right now.

Richard directly pressed Caroline underneath him and said, "Then let's do something that a couple should do!"

Saying that Richard kissed Caroline's lips.

Caroline punched and kicked, but she was not able to resist Richard.

Richard stripped off Caroline's clothes quickly, and Caroline lost her strength.

This time, Richard was incredibly gentle on the bed. It had been too long since he had sex with her, and the desire in his body was about to burn him to death.

His movements were gentle as if he was worried about hurting her.

She did it with him again.

Caroline stopped resisting, and tears slowly flowed from the corners of her eyes.

She admitted that she loved him, and until now, she still had feelings for him.

But she didn't know why he came back after he agreed to have a divorce.

Richard raised his head to see Caroline's tears and his movements stopped.

"What's wrong? Did I hurt you?"

Caroline turned her head to the side, "Do it quickly."

Richard thought he had hurt Caroline, so his movements were slower, but that made it even more suffering for Caroline.

The sex was finally over.

Richard put on his clothes.

Caroline's clothes were already torn by Richard, and she didn't want to pick them up and put them on, so she simply got a pajama from the closet.

After putting on it, Caroline pulled open the bedside drawer, in which the divorce paper was lying quietly.

She took out the paper from inside.

"I'll sign it right now, and in the future, don't come to me again."

Caroline rummaged through the drawer to find a pen.

There was indeed a pen in the drawer so she took it out. Just as she was about to sign it, a big hand grabbed the paper and took it away.

Caroline raised her head and looked at Richard, "Give it back to me!"

"If you sign it, we can't do it in the future."

Saying that Richard tore off the paper and threw it in front of Caroline.

"Richard! You are going too far!"

"Then what can you do to me?" Richard found it quite fun to see Caroline's angry face.

Being loved by her made Richard feel great.

Caroline stood up, and stared at Richard, "Is it fun for you? You can do it with any woman you want and why can't you just leave me?"

"I just want to do it with you."

Someone was knocking on the door.

"Caroline, open the door. I forgot my key!" It was Leo's voice.

Chapter 113 Impatience

That was Leo!

Caroline looked at Richard in horror.

But Richard had a calm expression as if he was saying "So what?".

"You go hide!" Caroline whispered to him.

"Why should I hide? I am Leo's uncle and why should I be afraid to see him?" Richard raised his eyebrows and thought it was better for Leo to know about his relationship with Caroline.

"I don't want him to see us being together!" Caroline stomped her foot and said.

"Why?" Richard frowned and lifted Caroline's chin.

Richard wondered if Caroline wanted to be with Leo.

Caroline got rid of Richard's hand, "Hey! This would ruin my image in Leo's mind if he found that I slept with his uncle. Then I will have no face to see him in the future!"

Caroline believed that Leo was her good buddy!

"What if I make him know about the things between us?" Richard asked.

"No way! You can't do this!" Caroline roared towards Richard.

"Caroline! What are you doing inside? Hurry up and open the door!" Leo yelled from outside.

Standing outside the door, Leo could hear the voices inside the room. Because Richard's voice was low while Caroline's voice was sharp, he could hear her voice but not Richard's.

Anxiously, Leo took out his phone to call Caroline.

The cell phone rang and Caroline immediately covered it under the quilt so that the ring would not sound so shrill.

"You quickly go hide in the bathroom!" Caroline lowered her voice.

Richard showed a bad smile, "I can go to the bathroom but there is one condition."

"Shoot!" Caroline looked at Richard's smile and turned upset.

"I can do it with you anytime I want, even if you sign the divorce papers," said Richard.

"That's impossible!" Richard shouted.

If Caroline had a knife in her hand right now, she would definitely cut down on Richard's head without hesitation. If she hesitated for a second, then she would be the biggest fool!

"Richard, that's too far!" Caroline gritted her teeth and her voice lowered.

"I think it is a good deal. You'd better say this, otherwise, I will go outside to see Leo."

Saying that, Richard went towards the bedroom door, but was pulled back by Caroline.

"Yes! I say yes! Are you satisfied now?" Caroline had no choice.

Richard pinched Caroline's chin and lifted her head, saying, "My good girl."

"Quickly go to the bathroom!" Caroline pushed Richard hard.

Then she hurriedly ran to open the door.

As soon as she opened it, she saw Leo's face full of impatience.

"What were you doing? Caroline!" Leo asked.

Seeing Caroline wearing pajamas, Leo was a little hesitant when he asked, "Were you sleeping?"

"I...I just take a nap! Why couldn't you choose a better time when you come here?"

Caroline pretended to be calm and sat on the sofa.

"This lady, now it is five p.m. Are you still taking a nap?" Leo asked.

"That...that is because I stayed up to write a novel!" Caroline glanced at him and rolled her eyes, "Remember to take your keys with you next time."

"But who were you talking to?" Leo looked at the bedroom door which was closed. He thought about who it would be with Caroline.

Leo stood up and walked to the bedroom, "Why did you close the door? Is there a man?"

"Hey!" Caroline rushed to Leo and blocked in front of the door, "You can't go in!"

"But this is my room, Caroline?"

"I'm the one living here now. It's not appropriate for you to go in!" Caroline said.

"Inappropriate? I won't do anything but just take a look," Leo insisted.

"My clothes were all over the ground and so did my pants. It's quite messy!" Caroline had to say something to stop Leo.

Leo laughed out, "Then I want to see what kind of clothes you have."

"Leo Ellis, are you a pervert?"

"I am just kidding," Leo touched Caroline's head, returned to the sofa and sat down.

Caroline was finally relieved.

"Didn't your uncle make you grounded? He will beat you if he finds you are here!"

"He's been quite busy lately and he is not at home. That's why I dared to come here," Leo was full of pride.

Caroline lightly sneered in her mind, "That's because he is here with me!"

"I heard that you are a scriptwriter of a drama. We should celebrate it!" Leo said.

"My treat! Let's go out for a drink some other day!" Caroline patted Leo's shoulder.

"I don't want to go out! I want to eat the food you made in person," Leo said.

Caroline patted hard the back of Leo's head and said, "You are a picky eater! It would take me half a day to make the food you like!"

"You once said that you would cook for me! I want to eat it!" Leo said.

"Fine, I will make it for you," Caroline gave in.

Leo was about to cheer when his cell phone rang. When he saw the phone number, his expression changed immediately.

"Yes, John?"

"Leo, Mr. Preston will be back soon and you'd better come back right away. If Mr. Preston knows about your leaving..."

"I'll go back immediately," Leo said and hung up the phone with a lifeless expression.

Caroline turned her head sideways and looked at the bedroom side. It must have been that Richard asked John to call Leo back!

This slippery man!

"Caroline, I can't stay here anymore. My uncle will be back soon. But don't forget your promise!"

Leo said as he walked outward. He waved his hand towards Caroline and left in a hurry.

Richard walked out of the bedroom with a bad smile on his face.

Caroline took a glance at him. When he smiled badly like this, he really resembled Leo.

"Aren't leaving?" Caroline had nothing good to say to him.

"Since Leo has gone, why should I leave here?" Richard asked.

Richard sat next to Caroline, who moved her butt a little further away from him.

"Are you afraid of me?" Richard asked.

"I am NOT afraid of you. I just don't like you!" Caroline turned her head to the side.

"But when you are in bed, I thought you liked me very much," Richard said in his sexy voice.

Caroline picked up a pillow and threw it towards Richard, who blocked it with his hand.

"Get the hell out of here! Roll as far away as possible!" Caroline said in anger.

Richard stretched out his hand to grab Caroline's arm. The sudden force caught Caroline off guard and she accidentally fell into Richard's arms.

Chapter 114 Are You Enough?

Caroline was embarrassed and wanted to get up, but her entire body was pressed against Richard's body. There was another burst of blushing on the face.

"Let me get up!"

"I am not stopping you," Richard looked at Caroline teasingly.

Caroline was like a turtle, struggling with her limbs but just couldn't get up. Her hand was placed on Richard's chest, but she felt it was inappropriate. However, she couldn't reach other places!

Seeing her blushing face and struggling, Richard finally stopped teasing her and holding Caroline in his arms. He rolled over and pressed her down on the sofa.

"If you want to do it with me, just say it," Richard said.

"Hey, we just had sex! Isn't it enough for you?" Caroline pushed Richard.

"It is never enough for me to be with you," Richard whispered in Caroline's ear.

Just as he was about to do something, Richard's cell phone rang.

Richard frowned very unpleasantly, sat up straight, and took out his cell phone from his pocket.

Caroline immediately sat up.

"Hello," Richard picked up the phone.

"Mr. Preston, bad news. There's a problem at the harbor, and we need you to deal with it as soon as possible," the other end of the phone said.

"I will come over soon," Richard said seriously.

After hanging up the phone, Richard's face filled with gloom.

Because he didn't get the freight right of S city, Richard could only use other ways to relieve his pressure. However, the method he took led to some problems at the warehouse, the production line, and the port.

When he was stuck in the problem, Caroline's laughter came.

Richard took a look at Caroline.

Caroline was still laughing. "Do you know what this is called? This is called retribution! Just now you made Leo leave, and now the same situation happens to you. You deserve it!"

Richard slanted a glance at her. Caroline didn't know she was part of Richard's problem!

"I am leaving and you don't forget your promise," Richard straightened his clothes and stood up.

After a while, he continued, "If you want the divorce paper, come to Hints Group to find me."

After saying that, Richard left the apartment.

Caroline was relieved again.

The Big Demon King and the Little Demon King both left, and the room finally quieted down.

However, it suddenly occurred to Caroline that she had no time to go find Richard for the divorce paper because she was going to work tomorrow.

That's not bad. She could temporarily get rid of Richard for a while.

After packing up her things, Caroline carried her suitcase out the door, and as soon as she walked out the door, a big tall man stood at the door.

Caroline was startled by him, and it was only when she tapped her head that she remembered he was the bodyguard William sent to her.

"Your name is Gavin, right?" Caroline asked him.

"Yes, Miss. Fowler. Is there anything I can do for you?" Gavin nodded and took the suitcase from Caroline's hand.

"Didn't you see a suspicious man leave here just now?" she asked.

"May I ask, what does he look like?" Gavin asked.

"He was about one meter eighty centimeters high, in a black outfit. Look like a big devil!"

Gavin was embarrassed. He stood there for a long time and only saw Leo and Richard walking out of the door. Could it be possible that Caroline was talking about Richard? Gavin thought.

"Miss. Caroline, I didn't see such a man," Gavin had to say to Caroline.

"Next time you see him, give him a fierce beating!" Caroline used her fist to make a fake move.

"Yes, Miss Caroline," Gavin nodded.

Gavin actually worked for Richard, and he would never dare to beat Richard.

Gavin sent Caroline to the shooting site.

The crew had contracted the entire Grant Plaza Hotel, and all the crew stayed in this hotel.

Caroline got out of the car and looked up at this hotel, "A five-star hotel!"

Wow, the treatment is so great here. No wonder Caroline could have a bodyguard!

Gavin delivered the suitcase to Caroline and said, "Miss Caroline, my room is on the first floor and the number is 101. If you need anything, just call me. I am always on standby."

Caroline nodded, "Thank you, Gavin. I have to leave now."

Just as Gavin left, a nanny car pulled up to the entrance of the set. Coco and Chole walked down.

Seeing Caroline, Coco immediately revealed a disdainful expression, "Bad luck today."

Caroline didn't want to argue with Coco, pulling her own luggage towards the hotel.

"How poor she is! A small suitcase like that! We are not the same person," Coco said disdainfully.

"Coco, wait a moment. I'll go find the staff for to pick our luggage up."

Chole said and walked inside, "I'll join you to familiarize myself with the environment."

Caroline passed them and quickened her pace.

A man walked over and bowed to Caroline, "Are you Miss. Fowler?"

Caroline froze for a while.

Chole hurriedly cleared her throat, "Miss Fowler is here!"

The man looked at Caroline and then at Coco, somewhat at a loss for words.

"Hey, are you blind? Coco Fowler is here! She is a famous actress and the female number one of in this drama! Come here and help us move our luggage," Chole shouted.

The man smiled at them and said, "I'm sorry. I was asked to receive Caroline Fowler, the special scriptwriter of this drama. If you need to move your luggage, please wait for a while."

After saying that, the man picked up Caroline's luggage and said, "I'll take you to your room."

Coco bit her lip. Fortunately, there was no one around right now, or she would be embarrassed!

"Who does she think she is? She is just a scriptwriter."

The man brought Caroline all the way up to the top floor of the hotel, and to Caroline's surprise, her room was actually the presidential suite!

"Are you sure this room is mine?" Caroline pointed at the room and then pointed at herself.

The waiter wore a smile and said, "There's no mistake. This is your room, Miss. Caroline."

"If you need anything, you can just call the staff. Miss. Caroline," said the man.

"Thank you," Caroline replied.

The man then left.

Caroline pulled out her suitcase, feeling it was too small compared to such a large room.

She brought clothes in her suitcase, as well as toiletries, and her laptop.

Putting the toiletries in the bathroom, and the clothes in the closet.

Done!

In the evening, there was a dinner arranged by the drama crew, so that everyone could get familiar with each other.

Caroline as a screenwriter would attend and it was unavoidable that she would run into Coco.

Chapter 115 Please Let Us See Them

The vicinity of the filming site was not prosperous, and there were only a few places for food and drink.

Therefore, the gathering arranged was in the dining hall of the Grant Plaza Hotel.

The crew had basically all arrived, and there were quite a few acquaintances between the actors, who got together in twos and threes to chat.

As soon as Coco came in, she was surrounded by a few actors. Here, she was the female number one and the most famous, so quite a few people wanted to get close to her.

Caroline hadn't been in this industry before. William was also there and many people surrounded him so Caroline didn't go over.

She decided to find a corner by herself and start eating.

The food here on the table was all to her liking. All of them were her favorites.

Caroline sat in the dessert area and kept eating. No one was paying attention to her anyway.

Suddenly someone tapped her shoulder when Caroline had just stuffed a cake in her mouth. She looked up with her mouth full of white cream.

When Gina saw Caroline like this, she couldn't help but laugh.

"Look at you. Like a cat who is stealing food here," Gina said, pulling out a tissue from her bag to wipe the corners of Caroline's mouth.

Caroline smiled in embarrassment and hurriedly chewed and swallowed what was in her mouth.

"It is glad to see you there," Caroline said after she finished the cake.

"I didn't need to be this early because the male number one wasn't here. The schedule was pushed off. I basically appeared with him. But I come to familiarize myself with the environment."

"This male number one is so arrogant. All of us came but he still did not arrive," said Caroline.

"A big star. He was quite busy. Maybe he is your idol," Gina squeezed her eyes.

"Then that would be great! However, Leo is impossible. I heard that he is on vacation lately and he would not have time to play this role."

Caroline didn't want to tell anyone about her relationship with Leo, which would cause trouble for herself.

"There must be a chance that I can work with Leo," Gina said.

Coco was still surrounded by quite a few people, and in order to show her pro-people image, she responded to them one by one.

"Coco, your clothes look so familiar. It looks like Givenchy's latest season!"

Selena Anne, an insignificant actress said in surprise.

Many people's gazes were then fixed on the dress Coco was wearing.

"But I heard that this dress hasn't been officially released yet!"

Another actress said.

Coco smiled without saying anything.

"Coco, could this dress be...?"

Could Coco's clothes be fake?

"I'm just a bit more lucky to get the new models in advance," said

Coco.

Coco smiled faintly, showing elegance.

The crowd exclaimed in shock.

Coco is the wife of Wendell South, which explains why she could get this dress!

"Coco, then there must be a lot more dresses in your closet that we haven't seen before."

Selena's pair of big eyes flashed with light.

"I don't have so many expensive dresses. I was worried the clothes provided by the crew weren't very good, so I brought some just in case."

"Coco's casual clothes are way better than the ones we wear for formal occasions! No way, Coco, we want to see your dresses. Let us see them!" Selena insisted.

"Coco, let's us see them. Raise your hand if you want to see, guys!"

Another actress chimed in.

Many people raised their hands.

Coco pursed her lips and smiled, "Well, then I'll take you guys to take a look."

Saying this, Coco put down the wine glass in her hand.

A group of actresses then followed Coco.

Actress Clair and Gina had worked together in a movie before and were quite familiar with each other, so Clair looked at Gina and walked over.

"Gina, come on. Let's go to Coco's room together."

"For what?" Gina was confused.

"Everyone is going! Shouldn't you go as well? Don't offend Coco, you can't take the consequence, Selena reminded Gina.

Honestly, Gina didn't want to deal with Coco. Last time, she offended Coco. Her assistant Ann knocked over a cup of Coco's juice. In the days after that, Coco was indifferent to them.

As the saying goes, people under other people's home's roof have to bow their heads.

Gina looked at Caroline with an apologetic face, "Caroline, I will go. I didn't want to offend her."

Caroline noticed Gina's difficulty and stood up, "I'll go with you."

"But you and her..."

"It's okay. I'll protect you!" Caroline patted her chest and Gina then went together with her.

Everyone talked and laughed in the elevator and went to Coco's room together.

Coco's room was on the top floor, also a presidential suite.

What surprised Caroline was that her room was next door to Coco's! What a coincidence!

A group of people swarmed into Coco's room.

Coco brought everyone to her bedroom and opened the closet. The eyes of the crowd immediately turned round.

"Oh my god. There are Chanel's new models!"

"Yes! There is also some couture!"

"Is this dress from Chanel's most famous designer?"

These actresses were very fond of the major luxury brands, after all, this was what they needed for their work.

Coco accepted everyone's compliments.

Caroline had a disdainful expression on her face. Ever since she was with Wendell, Coco has also started to like luxury brands.

But Coco was different when she was in the Fowler family. Every New Year's Eve, she would say, "I have enough clothes to wear. I don't need to buy any more."

Hypocrisy, really hypocritical!

Coco saw Caroline's disdainful eyes from the crowd, "Caroline, you're there too!"

In the crowd, Coco pulled Caroline out.

"Recently you broke off your relationship with Dad and your income is unstable, so I purposely brought over some extra clothes. Pick whichever you like."

Coco had a hypocritical face.

Many people exclaimed that Coco was good to this sister!

"No need, I brought enough clothes to wear," Caroline had a disdainful face.

"Is that so? Then I won't worry about it," Coco held onto Caroline's arm, and this action made it very difficult for Caroline to shake her off.

"Such an arrogant woman!" Selena muttered in a low voice.

Everyone present knew about Coco and Caroline's history, and in their eyes, Caroline was being arrogant.

"Caroline, since you don't need your sister's clothes, then your clothes must be better!"
