

Chapter 131 Long-Distance Relationship

"Have you just finished your meeting?" Caroline rubbed her eyes and her voice was a bit hoarse.

"Well, keep to have a good night. I will not bother you," Richard said.

"Don't! Don't hang up the phone!" Caroline sat on the bed and her voice was louder.

"What happened?" Richard asked with care.

"I have nothing but..." Caroline's face blushed and she continued, "I miss you."

There was a period of silence on the other end of the phone and what Caroline did not see was that Richard had a big and bright smile on his face which had never appeared before.

"How about I come to you right now," after a long time, Richard asked.

"No. It's so late now. I am not in Z city. I am with my mom now," said Caroline.

"Alright."

"My mom asked me to stay with her and two days later, I will go back to work," said Caroline.

"Then I will come to you when I am available," replied Richard.

"And do what we did in the apartment," he thought but did not say it out.

"Take care of yourself, Richard. You work so hard and," Caroline looked down at the time on her phone and continued, "It is twelve thirty now."

"I will. I am glad you are willing to pay attention to me," said Richard.

"It is so difficult for me to meet you now. I called you but you are so busy," Caroline said.

"Tom will answer your call and he will tell me," he said.

"Well, do you have a Facebook account? We can talk about that," Caroline asked.

There was silence on the other end of the phone.

"What? Why didn't you talk?" she asked.

"I have no Facebook account," he replied.

Caroline was surprised when she heard this, "You don't have Facebook?"

"Is it strange?" he asked.

"Well, how about going to create an account?" she asked.

"I will," Richard nodded.

"Good night."

"Good night."

After hanging up the phone, Caroline felt she was as sweet as candy.

Staying with her mother for about two days, Caroline decided to leave.

Before Caroline left, Olivia again nagged a lot. Her words came into Caroline's left ear and left the right one.

Sitting in the car back to Z City, Caroline wanted to listen to music, so she looked for headphones from her bag.

Her divorce paper was in her bag. She took it out and then went to rummage for the headphones.

Suddenly she felt that something was not right. There was only one copy of the divorce paper.

The other copy was missing!

The divorce paper was originally in duplicate, one for Richard and one for Caroline.

Caroline carefully rummaged through her bag, and there was still only one copy!

She immediately called Olivia, "Mom, did you take a copy of my divorce paper?"

"Yes, I'll keep it for you!" Olivia said.

"Why didn't you tell me? I'd like to keep it myself!"

"It's the same for me to keep it. When you need it, just come and ask me for it. I'm still busy, hang up first," Olivia said.

A "beep" sound came from the phone.

Caroline had a helpless expression. Her mom was so cunning!

She originally wanted to tear the divorce paper!

But now she was already in the car, and there was no way to go back. Even if she went back, her mom would not give the divorce paper back to her.

Caroline had no other ways.

Later she thought, it made no difference when her mom kept it so she was a little relaxed.

So be it.

At night, Caroline arrived at the set.

In these few days, Richard had already sent people to quell the news about Leo and Caroline, and no media dared to report on this matter anymore.

This matter was also considered to be a passage in the past.

As soon as she arrived at the set, Caroline ran into Leo, who was in a hurry, and when he saw her, he just glanced at her and didn't even greet her.

Caroline was furious and stomped her feet, but she did not say anything.

As soon as she went back to her room, she immediately called Leo, "What's the matter? Why did you treat me as a stranger?"

"I just thought it was good for our reputation. Don't you think so?" he asked.

Leo's voice was somewhat cold.

Caroline slapped her forehead and believed what Leo said made sense, "Let's keep our distance?"

"I agree. What if someone starts posting some messy news again?" Leo asked and then added, "I have to remember my lines and I am going to hang up."

"Alright," Caroline said.

She felt that Leo's voice sounded different than what his used to be but she was a little hungry, so Caroline decided to have a takeaway to fill up her stomach.

In the other room, Coco was on the phone with Wendell.

"Coco, I'm really sorry. I happened to be on a business trip during your days off."

Wendell's voice sounded a bit tired.

"It's okay, Wendell. How have you been? Are you tired?" Coco asked with care.

"I am fine. How about you, Coco? Is everything going well?"

"I'm alright. It's been going well lately," said Coco.

"That's good."

The daily conversation made by the two people seemed a bit distant.

"Wendell, my birthday is around the corner, I want a birthday present," Coco said.

"Good, what birthday present do you want?" Wendell asked.

"If I tell you, then there will be no surprise. You should think by yourself," Coco said.

"Alright, I'll prepare your birthday present carefully."

This was the first birthday celebrated after the marriage, and Coco was looking forward to it.

"I am so glad that you are willing to do this for me," Coco said.

The two hung up the phone.

After the short vacation, the shooting went on as usual.

Because of the popularity of Caroline's novel on the internet, the drama was already on fire after it aired. The producer decided to make this drama into a series.

The finished part that was shot not long ago was already in processing, and would soon be ready to meet the audience.

And this time, according to the progress, the first season will be finished in another half a month.

Dragging her tired body at night, Caroline went back to the hotel.

Richard sent her a message.

"Are you available now?"

Caroline smiled and replied to him, "Yes."

"What are you doing?" he asked.

"I am thinking about you," she replied.

Richard sent a video call. Looking at Richard's face on the screen, Caroline even wanted to lick her screen!

Being so close to the camera, his face still looked so handsome!

How could her husband be so handsome?

"Are you really thinking of me?" he asked.

"Yeah, did you miss me?" Caroline asked.

"Kind of," he replied.

"What does kind of mean?" Caroline was pissed off by his reply.

Chapter 132 Embarrassed

Richard smiled at the camera, seemingly a little embarrassed.

"Kind of is not enough. Say you miss me very much, quickly say it," Caroline said.

"Are you busy lately?" Richard changed the topic in a raw manner.

Now Caroline realized that Richard did not like to express his feelings!

Well, he would get used to it slowly.

"I am a little bit busy, kind of tired lately," Caroline nudged her mouth, "How about you?"

"I am good," Richard said.

"Then have you been tired lately?" she asked.

"It's good," he repeated his answer again.

Caroline sighed, "I'll call you Mr. Good from now on. Everything is good for you!"

Richard smiled helplessly. He was really bad at chatting.

"Lately I feel so bored. No surprises at all," she said.

"Then come back to me, Caroline?" Richard asked.

"I can't. I have to work hard or I won't have money to spend," she said seriously.

"I'll support you," he said.

Many women look forward to their men saying 'I'll support you', and now Richard said it easily.

"Really? If I quit writing novels, will you support me?" she asked.

"It is true," he nodded.

"What if you can't afford to support me?" Caroline blinked, "I'm very expensive."

"How expensive?"

Caroline held her chin and thought for a while, "I don't know."

"Well, go to sleep now. No matter how expensive you are, I can afford it," Richard said.

"Good night," Caroline said.

The sweet video call left Caroline sleeping comfortably all night, and having a beautiful dream at night.

This day happened to be Coco's birthday.

Early in the morning, many fans came to send flowers and gifts, including roses, lilies, tulips, and so on. There were also some beautifully packaged gift boxes.

However, none of the gifts sent by the fans were anything of value. Coco smiled as she waited for Wendell's gift.

"Coco, your fans are so sweet!"

"Yes, so many nice flowers. I've never received so many flowers in my life!"

The crowd of actresses were all full of envy. In this circle, they were all insignificant and it was already good enough to have a drama to shoot, not to mention any fans sending flowers.

A strong fragrance came in.

Several young men in uniform walked in, whose uniforms were printed with 'flower delivery'.

Together, they carried a small flower cart, a cart of red roses, emitting a charming fragrance.

"Wow! It must be nine hundred and ninety-nine roses! So romantic!" An actress folded his hands in front of his chest, "Coco's fans are so rich!"

"Maybe it's from Coco's husband?"

Coco raised her eyes to look at the flower cart with nine hundred and ninety-nine roses, and her eyes narrowed into a slit.

The young man standing was holding a small gift box, which appeared to be a gift box containing a diamond ring.

"Wow! It should be Coco's husband! Look, a diamond ring!" An actress immediately spotted it, pointing at the diamond ring box, and said.

"Wow, so romantic. No wonder your husband is from South Group!"

Coco sat up straight, and she didn't expect Wendell to be so considerate!

Petty immediately signaled the young men and asked, "Come here. Coco is here!"

The young men heard Petty, and without listening to what it was, they carried the cart toward Petty and Coco.

Coco guffawed with a cute smile.

"Thank you for sending flowers here," Coco held her hand out, and Petty immediately took her wallet out, pulled out bills from it, and handed them to the young man who was holding the box.

"This is the tip for you," Coco said.

The lad standing at the front was confused, "May I ask if you are Ms. Fowler?"

"Yes, I am," Coco nodded.

The young man smiled and handed over the card, along with a pen, "Please sign for it."

Coco took the card and signed her name.

The young man took the card back and looked at it. He didn't see what Coco had signed.

Petty couldn't wait any longer and said to the man, "Then quickly bring the diamond ring over."

Coco also looked at the diamond ring box in the man's hand with great anticipation.

The young man frowned, "I'm really sorry, miss, what's your name?"

The young man in front of her did not recognize her, which somehow made Coco embarrassed.

"Hey! Don't you know Coco Fowler? The celebrity?"

"Coco Fowler?" Hearing this name, the young man shook his head hurriedly, "No, no, the flowers and the box are for Caroline Fowler!"

It was so awkward!

Coco even signed her name, only to be told that the flowers were not for her at all!

Her face blushed and Petty was biting her lower lip tightly. She shouldn't have said anything!

Many of the actors around Coco covered their mouths and started snickering. It was humiliating!

"May I ask which one is Ms. Caroline? Here are flowers and gifts for you!"

At that time, Caroline was discussing the script with other screenwriters and was thinking about the lines, when she suddenly heard someone call out her name.

Caroline raised her head, looked around, and found a young man in a 'flower delivery' uniform.

"Here it is! What's up?" Caroline asked.

The lad heard the voice and hurriedly walked over. The eyes of the crowd followed him.

"Miss Caroline, this is flowers and the gift from a gentleman for you, please sign for it."

"For me?" Caroline was confused. She didn't know what was going on here.

"Yes, Miss Caroline, please sign for it."

"Alright," Caroline took the card and pen and found that there was Coco's name on it.

The young man felt embarrassed and said, "Sorry, I got it wrong just now. You can sign here."

Caroline quickly signed her name, and the man finally got the job done, presenting the diamond brocade box with both hands.

Everyone came together.

Nine hundred and ninety-nine roses were already shocking enough, what about this diamond?

Everyone's curiosity was aroused at this moment!

"Caroline, open it! Let us have a look!"

"Yes, we want to have a look!"

Chapter 133 The Heart of the Ocean

Caroline looked at the box in her hand, feeling like it was a hot potato that she couldn't hold.

Caroline didn't want to open it in public like this.

But at the same time, she couldn't resist the urging of this group of people.

"Alright, then I'll open it and take a look," Caroline carefully opened that box.

Everyone held their breath waiting for the miraculous diamond ring inside to appear!

But...

The scene that the crowd expected did not appear. There was just a stone with little luster.

That's right, from the outside it was indeed a stone, a heart-shaped stone.

Loud laughter came and the first one to laugh was Clair, followed by other actresses.

"I expected it to be a diamond ring, but I didn't expect it to be a broken stone!"

"Well... I guess Caroline's boyfriend is poor and crazy, isn't he? He could afford nine hundred and ninety-nine roses but not a ring!"

"That is so ridiculous! I didn't expect a man to send a stone to his girlfriend!"

If it's nine hundred and ninety-nine roses plus a diamond, the scene would be the best romance.

But if it's nine hundred and ninety-nine roses plus a broken stone, then it must be a poor man who was crazy and overestimated his strength.

Caroline listened to the jeers around her and was very unhappy, looking down at the stone in the box and taking it out.

She, in fact, liked the heart-shaped stone very much, and it was the first time she saw it.

"Caroline, do you like this trash? You can find it anywhere and I think you should break up with your boyfriend!"

"Caroline, I'll introduce you to a rich and handsome man. He won't give you a stone."

Caroline ignored that actress and didn't say anything. Instead, she stared at the stone in her hand and couldn't stop looking at it.

"Caroline, can I have a look at your stone," Diana stretched out her hand.

Caroline nodded and handed the stone over to Diana.

Diana's father was a fashion designer and often participated in shows in the fashion circle. So she knew a lot about the jewelry and the clothes.

Looking at the stone in her hand, Diana opened her mouth, unable to say a word. She hurriedly returned it to Caroline and said, "You should keep it carefully!"

"It's just a piece of broken stone. What's the point of keeping it?" Clair asked mockingly.

"It's not a common stone, this one should be called The Heart of the Ocean," Diana whispered.

"What? Are you sure about this?" Clair had heard of it.

It was said that the stone was hundreds of millions of years old, existing since the Jurassic era. It was discovered by explorers in the last century while they were shipping in the ocean. When it was discovered, the stone was in the shape of a heart, but not artificially polished.

Several explorers unanimously named the stone The Heart of the Ocean.

Because this stone was taken from the underwater world by explorers who risked their lives, it is invaluable.

"Stop kidding. How could this be true?" Clair didn't believe that Caroline's boyfriend was so rich.

"I once attended a big show with my dad when I was ten years old. The world-famous model Asier, who appeared in the finale at that time, wore this stone on her neck. Later on, to let everyone have a good time to take a good look at this stone, there was a special exhibition time."

Diana said with a snuffle, not like she was lying.

"Then it must be impossible that this stone is The Heart of the Ocean!" Clair immediately denied, "There's only one piece in the world and this one must be fake!"

Caroline stared at the stone in her hand and didn't dare to move it.

If it was from Richard, then this stone might be true.

"Right! It must be a fake one. Everyone should leave here now. I admit that it is fake," Caroline immediately said and she didn't want people to know that Richard is her husband.

The crowd gradually dispersed, and Caroline let out a long breath, staring at the stone.

Richard, can't you be low-key sometimes? Caroline said in her heart.

Caroline needed time to digest this information.

People were still talking about Caroline's stone.

"Do you think Caroline's stone is that invaluable one?" one asked.

"Well, it's hard to say. Maybe Caroline has a super rich boyfriend."

"I believe it's a fake. How could a normal person get the only one treasure in the world?"

Leo, who was memorizing his lines with a script in the corner, heard Caroline's name.

He remembered that two years ago, Richard got a stone from an auction for thirty million dollars, and when he brought it home, his mother said that the stone wasn't worth that much money but Richard explained that it was the Heart of the Ocean.

So the stone that Caroline had in her hand must be the real one.

So the person who sent Caroline roses and the treasure stone was his uncle Richard.

After work, Coco angrily returned to the hotel, with Petty following behind her.

"Coco, calm down. Caroline's stone must be a fake one and she was doing this on purpose."

"Slap!" Coco turned around and fiercely slapped Petty's face.

"You are such a failure! Since you didn't know what the situation was then, why did you take that delivery man to me? I am so embarrassed and was like a fool!" Coco was enraged.

Petty covered her face, with tears in her eyes, "Coco, I am so sorry. Because today is your birthday, I thought it was sent by your husband. I didn't mean to embarrass you," Petty cried.

Coco glared fiercely at Petty, "Stop crying! It's so annoying!"

Petty sniffled hard to stop herself from crying and said, "Coco, I think Caroline is doing this on purpose. Maybe she knows today is your birthday, and purposely did this to make you lose face."

Coco pondered over Petty's words. She thought Petty had a point! It was Caroline's fault!

Moreover, Caroline knew about Coco's birthday.

"Caroline, what a vicious woman! How dare you!"

Coco made Selena expose the news about Leo and Caroline, but it didn't hurt Caroline at all.

It seemed that she needed to have a better plan!

"Coco, don't be angry. It is your birthday today, and let's think of something happy," Petty said.

It is her birthday today! Wendell said that he would give her a gift!

But why hasn't the surprise come yet?

"Coco, didn't Mr. South say that he would give you a surprise? Maybe he is busy during the day and should be soon," Petty said.

Just as Coco was thinking, the doorbell suddenly rang.

Coco looked at the door with joy!
