

Chapter 50 Unexpected Events

"Great, don't always show me your belly, okay? I am also a woman. If I want to give birth to a child, it is just a matter of minutes!"

Caroline hated Coco when she showed off her big belly all day!

Coco covered her mouth and laughed.

"What's so funny?!"

"This is the best joke I've heard in my life. Sister, you tell such a funny joke to amuse me."

"Is it very funny?!"

Coco laughed for a while, "It is funny. You said having a child was a matter of minutes. May I ask who you have with? With Wendell? Wendell is now your brother-in-law. Or is it just a random man who you can borrow sperm?"

Caroline shouted at Coco, "I don't want to talk to you about this!"

Caroline was ready to go out. Coco pulled her arm, "Do not be rushed, sister. I have not finished my sentence."

"Then say it quickly!" Caroline couldn't stand her for a second.

Coco approached Caroline; although the two were about the same height, Coco's fierce gaze made her look as if she was higher.

"Caroline, you've been a loser to me all your life. I'm telling you, I came to family to take away everything from you."

Caroline looked at Coco in front of her and she was even more terrifying than she thought.

"Grandparents love you, and then I want to snatch away his love for you; dad spoils you, and then I want to snatch away his spoil for you; Wendell loves you, and then I want to snatch away his love for you; I want to snatch what you have!" Coco pressed forward step by step while Caroline backed up one after another.

"Coco, are you having fun with this?"

"Yes, of course, it is fun. Whenever I see the people who used to love you look at you with cold eyes, I particularly feel great. I love to see you in pain. That feeling is even better than having sex with Wendell!" Coco said while reaching out her finger to poke Caroline's chest.

"You are a pervert!" Caroline was exasperated, reached out, and pushed Coco.

Coco was pushed to the ground.

"You are a bad woman!" Caroline was furious, looked around, and directly picked up the dinner plate over the table and prepared to smash it towards Coco.

She was really pissed off! Lost her mind!

"Stop it!" A voice came from the doorway.

Caroline held up the plate and looked towards the door where Wendell was standing!

"Wendell, save me! My belly hurts!" Coco was on the floor, and her face had turned pale.

Wendell hurriedly went to help Coco who was lying on the ground.

Caroline slowly dropped her plate; she forgot that Coco was pregnant!

Wendell ignored Caroline and said to Coco, "Are you okay?"

It looked like she was in pain, "Wendell, I... I am painful."

Wendell looked at Coco's belly, and saw blood on her skirt!

Coco was wearing a white skirt, and the blood on it looked unusually striking!

"It will be fine, Coco. I will send you to the hospital immediately," Wendell said.

"Wendell, the child, our child...you must keep the child..."

"It will be fine, and don't think!" Wendell said carefully and then picked up Coco.

"Wendell, it's not what you see!" Caroline shouted after her.

Wendell stopped, "Caroline, you'd better go. If your father saw you, he will scold you again."

"You don't believe me?!" Caroline asked.

"I want to take Coco to the hospital now!" Wendell said, picked up Coco and rushed outside.

Caroline saw the blood on the ground and immediately got up to chase after them.

She didn't mean to do it. She was so angry that she forgot that Coco was pregnant.

She didn't mean to push her down.

Caroline caught up with Wendell and helped him hold Coco, who is her sister, and the child in Coco's belly was also a life!

Caroline helped Wendell open the car door, and helped Wendell put Coco in the back seat together.

After thinking about it, Caroline still followed Wendell and got into the car.

After all, she was the one who pushed Coco.

Richard's blind date was over.

He walked out and instructed John, "Send Miss Alice back."

"Yes!"

Several bodyguards ran over in a panic, and when John saw this, he immediately scolded, "What are you doing in a panic?!"

"It's not good. Miss Caroline has disappeared!"

Richard's eyebrows immediately wrinkled; he knew this woman would not settle down!

"The bathroom in the private room is broken. Miss Caroline wants to go to the bathroom, so we took her with us, and we have been guarding the bathroom door, but Miss Caroline has not come out. There is no one inside!"

"Then why don't you go and find it!" John reprimanded.

"We've almost searched the whole building and still haven't found Miss Caroline!"

"Go to the nearby places to look for her; She should not be far away," John instructed.

Richard's cold eyes darkened slightly, "No need."

"Mr..." John looked at Richard in surprise. He said it was not necessary. Did he let Caroline run away?

"She will come back," said Richard.

John hurriedly arranged to send Alice back.

Richard returned to the restaurant on the top floor and sat down.

For some reason, he felt that Caroline wouldn't run away and she might have arranged something else.

When John sent Alice away and returned, he suddenly heard two waiters talking about something.

"It was so scary just now! It was in the private room on the sixth floor, and there was blood all over the floor."

"What happened?" John asked.

"It was said that there was a fight. I don't know what happened; When I went to clean up, I saw the blood on the floor."

"What kind of people are they?"

"I do not know. Some one called Miss. Fowler."

When John heard this, he thought it was just a coincidence. Could it be Caroline?

He did not dare to delay and hurried up to the top floor,
"Young master, something goes worse!"

Richard raised his eyes and looked at him,"What happened?"

"I just heard the waiter say that there was a fight in the restaurant, and a lady named Miss. Fowler was injured and sent to the hospital. I think it could be Miss Caroline."

Richard stood up,"What are you doing? Then go and find out which hospital they were sent to!"

John was shocked; he has never seen Richard so panic!

"Yes! I'll go right away!" John immediately went to inquire which hospital the injured was sent to.

Richard also went straight out.

"Caroline,you must be alright!" he thought.

Reward

6

Comments

0

Chapter 51 I didn't mean to do it

In Hospital

Wendell was stopped outside the operating room by the nurse; Caroline was standing not far away, and she was still in a state of utter stupefaction.

The lights of the operating room came on.

Wendell closed his eyes in pain. Caroline took out tissues from his pocket and handed them to Wendell. Only at this time did Wendell realize that his body was covered with blood.

Looking at these bloodstains, his heart hurt even more. What about the child...

"Caroline, you should leave quickly. I called your father and our family. After they all know, you can not get away in a while." Wendell's voice does not intermingle with any tone of voice.

Caroline hesitated for a moment and finally slowed down, "Wendell, what do you mean by that?"

He meant she caused what happened to Coco, so the family would not let her go when they came.

"I believe you understand it very well." In the end, he loved her so he didn't want her to get into a situation where she was under siege.

"I don't understand!" Caroline roared low, "Do you mean it is all my fault?"

"Isn't it? Caroline, I never thought you were such a person! I was the one who got drunk and slept with Coco. I was the one who didn't go with you on the wedding day. I was the one who made you embarrassed when you were at the wedding. If you want to revenge, you can do it to me. Don't hurt Coco! And don't hurt Coco's baby!" Wendell looked unusually irritable.

Faced with Wendell's duty, Caroline looked even more shocked!

She could understand Wendell defending Coco, but what she couldn't understand was that he now started to accuse her because of Coco!

"I did push her a little, but it was just a little! It was Coco who provoked me with her words!"

"Caroline!" Wendell suddenly roared.

In Caroline's impression, Wendell had never even spoken so loudly to her!

But now he actually yelled at her.

"Since that incident, you have fooled around many times; you blamed me, you blamed Coco, you blamed everyone! I didn't even say anything because I felt that I betrayed you and that it was my fault. I deserved to take the blame, but..."

Wendell's gaze suddenly became dark, "Caroline, you are an adult. Do you have to be disciplined in everything you do? Don't be reasonable and unforgiving, and don't just hurt others!"

Caroline took a step backward and immediately leaned against the wall.

Is this because Wendell is unbearable?

"Caroline, maybe it's time for you to reflect on yourself. You are a person who only thinks about yourself. When you talk and do things, you only think about your own feelings, but you never think about others."

"Wendell...you..."

For the first time, on the issue of Wendell, Caroline felt so powerless.

Wendell seemed to feel that his words were a little heavy, but he did not regret it.

"Caroline, leave here. If our family or your father knows that Coco was pushed by you, you will certainly not be free from trouble, and I will not say it to your father and my family."

The last sentence was like a promise; he protected her for the last time.

"So it was you! How Coco could suddenly fall? It's you! You terrible woman!" A sharp female voice came from behind.

Wendell and Caroline looked over towards the back.

Jocelyn was Wendell's mother, and next to her was Wendell's father, Matthew.

"Dad, mom..."

Once upon a time, Wendell's parents loved Caroline. After all, they watched her growing up, and the two families were close friends.

Jocelyn walked over with big steps and raised her hand high, but Wendell grabbed her wrist.

"Mom, you are in the hospital, don't do it! This is none of Caroline's business."

"Why do you defend her? I heard it all! She is the one who pushed Coco! That made Coco sent to the hospital!" Jocelyn looked at Caroline, "My son didn't marry you, and you came to harm my grandson! Why is your heart so cruel?"

"I didn't!!!" Caroline retorted.

"You say you didn't! My son said that you pushed Coco. Caroline, how could you do this? Since your childhood, our family has treated you well. Even if you didn't marry my son, you shouldn't have harmed the heir of our family! You have a vicious heart!"

Caroline desperately shook her head, "No, it's not like that!"

"Okay, stop arguing, the most important thing now is Coco!" Wendell yelled lowly.

Jocelyn slanted a glance at Caroline, stepped towards the bench, and sat down.

Matthew sat next to Jocelyn.

Caroline stood to the side against the wall.

After a while, Mark also arrived.

Seeing Caroline here, Mark frowned, "Caroline, why are you here?"

The last time Caroline made a big mess of the wedding, Mark hadn't had time to settle the score with her because he had been busy with some matters after the wedding!

"I..."

When Jocelyn saw Mark coming, she seemed to have found a vent and stood up directly.

"You came in time; you really gave birth to a good daughter. She didn't become the young lady of our family, and she started plotting against the heir of our family!"

"I said I didn't!" Caroline immediately retorted.

"Do you dare to say that Coco was not pushed by you? Coco is pregnant but you still pushed her. I think you want Coco to miscarry!" Jocelyn shouted accusations.

"You're slinging mud at me!" Caroline was just about to continue to argue with Jocelyn when Mark slapped her face fiercely.

Caroline's head was knocked to the side; she slowly get her head upright and saw Mark's angry face.

"Dad, you hit me..."

"Yes!" Mark's finger almost poked Caroline's nose.

"Dad..."

"Don't call me dad. I'm not your dad! I can't imagine that you plotted to kill your sister! Caroline, I don't have a daughter like you, get out of here!"

Jocelyn smiled contemptuously and said in a small voice,

"It is the lightest punishment."

Wendell saw Caroline being beaten and hurried over,
"Caroline didn't..."

"Wendell, you do not speak for her! She is just spoiled by me!" Mark immediately stopped Wendell from saying anything further.

Caroline's tears were swirling in her eyes. Last time, he called her to the study and beat her up, but this time, he actually slapped her in public!

"You are not my daughter! Why are you still standing there? Go to apologize to his family first!"

"If something happens to Coco, we will call for the police! This is murder!" Jocelyn said.

Once again, the sound of footsteps came from the corridor of the hospital.

Richard walked with big steps and was followed by John and several bodyguards.

Reward

6

Comments

0