

Chapter 54 The Call of the Lawyer

"Ah?!" Mavis was shocked, "Caroline dared to do such a thing?"

"This girl has been naughty since she was a child. She can do such shameful things as robbing a bridegroom at a wedding. There's nothing that she can't do behind the scenes," Carl said.

Mark sighed. In the end, it was his daughter. Even if he was angry, he could not say anything.

"Grandpa, grandma, I won't say anymore. Please don't get angry and take care of yourselves."

Mavis sat on the bed, took Coco's hand, and gently patted it, "You are my good granddaughter. At this moment, you are still thinking about us."

"Grandma, don't be angry. I don't want to worry about me," Coco wiped her tears.

"How can you be so silly? You should have said it earlier. Why do you blame yourself?" Mavis patted Coco's hand heartily.

"Mark!" Carl suddenly shouted, "What are you waiting for? Caroline is ready to kill Coco! Did you hear that?!"

Mark lifted his head and looked at his father.

"Do you wait for Caroline to kill Coco and kill us before you dispose of her?!" Carl used his cane to poke the ground with a "thud".

"Dad, let me think about this matter," Mark said.

"What else do you need to think about?" Carl said.

"Caroline is my child," Mark replied.

"You still have Coco, right? Caroline is about to ruin our family, and you're still protecting her! If you don't punish her today, your mother and I will die in front of you!"

Carl pounded on the ground and coughed violently because he spoke too hard.

Mark hurriedly went up and patted Carl's back but Carl pushed him away directly.

"Okay, Caroline made Coco miscarry and tried to kill Coco, we can leave it alone. In the end, she is my grandchild but she can't stay in our family anymore!"

Carl paused, "How about asking the lawyer to draw up an agreement and letting her sign it? From now on, she no longer belongs to our family, whether she lives or dies. She has nothing to do with us! If she does anything against Coco again, then don't blame us for being ungracious!"

Coco sat on the bed with her head hanging, sobbing in a low voice.

Mavis sighed, "Your father is not being cruel. You should know how much trouble Caroline made during this time. Our family will be destroyed by her hands sooner or later."

Wendell looked at those people in front of him and said, "Mark, please don't do this! After all, Caroline is your daughter. If she makes trouble, you can teach her. Don't cut off the relationship with her."

"Wendell! Caroline has killed your child, and are you still waiting for her to kill Coco?" Mavis poked Wendell's head.

Mark cried out in chagrin, "That's it! Let her leave our family!"

"Dad...you won't..."

"I'm going to the lawyer's office now!" After saying that, Mark walked out of the ward

In the ward, in addition to Wendell, the rest of the people feel as if a great pleasure.

"Coco, your father made the decision for you. From now on you should take good care of yourself. When you get well, you can have another baby."

Coco nodded, "Grandma, but Caroline..."

"Don't mention her. She is not your sister anymore. If she dares to hurt you again, we will call the police and let them arrest her!"

Coco sobbed, "Grandma, Caroline would be alone and miserable. It's pitiful."

"She's not pathetic at all. Doesn't she have a mother? Tell her to find her mother!" The mention of Caroline's mother made Mavis even more furious.

"That woman can't raise a good child!" Mavis's teeth were gritted.

"No one should mention this matter!" Carl gave the general order.

Preston Building

Perhaps it was because there were so many things, Caroline didn't wake up.

Richard was not in the habit of hating to get out of bed and his arm was pillowed by Caroline overnight with numbness; he gently pulled out his arm and rubbed it.

He couldn't help but gently smile as he watched the woman next to him sleep soundly. He put a kiss on her face before getting up.

John had already instructed the maids to prepare breakfast.

Seeing Richard coming down from upstairs, he respectfully asked, "Mr. Preston, breakfast is ready. Do you want to eat now, or wait for Miss Caroline?"

"I'll eat first. She hasn't gotten up yet," Richard said.

Richard sat down at the dining table; the maids immediately brought up the breakfast, and John turned on the TV in the dining room.

It was Richard's habit to watch the international economic news in the morning.

But today, any big economic news didn't manage to get Richard's attention.

Richard raised his hand and John immediately came over, "What can I do?"

"You now set up a relevant department which is responsible for suppressing the Fowler family and the South family. As for the South family, you do not have to be merciful, but as for the Fowler family..."

Richard paused, "Do not go too far, just a slight punishment."

"Yes," John answered.

Richard was never a soft-hearted person; He would not allow anyone to hurt his woman!

"And!"

John was just about to leave when he heard Richard's voice.

"Go and investigate what happened on Moon Island last night. I want to know what's going on. "

"Yes," John said.

Richard thought about it and there was nothing else, "Go and do it."

John nodded and left.

In the bedroom

Caroline, who was still asleep, was woken up by the sound of her cell phone and before she could open her eyes, she reached out to touch her phone.

Touching the phone, she pressed the call button in a daze, "Hello, who is it?"

"Hello, is this Miss Caroline?"

"Yes," Caroline was still asleep and dazed.

"Miss Caroline, your father came to us today and entrusted us to draw up a paternity severance letter. If you are free, please come over and sign it. We have to send it to the court in time to get it stamped."

"What did you say?!" Caroline's eyes snapped open.

"Your father now wants to sign the paternity severance letter with you, please come."

"My father wants to cut the relationship with me?!"

Caroline sat up straight away.

"Yes. The agreement has been drawn up. Mark has already signed it. When you sign it and go to the court to get it stamped, this agreement will start to take effect."

"That is not possible! How could my dad want to cut ties with me?"
