

Chapter 68 The President Is Too Sultry

"Skinny...skinny dipping?!"

If she wasn't right next to Richard, Caroline couldn't believe this was what Richard said.

How could a man like him like to swim naked?! Caroline was confused.

Richard did not say anything more, but directly took off his top, threw it casually, and started to unbuckle his belt.

"O.M.G! You want to swim naked?!" Caroline asked.

"Yes," Richard unbuckled his belt and took his pants off, leaving only a pair of bottoms.

Caroline immediately turned her head to the side, not expecting Richard to do this.

This man should not be so sultry! Caroline thought in her heart.

Caroline covered her eyes, but she still couldn't help but reveal a slit and open her eyes secretly.

However, at this time, she found that Richard had already walked out of the tent to the sea.

Under the moonlight, Richard's figure looked even better!

His ultimate perfect muscle line looked sexy. His whole body showed no trace of fat! A perfect man!

Richard walked little by little into the seawater, and his body slowly sank until the seawater submerged his waistline.

He stood; the moonlight sprinkled on his body, giving him a light layer of light.

Caroline looked dumbfounded.

For a moment, she felt that the man in front of her was so charming.

Caroline swallowed her saliva and then blinked her eyes, but Richard was out of her sight; in the seawater, he showed his head from time to time.

Should she go? Caroline was still hesitant.

Caroline was not good at swimming. She was not good at anything related to sports.

It was no fun to stay alone in the tent. The turtles weren't coming, and now she couldn't sleep!

Caroline thought for a while, then walked out of the tent, stood on the beach, looked at Richard, and said in a loud voice, "Hey, Richard!"

Richard emerged from the sea and replied in a loud voice too, "Yes?"

"I'm not good at swimming, so you have to protect me. What if I get washed away by the sea? It's dark, and I can't see anything!" Caroline said.

Richard stood up and walked to Caroline.

Caroline gulped; just now she saw Richard's back, but now he was walking towards her face to face!

"Stop!" Caroline shouted, "Do not move."

Richard stopped.

If he went closer, Caroline would be able to see the private part of his body!

"I will come to you!" Caroline carefully stepped into the seawater which was not as cold as she had expected, and she felt quite comfortable actually.

Caroline approached Richard and walked to him.

"You are wearing clothes," Richard said.

"I'm not as avant-garde as you are, like swimming naked!" Caroline said.

Richard reached out and went to take off Caroline's clothes.

Caroline stopped Richard and said in a loud voice, "Hey, you're playing a rascal!"

"I have taken off, but why haven't you?" Richard asked.

"Stop it. I'm going to fall!" In the seawater, Caroline was completely unstable. When they messed up, she slipped; as a wave over, she almost fell, so she directly hugged Richard.

"I will take it off!" Caroline surrendered in the end.

Richard let go of her.

Caroline looked at Richard, "Turn around! Don't look at me!"

"I have already seen every part of your body, don't you know about this?" Richard teased her.

"No! You still can't see me!" Caroline waved her hand at Richard.

Richard then turned around.

Caroline dawdled to take off her clothes, and drilled in the water just as the seawater reached her chest above the position, so Richard could not see anything.

"Can you teach me how to swim?" Caroline asked.

"Yes," Richard took Caroline's hand, pulled her to a deeper place, and began to teach her to swim.

Maybe it was because she was too lazy before, or because the person who taught her wasn't attentive, she couldn't learn how to swim but this time, she learned really fast.

Perhaps because Richard was serious and careful, Caroline did not dare to be lazy in learning.

After a while, Caroline could swim in the ocean under the protection of Richard.

It was the first time that Caroline felt swimming could be so much fun!

The moon's rays sprinkled on the sea, emitting light. A man and a woman were swimming.

Richard stopped in his tracks and stood in the water, his deep eyes looking at the distant moon.

Caroline walked over, looked at Richard, and then looked in the direction Richard looked over.

"What are you looking at?" Caroline asked.

"Someone," Richard replied.

"Someone?" Caroline looked around and did not find a human being at all, so she looked to where Richard was looking, but it was just the moon that she could see.

Caroline suddenly laughed, "Do you mean you can see someone on the moon?"

Richard's face did not have any expression; Caroline found her laugh strange, so she stopped.

"It's my sister," Richard said.

Caroline pursed her lips; She knew Richard's sister was also Leo's mother!

"When I was little, my sister once said to me that people would go to the moon after they die, so in the future, when I think of her, I can look at the moon."

Richard's voice was gentle, losing its previous overbearing and unbeatable sense.

At this moment, he was just a man who missed his sister.

Caroline couldn't expect Richard to believe such a thing!

For the first time, Caroline felt there was still something she didn't know about Richard.

This was the first time that Caroline had heard from Richard about his sister Shelly. Caroline had asked Leo about Shelly before, but Leo rarely talked about his mother.

Caroline turned her head to look at Richard and said, "She has been dead for so many years. She doesn't want you to be unhappy because of her."

Caroline was not good at comforting people.

Richard turned his head to look at Caroline, "Fortunately, you are there with me."

"Richard?" Caroline was confused.

Richard wrapped his arms around Caroline and kissed her on the lips.

Just now, he was remembering his deceased friend, but now he was sexually aroused!

What kind of divine turn of events was this? Caroline thought.

Caroline pushed Richard but couldn't say anything.

She could not push him away at all!

She just let him kiss her. Tonight Richard was so gentle and so was his kiss.

The tight kiss made Caroline a little lustful and she gradually lost herself in the seawater.

Soon, Richard's breathing began to turn heavy, and Caroline felt hot all over her body.

Richard left Caroline's lips and turned to kiss other places of her body.

A gust of sea breeze came out; Caroline shivered and finally came back to her senses.

"Stop! We are in the sea now! What are you doing?!" Caroline shouted at Richard.

"Don't reject me again!" Richard picked Caroline up and walked towards the beach.

What did he mean by saying 'Don't reject him again'?

Caroline let Richard hold her; at that moment, she felt very comfortable. That kind of feeling had already gone since Wendell and Coco slept together!

Richard carried Caroline into the tent, laid her down flat, and pressed over her.

Caroline put her hands against Richard's chest and said, "We are on the beach!"

Reward

6

Comments

0