

Chapter 78 Center of the Storm

Coco held a press conference and cried bitterly to win people's sympathy.

The crying was so pitiful that the media in the audience could not help but weep.

Facing the media, Coco said it was her fault about the South Group's trouble.

The media were very puzzled and asked Coco about the details.

Coco said that she would start from the matter between Wendell and her. Originally, Caroline and Wendell grew up together since their childhood, but Coco fell in love with Wendell.

Because Caroline and Wendell's family intended to make them a couple when they were little, Coco could only bury her love at the bottom of her heart.

However, after a long time, Coco found that her sister did not treat Wendell well, and the two did not have feelings for each other. Caroline was not considerate, not gentle, and always lost her temper to Wendell, unreasonably.

Coco was very distressed by Wendell. Finally, one day she made up her mind to go to Wendell, but Wendell said he and Caroline were not suitable to each other, and he didn't love Caroline. But their family forced them to be together.

So Coco expressed her admiration for Wendell, and they fell in love at first sight. However, they could not be together because of Caroline.

Finally, one day, Wendell couldn't stand Caroline's bad temper and broke up with her.

Caroline, who clearly did not like Wendell, began to create problems and troubles for them.

"Originally, I wanted to just give up because I felt sorry for Caroline, but I can not bear that Wendell had to put up with my sister's bad temper. Just at that time, I am pregnant with Wendell's baby, and then the South family decided to hold a wedding for me and Wendell."

"Caroline threatened us with her life and said that I will be retribution. At that time, I was thinking that may I should abort the child and gave Wendell back to Caroline, but she..."

Coco paused for a while and then started sobbing, her tears rushing down and could not stop.

The media's curiosity was now reaching its highest!

Watching Coco cry, they were very anxious.

Coco continued, "She knew I was pregnant, but she pushed me to the ground, and what's more, she even picked up the plate on the table and tried to smash it on me!"

The media burst out in shock.

"Oh my God, is this what Caroline doing to Coco?! How can she have such a cruel heart?" one among the audience said in surprise.

"I can't believe this!" another one said.

"Caroline should feel guilty when she pushed her sister, and she even wanted to kill Coco?"

Chole was sitting next to Coco and handed her a tissue.

Coco sobbed, "In fact, I know that Caroline resents me and I blame myself. I did not blame my sister for the miscarriage, thinking that she was out of anger and that she didn't mean it."

"My father felt Caroline had gone too far, so my father broke off the father-daughter relationship with her," Coco continued.

That was so unbelievable! When Coco finished, everyone thought Mark did the right thing!

"Caroline blamed this on me so then she got close to Richard!" Coco said.

"Ah?!" The media on the scene burst out in shock.

"Caroline seems to have some skills to play!" one present said.

"Yes, it is surprising that she can get close to Richard!" another said.

The reporters were heatedly talking about it.

"Caroline got close to Richard to get back at me; she asked Richard to revenge her for what the Fowler and South families did to her. Now my family's company is facing bankruptcy, and as for the South Group, everyone knows about it."

Coco wiped her tears and kept her story, "Do you know? The South Group always paid the most attention to sanitation issues. That so-called sanitation video is deliberately created and spread!"

The reporters on the scene even cursed.

"What kind of person is this? Coco has such a bad sister!" one reporter said angrily.

"It's obvious that Caroline is a terrible person! She could not even let her families go!" another one said.

A reporter stood up and spoke, "Coco, I believe after today's press conference, Caroline will see the relevant reports and what you would you like to say to her?"

Coco hesitated for a moment and raised her head; her eyes were already red and swollen from crying.

"Caroline, if you can see this video, I hope you can come home earlier. The past is over and we are still a family. If you are still angry, then you can come at me, but don't blame dad, Wendell, and the South Group. They are all innocent," Coco said with fake tears in her eyes.

Soon Coco met loud applause; everyone was touched by Coco's words. Even though she had a miscarriage and even lost her life, Coco still asked her sister to come home earlier, not wanting to hurt her.

Because Coco was so depressed that the interview ended. Some members of the Fowler family were invited to the conference site, including Carl and Mavis.

"Caroline has been disobedient since she was a child! Bullying, naughty and mischievous, just lack of discipline!"

"Caroline often bullies Coco, taking away the good food and clothes, but Coco never blamed her."

Coco and Caroline's uncle said, "Caroline is a child without discipline, and could not behave well. She asked me for pocket money for several times. If I did not give her, she would threaten me to tell my wife that I touched her!"

Coco and Caroline's aunt said, "Caroline only thinks about money since her childhood. There was one time when she came to my home and left, I found a jade bracelet on my table missing."

Coco and Caroline's cousin said, "Caroline is a terrible person. She took me to a nightclub when she was a teenager and at that time, she was with some men. She even went to get a room but I did not dare to tell Wendell about this."

The relatives all came out to prove that Caroline is a bad child from childhood!

The media's reports circulating fast these days.

In these reports, Richard was also mentioned.

Everyone wanted to do justice for Coco, so they united and all wrote down Richard's name.

No media dared to write negative reports about Richard, but what the reporters thought was that Richard could not make all the media close down even though he was powerful.

All of a sudden, the major media all reported the Fowler family and the South family.

Almost everyone in the city knew about it!

Richard got to know about the news.

Chapter 79 New Beginning

In Richard's place

In the study, Richard sat on a chair, and on the table were the newspapers and magazines of the past two days. The headlines were all about Coco, Caroline and the South Group.

Richard, as Caroline's lover, was also mentioned in those newspapers and magazines.

John bowed; it seemed that Richard was the same as usual.

"Mr. Preston, we have gotten into trouble. All the media seem to be unified in caliber and are completely unafraid. They wrote down your names in their reports, so do you need an urgent PR?"

Richard was silent; his dark black eyes were like a crystal clear ink stone.

"Mr. Preston, if such reports continue, it will inevitably affect our Hints Group," John said.

"What has madam been up to lately?" Richard finally spoke up.

Richard didn't ask questions related to his mother, but instead, he was concerned about Katherine.

"Mrs. Preston left for a vacation the day before yesterday."

"When will she return?" Richard asked.

"Less than half a month or more than a month; she told housekeeper Jack before she left."

Richard nodded, "Then this matter is not a big deal for me."

John was shocked that Richard planned to ignore such a big thing, "Mr. Preston, this matter is..."

This was the first time the media dared to expose negative news about Richard. As the president of one of the world's top groups, how destructive the bad news would be!

"The reason why the media mentioned me is that they are ready to do so. Since this is already the case, if we take action now, that means we indirectly admit that what Coco said is true."

John nodded.

"If we ignore it, the media will speculate. Let them go."

"Yes, Mr. Preston is right," John looked at Richard. Although he was much older, he was less insightful than Richard, a potential youth.

"Where is Caroline?" Richard asked.

"Miss Caroline is living in Leo's apartment," John replied.

When Richard heard this, his eyebrows furrowed. The first person she thought of was Leo!

"Take the device that listens to Caroline's phone to my study," Richard said.

"Yes, Mr. Preston" said John.

Richard wanted to see how she was doing after leaving him.

In Flower Apartment

At this moment, Caroline, who was playing a game, sneezed three times.

She rubbed her nose and muttered, "Who is saying bad things about me?"

Then the low voice of "game over" came from the screen.

Caroline dropped the game handle in her hand with chagrin, "What the hell!"

At this moment, her phone rang.

It was a phone call from Shaw.

Caroline answered the phone and said, "Hello."

"Caroline, did you continue to write your novel recently?" Edward asked.

The voice was so sweet that Caroline doubted if it was Edward who called her. She immediately picked up the phone and looked at it, and confirmed that it was indeed Edward.

"Have you taken the wrong medicine?" Caroline asked.

"No! I'm asking if you continued to write your new novel. Do you know your novel is now a huge hit!" Edward said with excitement.

Caroline hesitated for a moment; When she was on the Dream

Island, she wrote a lot and update regularly, but she forgot to do so these days.

"Really?" Caroline thought it was unbelievable.

"Yes, your new novel was such a hit!" Edward said loudly.

Caroline had little reaction. She was writing the story based on the real story between Richard and her.

"I made a recommendation for you. In two days your novel will be on the recommendation column. So I am here to remind you that you should not forget to update your new novel."

"I knew that!" Caroline said.

"For the sake of money, I'm begging you. My bonus all depend on you!" Edward said.

When it came to money, Caroline froze and realized that she was now penniless!

"I'm sure I'll recommend your novel. Imagine, we will reach our prime!" Shaw boasted.

Caroline hummed, "Shaw, dating is more reliable. "

Edward did not say a thing.

"Alright, I am not going to tease you. I promise you that I will continued to write my novel," After she hung the phone, Caroline was silent for a moment; she was now penniless and if it was not because of Leo, she did not even have a place to live.

She did need to write a good novel to earn money! Caroline thought.

Opening her novel text and checking the words she wrote in which the male protagonist took the female character on vacation.

Suddenly Richard's face emerged in Caroline's head.

How dare he do so many bad things behind her back! Caroline was still angry.

Caroline immediately started to write Richard's dark side.

Sky Community

Coco was wearing a white dress on the balcony and she was on the phone with Chole.

"Coco, this time the PR effect is so good! Many directors are saying that they want to fight against the evil forces and invite you to do a movie!" Chole's attitude also changed.

"Is that so? That's great," said Coco.

"I've chosen a few roles for you, and you can take a look. Then a few endorsements come to your door. There are skin care products and sanitary pads. All of them have been accepted for you. You should send a message of starting work to establish your positive and active image," said Chole.

"No problem," Coco showed a smile at the air.

"You adjust your state in the next two days. The day after tomorrow I will take you to talk with the business partners about the specifics of the advertisement. It will be very busy, so you should have a good rest in the next two days."

"Okay."

Hanging up the phone, Coco faced the sun and her eyes slightly squinted.

She felt good.

The Fowler family's construction company had a new business partner and the problem of funding was sorted out. What's more, the situation of the South Group was getting better and better.

As for Coco herself, she kept her job, and her position in the South Family.

"Caroline, even if you are with Richard, you are still a loser to me," Coco said quietly.

"Coco!" A shout pulled Coco's thoughts back.

As soon as Coco turned around, she saw Wendell coming in with big steps.

"Wendell, you're back. Did you have a hard time? Do you want to take a bath?" Coco asked.

After the failure of the contract with Lee Group, Wendell went on a business trip in order to seek other cooperation with different business partners. He now had just returned when he heard about Coco's speech on the conference press.

"Coco, how can you say something like that?!" Wendell asked.

Wendell's eyebrows frowned and he had an aggressive tone.

Coco shrugged her shoulders, "What do you mean?"

"You know it. It's about Caroline and me! It was me who drank too much and slept with you, so how can you say it was Caroline's bad temper that caused my relationship with her to break up!"

Chapter 80 He Must Have Fallen In Love With Her

Coco lightly hummed, "It is a fact that Caroline is very bad-tempered. You once complained to me that she often lost her temper with you."

Wendell opened his mouth; he did say this when he was whining.

"But how can you make up lies? That we are together has nothing to do with Caroline!"

"So what?" Coco asked rhetorically.

"What you said is completely pushing Caroline to the fire pit. Now the media are condemning her, so how would Caroline feel now?!" Wendell crossed his waist. When he thought of the abuse on the Internet against Caroline, he was distressed.

"I know what kind of person Caroline is! How can you let them ruin Caroline's reputation?" Wendell was still angry with Coco.

Coco hugged up her arms and quietly listened to Wendell without any expression on her face.

Honestly speaking, when her husband shouted at her for his ex-girlfriend, Coco couldn't accept it.

"Have you finished?" Coco's face was expressionless, "If you're done, it's my turn to speak."

Wendell stopped, founding Coco extraordinary calm; his expression was a bit dazed.

"First of all, Caroline's bad temper is true. I did not lie. As for the reason for your breakup, I admit that I am hiding our mistakes, but if I hadn't say something like this, you know the consequences. The South Group and our Fowler family will be finished!"

Wendell's back was stiffened; he was naturally clear at this point.

"The media is now reporting that my sister was cruel and deliberately caused me to miscarry. This matter is true and I did not lie. As for what aunt and uncle said, it has nothing to do with me,"

Coco continued in a low voice, "Wendell, you always think you know Caroline. But perhaps you are wrong. I think what uncle and aunt said was true."

Wendell's frown deepened.

"But you still can't do this to her. You just put Caroline into a fire..."

"She is already to destroy our two families! Should I still care about her?!" Coco said angrily.

Wendell was dumbfounded; he could not say a word.

"If Caroline hadn't do those things, my family's company and the South Group wouldn't have been in this predicament at all! I'm just protecting myself now," Coco hugged herself and flicked her eyebrows, "If you have other choices, you can go to solve the problems. There is no need for me to cry in front of the media. Do you think this is what I wish for?"

Wendell felt like a lead in the throat; he could not speak; in the end, it was because he was useless.

Coco knew that her words were a bit sharp.

"Wendell, no matter what I said, I want to help the South Group. As for my sister, I think there is absolutely no need to worry about her. She is now with Richard," said Coco.

Wendell sighed; Yes, his worry was simply useless. Caroline now had Richard.

Wendell did not say anything, and Coco looked at the time on the phone.

"If you have nothing to say, I'll leave," Coco passed by Wendell and walked out.

"Wendell, I need to remind you that I am your wife and Caroline is just your ex-girlfriend who caused you to lose your baby," Coco said before she left.

Wendell raised his head and looked at her departing back.

He always felt that he no longer knew Coco.

"Is this her true face, or is it because the difficulties make her different?" Wendell was confused.

Why did Wendell feel that Coco was a wise and calm woman, and not the soft, weak one?

Flower Apartment

Caroline was really obedient, and ever since Shaw made that call to her, she had been writing her novel in Leo's apartment.

It was also because she was penniless; Fortunately, she had instant noodles and eggs so she do not have to go out to eat! She had to make money!

In order to avoid the outbreak of her procrastination, she disconnected from the Internet to create; only when uploading chapters, will she use the network to see the comments from the readers.

As for the matter that Coco held a conference and said those words, Caroline did not know.

After the newly written chapter was uploaded, Caroline checked her readers' comments.

Caroline stared at the comments with wide eyes and couldn't believe it!

"The male lead is so sophisticated and such a powerful president, but I love him!"

"I love the male character. Please gives me one man like him!"

"The man is so great. "

Caroline was really helpless; she portrayed Richard as an invincible man; so why do readers like him so much? How can people's values be twisted like this now?

And since the start of writing the male character, comments rose more than twice and the number of readers also doubled!

Caroline was so angry that she stopped the comments board, and looked dumbfounded!

The number of bounty 798 times! The amount of bounty is 270, 000!

"Shit!" Caroline directly said an expletive!

No wonder Shaw must want her to save the manuscript on the recommendation. Her book was so hot now, and the reward was already 270, 000.

However, Caroline soon discovered something fishy. She found that the reason why the bounty was so high was that a reader frequently rewarded a high amount.

That reader rewarded ten times, and each time was more than 10, 000.

"This is landed gentry! She has to give this cute little reader a cordial greeting!"

Caroline attached the words of thanks to this reader in the new chapter.

Just after the new chapter was posted, the page jumped to the readers' comments section.

New comments are flooding in.

"The male character must be in love with the female one!"

There were hundreds of replies below this comment in an instant.

"That's right, that's right...that must be it!"

"The female lead is also in love with the male lead. It vaguely feels like it!"

"If this will go on, the female lead sooner or later will fall in love!"

Caroline's mouth was open, but she was speechless!

"I'm not in love with him! He can't be in love with me either!"

Caroline shouted at the screen as if the reader could hear her.

Caroline turned off the computer and began to pick up her phone.

As a result, the news bumped into her eyes.
