Chapter 151 Looking For

After initial surprise and confusion, Harry left the matter to Oscorp's public relations department. Oscorp spends so much money to feed them every year, it is not for nothing. When it is time to do something, they should show their real ability and not embarrass Oscorp.

Harry, on the other hand, went back to his room to rest with the company of Lin Rui. While Harry still can't believe that the devil mask attacker is his father, he has to worry about his father's condition. Judging from the extent of the damage to the house, there must have been a fierce fight, but he doesn't know how it turned out and where his father is now.

"Harry! Are you okay!? I just heard that there was an attack!" Just as Harry sat on the couch and thought about his heart, Peter rushed over. Peter, who had no press card, was stopped outside the house. Fortunately, the house security guard knew him and finally brought him in.

"I'm all right, Peter. I was at work when the attack happened, but my father is missing now. The police now suspect that my father is the green-faced devil who attacked the Greenwich hotel the other day and killed all those people. I don't know what to do. ' In front of his two best friends, Harry doesn't have to wear a mask anymore.

"Harry, maybe the police have good reason to be suspicious. But I'm sure uncle Norman did it for a reason too. We must find him and help him!" Seeing Harry looking worried, Peter went over him and comforted him.

"Peter is right. The most important thing now is to find uncle Norman. We now have to prepare for the worst if uncle Norman is that Green Goblin. Harry, do you know where your father is likely to go?" Now is not the time to comfort Harry with deceptive words, Lin Rui knows that they need to find Norman as soon as possible.

Originally, with Lin Rui's current strength, Norman's high-tech armor is nothing to him. However, the dark shadow that emerged from Norman at the last minute completely exceeded Lin Rui's expectations and he was caught off-guard. That is not a technological product at all, it is more like an evil magic. So Lin Rui is going to find Norman earlier because things have gone beyond his expectations.

"My family has properties all over New York, but there are probably only a few places where my father can hide. We can go there to find my father." Harry knows that his two friends mean well, but he doesn't want the police to find his father first. Therefore, he decided to look for him himself. If he finds him, he will ask his father what is going on, whether he is Green Goblin and why is he doing this.

"Well, that's what we thought." If Harry can help them find Norman, Lin Rui clearly doesn't want the police involved. The ghostly shadow made Lin Rui very uncomfortable, and he feared that there would be huge casualties if the police found Norman first.

"We will leave after the investigation is over. The police are not supposed to check those places for the time being. Peter, Jackson, I'm sorry to involve you in this." In the end, Harry made a decision, and he also feels sorry for Peter and Lin Rui.

"No, Harry, that's what friends are supposed to do."

“Yeah, I wanted to help uncle Norman, too. Whatever he becomes, we can help him.”

Clip-Clop~

“Harry! I just heard what happened here! Are you all right?” As Harry and others discussed their next move, there was a sudden rush of footsteps outside, and Gwen ran in with a worried look on her face.

“I’m fine, Gwen.”

“Don’t worry, my father will catch that Goblin guy and get uncle Norman back!” Rushing towards him, Gwen said earnestly. It seems that Gwen got the news that Norman had been kidnapped.

“Thank you, Gwen.”

Then Lin Rui and Peter left. Harry should feel better with his girlfriend.

It was not until 8 PM that the police on-site investigation was completed. But the police had left a small unit at the house to guard against Norman’s sudden return as they were treating him as the main suspect.

Moreover, ‘several’ monitors outside the house have also reported what they had seen. The battle that took place here in the afternoon was attended by Spiderman and Mirage Knight, and Green Goblin finally seemed to be running away undefeated. But no one saw him holding Norman Osborn, so the most likely scenario is that Norman Osborn is the Green Goblin. Spiderman and Mirage Knight somehow found out his identity and went to confront him. Finally, the two sides fought and ran away before the police could arrive.

So the police want to ask Spiderman or Mirage Knight for help, but they don’t know how to contact these two Vigilante in New York, they are always elusive, and very strong, ordinary people can not find and deal with them. And the People who are able to reach out to these vigilantes are not the kind of people that the ordinary police officers could reach out, like SHIELD or Tony.

Gwen stayed with Harry until after 9 pm and If Police Captain George hadn’t called Gwen home to avoid suspicion, she might have spent the night at Harry’s. Lin Rui and Peter never left. They had other plans.

“There’s a team of police officers downstairs on guard, and it’s unlikely that we’ll be able to sneak out.” Lin Rui speaks to Harry and Peter behind him as he stands by the window watching the scene downstairs.

Then we will go out from the front door. My father is the suspect, but I’m not. They have no reason to lock me up at home.” Hearing Lin Rui’s words, Harry said faintly.

“That’s true, but they’ll send someone after us after we leave, we can’t go to uncle Norman like that.” Peter was also analyzing how they could find a good way to get rid of the police.

“Harry is right, we will go out from the front. If the cops want to follow us then let them, we’re going clubbing with Harry anyway. Whether they can keep up with us or not is up to them.” Just when Harry and Peter were worried about how to get out, Lin Rui suddenly said.

“Jackson, you mean...”

“We will ditch them at the bar!”

“That’s right, Harry. Do you know the nearest pub that’s the busiest at this time of year and has a back door?” Lin Rui then asks, when both Harry and Peter understand what he is saying.

“Of course, but don’t tell Gwen. I didn’t want to take Gwen there.” With a nod, Harry clearly knows the place, and he also reminded Lin Rui and Peter.

“Ok, so what are we waiting for? Let’s go!”

Next, the three of them walked out the door of the house in an open manner. The police officers below made a routine inquiry, and then left them alone. However, Lin Rui and Peter could sense that someone is following them all the way after they leave, but they don’t mind and headed for the bar.

Soon, the three of them were drinking in a nearby bar. It was like a son worried about his father who came to the bar to relax and drink, and his two good friends accompanied him, at least to the police officers who came to the bar like that.

However, it wasn’t until Harry and others went to the bathroom in turn that the officers who followed them noticed something was wrong. When they broke through the crowded bar to go to the toilet, Lin Rui and others had disappeared. The officers who followed them felt helpless, but there was nothing else they could do. Harry, Lin Rui, and Peter are not criminals. They can only follow behind them secretly without giving notice.

Ditching the following officers, Harry leads Lin Rui and Peter toward the spot where he thinks his father might be. Along the way, the three try to avoid busy areas to reduce the chance of being recognized. After all, Harry is relatively famous. Maybe the police are looking for him now.

“Harry, I want to talk to you. If we find uncle Norman tonight and something happens, I want you to be calm, because if something happened than it may not be his intention.” As he walked, Peter gave Harry some advice. In addition to trying to convince Harry that his father is a criminal, Peter is trying to prepare him for it. Because he could expose his Spiderman identity to Harry.

“I know. I just want to find my father. If he indeed did those things, I would advise him to turn himself in.” He nodded, but Harry still knew what to do. Of course, he obviously did not catch the other meaning of Peter’s words.

Lin Rui looked at Harry and Peter and silently shook his head. The two best friends in the movie may have become estranged because of Norman’s death. Lin Rui wanted to prevent this from happening as much as possible.

Chapter 152 Asking For Help

The three people who had evaded the police officers, had been looking for Norman everywhere in New York City, but they couldn’t find him and it was already midnight. Harry couldn’t help but wonder if his father might not be hiding in the properties owned by his family.

"That church is the only place in the city where my father might go. After my mother died, my father always came here when he remembered her." As they walked down the street, Harry pointed to an old church. The church, in the middle of New York's not-so-remote downtown, would have been demolished if Norman Osborn hadn't bought it a few years ago, along with the land nearby.

"If Norman Osborn is here, it shows that he still has a normal personality in him, which might actually persuade him to give up his destructive work. Still, the black shadow in his body is a serious problem." Hearing Harry's words, Lin Rui thought silently.

However, when the three of them searched the church very carefully, they could not find any traces of Norman. It seems that he did not come here.

"Looks like my father isn't here. Maybe he's hiding someplace else." Harry whispered as he sat down on the old wooden bench in the church, looking at the statue of the virgin in front of him.

Peter and Lin Rui also sat down next to Harry. What Harry needed right now was not a word of comfort, but a friend's most sincere companionship.

In this way, Harry sat in the church until the sky began to light up, and Lin Rui and Peter accompanied him until the sunrise. When the first light of the morning fell on Harry's face from the church window, he finally made a move.

The old wooden stool creaked as Harry got up from it and Harry's legs went limp after sitting there all night. But he had two good friends who had been watching him. As Harry's legs collapsed, one hand after another reached out to catch him.

"Come on, let's go back. Maybe the police have a new lead." Standing still for a while and waiting for his body to adapt to the old familiar feeling, Harry said faintly.

"Well, let's go." With a quiet promise, Lin Rui and Peter accompanied Harry back again.

The police have nothing special to say about Harry and his friends who have been missing all night. They seem to know that Harry didn't find Norman. But despite extensive monitoring, there was no sign of either Green Goblin or Norman. The guy in armor was fleeing so quickly on his hoverboard that there weren't enough surveillance images of him to figure out where he might be hiding.

"Harry, have a good rest today. Leave the search for your father to professionals, and I'm sure we'll hear from your father soon." Accompanying the exhausted Harry back to the house, Lin Rui and Peter help him to the sofa and tried to talk him out.

"I know, but I may not be able to take a good rest right now. The police outside treat my father like some super-evil criminal, and although I knew it could be true, I feel powerless and unable to do anything." Sitting on the sofa, Harry felt helpless.

"Harry, even if uncle Norman did do something wrong, it's not your responsibility. You can count on me to help you find uncle Norman! I'll stop him from going wrong!" Seeing Harry's face, Peter said seriously.

Looking at Peter's assurance to Harry, Lin Rui is already feeling that something bad might happen. But he couldn't say much, and Lin Rui couldn't have predicted what would happen between Peter and Green Goblin.

Then Lin Rui and Peter persuade Harry to rest. They also left Harry's house after some time as they had spent the whole night with nothing to gain, but neither Lin Rui nor Peter felt they were wasting their time. Being with Harry was more important to them than finding Norman.

After leaving Harry's house, Peter and Lin Rui separated again. Peter is eager to find Mirage Knight to discuss countermeasures, and Lin Rui needs someone's help.

No sooner had Lin Rui entered the subway station that his mobile phone, the one he uses for his Mirage Knight identity, rang. When he gets through, Lin Rui tells Peter at the other end of the line that he is looking for help, telling him not to worry for the moment and hangs up. Lin Rui has not been home since he came out yesterday. Although he had contacted his parents, he still needs to go home now. Moreover, Lin Rui plans to use his real identity to seek help from Iron Man.

"Asking for help? Mirage Knight is going to tell Daredevil and Jack about this?" At the other end, Peter, who had hung up the phone, was puzzled.

But Peter also felt that the situation needed more help. Maybe Jack could use the influence of the Frankenstein Family to look for Norman. Sometimes the police can't match these Mafia families. Peter hasn't thought of asking Tony for help. After all, the last time Tony came to his house, he exposed his identity and said that they were a group. But Peter didn't really think Tony was a group of his own.

"Forget it, I'll just continue to look for him!" Not knowing what to expect from Mirage Knight, Peter kept wandering around New York, hoping to find Norman Osborn.

Not long after Lin Rui returned home, he was not ready to call Tony when Tony called.

"Hey, magic boy! You didn't call me the other day when you ran away? Is that what you do to your rescuer?" On the line, Tony's voice comes quickly.

Lin Rui hurried home that day after hearing about the Green Goblin problem, dragging his recovered body. Later, he had been paying attention to Norman Osborn, but he did not contact Tony. Meanwhile, Tony's luxury car is still parked outside Lin Rui's house. Every day these days, children come to play with it. This kind of real luxury car is much more shinier than their toy car.

"Mr. Stark, I am so sorry, I have some things going on these days." Lin Rui apologizes, but he didn't feel sorry at all.

"You don't mean to avoid me, do you? After all, that day you were flying out of the door in a hurry, that is a very wrong thing to do. I was worried that your body was not recovering, but now your tone is completely ok." Tony's voice was teasing, but Lin Rui could hear his concern.

"Thank you, Tony, for your concern. Actually, I just wanted to call you, but you just called first." The corner of the mouth was slightly upturned, Lin Rui continued.

“Well? What did you want to call me for?” Tony knew that this guy wouldn’t call him to see if he was okay, so it must be something else.

“Well, did you watch the news yesterday? With regard to Mr. Norman Osborn, I would like to ask your help to find Mr. Norman. If you could, I would like an Iron Man Armor to be on the lookout, because Mr. Norman can be a dangerous Man right now.” Without beating around the bush, Lin Rui made his request directly.

“Oh, you mean that guy in the green devil mask is really Norman Osborn?” From Lin Rui’s words, Tony can easily judge such a situation.

“So, can you help me in this?” Without affirmation or denial, Lin Rui just asked again.

“Help, why wouldn’t I help, I will let JARVIS keep a close watch on him. Once I find him, I will let Iron Man take him. Rest assured, the armor on Norman is no match for the Iron Man Armor. But...” Tony promised. Down, but when it comes to the back, it seems that there are still any requirements.

“But what?” Lin Rui asked quickly.

“I have a visitor who wants me to show him around in his old age. You know I’m tired of old people, so I’ll help you this time, and then you’ll show the old man around.” Upon hearing Lin Rui’s worried tone, Tony soon made his request.

“No problem, I am very patient with old people and your choice is right!” Lin Rui quickly agreed after hearing Tony’s request. Lin Rui will take care of even the most difficult old man.

“That’s it then, I will help you find Norman Osborn as soon as possible.” The deal between Lin Rui and Tony was stuck and Tony hangs up with a smile.

“Old man? Is there any close elders in the Stark family?” Although he agreed to Tony’s request, Lin Rui was very curious about the old man. “No matter, anyway, it is just such a small request, As long as I can solve Norman’s problem, I will agree to any request that is not excessive.”

After hanging up the phone, Lin Rui mumbled to himself and soon didn’t think anything about the old man. Now what matters most is.... Norman Osborn.

Chapter 153 Harry’s Secret

After contacting Tony, Lin Rui relaxed for a while after he got the promise to help find Norman. With New York’s police and Tony’s search, unless Norman has been hiding in a dark corner of the world, he will certainly be found. Lin Rui, however, would not waste his energy to look for him, although he knows that Peter must be wandering outside now.

“Norman’s mutated and enhanced body is within the range of acceptance, he’s a little less than Dr. Lizard, because his body is not that of a lizard, and he doesn’t have that horrible defense body, and it’s not a very dangerous physics even if it’s heavily armed. But what was that black shadow inside him? It wasn’t in the movie! And why do I feel a wave of evil magic from it?” Sitting at his desk with his chin propped up, Lin Rui ruminated about Norman Osborn.

"If the system was still there, I could've asked it. Now I can only rely on myself, hehe!" Not knowing what happened to Norman, Lin Rui naturally remembered the system that used to give him short and usefull advice, but his sea of ??consciousness was empty now and the system would no longer respond to his call.

"If it's a kind of evil magic, then it will be troublesome. The general attack methods are useless against the magic class. If that black shadow is parasitic on Norman Osborn, then I would have to hurt Norman to eliminate it completely. This is not going to the plan at all " Kneading his brows, Lin Rui can only analyze so much for now, and there is no good way to deal with the shadow. If Norman's mutation was due to the shadow, the genetic antidote would be useless on him.

"Fortunately, the power of thunder in the thunder blade seems to suppress that black shadow. When Norman is found, I will try to see if I can use the power of thunder to force the shadow out of his body." When Lin Rui was surrounded by the black shadow, the thunder power on his thunder blade restrained the black shadow and protected him, so Lin Rui now has only one way to try.

Sitting at the table for a long time, Lin Rui could only sigh at the hundreds of Reward points in his sea of ??consciousness. If Lin Rui still has tens of thousands of Reward points, he could have redeemed some items against evil magic, at least the success probability would be stronger then it is now.

Lin Rui is currently working on two quests, a mainline quest related to Tony which has reached a 97% completion rate, but it will take a while for it to reach 100%. As for the hidden quest related to Mj?lnir, Lin Rui wouldn't dare to touch the hammer that made him fall into such a situation in the first place.

"Hopefully this will end well."

When Lin Rui asks Tony for help and Peter flies around the streets of New York alone looking for Norman, Harry has already rested. Harry got out of bed after less than two hours of sleep, he is thinking too much that he couldn't sleep well.

There was still no news from the police side, which was exactly what Harry had expected. So, without telling anyone, Harry left New York City in a car. Two hours later, Harry came alone to a manor on the outskirts of New York City, a manor of the Osborn family. No one usually came here and Norman Osborn was here during the time of his illness. However, after he recovered, he did not come back here. There should be no one here now.

Harry took a deep breath and stepped inside. The wooden door closed slowly behind Harry, shutting everything out.

Though it was still noon, there was little light inside the castle-like building, and Harry walked alone on the polished wooden floor. It was a long corridor that ended in the room where Norman Osborn was kept when he had been ill.

Da ~

At the end of the hallway, Harry stood in front of his father's room. After standing quietly outside the closed door for a few minutes, Harry finally looked up, a determined look in his eyes. Then he put his hand on the door handle.

Creak~

With a slight effort, the closed wooden door had been pushed open slowly by Harry. without further hesitation, Harry strode into the room the next moment.

~

After Harry entered the room, the door closed again. The room looked darker than the hallway, with the large floor-to-ceiling windows closed, the room was getting a little sunlight. Harry could see the figure sitting on the sofa with his back to him.

Call!

"Harry, my son, are you here?" Seeming to sense someone coming up from behind him, the man sitting on the sofa moved, and then a voice came out. It was Norman Osborn, who went straight out of New York City, but Harry obviously knew he was here.

"Although I don't know what happened? But I know that my father won't do anything that would hurt others. So if you are still my father, then please surrender." Looking at the person sitting on the sofa. Harry said calmly.

Call ~

"Harry, of course I didn't hurt anyone. If you want me to turn myself in, I will. I'm your father, Harry." Norman whispered as he turned.

But Harry took a silent step back and put his right hand behind his waist as Norman offered to surrender.

"No, you are not my father. I felt that something was wrong when my father suddenly recovered from his illness. Although I know that my father's consciousness must still in there somewhere but right now you are not him. You won't really surrender, you will only continue to cause more death." Faced with Norman slowly approaching figure, Harry suddenly said.

Then, while Norman was still trying to get closer to him, Harry immediately raised the pistol behind his waist and aimed it at Norman.

"Oh, haha~ I didn't expect you to be so smart? It seems that you must've been very confused these days, watching your familiar father slowly become a person you don't even know?" Norman wasn't nervous at all when Harry pointed a pistol at him as he laughed.

"No matter what happened, I will save my father again. You are just a false personality." Harry's hand tightened around the gun as he watched his father mutter strange words.

In fact, after discovering something unusual happened to his father, Harry made a series of investigations in secret and he also found that Norman was suddenly recovered because he injected a secret research gene into himself. After an in-depth investigation, Harry discovered some secrets that were hidden. For example, the big lizard that suddenly appeared and suddenly disappeared in New York was the result of the study of Dr. Connors, and some unreported human experiments in the biological genetics department. When Harry linked them together, a rough result appeared before him.

His father had apparently been injected with a gene serum that had tremendous side effects, and one of the great side effects of that gene serum was the development of a cruel personality, which was what is happening with Norman Osborn and this is the result that Harry got after taking full control of Oscorp Industries. Some human tests were performed in dark. Although Norman Osborn has injected with a relatively safe gene serum, he does not know why his sub-personality completely suppresses the main personality and completely turned him into another person.

After discovering this situation, Harry was also secretly looking for a solution. Then he remembered when the big lizard appeared before and Peter woke him up in the middle of the night to borrow Osborn's biological laboratory. Although Harry didn't care about why Peter borrowed the biological laboratory at the time, Peter's record of making the antidote was still in the computer.

So, Harry easily discovered the formula of the antidote that Peter made and made some of his own. Since his father became like this with a modified version of the gene serum that could turn people into big lizards, Harry would use the same antidote to make his father become normal again, although this would make his father's illness return again. That's why Harry is pointing a pistol at Norman Osborn.

"Can you really shoot me? Although you are right and I am another personality, but I am still your father in essence, I don't think you will shoot at me." Looking at Harry, Norman said Casually. With that, Norman moved closer to Harry. He seems sure Harry wouldn't shoot.

Bang!

Suddenly a gunshot sounded in the quiet mansion, alarming the birds that were resting around the manor.

Chapter 154 All Parties Send Out

Bang!

Bang! Bang!

The first shot was followed by another three shots in succession in the room and then there was a pause.

In the dark room, Harry was lying awkwardly in the corner, his gun lying on the floor three meters away from him. Norman stood in front of him, his eyes cold.

Harry's idea and plan was good, but it didn't turn out so well. He didn't really want to kill his father, so he had aimed the gun at Norman's calf, just to make him lose his mobility. But even without any equipment, Norman is physically fit enough to dodge Harry's bullet. So, after dodging four of Harry's bullets, Norman ran up to him and kicked him into a corner.

"Little Harry, you really did surprise me a little. But you made a mistake in coming here." Crouching slowly in front of Harry, Norman's eyes glinted pale green.

Shout!

Although he had just been kicked by Norman, Harry still resisted, and when Norman approached, he suddenly punched him in the head.

Poof ~

With a simple raise of his hand, Norman clenched Harry's fist. Crack!Crack!Crack!

A huge force in Norman's hand crunched Harry's bones, causing him endless pain, but Harry gritted his teeth and didn't scream.

Just as Norman was about to crush Harry's fist, the green glow in his eyes suddenly dimmed for a moment, and the hand holding Harry's fist relaxed at the same time. Harry, who was freed, quickly climbed up from the ground and quickly rushed toward the pistol not far from him.

"Harry! Run! You are no match for him!" Releasing Harry's, Norman suddenly stopped. His whole body was shaking violently, and he was shouting at Harry to run away. Norman's original personality was finally released when his son was hurt, but it was obviously impossible for him to regain control of his body, he could only fight against the brutal personality for some time.

"Ha! It seems that I still have some feelings for my son!" After Norman's words, the voice as bizarre as the one before sounded, the brutal personality had reappeared. "But now that you've made your choice, don't mess up again!"

With a low cry, the cruel personality once again suppressed Norman's surviving good personality and he quickly climbed up from the ground and ran toward Harry.

Bang! Bang!

However, Norman's kind personality lingered just long enough for Harry to pick up his pistol and aim it again. Without hesitation, Harry fired two shots directly on his father's two calves. This time Norman didn't escape. The two bullets hit his two calves directly, and he just fell back and fell to the ground again.

"Father, I know you are still inside! You must fight him!" Harry had just heard his father's voice, so he shouted at Norman with his pistol in his hand which only have two bullets in it.

"Hahaha, your father is gone, don't expect him to come out to save you again!" Both of his calves were shot, but Norman's sturdy body made his wounds recover quickly, and he would be able to recover soon.

"Damn it!" As he watched the two wounds on his father's leg stopped bleeding and slowly healing, Harry let out a curse and ran outside. An injury like this won't keep Norman down for long and Harry has no other way to stop him.

"Ha-ha-ha! Run!!!! Little Harry! I'll catch you!" Norman hissed loudly on the floor as Harry rushed out the door.

Bang ~

Quickly rushing out of the manor, Harry rushed towards his sports car. Without hesitation, Harry had already started the car and rushed out.

Boom!

Not long after Harry drove out of the car, a green shadow burst through the window of Norman's room on the estate. On a flying hoverboard, Norman is fully armed again as he runs after Harry in the direction he fled. Looking at Norman's equipment, it is clear that there is also a weapon chamber hidden by Norman Osborn on this estate.

With his foot on the bottom of the gas pedal, Harry was going as fast as the car could go. Fortunately, this is a suburban area with few buildings in it and Harry can use the speed of his sports car on a straight line to temporarily keep Norman from catching up to him. However, once he reached into the city, Harry and the civilians in the city would not be in a good situation. So, Harry called the phone directly with the car's smart system.

"I'm Harry Osborn, and I found my father! He's flying downtown from green avenue outside Manhattan! That's right! Flying! My father was the attacker!" It's hard to admit, but Harry can't implicate other innocent people for his father's sake.

It was still a long way from the city, and if the police will arrive in time, Norman would not be able to make it into the city when he caught up with him. But if Norman did catch up, Harry would have to change his direction and not take Norman into the city.

A strong wind blew from the racing car on the main road, followed by a green figure in midair a few hundred meters behind.

.....

"Sir, I just learned from the police that Norman Osborn is flying over green avenue toward the center of Manhattan." The moment Harry called the police, JARVIS, who had been monitoring the police channel, reported the situation to Tony.

"Ok, it's time for Iron Man." After agreeing with Lin Rui, Tony quickly walks to the next room and quickly puts on his Armor. This time, Tony is going to take the lead himself. After all, that Man is Norman Osborn. Tony worries that sending out an Iron Man Drone may be out of line.

Boom ~

After a dozen seconds, a red-hot figure emerged from another direction in New York City, heading for Manhattan.

Not long after Tony's departure, Peter, who had been looking for Norman in New York, heard the news from the police. Without any hesitation, Spiderman had swiftly flown over Green Avenue. Behind Peter, more than a dozen police cars raced towards the Green Avenue. However, due to the conditions of the car and the building in New York, the police are much slower than the Spiderman.

"Mirage Knight! The police have found Mr. Osborn! He's on the green avenue!" As he zooms between the tall buildings, Peter contacts Lin Rui.

"I've got it. I'm on my way." Lin Rui on the other end of the phone quickly replied as JARVIS had just told Lin Rui about this situation.

Although Tony had said that he could handle the current situation, Lin Rui was obviously not reassured. He's glad that he didn't return Tony's sports car back to him seeing as he is currently driving it down the road. But it's still a long way from Queens to Manhattan, and Lin Rui is worried that he won't make it there in time, which makes him envy Tony or Peter's ability to fly.

Boom!

Worried about the evil magic energy in Norman's body, Lin Rui's increased the speed of the car again. He now regrets that he did not continue to search for Norman in Manhattan with Peter. The key is that he did not expect Norman to appear so soon.

In fact, Lin Rui judged it correctly. Norman was already injured in the house fight against him and Spiderman. Although his body is capable of quick recovery, it would have obviously taken a while for him to completely recover. Moreover, the black shadow in his body was consumed by Lin Rui in order to help him escape. At this time, he should be quietly hiding someplace and recover. But Harry found Norman, which made Norman's cruel personality unable to suppress the temper in his heart, and he chased after Harry.

In this way, Norman chased Harry towards the center of Manhattan on his flying hoverboard, and Tony drove the Iron Man to approach at a high speed in the other direction. Spiderman is also on his way, followed by a large number of police officers and Lin Rui is also rushing in from Queens. One Green Goblin has caused mayhem throughout New York, and several factions are racing to get there first.

Chapter 155 Arrival On Time

As the black sports car sped down the broad street, Harry was almost on the verge of breaking into Manhattan, but apparently, the New York police had not arrived yet. Frowning, Harry could already see Norman approaching in the rearview mirror. Then, with a certain determination in his heart, Harry jerked the steering wheel to the right, and the black sports car that had been zooming down the road drifted off onto a side path. Norman has already caught up with him and Harry can't keep charging into Manhattan and risk the lives of many civilians. He will distract Norman until help arrives.

Call!

After the flexible turn of the front black sports car, Norman, who had been behind him also turned around. However, Norman, who was flying in mid-air, approached the front of the sports car again as he was faster compared to the sports car with terrain restrictions on the ground.

Kakaka~

It wasn't long before Harry made a sharp turn again and Norman, who had caught up from behind, was close enough to him now. The lower part of the hoverboard opened and a small nest of rockets poked out of it.

Howls whew!

Norman, who has been completely occupied by the brutal personality, has not hesitated to launch rockets towards the sports car that is galloping ahead of him.

“Shit!” The tail flame of the rocket was reflected in the rearview mirror, and Harry could feel the cold sweat running down on his body.

At this moment, Harry’s body is rapidly secreting adrenaline and his body and mind are highly unified. In a flash, he judges what he should do next. With his eyes staring at the rearview mirror, Harry had already predicted the target position of the rockets, then his hands slammed on the steering wheel and he kept his foot on the accelerator.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The galloping black sports car created a few snakes patterns on the wide road, and successfully escaped the three rockets that were shot from the rear. However, although he had escaped, the power of the close-range explosion of the three rockets made Harry’s control of the car loose. When the fourth rocket was shot, Harry could not completely escape.

Boom!

The fourth rocket crashed into the rear end of the car and exploded. The huge power of the explosion directly knocked Harry’s car over. Rumble~ Harry’s sports car rolled down the middle of the road into the side of the road in a blaze of fire with Harry still trapped inside it.

Boom!

Finally, after several rolls, the battered car came to a full stop. The entire rear end of the car was blown out and was still burning from the point of the explosion. Harry was protected from explosions, but he’ll suffocate in it. What’s more, Norman has come after him on the flying hoverboard.

Bang! Bang! Bang!!!!

Harry kicked the door open after it had been turned upside down. Harry probably wouldn’t have been able to kick the door out if the explosion hadn’t blown the whole structure apart.

Call!

Awkwardly, Harry climbed out of the car. His face was covered with blood. But this was no time to worry about getting hurt. Norman had already reached Harry on the flying hoverboard.

“Cough, cough, cough!” Harry managed to crawl out of the grass a few meters away from the burning sports car behind him, then lay flat on the ground coughing.

Harry’s face was cut several times by some broken glass, and he suffered numerous injuries, including broken ribs. His ability to climb out of the car had been at the height of his survival instinct and adrenaline rush, and now he had no strength at all, and the exhaustion and pain that comes from all over his body is slowly swallowing him.

Aww ~

The air from the skateboard raised and lowered the grass on which Harry lay, casting a shadow over him. However, Harry doesn't know what to do with his father, who has become completely psychotic. Perhaps the best thing that could have happened was for him to have died peacefully Harry thought as he lay prone on the ground.

"I caught up with you, little Harry!" Ignoring that Harry on the ground was in a semi-coma, Norman, who had completely lost his humanity, shouted at Harry on the ground through the green devil mask.

"Why don't you talk? Aren't you trying to save me? What happened?" When Harry did not respond, Norman moved closer and shouted, "Looks like he passed out, but if that's the case then it will save you some pain."

When he saw Harry lying on the ground and passing out, Norman was ready to kill him. After all, Harry is Norman's only son and the only concern of his remaining personality. He needs to cut off this concern completely before he can fully control this body. While suppressing the violent reaction of another personality in his body, Norman had slowly extended the metal knife's mechanical arm to Harry on the ground.

Om ~

Just as Norman's alloy knife was about to reach Harry's body, a strong laser beam was suddenly shot from his side, directly knocking Norman's alloy knife off. Then, a bright red figure rushed to the front of Norman, and Iron Man Tony Stark has finally arrived!

He raised his arm to Norman in front of him. Tony's face was covered by a steel mask. "You are going to stay away from this child!"

After getting on Norman's trail, Tony didn't know he was chasing after Harry, because Harry didn't mention the situation when he called the police. Therefore, after seeing that Norman intended to kill his son, Tony was extremely angry. Tony has no idea how much humanity is left in a man who can kill his own son.

"Iron Man? Tony Stark! I didn't expect you to appear here." Retracting the half of the alloy knife that had been shot off, Norman said calmly as he looked across at Tony.

Tony's appearance was indeed beyond Norman's expectation. With his strength and semi-armored armor at this time, he could not defeat Iron Man. But he also had an ace in the hole, an ace in the hole that was completely superior to technology, and it was that ace in the hole that made Norman's murderous personality so powerful and utterly dehumanized him.

"I didn't expect a father to do such a thing to his own son. Are you really Norman Osborn?"acing Norman's confidence, Tony asked.

Tony had met Norman Osborn before, and though they didn't make a very good impression on each other but he didn't think that he would turn out this way. Tony was surprised. It's hard to believe, but J.A.R.V.I.S scans clearly show that this is Norman Osborn, Harry's father.

“The old Norman Osborn is dead, I am the new Norman Osborn, and I will lead this city into the hands of the great god!” Faced with Tony’s query, Norman suddenly shouted out with excitement.

“You’re crazy. It seems like I can only incapacitate you.” Tony frowned at Norman Osborn’s inscrutable cry, and he raised his armored hand and prepared to fire his palm cannon.

Boom!

Aiming at Norman’s right side, Tony fires his palm cannon. However, Norman, who had been preparing for the event, managed to avoid the shot with his flying hoverboard and sped back. Apparently, knowing that he was no match for Iron Man, Norman planned to run away.

But!

How can the speed of the flying hoverboard compare with the Iron Man’s? The flame of the ejector at Tony’s feet suddenly explodes and he catches up with the fleeing Norman. Meanwhile, two rows of rapid-fire shots were already visible over the shoulder of the Iron Man Armor and they were aimed at Norman in front. J.A.R.V.I.S had already assessed Norman’s armor durability and weaknesses, and Tony’s rapid-fire bullets weren’t enough to kill him but enough to seriously injure him.

However, just as Tony fired his bullets, Norman suddenly threw three small metal balls behind him. Boom! Boom! Boom! Explosions happened three times in a row, Tony’s bullets were blown away by the violent explosions, and Norman was able to pull away again under the cover of the explosion behind him.

“I am not letting you run away!” Nimbly dodging the blast, Tony accelerates towards Norman.

Hum!!!

Two laser beams directly blocked Norman’s path, and the next second, Tony landed on the hoverboard and punched Norman on the face with his armored fist. Tony wants to teach this crazy guy a lesson!

Chapter 156 The Strange Black Fog

Bam!

After receiving a punch from Tony, Norman nearly fell off the hoverboard. However, he soon recovered himself and swung the alloy knife at Tony which was still intact.

Shout! Ignoring Norman’s attack, Tony adjusted the power output of the cannons in his hand and fired it at Norman at a close range. He wanted to take apart the suit of armor on Norman.

Sure enough, Norman’s alloy metal knife made only a shallow mark on Tony’s Armored suit whereas Tony’s palm cannon had blasted open the armor on Norman’s right arm, and the solid metal arm had exploded into pieces. Because Tony adjusted the power output of his palm cannons, this shot disarmed Norman without causing him much damage.

“Ah!!~” Seeing that he lost to Tony, Norman’s eyes flashed a glimpse of black shadow as he began to roar loudly and crazily.

Ignoring the hysterical Norman, Tony raised his palm cannon and points it again at his other arm. However, just as Tony was about to fire the cannon again, a black shadow came out of Norman's body and jumped at him.

"What is it?! J.A.R.V.I.S, switch to the inner circulation system!" When Tony saw the black shadow coming, he responded quickly and shouted. He feared that the black shadow was a poison gas attack from Norman's armor, but his Armored suit did not fear it.

~

JARVIS's reaction speed was very fast and the Armor was completely cut off from the outside air before the black shadow came in contact with Iron Man Armor. Whew! Then, Tony was enveloped by the shadow.

Boom!

Tony did not dare to launch an attack at random because his sight was blocked. Although it was not the main city, there were some houses nearby. When Tony was Shadowed, Norman kicked him off his hoverboard.

Aww ~

"J.A.R.V.I.S., why hasn't the view been provided?" Feeling himself falling fast, Tony shouts unexpectedly. Although his vision is blocked, J.A.R.V.I.S does not look at things with the naked eye. Various high-tech detection devices enable Tony to find the target with his eyes closed.

"Sir, infrared scanning and other detection systems can't break through this black fog, we are flying blind." Just after Tony asked that question, J.A.R.V.I.S gave a quick reply. The black shadow that shrouded Tony had used some unknown method to make the detection system on the Iron Man Armor become invalid.

"Change to gravity detection! Adjust the falling position, we have to pull back!" Although this situation was beyond Tony's expectations, he still calmly shouted. Although J.A.R.V.I.S is blind, Tony is still affected by gravity as he keeps falling down, so he can use the gravity to determine what is happening and adjust the jet system to stop himself from falling down.

"Yes, sir."

Huh!

J.A.R.V.I.S was quick to respond and within a second after Tony had shouted, the hand injector of the Armored Suit had been turned on in one direction. Then Tony felt his falling body stabilize in the air. However, although there was no need to worry about falling to his death, Tony was still shrouded in black fog and had no idea what was going on outside.

~

Just as Tony was thinking about what the black mist was, there was a sudden sound of metal corrosion on the surface of his Iron Man Armor.

“Sir, there are unknown substances in the black fog that are corroding the metal on the surface of the Iron Man Armor. After three minutes, the Iron Man Armor will completely lose its protection.” Before Tony can ask, J.A.R.V.I.S has informed him of the situation.

“What the hell kind of attack is this? Fire the incendiary bomb!” Although it is not clear what was attacking him, Tony did something about it.

Poof ~

With Tony’s command, dozens of incendiary bombs were fired quickly from the arms and legs of the Iron Man Armor, instantly igniting the area around Tony. Shout! However, the incendiary bombs only released flames in one instant and then went out completely the next, as if the black fog had a fire-extinguishing effect.

“JARVIS, increase the power, we’re going up!” Since the incendiary bombs did not work and the Iron Man Armor was still being corroded, Tony has to give the order. Maybe he can get rid of the weird black fog with the speed of the suit.

“Yes, sir.”

Boom ~

Then the flame from the ejector at the foot of the suit explodes and pushes Tony high into the air but the black mist surrounding Tony couldn’t be shaken off.

Huh~

To the outsiders, Iron Man, who was about to defeat the terrible attacker, was suddenly enveloped in a black fog and then kicked out by the attacker. Then they saw the black fog wrapped around Iron Man falling quickly towards the ground. It almost hit the ground when it was finally stabilized. Then the black fog surrounding the Iron Man slowly flew into the air again.

After that, a spark flashed through the black mist, but it was soon extinguished. A few moments later, a faint flamethrower glow emerged from the black mist, and Iron Man flew high into the air with it.

“Iron Man, Tony Stark, you can’t get rid of the power of the demon!” When he saw the black mist rising, Norman’s eyes rolled back and he shouted hoarsely.

Call!

Then, without Iron Man standing in the way, Norman once again steered the hoverboard in Harry’s direction. Although his current gear has been nearly disabled by Tony, it would be easy to deal with Harry who is in a coma.

Puff!

Just as Norman hurtled toward Harry on the ground, looking increasingly grim behind the demonic mask. A translucent spider silk thread suddenly shot from behind to the bottom of the hoverboard.

“Norman! It’s not too late to stop now!” Spiderman bellows as he tugged at the hoverboard to stop Norman from flying toward Harry. Peter always thought Norman could be saved, if only by awakening his normal personality.

“Spiderman! I won’t let you stop me twice!! Ah-ha! Roar!” Norman yelled back at Peter as he tugged at the hoverboard as it floated in the air.

Boom!

Then, stepping on the flying hoverboard, Norman suddenly kicked off. He jumped out of the flying hoverboard directly and went straight towards Peter in front of him. While flying in the air, Norman’s body began to change slightly. Muscles all over his body are rapidly growing and thickening and his skin color is becoming slightly green, long shimmering green nails are quickly growing out of his fingers. At this moment, Norman seemed to merge with his armor. The demon mask he had been wearing on his face seemed to merge with Norman’s face and his eyes were completely covered by a black mist.

Call!

Throwing aside the useless hoverboard, Peter shot spider silk at a pair of telephone poles by the side of the road, then took two steps back and bounced himself straight out, aiming for Norman, who was hurrying through the air.

“Die, you insect!” Norman, who was physically distorted, waved his right hand and grabbed Peter, who was rushing toward him. The sharp tips of his fingers look chilling.

However, in the face of Norman’s deadly attack, Peter just quickly shot two strands of spider silk threads and stuck them onto Norman’s hands. Then Peter jerked, and the force of the blow brought Norman down in a swift dive.

Puff!

Pulling Norman down from above, Peter kicked Norman on his chest. With the force of the kick on Norman’s chest, Peter flipped over in the air and fell to the ground. As for Norman, his previous attack was defused, his hands were tied in spider silk, and he fell feebly to the ground. But with his current physical condition, even a fall like this would not harm him.

Boom!

Norman, who had been kicked by Peter, fell to the ground awkwardly. The grass was not strong enough and neither was the ground he fell on as it created a small crater. But, as Peter had judged, Norman, in his mutated form, soon got up from the pit, his bones crackling, his tattered armor torn apart and thrown aside as he had no use for it at all.

The next moment, the lightly dressed Norman disappeared and reappeared behind Peter, his bony fist slamming at him. By Peter’s danger sense alerted him just in time to avoid this head-on dangerous attack and seeing that he couldn’t avoid it completely, he let the attack hit his right shoulder where it wouldn’t do much damage.

Peter evaded Norman’s follow-up attack, his face turned ugly and he turned towards the guy who was not his uncle Norman anymore. Then, Norman disappeared again, and Peter, who was prepared, used the spider-sense to determine Norman's position and the next moment he directly slammed his fist to the side. Just as Peter's fist slammed out, Norman suddenly appeared there, ready to deliver a punch on Peter. Then, the fists of the two men slammed together in an unbiased manner.

Puff! ~~

Chapter 157 Norman's Death

Just as Spiderman and Green Goblin were struggling in front of him, Harry, who had fainted on the grass in the back, gradually woke up. The moment he wakes up, he sees the fight between the father he no longer knows, and the Vigilante Spiderman, who has hidden the identity of his best friend.

"Cough!" As he struggles to get up from the ground, Harry seeks help from the frightened civilians next to him.

Harry no longer expected himself to wake up and see his father again. Perhaps as Norman Osborn has said before, the original Norman is dead and now he is a new person. But Harry still had a deep affection for Norman, he is his father after all, though he looks more like a monster right now. So, since Spiderman has appeared, he will let Spiderman subdue his crazy father, at least Harry no longer has to worry about being chased by his father.

Wū wū ~ wū wū ~

Harry was barely able to take two steps when the sound of sirens came from the distant street and the New York police arrived. However, in the face of a battle between two non-human beings, even if the police came early they would be of little help but they would at least be able to protect nearby civilians and reduce the possibility of accidental injury.

And behind the New York police, a cool red sports car drove through several traffic lights before finally coming through Queens. Along the way, Lin Rui keeps in touch with Spiderman, knowing that he and Norman are fighting. And the black fog that showed up yesterday had appeared once again and this time it was used to deal with Iron Man. Tony had rushed towards the sky with the black fog and has not come down yet.

"Then the magical attack that gives me the feeling of being evil must be limited to the black fog and not controlled by Norman, otherwise Norman could have summoned another black fog against Peter." As he hurries toward the battlefield, Lin Rui analyzes the evil magic that he was beginning to fear.

If things go as Lin Rui suspects, it's not too bad. Since Norman could not control the evil magic, it was likely that something behind the action was controlling Norman in the dark, which may be one of the reasons why his cruel personality could completely suppress his good personality. Moreover, if Norman is controlled by some mysterious evil magic, perhaps there is still hope for him, he just needs to remove the evil magic that controls Norman.

However, Lin Rui only has a few Reward points left and he cannot exchange for anything that can eliminate evil magic. With some solution in mind, Lin Rui has quickly approached the battlefield. The police car in front has set up roadblocks at the intersection, blocking the traffic on this road to prevent more people from entering the battlefield and being affected.

Before the intersection at the front, he made a sharp turn and turned to the side of the road. Now he is close enough to the battlefield, and Mirage Knight should also be on the scene. Rushing out of the car, Lin Rui rushes to the front battlefield. After dashing through the shadows of a building, Lin Rui has disappeared and Mirage Knight has emerged.

"Captain George, what should we do now?" The police officer standing next to Police Captain George whispered as he looked at the battlefield.

In the open space not far from the front, Spiderman is fighting a robust man about two meters tall. Although the robust man is tall and seemed heavy, his speed wasn't affected by his mass and he is so fast that the police officers can barely see his actions with naked eyes, let alone shoot at him. And they couldn't use a powerful firearm, which would have wounded Spiderman, who was dealing with Norman.

"Is that really Norman Osborn?" Without answering the question from the police officers around him, George frowned and asked.

"Well, we don't know for sure. After all, the monster is completely different in size compared to Norman Osborn. However, the devil mask he wore on his face and some of the special armor he retained were consistent with those found in the backroom of Norman Osborn. He is probably Norman Osborn." The officer questioned by the Police Captain George replied, somewhat uncertainly as Norman Osborn looked completely different now.

"How is Harry? Is his life in any danger?" Hearing the response from the police officer around him, Police Captain George asked another question.

After Captain George rushed over and saw a bloody Harry moving to the side, Captain George quickly called the medical team to treat Harry. However, due to his identity and the relationship between Gwen and Harry, Captain George did not personally look at Harry's injury.

"Well, Mr. Harry's injuries are serious, but not life-threatening. His injuries consist of three broken ribs, a couple of large gashes on his head and various muscle and soft tissue injuries in the arms and legs and he had lost a lot of blood." When Captain George asked about Harry, the officer answered truthfully. He obviously doesn't know the relationship between Harry and Gwen, and thinks that George just wanted to ask about Harry's situation.

His brows unconsciously jumped twice, and Police Captain George resisted the twitching of his mouth: "Well, there is no danger to his life. Let the medical team take good care of Mr. Harry Osborn."

"As for now, we don't have to intervene in this battle for the time being." His gaze turned to the battlefield ahead, and Police Captain George planned to let Spiderman, the Vigilante of New York City, deal with this monster. As for the final result not being in their favor, Police Captain George naturally has his own arrangements.

"Spiderman! You can't stop me! Can't stop the arrival of the devil!" After a long battle, Norman could not defeat Peter and he suddenly roared again.

“What Devil?! Do you think I’ll be afraid of you and your psychotic cult?!” In his heart, Peter no longer thinks of this guy as his uncle Norman. He is a crazy monster.

However, just as Peter was throwing back his words, he suddenly saw Norman’s eyes covered with black mist. In a trance, Peter seems to see through Norman’s eyes and saw a huge figure in the black mist. For an instant, Peter felt something burst out of his body, and his concentration was broken. And the spider silk thread he shot to a nearby telegraph pole suddenly changed its direction and missed because of Peter’s sudden broken concentration and Peter fell on the ground.

Bang!

“Ah! What’s going on?!” Peter fell to the ground in a daze, not knowing what was wrong with him.

Although he fell from the air, he was not hurt because of the small height of his fall and his strong physique. But Peter was not in the best of circumstances. Norman’s first glance seems to have caused something to burst out of him, not only to distract his mind but to leave his whole body in indescribable agony.

“Hahaha! Surrender to the feet of the devil!” Seeing Peter on his knees in pain, Norman rushed over, laughing. On his way, he also picked up his discarded half alloy knife from the ground.

“Shoot!

Boom boom boom!

Facing Spiderman’s sudden change into a dangerous situation, on the side, Police Captain George decisively gave out his orders. But Norman who is greatly improved moved quickly and avoided most of the bullets, some only narrowly missing him, but not enough to subject enough damage. Norman still rushed forward towards the fallen Spiderman step by Step, with the half alloy knife in his hand shining with cold light.

Shout!

But just as Norman laughs wildly to finish off Spiderman. Peter, who had been on his knees and trembling, suddenly raised his head. If anyone could see Peter’s eyes through Spiderman’s head, he would find that Peter’s eyes, which had been clear and clear, were now covered with red blood. It is a bit similar to Norman’s eyes except for the color.

The next moment Norman looked down, Peter was already gone. A red shadow running in front of Norman. Then Peter, who appeared in front of Norman reached out and grabbed the alloy knife that Norman was about to cut him with, instead of using his customary spider silk thread.

“You?!...” As if he sensed something was wrong with Peter, the dark mist in Norman’s eyes suddenly rose.

Kakaka~

The two men were competing for control of the alloy knife, but it was clear that Peter’s power was greater, and the alloy knife that had been cut to him slowly moved toward Norman’s neck.

“No!! This is impossible!” The dark fog in Norman’s eyes became more and more unstable, and Norman felt that his life was about to be threatened deadly.

Just after Norman said that, Peter’s strength suddenly increased by several times, and the alloy knife that was about three inches away from Norman’s neck plunged into it. The force applied to the blade is so great that a skin that can withstand a normal bullet was not able to stop it. The cut in the alloy knife went right through Norman’s neck and then through the aorta.

After Peter plunged the alloy knife into Norman’s neck, a thick black mist burst from his body. This black fog is very similar to the previous black fog, but the color is more intense and changes more violently. In the astonished eyes of the police around them, the black mist attached to Norman’s body constantly twisted and changed, and finally formed the shape of a humanoid creature with the irregular two-horned head above him.

Poof ~ ~

“Impossible ~ ~...” Norman’s two hands were covering his neck and he reluctantly shouted a sentence and fell to the ground. And the black fog that was attached to him disappeared when he fell, as if it were one with Norman.

“No!!!!!! Father!!!!!! ... After Norman fell, Harry screamed hysterically from the edge of the field.

After hearing Harry’s voice, Peter, who had been in some internal trouble for a while, suddenly shivered and recovered. This time, however, Peter seems to know what he had done. He did not dare to look back at Harry. He shot the spider’s silk thread toward the house next to him, and he left quickly at the next moment.

.....

Chapter 158 Peter’s Difference

After Spiderman leaves, Harry rushes to Norman Osborn, who has fallen to the ground and is still dying, despite the doctor’s efforts to stop his bleeding. Holding Norman Osborn, who was covered in blood and had recovered to his normal size, Harry repressed his voice and cried out, tears mixed with the blood from Harry’s wound dripping onto Norman’s face.

~

Just then, Norman Osborn, who should have died, suddenly trembled, and Harry jerked his head.

“Father! Father!” Calling out for Norman, Harry wiped the blurred tears from his face.

As Harry shouts, Norman slowly opens his eyes. At this time, his eyes were neither black nor green and they have recovered to a very normal color. Struggling to move his gaze, Norman finally saw his son. Slowly he raised his hand. Norman wanted To touch Harry’s injured face.

“Father! Don’t move! I’ll call the doctor! Doctor! Doctor!” Harry shouted as he took Norman’s raised hand.

“Harry... no, I can’t be saved. I’m sorry... It’s going to be like this.” But just as Harry called for a doctor, Norman slowly made a noise that stopped him.

“Father, no! You won’t die! You made a mistake. Let us both make-up for it! I have an antidote to the gene serum, it can cure the side effects of you!” Holding Norman tightly, Harry shouted loudly.

“Some things can’t be made up for... I deserve to end up like this... cough!” Slowly Norman Osborn shook his head and Norman completely recovered to his normal personality.

“Father, stop talking, we can save you! Quickly! Doctor!” Holding Norman in his arms, Harry did not want him to speak anymore, and he turned to yell at the doctor behind him.

“I’m sorry... Harry” The doctor was coming, but Norman’s eyes closed slowly.” Harry, remember, don’t be fooled by hate and shadows!” Just before Norman closed his eyes completely, he suddenly stared at Harry Again.

~

With that, Norman collapsed into Harry’s arms and lost all hope of life. As for the rushing doctors, they were no longer needed. Even if Peter had not struck Norman, his genetic chain would have collapsed after this fight and he would not have survived.

“Father!!”

Harry, surrounded by a crowd of medics, clutched Norman’s body and shouted in the battle-ravaged grass.

Surrounded by police, Lin Rui is standing in the shadows, looking ahead with complicated eyes. He is still late, although the plot has been severely changed but Norman Osborn died at Peter’s hands, and Lin Rui could do nothing to hide his face from Harry’s

Huh ~ Hey! Huh~

Just as Lin Rui was about to leave the crime scene to look for Peter, a broken sound came from the surrounding area. It wasn’t long before the crowd below saw a battered Iron Man falling quickly from the sky. The ejector at Iron Man’s feet starts to slow down at every drop as if the steel Armor is severely damaged.

Whoosh! Bang!

In the end, JARVIS did his best to calculate and Tony narrowly missed hitting the grass the hard way. He was dizzy, but at least he didn’t fall badly.

Three minutes ago, Tony decided to rush to the sky in order to get rid of the black fog attack. However, the black fog did not seem to be afraid of high altitude and low temperature and low oxygen and continued to corrode his steel Armor when Tony flew above 10,000 meters. Just when Tony thought he was going to die, the black mist suddenly disappeared. At this time, Tony’s Iron Man Armor has been damaged in many places, and he was forced to use this method to save himself.

Sitting on the ground, Tony's helmet automatically bounced off, revealing Tony's face which was still not fully recovered from the shock. However, when Tony saw Harry and Norman being held by him in the distance, Tony's face became even worse. It's not clear how Norman died, but he couldn't help much.

"JARVIS, why haven't the spare Iron Man Armor arrived yet?" Not wanting to stay long, Tony asks JARVIS in a cool voice.

Just after Tony asked, a new Iron Man Armor rushed to the front of Tony from a distance.

Boom! Then, Tony put on his new Iron Man Armor with a calm face and rushed to the sky with the half-destroyed Iron Man Armor in his hand. Nearby police and onlookers could only watch Tony leave, and no one could stop him.

After Tony also left, Lin Rui, hiding in the dark, finally shook his head, he turned and disappeared into the shadows.

Call ~ call ~

Peter, departing from the battlefield on the green avenue, keeps throwing spider silk thread and hurtling towards downtown Manhattan. Spiderman flies through the bustling traffic, causing many passers-by to take photos.

At this time, Peter's mind and his emotions were in a mess. He didn't want to think about anything. He just wanted to keep pushing forward and escape from the place behind him. It's not like Peter didn't kill anyone. When he dealt with some wicked guys, Peter wouldn't be merciful. But that was Norman Osborn! He was Peter's best friend Harry's father!

Moreover, Peter is also confused in his mind. He does not remember how he "missed" and killed Norman. Yes, it is a miss. Peter didn't want to kill Norman at all, he just wanted him to put no more resistance. At the same time, Peter's mental condition at that time was a bit abnormal, which seemed to affect his body and allowed him to do things he did not want to do.

So, now Peter just wants to escape from Harry. The farther he escapes, the better. Peter doesn't know how to face his good friend anymore. Puff! Raising his hand to launch another spider silk thread towards the front of a building, but this time the transmitter at the wrist did not move, his powerful spider silk threads were exhausted!

Peter had fallen into the street between the two buildings as the web he was holding loosened in his left hand. Peter, who is in a free-falling movement, has no plans to save himself. Perhaps, even if he dies, what troubles are there? As he quickly fell down, Peter thought in a random way.

Peter did not know that his mental state at this time had not fully recovered to normal conditions, and he was in a very dangerous situation. If he falls from this height, he will die no questions asked, he will die even with the enhancement he received from the spider bite.

Huh~

Falling from the sky, Spiderman slowly relaxes, as if he really wants to accept death. If anyone could have seen Peter through his Spiderman mask, they would have seen that Peter had closed his eyes and really looked like he was going to die. But just as Peter was Falling fast, a cry came from a distance.

“Peter! Peter!” It was Lin Rui who finally arrived, but even he couldn’t save Peter from such a distance. In a hurry, Lin Rui doesn’t care about Shouting Peter’s name in broad daylight. Compared with revealing Spiderman’s identity, Lin Rui has to save Peter’s life.

Bam!

At the foot of the road, Lin Rui has fully run the internal energy to make all the light work. Instantly, he jumped for more than three meters in the air and then stepped on the wall on the second floor of the store on the street and quickly flew toward Peter. Lin Rui now regrets why he didn’t redeem an Advanced light flying method when he had enough Reward Points. Now although his speed can save Peter completely. Still, Lin Rui’s speed and ability to climb the walls have horrified many passersby.

“Spiderman!” Rushing forward with all his strength, Lin Rui shouted again, this time he directly applied internal energy into the Shouting, hoping to make Peter hear and react.

Hum ~

Lin Rui’s voice, which contained the internal energy caused the glasses in the nearby building to tremble. Soon, Lin Rui’s voice reached Peter’s ear. This time, Peter, who closed his eyes, finally reacted. He was stunned a little, and then he suddenly opened his eyes.

“What happened to me?!” Peter, who opened his eyes, did not seem to understand why he was planning to committed suicide. He was surprised. However, now is not the time to reflect upon himself, he must find ways to save himself from this situation.

The confusion and red light in his eyes disappeared. Peter calmed down quickly. He saw that he was very close to the ground. Peter quickly pointed his hand at his wrist. Then, Spiderman stretched his arms directly at the high speed.

The figure that had been hurtling down suddenly slowed as if it had been pulled down by something, and then flew like a kite into the shadow of the building. Although the people on the ground may not have seen how Spiderman did it, Lin Rui, Who had been keeping an eye on Peter, did. Just as he thought Peter was about to fall to the ground in this way, a pair of transparent wing membranes appeared under his outstretched arms, just enough for Peter to glide out of the sky.

“Call! It’s scared me! When did Tony secretly give the new Spiderman costume to Peter, They both hid it from me!” Murmuring, Lin Rui had chased Spiderman into the shadows behind the building.

Chapter 159 Blood Mask

"What was the matter with you? Why did you fall out of the air and why did it take so long for you to respond?" When Lin Rui and Peter elude the crowd to the top of a building, Lin Rui rushes to Peter's side and asks anxiously.

Lin Rui was late when he arrived on the battlefield. He could only see Peter killing Norman and then fleeing the scene. He didn't know what happened to Peter. Otherwise, maybe Lin Rui could have inferred something from the shadow and the strange situation on Peter.

"Mirage Knight, I'm fine now. I'm just run out of silk threads so I was a little surprised." Peter didn't know what to say as he watched Mirage Knight worry about him. Did he kill Norman by mistake, and then he was so remorseful that he was ready to kill himself? Peter did not think he could do it, and he did not understand what he was thinking just then.

"Don't lie to me, Peter. Now that Tony's made you a new spider suit, I won't believe that you thought of the gliders at the last minute. So, what happened?" Staring at Peter, Lin Rui asks seriously.

Call ~

Confronted by Lin Rui, Peter slowly spoke after a while, "I killed uncle Norman, in front of Harry! I didn't mean to kill him, but I did and I don't know how or why!"

"And just now I suddenly found that the spider silk launcher had no spider silk threads, I was already feeling guilty for Harry and it was like the guilt got enhanced to some inhuman level and I thought I could just die without worry. I know now that it was wrong, but I couldn't wake up then." Facing Lin Rui, Peter finally expresses his feelings.

"You said that you killed Norman by mistake? What happened? I was there just in time, and you didn't look like you missed your attack." At Peter's words, Lin Rui frowned. The last scene that Lin Rui sees is Peter thrusting the Alloy knife into Norman's neck with great force, which cannot be explained by a slip of the hand.

"I know what I did, that's why I ran away from the scene, from Harry. However, my mind was affected by something and I did something that I didn't mean to do, but my body did moved by itself!" Seeing that Mirage Knight didn't believe in himself, Peter explained quickly. But he himself knows that such an explanation cannot be trusted at all, because he indeed killed Norman in a single attack and from the outsider's perspective it looked like he didn't miss or made a mistake.

"You mean your body is out of control?" However, Lin Rui, hearing Peter's explanation, asked again, this time with an extremely serious face.

"It's not uncontrollable, but... How do you say that? I was confused at the time, and the attacked that I intended to incapacitate him ended up being fatal and killed him. It's like I wanted to kill Norman at that time and also didn't want to kill him. He is dead now which was not my plan." The more Peter explained, the more confused he became. He did not know whether he had missed or intended to kill Norman.

However, despite the confusion of Peter's explanation, Lin Rui understands that Norman has evil magic in him. It is possible that Peter was affected by the evil magic and lost his mind, but Lin Rui's previous guess was that the evil being was parasitic on Norman, so why did it let him die?

“Peter, was there anything strange about your fight with Norman?” To test his conjecture, Lin Rui then asks.

“Strange? Yes! When I looked into uncle Norman’s eyes, I felt a sharp pain all over my body.” After Lin Rui’s reminder, Peter finally remembered the unusual incident that happened in the battle.

“A sudden sharp pain in your body? Let me see!” Hearing Peter’s words, Lin Rui suddenly became nervous and rushed to Peter’s side to give him a check-up. Lin Rui is very worried that the evil magic creature is now being parasitic on Peter, So it allowed Norman to be killed because he founded a better host.

Without evading, Peter lets Lin Rui put his hand on his wrist. Then he felt a warm rush of heat from the palm of the Mirage Knight’s hand into his own. “Yi?” Peter made a curious sound, but it did not disturb the attentive Mirage Knight.

Although Lin Rui’s mental strength had increased, he still could not control his conscious and make it leave his body., he could only check Peter’s body with his internal energy. But he thought it was enough. However, after careful examination, Lin Rui did not detect anything odd except for Peter’s strong body.

Releasing Peter’s hand, Lin Rui fell into thought. However, just as Peter was about to ask some questions, Lin Rui suddenly took out a Freya Guardian that he had been wearing, and put it in Peter’s hands. Since internal energy hasn’t made any discoveries, maybe the same magical effects of the Freya Guardian can have some discoveries.

Om ~

Sure enough, as soon as Freya Guardian touched Peter, it sent out a violent wave, which both Lin Rui and Peter felt. After a few seconds, however, the Freya Guardian recovered as if nothing had happened.

Pulling the Freya Guardian back, Lin Rui carefully sensed the magical fluctuations on it. It’s remaining defenses are weakened, but they are still useful. This shows that Peter was indeed attacked by magic before, but at least the evil presence did not parasitize him.

“Fuu! Fortunately!!” Holding the Freya Guardian, Lin Rui signed in relief.

“What’s wrong? Mirage Knight? What was that warm current just now? And what is this little thing?” Peter asks, confused by Lin Rui’s appearance.

“Peter, it’s about time I told you something, but don’t be surprised.” On second thought, Lin Rui decides to tell Peter the result of his conjecture. After all, though the thing that had parasitic on Norman might have died, Peter had to be prepared for the possibility that they might encounter something similar in the future.

“Well, is there still anything that will make me surprised?” “Nodded his head,” said Peter earnestly.

“So, let me start from the dark fog on Norman Osborn. Actually, I...” Then Lin Rui started to explain the strange things about Norman, the speculation about the black fog, magic and other things to Peter.

Just after Spiderman escaped the scene and Iron Man also leaves directly and Lin Rui follows Peter and disappears. Here on the Green avenue, Harry held Norman Osborn's body until a police officer pulled him away. Finally, Harry watched helplessly as his father was bagged into a car and driven away.

Police Captain George cannot decide the disposal of Norman Osborn's corpse. This is what the influential figure above needs to deal with. After all, in addition to the high-tech armor and weapons, Norman's final mutation was their concern.

Suddenly watching the car with his father's body disappeared, Harry motionlessly sat on the ground. His face blurred again as he let the blood from his wounds ran down his face. The medical staff who had been standing next to Harry didn't know what to do with him, because Harry obviously didn't want to receive any treatment. In the end, Police Captain George could only helplessly leave a team of police officers to watch Harry, and everyone else was removed from the scene. The scene of the accident will be closed for a period of time until the end of the investigation. As for Harry, the police won't send him away right now.

I don't know how long it took, but Harry, who had been watching from afar, finally blinked. Because of the long stare, Harry's eyes flooded with tears and blurred his vision. But just as Harry wiped away his tears, he saw on his leg a broken, blood-stained green mask of the devil that belonged to his father. A little dazed, Harry slowly prepared to pick up his father's things.

Om ~

When Harry reached out and touched the mask, a strange wave passed through him. Then Harry stood up slowly, holding the mask, and walked slowly away from the field. And the police officers guarding here naturally did not stop him, so he let him go to the city covered with blood.

.....

Chapter 160 Protects Sanctum

On the top floor of the building a few hundred meters away, Lin Rui and Peter sit side by side on the edge.

"That's about it, but I haven't been exposed to this kind of magic before, so I'm not sure what's weird about it." Having explained to Peter what happened to Norman, Lin Rui finally attributed it to evil magic.

"Is there really magic and magic sorcerer(s) in this world? The kind of guy who wields a wand and casts huge spells?" After listening to Lin Rui's explanation, Peter, who had taken off his mask, stares.

"Oh... they may be a bit different." Lin Rui, who had seen Dr. Strange, didn't know how to tell Peter that the sorcerer(s) here were all melee warriors. However, Lin Rui himself didn't know what kind of sorcerers were in this world or if there is any other type. He can't be sure about anything.

"So it was the evil magic in Norman that attacked me and made me uncontrollably and kill him?" The matter of magic was put aside for the moment, and Peter was still bitter about killing Norman.

"I'm telling you all this to stop you from blaming yourself. It was an accident. You didn't mean it that way." Lin Rui patted Peter on the shoulder to persuade him that it wasn't his fault.

“Even if your magical story is true, I killed Mr. Norman Osborn, the father of my best friend. I don’t think Harry would ever forgive me if he knew.” “Said Peter faintly as he sat dangling his legs at the Edge of the building, watching the ant-sized stream of traffic and smaller people below.

~

“You know Harry is your best friend. He must have known that the situation was beyond your control. Even if you hadn’t accidentally killed him, he would have been shot by the police nearby.” With Norman’s way of doing things, the police who surrounded him must have had orders to shoot him on the spot. So even if Spiderman didn’t kill him, Norman probably wouldn’t have been around much longer.

“That would have been better than killing Harry’s father in front of him! Forget it, Mirage Knight.” It seems that Lin Rui’s solution has little effect. After Peter whispered, he jumped down the edge of the building.

“Peter! Don’t do anything stupid!” Lin Rui shouted from the edge of the building when she saw Peter floating away on his underarm wings after climbing down one floor.

Huh~

However, Peter has slowly drifted away.

“I hope they are all right, this incident is really a huge blow!” Looking at Spiderman’s figure slowly disappearing before his eyes, Lin Rui muttered something.

In fact, it was Lin Rui’s fault that Peter killed Norman in front of Harry. If he had followed Peter to look for Norman, maybe he could have prevented it. However, there is no way to predict this in advance, and the thing inside Norman is so weird that Lin Rui has no idea what he would have done even if he was there.

~

Just as Lin Rui stood on the edge of the building and let the wind blow on his face to clear up some messy thoughts, the phone in his pocket suddenly rang.

“Hello? ... Hello!” Lin Rui quickly responded when he took out his phone and said hello. This is not Mirage Knight’s phone! So he quickly took off his mask to recover his voice.

“Jackson, Norman Osborn is dead. He was killed by Spiderman. Sorry, I wasn’t able to stop this from happening.” Tony, who was feeling uncomfortable, did not notice such a sudden change in Lin Rui’s voice at the other end of the phone and said in a deep voice.

Before the departure, Tony promised that he would solve the problem of Norman, but the result turned out to be this. Norman was killed by Peter, in front of Harry. Since knowing Peter’s real identity, Tony has been taking good care of this young Man. He is someone that he admires the most except for Lin Rui. If Peter had been protecting New York as Spiderman, Tony might have liked him better.

However, this incident must have been a huge shock to Peter, Tony knew the relationship between Harry and Peter. Killing your best friend’s father is not something that anyone would feel good about.

Tony had contacted Peter before calling Lin Rui, but he could not get in touch with him, so he called Lin Rui.

“Mr. Tony, I don’t know what’s going on here, but I know it mustn’t be your fault.” Holding the phone, Lin Rui said earnestly after hearing Tony’s apology. Lin Rui doesn’t really blame Tony if he can get someone like Tony to apologize. Lin Rui does not know that Tony was also in danger of the black fog, otherwise, he would not think that Tony is out of action.

“Well, I’m going to hang up now. Your two friends should need someone to comfort now, maybe you can give them some help.” Tony reminded him before hanging up the phone and he has also suggested who Spiderman is to Lin Rui.

“I know, Mr. Tony.” Hearing, Lin Rui certainly knew what Peter and Harry were doing now.

Then, Tony hangs up on the phone. Putting down the phone, Lin Rui is also feeling conflicted. Regarding the evil magic that disappeared, Lin Rui really didn’t know how to comfort his two friends.

~~~~~

Leaving the building, Lin Rui had already jumped out of the roof and then disappeared between the floors below.

.....

While Lin Rui was freaking out about Peter and Harry, in the middle of a quiet old street in downtown New York, there was an unusual wave of activity a few minutes ago in a seemingly old building. Of course, this wave cannot be detected by Ordinary people, even Lin Rui may not be able to observe this wave up close.

In fact, this seemingly ancient palace building is one of the three guardians Sanctum of the Earth in Greenwich Village, New York. Under the leadership of the powerful Ancient One, a magic sorcerer(s), who has been secretly defending the Earth from the harassment and invasion of other space deities is someone from the time of Merlin.

The sorcerer(s) in New York Sanctum, who has been responsible for the detection of magical fluctuations around the world, suddenly detected the fluctuation when Norman was killed by Peter and the shadow on his body suddenly changed and disappeared. It was only for a brief moment, but the sorcerer sounded the alarm out of caution.

Soon, there was a strong magical wave in New York Sanctum. If someone can walk into this Sanctum at this time, what he sees will definitely overturn his world view. Because, in the lobby of New York Sanctum, several revolving and glowing portals of space are rapidly expanding. Not long after, several great sorcerers (s) from elsewhere crossed the door of space and reached New York Sanctum.

“What happened? Why have you summoned us all over?” The first man who walked out of the portal was a stocky, Asian-faced man. He asked in a deep tone to the Keeper of the New York Sanctum.

“Wang, everyone. Just a few minutes ago, New York Sanctum suddenly detected the power of an evil spirit, located in the city of New York.” Without any nonsense, the sorcerer who had called everyone immediately spoke out what had just happened.

“The power of evil? Really?!” This time it was not Wong who spoke, but a slender female sorcerer at his side, apparently a little surprised.

“Sure enough, the mystic wheel has recorded this wave.” Nodding, he led the sorcerers (s) to a room at the back of the chamber.

Then they all hurried into the room. Soon there were waves of magic fluctuation inside.

“So it seems to be true! Do you want to contact the Ancient One?” After seeing the wheel of mystic, Wang asked with a heavy tone. If it is really a devil that had broken through the guardian magic, then only the Ancient One can deal with this level of demon.

“Although the power of the devil does appear but it is incomparably weak, it should not have been able to pass through the guardian magic. And now it disappears again, maybe we don’t have to disturb the Ancient One, it is better to investigate it first.” After listening to Wong, a handsome middle-aged man next to him said with a smile.

“Yes, it’s true that this time the devil’s power is so small that I wouldn’t have sensed it if it hadn’t been so close to New York Sanctum.” Nodding, the Keeper of New York Sanctum also had the same idea as the one who just spoke.

Glancing around, everyone seems to think that there was no need to disturb Ancient One. Therefore, Wang also nodded.

“So be it, send two sorcerer(s) teams to investigate according to Sanctum’s position. As soon as you discover the demon’s power, let Ancient One know!” Soon, as the highest-ranking sorcerer(s) here, Wang gave the order.

“Yes!”
