Chapter 181 Magician Takes Action

On the battlefield, when Lin Rui was distracted by the mysterious wave, Spiderman, Deadpool, and Colossus, who were not far away from him, had the same reaction as him, and even stood still for a while. Only Iceman in the center of the battlefield and Blink in the back are normal and they aren't affected.

However, if someone looks closely at Blink, they will notice that she is surrounded by a circle of black space cracks that are invisible to the naked eye. She even controls the space cracks to isolate herself from this space. Although everyone can see her, she is actually very far away. As for Iceman who fights with Wind Spirit in midair, although there are no such means as Blink, the invisible wave seems to have no effect after sweeping at him, and no one knows what is so special about Iceman but may be related to his biological frozen body.

Lin Rui and others in the battlefield are in extreme danger because of this sudden and inexplicable attack. In addition to Lin Rui defeating his opponent, Spiderman and Deadpool still have one opponent to defeat. So, at the next moment of their sudden loss of mind, the two injured opponents jumped at them with a grim smile.

As for Colossus, it seems to be better. Although he lost his mind for a moment when the wave swept him, he soon recovered. However, although he was just distracted for a while, it was enough for Tank to launch several attacks on him.

Therefore, Colossus can only turn to defense after receiving three punches from Tank. Moreover, although Colossus recovered from the loss of mind, his combat effectiveness was obviously not as strong as before, and he gradually became weak under the attack of Tank.

Compared with Colossus, Spiderman and Wade are in great danger at this time. Wade doesn't matter. Even if that guy blows Wade's head, he believes he can recover after enough time. But Peter is not the same. He is just strong in body and his recovery ability is strong but he is far from Deadpool's near-immortality.

So, Blink, who was on the edge of the battlefield, was ready to make a move when she saw this scene. That's why she didn't join the battle in the first place. She had to be on guard against that little boy. This is a variant of the ability of the mutant called Magician, to send out a special brain wave to influence his opponent and make his enemies fall in a hallucination.

Looking at the Mutant who had come within two meters of Peter, Blink had raised her hand to materialize a space door to block the mutant. However, just as she was about to make a space door to save Peter, Blink caught a glimpse of something, and her raised hand stopped slowly, and there was no space door in front of Peter.

Brush ~ Brush!

Just as Blink raised her hand, a flash of purple energy suddenly appeared on Peter's side and rushed to his front towards the Mutant who was trying to attack him. Before the rushing mutant could react, the purple light had already rushed towards him. After a small “poof” sound, the mutant, who was just about to take the opportunity to attack Peter, fell to the ground with lifeless eyes.

And the situation at Deadpool’s position is also the same, there is a flash of purple light and the rushing mutant was dropped to the ground, dead and they don’t know what had happened.

But Blink, who was on the edge of the battlefield, saw what was happening at the moment it happened. There was a flash of surprise in her eyes as she looked in the other direction. There, a figure was rushing toward the place where Colossus and Tank were fighting, and it was Lin Rui.

It turns out that after the invisible wave swept past Lin Rui, he was really affected by some influences. The whole person suddenly lost his mind, as if there was something which was trying to pull him into sleep. However, Lin Rui’s consciousness body at this time has been continuously refined by cultivation techniques and the improvement of the residual effect of Advanced Spirit Fruit. That invisible force only affected him for less than two seconds. He recovered a second later than Colossus did.

After he came to his senses, Lin Rui saw that Peter and Deadpool were in danger, so he directly converted the thunder power contained in the Thunder Sword into two sword light and split them directly, killing the two mutants who took the opportunity to sneak attack Peter and Wade and he was able to rescue Peter and Wade, although Wade didn’t necessarily need him to save him.

However, after saving Peter and Deadpool, Lin Rui didn’t think about how to help them get rid of the current situation. Instead, he rushed to the position where Colossus and Tank were fighting. As Iceman reminded before, Lin Rui already knew that the invisible mental attack just now was the mutant ability of the little guy. So, instead of trying to make Peter and them recover normally, it’s better to find the guy to defeat him directly.

Lin Rui comes to Colossus and Tank after a few steps. Although Lin Rui aims to find the spiritual force behind him, he doesn’t mind helping Colossus who has fallen into a bad situation. So when Lin Rui waved his thunder blade a few meters away from them, a flash of light appeared on the side of Tank and split towards him.

Puff!

The blade light that killed the two mutants fell on Tank’s body and then disappeared after a brief arc, leaving only a blackened gash of less than 10cm in his shoulder, he was injured but apparently, it wasn’t fatal.

“Eh? His defense is really high!” Lin Rui can’t help muttering when he sees the effect of his attack.

Although there are some small accidents, Lin Rui also knows that this kind of guy who can press Colossus can’t be compared with those low-level mutants. Moreover, the blade light he just sent out is only sent out by the thunder power contained in the thunder blade itself, which is far from his strongest attack. Now Lin Rui won’t waste his time here. He needs to find the hidden spiritual force user quickly. Otherwise, Peter and others will be affected by the mental attack for a long time and he doesn’t know what will happen.

So, Lin Rui has rushed past them without hesitation after sending out the blade light to hurt Tank's shoulder, and Tank, who was struggling with Colossus, has no way to stop him. Just now, although Lin Rui's blow just opened a gap behind his shoulder, the residual force of thunder at the wound has been preventing his own healing, which has caused him to lost part of his right arm's strength, and the situation was slowly pulled back by Colossus in the following battle.

Without paying attention to the situation behind him, Lin Rui has rushed towards the position where the little guy had disappeared before. However, Lin Rui didn't find the spiritual mutant for the first time after scanning around. However, the invisible fluctuation still exists, and the man is obviously hiding somewhere here.

Although anxious, Lin Rui calms down and thinks of solutions. "Since it's a mental attack, maybe I can find him..." Calming down, Lin Rui quickly mobilizes his mental energy and senses the surrounding area carefully. Soon Lin Rui's eyes seemed to see something. A little under his feet, Lin Rui rushed towards the back of an overturned vehicle.

Soon, Lin Rui rushed to the back of the car. Behind which the short guy who had disappeared before is hiding in the corner with his eyes closed. However, when Lin Rui appeared in front of him, he suddenly frowned and opened his eyes to look at Lin Rui. Then Lin Rui felt the invisible wave hit again, and the intensity was much higher than that of stronger before. Lin Rui was conscious of it and had already slashed out.

Chapter 182 Cooperation

However, Lin Rui's sword light didn't defeat the seemingly defenseless spiritual mutant. Because, from the mid-air, several wind blades were shot at his attacks and hit the blade light, and both attacks exploded together.

The spiritual powered mutant saw that Lin Rui was not affected by his skills. His eyes were slightly flustered. After being rescued by those wind blades, he ran away without hesitation. Although Lin Rui also wants to continue chasing but the constant wind blade shot from midair gave him some trouble and he had to solve this trouble first. After a little delay, the guy named Magician had already run away.

However, although Lin Rui did not kill or hurt the man, he also prevented him from using his ability. The invisible explanation fluctuation has disappeared and Peter and Deadpool in the back have recovered and came to their senses. They both shake their heads in place and are still confused. They don't know how much danger they have been in just now.

Without finding any trace of the man, Lin Rui had to go back with the thunder blade. The wind blade just shot from the air made him uncomfortable. Since Wind Spirit actively attacked him just now, Lin Rui didn't mind joining hands with Iceman to deal with him.

Whirl!

While Lin Rui on the ground stares at the battle in mid-air with his blade in his hand, Iceman seems to be angered by the Wind Spirit's attempt to stop Lin Rui from attacking just now. His hands violently pushed outward, and a strong cold broke out immediately within 30 meters with him as the center, directly surrounding all three tornadoes controlled by Wind Spirit.

Kakaka!

Then, the three tornadoes were quickly frozen in the cold air, and the high-speed rotating wind blades were covered with light blue ice, and the ice on them was increasing. Although Wind Spirit hidden in the tornado is also trying to enhance the power of the tornado but Iceman at this time has completely suppressed him. The ice blue ice is rapidly spreading from the bottom of the tornado to the top. In just a few seconds, the three tornadoes have been completely frozen by the ice.

On the road that is not very wide, there is a huge iceberg like a small hill on a cold ice ground, and there are three still tornadoes in it. Lin Rui, who was ready to make a move at the bottom, is stunned seeing these scenes. He was getting ready to make a move. Did it end? He was obviously frightened by Iceman's power.

"Is this the real power of Advanced Mutants? It's unreasonable!" Looking at the tens of meters high iceberg in front of him, Lin Rui muttered in a helpless voice.

However, when Lin Rui thought that Wind Spirit was defeated by Iceman, one of the three tornadoes frozen in the iceberg suddenly vibrated. Originally, the tornado, which was completely confined by the ice, was moving hard in the cold ice. Although it was slow, it was really slowly recovering. In this way, the frozen Wind Spirit does not have the power to fight back but If you give him some time, he will control the tornado to break the ice and come out.

Lin Rui noticed the movement in the iceberg, and Iceman apparently saw the tornado inside. However, the consumption of his stamina in covering in a large range in the moment just now is obviously not small, and it is impossible to make an effective attack for the time being. So, he can only watch the tornado in the iceberg slowly speed up with its rotation speed, and the ice layer that is broken by it has been slowly expanded. In less than a minute, the tornado would be able to completely break the iceberg and rush out of it.

"Robert! Let me come up!" When Iceman stood outside the iceberg frowning, a voice suddenly came up from below. It's Lin Rui. Seeing Iceman's indifference to the tornado breaking the ice, he knew that he was probably weak now, so he still needed his help.

"Ok!" Looking at Mirage Knight standing on the ice below, Iceman promised without much thought.

Call ~

Then, Iceman waved his hand and quickly condensed a layer of stairs at the foot of the iceberg, leading directly to his position.

Puff! After the stairs appeared in front of the iceberg, Lin Rui had already rushed straight up and after several seconds, he appeared next to Iceman. Although he can rely on his internal energy to match Beginner's light work, he can fly here, but it is to save some of his internal energy. He needs to save his energy to attack later.

"Mirage Knight, do you have a way to deal with him? General physical attacks have little effect on Wind Spirit." Iceman asked as he saw Lin Rui fall easily to his immediate side.

“Although I can’t guarantee it, I am at least 80% sure.” When he heard Iceman, Lin Rui stared at the tornado in the iceberg and replied.

“Eighty percent?! That’s enough. I don’t know what you can do to hurt him, but I will cooperate with you. When he breaks the ice, I will be able to recover a lot.” There was a flash of surprise in his eyes and Iceman continued.

In fact, if Iceman has more control over his ability, he could have frozen the entity of Wind Spirit directly, and then Wind Spirit would have been completely defeated.

Professor Charles has tested and inferred Iceman’s ability before. If he can really release his mutant ability completely, he can freeze everything, including space and time. However, it not only has a huge demand for Iceman’s body, but the horrible ability to change is also very difficult to control. Therefore, Iceman can only release a part of his ability of variety control at this time, otherwise, it will cause unpredictable consequences.

“If you want to make a move, don’t wait for him to break the ice. Can you make the ice disappear in a flash when I need it?” Although Lin Rui knows Iceman wants to recover his physical strength while breaking the ice, Lin Rui doesn’t plan to let Wind Spirit rush out again. At that time, his next move may not be able to achieve its full effect.

“Of course! Humm? You want me to let him out?” Hearing Lin Rui’s words, Robert answers first, then continues to ask.

“No, it’s just that when I’m going to attack, you can remove all the ice in my attack direction, otherwise it will weaken my attack power.” Shaking his head, Lin Rui simply explained.

“I see. You can do it at any time.” Iceman seems to know what Lin Rui is going to do next and he nodded and said seriously.

“So, let’s get started now!” There is a sharp purple light in Lin Rui’s eyes as he jumps up.

After jumping five meters up, Lin Rui has pulled out the Thunder Blade which was inserted back into his waist and held it high above his head. Then, the internal energy inside Lin Rui surged into the Thunder Blade. The originally flat Thunder Blade quickly gave out a dazzling purple light. Moreover, with the continuous influx of Lin Rui’s internal energy, the purple light became brighter and brighter. Finally, the figure of Lin Rui in the mid-air was completely covered.

Buzz! After the purple light expanded to more than three meters, it stopped. Then it shrank and disappeared, revealing Lin Rui floating in the sky again. At this time, he held up the Thunder Blade with dazzling light, which could not be looked at directly. It seemed that its whole body was trembling slightly under the pressure of something.

“Now!” When Lin Rui’s figure appeared from the purple light, he spoke to Iceman.

Call!

In the next moment, Lin Rui's high-altitude Thunder Blade slammed down and the target is the huge iceberg below.

Boom! It's like thunder in the clear sky. A sharp purple blade light rushes out of the Thunder Blade. The purple blade light expanded to five meters long and half meters wide in an instant after it was separated from the Thunder Blade. The next moment, it had already split into the iceberg.

Kakaka!

With the reminder of Lin Rui just now, Iceman wiped out the ice in that direction at the moment when the blade light was about to squat on the iceberg, leaving a crack that was just enough to get the attack in. At the end of the crack, it was the tornado that had broken through the small ice.

Brush! A flash of purple blade light had already split on the tornado, with dazzling light, and then there was a violent explosion.

Boom! Rumble~

Chapter 183 One Strikes to Kill

Such a drastic change in the center of the battlefield certainly attracted the attention of several people who were still fighting at that time. Peter's eyes turned around and the fighting was paused a little. Even Blink on the edge of the battlefield and the short guy who was hidden after being attacked before jumped out and stared at the position of the iceberg. They all wanted to know what the result of mirage Knight's attack would be.

In fact, as early as Iceman's powerful attack froze the three tornadoes, Tank, who fought with Colossus, had started to retreat. However, Peter and Wade, who have recovered normally, will not be idle. They join hands with Colossus and started to fight against Tank. If it had not been for his strong defense, he would have been killed by three people.

Now, Lin Rui and Iceman cooperate to use his most powerful attack move. Perhaps to save himself the trouble, Lin Rui gave this attack a simple name: Thunder Hit. Wind Spirit, who was frozen in the iceberg, has nowhere to hide, and can only take this attack head-on. In Peter's eyes, a purple sword light rushed into the iceberg in a flash. Then in a violent explosion, the whole iceberg began to collapse from the inside, and countless cracks filled the whole iceberg in an instant.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Then the interior of the iceberg exploded like a little purple sun, and the whole iceberg was blown apart into countless pieces of ice, which looked very beautiful in the light of the sun and the purple light of the explosion. But before they had gone very far, the great mass pieces of the brilliant iceberg, which shot around them, dispersed one by one in midair. It turned out that Iceman saw the ice pieces flying out at a high speed and was worried that they would hurt Peter and others nearby, so he Made them disappear in mid-air.

So, when all the ice disappeared, the whole battlefield center suddenly became a little empty. After all, the huge iceberg before was so impressive. At the center of the iceberg, the three tornadoes have disappeared, and only a ball of electric light with purple light is still there to release its afterglow.

“Mirage Knight? Did it work?” After removing the iceberg, Iceman could no longer sense the situation of Wind Spirit and had to ask Lin Rui to the side.

“It seems...should... it’s a success.” Lin Rui is also a little uncertain at this time. After all, this is the first time that he had used this move. All the internal energy in his body and the thunder power stored in the Thunder Blade itself are released. Lin Rui himself wouldn’t be able to block this attack.

“Is it?” Hearing Lin Rui’s uncertain words, Iceman didn’t know what to say.

However, Iceman also saw how powerful the blade light of Lin Rui’s sword was. If the trapped Wind Spirit was able to survive this attack then he would only have a few breaths left as Iceman was sure that Wind Spirit will be heavily injured. Moreover, Iceman has recovered a lot and even if the Wind Spirit is not dead, he will be able to take care of him.

Under the gaze of seven people on the battlefield, the electric fire in midair slowly disappeared. Then, a figure appeared from the center of the fire, and in the next second, it fell straight toward the ground. It’s Wind Spirit, the Level 4 mutant, that can barely be recognized with his completely burnt black body.

At the moment when he saw Wind Spirit fall, the short guy’s eyes suddenly changed and his face became ugly.

“Run!” Then, he no longer looked at Wind Spirit still on the ground and he turned his head and shouted to the Tank in front of him.

While shouting this at Tank, Magician turned around and ran away quickly without hesitation. Moreover, an invisible wave rushed out of him again, aiming at all the people on the battlefield except Tank. This time, he is using his mental ability to save his life.

Boom!

After hearing the short guy’s warning, Tank stepped on his feet and his big body had stepped back as he started to retreat. I don’t know how his huge body can keep so flexible. He has already rushed out more than ten meters in a few steps.

Colossus and Peter naturally won’t simply let Tank leave like this, but when they were getting ready to stop Tank from leaving, an invisible force fluctuations have already been swept towards them and they have become fixed in their place on the ground. Even iceman, who was not affected by this mental force before the mid-air, is in a trance. Blink isolated the attack in the same way, but she was unable to make an effective attack at this time to prevent Tank from escaping.

As for Lin Rui, although he has been able to block such mental attacks skillfully, he has no internal energy at this time, and the thunder power in the thunder knife is exhausted. Even if he catches up with the two guys, he may be beaten flat by Tank, so he chose to stand still with Iceman.

Two seconds later, Iceman was the first to wake up. But he glanced at Tank, who had already jumped tens of meters away, and the short guy who had already ridden the motorcycle, and finally didn’t make a move.

Lin Rui, standing beside iceman, was a little surprised to see that he didn’t move, but soon recovered normally. When Peter and Wade awoke, the two guys had already been out of sight.

“Let’s go, let’s see if that guy is dead or not? But, looking at Magician’s appearance, he should be dead.” Looking back from the distance, Iceman has gone to the mutant who fell to the ground. Lin Rui is naturally following him.

And not far away, Peter and others also came quickly. This is a Level 4 mutant, not the previous kittens and puppies.

“Sure enough, he died.” After a brief look at Wind Spirit lying on the ground and unable to see clearly, Iceman said in a deep voice.

This is not the first time that Iceman and the Wind Spirit have fought and although Iceman got the upper hand every time, he didn’t expect his opponent to be killed like this. Iceman looked at Lin Rui at his side. He was surprised that this seemingly ordinary Vigilante was so strong.

“What should we do now? I am so worried that we will be wanted by the New York police now.” Glancing at the scattered bodies around him, Spiderman said with some helplessness.

Although these people are not spared and only one was killed by Peter himself but the New York police will not take care of so many and more importantly they fought a battle in the daytime at an busy and important transportation hub! But if Lin Rui hadn’t let Daredevil stop the traffic in the back ahead of time, how many civilian casualties would have been caused by the battle.

“The level of New York police is not enough to handle this kind of things, naturally there will be more professional departments who will deal with this. We don’t need to worry about this kind of things.” Hearing Spiderman, Iceman explained to him.

If New York Police are in charge of all this battle of Mutants, then the Police Captain George is probably no lower in rank than Director Fury of SHIELD.

“And now?”

“Of course, it’s time to go home to our mothers!” Iceman did not reply this time and Wade had already given an exaggerated answer.

“We’ll go straight back to school. If Mirage Knight wants to join us, I think Professor Charles will be happy to meet the vigilante who is willing to help the X-Men.” Without answering Wade, Iceman turned to Lin Rui.

Although X-Men are powerful, they are only a small part of many mutants in the world. If they are helped by such powerful heroes as Mirage Knight and Spider-Man, then it will be a very good thing for the X-Men.

“Go to your school?” After hearing Iceman’s invitation, Lin Rui was stunned but not surprised.

However, although Lin Rui would like to meet X-Men, especially the famous Professor Charles, he still has something to consider. The most important one is his own identity. The phantom suit is not able to defend his mental attack ability at present, which can be seen from the magician mental attack just now. Professor Charles is a powerfull mind reader. Lin Rui did not grasp his mental power at this time to prevent Professor Charles from detecting his thoughts. Although Professor Charles doesn’t look at other people’s brains casually, he has to guard against it, especially Lin Rui’s own secrets.

So, with a little thought, Lin Rui refused Iceman's invitation: "Thank you for your invitation, but next time."

"Well, it's Ok. If you want to go one day, you can contact me directly." Lin Rui's answer was expected by Iceman. He nodded and handed Lin Rui his phone number.

"Sure." As a result, for Iceman's number, Lin Rui simply scanned the above letters and agreed.

"Let's go, Blink." Then, Iceman said to Blink around him.

Brush!

Then, with a wave of blink's arm, a space door appeared in front of them, and Iceman and others stepped in. Then the space door disappeared again.

"Let's go, or we may not be able to leave later." Seeing the magic of the lower space door again, Lin Rui waved and walked away. And Peter around him also followed quickly. He was still regretting that Lin Rui had not promised to go to X-Men's school just now. As for Wade, after a little hesitation, he left behind Lin Rui.

Chapter 184 Joins

Shortly after Lin Rui and others left, the road was completely blocked by a large number of police officers. It's not that they are too slow to come to the scene in time but Lin Rui and others only fought for more than ten minutes in total, and they also cause a traffic jam. It's already good that they can get there so fast.

However, as Iceman said before, the police cordoned off at the scene of the accident. Another group of government secret organizations people came to take over the place. After the police left, they quickly blocked the whole road and no one knew what they were doing inside.

Anyway, Lin Rui will not care about this now. There is already a S.H.I.E.L.D. that is bothering him enough. He doesn't want to provoke any special department about Mutants. What he cares more about at this time is the mysterious organization behind Francis, which can have such a powerful level-4 Mutant, and they seem to be fighting against X-Men for a lot of time without losing any ground and X-Men is one of the strongest Mutant organizations that Lin Rui knows.

So, after returning to the Guardian base, Lin Rui and the five people sat together to discuss the powerful organization they might encounter in the future. Yes, it's five people. After seeing the powerful organization behind Francis, Wade also knew that there was no chance for him to find a chance to take revenge alone, so he followed Lin Rui to the guardian base. Jack also came as Lin Rui had called him. Although he did not participate in this incident, he is also an indispensable member of the guardian team.

Lin Rui had no objection to Wade joining them as he had already planned to recruit him to his team long before Wade became Deadpool. Although Wade's personality seems to have changed a bit because of his mutated genes and his awakening process as he seems to have become more funny and more unconventional. However, Wade's current strength is above Jack, and Daredevil, who has already grown in strength and he doesn't know who is better between them, and his special "Not Dying" ability is even more enviable for everyone. Of course, if they can get that ability by making themselves become like Wade, probably no one would want to.

Lin Rui and others who returned to the base, sat on their respective sofas. Wade, who first came to the base, was looking around, touching here and there, looking curious.

“So this is your little base? It looks ok. Whoa! There is also a small Arc Reactor energy supply unit! ” Roughly visiting the Guardian Base, Wade commented lightly. However, he was really shocked when he saw the latter group using a micro Arc Reactor to provide energy.

Micro Arc Reactor, Wade also knows that it is the latest invention of the Stark Industries, but isn't this invention only used with the Stark Industries? He had heard that Iron Man is using this tech to power his Iron Man Armor and he doesn't know how they got it. Did they rob the Stark Industries? Wade's head was already filled with a few possibilities seeing the micro Arc Reactor.

“Oh, you mean the Micro Arc Reactor. It's sponsored by Tony Stark.” Hearing Wade's exclamation, Lin Rui glanced at it and replied lightly. Since Lin Rui and Tony reached a cooperation agreement last time, Tony did sponsor a lot of things, but he didn't seem to offer much help to Tony as Mirage Knight.

“Tony Stark, he's the money man behind you! No wonder!” It seems that Wade misunderstood Lin Rui's words and imagined a lot of things by himself.

“Although a lot of what I have here is sponsored by Mr. Stark, it's a simple partnership, and there's no money to be made.” Not wanting Wade to think that they are working for Tony, Lin Rui explains.

“Is that so? It doesn't matter! It's all the same to me. Say, are there any benefits in joining you?” With a wave of his hands, Wade has settled down to the edge of Lin Rui's sofa, sitting next to Lin Rui in red tights.

On their way back to the Guardian base, Lin Rui has said that he wants Wade to join them. But Wade hasn't made any decision yet, after all, he likes to work alone. However, after seeing the complete appearance of Lin Rui's team, Wade didn't have much resistance. He can see that the people here are all willing to join forces to fight for something they believe in. There is no special leadership or some rules and regulations like X-Men. So Wade thought about it a little bit. After all, he has fought with Mirage Knight and Daredevil before, all of whom are trustworthy teammates.

“Benefits? What do you want? We don't pay any wages here, everything is at our own expense.” Hearing Wade's words, Lin Rui asked helplessly.

“Then you want me to join you nothing? I am a famous Deadpool!” Seeing Lin Rui said nothing, Wade said dissatisfied.

“Famous? It seems that not many people know your name now. Deadpool? Probably only those gangs who have been killed by you know your name. Besides Jack and Daredevil's fan's website has more than 50000 members. Spiderman and I have more than 100000 members. Who do you think is more famous? ” Hearing Wade boasting there, Lin Rui mercilessly hit him back.

Speaking of Lin Rui's fans website, in the beginning, some students who are good at making web pages were simply maintaining it. But as the number of fans has increased, some powerful online people are also helping to improve the quality of the fan websites.

He doesn't know where these online users got their information from. Anyway, there are many videos that Lin Rui didn't expect to find on the website. For example, Lin Rui used to crack down on criminals in the night before and he was occasionally caught on surveillance camera, there are also some high-definition videos of Spiderman saving people in the street, and some clips of Spiderman fighting Green Goblin some time ago. Obviously, they were shot by the crowd at that time and they uploaded it as the police may have confiscated it later.

So, a few months later, Lin Rui and Spiderman's fan's websites are no worse than some big famous actors. And those fans seem to know that there is some kind of explicit relationship between Mirage Knight, Daredevil and Spider-Man. The three websites have also made a joint, forming an interactive forum called Guardian house. The cover of this interactive forum is a picture of Mirage Knight, Spider-Man and Daredevil standing together, which is obviously the work of those great online users.

I don't know if it's a coincidence or something. The name they gave to the forum is the same as Lin Rui's team name. Lin Rui and Peter also often speak on their fan websites and participate in some discussions and have fun. Peter also took out some photos of himself flying around from one building to another.

"What? You have your own fan's website?! And tens of thousands of fans!" Sure enough, hearing Lin Rui say that he and Spiderman have fans websites, and there are many fans, Wade immediately jumped up from the sofa and shouted incredulously.

"It's over a hundred thousand." After Wade jumped up, Peter added a light sentence. After Peter solved the crisis of Green Goblin some time ago, his number of fans has surpassed that of Mirage Knight, getting him in becoming the hottest and most popular vigilante in New York. Of course, Iron Man doesn't belong to vigilante and doesn't have his own fans website. Otherwise, Tony's fans should have surpassed Spiderman by a large margin.

"Here, this is Spiderman's fans website." Knowing Wade doesn't believe him, Lin Rui has opened a website directly on the tablet and he has moved the computer screen to Wade's front.

Lin Rui didn't take his hand off the tablet, and Wade had already robbed it. The eye-catching poster of the Spiderman classic flying pose filling the entire screen looks really awesome.

"There are really so many fans!" After a few clicks on the screen, Wade finally believes that Spiderman has more than 100000 fans. Naturally, he has no fans. As Lin Rui said, the name of Deadpool is probably unknown to many people.

"No, I have to have my own website! I have to have more than a hundred thousand fans! No, millions! Tens of millions!" Wade shouted loudly on the tablet screen. Wade can't see that Spiderman is better than himself in all aspects. If the hero suit is compared, he can't be so behind him in the fans and fame department.

"So, are you willing to join the League of Defender?" There was a shred of cunning in his eyes as Lin Rui continued.

"Join join. You're going to deal with the forces behind Francis, aren't you? Will I receive any problems from you on that front?" When he heard Lin Rui, Wade immediately replied.

“OK! So, you are a member of League of defender now. I hope you can work hard on becoming a superhero in the future.” After Wade agreed, Lin Rui suddenly got up from the sofa and patted Deadpool on the shoulder.

“Ah?! What happened? What superhero?” Wade obviously didn’t understand what Lin Rui meant. He joined League of Defenders just for the sake of power. Being a Superhero doesn’t suit him!

“Wade, a vigilante who only knows how to fight bad guys won’t attract many fans. You can be a Superhero. Everyone from League of Defender, let us welcome our new member!” Lin Rui smiled towards Wade and has already shouted towards others.

“Welcome newbie.”

“Welcome.”

After Lin Rui said that Wade joined the League of Defender, Jack and Daredevil simply expressed their welcome towards him.

Deadpool: “Why do I have a feeling that I just got fooled?”

Chapter 185, Harry’s Movement and the Upgrade of the Phantom Suit

New York, Oscorp Secret Biological Laboratory.

“What’s the result?” Harry, standing outside a room with transparent glass all around, asked a scientist in a white coat. In the glass room in front of him, two people who lost their left arm and right calf were lying on the testbed without any movement.

“It still failed. This gene is too unstable. There has been no successful clinical trial so far. Although we have removed most of the side effects, its primary effect has also been reduced by a lot, and there is basically no treatment effect.” When he heard Harry, the scientist in charge of the experiment said with a defeated expression.”

Harry frowned a little when he heard the answer from the scientist next to him. After Norman’s Green Goblin incident, Harry grew up a lot in a flash. He also knows that his family has always had a hereditary genetic disease. If there is no new gene serum treatment, he will suffer from diseases and die when he reaches a certain age just like Norman did.

So after Norman’s death, Harry took over the experimental team that he had previously kept secret and continued to study the serum for genetic diseases of his family. However, after removing the side effects of Norman’s gene serum, the rest of its effect is not enough to cure Harry’s disease.

“Continue the experiment but postpone the human clinical trials and don’t start human trials until the effect is confirmed.” Thinking about it, Harry said faintly.

Although he doesn’t know when he will get sick, Harry is not his father. He will not use innocent people to experiment with the immature gene serum without hesitation even though the current gene serum has removed most of the side effects. Moreover, Harry also knows that Peter and Dr. Connors have been studying genetics in this area, although their research is a little different. But as long as their research is successful, Harry will be saved.

“Yes, Chairman.” Hearing Harry’s words, the scientist seemed to give a sigh of relief and quickly agreed.

Harry nodded and didn’t say anything more. Then, after seeing the two experimental people in the glass room who had been injected with the gene serum but didn’t recover, Harry turned and left the secret laboratory.

After Harry left, the scientists in the secret lab were once again busy with the experiment, they were frustrated as they couldn’t find anything even though Oscorp paid them so much.

After Harry left the lab, he did not stay in the Oscorp building and drove away. An hour later, Harry was away from downtown New York and came to the estate belonging to the Osborn family.

Call ~

Pushing the door of Norman Osborn’s room, Harry came in here for the first time after his father’s death. After taking a brief glance at something in the room, Harry finally lifted his foot and walked inside. Soon, Harry walked to the innermost wall, inside which was Norman’s secret arsenal.

When he reached out and pressed something on the bookshelf, the wall in front of Harry quickly cracked from the middle, and then it automatically separated, showing a gate. Looking at the front door, Harry’s eyes flashed and he finally walked in.

.....

Of course, Lin Rui doesn’t know what Harry is doing right now. He is currently excited and rolling around on his bed. The reason for his excitement is the sound of the system that suddenly came from his mind a minute ago. His quest to get the true friendship of Iron Man Tony Stark finally reached 100% completion and the mainline quest that took several months was finally completed. Moreover, the Quest Rewards also allowed Lin Rui to get rid of his Reward Points poorness.

“20,000 Reward points, Two D-Level training cards, Gauss Sniper Rifle’s design blueprint, and a Low-Level Elven Holy Spring Water, they are really a very rich Reward!” While rolling in bed, Lin Rui has repeatedly reviewed the reward points in his mind. This mission is worthy of being a mainline quest, the rewards given are quite rich.

“There is no shortage of Reward Points at this time. Although it is necessary to sacrifice a lot of Reward Points to resurrect the system, at least he can exchange some practical things for himself. The Phantom Suit can also be upgraded, and after the last fight, it would be better for him if he is able to resist mental and magical attacks.” Looking at the golden Reward points in his mind, Lin Rui was thinking in his heart how to spend these hard-earned Reward points.

“The Gauss Sniper Rifle blueprint can be taken out directly. With the equipment sponsored by Tony, he should be able to be built it directly inside the Guardian Base and he can finally obtain his hidden Gauss Sniper Rifle. The Low-Level Holy Spring Water is a good thing that can save a person’s life.” With a brief thought on the use of the Reward point, Lin Rui looked at several other reward items and thought of something.

“Ok! Let’s take a look at how many Reward points are needed to upgrade the Phantom Suit. The rest of the Reward Points will be sacrificed. After all, the system disappeared to save me.” Then, Lin Rui is ready to upgrade the Phantom Suit. This is the upgradeable hero suit that he had bought from the system shop on the system suggesting, otherwise. He would have likely need a new one now.

“Well, let’s look at the upgrade defense options first. Yes, there are different types of defense options. There are Melee defense, Hot weapon defense, Poison defense, Five-Element defense, ... Mental defense, Magic defense, that’s it! ” In the system shop, he called up the defense options that phantom suit can be upgraded to. Lin Rui looked at them one by one, and finally found what he wanted.

“For mental defense, it needs 500 Reward Points to defend against E-Level mental type attacks. For D-Level mental attacks, it needs 2000 reward points to upgrade and to defend against A-Level mental attacks, he needs one hundred to one million Reward Ponto.” Looking at the following upgrading conditions of mental defense, Lin Rui was calm at first, but when he saw the number million reward points, he almost scolded the system directly.

The Reward Point needed for the upgrade of mental defense increases rapidly from the E-Level at the beginning to the A-Level, which requires an unreasonable number of one million reward points. However, there is almost nothing that can’t be solved with the A-Level mental defense. A million reward points are actually worth it. Of course, Lin Rui still doesn’t understand what A-Level mental power is.

“Forget it, let’s take a look at the magical defense.” Even if he spent all 20,000 Reward points, he would only be able to exchange for a C Grade mental defense. Lin Rui has to think about magic first, which is also a thing that he has no means to deal with at this time.

“E-Level magic defense requires 300 reward points for the upgrade, A-Level magic defense requires 800000 reward points for the upgrade! ” Advanced magic defense upgrade consumes a little fewer reward points than mental defense upgrade, but it’s still not something that Lin Rui can exchange.

“Forget it, it’s useless to upgrade to the Advanced Defense now.” Finally, due to the limited Reward point, Lin Rui had to give up upgrading to Advanced Mental Defense or Advanced Magic Defense.

Next, Lin Rui took a few minutes to think carefully about the type of upgrade. In the end, Lin Rui chose a comprehensive upgrade. He upgraded Phantom Suit’s mental defense and magic defense to D-Level and also upgraded melee and thermal weapons defenses to C Grade, which cost a total of 12000 Reward Points which really hurt his heart. However, in order to cope with and against the various characters he may encounter, it is necessary to spend these Reward points.

However, if the system is still there, it will tell Lin Rui not to rush to upgrade the mental defense of Phantom Suit. Because at this time his own mental strength has reached the C-Level, and the general mental attack will be weakened to a certain extent against him, just like the previous Level 4 mental class Mutant, Magician, he could only trap Lin Rui for only two seconds.

So, after spending some Reward points to redeem some necessary things, Lin Rui was finally left with two thousand Reward points, and then he sacrificed the remaining two thousand Reward points. However, after thousands of reward points are sacrificed, the position of the resurrection system in the system shop just flickers for a while, and there is no movement. It seems that these reward points are not enough.

“Humm! It seems that I have to work hard to earn the reward points. Speaking of which, S.H.I.E.L.D. should be in a mess right now.” The difficulty of reviving the system is still beyond Lin Rui’s expectation, and he can’t help thinking about it.

Then, Lin Rui looked at the next few things while watching the upgrade of Phantom Suit.

Chapter 186 Nick Is Moving

Washington, The headquarter of S.H.I.E.L.D. is located in this area where S.H.I.E.L.D. occupied a large number of places. In Washington, where the size of the land is large, only organizations such as S.H.I.E.L.D. can have such a large capacity.

At this time, in a conference room on the high floor of the headquarters of SHIELD, Director Nick Fury is wearing virtual reality glasses and he is holding an online meeting with members of the World Security Council, and their meeting is about the hidden Hydra inside SHIELD.

After the last reminder from Mirage Knight, Director Nick not only investigated the inside of S.H.I.E.L.D. by normal means but also called a part of his own secret agents to conduct a targeted investigation. Under such a clear and double investigation, he really did find some traces of Hydra.

Therefore, in order to completely expose Hydra, Nick decided to take the risk. He reported part of the results of his investigation to the World Security Council, the organization that oversees S.H.I.E.L.D. He also knows that these people have their own target characters, but Nick’s purpose is clear here, he needs these people to expose themselves.

“The results of the investigation are already very obvious. We have Hydra’s lurkers inside SHIELD. I think that since the end of World War II, they have already lurked in when SHIELD was formed. Just give me enough time, I will thoroughly check them and force them to come out.” Sitting in the empty meeting room, Nick said calmly.

Through the glasses of Director Nick, it was seen that the conference room in front of him was filled with members of the World Security Council, because Hydra involved too much and they had to pay attention to it. Among them, One of the names that Lin Rui gave him is also sitting here.

“Director Fury, we are fully supportive of this matter. It is necessary to remove the front of the Hydra lurkers. The presence of these mice cannot be allowed inside of SHIELD.” After seeing Nick’s findings, a member of the World Security Council said with a serious face.

“Yes, this is a matter of urgency! You must first resolve Hydra. Some experiments or projects that SHIELD is currently doing must stop.” Another older member apparently knew the danger of Hydra and quickly suggested.

“No, some of the projects that we are working on can’t be stopped at all. Moreover, such a big move will definitely cause Hydra’s suspicion. Therefore, I still recommend this thing to be solved in secret, it is best not to cause too much turmoil.” A member responsible for the scientific department within SHIELD shook his head after hearing the advice of an old man. He felt that this suggestion was not feasible.

Subsequently, other members of the board also made their own recommendations. Nick looked at them calmly, but his one eye glanced over at the middle-aged man sitting on his right side three seats away: Alexander Pierce, the top Hydra Agent inside SHIELD on the list that Mirage Knight provider to Nick Fury.

As far as Lin Rui knows, this Alexander Pierce is not in a low position in the Hydra organization. At least he has Winter Soldier Bucky Barnes in his hand. As a member of the World Security Council, he has been in charge of supervising SHIELD and a series of other things. Nick couldn't imagine it was true until he got the evidence, but now he's going to figure out the way to get him out. Such an important figure within SHIELD was a Hydra agent all along, he couldn't digest the fact that a Hydra agent was in front of him and giving him orders all along without him knowing.

In front of Nick's eyes, all the members of the Board discussed with each other. Finally, they still depend on Nick Fury, the current director of SHIELD. So they all turned to Director Fury to see what he was planning.

Seeing everyone's eyes turned to him, Nick no longer kept silent. When he put his hand on the table, he said what he had prepared. "The investigation is not over yet. As for Hydra, it is lurking within SHIELD. It's not very clear at which level their agents are at. So, my plan is not to do anything for the time being, or it will alarm other people who have not yet been exposed. So, my plan is like this..."

Then, Nick spent a few minutes talking about his next "plan" to the members of these council. It is nothing more than continuing the secret investigation until the Hydra inside S.H.I.E.L.D. is completely dug out, and then the internal cleaning will be carried out.

No one objected to Nick's plan. After discussing some details, the meeting ended in a serious atmosphere.

Call ~

Taking off the glasses, Nick looked at the empty meeting room thoughtfully. His plan has been laid down, and now it's up to those people to fall for it. Even if they don't act, Nick will come up with more evidence in the next investigation. So the Hydra inside SHIELD can't be hidden.

After a quiet moment in the conference room, he thought about the various parts of the plan. Finally, Nick picked up the phone and dialed a number.

"Mr. Stark? About the thing that I asked your help for?"

"That's good, thank you."

After saying a few words, Nick seemed to hang up after confirming something and no one knew what an agreement had been reached between him and Tony.

New York, Tony's seaside villa, Tony, who was just talking to Nick, is doing experiments in an underground lab. Not far in front of him is a familiar figure, Lin Rui, who was pulled by Tony. However, Lin Rui doesn't mind being asked by Tony to do something because he has finished Tony's mainline quest. As for the phone call Tony just received, Lin Rui vaguely heard something. It seems that Nick is finally about to make a move, which makes Lin Rui pay a little attention to it.

"Mr. Stark, the data has been adjusted." After a few clicks on the computer screen in front of him, Lin Rui turns to Tony in the back.

"I see." With a sigh of relief, Tony waved directly at Lin Rui and motioned him to come towards him.

After Lin Rui ran to Tony a few steps, Tony began to demonstrate in front of Lin Rui that he had recently studied an important experiment: optimization of anti-gravity engine. It's a technology that can shake the whole world, and only a genius like Tony Stark can develop it.

Soon, under the huge computational complexity of J.A.R.V.I.S, the results of this simulation experiment have come out. Although it is not perfect, at least there is a general idea. Lin Rui believes that with a little more time, this cross century technology can be born.

"OK, it's a step further from the success of the experiment. Let's stop here today. Jackson, come and help me if you are free in the next month." Sending the experimental results and data to his personal servers, Tony said to Lin Rui.

"Er... Although I'd like to help Mr. Stark, I'm about to start school. Maybe I wouldn't have so much time in the future." Hearing Tony's words, Lin Rui said with some embarrassment. Actually, it's not just the beginning of school. As Mirage Knight, Lin Rui also has some responsibilities that are no less than Iron Man.

"Ohh? Then come over when you are free, and you can slowly keep up with the rhythm."

"I know and I will."

"Well, let's go and eat, we wouldn't want Pepper to wait for us again."

Chapter 187 Attacked

In Washington, after dealing with a large number of investigations about Hydra at S.H.I.E.L.D., Director Nick Fury drove home as usual. However, the red light that Nick encountered on the road today seems to be a little more. He should have arrived home by now, but he is still stuck on the road.

Nick sitting in the car looked at the red light above the intersection and then glanced at a display next to the steering wheel, showing traffic in three blocks centered around Nick. After Nick looked at it for a while, the traffic near this neighborhood suddenly became very sparse and it looks like the other cars took the initiative to avoid it. It seems that Hydra couldn't help it because of Nick's recent moves.

"It seems that they are going to attack me!" Nick sees the situation on the display and his eye flashes. "But, if I wait for you to deal with me, then I wouldn't be the Director of an organization like SHIELD."

Boom!

Nick's one eye closed deeply and then popped open. The next moment, Nick's foot on the accelerator came down with a jerk, and the car, which was waiting for a red light to drop, shot out. After discovering that something was wrong, Nick decided not to go along with the crowd.

Booming~

However, just after Director pressed the accelerator to the bottom and sped out within 20 meters, a dozen police cars rushed out of the intersection he had just rushed out from and some other cars came towards his car from both sides, roaring and chasing Nick ahead. At this time, Nick's car just rushed out of that intersection and he doesn't know why but there's no interception in front of Nick.

Da da da!

After the police cars came out, they rushed to the front and stuck out a few machine guns, aiming at Nick's car in front of them and the open fired without hesitation.

Da da da! Dangdang!

In an instant, hundreds of bullets hit Nick's car. However, how can the car of the S.H.I.E.L.D.'s Director be unable to stop these bullets? Numerous bullets were directly bounced off after a spark on the body, and there was no big effect. Even the four tires on the bottom of the car are specially made. After being hit, the bullet holes will be repaired automatically, which will not affect Nick's driving speed.

"Hum! In order to deal with me, so many potential personnel have been mobilized. They really think quite highly of me!" Glancing down the rearview mirror, Nick said to himself indifferently when he saw a dozen police cars in the back approaching quickly with their machine guns.

The monitor in the car didn't follow the warning of the police car at all. It was obviously blocked. Well, Nick can't break through the original route at this time. His eyes receded from the rearview mirror, and Nick's hand, holding the steering wheel, gave it a sharp right turn.

Squeak~~

The specially modified car tires created a white smog on the ground. Nick drove his car to a 90-degree drift and directly rushed into a narrow road on the right. The police cars behind him also followed Nick's sharp turn, but because they had a lot of cars, they didn't look so fierce after turning.

"Emma! Can we break the communication barrier?" Nick shouted as he stormed down the narrow road. Just now, he has asked Emma, the intelligent system in the car, to contact the agents he fully trusts inside SHIELD, but it shows that the communication has been blocked. Nick has been asking Emma to find a way to break through the blockade.

"Sir, the shielding signal is very powerful and can't be broken." Soon, Emma's mechanical voice without feelings answered Nick's question.

What makes Nick a little helpless is that he can't break through the communication shield with Emma's ability. However, this is normal. Since Hydra decided to kill Nick, they obviously have everything ready, and it is impossible for Nick to have a chance to escape.

"Then don't worry about communication, re-plan the route, let's get rid of these guys behind us!" No longer expecting Emma to break through the signal barrier and asking for help, Nick continued.

"Yes, sir, the route is re-planning... turn left two hundred meters ahead." Soon, Emma's powerful computing power re-planned an escape route for Nick and opened voice navigation.

"Got it!" At Emma's words, Nick tightened his grip on the steering wheel. He glanced in the rearview mirror again at the pursuing police cars and muttered something.

Huh!

In this way, on the empty street, a black car was being followed by more than a dozen police cars. However, this scene has not been seen by many people. In order to deal with Nick, Hydra has cleared the traffic in several neighborhoods nearby, and this area doesn't even have any pedestrian.

Da da da!

The bullets from the rear have never stopped, but Nick will not worry about the bullets that can't even penetrate the first layer of defense at this time. He won't let other things hinder him from escaping from the pursuit. Soon, 200 meters away, there was a crossroads ahead.

Chi Chi!!

Turning the steering wheel sharply to the left again. The black car turns 90 degrees flexibly and rushes onto the main road. Emma's redesigned route for Nick will enable him to rush out of the three blocks blocked by Hydra as soon as possible. As long as Nick rushes straight out along this avenue, he can escape from the siege of Hydra. However, this time Hydra's fight against Nick's fury will not be so simple.

"That's!..." After rushing to the road, Nick had no time to relax and cried out in surprise. He seemed to see something that surprised him.

It turned out that there was a man standing in the middle of the road more than 100 meters ahead on Nick's escape path. The man was dressed in black, fully armed, and wearing a mask to block half of his face. His left arm which was shining silver in the lights was a mechanical arm. At this time, the man was standing in the direction of Nick, with a strange weapon on his arm, aiming at Nick's car.

Boom!

Just when Nick noticed the man, the weapon in his hand had already burst into flames. Then a disk was launched, spinning at high speed during the flight.

Scree! Puff!

Because the distance was too close, Nick had no time to escape, and could only watch the disc fly to the bottom of his car. Under the display of the Emma scan, Nick saw that the black disc was suddenly attached to the body plate of the car.

"Not good! Emma, ??start the third form!" Nick's face changed and he shouted at the moment when he saw the disk adsorbed on the bottom of the car.

Just as Nick just shouted the sentence, the black disc that was attached to the chassis of the car suddenly exploded. Although the huge power of the explosion didn't break through the body of Nick's car, the whole car was jacked up. The tail of the car flew high into the air, and the whole car was about to turn over directly. In this way, even if Nick's car is strong enough, he can only fall to the ground and become a turtle shell. Hydra will have some ways to break through it.

However, when Nick's car turned over in the middle of the air, two bright blue light flames suddenly erupted from the inside of the front tire under the car. After those two lights appeared, the same light appeared on the inside of the rear wheel. Nick's car has a jet propulsion system that Tony uses on his Iron Man Armors!

Whirl!

With the help of four successive ejectors, the car that had already turned over half a head adjusted again in midair and stabilized again.

“Emma, ??it’s time for the counter-attack!” A cold light flashed through Nick’s eye, who was suspended in the air, and then he shouted in a low voice.

“Yes, Director.”

Kakaka!

Buzz!!

Chapter 188 Escape

Da da da!

It’s like a scene from a science fiction movie on the empty road. The bottom of a black car sprays blue flame and is suspended in the air. Several powerful machine guns in the rear continuously spray bullets at it while a dozen of other police cars that are approaching the ground area got covered by those bullets in an instant.

Just after Nick asked Emma to start the third form of the car, not only the ejectors came out from the inside of the four wheels, but also several powerful machine guns came out from the trunk, directly shooting at a dozen police cars in the back.

Puff puff!

Under the sudden attack of a row of machine guns in the middle of the sky, a dozen police cars that had been chasing Nick all the way to the road were instantly smashed into a pit and many bullets directly penetrated the car body and killed the people inside. After all, their car is not as strong as Nick’s car.

Boom! Bang bang! ~

Soon, a dozen police cars in pursuit of him exploded under Nick’s attack, overturned and stopped and they would not pose much threat to him anymore.

“Danger! Sir! ” But just as Nick was a little relieved, Emma’s alarm came.

! Boom!

Just as Nick turned his head and looked ahead, he saw only one single missile coming towards his car at a high speed. Emma only had time to control the injector at the bottom to move a little, and then the missile hit the front right wheel of Nick’s car.

Rumble~

In a flash of fire, Nick’s car was swallowed by fire. However, if someone can see the situation in the fire, he will see that the car hit by the missile did not explode as expected, but the position of the right front wheel was blown up by a large piece, and there were many cracks on the car body, but there was no more damage, which shows that Nike’s driving car defense is beyond strong.

“D-d-d!! Alert! Alert! Thruster failure!” However, although the missile attack did not completely break the defense of Nick’s car, it also damaged the propeller at the right front wheel position. At this time, the blue flame that had been continuously spraying began to become unstable and gradually became intermittent.

“Adjust the compensation power, let’s go down!” Being hit by the shock of the explosion and after getting over it, Nick grabbed the steering wheel and fixed himself on the seat and shouted at Emma.

Whirl!

Soon, Emma calculated the compensation power to adjust the other three positions of the injector to make the body as stable as possible, while landing quickly.

When Nick’s black car rushed out of the explosion range and quickly landed on the ground, there was a little fluctuation in the eyes of the soldier who had only been indifferent, but it was soon covered by apathy again. At this time, he was not alone in the middle of the road. There was a full armed team beside him. They were Hydra’s assassin’s against Nick. In the center, the masked warrior should be the so-called Winter Soldier. Looking at his left metal arm, it’s probably Captain Rogers’s best friend: Bucky Barnes.

Kaka!

Before Nick’s car landed on the ground, the men had raised their weapons. Look at the patterns of these weapons. They should all be new and powerful weapons. Otherwise, they would not be used to deal with such an amazing defensive car.

Boom!

Before Nick fell to the ground, the team in front of him had attacked again. A small armor-piercing bullet hit Nick’s windshield in an instant. Although it didn’t break through the special glass, it was inlaid on it. Then, the armor-piercing warhead attached to the windshield flashed twice and suddenly exploded.

Buzz~

Although the power of the explosion is not very great, it sends out a kind of shock attack. After the explosion of the armor-piercing bullet, Nick’s front windshield had a big circle of tiny cracks in the center of the bullet’s position, and the car’s defense finally had a flaw.

“Damn It! Emma! Don’t worry about stability! Land fast!” Through the cracked windshield, Nick saw the weapons in the hands of the team in front of him. Nick shouted at Emma with an ugly face, and then the whole man went down to hide.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Just as Nick lowered his head, three of the same armor-piercing projectiles were fired and attached to the already broken windshield again. Puff! Puff! Then, the cracked windshield couldn’t hold on any longer. Under the explosive power of three rounds of armor-piercing bullets, it broke into a small particle and scattered in the car.

Boom!

When Nick's windshield finally broke, the propeller at the bottom of the car also went out at the same time. The car fell directly to the ground from about half a meter high. I don't know when the tires collected reappear. The car body just bounced on the ground a few times and then stabilized.

However, Nick is now in a very dangerous situation. The team in front of him has already made a big stride. If Nick doesn't have any other backers, he can't deal with this special team alone.

"No way! It's good that Emma has chosen the landing position for a long time." Nick, leaning over, noticed the situation on the screen of Emma and said to himself with an ugly face. Then Nick reached out and pressed under the driver's seat.

Kaka~

With Nick's movement, the entire driver's seat moved quickly backward, revealing the underbody below. Hoo! Later, Nick takes out a small laser gun from somewhere and fired it at the bottom of the car.

Zi zi zi ~ ~

Shortly after Director Nick's car landed, the team led by the masked warrior had rushed over.! Without any hesitation, the Hydra advanced fighter tore the door of Nick's car directly with his left arm. However, there was no Nick in the car at this time.

In the empty car, a big hole just enough for one person to enter appears at the bottom of the car, and the edge of the big hole is still smoking. This big hole not only cuts the bottom of the car but also directly cuts a big hole on the ground, which leads to the underground passage. It's obvious that Nick just cut it with his laser gun.

Call ~

Simply looking at the hole, the soldier who had dismantled the door pulled out a grenade from behind his waist and then threw it straight in. Boom! Rumble~

After the sound of the explosion came out, and after the dust below had dispersed a little, the advanced soldier had jumped into the hole. As for the team with him, after glancing at the loss of the "police" team behind them, they collected the equipment and quickly left the battlefield,

Shortly after these people left, the troops of S.H.I.E.L.D. had rushed over and completely blocked the block. Of course, it is not known how many of these people are Hydra's latent teams.

After Director Nick was attacked and disappeared, S.H.I.E.L.D. had no Director for a while, and Alexander Pierce, a member of the World Security Council, took over everything in S.H.I.E.L.D. The first thing he did after he took power was to speed up Project Insight and other more insidious experiments, and secondly to find the missing Nick Fury. If they don't find the missing S.H.I.E.L.D. Director, Alexander will not really feel relieved.

Chapter 189 Triggering a Quest

Just as Nick Fury was attacked and was presumed missing, Lin Rui, who was at home in New York, about three hours away from Washington, had a systematic voice in his head as he meditated on an E Grade training card.

“Triggered the main quest ahead of time, Quest Content: Eliminate Hydra organization on the earth. There is no time limit for this quest. The completion degree of the quest: 0/100.”

At the same time when Lin Rui heard the system voice in his mind, he woke up from his meditation. His conscious body looked up at the golden words above his sea of consciousness, “Finally, as I thought, eliminating Hydra is indeed a Mainline Quest. But what does this early trigger mean? These two extra words should mean something.”

Looking at the row of golden characters in his sea of consciousness disappearing slowly, Lin Rui thought quietly, he had expected the possible quests that might be released later in the system. After all, it’s a matter of his own initiative.

However, in the next moment when the line of golden characters disappeared over the sea of consciousness, another line appeared in his sea of consciousness, but it was silver.

“Triggering a hidden quest, save Nick Fury. Quest Content: Nick Fury, Director of SHIELD, because of the discovery of Hydra lurking inside SHIELD, he was secretly attacked by Hydra, at this time Nick Fury is in danger and there is a danger to his life. Quest Goal, protect Nick Fury from getting killed by Hydra. Quest time limit: One week.” Soon, the system’s voice in the row of silver characters appeared in Lin Rui’s mind. This time, Lin Rui, who was originally calm, can no longer remain calm.

“Hidden Quest? Save Nick Fury! Even if Hydra’s plot was triggered in advance, Nick should not be in such a dangerous situation as I had already reminded him!” Looking at the silver characters on the top of his head, Lin Rui frowns tightly and whispers.

The main quest to eliminate Hydra before was completely expected by Lin Rui, but the hidden quest to save Nick Fury was completely beyond his expectations. After all, even in the original plot, Nick just faked his death and he only received some serious injuries.

According to Lin Rui’s idea, It should be quite easy for Fury to deal with Hydra than in the original plot under his own reminder. Maybe he doesn’t need to do more to find out all the Hydra lurkers in SHIELD. However, since the system has released such a quest, it shows that Nick fury’s life is indeed in danger. As for what happened, Lin Rui doesn’t know. Now he either takes the hidden quest or doesn’t take care of it to see if Nick can survive. But Lin Rui doesn’t want to take that kind of risk. Although his friendship with Nick fury was not deep, he didn’t want to see Nick die. Moreover, the Hidden Quest rewards will not be too low. Lin Rui will not give up such an opportunity to earn the reward points now.

“I should take this hidden quest! After all, generally speaking, the reward point gained from any Hidden Quest will not be small.” Just thinking about it, Lin Rui is going to take over this sudden hidden quest.

“Confirm accepting the hidden quest!”

Call ~

Just after Lin Rui said that, the row of silver characters floating over his sea of consciousness slowly disappeared. Lin Rui also has an extra quest in his mind to save Nick Fury. At the same time, there is a countdown, a week’s countdown.

“Seven days of Hidden Quest time, so Nick Fury is at risk for seven days. Does that mean that Hydra lurking inside SHIELD will be completely eliminated after seven days?” Glancing at the countdown in his mind, Lin Rui thought silently. Of course, Just because Hydra in SHIELD has been wiped out doesn’t mean that it’s gone.

“In that case, I should be in Washington for at least a week! Maybe I can stop by to see Thor, who is at Jane Foster’s house. I wonder how he is now living on the earth?” Now that the Hidden Quest to save Nick Fury has been accepted, Lin Rui doesn’t want to waste his time. He has started to plan to go to Washington.

Call ~

Thinking about going to Washington to find Nick Fury, Lin Rui has finished his meditation and jumped off the bed. Fortunately, it would a while before school starts, otherwise, Lin Rui will have to find a way to take a week off. However, Lin Rui feels that he may have to ask for leave frequently in the future. After all, when he meets these emergencies, it would not always be at night. Maybe, he can take Tony’s advice and go directly to Stark Industries to help Tony. Anyway, the high school curriculum now doesn’t matter to Lin Rui.

“Well, I’ll think about it later. Now I’d better talk to my father. Fortunately, my uncle’s house is in Washington. And I also need to talk to Tony. He had already reserved all the time before I started school.” Thinking about everything, Lin Rui has gone down the stairs.

Just as Lin Rui triggered the mainline quest in advance and accepted a hidden quest, Nick Fury, who was attacked by Hydra, was now hiding in the alley behind a residential building.

After being attacked not long ago and then escaping from the sewer, Nick thought he was already safe. However, just after a few steps in the sewer, there was a sudden explosion behind Nick. The shock wave of the explosion directly shocked him and he hit the wall which almost broke his ribs.

However, this is not the worst. Nick even vaguely saw a person chasing him down from the end after the explosion. Therefore, Nick had to flee with his injured body quickly, Winter Soldier chasing him down is coming after him to kill him. In this way, Nick used up the high-tech equipment he studied with several SHIELD researchers before he got rid of the chase and climbed out of the sewer to hide in this place that is not easy to find. However, at this time Nick’s state is already very bad.

“Cough and cough!” Sitting in the corner, Nick coughed a few times. His pants on his left calf have been stained dark with blood. Obviously, his escape along the way was not safe.

Then he took a small box out of his pocket. With a slight click, the box opened and there is an injection with a light green potion in it. However, looking at the structure in the box. There should have been three of them. It seems that Director Nick has injected them twice before.

Without much hesitation, Nick had taken out the injection, and then inserted it directly into his thigh, injecting the unknown green serum.

“Er... “Ah!” After a while, although Nick tried to suppress it, he could not help shouting. At the same time, blue tendons were exposed all over his body, and his dark skin had been dyed with a layer of dark red. The whole man was tense, and his hands were grasping the guardrail.

This state lasted for more than 30 seconds. Finally, Nick sat on the ground, his face recovered to the pure black at the beginning. After sitting on the ground for more than ten minutes, Nick opened his eyes again. After a vigilant scanning around his area, he suddenly jumped up from the ground and left the alley quickly. It seems that all the injuries have been recovered. I don't know what the serum is but the effect is so powerful.

Chapter 190 Mirage Knight and Captain America

In a middle-class community in downtown Washington, the occupancy rate of tenants here is not very high, and most of them are office workers, while Captain Rogers's home is in this community at this time. Although Captain Roger hasn't exposed his "Resurrection" in front of the American people, he doesn't want to stay at SHIELD headquarters with agents who idolize him every day. So, under the secret arrangement of SHIELD, Captain Rogers moved here as he liked this relatively quiet neighborhood.

Today, Captain Rogers, who just came back from SHIELD doesn't look very good. He ran into some trouble when he went out to execute a mission a few days ago, but it was solved successfully. However, Black Widow Natasha who came with him on the mission seemed to be hiding something from him, which makes him feel that something is wrong. Moreover, after Rogers returned from the mission, he found that Director Fury was attacked by some unknown assailants and his whereabouts were unknown.

Thinking about his mission and Nick's disappearance, Rogers has slowly walked to the door of his apartment. Ka ~ Just when Rogers took out the key to his apartment and was planning to open the door, his neighbor came out of her apartment and said hello with a smile when she saw Captain Rogers.

Roger also responded with a smile, then he opened the door and walked into the apartment. In fact, Rogers knows that the beauty who lives next door is a secret agent of SHIELD. He is just too lazy to tell that to her. The door of the apartment slowly closed behind Rogers but it also isolated the look of the beautiful woman outside the door.

The apartment without lights is a little dim, and the light coming in from the window can only vaguely let Rogers see some of the furnishings in the living room. However, just after Rogers stepped into the living room for two steps, his steps suddenly stopped, his eyes in the dark suddenly became serious, and his body muscles gradually tightened, as if he was encountering some enemies.

Da ~

As if Captain Rogers had met an enemy, he walked forward slowly and tensely. Suddenly, a light sound came from a corner of the dark living room, and a warm light was lit. Then a quiet voice reached Rogers captain.

“Hello, Captain Steve Rogers. Don't be so nervous, I am Mirage Knight.”

Steve Rogers, who was feeling nervous around him, looked at the light when he heard the sound. When the light came on, he saw the scene in front of him. A guy wearing a full-body costume that covered half of his face and he was sitting leisurely on his sofa. When Rogers looked at this man, the man also looked back. The dark black eyes exuded a certain amount of pressure that made Captain Roger a little cautious.

“Mirage Knight?” Hearing the self-introduction of the uninvited guest, Steve Rogers repeated his name with some doubts, he seemed to have heard the name.

Although Captain Rogers is already trying to adapt to modern life, he still doesn't know much about Vigilantes who are actively fighting on the streets of New York like Mirage Knight. After all, Steve usually picks up some special missions in SHIELD and doesn't have much time to pay attention to other things. If it wasn't for SHIELD's internal investigation of Mirage Knight and there being a special record of it, Captain Rogers might not even have heard the name of Mirage Knight.

“Are you the Vigilante in New York? I've seen your record in SHIELD. It's not at a low level. So, Mr. Vigilante, Mirage Knight of New York, what are you doing here today?” After a little thought, Steve Rogers remembered who he was, and then asked seriously. Captain Rogers also didn't ask how this vigilante knew about his resurrection and living here. According to the internal information of SHIELD, the mysterious Mirage Knight seems to have a very powerful intelligence system.

When he heard Captain Rogers, Lin Rui was not surprised. The information of Mirage Knight must be at a very high clearance level inside SHIELD, but it can be seen by Steve Rogers. So, after finishing and organizing his thoughts, Lin Rui spoke again.

“I am here to find Director Nick Fury. I heard that he was attacked today and because there is some friendship between me and the Director, I will not let him remain in a dangerous position and I thought that I would be able to find him here.”

Lin Rui now has a hidden quest to protect Nick Fury for a week, but he did not know that Nick had been attacked by Hydra today, and he only knew about it after he asked Daredevil later. At this time, Daredevil is already a secret agent inside SHIELD. The attack on Director Nick is something that he had heard about.

When he heard Lin Rui say that he was looking to Nick Fury, Rogers' eyes became somewhat sharper as he apparently suspects Lin Rui as one of the attackers who attacked Nick Fury. However, when he heard the whole sentence, he dismissed the speculation.

Obviously, although Mirage Knight is looking for Nick, he should not be against him. At the same time, Captain Roger knows that although Mirage Knight has always refused Nick's invitation to join shield, there is no animosity between them.

“Oh? Although I am a little curious about how you know that Director Nick was attacked and missing, but I care more about why you want to find him now.” Steve Rogers asked Lin Rui. At this time, he had already sat down in the chair in front of Lin Rui, and he was not as nervous as he was at the beginning.

Seeing Rogers sitting down in front of him and completely ignoring the momentum he had build till now, Lin Rui's mouth curled up at its corner but it was blocked by the mask as it only slightly cocked up. Hearing Rogers' words, Lin Rui put his legs down and said, "Although I don't know if Director Nick has mentioned it to you before but I want to find Director Nick just to protect him. Because it's related to whether we can completely eliminate Hydra."

In fact, Lin Rui has probably guessed after seeing Roger's surprise expressions at the beginning and some questions later. Nick Fury must not have told Captain America about the fact that Hydra was lurking inside SHIELD. Although Lin Rui doesn't know why Nick did it, Lin Rui doesn't need to keep it back for Nick now that the situation has reached to this point.

Just as the word Hydra was spoken from Lin Rui's mouth, Rogers's body that had just relaxed slightly tightened again. His hand on the handle of the seat was pinched in an instant, and the wooden seat handle made a crisp sound as it was directly cracked by Steve's hand.

"What do you say?! Hydra!?" Releasing the broken seat handles, Rogers tried to suppress his emotions and asked Mirage Knight again.

"Yes, Hydra. In fact, although Hydra has been almost annihilated by your efforts at the beginning, they call it Hydra for a reason and it is not so simple to completely eradicate them. Some of the remaining people have lurked down and infiltrated SHIELD quietly when it was being established. Now, the whole SHIELD is probably under the control of Hydra." Now that it has come to this, Lin Rui has no reservations and told Steve everything.

"Before that, Director Fury had noticed the hidden Hydra agents in SHIELD and he was also secretly investigating to kill them all. However, now it seems that he had made a mistake and was attacked because of it and in nine out of ten it was Hydra who did it." Looking at Rogers's face carefully, Lin Rui said the news calmly.

Just after Lin Rui finished, the rest of the handle of Steve's seat broke apart with a crash. Obviously, Rogers was shocked by Lin Rui's news. Lin Rui was silent after he said that. He knew that Roger needed some time to digest the situation.

In this way, after Lin Rui and Rogers were silent for a few minutes, Rogers finally recovered his previous calm. So, he continued, "Even if what you said is true, then how do you know Nick will come to me? You know, I only found out about this now."

"This is..."

Bang!

Just as Lin Rui was about to explain something, a slight noise came from the bedroom in Rogers apartment. Although the voice is slight, Lin Rui and Rogers captain are not ordinary people. After hearing the movement, they looked at each other, and then they got up and walked towards the bedroom.
