Chapter 491 Magneto

Brush!

When Tony was entangled with Killian, outside a remote valley in the western United States, a silver figure quickly flashed in from the outside, and then stopped by a lake in the valley.

“Those X-Men guys, do they have nothing else to do? It’s been so many days and they are still tracking us?!” The man who stopped by the lake had silver hair and muttered helplessly while looking at the beautiful scenery in front of him.

Obviously, this silver-haired young man is Quicksilver, who has been avoiding the X-Men’s pursuit ever since Hydra was eliminated.

Even though Quicksilver is powerful but such days of hiding are unacceptable to Quicksilver after being able to hide from Professor Charles’s pursuit for so long. However, he would not allow others to take him back willingly.

After he had been controlled by Hydra for so many years, it is impossible for Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch to be controlled by any organization. When they were young, Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch had been under their control and they slowly got out of that control when they grew up.

Now, they finally have the opportunity to live a free life and Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch will not give up easily.

Buzzing~

Just after Quicksilver took a rest by the lake, a light red light radiated from the forest on the opposite side of the lake. After seeing the red light, Quicksilver’s eyes showed softness, and then with a little bit of rest under his feet, he rushed towards the red light.

Brush!

Only a silver light and shadow can be seen passing by the lake, and then the valley regained its calm leaving only faint ripples on the lake surface.

“They disappeared again. It seems that the Scarlet Witch has become more and more powerful and in control of her power. I don’t know if this is a good or a bad thing.” After Quicksilver rushed into the valley and disappeared, Charles who was sitting in the basement of his Academy took off the Cerebro Helmet and whispered lightly.

Just now, Charles had used the Cerebro to find the location of the Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch just like the other day. However, Quicksilver was too fast, and Professor Charles could not accurately locate him.

Just now, Quicksilver’s figure completely disappeared from Professor Charles’s mind once again. Obviously, Scarlet Witch had made her move, and she has blocked Professor Charles’s detection more than once during this time. Charles worried that after a while, Scarlet Witch would be able to completely block him.

“Professor, are these twins really that important?” Storm, who was standing next to him, asked with a frown on her face when she heard Charles’ whispers.

In order to find the sibling, X-Men has spent a lot of their manpower and material resources, which is a very rare thing to do for X-Men, as they are all composed of Elite Mutants.

Moreover, in addition to the dispatched X-Men, Professor Charles is also using the Cerebro and he is doing this more frequently which leaves him tired. During this time, X-Men were also looking for the Lost Magic Cube, and Storm felt that they should not spend so much energy on the two Mutants.

“Of course they are important. Although the ability of Quicksilver is relatively simple, no one can compare with him in terms of speed. As for his sister, she is a Class 5 Mutant or an Omega Level Mutant. The abilities of these pair of siblings are quite valuable for anyone.” Hearing Storm’s question, Professor Charles explained seriously.

“Moreover, besides their abilities, there is another more important reason why I am spending so much energy searching for them. Storm, do you know who they are?” Professor Charles continued, not caring about Storm’s surprised expression.

“Who are they? Aren’t they just Hydra’s remaining Mutant team?” Storm asked strangely when she heard Professor Charles’s question. Do these two people have any other backgrounds?

“Perhaps, the siblings did a lot of things for Hydra, but they definitely did not belong to Hydra. Because they are Erik’s childrens.” Professor Charles replied with a serious look on his face while looking at the Storm in front of him.

Storm: “!...” Even if she was given a million guesses, Storm would have never been able to guess that Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch were Magneto’s children. This piece of information was very shocking.

“Yes, Mirage Knight told me this information and I believe in Mirage Knight. So now you know why I am spending so much energy searching for them.” Seeing Storm’s surprised expression, Professor Charles smiled before speaking.

“Understood! So, do I need to tell others about this?” After knowing that Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch are the children of Magneto, Storm’s attitude completely changed.

The most important reason why the Mutants are so suppressed on the Earth now is that the various Mutants are not united. Among them, the X-Men led by Professor Charles and the Mutants Brotherhood led by Magneto are the most powerful.

If these two Mutant Forces join forces, then the Mutants will be in a much better situation on the earth than it is now. Therefore, the search for Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch is particularly important. If Magneto’s children join X-Men then it would be a very good restriction for Magneto.

“You can make your own decision depending on the situation. It seems that Erik has taken some action recently, and we need to pay more attention to it.”

“Got it!”

“Let’s go out, Mr. Stark had just sent a message, it seems that he need my help with something.”

Then, Strom pushed the wheelchair and Professor Charles left the basement chamber.

While Professor Charles was struggling to find the Twin siblings, Charles’ old friend and rival Magneto Erik was in Washington at this time.

As Charles learned, the Mutant Brotherhood did have some activity recently. However, it is still surprising that Magneto personally moved, especially when he appeared in an ordinary apartment in a political center like Washington.

Because of what Magneto has done in the past, he has always been a dangerous figure that the US government pays great attention to.

However, in addition to Magneto’s actual strength, he also has many Mutants with special abilities around him, so neither the special department of the US government nor Professor Charles can determine Magneto’s whereabouts. However, it is still very risky for Magneto to appear in Washington like this.

Even if Magneto’s strength is already at the top of the Mutants, it does not mean that no one can control or even stop him. There has always been a special organization for Mutants within the US government, and their development to this day may be able to restrain Magneto, which is their highest level of strength.

Da~Da~DaDa~

Sitting on the wooden chair in the living room of the apartment, Magneto put his hand on the handle of the chair and tapped it rhythmically. No one can tell Magneto’s purpose in coming here as they looked at his calm expression.

In this apartment, besides Magneto, there are several very strong Mutants from the Mutant Brotherhood. The people who can follow Magneto are at least those who can compete with X-Men. So, if Magneto really intends to do something in Washington, it may really cause great harm to everyone.

Brush!

Just as Magneto was sitting in a chair, a black shadow flashed from outside the apartment, and the door of the apartment opened and closed instantly. Then, in front of Magneto, there was already a punk-dressed Mutant wearing a black leather jacket.

Da~

After this person appeared in front of him, Magneto’s tapping fingers stopped. Then, his slightly closed eyes slowly opened.

Chapter 492 Decision

“Negasonic, is there any news?” Magneto opened his eyes and looked at the punk-looking Mutant in front of him, and then asked calmly. However, anyone who knows Magneto will find that there is still some tension in his eyes at this time.

Hearing Magneto’s question, the Punk-Style girl called Negasonic spoke, “I have heard something, but...”

Brush!

“But what?!” Magneto had already got up from the chair after hearing Negasonic and asked again.

This time, Magneto took so many Elite Mutants from the Mutant Brotherhood to venture to Washington, the political center of the United States, because of a piece of news he had just heard not long ago, and that was about his children that even he didn’t know about himself.

Magneto was also a handsome guy when he was young and he was also a strong Mutant. Although, as a powerful Mutant, Magneto did not have a stable life, he still fell in love twice and had three children with two lovers.

Magneto’s first lover and daughter were persecuted in the pursuit of him by others, which was why Magneto has been unable to reach an agreement with Charles.

Compared with Charles’s ability that he used to hide himself to live a stable life and become a Professor since he was a child, Magneto has suffered too much since he was a child. His hatred for ordinary people in this world cannot be adjusted by Charles with just two words.

The son and daughter born to him by his second lover were the Twins. However, because he knew that if he continued to live with them, they would not live a peaceful life in the future. Magneto’s second lover left Magneto when she was pregnant, making him unaware that he still has a pair of children living in this world.

Not long ago, Magneto suddenly received a message from his lover who had not been in contact with him for many years. It turned out that this woman who had been hiding from Magneto for so many years was about to die. She wanted to tell Magneto before she died that he still had a pair of children alive in the world.

She also told Magneto that his son and daughter were taken away by a government organization that studies Mutants many years ago. As she died, the sad woman hoped that Magneto would save their children.

After hearing the news, Magneto was stunned. So many years have passed, and Magneto is now in old age. Although top Level Mutants like Magneto have a slightly longer life span than ordinary people, he is now considered an old man.

But now he was told that he had grown-up son and daughter, this news was no less than a nuclear explosion for Magneto.

Therefore, two months ago, the Mutant Brotherhood planned to attack the MP who opposed the Mutants. This is because Magneto wanted to test the internal organization of the government that studies the Mutants.

And now, Magneto has determined what that organization is. It is the government organization that specializes in dealing with Mutants led by someone called Stryker, who has fought with the X-Men and the Mutant Brotherhood for so many years.

Judging from Magneto's long investigation, his son and daughter showed a very powerful mutation ability when they were young. Although his former lover tried her best to protect their ability from being discovered, in the end, she couldn't completely cover up this matter.

After being known by others, Stryker quickly sent someone to take the Twin siblings away forcibly, and their mother could do nothing to stop them.

As for what happened to the Siblings, the poor mother didn't even know. If it weren't for her serious illness and death, she wouldn't have sought out Magneto for help. In her opinion, if Magneto had known early on that he had children then Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch would have grown up in the battleground.

"Their internal security is very tight, and I can't go in and investigate for more information. But...from the information I have investigated now, a pair of brother and sister with a high level of Mutation did receive research within their organization a few years ago. It seems that something has happened, and they have lost track of them now." Seeing Magneto's serious look, Negasonic quickly said what she had investigated.

Because the organization led by Stryker specifically restrains Mutants, even if Negasonic has a rapid and powerful attack, it is impossible for her to really penetrate into their organization. It is already very rare to be able to get this information.

"A few years ago...a pair of brother and sister...Stryker! Damn it!" Magneto whispered with a dangerous glint in his eyes when he heard the Negasonic reply.

Magneto had dealt with Stryker many times before and he knew what happens to the Mutants when they fell into his hands. Just thinking about the painful treatment of his young childrens suffering under Stryker's hands, Magneto's anger couldn't be suppressed.

This is why Magneto is now taking the risk of bringing so many Mutants of his Brotherhood to Washington. He wants to find his children and fight Stryker.

"Boss, do you really want to take action against Stryker? This is his base camp, we may not be able to get out in time." Seeing Magneto's angry look, a Mutant who was sitting opposite him suddenly asked.

This Mutant is a middle-aged man, his appearance looks very ordinary, but being able to follow Magneto here obviously means that he is a powerful Mutant.

"Pyro, when did you become this cautious? Did you forget what Stryker did to us?" Magneto asked faintly while looking at the middle-aged man across the room. From his name, this middle-aged man turned out to be Pyro, he was a member of X-Men a long time ago.

Pyro, like Iceman, was originally a student of Xavier Institute. However, unlike Iceman, Pyro has a more radical personality, and supports the use of force to resist the unfair treatment suffered by Mutants.

Therefore, Pyro later left the X-Men led by Professor Charles and joined the Mutants Brotherhood led by Magneto. Because of Pyro's strength, he quickly became a powerful man next to Magneto.

"Of course I hate Stryker and you know that but it wasn't as if we hadn't fought against him before, we know what he is capable of. We may be able to defeat him when we are outside but this is his base camp, I think we need to be more cautious." Pyro answered invariably.

After fighting against Mutants for so many years, Stryker already has a lot of weapons that can restrain Mutants, and Pyro can't guarantee that they would be able to retreat from this action.

Call!

"Don't think about it anymore, this plan to attack Stryker's base camp is imperative! I will definitely get my children's whereabouts from his mouth!" Magneto made a decision without caring about Pyro's persuasion.

No matter what powerful weapons Stryker has in his base camp, Magneto will do whatever it takes to get news of his children.

Hearing Magneto's decision, both Pyro and Negasonic showed helpless expressions on their faces. However, they are used to Magneto's arbitrariness. This is the nature of Magneto.

And even though they only had a team of five people this time, they are all Level 4 Mutants and there was Magneto, they have a chance to break into Stryker's base.

Chapter 493 Help

Just as Magneto took the Elite Members of his Mutant Brotherhood to plan an attack on Stryker's base camp, Captain Rogers located in SHIELD headquarters in Washington, also received news from Tony.

Tony and Mirage Knight have become very popular after Mandarin's attack on Iron Man not long ago. After Tony made a high-profile announcement of his revenge against Mandarin, Rogers and the others did not intervene as Tony didn't ask for their help.

Now that Iron Man has already stated his attitude to deal with the terrorist named Mandarin, SHIELD obviously does not need to intervene. Moreover, Captain Rogers needs to do a lot of other things.

Dr. Banner is on his way back to the United States, and he will probably be back in a few days. At that time, both the scientific and technological strength and the military force around Rogers will increase by a lot. The subsequent after-effects of the removal of former Director Fury of SHIELD have gradually emerged.

Although Fury has been detained and he no longer has any pull inside SHIELD, some actions he set up before are attacking the guys above the World Security Council who pulled him down. Captain Rogers just needs to stand aside and watch carefully, and then intervene at the critical moment to achieve his goal.

"Tony, shouldn't you be dealing with Mandarin? Why are you calling me?" Rogers asked faintly while looking at Tony's image displayed on the tablet.

Although Tony explained in the live broadcast that Mandarin's bombing attack was due to the Self-Destructing people but this has not aroused the interest of SHIELD or Captain Rogers.

In SHIELD's view, although these Enhanced People can be regarded as something special for anyone but for SHIELD, this is just another Tuesday.

They deal with major events that threaten the safety of the entire planet. Moreover, Iron Man is already taking action against them so Rogers will certainly not steal Iron Man's limelight. Therefore, Rogers is still a little confused about Tony's call at this time.

"I will deal with Mandarin but I have run into some problems." Hearing Rogers' words, Tony said seriously.

"What's the problem? Do you need me to dispatch SHIELD's personals?" Rogers raised an eyebrow after seeing Tony's serious expression.

"You don't have to do that, I just need some help. It's just a terrorist, I can handle him."

"What's the problem then?"

"Wasn't SHIELD doing the Project Insight before? Although Hydra was exposed before they could implement this but I don't believe you guys didn't perfect the system afterward." Without directly speaking about the kind of help he wanted, Tony continued.

"Project Insight? Indeed, we did continue to improve this system. However, the improved Project Insight is no longer the original Project Insight that was in Hydra's hands. It is now only used as a global monitoring system. As for the monitoring system's data that was used to predict everyone's future. We have not yet planned to do that step, yet." It's not surprising that Tony knew these things and Captain Rogers answered truthfully.

Project Insight was designed to predict and eliminate threats before they can happen by using upgraded Helicarriers linked to the targeting satellites. However, this included many important people, innocents, and Vigilantes.

This was due to HYDRA secretly infiltrating S.H.I.E.L.D. Project Insight's targets were chosen using an algorithm designed by Arnim Zola to identify anyone who could be a threat to HYDRA, using the personal information available online.

However, the early exposure of Hydra prevented Project Insight from completing. When SHIELD later continued this plan, there was no complete Zola algorithm, so the current Project Insight is still a long way from predicting a person's future.

"Of course I know that you cannot predict the future of someone. Even with the original Zola algorithm, it would have been quite difficult. How can the future be predicted so well? However, I do need the help of your Insight System this time. I need it to find someone." Tony said directly when he heard Rogers' words. He just needed the Insight Project to find someone.

"You need to find someone? This is relatively simple for the Insight System. Tell me who are you looking for? Is it Mandarin?" Hearing Tony's words, Rogers nodded and asked again. Using the Insight System to find a terrorist is a little overkill for SHIELD, but this terrorist has already caused many innocent to die and Rogers doesn't mind using the Insight System to find him.

"There is someone other than Mandarin who I need to find." Since Rogers is willing to help, Tony certainly doesn't mind letting him help thoroughly.

"Who?"

"Aldrich Killian." Tony then spoke Killian's name. Compared to Mandarin, Killian should be easier to find.

"Aldrich Killian? Well, I'll help you find these two guys." When Tony said another name, Rogers agreed directly. Then Rogers was ready to hang up the video call.

"Yes, there is one more thing. Rogers, you, as the current Director of SHIELD, are also the national hero Captain America. Your current identity should be able to play a lot on the president's side, right?" Just as Rogers's head moved away from the camera, Tony's voice came from the tablet again.

However, what Tony asked this time made Rogers even more puzzled. Tony actually asked Rogers about his relationship with the President, is Tony Stark interested in these politicians? As one of the richest people, Tony hardly deals with superficial politicians. He even offended many congressmen in the Iron Man incident.

"What do you want with him?" Rogers asked seriously. Although Rogers is also very uncomfortable with those politicians, the President is still good, and he can't let Tony mess around with him.

"Relax, I have no problem with this incompetent President. After all, although he is incompetent, at least he has done nothing wrong. I just want you to remind him that not everyone around him is trustworthy." Seeing Rogers' expression, Tony guessed what he was thinking, and replied directly.

"People around him? Who are you talking about?"

"What do you think?"

Rogers "Could it be...The Vice President?!"

Chapter 494 Lunatic

Ten minutes later, the video call between Tony and Rogers ended. However, Captain Rogers was still looking very serious even after hanging up the phone. What Tony said to him this time made him nervous and that is saying something because he is usually very calm.

It is about the most central person in American politics. If this incident is not handled properly, there will be severe consequences in the political center of the United States.

"I need to let someone investigate the Vice President. Although Mirage Knight's information has always been very accurate, I still need to see the evidence in person for this kind of thing. It's time to find a reason." Captain Rogers finally sighed and said to himself before leaving his room.

This time, Tony asked Rogers to help investigate the whereabouts of Killian and Mandarin. Although Tony only needed the help of the powerful search effect of the Insight System, he had also told Rogers about some possible relation between Killian and the Vice President, who was hidden in the core of the government.

For power and the opportunity to become the perfect Extremis transforming person, the Vice President has already stood on the same path with Killian. This makes Rogers feel very helpless because SHIELD itself should not interfere with American politics.

If this incident was just a simple attack against terrorists or the extremely harmful Extremis fighters in Killian's hands then SHIELD would have been able to handle them without any problem. However, once politics is involved, SHIELD's position becomes quite delicate.

Of course, SHIELD is now completely under Rogers's control and he has always been uncomfortable with the actions of politicians in the current government. Rogers doesn't mind cleaning up these people who harm innocent civilians. However, SHIELD needs conclusive evidence before they can move against someone like the Vice-president.

Mirage Knight only provided a clue by naming the Vice president, but the Vice President would certainly not be alone in this. There must be a circle of politicians and congressmen who support him.

If SHIELD wants to intervene then they must completely eliminate these people quickly. This is what Rogers needs to do now and he needs to do it quickly.

Five minutes after the video call between Tony and Rogers ended, SHIELD's Internal Insight System was turned on at full power, and the targeted people were Aldrich-Killian and the Mandarin. As for the Vice President, his schedule is very transparent to SHIELD and they do not need to use the insight system to find him.

The investigation on the Vice President requires a Top-Level SHIELD agent. If Natasha comes back then this mission would be most appropriate for her. It's just that she is still on the road with Dr. Banner and Rogers can only arrange for other agents to investigate the vice president who seems very upright.

When Tony asked Rogers's help in finding Killian and Mandarin using the Insight System, he was not idle. After making sure that he was okay with Pepper, Tony took Peter and Lin Rui into the laboratory again. This time, Tony intends to perfect the Venom Armed Cloak, to the point where he himself can use it.

"Tony, the growth rate of the Venom body limits its number. Are you sure you want to make a complete set of The Cloak now?" Standing by the console, Lin Rui reminded Tony while looking at him.

Because Killian's attack on Tony used some kind of technology that could break through JARVIS's defense, it made Tony doubtful and he was not as assured of JARVIS's defense as before.

While enhancing JARVIS's defense, Tony also plans to make The Cloak with Venom as the main body. In this way, even if the Iron Man Armor was affected by something, Tony would still have the surprise of The Cloak waiting for his enemies.

"Of course, it only consumes one-third of the Venom's body. It can bear the price. Moreover, I have a hunch that my current Iron Man Armor may get destroyed or it would lose in dealing with Killian. Therefore, the formation of The Cloak is something we must do!" Hearing Lin Rui's reminder, Tony's hands on the Virtual Keyboard did not stop, and he answered seriously.

“In that case, we have to work overtime with you!” Lin Rui didn’t say anything anymore when Tony said that he had a hunch. Moreover, the early appearance of the complete Cloak is what Lin Rui really wants to see. He wants to see if The Cloak produced by Venom can reach the height he expected.

“Peter, you control the current guides. Jackson, you will continue to be a guinea pig. Today, we are going to make this Cloak!” Tony, who has entered the experimental stage, is very enthusiastic and quickly ordered.

“Yes! Mr. Stark!”

Kakaka!

When SHIELD’s Insight System was operating at high speed looking for trails of Killian and Mandarin, Killian, who had failed to attack Iron Man, was hiding in another secret base of his own. As for Mandarin, even Killian is not very clear about his current whereabouts.

“Maya! Can you explain to me why did you appear in Tony Stark’s villa?” In a laboratory in the secret base, Killian asked Maya Hansen, who had just returned, with a cold look in his eyes.

Although Maya Hansen is a researcher under Killian, she is also the person in charge of the entire Extremis project. This project cannot be done without Maya’s help, otherwise, Killian wouldn’t have minded killing her.

“What was I doing there? Of course, I was there because I didn’t agree with your stupid plan. If you want the Extremis to appear in the world quickly, war is not the only way. With Tony Stark’s help and with his power, our plan will be finished at a faster rate. However, your action completely failed and of course, my plan did not succeed either.” Faced with Killian’s question, Maya responded without showing any weakness.

Originally, Maya wanted to use Killian’s information to gain Tony’s trust, but Tony didn’t seem to appreciate it because he already knew a lot about Killian. Moreover, Maya’s backup plan for abducting Pepper could not be implemented. Pepper had been put in a Safe House arranged by Tony before Maya went to the beach house.

Brush!

Just after Maya finished speaking, Killian suddenly rushed in front of her, and then directly stretched out his hand to grab Maya’s neck and lifted her up.

“Uh!...Killian~what the hell do you think you are doing?!” The expression on Maya’s face changed drastically when Killian suddenly grabbed her neck violently.

Killian was also injected with Extremis. Although he was not completely perfected, he was already very powerful. As long as he slightly used the power of Extremis in his body, Maya would be burned to death.

“What am I doing? Haha, I just can’t tolerate your acting and showing everyone how self-righteous you are! I don’t need you to tell me what I want, you just need to improve the Extremis as soon as possible. As for our great plan, you don’t need to worry about it!” Pinching Maya’s neck, Killian said coldly while staring into her eyes.

“Ahem!...” Maya, who had been choked out of breath, couldn’t make a sound, nodded quickly.

Call!

The next moment, Killian released Maya. Maya, who had wandered from the edge of death once, fell directly to the ground, her eyes filled with fear of Killian and hatred filled the deepest part of her heart.

“Killian, you are a lunatic!” Getting up from the ground, Maya tidied up her messy clothes, cursed Killian, and left.

“A lunatic? I would be that if I was still a normal person. Hehe...”

Chapter 495 Optimize

After frightening Maya, Killian returned to his few very crude-looking laboratories in this secret base. The laboratory looks very rudimentary, but the Extremis researched by him and his team was developed in such an environment. Now, Killian is about to start the final optimization experiment of Extremis.

Although Extremis can enhance the strength of the human body and give them super Recovery power and the kind of high temperature that can melt superalloys, there are still many problems.

The most serious one is the stability of Extremis. Extremis now has a certain chance of causing a physical explosion when it exerts its effects. Once an accident occurs, it is fatal. Therefore, Killian has to perfect the Extremis in the shortest possible time, so that his Extremis fighters will be stronger and more numerous.

Buzzing~

In two laboratories with a poor environment, several biological equipments are working at a high load. In the center of the laboratory, several people are being tied up on a simple experiment table placed vertically, and they will be the next subjects of the Extremis.

Some of these people are here voluntary, such as those who have lost their vital organs and limbs on the battlefield. Killian will deliberately find these people and use the temptation of full recovery to let them participate in his experiments.

There are other people who are fanatic terrorists provided by Mandarin. These people live by Mandarin’s will. Many suicide bombings are caused by these people.

While injecting Extremis, Killian also injected a special control Serum into their bodies. Such Serum can help Killian control these super fighters transformed by Extremis. This special control Serum is a product of Extremis research, and every Extremis Fighter has such a control Serum in their body.

Just as these fighters can control the recovery of every part of their body after being injected with Extremis, as the highest level person, Killian is the brain of all Extremis, and he can control other Extremis Fighters.

If Killian did not have such control over Serum then he would not have dared to expand his team of Extremis fighters with such confidence.

“The First Clinical Trial of Extremis, start!” Just as Killian was thinking about how to eliminate Tony next, the experimenters in front were already preparing to conduct clinical trials for those people strapped to the table.

Kaka!

Following the movement of the researchers, a mechanical arm quickly moved to the volunteers who were tied to the testbed. Then, a needle came out of the robotic arm and slowly stretched towards a volunteer who had only one arm.

Although he had already decided to use the Extremis to make a full recovery, the guy with one hand was still very nervous at the last minute as he stared at the slender needle without blinking.

Pū~

Finally, the thin needle pierced the shoulder of the Subject with one arm. Then, a fiery red liquid was quickly injected from the needle into the Subject’s shoulder.

Chuckle~

As the red liquid entered the Subject’s body, the inside of his shoulder was illuminated by a red light. As the red liquid spreads, the subject’s meridians and muscles dyed red and it can be seen from the outside. Finally, some of the other fractures have been healed and the healing process is visible to the naked eye.

“Hiss! Ah ah ah!” When those red lights reached the Subject’s mission hand, he suddenly screams out loud again.

Chi Chi!

Then, the red light that spread to the amputated bone site directly reopened the bone wound that had been healed for several years and opening of the bone wound that had healed made the Subject scream unbearably. However, the next scene made him resist the pain, and his eyes were full of surprises as he saw a miracle.

After breaking open the bone wound that was originally healed, the red light stimulated the amputated bones and muscles to grow rapidly. This reorganization of the skeletal muscles visible to the naked eye looks like magic, and the Subject did not care about the pain of the limb recovery process at this time. The arm that he has lost for so many years has slowly growing back, and he couldn’t help but feel elated.

Chi Chi!

Finally, a minute later, under the influence of the red light, the amputated arm was fully formed. Although it was a newly grown arm, the subject did not have any paleness or weakness.

The subject could clearly feel the strength of this arm. Had he not been tied to the test bed at this time, he would have waved this arm vigorously. However, at this time, he was constantly squeezing his right fist and feeling his long-lost arm.

While the Extremis recovered the subject’s right arm, it has slowly completed the complete transformation of the subject’s body. Without the Subject noticing anything, his whole body has been modified by Extremis. He is now a powerful Extremis fighter, and he has also become a powerful humanoid bomb in Killian's hands.

"I now feel... my power!... I am powerful!" The effect of Extremis has ended, and the Subject finally felt the power change throughout his body.

Collapse! Collapse! Collapse!

Then, the Subject used a little bit of his strength and broke free of several high-strength restraint straps that bound him, and jumped off the experimental platform.

"I feel as if I already have infinite power!" The subject who fell to the ground squeezed his fist and he felt his re-grown right arm, and his eyes drank this sight feverishly.

Regarding the Subject breaking free from the test bench, neither Killian nor the researchers next to him were surprised. Now that Extremis has been perfected, the probability of failure has been reduced to a very low level, and every successful Subject will have strong power, and it is normal for them to break free from such restraints.

And they are not worried that the Subject will turn against them because of his powerful strength, Killian has already told these Subjects that they would be listening to his orders and they can try to resist but end result would be them dying in an explosion.

"How is it? Is the data out?" Looking up and down at the Extremis fighter who was newly transformed, Killian looked at the researcher beside him and asked.

"Well, it's coming out now. This time, the Extremis has been improved slightly in stability. It seems that our thinking process was correct. As long as we continue to optimize it, the Extremis will definitely become the most perfect human evolution Serum." The Researcher's eyes held a serious look as he looked at the data on the tablet in his hand.

Compared to the Recovery Serum that Dr. Connors had studied before, which turns people into lizard monsters, Extremis is significantly better at Recovery speed. From the perspective of human evolution, Extremis and the Serum studied by Dr. Connors are both very forward attempts.

However, whether this attempt can finally bring evolutionary advantages to humans still needs to be tested by practice.

"Then speed up the process, our current number of Extremis fighters is still not enough." Hearing the researcher's answer, Killian's eyes were full of enthusiasm, and then he ordered loudly.

"The experiment can continue, but we don't have enough Subjects. Maybe we can ask the Mandarin to provide some Subjects for us. We have no new Subjects on our side." Without looking up, the researcher replied.

"We don't have people? I will fix this." Killian replied after hearing that there were no new subject for his experiment.

"Then, let's test the next experiment direction." As he said, Killian quickly took out a pistol, and then pointed it at the arm of the subject who had just succeeded in front of him.

Bang!

Chapter 496 Change

Bang!

After the gunshot sound, the right arm of the Subject who was still experiencing his transformed body was directly burst apart from his shoulder and the arm that was obliterated from the root of the shoulder was directly cut and dropped on the ground with blood.

General guns are not so powerful as this and it seems that the gun in Killian's hand has been modified or is a new weapon itself.

"What the hell are you doing?!" Killian's unexpected shot had interrupted the Subject's joy and he questioned loudly with anger in his eyes.

While the Subject questioned Killian, he was also controlling the Extremis in his body to quickly recover his right arm.

If it wasn't for the fact that his life is in Killian's hands, then it would have been difficult for him to hold himself back from killing Killian after successfully being transformed into an Extremis fighter, this shot could have caused him to bleed to death.

Chi Chi!

Under the powerful effect of the Extremis, the cut-off arm quickly recovered again. However, just as the Subject's arm was quickly recovering, Killian suddenly reached out and pressed his hand against the Subject's right arm.

At the same time, a fiery red light appeared in Killian's hand, and a high temperature burned at the arm port and blocked the recovery of the Subject's arm.

Call!

"Did you forget the next experiment? Don't think about Recovering your arm, just think about how to make it stronger!" Killian, who temporarily prevented the recovery of the Subject's arm, stared at the angry Subject in front of him and shouted quickly, he didn't shot his own guy because of boredom.

"The next experiment?! You mean those monster-like things?!" Hearing Killian's words, the Subject's eyes flashed with fear, and his voice trembled slightly.

"Why? Don't you want to do it?" Killian asked in a cold tone when he saw the expression of the Subject's face.

"No! I will do it!" The Subject felt a chill on his back as he looked at Killian's eyes and he nodded quickly. If he didn't want to do it, then Killian will kill him now.

"Then, let the experiment begin, don't let me down." Killian finally said while pressing the disconnected arm of the Subject without letting go.

Call!

Then, Killian had taken away his hand that was blocking the cut-off arm of the Subject. After Killian removed his hand, the Subject instinctively wanted to recover his arm as usual but when he remembered the experiment later, a trace of determination flashed in his eyes. He was in control of his Extremis and he did not immediately repair his arm the usual way.

“Very good, let’s see what step you can do next.” Seeing the Subject’s control of the Extremis, Killian said with a slight smile. Then, he motioned to the Researcher on the side to seriously record the changes and data.

Buzz!

After controlling the Extremis to stop regeneration his arm, the Subject took two deep breaths and then closed his eyes as if thinking about something in his mind. When he opened his eyes again, a red light flashed in them.

Chi Chi!

Then, the arm that he had controlled to stop repairing quickly re-grown again under the effect of Extremis. However, the arms that grew back this time seem to be a little different.

Compared with the arm that was regrown before, the bones and muscles regrown under the red light are slightly different from the structure of normal human arms. At least, the newly grown bones and muscles this time are much stronger than the original ones.

“Ah!!!” It seemed that the recovery process this time caused the Subject to feel pain and he cried out in pain as the stout arm grew back. However, the recovery of the arm continues.

The obviously thicker arm slowly appeared before Killian’s eyes, and his eyes slowly showed a fanatical expression in them. The effect of Extremis’s rapid recovery of human injuries is already very good but it actually has more effects, which is to modify the structure of the body according to the idea of the human body.

Just like this scene that happened before Killian’s eyes, as long as the person who has been transformed by Extremis wants to make Extremis recover his arm but not his regular arm, but a stronger arm that is not even a human arm, then the Extremis will completely let it appear. This is the strength of Extremis Serum, and Killian’s ambition to dominate the world.

Chi Chi!

Under the eyes of Killian and the Researcher on the side, the Subject’s regrown arm was finally fully grown. After seeing the Subject’s right arm this time, both Killian and the Researcher showed surprise expressions in their eyes.

“Huh!” It seemed that the Subject had endured too much pain as after the new arm grew out, the Subject was gasping for breath. This is something that ordinary Extremis fighters shouldn’t have been able to do.

At this time, the arm that had been interrupted by Killian’s shot grew back. Maybe it shouldn’t be called an arm anymore because this regrown object can be roughly seen as an arm from the outside, but neither its size nor the bones and muscles on it can be regarded as one. This is not an arm of a normal person.

Because this newly-grown arm is a full 1.5 meters long, and it can touch the ground when placed vertically. Moreover, there are a few more prominent bone spurs and joints on the arms, and some scale-like armor had appeared on the surface of the joints.

As for the muscles on the arms, they are also explosive, and it looks like a large monster arm. Such a huge monster-like arm connected to a normal person looks very unconventional, but it also shows the extraordinary effects of the Extremis.

“Look at this perfect arm! This is the power of Extremis!” Before the Subject can become relieved, the Researcher on the side had already rushed over to observe this arm up close.

This is the Research behind the so-called Extremis, using Extremis to completely transform the human body and make the body into a real fighter. With the powerful power and ultra-high temperature attack given by Extremis, coupled with such deformation and recovery power, the Extremis fighter can be called the most powerful fighters in this World.

Imagine the battlefield, a few fighters who could change their forms at will and couldn’t be killed rushed towards, the enemy, that scenario would be a disaster for anyone opposing the Extremis Fighters.

This time the Subject’s transformation of the arm was changed during the process of the arm disappearing and re-growth, and it only changed the basic shape of the lower arm, which was not particularly difficult.

If you want to transform the human body when the human body is intact and transform it into more powerful biological weapons then the difficulty will become even greater, which is the next problem Killian will overcome.

“Try and see if you can control this arm perfectly!” After admiring this monster-like arm, the Researcher quickly reminded.

Call!

Hearing the Researcher’s words, the Subject moved slightly and he could see the monster arm that was part of his body. Then he found that this arm was no different from the original arm except that it was heavier.

Huhu!

Then, under the gaze of Killian and the Researchers, the Subject continuously controlled the monster’s arm to make various movements, which seemed very flexible.

“It seems that our experiment is very successful!” Seeing this scene, a Researcher exclaimed excitedly.

As for Killian on the side, he was also very surprised to see this scene as it shows that his Extremis fighters will be more powerful and his power against Iron Man will be stronger.

Chapter 497 Failure

Boom!

Hearing Killian's words, the Subject waved his huge arm towards the stone stool next to him. With a loud noise, the Subject cracked the solid stone stool with his arm. But his huge fist was not damaged in the slightest, because the palms that grew out this time were covered with a layer of hard armor-like bone fragments.

"Haha!" The Subject, who was still worried about what would happen after he went through such a change, laughed excitedly after experiencing the power of his huge arm, and kept waving this monster-like arm. In the rudimentary laboratory, a guy with a huge monster arm was excitedly waving the said arm. This scene seemed very contradictory.

"It seems that our experiments can speed up, and according to the current progress, we can get the most complete Extremis Fighters soon." Seeing the excitement of the Subject in front of him, Killian's mood has recovered and he said to the researcher next to him.

"Of course! After the stability issue is solved, this kind of biological structure change can be completed quickly!" The equally excited Researcher continued nodding his head and agreed.

Huhu!

However, just when Killian and the Researcher were very satisfied with the results of the experiment before them, the face of the Subject who was waving his monster arm suddenly changed, it was as if he had discovered something.

The giant arm, which was still doing various movements, slowly stopped, and a few seconds later quietly drooped beside him again.

Seeing that the Subject had stopped playing with his arm, neither Killian nor the Researcher cared. Maybe he is just tired. According to their data, this kind of transformation of the original biological structure of the body requires a lot of Extremis Energy and it cannot be maintained for a long time.

"How come!?...Something wrong!" While Killian and the Researcher were watching the experimental data, the Subject suddenly stared at the giant monster arm hanging beside him and shouted.

Buzzing! ~~

When Killian and the Researcher raised their heads and looked over, they saw that the inside of the otherwise normal giant arm was shining with a red light which was obviously the appearance of Extremis being activated.

However, there is no need to activate Extremis at this time, and the expressions of the Subject are also telling them that something bad is happening.

"Could it be..." A cold light flashed in Killian's eyes as he saw more and more red light forming inside that arm.

"Help me! Help me! I can't control it! Help me!" A second after a cold look appeared in Killian's eyes, the Subject suddenly looked at him and shouted for help.

In the Subject's perception, that mutated arm is no longer dictated. And because of the modification of the arm, a large number of Extremis gathered in that area, and now the Extremis in that arm has lost control. He knew the consequences of Extremis' loss of control very well, that is, self-destruction, so he asked Killian for help in horror.

"Ah! The Extremis inside him is rapidly becoming unstable! He is going to self-destruct!" After hearing the Subject's requested, the Researcher finally found something wrong with him and shouted as he stepped back in horror.

"Save me!" After hearing the researcher's conclusion, the Subject rushed towards Killian even more desperately.

"Huh! A failed product." Seeing that the red light on the Subject's right arm had already penetrated the skin, Killian lifted his gun up without any emotion on his face.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

In the next moment, three consecutive gunshot sound came out in this simple laboratory. However, after the gunshot, it was not as quiet as it should have been.

"Damn it! Get out of here!" A few seconds later, Killian yelled while rushing out.

As for the Subject who had lost control, he was lying quietly on the ground, his head was gone. It seems that the three shots Killian fired just now were effective. It would be impossible for an Extremis fighter to recover himself after getting shot in the head.

Because they also need to use the brain to send signals to control Extremis in their body to repair the body, how can they control Extremis without their brain?

However, although the out-of-control Subject was dead, the Extremis Serum in his body which was supposed to be quiet after his death, did not. The giant arm is still getting enhanced by a red light, and it looks like it is about to explode.

Boom! Rumble!

Just as Killian rushed towards the entrance of the laboratory, a violent explosion exploded behind him. The power of the explosion was so great that it directly destroyed the entire laboratory, and Killian was also pushed out of the laboratory by the power of the explosion.

As for the Researcher who had not had time to retreat and the remaining unconscious Subjects, they should be disintegrated in such an explosion by this time.

Huhu!

After a minute, the aftermath of the explosion gradually decreased. Outside the laboratory, a figure with all his clothes burnt slowly climbed up from the ground. It was Killian who had escaped just now.

At this time, Killian lost the pure white suit and his handsome hairstyle and he was covered in dust and rubble, and he was quickly recovering his wounds under the effect of Extremis.

Standing outside the laboratory, Killian stared at the destroyed laboratory with a cold look in his eyes. At this time, Killian was very angry. He thought that the experiment was going well, but he didn't expect that there was still a problem in the end.

The death of the Subject and the sacrifice of the Researcher are irrelevant. What is important is that the current optimization progress of Extremis can no longer satisfy Killian at this time.

"Huh! I hope that Bitch Maya has made some progress!" Suppressing the anger in his heart, Killian waved his hand and left the ruined laboratory.

When Killian left the laboratory he was in charge of and came outside the laboratory in charge of Maya, the look on his face changed. Because he felt that there were three Extremis Fighters here that had been successfully transformed, but two of the Extremis fighters did not seem to be under Killian's control.

This situation shocked Killian very much.

As the absolute controller of Extremis Serum, Killian controls every Extremis Fighter created, otherwise, he wouldn't have been able to control these superhuman warriors at all.

But now Killian discovered that he could not control two of the three newly-appearing Extremis Fighters. This was something that had never happened before.

Boom!

Killian rushed into Maya's laboratory in the next moment while thinking of the meaning behind this kind of thing. However, when Killian rushed into the laboratory, the scene before him made his inner surprise completely surfaced to his face. Because the Extremis Fighters in this laboratory are more than the three he can perceive outside!

Chapter 498 Seizes Power

There were at least fifteen people in front of Killian who had just rushed into the laboratory. Except for Maya Hansen and the two guys who were obviously researchers, the remaining dozen people all had the red light of Extremis flashing throughout their bodies.

They were all Extremis fighters! However, except for three of them, Killian couldn't perceive the existence of the remaining Extremis fighters from outside. This means that Killian has no control over these Extremis fighters.

"Maya Fucking Hansen! What the hell are you doing?!" The bad premonition in his heart became stronger and stronger, and Killian rushed towards Maya Hansen and asked loudly.

Being able to do tricks in Extremis Serum to get these newly transformed Extremis fighters out of his control, this kind of thing can only be done by Maya Hansen except for Killian but he would never do that. If these uncontrolled Extremis fighters suddenly rioted, it would be a disaster for Killian.

"What? Of course, it is to expand the scale of the Extremis fighters. Can't you see it?" Faced with Killian's angry questioning, Maya Hansen was not as scared as before and replied calmly.

Before Maya said that Killian was a lunatic but what she forget to mention was that she herself was a lunatic of the highest order. In order to show her achievements to the world, she has ignored anything.

“Expand the size of the Extremis fighters?! Where did you come up with so many subjects?... You?! Mandarin?! Are you guys!...” Hearing Maya’s answer and seeing her looking so peaceful, Killian became angrier and he began to further question her but halfway through his questions, Killian suddenly understood something.

Because the volunteers on Killian’s side are almost consumed, the Subjects for the Extremis fighters were provided by Mandarin. But there were only three subjects given to Killian, but there are a dozen on Maya’s side. This comparison made Killian understand something at once.

Maya Hansen, a genius botanist is not much worse than Killian and it looked like she has reached a secret agreement with Mandarin. These newly transformed Extremis fighters are no longer under Killian’s control. Perhaps their control is now in Mandarin’s body.

“You are not too stupid yet, so I ask you now Killian, what are you going to do?” Seeing the change in Killian’s expression, Maya Hansen no longer hides her own, and smiled and asked Killian.

Maya was indeed Killian’s subordinate before, but she has been dissatisfied with Killian’s various crazy plans for a long time now. This time, Killian’s failure in his attack against Iron Man Tony·Stark was a very good opportunity for Maya.

Through the secret contact with Mandarin, Maya has now completely shaken off Killian’s control on the new Extremis fighters. There are indeed many Extremis fighters in Killian’s hands, but Maya now has her own. She no longer looks at Killian’s face with fear as she did before, she now has the power to be her own person.

“Maya Hansen!...you!” Killian couldn’t believe what he heard, he stared angrily at Maya and his eyes slowly turned red.

Call!

However, when Killian utilized the Extremis in his body to attack Maya, the several Extremis fighters standing behind Maya all stopped in front of her while blankly looking at Killian.

In terms of rank and power, Killian is higher than these Extremis fighters, but he cannot control these Extremis fighters, and it is impossible for him to fight against so many Extremis fighters alone. Even adding the three Extremis fighters who can still be controlled by him, he has no chance of winning.

Buzzing!

After scanning the Extremis soldier in front of him several times, the red light in Killian’s eyes slowly extinguished. He admitted that he underestimated Maya Hansen, and if Killian was given another chance, he would rather kill Maya like the bitch she is even if he couldn’t study the perfect Extremis.

“Haha, don’t be so nervous. It is a good thing that you have reached an agreement with Mandarin, otherwise, he will not always provide us with so many subjects.” Knowing that things are out of his control, the expression on Killian’s face changed and he spoke with a smile on his face.

He is not an idiot, he had realized that he will lose here so he spoke instead of attacking Maya. As for what he thought in his heart, no one could know.

Seeing the instant change in Killian's expression, Maya was a little surprised, but she had expected this. If it weren't for Killian's control over a lot of Extremis fighters, Maya would have directly killed Killian and become in charge of this project.

But the current situation is good for now, at the very least, Killian will be useful in attracting Tony's attention. Also, didn't Killian always feel very upset about what Tony did to him back then, so she will let him continue to deal with Tony.

"That is correct." With a wave of her hand, Maya withdrew the Extremis fighter standing in front of her and responded with a smile.

"Then, Maya, tell me, how has your experiment progressed?" Next, Killian started discussing the optimization of Extremis with Maya as if he was doing business, and his anger cannot solve the problem.

"Of course there is some progress. The stability problem of Extremis has been basically solved. I think you have also solved it. However, did you encounter any difficulty in the next biological structure deformation?" Turning back to her work, Maya replied while walking back to her table.

"Yes, I have indeed encountered some problems with the Biological deformation. It seems to cause the originally stable Extremis to undergo an unstable collapse, and finally cause the Extremis fighter to become a simple bomb." Following Maya, Killian truthfully stated the problem he had just encountered.

"I have also encountered this problem here, but it has basically been solved. The reason why the biological deformation causes the Extremis collapse is that the human body and the reconstructed biological structure are not truly compatible with each other, and I have just solved it." Maya said lightly without looking back at Killian.

"En!? How did you solve it?" Killian was very surprised when Maya said she had already solved the problem. The incompatibility of this powerful biological structure modified by Extremis with the human body is very normal, but it is also very difficult to solve this incompatibility. Killian had not believed that Maya will find a solution so quickly.

"Wait a little and you will be able to watch it. As for how I solved it, I just needed to diverge my thinking." Knowing that Killian behind her must be very surprised that she has completed the final optimization of Extremis, Maya's mouth curled slightly as she spoke.

Then, Maya, who had walked to the test bench, threw a tablet directly towards Killian.

Call!

Taking the tablet, Killian glanced at it quickly, and then he became attracted by the special piece of DNA sequence inside of it.

"This is the DNA sequence of Mutants?!" Looking at the DNA sequence carefully, Killian raised his head to look at Maya and asked seriously.

"As I said, I just needed to diverge my thinking, and a lot of things were solved."

CHAPTER 499 FINAL

On Killian's side, Maya's sudden move led to his position getting shaky, but the Extremis optimization experiment was successful because Maya introduced the DNA of Mutants. While Maya and Killian were doing their experiment, Rogers was personally checking the search process of the Insight System.

Because the Insight System was originally Hydra's core technology, and finally Hydra was exposed and kicked out of SHIELD, this Project Insight was not so complete.

Therefore, it took some time for the Insight System to find Killian and Mandarin. However, after Rogers personally stared at it for a long time, the Insight System finally gave the result.

Dī Dī!

"Captain Rogers, the target has been found!" When Rogers was standing behind the podium thinking about the Agents he could send to investigate the Vice-president, an Advanced intelligence officer in charge of the Insight System suddenly walked up to him and reported.

"Finally! Who is it?" Rogers was relieved when he heard the report and looked over.

"Aldrich Killian, he is a scientist. The Terrorist leader Mandarin has not been found yet. There is too little information about him. Even the Insight System needs to be based on some data to predict what to look for." Standing straight in front of Rogers, the officer replied solemnly.

"It's not bad to find one, where is he now?"

"New York."

After hearing the intelligence officer's answer, a cold light flashed in Rogers' eyes. He keenly felt that the Killian didn't hide any place else after attacking Tony and he was still in New York, where Tony normally operates. This was very abnormal, so Captain Rogers asked, "Where in New York?"

Although there is a saying that the most dangerous place is the safest place, but the danger to Killian here in New York is too great. As long as he is discovered, Tony's Iron Man army will rush there immediately.

What kind of confidence does he have to not escape and stay right in New York. Of course, if Killian has something in his hand that can deal with an army of Iron Man then he would naturally not be afraid of Iron Man.

However, judging from the situation when he attacked Tony last time, even if there was no interference, Iron Man would have been able to deal with the Extremis fighters.

"Here." Without saying the location, the officer took out the tablet and pointed out where Killian was at this time.

According to the results of the Insight System, Killian is now in the suburbs area of New York near Brooklyn. Moreover, the Insight System also analyzed when Killian appeared there, and who was connected to him. The final conclusion was that Killian was accompanied by a team of fifteen suspected self-destruct people.

"Is there anything special here?" Rogers asked suspiciously when he saw the place marked on the map.

The marked locations appear to be featureless from the map. They are not in any particularly prosperous areas and there are only some small industries. Does Killian have a base there? Rogers couldn't help thinking.

"Captain Rogers, according to our information, that area of land is under Stark Industries. Although it did not originally belong to the Stark Industries, our information shows that it was secretly acquired by Stark Industries a few years ago, but it has never been used. After our analysis, it might be a secret research institute or a place where a Stark Industries building can be built." Hearing Rogers' question, the intelligence officer quickly replied.

With SHIELD's Information Network, they can still investigate such secret industry transactions.

"The site of Stark Industries! A possible secret research institute?" Rogers' eyes suddenly flashed after hearing the intelligence officer's answer. If this Killian really had such a huge problem then it is possible that he could attack him. From this point of view, he must really be in the same group as the terrorist Mandarin.

"I see. Continue to search for Mandarin. I will tell Tony Stark of Killian's whereabouts." Nodding to the intelligence officer, Rogers then ordered.

"Yes, Captain!" The intelligence officer returned to his post again after replying.

After getting news about Killian, Rogers didn't leave either and started calling Tony directly on the spot. Although he didn't know what Tony is hiding there, since Killian is planning to attack him from there, Rogers wants Tony to know. While notifying Tony, Rogers was also arranging for the SHIELD Special Forces of New York to track Killian.

Lin Rui is conducting the last actual combat experiment of The Cloak in the fourth underground laboratory of Tony's beach villa. Standing in the center of the transparent laboratory, Lin Rui is wearing a simple armor, but in the middle of his back shoulder is a rectangular metal box that is slightly larger than a mobile phone.

This metal box wasn't there in his previous armor but it does not seem to affect Lin Rui's normal actions.

"Jackson, The Cloak's last complete actual combat exercise, start now!" Standing with Peter on the console outside the laboratory, Tony stared at Lin Rui inside the laboratory and shouted seriously.

"Haha! I've been waiting for this moment!" Lin Rui in the laboratory responded with a look of expectation on his face when he heard Tony's words.

Call!

Then Lin Rui opened his arms and lifted them flat on his side.

"The Cloak! Armed!" After extending his arms, Lin Rui suddenly called out in a low voice.

Card!

As Lin Rui shouted, the quiet metal box behind him suddenly made a soft noise. Then the metal box opened in an instant, and a black object rushed out of it, exploding into a pair of black wings behind Lin Rui.

The black object that rushed out of the box stayed behind Lin Rui for less than one-tenth of a second, and then, like a living liquid, it quickly rushed towards Lin Rui in front.

Swipe!

In the next moment, Lin Rui, who opened his arms, was completely covered by the black liquid coming towards him! After Venom was transformed into The Cloak, the complete armed process officially began!

Huhu!

The Venom that could immediately cover Lin Rui didn't simply cover the host as before. At this time, it changed rapidly on the surface of Lin Rui's body. Soon, a close-fitting black armor with a sense of science fiction appeared on Lin Rui's body.

The head that was wrapped in black Venom has now been exposed, and a helmet protected Lin Rui's head in, leaving behind glass-like transparent lenses in front of the eye.

Brush!

After this sci-fi armor was formed, the corners of Lin Rui's mouth rose slightly. Obviously, the change of Venom was driven by Lin Rui's thinking. Then, Tony and Peter outside the laboratory saw the black armor rapidly changing color. After a few seconds, Lin Rui was completely invisible to the naked eye.

Tony and Peter were not surprised to see this scene before them and as the experiment is still going on, they are waiting for The Cloak to bring them more surprises.

CHAPTER 500 COMING

"JARVIS, is the energy analysis clear?" After Lin Rui became completely invisible, Tony did not look away from the empty laboratory and directly asked JARVIS.

"Clear, sir," JARVIS replied immediately upon hearing Tony's words.

Venom's stealth effect can not only avoid direct observation with the naked eye, but it can also shield its user from infrared scanning. Except for energy scanning to determine the energy in Venom's body, other methods are not very effective. Unless it's Tony, of course, he used the most effective method to find the invisible Lin Rui.

At this time, Lin Rui's every move was under JARVIS's supervision. Although Tony and Peter could not see Lin Rui with naked eyes, they could clearly see a figure walking randomly in the laboratory on the screen of the console in front of them.

No, Peter is not like Tony who cannot see Lin Rui at all. Peter, who has acquired his superpowers from a Genetic Enhanced Spider, his eyesight has also mutated. If he concentrates, he can still see a little translucent silhouette in the lab.

“Okay, Jackson, we have all seen the effect of invisibility, let’s take it to the next experiment.” Collecting various activity data of Lin Rui in stealth, Tony then shouted into the laboratory.

“Ok!”

Brush!

After agreeing, a figure suddenly appeared in a corner of the originally empty laboratory, it was Lin Rui who had lifted his invisibility. Lin Rui’s sci-fi style armored armor, which also reappeared from his stealth state, has not changed, but Lin Rui now has a very standard looking long sword in his hand.

Lin Rui is now very comfortable with the changes he could do to Venom with his Mind. If it weren’t for the Phantom Suit defensive power and some other functions, Lin Rui would have also wanted a set of The Cloak. However, Lin Rui can prepare a copy of The Cloak when the main body of Venom is enough.

“It’s really time to move forward.” Lin Rui murmured while raising his hand holding the long sword transformed by Venom.

Kakaka!

Then, without letting Lin Rui take the initiative to remind him, JARVIS has already added a series of targets to this empty laboratory. Ten seconds later, Lin Rui had many odd-shaped piles made of various materials in front of him.

These piles of various materials will move irregularly under JARVIS’s control and Lin Rui’s next experiment is to walk through this pile. This kind of test is a bit like the formation of pace training in the martial arts, but Lin Rui can use The Cloak’s changed weapons to counterattack.

Buzzing!

Brush!

Just after Lin Rui raised the long sword in his hand, JARVIS had also activated the stakes. At the next moment, what was originally a quiet pile on the ground of the laboratory suddenly moved.

There are dozens of objects made of different materials, some are horizontal, some are vertical, some are like trees, and some are like hammers.

Anyway, there are various objects of various shapes. The point is that the moving speeds of these objects are also different. As for whether there are any other traps between these objects, Tony didn’t tell Lin Rui all as he wanted to see him react accordingly.

“If Jackson uses 100% of his speed, then these objects will not affect him in the slightest. However, in order to test the responsiveness of The Cloak, he should choose a good speed.” Seeing that the Objects in the laboratory have moved, Peter, standing outside the laboratory said lightly.

“Well, I will let him maximize the speed and strength of a normal person. As for how much Venom can enhance him, that will depend on Venom, there are no other considerations.” Hearing Peter’s words, Tony said while padding the tablet.

Call!

Just when Tony and Peter were staring at Lin Rui outside the laboratory, Lin Rui drew a circle around his side with his long sword, and then his entire figure quickly rushed into the front column array made by the various objects.

Just like Tony said, Lin Rui used the speed limit of a normal person, but with the enhancement of Venom, Lin Rui's speed at this time also exceeded the speed of a normal person by about half. In the blink of an eye, Lin Rui had already rushed into the column array.

Brush! Brush! Brush!

When Lin Rui just rushed into the column array, three objects with different angles had already hit towards him. While dodging, Lin Rui also swung the long sword in his hand. Huh! The next moment, the two drawn objects were chopped off by Lin Rui. It seems that their material is not as good as the material of the long sword simulated by Venom.

Lin Rui dodged the remaining object in a simple flash, and the level he started was relatively simple.

However, Lin Rui had just avoided the attack of an object and at the same time, five or six objects came towards him from other directions. Suppressing his own speed and responsiveness, Lin Rui swung the long sword in his hand.

However, this time, Lin Rui only chopped off three objects and the rest came over without hindrance. Lin Rui, who could not be touched by these objects had to evade flexibly, but two objects whose trajectories had been determined by Lin Rui had suddenly changed their trajectories and rammed into Lin Rui's avoiding position.

This is obviously JARVIS shooting from behind. If it was a regular move, it will take a long time to see Venom's reaction.

"Ha! Quite clever, JARVIS!" Although the two objects that suddenly changed their trajectory were unexpected, Lin Rui can completely avoid them using his own reaction but he is now testing something while suppressing his power, so avoiding them is impossible.

Pū Pū!

However, just when the two objects were about to hit Lin Rui, the side armor of the armor that was clinging to Lin Rui suddenly twisted a few times. Then, a few tentacles of Venom suddenly rushed out, and a strong shield was quickly formed blocking the way to the two objects.

Boom!

With a soft sound, the shield rushing out of Lin Rui blocked the attack of the two objects. It seems that this situation is not surprising at all as Lin Rui just continued the experiment. Behind, as long as Lin Rui couldn't avoid the objects, they were blocked by Venom's transformation into various things.

These are the defense formats that Venom has judged by himself, and the main purpose of this experiment is to study The Cloak's sensitivity to danger. So far, The Cloak has performed very well. Of course, there is also Lin Rui's active defense.

Pū Pū Pū!

“JARVIS, has The Cloak’s autonomous reaction speed recorded?” Tony asked JARVIS calmly as Lin Rui in the laboratory kept avoiding and fleeing between the objects thrown at him.

“It has been recording, sir, The Cloak will increase or decrease the speed of response to dangers that the subject cannot solve according to the level of danger.

“Well, the lowest reaction speed shown now is three times that of ordinary humans. I really don’t know what surprises will it show before it is finally released. I am looking forward to it.” Hearing JARVIS’s answer, Tony said with a smirk on his face.

Dī Dī!

Just as Tony and the others were conducting the final practical experiment on The Cloak, an invitation for a video call suddenly popped up on his tablet. Not many people were able to make a video call at this time, and Tony saw Rogers’ square face as soon as he scanned the caller ID.
