

Marvel 601

Chapter 601 Open

When Killian in front of the White House was personally annihilated by Tony, the Extremis Fighters ordered by Killian were also stopped by the other Iron Man Armors in the center of twelve major cities across the United States.

Under the combined attack of the Special Forces arranged by Iron Man and SHIELD several times as many as his own, Killian's subordinates were almost destroyed before they even had the time to transform.

Rumble!

In a certain square in downtown Chicago, five Extremis Fighters were able to successfully transform while fighting against many Iron Man Armors.

However, although they have transformed and their defense and strength had increased a lot, but they still can not fly and as long as Iron Man keeps maintaining a safe distance from them then there is nothing that these Extremis Fighters can do.

And just when these Extremis Fighters, who were in a frenzy because of their transformation, were about to be consumed by Iron Man Armors, these Extremis Fighters suddenly froze.

Then, their eyes, which were filled with red fire because of their transformation, quickly faded and changed back to the color of their normal eyes. After the color of their eyes changed back, their consciousness also seemed to have completely recovered.

Looking up at the irresistible Iron Man flying in mid-air, these Extremis Fighters chose to escape for the first time!

Brush! Boom! Boom!

After nimbly dodging a few attacks, the Extremis Fighters, who had stopped attacking like crazy fled so fast that JARVIS didn't react for a while. However, through the data coming from various battlefields, JARVIS found that this was not the only battlefield where Extremis Fighters had escaped.

Therefore, JARVIS quickly analyzed a possible reason for the current situation, that is: Killian is dead.

Before Tony and the others analyzed some of the characteristics of Extremis, although Tony has never got an active Extremis sample.

But it does not prevent them from making bold guesses, one of which is that Extremis is also hierarchical. High-level Extremis Fighters can influence and even command low-level Extremis Fighters, just like Killian who was able to order those Extremis fighters under him to self-destruct.

Moreover, high-level Extremis Fighters can also support other Extremis Fighters to make more perfect transformations and help them maintain their sanity after the transformation. So, after Killian died, these Extremis Fighters under him did not have a higher level of control, and they all recovered their consciousness. Originally, many of them were forced to be transformed into Extremis Fighters, so now, facing the danger of death, they chose to escape.

After analyzing this result, JARVIS also slowed down the fight against these escaped Extremis Fighters and then told Tony and others the news. If Tony and the others still thought that these Extremis Fighters still posed a great threat then JARVIS would not hold back.

"If this is the case, then you can try to communicate with them and ask them if they are willing to surrender. However, the condition for their surrender is that they must come under the surveillance of Stark and SHIELD unconditionally in the future. Moreover, they have to voluntarily let us study Extremis." Hearing the JARVIS report, Tony replied after thinking about it.

Although the threat of these Extremis Fighters is indeed great, but as long as they are no longer under Killian's influence then they are just people with some superpowers. For Tony and the others, the superheroes in this world, these guys are not something they would worry over. Moreover, Tony wanted to study Extremis more.

After being nearly blown up by Extremis Fighters at close range self-destruct and being duped once by Venom, Tony now has a lot of ideas in his head. Perhaps, after he gets the full research information of Extremis, he can really perfect The Cloak, or rather an all-purpose weapon.

"Okay, sir. What if there are those who are not willing to surrender?" Getting Tony's answer, JARVIS then asked another question.

"If they don't surrender, then, of course, they are to be simply exterminated, we won't leave such dangerous people hiding within the general population." Hearing JARVIS's next question, Tony quickly replied.

"Got it, sir, I'll finish this."

Then, JARVIS first explained the changes in the plan to the SHIELD ground teams. Then, JARVIS started to take in those surrenders. As for how many Extremis Fighters would be willing to surrender this time, Tony and the others had no idea now.

However, as long as there was a complete Extremis Fighter willing to surrender, then Tony and his team would have a research object.

Huhu!

When Tony took his Iron Man army to completely destroy Killian's action this time, and also directly killed Killian, Lin Rui, who had not appeared on any battlefield, was sitting on SHIELD's Quinjet rushing towards Mexico. Although Tony had taken care of Killian, there were still Mandarin and other Extremis Fighters besides Killian.

After Professor Charles broke Maya Hansen's psychic defense, he also got Mandarin's hiding place which was not in the United States, but in a neighboring country- Mexico.

Therefore, the matter of dealing with Mandarin is left to Mirage Knight. Of course, besides Lin Rui, there are SHIELD's Agents who are cooperating with him, including Falcon and Hawkeye from the Avengers.

"Hawkeye, do you think Captain would come back safely this time?" Falcon asked quietly while standing beside Hawkeye before reaching his destination.

Now Captain America Rogers Steve is under investigation by the World Security Council. They are not with Rogers to support him now as they are currently on a mission. Falcon is still a little worried. After all, SHIELD's previous Director was also done in by those people in the World Security Council.

"There is nothing to worry about. The other party wants to use various other methods to drive Captain away. But we also have something on the other party. As long as we complete our mission, we can support Captain to the greatest extent. Perhaps Captain can still use this chance to completely turn the World Security Council into history." Hawkeye, who was resting on the cabin with his eyes closed, opened his eyes and said calmly after hearing Falcon's words.

Falcon can be considered an old guy in SHIELD. Before Rogers and Falcon appeared, he already existed as the most special figure in SHIELD. Therefore, he sees the internal affairs of SHIELD very clearly. He knew that nothing would happen to Rogers this time, and Hawkeye also expected Rogers to do something.

"Really? It doesn't seem to be too worrying after hearing you say that." Falcon spoke after hearing Hawkeye's answer.

"We have arrived." Just when Falcon and Hawkeye finished talking, Lin Rui's voice came from the front.

Chapter 602 Storm

Whew!!

After a period of supersonic flight, the Quinjet carrying SHIELD's Elite Forces and Mirage Knight finally reached their destination. After Lin Rui spoke to remind Falcon and Hawkeye, they both stood up from the corner.

There is no need to worry about SHIELD headquarters at this time. They only need to complete the last mission that Rogers gave them before leaving.

"This is it down here, where Mandarin is hiding. Since we got the news, this area has been getting monitored, and we haven't found anyone leaving the area." Hawkeye walked over to Lin Rui and said while holding a tablet in his hand.

"En, perhaps they think that Maya Hansen has died, or they know that Maya Hansen is not likely to take the initiative to reveal the secret of their hideout." Lin Rui said indifferently after seeing the red dot marked on the tablet in Hawkeye's hand.

"We don't have anyone to support us this time, so it's best to maximize the effect of the raid. Mirage Knight, do you have any questions?" The Quinjet has already begun to descend and Hawkeye looked at the most mysterious person in the League of Defender and asked.

"No questions." Hearing Hawkeye's question, Lin Rui shook his head and replied.

Even if there were hundreds of Extremis Fighters hidden here with Mandarin, Lin Rui, who had experienced a trip to a different planet, would not find them difficult to deal with. After all, he was the one who escaped from the S-Class Lifeform!

Even if hundreds of Extremis Fighters came at him together, they wouldn't be as good as one tentacle of the S-Level lifeform. Therefore, Lin Rui had no problems with this operation. And, because of the lack of manpower, perhaps Lin Rui will have to go all out to let Falcon and the others see how strong he really is.

“Then, it’s time for us to move out!” Open the hatch! ” Hawkeye shouted while tapping on the tablet after making sure that all parties were already okay.

Ka~Hoooooooooooo!

After Hawkeye gave the order, the Quinjet’s hatch opened directly. Then, a team of twenty people quickly jumped out of the Quinjet, which had gotten low enough.

This team is the strongest team in SHIELD except for Avengers, who have special abilities. Everyone is equipped with SHIELD’s most advanced individual weapons. Once this team is dispatched, they would be more than enough to deal with some people with superpowers.

Hum~

After SHIELD’s special unit jumped down, Lin Rui also took out his Hoverboard from the portable space. Now, Lin Rui doesn’t care about using the portable space in front of others. Anyway, he is mysterious enough in the eyes of others.

“Do you guys need a lift?” Lin Rui asked Falcon and Hawkeye after he put down the Hoverboard.

“No, we have one too.” Hearing Lin Rui’s words, Hawkeye replied with a smile. After saying that, Hawkeye also lifted a big cover in the corner of the cabin. Under this cover, a brand new Hoverboard is quietly lying there.

In fact, after seeing the Hoverboard for the first time and using it in combat, Hawkeye suggested that they should purchase a batch of such single-soldier aircraft to Captain Rogers.

In the days when Lin Rui disappeared, OsCorp and SHIELD reached an agreement under Harry’s guidance, which was the procurement of Hoverboards. Now, SHIELD also has some Hoverboards. Although not many, they have enough to give one to Falcon and Hawkeye.

“Then, I’ll go first!”

Whew!

Seeing the Hoverboard in the corner, Lin Rui didn’t wait any longer. After saying what he wanted, he jumped out of the open hatch. After Lin Rui jumped out, the Hoverboard that was thrown out with him instantly started, and after Lin Rui descended a hundred meters straight, it flew steadily to his feet.

Then, Lin Rui stepped on the Hoverboard and quickly passed those Special Units that were still descending in mid-air by parachutes.

After Lin Rui jumped out, Hawkeye and Falcon quickly followed. This time it was a raid led by SHIELD. They couldn’t let Mirage Knight, a fellow from the League of Defender, take the initiative.

...

Dī Dī Drops!

When Lin Rui and the others rushed toward the ground from a high altitude, sirens suddenly sounded in a private property on the ground. Then, there were waves of flustered footsteps everywhere in the originally quiet surroundings.

After the siren sounded, a man in the most luxurious building in the center of the manor suddenly rushed in and shouted loudly.

Brush!

After hearing the terrified shout behind him, the man in the hall of this small castle-like building slowly turned around and came over. This person was wearing a simple dress and had long hairs which were simply scattered in the back, but also continued with a constant white beard, this is the mysterious Mandarin.

“Air raid?! Is it Iron Man?” Mandarin stroked his beard when he heard the report from his subordinate and then asked seriously.

“It’s not Iron Man, it’s SHIELD. It should be a strong Air raid force.” Hearing Mandarin’s words, the henchman quickly replied.

“How many people are there on the other side?” Hearing that it was not Iron Man, Mandarin was slightly relieved and then asked.

“Only a dozen or so have been detected, and there is only one Flying Aircraft in the sky.” After hearing two consecutive questions from Mandarin, the man seemed to have slowed down and was not as flustered as at first.

“There is no Iron Man and there are only two dozen of them? And no other support? Just a few people?” Getting the complete information from his men, a disdainful expression gradually appeared on Mandarin’s face.

Although because this was his own hideout, Mandarin would not arrange a particularly large number of Extremis Fighters to stand out here. However, the entire manor was still hiding more than thirty Extremis Fighters of great strength.

According to Mandarin’s idea, each Extremis Fighter is able to sweep a team of twenty people. Even if this team was a special unit of SHIELD, Mandarin did not believe they could deal with his Extremis Fighters.

“It seems so” Hearing Mandarin’s words, the henchman who had rushed in panicked at first replied with some embarrassment.

He was just frightened, because their side had just been disrupted at the beginning of the operation, and Killian’s defeat was already known to them at the first moment. So, after seeing someone air attack, this henchman was very nervous that the other side would also deal with him as they did with Killian.

“Then what are you still doing here? Why don’t you go out and arrange for someone to fight!” Looking at the henchman with a stupid look in front of him, Mandarin shouted lowly.

“Yes, yes!” Waked up by Mandarin’s loud shout, this subordinate quickly agreed and turned around and ran out.

Chapter 603 Mandarin

Shortly after the henchman went out, Mandarin felt that the entire manor is on move. Since there were only two dozen people on the other side, they had the full strength to beat them up. However, standing in this hall, Mandarin stood in place for a few seconds but suddenly turned around and walked quickly towards the back.

“No matter how many people are there on the other side of this attack, this place is already exposed, I’m not going to be as stupid as Killian and wait to be found.” While walking quickly, Mandarin thought silently in his heart.

Killian has been confirmed dead, their first step of this operation has been blocked before it could start, and Mandarin feels that even if the people on top can drag Captain America out of SHIELD so that he can not send many people to deal with Extremis Fighters.

However, the threat of Tony Stark still alive and it is not any less than that of SHIELD. Yes, Mandarin already knows that Tony is still alive. After all, in order to re-establish the confidence in the ordinary people while crushing Killian’s operation, Tony broadcasted himself directly in front of the White House this time.

In the live footage, Tony, who didn’t have a single scratch on him, is wearing the latest model of Iron Man Armor and hovering in the square in front of the White House. Behind him is the overwhelming number of unmanned Iron Man Armors.

This picture was transmitted through various media channels, and after a while, people all over the world knew that Iron Man TonyStark was still alive. Moreover, he also prevented a terrorist attack on the White House.

So, in order not to let Tony solve the problem over there and take out his hand to deal with himself, Mandarin should hide first. Moreover, Mandarin still doesn’t know how his hiding place was discovered, so his best choice is to leave here.

However, just as Mandarin was about to walk into the secret room and leave his hiding place, his brows suddenly frowned.

Shout!

In the next second, a fire-red light suddenly emerged from Mandarin’s body. Then, his entire body size instantly soared several times, directly burst the loose clothes, revealing the terrifying muscles underneath the interlocking roots.

And Mandarin’s original long white hair and beard also quickly turned into a deep Azura, and the roots of those hairs stood up, like metal spikes.

Brush!

After instantly completing the transformation, Mandarin raised his huge arms to block his head without the slightest hint of stopping. Moreover, these arms are still changing as they are raised, the skin color on the surface is deepening, and the internal bones are more robust and tough.

But in the next moment, Mandarin's raised arms broke off directly from the elbow, as if they had been cut off by something sharp.

"Ahhhhh!" Both arms were inexplicably cut off, and Mandarin roared with his head held high.

Buzzing!

Following Mandarin's roar, a layer of fire-red light penetrated from within his body, enveloping his entire body.

Pū!

With a light sound, the layer of fire-red light on the surface of Mandarin's body directly shattered. Then, his whole body was blown into the ground as if he had received some heavy blow.

Rumble!

After Mandarin was inexplicably smashed into the ground, the roof of the hall where he was located directly collapsed. The sturdy roof instantly crumbled into large chunks of stone and smashed down, quickly burying Mandarin who had just been smashed into the ground.

At the time of the complete collapse of the building where Mandarin was located, three people were suspended in mid-air above the castle. One person was on the Hoverboard, one had metal flying wings behind him, and the last person was standing in mid-air.

"This... Mirage Knight, you are too violent!" Looking at the completely collapsed building below, Falcon looked at Lin Rui and said with some emotion in his voice.

While SHIELD's Special Force was still floating in the sky in the Quinjet, Lin Rui and the other two had already rushed down. Falcon and Hawkeye, who were planning to follow that team, saw Mirage Knight suddenly flying towards a building in this manor so they followed behind him.

After reaching the top of this building, Mirage Knight rushed out from the Hoverboard. Then, Falcon and Hawkeye could only see a flash of Azura light before their eyes, and Mirage Knight had an ordinary-looking longsword in his hand.

Falcon and Hawkeye originally thought Mirage Knight is going to strike next, but they didn't know that Lin Rui had already made a move just now. At the moment when the Beheading Spirit Sword was pulled out, Lin Rui had already slashed his sword towards the castle building below.

The Azura light that flashed just now was the Sword Energy that rushed out. However, Lin Rui compressed that sword energy a lot, making it more powerful.

It was also this extremely compressed Sword Energy of Lin Rui that forced Mandarin, who was preparing to escape quietly in the castle hall, to transform instantly, but his arms were still cut off and also the power of the Sword Energy split Extremis' energy defense and kept splitting him into the ground.

So, after a few seconds, Falcon and Hawkeye were surprised to see the castle-like building below collapse. At this time, they also realized that Mirage Knight had already attacked. Although they didn't know why Mirage Knight suddenly took action on this building, there should be some important person below.

"It's just a house that was demolished. Besides, Mandarin is down there." Hearing Falcon's words, Lin Rui said indifferently.

"En! Mandarin is down there?" Hearing Lin Rui's words, Hawkeye and Falcon both focused on the building below.

Their main mission this time is Mandarin, and now Mirage Knight said that Mandarin was down there so they couldn't let him get away. Moreover, in order to have more leverage in Captain Rogers's hands, they had better capture Mandarin, the explicit head of the terrorists, alive this time.

Da Da Da ~ Boom!

Just when Falcon and Hawkeye learned about Mandarin from Lin Rui, fighting finally broke out in other parts of this manor as well. It seemed that SHIELD's Special Force had landed and started fighting against the Mandarin's men.

"You guys can go help over there, I'll take care of this place." Staring at the ruins below, Lin Rui did not look back towards Falcon and Hawkeye beside him as he spoke.

"This..." Falcon hesitated after hearing Lin Rui's words, after all, their goal was Mandarin.

"Mirage Knight, are you sure you can capture this guy?" However, before Falcon had finished speaking, Hawkeye suddenly asked.

"Of course! And, they should require more help over there. After all, you are understaffed." Upon hearing Hawkeye's question, Lin Rui looked at him and answered easily.

"Well, then, I'll leave this side to you. Without doubting Lin Rui's strength, Hawkeye shouted to Falcon beside him and rushed towards the rest of the battlefield on his Hoverboard.

Hoo-hoo!

Behind Hawkeye, Falcon also quickly followed. A few seconds later, Lin Rui was the only one left over the ruins.

Buzzing~

After Hawkeye and Falcon left, Lin Rui looked down at the ruins and slowly raised the Beheading Spirit Sword in his hand. Then, the Beheading Spirit Sword quickly condensed an illusory long sword composed of Azura rays.

Siii!

After the Illusionary Azura Longsword was big enough, Lin Rui waved his hand and chopped it down.

Chapter 604 Worry

Just when Lin Rui and the others were raiding Mandarin's hideout, Tony and the others were still in New York tackling the remaining Extremis fighters. And, in order to give the world's general public the greatest confidence, Tony broadcasted all his Iron Man battles this time.

Among them, Tony's appearance in front of the White House was a close-up. Tony was sending a message that he is still alive and he is still capable of protecting them.

Boom!

A laser shot broke the mutated arm of an Extremis Fighter who was still unwilling to surrender, and Tony was about to "take over" the White House. Because the White House was also prepared for these Extremis Fighters, only one of their Extremis bombs exploded, causing minimal damage that remained under control.

And after Tony led the Iron Man army arrived, he has nonchalantly taken over the battlefield.

Under the blows of the overwhelming Iron Man, these Extremis Fighters were soon left with only three who were still resisting. And Tony also recruited an Extremis Fighter to his side here, after he surrendered, Tony has quietly arranged an Iron Man to take him out of the battlefield.

Although Tony is willing to share the secrets of Extremis with Rogers, but it does not mean that he is willing to share them with Mr. President and the Army. After all, the American side was not something Tony trusted and supported either.

"Sir, another Extremis Fighter has expressed his willingness to surrender." Just when Tony was about to kill the fleeing guy in front of him, JARVIS's voice came over.

"Well, then tell him to get rid of his transform state, and then take him back." Tony was quite happy that another Extremis Fighter was willing to surrender.

"Then, the remaining two seem to be fanatics, so don't waste time and end it quickly. I have created a big enough scene this time. I also want to give Mr. President some of my time." After the Extremis Fighter over there surrendered, there were only two Extremis Fighters left in the White House who were still fleeing, and Tony finally decided their outcome.

"Yes, Sir." JARVIS faintly agreed upon hearing Tony's words.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

During the fighting in the White House, Mr. President was in the underground safe house. Regarding Tony's high-profile appearance in front of the White House this time, although Mr. President had a smile on his face, he didn't necessarily think so positively in his heart.

"Why is there a genius like Tony Stark in the world? And, such a genius is not owned by the country." The president hiding in the safe house of the White House looked at Tony in the live broadcast and muttered to himself.

"Sir, there are super-geniuses in the world who are far ahead of others, and Tony Stark is a genius who is far ahead of others in physical electronic network technology. Otherwise, various famous magazines and media in the world would not have evaluated him as a scientist of the century.” Hearing the president talking to himself, his secretary sitting next to him replied indifferently.

“Of course I know this, I’m just feeling a little bit of emotion. Also, you said Tony Stark is a super genius in physical and electronic networking, do you know of any other super genius in other areas?” Hearing the words of the secretary beside him, the President sighed and asked after he remembered something.

“Although there are indeed few geniuses comparable to Tony Stark, they are not uncommon.” Hearing the President’s question, the secretary next to him answered calmly.

“En!? Who else?” The President, who obviously doesn’t know much about this kind of high-tech geniuses, was a little excited when he heard the secretary’s answer, so he asked.

Seeing that a single Tony Stark can stir the world by himself with the Iron Man Technology, the President is now particularly sensitive towards these talented individuals. Maybe, there are some hidden geniuses in the world who have quietly researched something powerful, just like Killian.

The Extremis Serum can create almost invincible warriors. Technology is really the most unpredictable thing a country can do. Technology is indeed the most important thing that drives a country’s development, but these technologies have to be captured in their own hands to be able to do so.

“En...there is Otto Gunther Octavius, a scientist who has made great achievements in Neurology, Physical Nuclear Energy, and Mechanics. Although he may be slightly worse than Tony Stark, he is also a genius who has reached a high level in his field of study.” Upon hearing the President’s question, the secretary directly introduced someone who the president had never heard of before.

“Otto Gunther Octavius? Neurology, Physical Nuclear Energy, and mechanics, that is not very similar to the development direction of Stark.” Hearing the person introduced by his secretary, the President frowned and asked. He is already tired of the usual intrigue with politicians so he doesn’t really doesn’t know who this is and what he is studying.

“Mr. President, science can actually be divided into very detailed categories. This Otto Gunther Octavius ??is very different from Tony Stark. If you are interested then I can pull out his detailed information for you to see.” Knowing that the President certainly doesn’t understand this aspect, the Secretary went on to explain.

“Well, of course, I am interested in him. A genius who can be compared with people like Tony Stark should be held in our own hands.” Hearing the Secretary’s words, the president replied seriously.

“Are there others?” After knowing the first one, the President now wanted to know if there were more such talents.

“There are, but it’s better to wait until I have compiled the information, and then you can go through it.” Faced with the President’s interest, the secretary pushed his glasses and said. Compared to the President who knew very little in this area, this secretary with glasses seemed to know very well.

“Good, we also need to have our own strong enough technology team to do so. The Military is always doing things to hide this and that and they do so without me knowing about them, do they really think that they can do anything without my support? And the M Department is also hiding many things, and they do not always tell us anything about their own experimental progress, if we do not do anything then sooner or later, something bad is bound to happen!" The President said helplessly as he once again watched the Iron Man army's mighty appearance on TV.

It seems that the President is not very satisfied with some of the practices of the Military and the actions of this so-called M Department.

"Sir, it can't be helped. The Military and the M Department are extremely confidential places, even you do not have full authority to know the details."

"So, what is the use of me being the President?"

Chapter 605 Discovery

While Mr. President was in the underground safe room for a long time, the battle outside finally came to an end. This time, Killian's attack on the White House ended with his own death and the death or surrender of his Extremis Fighters.

And the White House just paid the price of a few insignificant damages, which will soon be repaired anyway, it's not the first time the White House has suffered such a thing.

"Come on, let's go out, and thank Tony Stark for his help!" The President said inexplicably after getting outside.

Then, the President, who had not shown his face since the beginning of the battle, left the safe room. Iron Man had made a big splash during the battle, but after the battle, the President had to try to bring out the home-field advantage.

That said, he is a very good politician and speaker. Even now when Superhero influence is growing, the President will not let his position in the hearts of the public get any lower.

However, when the president came out of the White House, ready to give Tony Stark a good compliment in front of the camera and then preach the great American dream again, the plot did not develop as he had thought.

"TonyStark, I'm glad you've protected the American people once again. On behalf of all of America, I'm here to say thank you and will also award you with a Medal for your courage and heroic deeds. Of course, I would also like to tell everyone here that we" Just as the President was about to start his subsequent speech at his own pace, Tony suddenly spoke up and interrupted him.

"That, Mr. President, I have something to do, so I'll leave now. However, I appreciate your commendation, make sure to let me know when the award will be presented." Looking at the President who was ready to make a long speech in front of him, Tony said with a smile on his face.

Then, without waiting for the President to say anything else, Tony directly took his Iron Man army up into the sky and flew away.

Swipe!

"This" Looking at the Iron Man army that was getting farther and farther in the sky, Mr. President who was standing on the front lawn of the White House was a little stunned.

Seeing the President froze in front of the camera, the secretary next to him quickly gave him a hand signal. Seeing the secretary's reminder, the President, who is an excellent speaker, also quickly reacted and then faced the camera to start his next speech.

"JARVIS, how's the situation on Jackson's side?" Flying high in the air, Tony, who had stood the President up, asked JARVIS.

"SHIELD's team has arrived at the destination a minute ago, and now they are have engaged in battle. According to the battlefield data shared by SHIELD, there are 57 Extremis Fighters there, more than twice the number of the SHIELD Special Team. However, there is Hawkeye with Falcon and Jackson, Mandarin's number advantage will not be too obvious with them being there." Hearing Tony's words, JARVIS quickly answered.

"Is that so? What about Jackson? How is his first battle since his norman return in all aspects." After knowing the basic situation of the battlefield on Mandarin's side, Tony wanted to know the details of Lin Rui's personal situation.

After all, they hadn't had time to talk since Lin Rui's return, and Tony only knew that Lin Rui seemed to be doing well, and didn't know what he had gone through in the four days or so that he had disappeared. And since he had only just returned and joined the fight straight away, Tony was worried that something might be wrong.

"Sir, the last thing you need to worry about is Jackson. According to the battle information Jackson shared, he is now taking on Mandarin by himself and is having no problems at all. From the data I detect now, Jackson's strength had increased in his four-day disappearance." Seemingly knowing that Tony was worried about Lin Rui, JARVIS then replied.

"Really? Then that's okay. What about Rogers? The support we're giving is more than enough so he should be able to handle that guy." Since Lin Rui was fine, Tony turned his attention to Rogers who was being investigated by the World Security Council.

"Captain Rogers is being investigated and I cannot get any further information for the time being. However, I believe that Captain Rogers will be fine." Upon hearing Tony's next question, JARVIS answered calmly.

"You believe? JARVIS, I'm now getting more and more excited about the changes you've made." Not caring whether there is any new news from Rogers' side, Tony is more concerned about the change of JARVIS.

"Sir, I have been studying for so many years, and I also look forward to my understanding of human true feelings in the future."

"Well, Killian is dead, and there is nothing wrong with Mandarin's side. We should also go home, Pepper is still waiting for me." Without looking for too much discussion on this topic, Tony was about to fly away from the Washington area by this time.

Dī Dī Drops!

Just as Tony was leaving Washington with hundreds of Iron Mans blasting off in the direction of New York, an alarm suddenly sounded in Tony's ears.

"JARVIS..."

"Sir, detecting energy fluctuations of level 3 or higher coming from below!" Just after Tony shouted JARVIS's name, it had already answered quickly.

"What?!....."

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Without waiting for Tony to ask another question, a loud bang had come from the ground below. Then, Tony saw multiple fires suddenly appeared in the suburbs of Washington below, which is obviously caused by the explosion.

And then combined with JARVIS'S reminder, Tony's brow tightly wrinkled together. Energy fluctuations of more than Three Levels, this has reached the energy level of a miniature Arc Reactor.

"Are there other Extremis Fighters hiding below? But who are they fighting with?" Tony, who had just dealt with Killian and a large number of Extremis Fighters, couldn't help but think so.

"There is some kind of signal blockage in the area below, so we can't get more exact information for the time being." Seems to know what Tony was thinking, JARVIS quickly reported.

"Let's go down and take a look, JARVIS." Not knowing what happened below, Tony continued. With so many Iron Man around, Tony is quite confident in dealing with anything.

"Yes, sir." JARVIS agreed upon hearing Tony's command.

Brush Brush Brush!

Then, the hundreds of Iron Man that were already going to fly out of Washington quickly rushed down towards the ground where that explosion was created. If there were really residual Extremis Fighters down there, Tony would have to just take care of them.

Dī Dī~

"The Shield Block has been removed, and the signal source below is being received." While leaping towards the bottom, JARVIS also scanned what was happening below through the Iron Man Armor.

"Stryker!!! Get the hell out of there!!!"

After JARVIS scanned the situation below, a loud shout was transmitted by it directly to Tony.

Chapter 606 Brotherhood

After JARVIS broke through the inexplicable signal blockade below to send the information to Tony, Tony's frown tightened. Listening to the sentence that JARVIS scanned just now, the following battle should have nothing to do with Extremis. At least, Tony didn't know any Stryker involved with Extremis.

However, Tony, who has always been nosy, is still ready to continue to see what is happening down there. The first thing you need to do is to get a good idea of what's going on. The battle that could cause energy fluctuations of the Third Level or Higher is enough to threaten Washington's safety.

"Shock Girl!" After that loud bellow, JARVIS scanned for another name.

"Eh? What kind of name is that? Is that a Code name or a nickname?" Hearing the name, Tony seemed to have to think of something in his mind.

Pū~Pū~Pū!

Just as Tony was thinking in mid-air about what the battle below was all about, JARVIS had detected a burst of ever-increasing energy fluctuations coming from below.

"Sir, the Energy Level has once again exceeded Level Three!"

Buzzing! Boom!

When JARVIS had just finished alerting, an invisible shock wave suddenly burst out violently from a building below. This invisible shock wave swept out quickly in a fan shape centered on the starting point.

Although the main target of this shock wave was the building in front of it, but the mid-air was also included in it. Therefore, Tony and dozens of Iron Man, who were not too far from the ground, were also in the attack range of this shockwave.

Brush! Kakaka!

Before JARVIS had time to analyze the lethality of this shock wave, it quickly swept through dozens of Iron Man including Tony. Then, Tony heard a crisp sound on the Iron Man he was wearing, the sound of shattering superalloy!

"...JARVIS, what's going on?!" Just being swept by a single shock wave, Tony's latest Iron Man Armor made out of Superalloy had fragmented, how could it not shock him.

"Sir, this shock wave has a powerful shock and shattering force. However, the new battle armor has been made out of memory alloy, so you do not have to worry about this shock wave causing any damage to the Armor." Hearing Tony's words, JARVIS lightly replied.

"Of course I know that the Armor has memory alloy in it, but I want to know what happened with that shock wave just now? It was able to shatter a superalloy Armor, the power of this shock wave can already threaten us." Hearing JARVIS's answer, Tony continued to ask with his head full of black lines.

Originally, Tony was only going to come down and see what was going on. If it was an Extremis Fighter then he would have taken care of it easily. If it's any other things then Tony would still take care of it, anyway, he is nosy. However, Tony hadn't intervened yet, and he was already attacked just after he got down.

"Scanning and analyzing the audio in the area below." Faced with Tony's inquiry, JARVIS could only search for available clues as quickly as possible.

Under the powerful scanning of JARVIS, more and more sounds were received by JARVIS and it began to analyze the sounds in its huge database. And at this time, JARVIS can finally scan the building terrain below. So, Tony can finally see those moving figures below through the translucent light screen in front of him.

Dī Dī Drops!

“Found it, some of the people below are members of the Mutants Brotherhood. “As Tony looked at the shadows of people moving in front of him, JARVIS’s voice came out again.

This time, JARVIS gave Tony a very important piece of information, that is, the identity of a part of the people below. Because Tony had already joined forces with the X-Men represented by Professor Charles, this information was shared between them.

That’s why JARVIS was able to find the information relative to the part of the personnel below in such a short time.

“Brotherhood of Mutants? Aren’t they X-Men’s enemies? Moreover, the head of this Mutants group seems to have dismantled the White House once before, right?” Hearing JARVIS’s report, Tony raised his eyebrows in surprise and said.

“That’s right, I have detected five members of the Mutants Brotherhood, all of them are in the information provided by Professor Charles. Among them, Magneto also known as Erik, whose strength has reached past the Fourth Level Mutant is also down there.

The remaining few are also core members of the Mutants Brotherhood, the lowest of which are level Four Mutants,” Upon hearing Tony’s words, JARVIS directly introduced the people who were detected below.

“Magneto is also down there!?” Hearing JARVIS says that Magneto was also down there, the expression on Tony’s face suddenly became a little ugly.

One of the reasons why Iron Man had made Tony so famous was that up until today, Iron Man had not met a person or technology that could defeat it. After all, the Iron Man suit with ultra-clean energy as its core not only has super mobility, it is also very strong in combat.

And, after all, the Iron Man Armor is an artificial product, anyone can use it with assistance and it can also be used to pile up on enemies to defeat them.

However, even if the latest Iron Man Armor has used a lot of composite materials and some high-tech ceramic materials, most of them are still made out of superalloys. Therefore, if Iron Man meets Magneto then with Magneto’s abilities, Tony feels that his Iron Man Army might not even be able to display 10% of their strength.

“What about their enemies? Which power is it again? The power that can make Magneto bring the powerful members of Mutants Brotherhood against, how can it be worse than them.” Suppressing the fear for Magneto in his heart, Tony then asked.

“For the time being, there is no information on the other side in the database, but what can be determined is that the other side also has strong Mutants with them,” Hearing Tony’s words, JARVIS then replied.

“In that case, why don’t we just hide for a while and wait until they are done fighting. Besides, this kind of thing seems to be out of my hands in the first place, right? I should have informed Professor Charles.” Hearing that Magneto’s enemy also had strong Mutants with them, Tony was a little reluctant to intervene.

The point is, he feels that he would not end up very well if he interferes.

“I have reported the situation here to Professor Charles, and now we are leaving the battlefield.” Hearing Tony’s words, JARVIS directly controlled Iron Man and continued to fly high.

Hum! Boom!

Just when Tony was not going to intervene in the battle below, a piercing red light suddenly penetrated a building below and shot up diagonally towards mid-air.

“Ohh, you have got to be kidding me?!” Tony thought helplessly as he saw the red laser-like light shooting straight in the direction of his retreat.

...

Chapter 607 Changes

Dī Dī!

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The red beam was so fast that JARVIS only had time to mobilize a few Iron Mans in front of him. Then, the red beam had already blasted up. After penetrating three Iron Man, the beam, which was much less powerful, still blasted towards Tony.

Card!

However, the three destroyed Iron Man suits just now also gave JARVIS time to react. When the red beam was about to hit Tony, the thrusters of the Iron Man suit Tony was wearing instantly increased in their power, pushing Tony out of the orbit of the red beam attack.

Snort~

Boom Boom Boom!

“An attack of this power has almost reached the fourth energy level!” Feeling the power of the red beam that rushed past his body, Tony lamented with a palpitating heart.

After Tony dodged the red beam, it still destroyed several Iron Man Armors behind Tony before finally consuming its own energy and disappearing high in the air.

In the strange shock wave just now, Tony’s Iron Man Armors have suffered some damage, although there is the existence of memory alloy, but it is not possible for the entire Iron Man Armor to be made of memory alloy. Therefore, in the face of this powerful red beam, Tony's Iron Man Armors seems a bit vulnerable.

"Is this the rhythm of people coming after me even if I don't go after them? JARVIS, bring down the Iron Man army for me. Since that Mutants Brotherhood down there is the enemy of X-Men, this time, I will help Professor Charles!" Inexplicably, he was attacked twice in a row, even if Tony didn't want to interfere, he was now agitated.

"Sir, this is very unwise, I do not recommend you to do so." Hearing Tony's words, JARVIS did not execute first but calmly said.

According to JARVIS's analysis, the number of Mutants existing below was quite a lot, and they were all of very high ranks. Judging by the strength of the Mutants in his database, even if all the Iron Man in the sky came down, Tony might not be able to deal with them.

Moreover, there is a Magneto down there, which can be said to be specifically restrained towards Tony's Iron Man Armor. Tony needs to be careful about that guy unless he can create a kind of Armor that will not receive the influence of magnetic force, then he would have nothing to fear.

"So what if it's not wise? Do you want me to run away from here?" Hearing JARVIS's words, Tony asked in a dissatisfied tone.

"Of course not, but we can wait for Professor Charles." Under Tony's questioning, JARVIS gave his own advice.

"You want me to hide behind others?" Hearing JARVIS's advice, a strange color flashed in his eye.

"I must say, JARVIS you are becoming more and more humane. Well, let's wait for Professor Charles and the others to reply to the message. For now, let's just watch the show." In the end, Tony still didn't go down immediately to get back to the scene.

Rumble!

Boom! Boom! Boom!

In this way, Tony, who was inexplicably attacked twice, flew high into the air again. After changing to a brand new Iron Man Armor, Tony was monitoring the battlefield below while waiting for Professor Charles' response.

When Tony was watching the battle, there was a violent explosion in the area below, and some energy waves that were different from ordinary explosions rushed out. Under JARVIS's detection, there is almost no energy output lower than Level 3, which shows the strength of Mutants below.

While Tony was floating in the sky watching the battle, Iceman and Blink were drinking coffee and chatting at a cafe in downtown Washington. Mirage Knight, who had disappeared before, suddenly came back. Iceman and Blink, who were worried about Mirage Knight's situation, came to Washington to see him.

And now Mirage Knight has gone to defeat Mandarin and that does not need Iceman and the others' help, so they are also temporarily relaxing in Washington.

"Mirage Knight is really amazing, it seems like there is nothing he can't do. And, I think that he isn't that old, I hope to see his face under the mask one day." After taking a sip of strong coffee, Iceman looked out at the pedestrians who were all looking a bit excited, and spoke to Blink across the room.

They have also seen Iron Man's live broadcast. Now the pedestrians outside know that Iron Man is still alive and that he has defeated the terrorists with absolute power in the White House. Therefore, the people in Washington are very excited now.

Well, he's really something, a friend worth having." Faced with Iceman's words, Blink faintly replied.

"That's right, I thought he was a great guy from the first time I met him! Otherwise" Hearing that Blink also agreed with his opinion, Iceman seemed very happy.

Dī Dī Drops!

However, just as Iceman was about to say something, there was a rush of prompt sound from him and Blink. Hearing this voice, the expressions of Iceman and Blink changed instantly. The next moment, they had raised their right arm, and a message was being refreshed on an electronic screen on their wrist.

"Tony Stark has discovered that a fight has broken out between the Mutants Brotherhood and the secret division where Stryker is located, this is their location, all X-Men on standby head to this location immediately, we need to stabilize the situation before it gets out of control!" This is the message Iceman and Blink received at this moment at the same time, it seems that Professor Charles has made the first arrangements after getting the news from JARVIS.

"I can't believe they're fighting at this time! What a coincidence! Blink, you send me there first!" Looking clearly at the received message, Iceman quickly spoke towards Blink across the room.

"Yep!"

Whew! Whew!!

Then, Iceman and Blink quickly got up and left the roadside cafe. After walking to a deserted alley, Iceman and Blink's figure disappeared after a burst of purple light. After Iceman and Blink left, there was a sudden movement from the corner of this alley, and then a homeless guy came out with a shocked expression on his face.

When Iceman and Blink, who were originally in Washington, rushed to their destination, the other X-Men in the base camp also moved quickly. This time, the Mutants Brotherhood dispatched five Mutants above Level 4 and Magneto was also there.

Professor Charles had to pay attention to this situation. The last time Magneto went crazy, he almost destroyed the entire planet.

Dī Dī Drops!

When THE X-Men started to take action, Lin Rui, who was dealing with Mandarin in Mexico, also received a new message. Glancing at Mandarin, who was lying in front of him like a dead dog, Lin Rui glanced at the new message. However, in the next second, Lin Rui's eyes became serious.

CHAPTER 608 SEND OU

"They really don't let people take a good rest!" After seeing that message, Lin Rui muttered helplessly.

Then, Lin Rui glanced at the unmoving Mandarin on the ground in front of him, then he lifted the Beheading Spirit Sword in his hand again. In the next moment, three Azura Sword Energy rushed into Mandarin's body.

"Uh!..." After the three Sword Energy rushed into Mandarin, the originally dead dog-like him muffled out a painful grunt and then didn't move again.

"Hawkeye, there is an emergency so I need to leave first. I've caught Mandarin alive, so come and take over." After completely controlling Mandarin, Lin Rui directly contacted Hawkeye who was still fighting against the other Extremis Fighters.

"Well, that's right. Also, I need your Quinjet to go back to Washington." After saying this, Lin Rui had already left Mandarin on the ground and turned away.

Boom!

In the next second, Lin Rui's figure was already soaring into the sky. While in the air, Lin Rui had already taken out the Hoverboard and stepped on it. And in the ruins of the ground, only the immobile Mandarin was left struggling helplessly.

Just as Lin Rui rushed into the sky, a figure quickly rushed over from the manor. It was Hawkeye who had just received news from Lin Rui. Upon seeing the familiar figure on the ground, Hawkeye looked up again with a weird look on his face. There, Lin Rui has rushed into the Quinjet standing by at high altitude.

Boom!

The next moment, the Quinjet engine made a violent roar and quickly rushed in the direction of Washington.

"I don't know what happened in Washington. However, I'll take care of things here first. After catching Mandarin alive, Captain Rogers should be all right now." Seeing the Quinjet carrying Mirage Knight leave, Hawkeye landed next to Mandarin and muttered softly.

While Lin Rui received the news to quickly rush back to Washington from Mexico, the rest of the League of Defender received the news as well. Although it was a battle between Mutants this time but because the strength of both sides of the battle was very abnormal, Magneto alone could cause chaos on the entire earth.

Therefore, Lin Rui felt that they still need to go all out. Even Deadpool, who had just returned home not long ago, was called out.

Dī Dī~

When all the League of Defender members were dispatched, Jack, who had not shown up for a long time, also received the news. Jack, who was sitting cross-legged on the ground, slowly opened his eyes after hearing the message beep, and the moment he opened his eyes, a golden light flashed from his eyes.

“Jack, since you decided to join us, there are some things that you have to give up.” Seeing Jack wake up from his meditation, the one sitting opposite him reminded him in a faint voice.

If Lin Rui were here, he would be very surprised to find that Jack was actually in the New York Sanctum, and Rick sat opposite him. Before the League of Defender teamed up with SHIELD to deal with Hydra, Jack clearly realized that his strength was seriously insufficient compared to other members of the League of Defender.

So after seeing the magic and power of the Earth’s Sorcerer, he decided to come here and learn magic. Under Jack’s constant insistence, Rick and the others finally accepted Jack and let him learn magic with them in New York Sanctum.

Jack didn’t know if he really has some talent in magic but he has reached the level of a Beginner Sorcerer in just one month. In order to achieve this level, Jack gave up a lot of things this month, and he did not participate in some events in the League of Defender.

But now, the communicator that was supposed to be blocked rang no one knew if Jack has forgotten to turn it off.

Hearing what Rick said, Jack hesitated, but he took out the communicator and took a look. After seeing the message on the communicator, the expression on Jack’s face changed completely.

If this was the same action that they used to deal with like terrorists or some bad person, then Jack would still not go out. After all, this kind of thing can be done without him. However, this time, it was about Mutants.

As a Mutant, Jack is very clear about the treatment that Mutants receive in this world, so he can’t just stand here and watch a war getting triggered by the Mutants Brotherhood that would affect this world.

Even after so many years of development, Mutant Kind has not been fully accepted by ordinary people in the world. If something like this happens again this time then it will be difficult for Mutants to appear on the streets in the future.

“Rick, I’m sorry, this time I’m going to leave once. Although I know that the Sorcerers have their own rules, but I am a Mutant first and foremost, I have my own insistence. Thank you for your teachings during this time, and I promise I will return after this event is over. If, of course, I make it back alive.” After reading this message, Jack raised his head to look at Rick and said seriously.

“Jack, you... forget it, just go.” Hearing Jack’s words, Rick waved his hand, feeling helpless, and said.

In fact, how could Rick not know what Jack’s purpose is in learning magic? He is just hoping that the Sorcerers would no longer be limited to a secret corner in the World. This time, he was willing to teach Jack magic as a trial run, and the Ancient One did not disagree after learning about it.

So Rick knew that the Ancient One probably thought the same. Moreover, they have helped Mirage Knight more than once. Instead of them making a move every time, it's better to teach a student, so they won't have to trouble themselves anymore.

"Thank you! Rick!" Jack said thankfully when he heard Rick's words. Then he stood up from the ground.

Buzzing~

Call!

After the Magic Space Portal appeared, Jack looked at Rick next to him. Seeing that Rick wasn't looking at him, Jack finally raised his foot and walked into the Magic Space Portal.

"Jack, I hope you can still come back in one piece." After Jack's figure disappeared from the hall of New York Sanctum, Rick whispered a sentence.

CHAPTER 609

At Washington SHIELD Headquarters, Captain Rogers, who is under investigation by the World Security Council, is sitting calmly on a chair. In front of him, the three members of the World Security Council are constantly scrutinizing him like three judges.

"Captain Rogers, do you have a problem with the charges we just made? "Holding a tablet in his hand, as the principal of this investigation against Captain Rogers, Kreis was already impatient with Rogers' lack of interest.

"Your accusation? I don't think this is an accusation. Did I violate any rules by doing this? Or, are these rules are just what you say at will?" Rogers looked at him faintly and asked.

In the process of investigating Captain Rogers, he first questioned Rogers' ability, and questioned his inability to control SHIELD as an "Old Guy". Then he pointed out that when Rogers was in charge of SHIELD, he wanted to use SHIELD's resources to help other Vigilantes, which was not in compliance with their rules.

After all, no one knows the identity of those Vigilantes and they don't know their purpose. Moreover, Rogers also arbitrarily recruited League of Defender member Daredevil into the Avengers, which was unacceptable.

"Can you deny that you used SHIELD's resources to help those Vigilante? Do you know what their status is? What if they have ulterior motives? Can you bear the responsibility?!" Faced with Rogers' indifferent attitude and rhetorical questions, Kreis raised his voice and he was shouting at the end of the sentence.

However, as someone who fought Hydra so many times in World War II, Kreis's bluff was just like a child playing with a toy in front of Rogers. Moreover, Rogers felt that he had waited until now, and some news should be coming through.

“So, Congressmen Kreis, what are you going to do?” what do you plan to do?” Staring at Kreis, who was pretending to be calm in front of him, Rogers asked indifferently.

“What do I want? Humph! Your actions have completely broken SHIELD’s rules! So, what do you think I will do?” It seems that Rogers is going to be subdued, and Kries became even more arrogant.

“You two, do you really want to stand on the same side as Kreis?” Seeing Kreis’s arrogant look, Rogers asked gently as he looked at the two other board members.

“We are supportive of Congressmen Kries’s proposal, so, Captain Rogers, it would be better for you to take the initiative to admit your mistake.” Hearing Rogers’ words, one of the Congressmen behind him looked at him and replied.

Since they want to hold the full force of SHIELD firmly in their hands, then of course this time is to stand in a line. It doesn’t matter to them if it was Captain America standing against them, if he does not listen to them then someone will replace him.

“Really? Then I have nothing to worry about.” Rogers said blankly after hearing the Congressmen’s answer.

“Rogers, what do you mean by that? Do you plan to betray the Nation?!” Hearing this headless sentence from Captain Rogers, Congressmen Kreis shouted loudly.

Card!

Da da da!

Just as the Congressmen Kries was preparing to continue to put pressure on Rogers, the doorman of this conference room was pushed aside from the outside. Then Phil Coulson walked in.

As a Senior Agent who has been in contact with the League of Defender, even if Coulson is unwilling, he still knows the relationship between SHIELD and the League of Defender best.

And at this time, he barged into the World Security Council’s investigation room on Captain America with several documents that had only just arrived in his hand, obviously something of particular importance.

“Agent Coulson, what do you mean by that!?” Seeing Coulson push the door directly in, Kreis asked with an ugly expression on his face.

“Congressmen Kreis, I have something important to report. Of course, I need to report this to Captain Rogers, not you.” Hearing what Kreis said, Coulson replied without any fear in his voice.

“You!...” Seeing Coulson’s attitude, Kreis pointed at him angrily, not knowing what to say. However, seeing the documents in Coulson’s hand, Kreis suddenly had a very bad feeling in his face.

“Captain, there is an important document and some news here.” After getting screamed at Kries, Coulson walked to Rogers’s side, handed over the tablet and the documents.

“En.” With a promise, Rogers has already taken what Colson had handed over.

Quickly flipping through the document first, Rogers' eyes lit up. Seeing the three messages on the tablet again, Rogers was completely relieved. Sure enough, his partners are trustworthy.

"Congressmen Kreis, now, I think you need to give us some explanation." The file in his hand was directly thrown at Kreis in front of him, and Rogers' tone suddenly became serious.

Call!

The documents flying out of Rogers' hands were scattered in front of Kreis. When he saw the pictures on those documents, the expression on Kreis's face instantly changed. Because he saw pictures of Mandarin and Maya Hansen. Moreover, they all seem to be under custody.

"Maya Hansen has confessed, and Mandarin has also been captured and is now on his way back." Seeing Kreis's face changed drastically, Rogers said directly and bluntly.

Kreis: "..."

"Also, Killian is dead, he died in Tony Stark's hands. Do not say you do not know who Killian is, we have enough evidence in our hands to prove the connection between you and him. So, Congressman Kreis, do you need to wait for Mandarin to be brought back? We have a lot of means to make him tell the truth." Looking at Kreis, whose face gradually turned pale, Rogers continued.

"You!..." Kreis was already completely panicked in the face of Rogers' pressing every step of the way. Kreis couldn't understand how did this happen as Mandarin and Maya Hansen were both very powerful Extremis Fighters. Why were they caught and confessed so easily? This was something that shouldn't have happened.

Call!

"Well, I think it's time to change the subject of today's investigation session. Congressman Kreis, I will exercise my full power on your qualification and identity investigation, I hope you cooperate." Kreis's psychological defense had collapsed, and Rogers stood up directly from the stool and said.

"Impossible! It's impossible! How could they have failed! You must be lying to me!" Seeing Rogers walking towards him step by step, Kreis shouted loudly as he stepped back.

Seeing Kreis's appearance, a disdainful look flashed in Rogers' eyes.

Boom!

Just when Rogers had completely turned the situation around, the conference room door that had been closed again was quickly pushed open again from the outside. Then, Rogers' personal communications officer rushed in with a nervous look on his face.

CHAPTER 610

Whew!

After that communications officer pushed the door open, he walked right up to Captain Rogers.

"Kyle, what's the matter?" Seeing his communications officer suddenly rushing in at this time, Rogers obviously understood that he had something very important to tell him.

"Captain! An urgent message from Tony Stark!" Walking quickly to Rogers, Kyle quickly said as he quickly passed the tablet in his hand.

Hearing Kyle's words, Rogers's brows unconsciously wrinkled together. Then, he took the tablet handed over by Kyle. When Rogers scanned the message on it, Captain Rogers who had just been in a somewhat relieved mood because he was able to completely solve Congressman Kreis was depressed again inside.

Because the message that Tony passed over was exactly the battle between the Mutants Brotherhood and the Mutants forces led by Stryker.

"Rogers, if you don't want Washington to be demolished, then come over here quickly to settle things over there. Compared to Extremis, I think these uncontrolled Mutants are more dangerous!" At the end of this message, there is also a voice from Tony, clearly expressing his fear of Magneto and the powerful Mutants.

"Even Stark can't deal with it? It seems to be a very tricky situation." Hearing Tony's voice, Rogers could not help but think in his heart. Then, his gaze had stopped looking at the three already panicked World Security Council members in front of him.

"Coulson, I'll leave these three to you, I have more important things to take care of." While turning towards the door, Rogers said towards Coulson beside him.

"Yes, Captain Rogers!" Coulson loudly replied after receiving Rogers' order.

Of course, after hearing Rogers' words, and seeing his back turned away, Kreis and the other two Congressmen of the World Security Council quickly took a few steps forward. They wanted to stop Rogers. However, Coulson, who had been ordered by Rogers just now, took a step forward and stopped in front of them.

"Gentlemen, let's stay in this conference room for now," Coulson said in a humble tone when he reached out to stop the three Congressmen.

Seeing that Coulson had the audacity to stop him, Kreis pointed at him angrily, ready to say something.

However, he finally swallowed the words in his mouth. Because Kreis knew that Maya Hansen has already confessed, and Mandarin has also been caught, his own end has arrived, and everything he does would do nothing to turn the situation around.

"Thank you for your cooperation." Seeing that the three Congressmen who were usually proud in front of him finally calmed down, Coulson put his hand down and said.

"Do you know the specifics?" After walking out of the conference room that had turned into a jail for the three Congressmen, Rogers asked Kyle who was walking beside him.

"After Stark sent the message, I have already found out who the enemy of the Mutants Brotherhood is this time, but..." Hearing Rogers's question, Kyle quickly replied, but after speaking, his voice became hesitant before it gradually lowered.

"But what? Don't stammer!" Rogers asked dissatisfiedly when he saw Kyle hesitating to speak.

“But, they are a Secret Department of the Military. This department was established more than 40 years ago to study the capabilities of Mutants. Because there are many high-level Officers in the Military who are not very happy to see the existence of Mutants, this department is studying Mutants. At the time, the methods they use are not really humane. So...” Under Rogers’s follow-up, Kyle had to tell the situation he had just investigated.

If it wasn’t for the fact that SHIELD had enough authority to get information from this, Kyle might not have been able to know these secret things. After seeing the information, Kyle also felt very uncomfortable with the department that specializes in Mutants.

After all, as a SHIELD that accommodates all kinds of talents, they have a balanced and even-handed attitude towards Mutants. So, after seeing so many Mutants being brutally experimented on, Kyle was feeling very uncomfortable in his heart.

“So, they angered the Mutants Brotherhood who always stood up for Mutants!” Hearing this, Rogers has also probably know how this battle happened.

In Rogers’ time, the Mutants were still a hidden species of people at that time. However, after being rescued from the ice, Rogers also quickly understood the main composition of the government, of which Mutants were a very important part.

Rogers supports the existence of Mutants. At least, the League of Defender he worked with has members who are Mutants, not to mention the X-Men.

“The Mutants Brotherhood suddenly showed up in Washington and took action and it may be because the department’s previous research had angered Magneto of the Mutants Brotherhood, so, yes, there is a high possibility that they are here to get revenge for the Mutants.” Hearing Rogers’ words, Kyle nodded and then replied.

“What a way to give me trouble!” While quickly walking towards the command center, Rogers frowned more and more tightly.

The matter of Extremis here is not yet fully resolved, at least there are still a lot of aftermath matters that need to be resolved by themselves. But, the Mutant Brotherhood showed up in front of a Secret Military Department.

Rogers only feels that the headache in his head is getting bigger and bigger. . Moreover, as a SHIELD who should be a neutral force, Rogers could not help anyone in this kind of incident.

If SHIELD does move out to fight then the purpose of their action should be to calm the battle and prevent the battle from causing greater harm to Washington and the World.

However, Rogers can also predict that once he makes a move, the US Military would be all over him. After all, SHIELD’s Main Force is still formed by the United States, and he is still an American. Therefore, SHIELD was between a rock and a hard place in this situation.

“Forget it, if the Secret Department really mess with the Mutants Brotherhood, then I won’t help anyone this time! If the Military sends a message, I will not see it, and I don’t believe that they would force me to do something that I don’t want!” In the end, Rogers made his decision, that is to not help anyone in this fight.

“Kyle, how many people in our A-Level Team are on standby at SHIELD?” Rogers, who had made a decision, asked Kyle.

“There are still twenty-three people, Captain, do we need to send them all out?” After hearing Rogers’ question, Kyle quickly replied.

“Only twenty-three people? Then let’s send them all out! I have a feeling that this incident will definitely develop to an unpredictable point in the end.”

“Yes, Sir!”
