

Marvel 61

Chapter 61 Vampire

Bang! Bang! ~

Lin Rui and Matt climbed up quickly with a guarded face as they fell to the ground. At this time, there was only one person standing in front of them, a white man in a leather suit, blonde hair and blue eyes. Although they don't know the origin of this guy, it's obvious that he just punched Lin Rui and Matt in an instant.

"Who's this guy?!" His special sensation seemed to have failed and Matt felt no threat except for someone in front of him.

"I don't know, but he is strong." Although Lin Rui's Insight Technique did not fail him, he only got some information. However, judging from the speed and strength the other party has just shown, he is not an ordinary man.

"If we want to save these people, we need to hurry up. Daredevil, you go and save those people and leave him to me." It's not clear what this guy is capable of, but Lin Rui won't give up trying to save the innocent.

"Understood, Be careful!" In response, Daredevil intends to bypass the man in front and head to the back rooms.

However, the man apparently did not intend to let Matt pass. A trance had already appeared in front of Matt. However, Lin Rui, who has been paying attention to his actions, has also moved. The internal energy flowing through his body is running fast along a specific route and the speed of Lin Rui's outbreak is rising again, which is not much slower than that fellow.

Pulling out the Flowing Flame Blade and splitting the blade from top to bottom, Lin Rui stopped in front of the white man and attacked directly. With a quick flicker, the tall man in white easily escaped Lin Rui's attack.

"Go ahead and save them!... I am your opponent!" Without looking back, Lin Rui, who is holding the Flowing Flame Blade, said in a low voice. The previous sentence is said to Matt behind him. The latter sentence is obviously said to the guy in front of him in the suit.

Hoo!

"That magical attack method, I haven't seen it in a long time. You are the guy who almost killed my son. I also heard that you still have a hero name? What is it, Mirage Knight?" Instead of paying attention to Matt, who was trying to save people, Mr. Housley looked at Lin Rui and asked lightly.

Originally, Housley was just chatting with Ross in the next building, waiting for Berserk Squad of Frankenstein to defeat Lin Rui and Matt and take them directly. However, Ross certainly didn't realize that Lin Rui and Matt's strength was different from the past, and Berserk Squad was the one that got killed. So Housley is not going to let Frankenstein Family do it anymore. He's going to deal with this guy who dares to kill his son.

“Who is your son? I have killed a lot of guys on the way.” Lin Rui’s eyes flashed as he heard the white man in the suit.

Although Lin Rui said he didn’t know, he had guessed who this guy was talking about. Looking at the dress and appearance of the guy, he should have asked about the guy Lin Rui killed first in the garden. But, listening to him, is that kid still alive? Lin Rui drove a knife in that kid’s heart.

“You don’t seem to remember, so I’ll give you some hints.” Seeing Lin Rui’s indifferent expression, Housley’s eyes gradually cooled, and said it indifferently.

The next moment, Lin Rui only felt a flash in front of his eyes and a cold instrument was scratched towards his neck. This guy’s speed was so fast that Lin Rui almost couldn’t respond. At this moment, Lin Rui finally felt threatened.

Lin Rui burst out with more power and agility at this moment as the internal energy inside his body speeded up again around a particular route. Feeling the cold instrument sticking towards his neck, Lin Rui’s right hand has also been lifted up in this critical moment.

Puff!

After a slight noise, Lin Rui has stepped back a few steps. Although he raised his hand in time to block the attack towards his neck, there was no time to block it with his Flowing Flame Blade. So Lin Rui got a blow on the back of his hand instead of his neck.

Flowing Flame Blade has changed to his left hand because Lin Rui’s right hand is now almost scrapped. A deep wound of about five centimeters almost cut Lin Rui’s right hand into two sections. Now the blood is still pouring out. If it hadn’t been for Lin Rui’s instant use of internal energy to seal some of the arteries in his hands, the situation would have been even worse.

The man’s attack broke the protection of the shield charm on Lin Rui in an instant and almost cut off Lin Rui’s right hand, which was protected by internal energy. This shows how powerful the attack was. If Lin Rui hadn’t finally forced the Flowing Flame Blade up and pushed him back, that fellow might have actually cut off Lin Rui’s right hand.

Huh!

Holding the Flowing Flame Blade in his left hand, Lin Rui did not dare to take his sight from the man in the leather suit in front of him. He was a cruel man who could threaten Lin Rui’s life. And the man didn’t seem to want to follow him, so he looked at Lin Rui lightly, just like a cat looks at a mouse.

After a fight, Housley had decided that the man in front of him was no longer his opponent. In that case, he didn’t mind slowly torturing him and doubling the damage his son had suffered.

Puff puff!

Boom!

While Lin Rui and Housley confronted each other briefly, Matt had destroyed all the locked rooms in the back. At this time, the innocents are being guided to flee out quickly. Whether they can escape from Jeston Gang depends on the speed of the New York police.

“Quick! Quick! Come this way!” Standing at the door of the room, Matt reached out and led the frightened people to run quickly towards the exit.

“Do you really think that you can save all those people? You can’t even save yourself!” Looking at the goods that belonged to them fledging quickly, Housley looked at Lin Rui and asked faintly.

“I need to at least try.” The injury to his right hand has been temporarily controlled and Lin Rui answered calmly, staring at the fellow in front of him.

“As you wish!” There was a hint of coldness in the eyes and Housley disappeared instantly.

This time, Lin Rui is no longer unprepared and has already begun to defend before Housley’s attack. So, when that cold instrument reappeared, Lin Rui just happened to use the Flowing Flame Blade. At the same time, he finally saw what the cold instrument is. It was a finger, a finger with a spiked nail.

“What the hell is this?!...” Seeing Housley’s apparently different fingers, Lin Rui could not help but ask this question. But when he looked up and his gaze swept at Housley’s face, he seemed to finally realize what his enemy was.

Buzz!

Bang!

The internal energy poured into the Flowing Flame Blade and the blade was quickly covered with a fiery red flame.

After touching the flames that flowed from the Flowing Flame Blade, Housley quickly retracted his hand as if he had been burnt. Lin Rui continued to slash a few blade attacks and successfully forced Housley to retreat.

“The sharp nails that can be directly used as weapons, scarlet eyes, the speed and the fangs that have just emerged. You turned out to be a Vampire!” Keeping the flame on the Flowing Flame Blade intact, Lin Rui stared at him and was a little surprised.

There is no such thing as Vampire in the Marvel movie, but it does not mean that there is no Vampire in this Marvel real life, but Lin Rui did not expect to be met one by himself. It’s no wonder that the guy who had a blade in his heart didn’t die. He must have been injured and pretended to be dead. Anyway, for Vampire, death is never a trouble.

“So you are not too stupid. Now that you know what you are facing, you should know what your end will be.” When he heard Lin Rui, Housley’s mouth tilted slightly as he looked at Lin Rui.

After that, Housley disappeared again. Now, he no longer needs to cover up his identity and the strength of a Vampire elder who is fully exposed is terrible. At least, the current Lin Rui’s still can’t keep up with his speed.

However, although Lin Rui can't keep up with Housley's speed, he can fight and defend using his own skills. So, when Housley was looking for a chance to attack, Lin Rui swiftly waved his Flowing Flame Blade in his left hand and soon covered his body with randomized blade attacks.

Huh!

The blade shadows are getting faster and faster and in the end, Lin Rui's figure can't even be seen inside. Waving the Flowing Flame Blade in his hands, he is constantly accumulating the power of the blade. He just needs to find a suitable opportunity, he will...

Boom!

Just as Lin Rui protected himself with his blade shadow attacks, a gunshot sounds suddenly came from afar and a bullet just shot in front of Lin Rui but it was not shot at him but they were shot at Housley.

Puff!

The bullet that suddenly broke into the battlefield hit Housley, but the Housley figure that was preparing to attack Lin Rui was only squatted and then he rushed toward Lin Rui, It seems that the sneak attack did not pose much threat to him.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

However, the bullet just was just an appetizer and several bullets were shot in succession and the target was still Housley.

Without looking back, Housley just swayed his right hand behind him. When he retracted his right hand again, there were three bullets in his palm, he had grabbed the bullets with his palm!

Boom!

The bullets didn't pose much threat to Housley, but they have already delayed him from attacking Lin Rui for some time. He saw Lin Rui attack him with his momentum with the Flowing Flame Blade and the timing just happened when Housley caught the bullets.

"Don't be naive!" Housley gave a fierce laugh in front of Lin Rui's attack. Then, his whole body swelled up in an instant and like a mutation, his body broke the fit and expensive suit directly.

Housley, who broke out of his suit is no longer look like a banker who is working on Wall Street. He looks like a bloodthirsty monster. The muscles that broke the clothes are entangled in his body like a sculpture. His palm has become like a paw. At this time, he no longer concealed his scarlet eyes and long teeth and he had completely shredded the persona of a human in front of Lin Rui.

In the next moment, the enlarged version of the bloodthirsty beast Housley has rushed towards Lin Rui, facing the fiery red blade that has rushed towards him. However, his speed seems to be a little slower than that of before. It may be that the increase in strength and physique causes the change of speed.

Hoo!

Bang!

But just as Housley took a step, a small cloud of flames sprayed from behind him. Then, in front of Housley's shocked eyes, the shadow had hit him at the same time as the blade ahead.

Hoo!

Prepared for it, Lin Rui jumped a big step backward and fell down. Then, a more powerful explosion broke out in the building. Huge shocks erupted at Housley's location, sweeping the whole building in an instant.

Chapter 62 Evacuation And Experiment

Boom!

The power of the explosion continued to pass through the building. Fortunately, under Matt's arrangement, the innocent people evacuated quickly from the corner without much damage from the blast.

"Hey! What the hell is that thing?!" Lin Rui, lying on the ground, has not yet sighed at the number of falls he took today. A humble voice comes from the corner of the building.

Wade Wilson, a man with cancer and no money for treatment, went to Lin Rui's "thieves'boat" for money. He was throwing away the RPG launcher on his shoulder, staring at the explosion he had caused in front of him and staring at Housley's transformation.

"This guy is too powerful!" Wade clearly felt that the RPG was much more powerful than the conventional single-arm missile launcher, He could clearly feel the difference as he has been exposed to these weapons before.

Lin Rui got up from the ground and even the Phantom Suit, with its self-purification function, was covered with a thick layer of dust. "Cough! Wade! Next time you decide to help me, can you say it in advance? If it hadn't been for Lin Rui to face Wade and finally see the missile coming, he would not have been as calm as he is now.

"Sorry, brother, there was no time to remind you!" With Berserk Squad's powerful weapon in his hand, Wade shouted and ran towards the door. Over there, Jeston Gang's guys have been blocked up.

"Forget it, I was helped anyway and that monster was hit by such a powerful missile. This guy should be dead now." Looking at Wade carrying a weapon at the door of the building, Lin Rui's gaze focused on the explosion area. He has a strange feeling that the Vampire he just fought was not so simple. If Marvel World's Vampire were so strong then there would be no Mutants, But mutants do exist.

Huh!

The aftermath of the RPG explosion slowly dissipated and Lin Rui carefully sensed the movement in the explosion center.

"What?" In the next moment, Lin Rui's brows were squashed and he quickly left this place in an instant.

Puff Puff!

And the next moment Lin Rui left, a few rocks of different sizes suddenly shot out of the smoke ahead and hit the ground just where Lin Rui was. It was just a few stones, but they have enormous kinetic energy as they sped towards his previous location and penetrated the ground.

Boom!

The next moment, there was a sudden explosion in the smoke and dust. Lin Rui, who had just stepped back, suddenly raised his Flowing Flame Blade and splintered it forward. The fire like internal energy surrounding the blade is directly separated from the body of the blade and quickly chopped forward.

Hoo!

“Ah!” Just as Lin Rui’s blade rushed forward, a green-skinned monster rushed out of the dust and ran straight towards Lin Rui.

“What the fuck is that thing! How come I hadn’t heard of any Vampire that could change like this before?! Is it a variant of Vampire?!” Seeing the monster in front of him, which barely resemble a human form, Lin Rui muttered as he stepped back.

Boom!

“Whoop!” Lin Rui cut the monster’s body with his sharp blade and cut a big hole in his chest. But that’s all. Housley, who has a strong Vampire elder constitution, completely resisted Lin Rui’s attack and continue to pounce on Lin Rui regardless of his chest wound.

“Looks like I can’t deal with this guy right now! Let’s withdraw first. Anyway, all people have been already saved.” Seeing that his blade energy had no effect, Lin Rui had already decided to retreat.

At this point, Lin Rui has almost consumed his internal energy and there is no need to continue fighting with this seemingly mutant Vampire. Judging from the strength of this Vampire, Lin Rui is no match for him at all. So, after a little thought, Lin Rui has quickly retreated.

Hoo!

“Don’t you think it’s too late to go now?!” However, the already mad Housley apparently did not intend to let Lin Rui go so easily and was already in front of him.

Boom!

With a muffled noise, Lin Rui flew out with his blade. At this time, Lin Rui is not as fast as Housley. He is also suppressed by the mad Vampire. Although Lin Rui’s internal energy combined with his Flowing Flame Blade can cause some damage to Housley, it is not fatal.

Boom!

“Wade! I need help!” Once again, Lin Rui was hit in mid-air, and he couldn’t help shouting for support. He was almost overwhelmed. After a while, three protective charms had been used.

Lin Rui flung his hands forward as he landed in a wolf stance on the ground.

Shu! Several cap-sized silver disks were quickly shot at the front-facing Housley.

Huh!

Unmindful of the little things and waving them away with his hand, Housley continued to march towards Lin Rui. But all the little things that he should have swept away were glued to his arms.

Dī dī drops!

Boom! Boom! Boom!

A series of explosions erupted on Housley, shaking his huge body, which seemed to have suffered a lot of damage, but he did not completely fall.

“How strong is this defense?!” Sensing Housley’s state, Lin Rui turned his head and began to escape.

Housley, who was hit by a mini-bomb, was not dead, but apparently seriously injured. When he recovered from the explosion, Lin Rui had fled to the exit of the building from the big hole they had exploded before.

“Hey! Big guy, try this one!” When Housley’s gaze searched for Lin Rui’s position, Wade was holding the big RPG launcher facing him.

Boom!

The next moment, A big RPG shot that was powerful enough to blow up half of the building has been shot at Housley. Because of the previous series of attacks, he was slow and could only watch as the black shadow explodes on himself again.

Boom!

Rumble!

“Come on! This building is going to collapse!” In spite of the pain from all over his body, Lin Rui pulled Wade out quickly.

As for Daredevil, he has been following the fleeing civilians to protect them while dealing with Jeston Gang’s guys. However, as the sirens outside the manor became clearer and clearer, they were no longer needed here.

Bang! Bang bang!

“Daredevil! It’s time to go!” Lin Rui and Wade rushed out of the manor, while constantly shooting the nearby Jeston Gang guys.

When Lin Rui and Wade broke away from the chaotic battlefield, Matt finally came over with many small injuries, He should have been in a lot of danger.

Da da da!

When Lin Rui and his three men joined together and retreated quickly, the sound of gunfire was still heard throughout the manor, apparently, the arriving police had already exchanged fire with the Jeston Gang.

“The New York police have arrived and we should leave soon.” Carefully sensing the whole situation of the estate, Lin Rui quickly said to the two people around him.

“Yes. But I’m surprised at your behavior today. As a mercenary, any average person should not be able to do this. Matt nodded, and the last two sentences were addressed to a pale Wade.

“There are moments when people are impulsive, and I think I can ask for more pay.” A hard smile came from the corner of his mouth and Wade answered faintly.

“Oh, no problem.” Glancing at Wade, Lin Rui smiled and agreed. Although Lin Rui is more concerned about when Wade will become Deadpool, he seems to be very good now.

Huh!

As he said, the three people had escaped before the police completely blocked the manor. After taking the car in from the original hiding place, the three quickly left the lively place.

While Lin Rui and Matt and Wade were in the estate of the Frankenstein Family in New York’s suburbs, a secret experiment was taking place in a biological laboratory in Oscorp, New York city center.

Peter, standing in front of a pile of instruments, holds a display screen that shows the biological state of a mouse, the object of their experiment. At this time, the mouse was in good condition. No, it shouldn’t be said that it’s good but much better than before. A few minutes ago, the mouse was a disabled mouse with only three legs. Now, it is as healthy as normal mice. After injecting the optimized gene serum, It’s lost leg grew out in only three minutes.

“Professor Connors, the modified gene chain is stable and our experiment is successful!” Looking at the stable data on the screen, Peter shouted excitedly at Professor Connors behind the instrument. They insisted that the current experiment has finally made a breakthrough, stable genetic optimization, which can help countless people.

“I know! I knew it! I knew we will succeed!” Dr. Connors, who saw the changes in mice, was more excited than Peter. He has spent more than twenty years on this research, and because of his disability, the success of this research is more important to him.

Dī dī di!

However, while Peter and Professor Connors were preparing to record the experimental data excitedly, the instrument that had been testing the data of the experimental mice suddenly sounded a piercing alarm. It seemed that something was wrong.

“What’s the matter?” What’s wrong?! Hearing the sound, Professor Connors, who was still very happy, rushed to the experimental area nervously to see what was wrong. He has given 20 years of his life to this experiment, he did not expect to fail in the first place.

“Professor! The Experiment body!” When Connors rushed to the instruments to find out what went wrong, Peter suddenly pointed to the mouse that was locked in the experimental box and shouted.

“Squeeze!” The mouse that had been recovered and was in a normal state suddenly seemed to be stimulated by something. In the experimental box, it went crazy and chaotic and some changes began to appear on his small body.

Ka-Krack~

In front of the surprised eyes of Professor Connors and Peter, the right forelimb of the white rat in the experimental box suddenly swelled up, the part that it did not have. However, this was not the end. As the right forelimb changes, the experimental mice begin to mutate. The muscles swelled to open the fur, the bones expanded rapidly, and the furry fur was replaced by a layer of scales. Soon, a furry white mouse has become a monster resembling a green lizard.

“Squeeze-oh-oh! ~ “

Puff!

The mutant mice screamed twice in the lab box and collapsed, seemingly unable to withstand the result of the mutation.

“Impossible! Impossible! This must be an accident! Accident!” Looking at the mutation of the experimental body, Dr. Connors seemed to be somewhat unacceptable, shouting again and again unconsciously.

“Dr. Connors, the experiment failed. But we still have a chance, as long as we find out what’s wrong with it.” Seeing Dr. Connors, Peter held out his hand to comfort him.

Hoo!

But Professor Connors pushed Peter aside and rushed out of the lab. Looking at Professor Connors’ departure, Peter was also helpless. Cleaning up the lab, Peter gathered the data of the experiment and left. Although the experiment failed, they were close to success.

Chapter 63 New Quest Choice And Wade

Hoo!

“It seems that the deeper the underground forces I’m involved in, the higher the completion of quest will be. Nevertheless, the danger is also constantly increasing” Looking at the quest completion rate of the mainline quest in his mind against the dark forces of New York, Lin Rui lying on the bed snorted.

It’s been a week since the last time he, Matt, and Wade broke into Frankenstein Family manor and broke the deal between them and Vampire and in this week Lin Rui spent most of his time in bed except for school. After all, he suffered a lot of injuries in the battle that day. Several close-range explosions and Housley’s attacks all hurt Lin Rui.

The most serious injury is on Lin Rui’s right hand, The wound was so deep that even with Beginner Treatment Spray, it will take a long time to completely recover. So Lin Rui had to find a reason to wear gloves.

However, despite the cost, Lin Rui's quest completion rate soared by 15% because of that action, which is the basis for Lin Rui's conclusion just now.

Frankenstein Family is one of New York's deepest and most powerful dark forces, they are able to recruit third-level Mutants and some guys with special abilities for their own use. In addition to Vampire, which Lin Rui had never heard of before, he had now penetrated the real dark depths of New York.

"Tony's friendship quest progress has reached 70%. It seems that if I talk to him more, I would be able to finish the quest by praising him. But the team is still short of hands. Wade's illness seems to be in its final stages. Hasn't Peter been bitten yet? Looking at the completion of another quest in his mind, Lin Rui continued to talk to himself. Lin Rui has been waiting for Spiderman because of the recent rivalry with Frankenstein Family is getting more and more dangerous for him and Matt alone.

Just as Lin Rui was wandering in his mind, the system suddenly floated out. "I have a quest here. Do you want to accept it?" As soon as it emerged, the system asked Lin Rui.

"Uhh? Your own quest? I haven't seen them in a long time. Say what quest? Hearing the system, Lin Rui asked curiously. Since the starting of the mainline quest, he has not really gotten any of the quests from the system.

"There was a quest with rich reward a week ago, but I didn't think you'll accept it. Now, this quest doesn't have that many Reward points, but I think you'll accept it." Without first telling Lin Rui what the quest was, the system said more of these two sentences in an anomalous way.

"Ohh? More than a week ago? Just when Matt and I were planning to fight Frankenstein Family? What quest was there then? Although the system said that he would not have accepted the previous quest, Lin Rui was still curious, especially when the system said that the quest was rich in rewards.

"Stopping Peter Parker from becoming Spiderman, Reward. 100,000 points. This is the quest from a week ago. Would you have accepted it? Now that Lin Rui had asked it, the system did not hide anything and said the previous quest lightly.

"Stopping Peter from becoming Spiderman?! What the hell kind of quest is that? Also, since this quest was a week ago, does it mean that Peter has been bitten by a spider now?!" Hearing the words of the system, Lin Rui suddenly got excited and asked aloud.

"This was the quest from a week ago so you don't need to know anyway. As for Peter, he was really bitten by the spider a week ago. He should still be quietly exploring his physical changes and he should be in a confusing period," Without concealing anything, the system replied.

It was only on the day Peter was bitten by a spider that Lin Rui had the best chance of preventing him from becoming Spiderman. Since the system had not told Lin Rui the news at that time, it was certain that Lin Rui would not accept the quest. As for the system now telling Lin Rui this news, He doesn't know what it is thinking.

"Well, I see. What is the quest now? Now that Peter has been successfully bitten by the spider, Lin Rui no longer has such a rich quest and then ask the system.

“Save Ben Parker’s life, quest completed the reward of two thousand points.” The system faintly said this quest, a quest to save someone.

“Peter’s uncle?... Yes, before Peter became Spiderman, Uncle Ben died of street robbery, which was also one of the most important reasons why Peter was determined to fight street crime. Hearing the system’s quest, Lin Rui remembered Ben Parker for a moment.

“I’ll do it even if you didn’t issue the quest and if Peter’s uncle died, Peter will be crushed. It’s not a good thing for him who already has Spiderman’s power.” After a little thought, Lin Rui has already made a decision.

“So, Will you accept the quest?” Hearing Lin Rui, the system asked again.

“Yes, I accept!” Lin Rui replied seriously after the system’s questioning.

“Remember, accidents happen every day. You have to pay attention to them.” Lin Rui took up the quest and the system finally reminded him as it was slowly disappearing in his mind.

“It seems that my practice days are over.” Hearing system’s last reminder, Lin Rui lying in bed thought of it silently.

Nothing to think about again, Lin Rui has turned over and got up from the bed. Since he already knew that this uncle might be in danger one night, he could not stay at home so leisurely. From tonight, he has to go out to patrol every day until he solves the accident of this uncle.

“Cough, cough!” Wade, who had just returned from the hospital, slowly reached the sofa with Vanessa’s help, his condition was getting worse and worse.

A week ago, Wade was able to go with Lin Rui to break into Frankenstein Family’s estate, but now he can only move slowly with Vanessa’s help. Although there are sequelae of chemoradiotherapy, it also means that Wade’s condition is slowly getting out of control.

After finishing his action with Lin Rui, Lin Rui also gave Wade a sum of money as promised (some of which was borrowed from Tony Stark as Lin Rui could not find any reason to ask his parents for such a large sum of money). That’s enough for him to do a couple of treatments for cancer. Nevertheless, the story follows the original route, and Wade’s condition has not improved because of the early discovery and treatment. If this continues to deteriorate, Wade will not have much time.

“Vanessa, I’m sorry, I may not be able to hold on.” Lying pale on the sofa, Wade said guiltily as he looked at Vanessa next to him. It doesn’t matter if he dies, but Vanessa will be very sad.

“Wade now is not the time to give up. I’ve heard that there’s a new type of therapy in a hospital that might cure you. Sitting next to Wade, Vanessa said earnestly, touching Wade’s face with both hands.

“It’s no use, Vanessa. We’ve tried a lot. I’m hopeless.” Shaking his head, Wade no longer wants to drag down the woman he loves.

“No! Wade, not yet! There must be a way!” Hearing Wade wants to give up, Vanessa shouted. She won’t watch Wade die like that. She’ll find a way to save him.

“Well, I’ll try that hospital with you. But let me rest now.” Knowing that Vanessa would not give up on himself, Wade had to follow her.

“Ok, you have a good rest. You’re weaker after today’s treatment than you were last time.” In response, Vanessa went to pick up Wade’s blanket.

Wade silently pulled out his cell phone as Vanessa left. There were two numbers he had been trying to call but hadn’t dialed out these days. Wade finally dialed a number after seeing Vanessa hiding in the toilet and tidying up.

Buzz-Buzz-Buzz-Buzz-Buzz

At the secret base of Lin Rui and Matt, the anonymous mobile phone on the table suddenly shook. However, because Lin Rui was busy following Uncle Ben to protect him these days, he never came to the secret base. Matt didn’t come to this place because Lin Rui left the team temporarily, so no one got the call. There was only one person who knew the number for the time being.

Wade slowly hung up when the other end of the phone became busy and the electronic prompt had come out. Yes, it’s just a question of employment, and I’ve been paid, and no one else is obliged to contact me anymore.

Wade just called the one Lin Rui put in the secret base. After seeing Lin Rui and Matt’s hands and what they did, Wade felt that they would not be so simple. So, in such a desperate time, Wade expects to ask them for a little help. But he was disappointed.

After putting down the phone for a while, Wade thought about it and dialed out a number. This time he’s calling a guy who claims to be able to cure his cancer. Although Wade feels that this guy is unreliable, he can only trust him if he wants to survive.

“Hello? Who is it?” The phone was swiftly connected as if the man had been waiting for the call.

“Wade, Wade Wilson. You said last time you could cure me? I think I’ve considered it now. I’ll take you up on your offer.” Hearing the voice on the other end of the phone, Wade took a deep breath and said.

“Mr. Wilson?! It’s very smart of you to make such a decision. In that case, we’d better start earlier. Your illness shouldn’t give us too much time. The guy on the other end of the phone was very happy to hear Wade’s words and said it quickly.

“Well, give me an address. I’ll be there tonight.” Wade, who had nowhere to go, made his own decision.

“Okay, the address is...”

“Hey! Baby, take a rest.” When Vanessa came back with a blanket, Wade had already put the phone away and the call history was deleted.

“I am blessed to have you, Vanessa.”

Chapter 64 Spider Man

Empire State High School, New York Queens.

Because of Peter and his uncle's quest, Lin Rui recently planned to be close to Peter and want to observe Spiderman's changes and growth at close range. So when Lin Rui saw Peter at the school gate, he ran over.

"Hey! Peter!" As usual, Lin Rui reached behind and patted Peter on the shoulder and greeted him happily.

"Hey! Jackson." However, it seems that Peter is not in a good mood as he just lightly replies to Lin Rui.

Professor Connors's experiment failed and Peter has been troubled lately by what magical changes he seems to have made as a result of being bitten by a mutant spider. During the first few days of being bitten by the spider, Peter had no idea how to control his sudden surge of power and his sensitive senses. Just like now, if Lin Rui hadn't been a close friend of his, Peter would have thrown him over when he patted him on the shoulder.

"Are you okay, Peter? Look, you've been a bit weird lately. What happened to you? You know, we are good friends. You can tell me anything." Guessing roughly what Peter was going through at this time, Lin Rui asked with a smile and his hand on Peter's shoulder. If Peter could tell Lin Rui about his own changes, he would be able to help Peter adapt to the changes in his body, rather than watching them in the dark.

"Uh-huh. It's okay. I just haven't slept well recently. Don't worry about it." Although he appreciates Lin Rui's concern for him, Peter still feels that he should figure out what's happening to him on his own. He doesn't want his friend to think of himself as a monster.

"OK, you know, I am always here for you." Since Peter was unwilling to say anything, of course, Lin Rui would not force him and he finally went to the classroom with him.

"Do you know what Tom has been doing lately?"

"I don't know. I haven't met with him for a long time now."

"Yes, everyone seems to be very busy lately."

Ringgg~

"Peter, let's go home together after school." Feeling Peter's rapidly growing strength and uncontrolled agility, Lin Rui didn't want him to go home alone.

"Oh, it's okay, I'm going to Professor Connors later." Although he doesn't know why Lin Rui cares so much about him today, Peter does need to go to Dr. Connors to do experiments today. He has some new ideas about the decay rate algorithm of genetics optimization.

“Well, I’ll go first. Be careful.” Knowing that Peter was still working on cell regeneration with Professor Connors, Lin Rui could not remind him that Professor Connors might become a lizard and had to back off before he says anything unusual.

“Don’t worry, I’ll be okay.” Waving to Lin Rui, Peter took out his skateboard and left the school quickly.

“I hope their experiment will succeed so that there will be no lizard and less trouble for me.” Looking at Peter’s departure, Lin Rui muttered to himself.

In Oscorp, Professor Connors’ lab, Peter and Professor Connors are experimenting with optimized decay rate algorithms on computers as they don’t want to go through what happened last week again.

“The experiment failed and the experimental body died.”

“The experiment failed and the experimental body died.”

By constantly modifying the decay rate algorithm, Professors Connors and Peter got computer hints that the experiment failed over and over again. Professor Connors was almost desperate to see experiments that had failed many times before. Can he now succeed with an optimization algorithm with the help of a high school student, a study he couldn’t complete 20 years ago? It’s still naive to think about. Not wanting to see a reminder of the failure of the experiment before him, Professor Connors turned and prepared to leave.

“The experiment was successful and the limb generation was completed.” But the next second Professor Connors turned and left, the computer simulation succeeded. The simulated three-legged mouse grew the lost foot without any other mutation.

“Hey! Professor.” Peter, who had been staring at the screen, quickly stopped and turned towards Professor Connors.

“Successfull! It really succeeded!” Professor Connors, who had turned back, also saw the results of the computer simulation and shouted excitedly.

“Yes, Professor!”

“Thank you, Peter! Thank you!”

Finally, he helped Professor Connors finish the experiment and Peter slowly returned home with a relaxed expression on the skateboard. But he seems to have forgotten something. When he left home today, Uncle Ben told him to pick Aunt May up at night, but he had been in Professor Connors’ lab and had forgotten all about it.

“You own your aunt an apology big time, Be a man, Get in there and apologize!” Uncle Ben was angry at Peter’s failure.

“I am sorry Aunt May... I got distracted.” Peter apologized to Aunt May feeling pretty bad himself that he had forgotten it.

“Your aunt, My wife, had to walk twelve blocks alone in the middle of the night and then wait in a deserted subway station because you got distracted.”

“Peter, come back here, please!”

Finally, Peter and Uncle Ben responded to some of the emotional fluctuations caused by Peter’s recent physical changes, involving Peter’s dead father, and finally Peter left home in the middle of the night. After a few moments, Uncle Ben went out to look for Peter. He couldn’t leave him alone for the night.

“Hey, Man, Stop! Somebody stop that guy!” On a corner not far from Peter’s house, the owner of a store ran out and shouted loudly at a guy on the road.

“Hey, kid, little help?” Looking at the left and right streets, the boss had to ask for help from Peter, who had just come out of the store.

“It’s none of my business.” Ignoring the shopkeeper’s request, Peter took the milk and turned away. He’s still in a bad mood. The boss in the shop just had a bad attitude.

“Hey! Stop that guy! Stop!” Peter didn’t help and the boss had to chase the guy himself.

And the man who stole his money saw the boss come after him and sped across the road. However, because he was in such a hurry, he suddenly fell down when he ran across the street. The pistol that had been hidden in his arms fell out and fell to the ground. In front of the robber, Uncle Ben, who came out to see Peter, happened to see this scene.

Hoo!

“Hey!” With a loud shout, Uncle Ben had rushed up to stop the robber from getting the pistol.

However, the robber obviously won’t let Uncle Ben get it. He quickly got up from the ground and began to grab the pistol from Uncle Ben. Subsequently, they fought together.

Bang!

A gunshot burst out on the side street on busy midnight. It shocked the few pedestrians on the street and Peter, who had not yet gone far. When he heard the shot, Peter suddenly had a bad feeling in his heart, so he turned quickly and ran in the direction of the shot.

“Huuu! How dangerous! I was almost too late!” At the scene of the accident, Lin Rui was standing on the side of the road with a cold sweat and whispered.

Lin Rui had come out to check Uncle Ben's situation this evening and Lin Rui went home after that. After all, it was quite late at that time. However, Lin Rui, who returned home, suddenly remembered that Peter had not yet returned home and that Uncle Ben's death seemed to be due to a quarrel with him when Peter came home late. So Lin Rui came to Peter's house again at midnight.

When Lin Rui arrived, he saw the robber fighting with Uncle Ben, and Lin Rui saw the pistol in their hands. So, one second before the robber pulled the trigger, Lin Rui had kicked him down.

Of course, because Lin Rui came in time, the robber missed Uncle Ben with that shot. Nonetheless, Uncle Ben was slightly injured in the scuffle just now. And Uncle Ben was still scared because he was shot at close range, although he was missed. It may take some time for him to adjust and to recover.

"Are you okay?" Observing Uncle Ben, Lin Rui walked up to him and asked softly.

"Er! I'm all right! It's all right!" Looking at Lin Rui's dress and glancing at the robber lying nearby, Uncle Ben answered quickly.

"That's good. The police should be here in a minute. I'll go first." Determining that Uncle Ben was in good condition, Lin Rui nodded and turned away.

Of course, before Lin Rui left, he kicked the robber to make sure he couldn't stand up and run away. Then, before Peter ran over, Lin Rui rushed into the alley and disappeared.

"Uncle Ben!" Peter, who heard the gunshot, finally ran over and rushed nervously when he saw Uncle Ben sitting on the ground still lying down.

"Uncle Ben! Are you okay!?" Peter nervously asked Uncle Ben who was on the ground.

Peter had seen the fellow lying on the side of the road, the robber who had just run out of the shop. Obviously, that's where the gunshot just came from. After examining Uncle Ben carefully, Peter breathed a little relieved.

"I'm sorry, Uncle Ben! I shouldn't have said what I said at home! I'm sorry!" Fortunately, Uncle Ben didn't get shot, or Peter would have been guilty all his life.

"Peter, I'm all right. That man saved me, the one you've loved so much lately." Helped by Peter, Uncle Ben said weakly.

Of course, Uncle Ben is not Lin Rui's fan. He doesn't know that Lin Rui's current name is Mirage Knight, so he has to use that person to address him. But Uncle Ben knows that this guy is a Vigilante that Peter recently liked.

"Mirage Knight?" When he heard Uncle Ben, Peter asked, when he just came over, he seemed to see a black shadow disappearing into the alley. The enhanced vision can also see the back of Lin Rui in the dark, but Peter just thought it was an illusion.

"Well, it should be him." Uncle Ben nodded. It seems that some people liking Vigilanties still make sense.

Whoop ~~

Five minutes after the shooting, a siren finally sounded in the street. It seemed that someone had already called the police. Later, Peter accompanied Uncle Ben to the police station and simply recorded a confession and went home together. Now, Uncle Ben needs rest. But what happened today gave Peter some other ideas, one about fighting Street criminals and protecting civilians.

Chapter 65 New Helper

Hey! Peter, I heard about Uncle Ben. Is he all right? The next day, when Lin Rui saw Peter at school, he asked him with concern.

“Ohh, Uncle Ben is okay. He’s scared and there are some skin injuries. Thank you for asking, Jackson.” Peter, who was thinking about it, laughed back at Lin Rui and did not even think about how Lin Rui knew so quickly what Uncle Ben had encountered last night.

“That’s good, I am going to visit Uncle Ben at your house tonight, is it okay?” Lin Rui actually wanted to take a close look at Peter. Of course, visiting Uncle Ben was also necessary.

“Thank you, Jackson. I think they’ll be happy with your visit.” Peter said earnestly.

“OK, let’s go together after school today.” After saying that to Peter, they went to class together.

As for Harry, he seems to have rarely been to school recently. Oscorp’s internal shareholders have moved to the final stage. Harry can’t be careless about taking the initiative. As for Lin Rui’s friend Tom, who he grew up with, now he can see him almost only in class. Although Lin Rui quietly investigates what happened to Tom, it seems that these are all things that young people will encounter. Later, he doesn’t care. He has more important things to do.

At 8 p.m., Lin Rui walked out of Peter’s house with Aunt May’s warm greeting. Uncle Ben’s body is okay and his mental state is a little more recovered. After all, not everyone can behave as if they were okay after being shot at close range.

“Peter, you know, I’m your best friend. So, if you need any help, I will help you.” Standing outside the door, Lin Rui looked at Peter and said seriously.

Because Lin Rui saved Uncle Ben, he didn’t know what would happen to Peter’s road behind Spiderman. He just didn’t want Peter to go astray in the process.

“Jackson, I know you’ve always been a good friend of mine. Don’t worry, I’m fine.” Peter had to reject Lin Rui’s offer once again because his secret could not be told to others.

“OK, then I’ll go home. It’s the end of the term. There’s still a lot to review.” Laughing, Lin Rui tapped Peter on the shoulder and turned away.

“Jackson, there are things that even good friends can’t help. I don’t want to involve you, my friend.” Looking at Lin Rui’s departure, Peter thought in silence.

A week later, Lin Rui and Matt happened to be inside the secret base. Lin Rui and Matt have been resting for two weeks since they last joined forces and with the help of New York police to crack down on a large-scale deal between Frankenstein Family and Vampires.

It's a rest in name as Lin Rui spends the rest of his time outside, either secretly protecting Uncle Ben or tidying up the disobedient gangsters, He only rested the days before he left home to recover from his injuries.

As for Matt, he hasn't stopped looking for Wilson for two weeks. However, it seems that Wilson has been alerted by Frankenstein Family's experience, and Matt has not found any large-scale illegal transactions recently.

Lying on the sofa and drinking soda, Lin Rui watched the TV program boredly. In current events, the enthusiasm about Tony being Iron Man has slowly declined, but the next high-efficiency micro Arc Reactor launched by Stark Industries has once again exploded the entire energy industry.

It was thought that Stark Industries, which shut down its weapons department, had lost its competitiveness with other super industrial companies, but Tony's move woke them up again. For a genius, sometimes it takes only a flash of inspiration to solve a dilemma. Once Tony officially launched Arc Reactor, the entire energy market will suffer a huge impact, and Stark Industries will still remain a giant that no other group can replace.

What's more, Tony is appointing agreements with the military and Congress on Iron Man Armor's and once these agreements are agreed, Stark Industries will be unbreakable.

"Maybe it's a good choice to talk to Tony and play with the Iron Man Armor. According to Tony's nature, The Iron Man Armor should have been optimized to the third generation. Lin Rui felt itchy watching Tony on TV on various occasions. After experiencing one of Iron Man Armor's, he can't forget the pleasure of flying fast in the air. He will someday fool Tony into giving himself an Iron Man Armor to play with.

Just as Lin Rui thought to himself, Matt said something.

"Did you know that a new Vigilante has recently come out of New York? This guy seems to have a special device by which he can fly around or hop around from building to building. It only took him a few days to crack down on many car thieves and robbers in New York, but he seemed to have caused some trouble for the police. Sitting opposite to Lin Rui, Matt picked up a bag of potato chips and said lightly.

"Ohh? Do you mean the guy who's wearing the ugly red and blue tights? Hearing Matt's words, Lin Rui looked away from the TV and asked, suppressing the laughter in his eyes. Lin Rui, who has been following Peter all the time, knows what he's been doing lately and he knows from where Peter's dress came from. For Peter's tailoring skills, Lin Rui is really can't compliment him.

"Well, do you think so, too? His clothes are really... Well, what should I say about that? It's too simple and ugly. It's not my favorite dress anyway. Without feeling that Lin Rui was laughing, Matt agreed to express his views on Spiderman's clothes.

"Well, after all, he's not a professional tailor. Maybe he's not familiar with the sewing machine at home. Moreover, we have to give the new Vigilante some time to grow up. Not everyone is as good as I am. The thought of Peter making Spiderman's clothes from Aunt May's sewing machine at home made Lin Rui's lips rise.

“Haha, listening to you, you seem to know this guy?” Ignoring Lin Rui’s boast of himself, Matt was keen to find something different from what he said.

“Maybe I’ll find a chance to talk to him. It’s good to crack down on street crime, but it’s not good to bother the police.” Lin Rui is now over the whole ‘fighting street gangsters’, but Peter has just started. Maybe he needs some guidance.

“So what’s the matter with you coming to me today? Are there any big moves? Matt went on to ask, throwing the bag of cucumber-flavored potato chips away from his bare hand.

Last time their action seemed to have stabbed a hornet’s nest, the New York police recently launched a large-scale operation against Jeston Gang and Frankenstein Family, which did not need their intervention for the time being. As for Wilson, Matt has been looking for him, but the progress is not encouraging. As the ruler of the entire Mafia Empire, Wilson hides too well.

“No big moves for the time being. Wade should not have the time recently. And we need help badly, so I found someone for us.” Pinching the remote control in his hand, Lin Rui glanced at the base entrance and said faintly.

Although he did not monitor Wade, Lin Rui knew that he was definitely trying to find a solution for his cancer at this time.

Lin Rui knew that Wade called him, but he did not call back, although there was something in the System Shop that could cure cancer without leaving any sequelae. However, Lin Rui feels it’s better not to interfere too much in Wade’s affairs if he wants him to become Deadpool.

As for Lin Rui’s new helper, he should be here soon. Of course, he needs to keep watch to see if he can become partners with them. If not, Lin Rui doesn’t mind keeping him here forever, as the gatekeeper of their secret base.

“Helper? Who did you find? What mercenary is it?” Without asking about Wade, Matt was interested in Lin Rui’s helper.

“This guy is not a mercenary and you’ve already met him.” Lin Rui told cryptically as Matt will know the entire story soon.

“I’ve met him? Who?” Matt was even more confused when he heard Lin Rui’s words.

Da-Da-Da-Da

The entrance to the secret base, which had not been fully decorated, was slowly approached by a figure in some dim lights. After all the exposure to the light, the man’s face also showed up. He was a brown-haired, brown-eyed, half-blooded handsome man. This is the first time that Lin Rui and Matt have someone other enter the secret base since they established it and Matt doesn't know why Lin Rui wants to expose the site.

"Is this your secret base? It looks pretty good." The man who came in was stared at by Lin Rui and Matt without any tension, and after a glance at the base, he faintly evaluated the base.

"It's you! Didn't he die?" Eventually, sensing the man who was here, Matt asked Lin Rui in surprise.

It turned out that Matt has met the Half-Blood handsome man who had just came in, but it wasn't a friendly exchange. This guy was a member of Berserk Squad who Lin Rui and Matt met at Frankenstein Family's estate two weeks ago, the double-edged swordsman. But wasn't this guy killed by Lin Rui? How can he be here now?

"Daredevil, this is Jack. I want you to know him too. He's a member of Frankenstein Family Berserk Squad. Of course, Jack was a former member. Now Jack is dead. Well, on the surface he is dead, at least Frankenstein Family thinks so. Standing up from the sofa, Lin Rui formally introduced Matt to the assistant he had sought.

"Jack Reeves, nice to meet you. Mirage Knight, and Daredevil. You can call me: Viper."

Chapter 66 Spiderman And Mirage Knight

Inside the secret base, Lin Rui, Matt, and the new guy Jack are sitting on the couch, creating a triangle with their position.

Mirage Knight, is this the helper you got? A secret killer of Frankenstein Family? Your judgment in choosing our teammates has once again made me skeptical. Sitting in his seat, Matt said to Lin Rui with an enraged face.

For Matt, what he and Lin Rui did was not only unpleasant but also dangerous. He could not accept a fellow from Frankenstein Family to join his team. Especially, this guy faked his own death to escape and he is totally untrustworthy. How can he be sure that this guy will not betray them like he betrayed and defected from the Frankenstein Family?

"Daredevil, I know you don't trust Jack, and I certainly don't trust him completely. But in the last battle on the estate, I knew Jack wasn't totally cruel and cold-blooded. I saw that he didn't want to hurt innocent people. So when he asked me to help him escape from the Frankenstein Family's control, I chose to help him." Knowing that Matt couldn't accept Jack for a while, Lin Rui had to tell him what had happened in the Manor that day. That day, before Lin Rui wielded his blade, Jack asked for his help to get away from the Frankenstein Family, and Lin Rui chose to keep him alive.

"Even so, I will reserve my opinion of him." Matt doesn't trust Jack and he still feels that it's not good for a defector to join into the team. Of course, he didn't know that Lin Rui had other plans.

Mirage Knight, I'm glad you can tell the truth. However, I should have some choice about joining your team, right? I just want to work with you to destroy Frankenstein Family. That's what I've talked to you about before. Hearing Lin Rui's words, Jack sat on the sofa and said softly.

Although Lin Rui not only showed mercy to him and also helped him escape the Frankenstein Family by pretending to kill him. Jack did owe Lin Rui a big favor, but it did not mean that Jack would listen to Lin Rui's orders. If so, Jack might as well try to escape the place by himself. And he came here today because Lin Rui promised to fight Frankenstein Family with him.

"This is true. However, you already know the location of our secret base. Do you really think we will let you wander outside now?" Looking up, Lin Rui looks at Jack and retorted faintly.

Jack's attitude was expected by Lin Rui, but there's a reason why Lin Rui arranged the meeting place here. He's just going to put pressure on Jack to know he has no other choice. Of course, Lin Rui has spent some Reward points on the system to prove Jack's statement is true (much more accurate than a polygraph) and knows that he is really a good candidate for a teammate. Otherwise, Lin Rui would not have exposed the location of their secret base the first time he met Jack.

"So I have no choice now?" With a bitter smile, Jack asked helplessly. Mirage Knight and Daredevil won't let him go if he doesn't join them.

"It looks like that." Nodded, Lin Rui answered simply.

"Well, I'll join you. But my first goal is to destroy the Frankenstein Family. I don't want to be hunted down by them in the future. You probably don't know the horror of this family." Finally, Jack agreed to join Lin Rui's team. However, he has his own requirements. Maybe Jack will choose to leave after he destroys the Frankenstein Family.

"No problem, The Frankenstein Family is our goal anyway. With your participation, I think our actions will be smoother." Lin Rui smiled as he shook hands with Jack and agreed.

Matt is still on his sofa, and for the time being, Matt has no interest in the new member. But if Lin Rui thinks he's credible, Matt will certainly give him a chance.

"So, can I choose my own area now? I think you two seem to have separated your personal items according to certain rules." Sitting on the couch, Jack asked lightly. As a well-trained killer, Jack's basic judgment still exists.

"Ok."

"No."

Lin Rui and Matt answered in the opposite way, one agrees and one objected. Matt certainly won't let a newcomer start grabbing territory on the secret base, which is based on trust.

"Daredevil, give him a small area for the time being. Just the innermost area, all right? You don't need it anyway." Knowing that Matt did not trust Jack for the time being, Lin Rui had to mediate.

Hearing Lin Rui's words and knowing where Lin Rui was talking, Matt raised his hand and finally said nothing. If he had to contend for a place near the toilet, it would be too shameless.

"Jack, that area is for you, okay?" Seeing Matt acquiesce, Lin Rui asked Jack.

“Ok, however, my sofa should be placed here.” Anyway, he is not sleeping here, Jack is not very demanding on his own area. However, the position where he would usually do something must be at this center.

“Ok, but you have to find your own sofa. I don’t have funds and I don’t want handling services here, you have to do it all by yourself.” He nodded and agreed to Jack and added another sentence. Matt didn’t say anything this time.

“So, when did the team will start the first mission?” Jack asked.

“Well, I think you should be able to provide some information.” Looking at Jack, Lin Rui said lightly. As a powerful defector from Frankenstein Family, Lin Rui is not only interested in his strength, but also in his intelligence.

“It seems that you’ve already made up your mind.” Silently shaking his head, Jack said with a bitter smile.

“Don’t you want the team to work together? Frankenstein Family isn’t some normal street gang, We do need information.”

“Ok. So let’s get started.”

Kaka~

“Attention, all units in the confine of precinct 13, receiving a vehicle alarm on 133 Fort George Avenue, the suspect is trying to get inside a vehicle. ”

Kaka~

In the dark, New York police are radio-mobilizing officers around them to the alarm site. At the top of a building, a masked man in red and blue tights also had a home-made radio in his hand, and police calls had just been synchronized. Then the man in the ugly crying tights jumped straight down from dozens of stories building. Needless to say, the guy who just jumped out of the building was Peter Parker, who got superpowers.

Boom!

In the dark alley, two hooded gangsters had just broken the glass of a car. However, they did not know that the car’s alarm system had been triggered when the door had been broken, and the police were on their way.

After breaking the glass, one person is responsible for looking at the wind, and one person is responsible for getting in and taking things, and the division of labor is clear.

“Hurry up! Dude! I hearing the sirens.”

“I know, I saw this guy leave his bag in the car before he left!” At the urging of his colleagues, the one who took the things was also a little anxious.

And just as the guy who got into the car was trying to find something valuable, a dark shadow suddenly fell from above. The watchman was kicked before he could react and flew out, hitting the wall and fainting. The fellow who fell from the sky moved quickly and silently, and the guy in the car didn't realize that his partner in crime was no longer there.

"Hey! I found it, let's go!" A few seconds later, having found something, he got out of the car and shouted quickly. However, there was no familiar response around him.

"Hey! Are you looking for me? As he looked around nervously, a naughty voice suddenly came from behind him.

Hearing the voice behind him, the thief turned sharply. A seemingly transvestite was crouching on the roof of the car while his partner was lying unconscious on the ground behind him. Without hesitation, the thief had taken out his waist gun and pointed it at the fellow in front of him.

"Hey! Guns! It's dangerous! Do you really want to take it against me? Seemingly frightened by the gun in his hand, the transvestite crouching in the car screamed with surprise as he touched his face with both hands (which in fact only touched the rough mask).

"Don't meddle in my affairs!" Of course, the thief would not shoot so easily. He just wanted to get out of here.

"That's not going to work! Ha-ha, Let's see you do it!" Peter suddenly raised his right hand toward the thief in front of him.

Hey!

Pop!

Quickly and accurately, the synthetic spider silk thread fired from Peter's wrist and it instantly tied the man's right hand with the gun. The pistol was tied up and the thief did not care about his partner lying on the ground. He turned and fled the scene. But how could Peter let him do that?

Hey!

Ahh!...

Ten seconds later, The thief was tied up in dumplings struggled weakly on the ground. Of course, Oscorp's synthetic spider silk thread is not something he can break away from.

Sirens~

The Police cars less than a street away were roaring. Peter didn't stop too much. He raised his hand and shot spider silk at the next building. He swayed in the air for a few times and disappeared from the scene.

"Reporting, two thieves were caught on the spot and packed up again. It seems that our masked man caught them before us again."

"OK, take them back to the police station. We don't have time to take care of that fellow now!"

Back on the roof of the building where he was staying, Peter listened to the news coming from the radio, but he couldn't see it with his mask on his face.

"Huh! You're welcome." Throwing the radio into his backpack, Peter lay on the edge of the building roof and whispered to himself. Since he found a way to use his abilities, Peter felt that his life was full of fun.

"Hey! Are you complaining that the police didn't award you a good citizen's medal? As Peter lay resting on the roof of a building several hundred meters high, a voice suddenly came from behind him.

Hearing the strange voice (Phantom Suit's voice modulator), Peter quickly turned over from the ground and nervously faced the guy who got behind him without him knowing.

"Humm?! Are you Mirage Knight?!" Seeing Lin Rui dressed up, Peter suddenly asked excitedly.

"Well, I am Mirage Knight." Lin Rui nodded and acknowledged his identity.

"Ah! I am a big fan of yours!! Today I finally saw a real person, can you sign this for me?! Hearing Lin Rui's own admission, Peter was even more excited. He immediately took a small book out of his bag and handed it to Lin Rui.

Lin Rui: "... " This script is a little bit strange!

Chapter 67 Successful Recruitment

On a tall building, Hundreds of meters above the ground, strong winds are blowing Lin Rui's clothes as he stands there. On the other side of Lin Rui, Peter was standing in front of him with a small book in his hand.

"Uh, this..." Being stunned by Peter's actions, Lin Rui couldn't even remember why he came here for a moment.

"Oh! Right! Pen!" Just as Lin Rui was stunned, Peter suddenly shouted. I didn't even give Mirage Knight a pen, how can he sign my notebook?

Then Peter turned quickly and took out a pen from his backpack. Then he went back to Lin Rui. This time, both the book and the pen are presented to Lin Rui.

"Please give me your autograph! Mirage Knight!"

Lin Rui: "... " In addition to the black lines all over his head, he could only stretch out his stiff right hand and pick up the pen Peter had handed over.

"Ah! Sign this! And this! This! Okay! _This!" Seeing Lin Rui holding the pen in his hand, Peter quickly opened the book and quickly opened the position where he wanted Lin Rui to sign. It's hard to see an idol once. Peter can't pass up such a good chance.

Lin Rui signed several times on Peter's notebook as he was helpless. How did he forget it?! Peter is his fan! Besides being a student, Peter himself is no worse than Wade Wilson. Now, with the influence of variability, Peter's talking attribute seems to have been enhanced a lot.

“Okay, signed, now...” After signing Peter’s book several times, Lin Rui seems to remember why he came here today.

“That ~ can you let me take a photo with you? I have a camera!” Before Lin Rui finished, Peter happily picked up his little book and made his own request.

Without waiting for Lin Rui to agree, Peter had taken his camera out of his backpack.

“You!.....”

“Come on! Your pose should be handsome!” With the camera in hand, Peter has begun to look for an angle.

“Enough!” Finally having enough of Peter’s antics. Lin Rui snatched Peter’s camera in an instant. Why didn’t he find that Peter was such a funny fellow?

“Uh...” He was robbed of his camera by Lin Rui, and Peter looked at him with some amazement, not knowing what had happened.

“I’m not here to sign your book or take pictures with you! Spiderman!” Seeing Peter’s stupidity, Lin Rui said in a low voice.

“Ha! You know my name! That’s what I came up with! Look! When he heard Lin Rui’s words, Peter got excited again and raised his chest to show Lin Rui the ugly, crying black spider he sewed on his clothes.

Looking at Peter’s shabby clothes and the twisted lines on his chest that could not be seen as spiders, Lin Rui shook his head vigorously, shaking the imaginary black lines on his head.

“Well, Spiderman, I know you’re thrilled to see me, but it’s time to calm down. And can you stop showing off your ugly tights?” Seeing Peter twisting his hero suit in front of him, Lin Rui said helplessly.

“Is it ugly? I sewed this in a needle-by-needle fashion!” Hearing his idol, Mirage Knight, gave his hero suit such a low rating, Peter said somewhat unhappily.

It’s because it’s a stitch sewn out by you that’s it’s this ugly. Even if you have great power and agility after mutation and even gained spider senses. However, your needlework has not increased at all. Of course, Lin Rui can only think about it in his mind.

“Well, let’s not talk about your heroic suit for a moment. Anyway, anyone with eyes can see how ugly it is. I came to you today just to talk to you about your abilities and your responsibilities, and what you are doing.” Not wanting to talk too much about Peter’s clothes, Lin Rui finally turned the conversation to the topic he came here to talk about.

“Anyone with eyes can see how ugly it is?!” But what are you talking about my abilities and responsibilities? He first complained about Lin Rui’s comments on his clothes and finally, Peter turned his attention to his next sentence behind Lin Rui. For Peter, he has great abilities, so he should do these things. After all, with great power come great responsibility, right?

“Of course, you are far superior to others and what you are doing now is good. Although I don’t know where you are from, I’m glad you are willing to use these abilities for good.” Opening his eyes, Lin Rui affirmed what Peter had done as Spiderman.

Because Peter's Uncle Ben did not die because of the robber, Peter as Spiderman did not search for the killer as madly as he did in the movie and fell into a whirlpool of anger. Peter was more like a second-year middle schoolboy inspired by a robbery who wanted to get rid of riots and Spiderman appeared on the streets, It was quite different from the movies.

"Oh! Actually, I just do what I think I should do, just like you, Mirage Knight." Hearing his idol's affirmation of himself, Peter rubbed his head with some embarrassment and said.

"So, would you like to make greater use of your abilities? Although thieves and robbers on New York's streets need to be attacked, there is something more evil in the darkness that we need to fight against." Watching Peter finally get serious, Lin Rui went on to ask.

That's the ultimate goal of Lin Rui's coming to meet Peter today, He wants to recruit Peter for his team. Spiderman, as a proper big protagonist for Marvel World, is also recognized as powerful. And Lin Rui knows all about Peter. If he joins his team, it will be much easier for Lin Rui to deal with Jeston Gang, Frankenstein Family, and Kingpin.

"Greater use? Mirage Knight, are you talking about your enemy? Who is it?" Hearing Lin Rui's words, the clever Peter immediately guessed what he meant and asked seriously.

"Frankenstein Family, and the largest Mafia empire in the United States, that's my goal. Maybe there's something you haven't heard of before." Without concealment, Lin Rui told Peter about his opponent truthfully. Because Lin Rui believes that Peter, who is Spiderman, has a strong sense of responsibility and will not shrink back.

"Wow! So you've been doing these things! So, do you need me to join you now? Peter asked excitedly when he heard Lin Rui's explanation.

Peter was delighted to fight street crime and help those in need. But if he had a chance to compete with big guys like Frankenstein family, Peter would certainly not give up.

"Well. So, are you willing? Would you like to join my team to fight the dark forces underground and defend New York's security?" Nodding, Lin Rui asked Peter earnestly.

After Lin Rui asked that question, Peter suddenly fell silent and seemed to be thinking seriously. Lin Rui did not disturb him and gave him enough time to decide. But if Lin Rui knew what Peter was thinking about, he probably would not be so calm.

"What to do?! What to do?! Mirage Knight invited me to join his team! Should I promise immediately or pretend to think about it before I promise! What a dilemma! Would it seem too easy for me to be recruited if I promised it right away? But will it make Mirage Knight think I'm cowardly and irresponsible if I think about it for a long time? Peter's facial expression changed rapidly in front of the mask, but when Lin Rui thought he was seriously thinking about it, Peter was thinking about this.

Seeing that Peter is still "thinking seriously", Lin Rui is ready to walk to the top of the building to see the scenery. However, just before he took the first step, Peter had already stopped in front of him.

"I am willing! I am willing to join!" Peter was afraid that Lin Rui would leave so he replied loudly.

"Well, I see. I'm glad you have decided to join." Stopped by Peter, Lin Rui said with some embarrassment as he already knew Peter's last choice.

"So, what's the name of our team? Why not call it a phantom spider? How about it? I think it's a good name!" Determining that he had joined Mirage Knight's team, Peter began to think about the name of their team. Speaking of it, the name Phantom Spider sounds easy to associate with both of them.

"Don't be in a hurry to name the team for the time being. And we're not the only two on our team. I'll give you an address and a phone number. You can come to us directly. However, to give you a suggestion, you should look for professional people to redesign your following clothes." Lin Rui with imaginary black lines on his head rejected Peter's suggestion that his team should be named after them. His goal for tonight has been accomplished and he's going back.

"There are more people? It's so cool!" Peter was more excited when he heard Lin Rui say that they were not the only one in the team.

"Well, I have accomplished my primary goal, I should go." He doesn't want to talk to Peter so much and Lin Rui has already jumped out of the roof.

After a few seconds, Lin Rui has fallen on the top of a building opposite to his previous position and then he disappeared. Lin Rui, in order to show off his skills in front of Peter, unified the exchange of a Low-Level Qinggong footwork technique. As for Peter, he was so stunned to see Lin Rui disappear in front of him, and at his feet, a note with two rows of small letters was lying quietly on the ground.

In a remote area of New York, in a seemingly abandoned factory. But outside the abandoned factory, some people patrol from time to time. The seemingly abandoned factory buildings actually have different structures. Each factory building has huge space and is divided into several rooms. Every room is equipped with apparently high-tech products, but it is not clear what their specific use is. Obviously, there are some secrets hidden here.

"Professor Frank, a new batch of experimental bodies are here. Would you like to come in person?"

"No, you can handle the experiment yourself. I have other things to do here."

"Okay, I see." Hanging up, Francis glanced at the transparent glass in front of him.

The room on the other side of the glass looks like a large ward and there are more than a dozen experiments there: some of them are people who suffer from serious illness and don't have resources for "special therapy". Among them is a person Lin Rui knows: Wade Wilson.

Chapter 68 Small Quarrel

Two days later, in a secret base on the Hudson River. Lin Rui is sitting on his sofa. As for Matt, he is frowning at Spiderman, who is hopping around the base.

“Wow! How did you find such a secret base which is concealed, safe and spacious!” According to the address and telephone number Lin Rui left two days ago, Peter came back after spending two days at home and now he was visiting the base excitedly.

“Is this a public place? There is also a big screen TV and game consoles?! This refrigerator and Arsenal are also very good, although I don’t need those guns and bombs!” At his feet, he wandered around the base, and Peter’s words did not stop for a moment.

Hoo!

“Ohh? Cucumber-flavored potato chips? A good friend of mine likes them!” Shutting down the refrigerator filled with all kinds of food, Peter went on with his thoughts.

However, after he picked up the bag of cucumber-flavored potato chips and mentioned his good friend, Lin Rui, who had been seated safely on the sofa, was a little stunned. Then Peter threw the bag of potato chips back in, and he was relieved that it seemed impossible for a bag of potato chips to connect him with Peter’s good friend Jackson.

Hoo!

After finally visiting this secret base, Peter sat down on a chair in the public area, the chair that Jack himself moved in the previous two days.

“That’s...” Seeing Peter sitting in Jack’s seat, Lin Rui was going to remind him, but he didn’t say anything at last.

“So this is our secret base. And you, Daredevil, are another teammate of mine?” He twisted his butt in Jack’s chair and looked at Matt and asked.

“...” There was no response.

Daredevil was too lazy to take care of this apparent smart-ass kid and turned his eyes to Lin Rui in silence. Although masked, Lin Rui can also feel Matt’s expression saying: ‘Where did you find this wonderful flower?’

Although Matt knows that Lin Rui is also a junior high school student, but his behavior and character are more stable, Matt has never regarded him as a child. But Peter is different. He looks and seems like a childish and talkative second-year high school teenager.

“That, Spiderman. Now that you’re here today and you’re sure to join us. So, in order to cooperate better in future missions, we need to know what abilities you have. Why don’t you introduce them to us?” Receiving Matt’s silent message, Lin Rui took Peter’s words and quickly changed the subject.

Of Marvel’s Superhero, Spiderman has most fans and Lin Rui knows Spiderman’s abilities well. But this is a reality and not movies, so Lin Rui worries about deviations. Moreover, the films have been made in several versions and Lin Rui doesn’t know which Marvel World spiderman he is talking to.

“Well, of course. But I’m also curious about your abilities.” Hearing Lin Rui’s words, Peter agreed, but also made his own request.

“Of course, that’s what teammates do.” Of course, Lin Rui doesn’t mind telling Peter about his strength, as he will know about them in the future.

“Well, my abilities are mainly superhuman strength, agility, and observation. Also, I made a special device, a launcher that can emit synthetic spider silk threads. As you probably know, I can use this device to move quickly by swinging from one building to another. Peter briefly introduced his ability, of course, He still concealed the origin of his ability and the spider that gave him these abilities as he himself doesn’t understand them.

“Speaking of this, I’m curious about what you did that day. Mirage Knight, can you really fly?” After introducing his abilities, Peter looked across at Lin Rui and asked curiously.

Although Peter had great strength and coordination after his body went through the mutation, he could not fly directly from one building to another without any tools like Lin Rui.

“Haha, that’s just a special use of my abilities. Of course, I can’t fly, although I wish I could fly.” Laughing, Lin Rui explained briefly.

“And what abilities do you have? Are you a Mutant?” Hearing Lin Rui’s explanations, Peter first thought of the world’s easiest-to-think group of people with special abilities.

“No, I am not a Mutant. It can be said that my strength is gradually accumulated through a way of self-exercise, unlike those who are born with power.” Laughing, Lin Rui denied Peter’s speculation and explained the origin of his ability. Of course, he did not explain his cultivation technique, which is not generally understood.

“Oh! I knew you weren’t Mutant!” Peter was excited to hear Lin Rui’s explanation.

For historical reasons, the image of Mutants in the hearts of ordinary Americans is not too good. Although there are moderate Mutants like the X-Men led by Professor Charles, there is also brotherhood led by Magneto and underground evil forces that study the Mutants genes hidden in the dark. The US government’s attitude toward Mutants has not always been good and ordinary Mutants are not very popular in life. So today, most Mutants still hide their mutant abilities among the majority of ordinary people.

“Well? Yes? You don’t like Mutants?” Hearing Peter’s words, Lin Rui seemed to feel a slight estrangement towards Mutants in his tone.

This is not a good phenomenon, not to mention that Lin Rui will encounter many decent Mutants in the future. Now, there is a Mutant in his team, that is Jack (Jack is a third-level Mutant of muscle-strengthening ability. If Peter is too obvious, he is worried that Peter and Jack will not get along. Although Mutants’ forces are severely divided and they are independent and even against each other. However, in their Mutants identity, they are unanimous with the outside world.

“Ah?! No, it’s just that some Mutants always think they’re at the forefront of human evolution. I just don’t like them very much.” Apparently, Peter was also influenced by organizations created by the likes of Magneto that wanted Mutants to rise to lead the human race.

For Peter, Mutants are just a product of human development and not singular particularity. The world is so mysterious that Mutants are not the only ones with special powers. Like Peter himself, he became so powerful when he was bitten by a spider and his power was constantly growing and it was controllable, much better than the uncontrollable variants.

“Huh?! Are you one of the guys who think they represent all humanity going anywhere? Although I don’t quite agree with some of the Mutants Brotherhood’s views, I have to say that Mutants are indeed an evolution relative to ordinary people.” Just as Peter expressed his views on Mutants, there was a voice behind him, and it was two sentences from Mutants’ standpoint.

Hoo!

“Ehh? Who are you?” Hearing the voice behind him, Peter turned his head and saw a tall, mixed-race guy in a casual suit coming in. Of course, Peter’s tone was not very good when he asked that question.

“Hey! Mirage Knight! You just let this kid sit in my chair. I thought it was a private place?” Ignoring Peter’s words, Jack went straight to Lin Rui and asked, apparently upset with him.

“That...” Originally, Lin Rui just wanted Peter to take a small loss and converge on his speech attributes, but now things seem to be going in an unexpected direction.

“Hey! Who are you calling a kid?!” Before Lin Rui spoke, Peter jumped up from his chair and asked Jack loudly.

“Who else here but you would be fit for that word? Hmm?” Faced with Peter’s questions, Jack replied back without any weakness.

“You are an arrogant guy!” How could Peter, who was young and had just acquired superpowers, stand up to Jack’s response and as soon as he raised his hand, he had fired spider silk at him.

Hey!

The slender and strong spider silk shot out of Peter’s wrist and directly towards Jack not far away. Peter wanted to seal the man’s mouth with a cobweb!

However, Jack was not an ordinary person. When Peter raised his hand, he had already made a move. So, when the spider threads came, he had already drawn out a knife.

Hoo! Puff!

With a whisper, Peter’s spider silk sticks to Jack’s knife. Although his purpose has not been achieved, Peter does not intend to end this way as he pulled the spider silk thread with his right hand, he was trying to pull Jack’s knife. However, how could Jack let him do that? His hand holding the knife kept on exerting itself.

Buzzing~

In this way, a quarrel becomes a contest of strength. The spider silk that connects Peter and Jack is stretched out quickly between them and trembles slightly. As for Jack, his mutation ability and his self-cultivation Technique has made him not weaker in strength than Spiderman at this time. So they were stuck in a deadlock there.

Looking at the scene, Lin Rui didn't know whether to laugh or cry. But seeing Matt watching the play, Lin Rui had to stand up.

Hoo!

Instantly pulling the blade forward, the dazzling red light of the blade flashed in the secret base.

Jump!

With a crisp noise, Peter's spider silk split in the middle under the light of Lin Rui's blade. The confrontational couple also stepped back slightly because of the instantaneous appearance of new power. They deactivated their powers and stood still but the atmosphere between them did not ease because of Lin Rui's initiation.

"Hey! You guys, I didn't ask you to come here and fight with each other! Jack, I'm sorry, Spiderman just sat in your seat. I didn't remind him. As for Spiderman, your attitude about Mutants also needs to be corrected. No discrimination is allowed here!" Lin Rui shouted towards them. He didn't want a barrier to be created between them because of such a trifle matter. So he created some rules.

"Humph! I'll give you face, Mirage Knight!" Jack's attitude eased when he heard Lin Rui's apology. After a glance at Peter, he slowly lowered his knife and went to his chair to sit down.

"Spiderman, what about you?" Seeing Jack calmed down, Lin Rui turned to Peter.

"I know, I'll pay attention to it." Knowing that the resident Mutant was not happy with what he had just said, Peter chose to follow Lin Rui's words.

"Well, that's okay! We are all partners in a team. It's okay if there is a little bit fighting, Just don't let it affect your teamwork.

"Well, now that you all are here, let's discuss our future actions."

Chapter 69 Analysis And Planning

"One of the main reasons why Frankenstein Family has been able to stand for hundreds of years is because of the partner they choose, another huge force hidden in the darkness: the Vampire clan." Sitting in his chair, Jack slowly began to unveil Frankenstein Family's secrets with an iced coke in his hand.

"Hey! Are you kidding? Where in the world did Vampire come from?! Are there going to be any werewolves in your next sentence?" Just after Jack had said those two sentences, Peter who was sitting with Lin Rui on sofa began to ask questions. Although there are many crazy things in the world, Peter still doesn't believe in Vampires.

Looking at Peter, who had a disbelieving expression on his face, Jack was too lazy to explain it to him.

"Spiderman, there really are Vampires in the world. Although there's a big gap between the real ones and the ones you saw in movies but they do exist. I don't know if werewolves are real or not." Jack didn't explain anything to Peter so Lin Rui has to give this basic knowledge to Peter.

Lin Rui didn't expect Marvel World to have Vampires before he actually met one. After all, he only used to watch Superhero movies and didn't pay much attention to Blade playing with Vampires. As for werewolves, this setting does not seem to exist in the Marvel World, He just wonders if him being here will change the reality from what he knows.

"Oh? Are they? So what do they look like? Are they really afraid of sunshine and suck blood?" Hearing Lin Rui's explanation, Peter was even more curious and questions were asked one after another.

"You will know when you see one yourself. Now, shut up!" Lin Rui's patience for Peter's words was constantly declining and Lin Rui has to shut him up with his serious voice.

"The history of Vampire can be traced back to a thousand years ago, and it is not clear how they came into being. But they have always existed in our society as hunters in the dark. Although Vampire's existence is a top-secret affair to the general public, it is a deliberately hidden secret to some high-level executives."

"You mean, there's always been a relationship between the Vampire forces and the government? Or trade?" Hearing Jack's words, Lin Rui quickly guessed the possible link.

"It's not entirely correct to say that the U.S. government has been trading with the Vampire forces because it's only one of the secret services. The department that trades with Vampires is directly controlled by Congress and they have been providing Vampires with stable blood for years in exchange for more financial support. Otherwise, where do you think those guys in Congress get so much money from?" With a disdainful smile on his lips, Jack revealed the delicate relationship between Vampires and the U.S. Congress in a few words.

"What about Frankenstein Family? Why do the Vampire clan trade with Frankenstein Family when there is such a shady deal between the Vampires and the U.S. Congress? No matter how you look at it, Congress is better than any Mafia family." This time, Matt, who had been sitting in his seat and had not spoken, was also interested in Vampires.

"I'm not sure about that, but it's only been a few decades since Vampires and Frankenstein Family got into trading. I think maybe Vampires are not satisfied with the limited and expensive blood supply provided by Congress." Jack is not sure about the answer to Matt's question, but he gives his own guess.

"Well, while trading with Congress can be well hidden among ordinary people, it also limited in its own development. I don't think these Vampires want to live on the blood that Congress provides all the time. Maybe they wanted to get rid of Congress for a long time now, so they began trading with big mafia families like Frankenstein Family." Remembering Frankenstein Family and Vampires trading items, Lin Rui confirmed Jack's guess.

But if it's really like Lin Rui's guess, Vampires are likely to make a big move. After all, their plans may have lasted for decades and perhaps they are already producing their own stable blood supply. If that's the case, Congress's exploitation of them may be met with a frenzied backlash.

"Ah! Things are getting more and more complicated!" The more Lin thinks about it, the more things hidden in it, the more headaches he will inevitably have.

“Well, then the attack on Jeston Gang by the New York police was not accidental. There may be a shadow of Congress in it. After all, Vampires want to be independent of Congress, so Congress certainly won't sit there and watch them succeed. Fighting Frankenstein Family's Mafia and breaking their deal is the first step in for Congress.” As Lin Rui rubbed his eyebrows, Matt added his own comments.

Perhaps Congress has also noticed some of the Vampires movements and the blow to Jeston Gang is a warning to the Frankenstein Family and the Vampire forces. For Vampires, who provide them with huge amounts of money all year round, Congress will not let them go easily, but they will not destroy them either. They want to find a balance between them. But this time, Vampires may not do what Congress wants.

“In that case, Do we have to become the chess pieces in the secret struggle between these two sides? Vampires want to move beyond the control of Congress, which is holding the dark forces firmly in their own hands. And our attack on Frankenstein Family has just inserted us into their fight and it will get even more chaotic from now on! ” At Matt's words, Lin Rui's eyebrows wrinkled even more.

“Hey! What are you talking about? What's the trouble? Since Frankenstein Family is not good, let's deal with them! If Vampires are even worse, we'll deal with them together! What's wrong with this?! As for Congress, what can they do?” Peter, who had been silent for some time, could not help interrupting. He could not understand the twists and turns of the forces, but his ideas were more direct.

Hoo!

At Peter's words, the frowning Lin Rui and Matt suddenly turned their eyes to him. Two seemingly substantive eyes were fixed on Peter, making him uncomfortable.

“Okay! Ok! I won't talk!” He thought he was upsetting them by interrupting, and Peter waved and shouted.

“No! What you said is right! What are we struggling with here? Anyway, our goal has always been to fight against these dark forces. What is the relationship and confrontation between them, Why should we care about that? Although the forces of Congressional representatives are using us like chess pieces, we are not obedient chess pieces, We will do what we have always done.” Inspired by Peter's words, Lin Rui was enlightened.

“From the analysis of the current situation, Congress and Vampire forces have not completely torn their relationship with each other, but through Frankenstein Family, they are just setting up the stage. That illustrates the fact that Vampires are not yet completely free from the covert support of Congress. And Congress will not give up the vast amount of money provided by Vampire forces and their relationship at this time is very delicate.”

“So, if we were to crush the Frankenstein Family at this time. Or solve the hidden Vampire forces, they will fail no matter what they want to do. And Congress will lose a huge amount of financial support, they are not good people anyway so why should we care?. If they want to make us their chess pieces, then we'll destroy them!” Analyzing the situation at this time, Lin Rui finally said aggressively.

“That's it! Although I don't quite understand what you mean!” After Lin Rui finished, Peter was the first to show his support, although he did not much of what Lin Rui said.

“Well, so the first step is to completely destroy the Frankenstein Family.” Jack then expressed his opinion, which is a major requirement for him to join Lin Rui.

“Ok! The goal is fixed, then let’s make a plan! Jack, you have been with the Frankenstein Family for so long, this operation’s information is up to you.” Nodding, Lin Rui looked at Jack seriously.

“No problem, with the power of Congress stirring up the situation, I think our action will be easier to accomplish.” With a laugh, Jack agreed as he was looking for revenge.

“So, let’s get started then!”

Just as Lin Rui and others were planning their own plans, in a high-end apartment in a bustling area of New York, several gentlemen dressed in white were drinking red wine and chatting.

“The old guys in Congress seem to be trying to tear their relationship away from us! Cooperation with the Frankenstein Family cannot continue for the time being.” Shaking the scarlet liquid in a transparent glass, Housley, sitting on a luxury leather sofa, said faintly. As a Vampire elder, Housley has a clear understanding of the current situation.

The last deal at the New York suburban estate ended with the destruction of the said estate and Housley was wounded in that battle. Next came the New York police, who captured Jeston Gang and rescued innocent civilians who were supposed to be trade items. Although Ross and Housley and some representatives of Frankenstein Family escaped, the deal has already failed.

Although the deal was ruined by Lin Rui, Housley apparently knew that there were the hands of the guys in Congress behind this. If Congress wants to continue to hinder the development of the Vampire race, they will have to fight back in full, although they are not yet fully prepared.

“Those guys in Congress are just reluctant to give up the money. They don’t really want to turn their backs on us. They just want to go back to the relationship they had with us for decades.” Then behind Housley was a tall, charming woman who seemed to think Congress would not really turn their backs on them.

“But we can’t go back! Vampire’s glory is bound to appear in this world. We don’t want to hide anymore!” The rest of the room apparently disagreed with that beautiful woman.

“Yes, we have been preparing for so many years! Having secretly made contact with several big families, we will not give up at this last moment because of the involvement of Congress!” Housley put the cup on the table in front of him and said loudly.

“Well, that’s what the Presbyterian Council means. Our plans are going to be ahead of schedule.”

“But there’s always someone hopping around here, like that Blade who’s been fighting against us all this time.”

“Don’t worry, we will handle it.”

“That would be the best.”

Chapter 70 The Motion Starts

“Jack, are you sure this is it?” On the top of a tall building in downtown New York, Lin Rui stood next to three people, and he was asking Jack, who was standing in front of him.

After the meeting, Peter, Matt, Jack, and Lin Rui quickly finalized their plan for the destruction of the Frankenstein Family. That’s why they were here, they were led by Jack and they went straight into Frankenstein Family’s most important place: the daily activities of the family’s core figures.

“Yes. Where do you think that the core members of a big family like the Frankenstein Family live? They are famous in New York and people know them. Do you think they will hide in dark like the Jeston Gang?” Hearing Lin Rui’s words, Jack answered by asking some questions.

Indeed, large families like Frankenstein Family, which have lasted for hundreds of years, are still shining stars to people even though they are engaged in some unseen and shady businesses. In a big city like New York, No one cares about what your family is doing, they just need to have money and class.

“Nothing, I just feel that these people’s lives are really...” Looking at the luxurious villa below him, Lin Rui did not know what words to use to describe his current feelings.

“Luxurious? Flashy? Covered with money and Gold?” As Lin Rui shook his head, Jack gave him several adjectives.

“Well, that’s what it means. But everything they enjoy will end today.” Lin Rui nodded and agreed with Jack, then his feelings slowly settled down. They came here today to destroy the Frankenstein Family, not to lament the luxury of their lives.

“Okay, let’s determine our respective jobs. Jack, can you tell me about the entrance and exit of this villa in detail, What are their securities and locations of the guards.” Without further delay, Lin Rui beckoned and called Peter and Matt around him for final confirmation.

“Well, as I mentioned earlier at the base, as the activity center of Frankenstein Family’s core characters, this villa is also built according to a special design. There are three entrances and exits, two open ones and one hidden one. Every entrance and exit have a very elite security force and every security personnel is equipped with powerful thermal weapons.” Spreading his hand on the hand-drawn floor plan on the roof, Jack quickly combed the structure of the villa for Lin Rui.

“But, as I said at the base, ordinary security is not a threat to us. The real threat to our operation is another Berserk Squad hidden by the Frankenstein Family. After explaining the structure of one side of the Villa in detail, Jack put the blueprint away and said solemnly to the three teammates who surrounded him.

“Berserk Squad? Isn’t that the five-person team you were in? It’s really amazing, but it’s not as serious as you said” Seeing Jack so serious, Matt, who has fought with the Berserk Squad before said faintly.

Matt admits that Berserk Squad is really strong, but he can handle it. Last time Matt and Lin Rui dealt with five people. Now there are four people on their side. Wouldn’t it be easier to deal with five people?

“Daredevil, I know you’re very good. I may not be your opponent in the end. But you know, even if the names are the same, the strength of the two teams is very different. As Frankenstein Family’s secret weapon, The Berserk Squad is usually used to help the family deal with some difficult things, just like killing people like you.” Hearing Matt’s words, Jack can tell that he underestimated the Berserk Squad, which is not a good thing right now.

“How much better and stronger they can be!” Peter muttered silently. He now knows that Jack defected from that Berserk Squad when he was defeated by Mirage Knight.

“Normally, They would just need to send out our team, but some of the more subtle and difficult problems will be handed over to that Berserk Squad. The two teams have never done any missions together, so I am not very clear about their strength and weaknesses. But I once vaguely heard that there might be a Level Four Mutant in that Berserk Squad!” Ignoring Spiderman’s sarcasm, Jack gave them the key information.

“Level Four Mutant?! Really?!” Even Lin Rui, who had been calm, was surprised to hear Jack’s words.

According to Lin Rui’s understanding of Marvel World, Level 4 Mutants are already the top group of Mutants. As level 4 Mutants, they have a high level of mutation ability and can use their strong mutation ability freely. Compared with Mutants of the third and lower levels, Mutants of the fourth level can be said to be the dominant race of human evolution.

Even Professor Charles, a famous Mutant is a Level 4 Mutant as well as Magneto, his old rival and friend is also a Level 4 Mutant. Of course, there must be very few people like Professor Charles and Magneto who are top-notch Level 4 Mutants. After all, telepathy and Mind control, or electromagnetic control, are top-notch mutations.

“Well, although I haven’t seen that guy personally, I think his strength should be very strong. We can’t take it lightly.” With a serious nod, Jack gave everyone a look.

“Well, no matter how strong the so-called Level 4 Mutants are, our actions today will remain unchanged. If Berserk Squad shows up then leave them to me.” Lin Rui’s current strength is stronger than the average Level Three Mutants. As for how would he compare to the Level Four Mutant, He needs to fight before he knows. Of course, if that fellow’s mutant abilities are abnormal, then even if Lin Rui got defeated, he certainly won’t die.

“Ok, We will leave him to you. If you can stop that guy then I think our mission today should be successfull.” With a nod, Jack said that as he still believes in Lin Rui’s strength.

“Well, don’t worry. Is it time yet? We should act soon.” Glancing at the wristwatch, Lin Rui can’t wait to start tonight’s action.

“Let’s go! I can’t wait!” Spiderman could not resist the excitement in his heart. He didn’t care what danger he would encounter tonight.

“Ok! Time is up, Let’s begin! But Spiderman, your mission is to hold on to that secret exit and defeat any Frankenstein Family member who tries to escape from that secret exit. Don’t forget!” As he walked towards the edge of the roof, Lin Rui announced the start of the operation. Finally, of course, He told Spiderman his mission breaking his excitement.

“Hey! Don’t you trust me?!” Peter was dissatisfied and he followed Lin Rui and shouted loudly.

Bang!

“That depends on your performance!” When Lin Rui stepped on the top of the building, he jumped out and quickly fell to the luxury villa opposite to him.

Whoa!

Hoo!

“I’ll show you!” Following Lin Rui, Peter sprayed spider silk thread from his right wrist and flew out quickly.

“These two guys! Did they forget that the rest of us can’t fly! Looking at Lin Rui and Spiderman falling fast from the roof, Jack stood on the edge and said helplessly.

“That’s great! Stop complaining and let’s go! Otherwise, we’ll be pulled down!” Instead of staying in place for an extra second, Matt was running down the stairs.

“Wait for me!”

A single luxury villa located in the center of New York City, which belongs to Frankenstein Family, has six floors. The lower three floors are open to everybody which is a place for everyone to play. And tonight, this villa seems to be hosting a party, from the outside, all kinds of lively scene could be seen inside.

In the corner of the busy hall, there were several young people in expensive suits standing together, looking like a small group.

“Hey! Ross, I heard that you’ve been in a bad mood recently, and you’ve specifically called in some second-rate stars to your party. What happened, Was the last deal you were responsible for got destroyed and you got scolded by your family?” Holding a valuable glass of red wine in his hand, a core member of the Frankenstein Family asked Ross, who was smiling at him.

Bang!

When he heard his cousin’s words, Ross, who was already upset, put his cup on the table beside him.

“Paul! Don’t gloat here! Even if my deal failed, Grandfather still likes me better! What’s more, even Mr. Housley can’t deal with those guys. The Berserk Squad is all gone. Was there anything I could have done after that?! With cold fury in his eyes, Ross went straight to Paul’s face and said aloud.

It was only a normal family transaction. Although it was important, Ross was able to cope with it in terms of his recent growth in the family. But something like that could not happen again, not only was the deal destroyed, but Jeston Gang was almost wiped out. Even more embarrassing to Ross was that the Berserk Squad was completely wiped out and he had to ask Mr. Housley to defeat them personally.

“Humph! You also depend on Grandfather like this! If Grandpa hadn’t liked you so much, such an important deal would not have been screwed up and the Family would not have to deal with the fallout!” Pulled in front of Ross, Paul said impolitely. Paul is far inferior to Ross in his family status. But after the last deal, Ross's popularity in the family is not as good as before, and Paul certainly won't give up the chance to strike him so well.

"I'll try to get it back. I've already got in touch with Mr. Housley." Ignoring Paul's words, Ross is actively trying to salvage his failed deal.

"Hump! Then I will just wait and see." Paul's eyes flashed and he continued.

"Hey! Ross, Paul, long time no see. How have you been lately?" Just as Ross and Paul were wrestling in the corner, a handsome man came slowly with a beautiful woman and greeted them with a smile. However, the two men who were already glaring daggers at each other did not pay any attention to him.

"Hey~ What's wrong with you?" The handsome man stood awkwardly in the corner without getting the response he deserved.

Boom!

Crash!

Just then, in the corner where Ross stood, the floor windows on the wall suddenly broke, and large pieces of broken glass crashed down from the wall.

"Danger!"
