Chapter 631 Secret Weapon

When Professor Charles released his powerful Psychic force to scan the minds of the Soldiers, Captain Rogers, who was standing next to him, suddenly had a strange look in his eyes.

When Professor Charles discovered that the military was not really retreating, but let the ground troops hidden nearby fire unknown weapons and exclaimed loudly, Captain Rogers was just about to say something.

However, his words did not come out of his mouth. Because under the warning of Professor Charles, they all saw the light that rushed over in front of them.

Hoo-hoo!

“What is that?!” Captain Rogers asked in surprise when he saw the fast-flying object with a white tail flame.

However, Professor Charles had no time to answer his questions at this time. Moreover, Professor Charles didn’t know what this thing was. However, judging from what he had discovered in the Colonel’s mind just now, the military seemed quite sure to use this weapon to defeat Magneto.

And when this missile-like object that was fired extremely fast in the ruins rushed into the battlefield, Magneto, who was trapped by the Thunderstorm, had already calmed the thunderstorm and walked out.

Although the power of the Thunder Ball just now was very powerful but it was obviously impossible to defeat Magneto in this way. However, Magneto, who had walked out again showed a tired expression on his face.

From the beginning of the battle to the present, Magneto has been constantly attacking and fighting against someone. He is old now and although he does have his peak strength, his physical strength has become a little weak.

Therefore, when he saw the missile-like object rushing in front of him, he was too late to stop it.

Huhu!

Bang~ Boom!

With no one to stop it, the missile-like object that was clearly different from the other missiles exploded instantly as it flew to the middle of Magneto and Professor Charles’s position.

The next moment, an explosion of not too much power was generated over the ruins. If it was really a missile then the power of this missile is obviously not enough as the explosion range is only about ten meters square and it can not hurt Magneto or Professor Charles.

However, the expression on Professor Charles’s face did not relax because of the small explosion power.

Hum~

Sure enough, in front of the solemn gaze of Professor Charles, an undisguised strong wave spread from the center of the explosion.

It seems that the speed of this “Missile” is far beyond the speed of an ordinary missile and it had rushed over to release this unknown effect of the wave, and the ordinary power of the explosion is only incidental to it.

Professor Charles, who has been staring at that “Missile” since its appearance, immediately sensed the wave through his powerful Psychic power, and the moment he sensed that wave, the expression on Professor Charles’s face changed drastically.

The moment he was exposed to that wave, he already knew what it did.

“This wave...not good! Blink, get us out!” Professor Charles shouted at Blink before he could explain more.

Huh~

Hearing Charles’ voice, Blink did not hesitate to raise her hand and start creating a Space Portal. However, when Blink’s Space Portal was just built, the wave of fluctuations had already passed by her.

In the next moment, something unimaginable happened. The already stable Space Portal in front of Blink suddenly twisted a few times, and it finally broke apart in front of her shocked expression!

“My ability?!...it has failed!” The Space Portal disappeared, and Blink murmured in disbelief while raising her hand.

When the wave swept through her body, Blink felt that all the mutant abilities in her body that were under her complete control had disappeared. At this moment, she became an ordinary person, an ordinary person without any superpowers.

And after Blink’s Space Portal suddenly collapsed, the X-Men who had been standing beside Professor Charles also changed their faces. Because they also perceived that all their mutant abilities had disappeared.

“This is the Military’s Secret Weapon! A weapon that can suppress the abilities of Mutants!” At this time, Professor Charles’s reminder sounded in everyone’s ears.

Professor Charles in the wheelchair could perceive that his Psychic Power still existed, but it was suppressed in his mind and he couldn’t use it.

Just now, when Professor Charles used his Psychic Power to detect the missile, he found that his Psychic force disappeared inexplicably when it approached the missile, but he was still too late to remind everyone.

Huh~

The abilities of the Mutants present were suppressed and they seemed to have disappeared, only Iceman still seemed to have his abilities. However, even if he forcibly ignites his mutant ability, he can only release a trace of insignificant chill at this time.

Although Iceman has a hunch that he can still release his own power as long as he really fully stimulates his level five mutation ability, but then he will not be able to control his ability and the damage caused by him will not be any smaller than Magneto's full-powered attack.

"Damn it!" Looking at the small cloud of cold air rising from his hand, Iceman roared low in reluctance.

After that wave swept across this area, both Magneto who had just shown great power, and the X-Men who had saved a lot of their combat power became ordinary people at this time.

After Magneto realized that his abilities were completely suppressed, his face also showed a look of shock and panic for the first time.

Bang~Bang~Bang~

And shortly after the "Missile" exploded, there was another heavy impact on the battlefield. Chasing the source of the sound, Professor Charles and the others soon discovered where the sound came from.

It turned out that the sounds came from the dozens of holes on the ground of the ruins. There was a metal iron ball buried in these holes. It was the dozen or so Hulk giants that Magneto had just sealed with all his strength.

However, according to normal circumstances, they should have exhausted their energy at this time and become ordinary soldiers.

Boom! Boom! Tear!

Finally, after several consecutive impact sounds, the first metal ball was torn apart from the inside. Then, a hulk with red eyes came right out. Then came the second, the third.....

In less than a few seconds, all of the previously trapped hulks climbed out. After climbing out from the large pit of ruins, these green skin giants' eyes scanned the surroundings, and finally, their eyes fixed on Magneto and Professor Charles' direction.

"Roar! Roar!..." In the next moment, these dozen green skin monsters roared and split into two directions respectively towards Magneto and Professor Charles and pounced upon the now ordinary mutant.

Zi Zi Zi~

"Sir, the system recovery is normal." While Professor Charles and others had lost their mutation ability because of the military's secret weapon, Tony, who was trapped in the Iron Man Armor, suddenly heard JARVIS's voice.

"Eh? That's quite on time!"

Chapter 632 Strength Of Allies

From the moment when Magneto broke out with his full power to suppress Professor Charles and others in the field and attacked the military, Tony, who was not covered by Iceman's absolute ice-bound field, was trapped inside his Armor because of the loss of control.

And when Tony fell from mid-air, the direction of his face happened to be towards Magneto, so Tony also saw everything that happened afterward.

Magneto's explosive strength left a small fear in Tony's heart, and Tony's brows frowned as he saw a large number of Hulk giants in the military.

Tony has no plans to fight against Magneto before he had fully developed an Armed Suit that wouldn't get affected by the changes in the magnetic field.

As for the secrets of the military, Tony felt that it was not time to worry about them, anyway, Rogers's SHIELD was in front of them.

And just after the explosion of the Thunderball that interrupted Magneto's domain suppression, the functions in Tony's Armor were slowly recovering.

Therefore, after the military launched a secret weapon to suddenly suppress the abilities of all Mutants on the battlefield, Tony's Iron Man Armor has also been fully recovered.

Kaka~

The functions of the Iron Man Armor have been recovered, and Tony also got up from the ground.

"Jarvis, hold off the green monsters for as long as you can. I don't believe they can stay that way for long. The last three only lasted for three-minute." Tony got up from the ground and looked at the green giants in front of him as they lunge at Professor Charles and others and he gives a quick command.

"Yes, sir," JARVIS replied immediately upon hearing Tony's words.

In the next moment, a white flame was ejected from the feet of the Iron Mans, who had already recovered its normal operations beside Tony and quickly rushed forward.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The Green Giants seemed to regard everything in front of them as their enemy. Their bloodshot eyes were closely staring at Professor Charles and others not far away from them.

Each time they rushed forward, they would directly cross more than ten meters in each step. There were a few green giants heading towards Magneto, too, but it was clear that more were coming towards Professor Charles and his crew.

"Captain Rogers, it looks like you guys need to step up next." The powerful Psychic Power in his head was still suppressed, and Professor Charles spoke helplessly towards Rogers beside him.

"Professor Charles, don't worry, I won't let them hurt you." With a promise, Rogers had already brought SHIELD's special K team forward and stopped in front of Charles.

Mutants are indeed powerful, even if they are Second-level or First-Level Mutants who hadn't mastered their own abilities, their abilities make them far superior to ordinary people in some aspects.

However, once their Mutant Ability disappears, they are just like any other ordinary person. And now, Professor Charles and other members of X-Men are now in this state, and they have become ordinary people.

In fact, a Serum that can suppress a Mutant's Ability had existed in the world as early as many years ago, and the price is not expensive after being greatly popularized.

Many people in the world who are dissatisfied with their own mutant abilities, or who cannot control their abilities and the inconvenience they bring to their lives, will choose to inject Serum like this to make themselves ordinary people.

However, Professor Charles had never heard of any special weapon that the military has just released that can instantly suppress mutations.

If there is such a sophisticated weapon against the Mutants within the military then it will be much harder for the Mutants to remain safe in the country in the future seeing that the Military and those Congressmen are not happy about the existence of Mutants.

After all, this weapon has the ability to neutralize an entire range of Mutants in an instant within its range, even at level 4 or 5. If future anti-mutant forces were to go to war with them, this weapon would be the weapon that would destroy them.

At this time, Professor Charles is feeling very fortunate to have made the decision to join forces with Captain America, Iron Man, and Mirage Knight. Because, when their abilities are suppressed, at least these allies can help them.

When Rogers led the K team to the front, Jack, whose Mutant Ability was also suppressed, did not helplessly become ordinary people in need of protection like Professor Charles and the others.

Jack, who has learned the magic of the Sorcerer is quite strong even without his mutation ability. Therefore, he surpassed the K team led by Rogers Captain in one sprint and stood with Captain Rogers.

Buzzing~

"Although I don't know what the fuck is going on with these giants but I won't let them hurt anyone!" Jack shouted loudly in his heart as he waved out a few golden ropes.

Brush!

The ropes made of golden light thrown out by Jack automatically tied a few knots in mid-air and bundled towards the green giants and the green giants seemed too lazy to hide and ran into it directly. In the next moment, Jack's golden rope caught several Hulk giants.

"Okay!" Seeing that he had tied up several green-skinned giants, Jack let out a low shout, followed by a quick change of seals in his hands.

Swipe!

With the rapid change of Jack's handprints, the golden ropes that were attached to the green giants shrank quickly, and they soon affected the actions of the green giants.

At this time, these blood-red-eyed green-skinned giants seemed to notice the ropes emitting golden light on their bodies. Then, they began to struggle violently, and their sturdy arms stretched outward with force.

Huhu!

However, the Green Giants, who could tear apart the metal ball cage made by Magneto, couldn't get rid of the golden rope that bounded them.

These golden ropes are very magical, no matter how much strength the green giants use to break free, the golden ropes are still slowly tightening around their bodies.

Moreover, with the rapid completion of Jack's handprints, these ropes are still increasing, and more and more golden roped are being tied around the Green Giants.

Soon, these few green-skinned giants bound by the golden ropes have been unable to move an inch because their hands and feet are bound.

Buzzing~Pū!

When Jack ended the last hand seal with a sweaty head, a huge pillar made of golden light just plunged into the ruins in front of him.

And the many ropes wrapped around this golden pillar are exactly the ropes that bind the green giants. From a visual point of view, this scene is very shocking: a huge golden pillar is connected with a golden rope, and the end of the rope is tied up with several green giants.

"This League of Defender's Member...Why didn't we know that there was such a powerful person with them?" Seeing Jack's move, Professor Charles, who had already known Jack's strength during the battle with Magneto, couldn't help thinking in his heart.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

And just as Jack made his move and trapped a few Hulk Giants, the remaining Hulk Giants had already begun to fight with the K team led by Rogers.

Chapter 633 Sudden

After casting a spell to trap a few Hulk-like Giants, Jack took a few steps back. In the previous battle with Magneto, Jack had consumed a lot of stamina, and now he made a move to trap those Green Giants with enormous strength.

He was almost unable to release a single piece of magic now. Therefore, Jack couldn't intervene in Rogers's battle.

Shout! Bang Bang!

When Jack trapped a few Green Giants, not too far away from him, SHIELD's K team was fighting against those Green Giants. Various Lasers and Force Fields weapons were fired on the small battlefield from time to time.

And Rogers just threw the Shield in his hand at a rushing Green Giant, and the high-speed rotating shield smashed the Green Giant with Rogers' full strength.

Dang!

However, the shield which held enough power to cut through a wall made a clear sound when it hit the Green Giant's head. The huge power of the shield only made him slightly tilt his head, and he then continued to leap towards Rogers.

It seems that Rogers' attack irritated the Green Giant more than it hurt him. And Rogers' shield flew back towards him after being ejected in midair for half a circle.

Brush!

"Stark, are you seeing this?" Rogers suddenly said when he reached out and caught the shield that was flying faster than the Green Giant.

Buzzing!

Pū Pū Pū!

After Rogers spoke, dozens of white laser beams were suddenly shot down from mid-air. These laser beams avoided Rogers and the members of the K-Team accurately.

The targets of these Laser Beams were the Green Giants. Behind those laser beam strikes, dozens of Iron Mans had already rushed down from the mid-air.

"Haven't I already struck? Do you still expect me to personally go into battle? There have been enough surprises today." Then, Tony's voice came through Rogers' earpiece.

Rogers frowned helplessly when he heard Tony's words, and said nothing in the end. Today's situation has indeed exceeded their expectations too much, but weren't they here to deal with these unexpected situations?

The Mutants' abilities on the battlefield are now suppressed now, which is not necessarily a bad thing for Rogers. At least, Magneto, who alone can cause the greatest harm to Washington wouldn't be able to make another move.

Moreover, as long as they take care of these Green Giants then Rogers will be able to stabilize the situation today. Most of the members of the Mutants Brotherhood have been captured and Magneto's ability was also suppressed.

Although all of Stryker's reformed Mutants were destroyed by Magneto, at least he was not dead.

Although the Military's Soldiers have been killed by Magneto, they were still able to suppress Magneto and they now have the ability to kill him.

However, Rogers didn't want the military's Experimented Green Giants to kill Magneto as it wouldn't put an end to this and the Mutants Brotherhood will launch an all-out attack that will take many innocent lives.

“Cooperate with Iron Man and delay for some time, these Green Giants will not stay in this state for too long!” While thinking about the matter in his mind, Rogers also shouted loudly to the K Team next to him.

No matter how the Military intends to deal with Magneto, he won't let these Green Giants run amok among his people.

Rogers could also guess in his heart that the Military released these Green Giants not only to deal with Magneto but they most likely trying to give him a warning.

However, how could Rogers be such an easy person to be frightened? Although he is an “Old Man” who has just escaped from the ice, he has seen a lot of things in these days.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Then, Rogers led the K Team and they cooperated with the dozens of Iron Man and fought against the Green Giants in front of him.

Boom!

When Rogers was already fighting with the Green Giants, Magneto, who was alone opposite them, was looking calmly at the two Green Giants rushing in front of him.

Facing two Green Giants, Magneto's hands dangling beside him trembled slightly. But the metal, which was normally so easily controlled, could not move even a tiny bit around him.

“I didn't know the army had secretly developed a weapon against Mutants. I knew they hadn't given up on ridding the world of us! “Feeling his Mutant Ability being suppressed in his body, Magneto thought angrily.

Boom!

The Green Giant rushing to the front was less than 50 meters away from Magneto. At this time, Magneto's heart became calmer and calmer.

“Charles, even if you have changed, can you really reverse our position in this world?” In the last moment of life and death, Magneto looked across to Charles and whispered to himself.

Even if he is to die at the hands of the Green Giants in the next moment, Magneto is still Magneto, and he will not be afraid of death. However, he still has many regrets in his heart.

At this moment, his biggest regret was not being able to see his son and daughter with his own eyes. Moreover, Magneto had fought all his life for Mutants' position in the world, and at the last moment, he did not see the hope of Mutants' future, and he was very upset in his heart.

Whew!

“I hope Wanda and Pietro can live out their lives in peace, I hope Charles can really help Mutants win a bright future.” When the fist of the Green Giant that rushed in front of him was already less than five meters away from him, Magneto slowly closed his eyes and thought in his heart.

Brush! Boom!

However, just when Magneto could already feel the wind of the fist coming from the surface, the sharp pain that should have followed in the next moment did not come.

And Magneto's slightly narrowed eyes seemed to see a silver figure flashing in front of him, and after that silver figure flashed, the two Green Giants who had pounced on him flew backward at such a high speed.

When he opened his eyes again, Magneto saw a vague silver figure blinking quickly in front of him. The silver figure would pass by the two Green Giants every time he blinks and the two Green Giants were constantly hit by the silver figure.

Because they couldn't keep up with the speed of the silver figure, the two Green Giants with amazing defensive power could only be constantly repelled. Although they kept roaring, they still couldn't do anything to the silver figure.

"That's...who?!" Magneto said to himself with a trembling tone as he stared at the silver figure.

Chapter 634 Arrives

Originally, Magneto was ready to be punched and die in the hands of the Green Giant, but he didn't expect to be rescued at the last moment.

Moreover, looking at the silver figure in front of him who was constantly attacking the Green Giants without being clearly seen, Magneto felt a sense of familiarity in his heart, even though he had never seen him before.

"Roar!"

Boom!

Just when Magneto looked at the silver figure in his heart thinking about who he was, why he came to save himself, and what was this magical familiarity in his heart, the Green Giant fighting against the Silver Figure suddenly roared and then waved his hand violently.

In the next moment, that silver figure seems to have not dodged this attack and he was slapped away in front of Magneto's somewhat worried eyes.

Huhu~Pū!

Crossing a parabola in the air, the silver figure fell into some ruins. At this time, Magneto can clearly see what the person who saved him looks like.

It was a young man who looked less than thirty years old, with silver hairs and a determined face somewhat similar to Magneto.

"Cough!...Bah!" Quicksilver coughed twice while supporting his body with his hand and he then spits a little dusty saliva on the ground.

That's right, the young man who appeared to save Magneto at the last minute was Quicksilver, Magneto's son. Although no one knows why he appeared here at this time and saved Magneto, the timing of his appearance is really very coincidental.

If he had arrived early then he also would have been attacked by the Military's secret weapon and his Mutant Ability would have been suppressed. If he had arrived late then Magneto would have died.

"He! ... his appearance!" Magneto, who had been staring at him, cried out when Quicksilver fell to the ground and showed his face.

If Magneto just felt a familiar sense with that Silver figure who had saved him then after seeing the appearance of Quicksilver, that familiar sense in his heart became clearer.

Combined with the previous images of his childrens, Magneto's heart had sprung up a very surprising guess for him.

"He is Pietro! My son!" Finally, after staring at Quicksilver for a few seconds, Magneto called out excitedly.

Magneto is almost sure that the young man who saved him is his own son Pietro, and Magneto walked towards Quicksilver with a look of excitement regardless of the current dangerous situation.

Magneto didn't hesitate to venture to find Stryker today to find his own children, right now. his son is probably right in front of him, how could he not be excited.

Bang! Bang!

"Roar!" However, just when Magneto guessed that Quicksilver was his son, the two Green Giants that had just been repelled by Quicksilver had roared and pounced again. This time, their target was Quicksilver who had fallen to the ground.

"Watch out! "Seeing those two Green Giants pouncing on the fallen Quicksilver, Magneto shouted with a worried look on his face.

Buzz~

While loudly reminding Quicksilver to rush to dodge, Magneto also did not hesitate to force the use of his suppressed ability at the consequence of getting himself seriously injured.

In Magneto's slightly trembling hands, the surrounding metallic substances are once again under his control and are slowly converging at this time.

However, even though Magneto has broken through his limits, there is still no way for him to have his original strength. So, he could only extend his hand towards Quicksilver's side.

Hoo!!

When the two Green Giants jumped in front of Quicksilver, a metal wall quickly erected in front of Quicksilver and stopped in front of Quicksilver. With his mutant ability being suppressed, Magneto can only do this at this time.

Bang Bang! Ka~

After two loud noises, the metal wall blocking Quicksilver has directly smashed apart. At the same time when the metal wall was smashed, Magneto weakly put down his trembling hands.

“Damn that Weapon of the military! If something happens to my son then I will definitely erase you from existence!” Magneto could no longer release even a trace of power and he could only stare at Quicksilver’s side and swore loudly in his heart.

Hoo!

Breaking through the metal wall that Magneto had made with all his strength, the two Green Giants rushed in front of Quicksilver the next moment, and their front fist was less than one meter away from Quicksilver.

Quicksilver, who had fallen on the ground and hadn’t fully recovered, reflected the enlarging green fist in his eyes, but his eyes didn’t show much fear. However, when the metal wall appeared just now, a strange look flashed in his eyes.

Buzz!

Just when Magneto wanted to break through his limit again to save Quicksilver, a light red light suddenly swept from behind Quicksilver.

This reddish light passed through Quicksilver and then touched the two Green Giants. In the next moment, the Green Giants who were about to smash Quicksilver into the ground were set in place as if their bodies had locked up.

Their fists were still trying hard to attack Quicksilver not far in front of them, but they could no longer move in the pale red light.

Huh~

After anchoring the two Green Giants, the light red light surrounding them circulated again. In the next moment, these two huge Green Giant were thrown away by an inexplicable force.

And after the two Green Giant were thrown away, Quicksilver, who had fallen on the ground just now, patted the dust on his body and slowly climbed up.

Although he was caught off-guard by the green giant just now, it was only scratched on the edge and he was only injured a bit. Standing up, Quicksilver glanced at Magneto and finally turned to look behind him.

Hum~hu~

When Quicksilver turned his head, a red figure was flying down from mid-air, and soon landed next to Quicksilver.

The figure that landed next to Quicksilver was a beautiful girl with red hair that was the exact opposite of Quicksilver’s silver hair. Needless to say, the girl who saved Quicksilver’s life is Magneto’s daughter: Scarlet Witch, Wanda.

"I told you to be careful, you didn't listen and now you are injured!" Scarlet Witch, who fell beside Quicksilver, looked at the injured Quicksilver and said with a tone of worry and reproach.

While speaking, Scarlet Witch's eyes also drifted towards Magneto unconsciously.

"Don't be anxious? I am fine." Quicksilver said with a smile upon hearing Scarlet Witch's words.

Then, Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch both turned their attention to Magneto.

Chapter 635 Meets

When Scarlet Witch and Quicksilver turned their gazes to Magneto, Magneto was staring at them both blankly. Obviously, after Scarlet Witch's sudden appearance, Magneto had already guessed who she was.

"You guys!...what...what's your name?" After walking a few steps forward in silence, Magneto stared at Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch and asked nervously.

"I'm Quicksilver, and she's my sister Scarlet Witch." Seeing Magneto's expectant look, Quicksilver answered with a calm tone as much as possible.

"Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch? No, I'm asking your real names! Is your name Pietro? Pietro Maximoff?!" Hearing Quicksilver's answer, Magneto froze and raised his volume a bit and then asked again.

"What does our name have to do with you?" Without waiting for Quicksilver to answer this time, Scarlet Witch, who was standing next to him, asked with a sharp look on her face.

"Because I am your..." Magneto was a little excited when he heard Scarlet Witch's words and he almost said that he was their father.

"Brother, he's all right, let's get out of here as soon as possible!" However, before Magneto finished speaking, Scarlet Witch suddenly interrupted him by talking to Quicksilver.

It is not a coincidence that Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch were able to appear here in such a timely manner to save Magneto.

After Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch got out of Hydra's control, they have been living like ordinary people. However, because Professor Charles learned from Lin Rui that Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch are the children of his old friend Magneto, he has been looking for them and wanted to use them to counterbalance Magneto.

In order to avoid X-Men's search, Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch have been constantly changing places. Some time ago, because Scarlet Witch was getting more and more proficient in using her abilities, she was finally able to completely block Professor Charles' mental tracking.

So Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch also have a chance to get rid of X-Men and continue their normal lives, and they went to find their mother a few days ago. From their mother, whom they had not seen for years, they got a piece of very shocking news, that is, the birth of their siblings.

Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch's mother also guessed that Magneto would go looking for them after learning of their existence, so Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch quietly came to Washington after a long struggle.

The first thing they wanted to do was to see what the father they had never seen was like. And after watching the battle for a long time, Quicksilver still acted when he saw Magneto in danger.

However, Scarlet Witch was obviously dissatisfied with her Father's brutality. Therefore, she does not want to recognize Magneto as their father. Now that Magneto is all right, they can leave. Anyway, the military's weapon effect on Mutants' ability should be about to disappear.

"Wanda!" Seeing Scarlet Witch deliberately interrupt Magneto's words, Quicksilver pulled her down and said discontentedly.

Although Quicksilver has no affection for Magneto, he is their father. As an older brother, he cannot be too rude. Moreover, Quicksilver probably knows why Magneto was like this at this time. So, he didn't feel as disgusted with him as Scarlet Witch did.

"Wanda!? You are really my children!" Magneto said with excitement when he heard Quicksilver call out the name of Scarlet Witch.

Huh~

With that said, Magneto took another two steps forward. It seemed that he wanted to have a close chat with Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch. For so many years, Magneto, who has been alone, never thought that one day he would see his children, and they would be such powerful Mutants.

Hum!

However, Magneto only took a step forward and stopped. Because a light red light suddenly appeared on Magneto and stopped him. This is the first time that Scarlet Witch saw her father and she hadn't made any plans for in-depth communication.

So, after seeing Magneto approaching them, she still subconsciously made a move to prevent him from approaching.

"Quicksilver, let's go, I don't want to stay here anymore." After stopping Magneto from approaching. Scarlet Witch didn't look at him anymore and said to Quicksilver beside her.

"Okay..." Knowing that Scarlet Witch would leave no matter what he said, Quicksilver had to agree.

Brush!

In the next moment, before Magneto had time to stop him, Quicksilver took Scarlet Witch and turned into a silver phantom and disappeared before his eyes.

"Wanda...Pietro..." After Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch disappeared, Magneto, who was fixed in place, also recovered his mobility. Looking at the direction in which Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch disappeared, Magneto muttered to himself with a dim look in his eyes.

Huh~

However, when Magneto saw a small note floating down in front of him, his eyes sprang up again with a special glow. Reaching out and catching the small note, Magneto saw a series of numbers on it, supposedly a phone number or something. Apparently, this little note was left by Quicksilver before he left.

“Pietro, Wanda, don’t worry, you will recognize me as your father with time!” After carefully putting the note away, Magneto whispered to himself as he watched the road where Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch had disappeared to.

Buzzing!

Just at the moment when Magneto put the note away, he suddenly felt all the suppressed abilities in his body return.

Sure enough, the military’s secret weapon against the Mutants could not keep suppressing their power, and less than two minutes had passed since that missile explosion.

Although two minutes is already enough time to do a lot of things on the battlefield, but the military did not seize the opportunity this time.

“Huh! Now that I have seen my children, I will let you go this time! However, as you have exposed this weapon, just wait for the Mutants of the world to unite!” Squeezing his fist, Magneto saw the Green Giants that were thrown away by Scarlet Witch before, rushing over again and said with a cold snort.

Brush!

In the next moment, Magneto, who has already recovered his strength, waved his hand and the two Green Giants in the distance were swamped by the metal torrent rushing out of the ground.

When the metal torrent disappeared, two iron balls appeared on the ground. Obviously, Magneto has trapped them in it again.

“It’s time to go.” Taking a look at the situation on Professor Charles’s side, Magneto’s eyes flashed as he turned to leave.

As for the members of the Mutants Brotherhood captured by the X-Men, Magneto knew that Professor Charles would not do anything to them.

At that time Magneto will go to the Xavier Academy in person, and then he will have a good talk with Charles.

Buzzing!

And just as Magneto turned around and was no longer going to tangle with the military, a red beam of light suddenly shot out from the corner beside him, targeting none other than Magneto who had let his guard down!

Boom!

Chapter 636 Sneak Attack

The sudden appearance of the red beam was too unexpected and by the time Magneto raised his hand to release the Magnetic Field to block the blow, he was already a little too late.

And, just now, Magneto had used his ability when it was suppressed and he had suffered some serious internal injuries. Therefore, the red beam grazed Magneto's magnetic field and hit him directly on the shoulder.

Pū!

Magneto almost fell to the ground when his shoulder was hit, but he finally held back his injuries and stabilized his magnetic field.

After releasing the completed magnetic field boundary, Magneto swept a glance at his injured shoulder, and his eyes finally looked towards the location where the red beam had shot out from.

If Magneto is not mistaken then he had already finished all the transformed Mutants under Stryker when he exploded out with his full strength, and the guy whose eyes could emit the red energy beam was long dead. So, who sneak attacked him at this time?

Brush!

Just as Magneto stared at the corner over there to see who was sneaking on him, the space outside the magnetic field was suddenly distorted, and then a figure suddenly appeared out of thin air.

Staring at the person who suddenly teleported out of the magnetic field barrier, a look of surprise flashed in Magneto's eyes. Because this guy who appeared in a sudden teleport turned out to be the Number 2 that Magneto had crushed to death with his own hands.

"So it's you, it seems that you still have another mutant ability, Regeneration isn't it?" Looking at the magnetic field boundary blocked outside the number two, Magneto spoke with a cold look in his eyes.

Previously, when Number 2 actively attacked Magneto, he had shown many mutant abilities. At first, he broke through Magneto's large-scale attack, followed by teleportation, Cloning, and some kind of special energy that can break through the magnetic field barrier.

Now, he is showing his ability to shoot out red energy and some kind of Regeneration ability.

Obviously, this guy must be the most successful kind among Stryker's transformed Mutants. These abilities are not easy to find, not to mention that they are all gathered in one person now.

If it wasn't for Magneto being a Level 4 Mutant and his Mutation ability being able to control magnetic field, he wouldn't really know what to do when facing such a transformant Mutant with multiple mutant abilities.

Fortunately, when the military released that special weapon against Mutants' abilities, it also suppressed the ability of Number 2. Otherwise, if he could use the abilities freely when Magneto and others' abilities were suppressed then that would have been a disaster.

"Huh! That reaction is quite fast!" Number 2 said with some dissatisfaction while looking at Magneto's injured shoulder outside the magnetic field barrier.

Number 2 in the Mutants team under Stryker does have the ability to self-recover. After being crushed by Magneto and thrown to the ground, Number 2 was silently recovering.

But then Magneto broke out with all his strength and even if he recovered, he didn't have a chance against Magneto, so he kept waiting for the chance. When the military released the green-skinned monsters, No. 2 was ready to take action, but in the end, he resisted it.

Then the military released the secret weapon that could suppress the Mutants' ability, and Number 2's ability was also suppressed, so he had to continue to hide.

Number 2 was hiding in the side and he was disappointed when he saw that Magneto was about to be punched to death by the Green Giant because of his ability being suppressed, but then he was shocked by the sudden appearance of Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch. Fortunately, he was hiding and wasn't found.

After Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch left, all of No. 2's abilities were also recovered. When Magneto seemed to be a little relaxed because of seeing Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch, Number 2 attacked decisively. Although his attack hit Magneto, it didn't fully achieve his goal as it has only hurt Magneto's shoulder.

Hoo!!

After seeing who the guy in front of him was, the magnetic field that enveloped Magneto instantly spread outward. Since he knew that the guy in front of him had the ability to recover himself, Magneto would not give him a chance to do so this time!

Brush!

However, Number 2 was obviously prepared for this and he teleported away. When he reappeared, several of the same people had been separated standing around Magneto, and the energy fluctuations that could break the magnetic field barrier spread from each clone.

Buzzing~

Looking at the energy fluctuations emanating from the clone's bodies around himself, Magneto's eyes flashed with a trace of fatigue.

As the leader of the Mutants Brotherhood, as a superpowered Mutant that once shocked the entire world, Magneto would now be forced to this point by a transformed Mutant. Perhaps, this world has really changed too much.

"In that case, I can't let an upstart do me in!" Whispering softly to himself, Magneto's gaze quickly swept over the several No. 2s that surrounded him.

The next moment, Magneto's eyes stopped on one of the No. 2's bodies. And after being stared at by Magneto, a hint of surprise flashed in the eyes of that number two who was no different from the other number twos.

Boom!

Before that number two had time to react to why Magneto was staring at him, a torrent of metal had rushed out from the ground and instantly submerged him in it.

And while this number two was being flooded by the metal torrent, the other number two's movements surprisingly appeared to stiffen a bit, and then were directly pierced by the metal spikes protruding from the ground.

Pū Pū Pū!

The Number 2's pierced by the metal all turned into phantoms and disappeared in the next moment. Obviously, they were all clones. As for the real body that was submerged by the metal torrent, no one knows how Magneto discovered him.

"Damn it!" Being constantly impacted by the metal torrent, No. 2 had no way to teleport out from there.

Buzzing!

He couldn't use Teleport and a shock wave came out of No.2's body. This shock wave gradually changed from weak to strong, and it seemed that it would soon help him shake off the metal torrent.

Huh~

Just when Number Two was trying to get out of the predicament, Magneto on the ground suddenly squeezed his hands.

The next moment, the torrent of metal flying in mid-air suddenly stopped, and then instantly squeezed inward into an extremely compressed metal strip. As for Number Two, he was sealed in this long metal strip at this time.

Phoo~Bang!

"In this case, even if you have your Recovery ability, you won't be able to come back to life," Magneto whispered indifferently as he looked at the metal strip that fell to the ground from midair.

Then Magneto turned around and left the battlefield step by step.

Chapter 637 Contingency

Magneto's departure did not seem to attract anyone's attention, but it was not unnoticed.

Professor Charles, who was a few hundred meters away from him, silently retracted his eyes after Magneto left, and for his old friend whom he had known for many years, Charles' attention on him was still very high.

So, he also knew that Magneto had met his son and daughter. As for the later sneak attack on Magneto by Number 2, Charles did not care too much about it.

Anyway, this kind of transformation Mutant can no longer be considered normal Mutant, and dead is dead, Charles is not a saint.

“Iceman, now that the suppression effect has been lifted, you should go and take care of those Green Giants. It would be better to keep them alive.” His gaze was taken back from Magneto, who had left, and Professor Charles spoke to Iceman.

Because their abilities were suppressed, as powerful X-Men, Iceman can only hide behind Captain Rogers and SHIELD’s K team, which made Iceman feel very uncomfortable.

Now that the suppression effect has disappeared, Iceman doesn’t want to hide behind and let others protect him.

Brush!

After hearing Professor Charles’ words, Iceman instantly turned into an ice crystal and rushed out. Just by circling around those huge green-skinned monsters, the green-skinned giants whose defense and strength was almost insurmountable were frozen into a single ice sculpture by Iceman.

“En? It seems that they have already recovered.” Seeing Iceman’s sudden move, Rogers’s blinked and thought silently in his heart.

Then, Rogers led the K team to cooperate with Iceman to quickly freeze the remaining Green Giants. Coupled with the Iron Man in mid-air, they will soon be able to control all these Green Giants.

Boom!

Half a minute later, the last Green Giant also fell under the combined effort of Team K and several Iron Man.

At this point, these Green Giants with amazing defense and strength released by the Military were all under their control.

Sweeping a glance at the wounded Soldiers in the K Squad, Rogers’s brow furrowed tightly. After this incident is over, Rogers would have a good talk with the Military.

“Captain Rogers, Magneto has left. I think today’s incident can finally be over. Although it caused a lot of damage, but it can be considered to be under control without further expansion of the incident.” After Rogers walked back to Professor Charles, Professor Charles looked at him and said with a smile.

Once the fight between Mutants becomes uncontrollable, it will cause unpredictable losses to a city and even a larger area, not to mention a strong mutant with an abnormal ability like Magneto.

Although Magneto broke out with all of his power once, he at least did not affect Washington as a whole.

The worst result was that the area close to this battlefield seemed to have suffered low-level earthquakes, some of the ground cracked, and the building swayed a few times.

This kind of loss is completely acceptable for this kind of war, at least SHIELD can completely resist this kind of consequence.

“Eh, it was also nice to work with X-Men this time.” Hearing the words of Professor Charles, Rogers calmly responded.

Although Rogers is not a person who cares about strength, he also has to admit that the strength of X-Men far exceeds his Avengers.

Although the Avengers can arm themselves with continuously upgraded high-tech equipment, their strength will drop a lot if they encounter Mutants like Magneto that can abolish most of the high-tech equipment.

Therefore, this joint operation is also a good thing for SHIELD.

“Do you know anything about Magneto’s raid on Stryker?” Although Magneto has left, Rogers still doesn’t know why he has attacked Stryker this time. So after the incident stabilized, Rogers still asked Professor Charles.

“I was going to tell you even if you hadn’t asked me. The reason why Magneto attacked Stryker...” Hearing Rogers’ question, Professor Charles nodded and was ready to explain.

However, just as Charles was going to explain the situation to Rogers, Rogers suddenly frowned and the expression on his face suddenly became very ugly.

“Not good!” Without hearing Charles’ explanation, Rogers suddenly looked up in the air and shouted out loud at the same time.

“What?” Seeing Rogers’ instantly changing face, and then hearing his alarming cry, Professor Charles looked up with some confusion.

In the next second, Professor Charles saw a figure in the sky descending rapidly. In the process of descent, the figure quickly expanded from normal size, and soon became a giant the same size as those green-skinned giants.

“That’s... another modified Soldier?” Although this Hulk-like creature that descended rapidly from mid-air looked a little different, Professor Charles still treated him as the same as those transformed Soldiers that were controlled by the Military.

“No! He’s not the Military’s Soldier! Damn it! Why did he come down!?” Hearing Charles’ words, Rogers replied while already rushing out with his shield.

“Not a soldier? What is it then?” Hearing Rogers’ answer, Charles thought suspiciously as he looked at him.

“K team! Assemble!” While Professor Charles was puzzled, Rogers had already gathered the resting K-Squad again. Looking at him, it seems that Rogers is more nervous facing this Green Giant than he was before.

And when Rogers assembled the K-Team, the Iron Man who was originally suspended in the air also looked at the rapidly descending figure in the air. After scanning the specifics of that figure, one Iron Man located at the back suddenly wavered in mid-air.

“The real monster is here!” Looking at the JARVIS scan results, Tony suspended in mid-air muttered to himself with an ugly expression on his face.

After comparing the JARVIS scan with the data in his own database, Tony was shocked to find that the Hulk giant that was falling rapidly was actually Dr. Banner, who had been missing for several years, and he is the real Hulk.

“JARVIS, how long till I can use that weapon?” Tony suppressed the shock in his heart, and then quickly asked JARVIS.

In the face of the real Hulk, Tony’s Iron Man was not enough. The only thing that hoped to suppress him was the secret weapon. Even if all the people in X-Men were able to recover, Tony didn’t think they could control an angry Hulk.

“Sir, there is still one minute and thirty seconds left.” JARVIS quickly replied when he heard Tony.

“Then, proceed to pre-start!” Tony said in a serious tone as he saw the giant in front that had landed on the ground.

“Yes, sir.”

Chapter 638 Sudden Arrival

Just after the effect of the secret weapon was lifted, the X-Men and others were able to use their abilities and Iceman cooperated with SHIELD’s K Team and Iron Man to control all the remaining Green Giants.

More than a minute before that, a plane that did not belong to the military suddenly flew towards this battlefield from a distance.

The proximity of the plane to the battlefield made Roger feel a little weird because this plane was a Quinjet. Moreover, the people contained in it are also special, especially in the context of this battlefield.

Huhu~

As the Quinjet flew toward the battlefield, a man and a woman were standing beside the transparent glass in the cockpit and they were looking down. The man seems to be very curious about the battle below as he sticks his head slightly out of the glass and looks down.

“Dr. Banner, we’d better go straight to SHIELD Headquarters.” As the Middle-Aged Man curiously looked at the battle below, the perfectly shaped woman beside him spoke up.

Lin Rui would have been able to identify this woman just by her voice if he had been here, the voice belonged to SHIELD’s Agent, Natasha who had been missing for a long time.

And the person she spoke to is Dr. Banner, the real Hulk, one of the most famous Superheroes in the Marvel Universe.

Since Natasha found Dr. Banner, she has been helping Dr. Banner around to help people who need help. After almost two weeks of running around, Dr. Banner finally agreed to go back to SHIELD with Natasha.

However, whether or not he will join SHIELD is still up for consideration.

When Natasha was taking Dr. Banner back towards SHIELD Headquarters, they happened to encounter Magneto attacking Stryker, and their route happened to pass by this location.

After noticing the fight on the ground, Dr. Banner had a strong urge to take a look at it. After all, if he wants to join SHIELD then he needs some necessary understanding of them. Moreover, he also wanted to see what kind of person Captain America is.

However, Dr. Banner's curiosity made Rogers nervous. So after learning of this, he asked Natasha to persuade Dr. Banner to go to SHIELD's Headquarters first.

After all, the Green Giants released by the Military might irritate the emotionally unstable Dr. Banner. If Dr. Banner became angry at seeing those Green Giants then the consequences would be unimaginable.

However, Natasha did not notice that Dr. Banner's eyes, which were covered by glasses, gradually blinked with a hint of green light. Just when Natasha was thinking about how to make Dr. Banner go to the SHIELD's headquarters, Dr. Banner suddenly raised his head to look at her.

"How can I miss such an interesting thing." Looking at the beautiful Natasha in front of him, Dr. Banner said with a smile.

Hearing what Dr. Banner said, Natasha's expression froze, and then a confused expression appeared on her face as she spoke, "Dr. Banner, you don't want to..."

"Those Green Giants, are they Military's weapons? Back then, I cooperated with them in experiments. I didn't expect that after so many years, they still researched out some defective products." Without hearing Natasha's words, Dr. Banner continued as he walked towards the back of the cabin.

Although his first sentence was a question, it was clearly spoken in an affirmative tone. Moreover, Natasha actually heard a very obvious disdain from his tone. Those Green Giants that could even smash Magneto's magnetic field barriers forcibly, seemed not worth mentioning in front of Dr. Banner.

"Dr. Banner!" Natasha shouted nervously after seeing Banner walking towards the back of the cabin.

At this time, Natasha had probably also guessed what Banner was planning to do. But how can she let this happen?

Regardless of whether Banner is angry with the Green Giants below, or has any other plans. If the real Hulk is allowed to appear then Natasha feels that the battlefield that has finally stabilized below will definitely erupt in chaos again.

Moreover, this time, it would be a fight that no one wants to participate in.

"Since you want me to join SHIELD, you have to show me what you are capable of. Isn't this a good opportunity? If you have not even seen Hulk then how can you cooperate with him in the future?" It seems that he doesn't mind the existence of another violent personality in his body as Dr. Banner turned his head and looked at Natasha behind him with a smile on his face.

"Dr. Banner, you!..." Natasha didn't know how to answer when she heard Banner. Moreover, by this time, Natasha could already see the green light in Banner's eyes.

“Open the hatch, do you want me to do it myself? You know I have the power to do that.” Not hiding the growing green glow in his eyes, Banner looked at Natasha and then said.

“Dr. Banner okay.” In the end, Natasha still agreed.

Faced with a scary character who could transform at any time, Natasha had nothing left to do. If Banner really wants to try SHIELD or Rogers’s strength, then he should have some measure.

After spending so many days together, Natasha also found that Dr. Banner and the previous rumors and information they have about him had a big gap.

At least, Dr. Banner can control his emotions very well, and he seems to be able to control the violent personality in his body.

So, instead of letting Dr. Banner transform into Hulk and then tear open the Quinjet and rush out by himself, Natasha might as well open the hatch and let him out.

Pū~Kaka!

After Natasha nodded in agreement, the closed hatch under Dr. Banner’s feet slowly opened. As the hatch opened, a gust of strong wind came in from the outside, and Natasha grabbed the fixed metal rod on the cabin and looked at the banner in front of her.

Compared to Natasha’s unsteady figure under strong winds, Dr. Banner seemed very calm.

“Thank you.” Turning his head and looking at Natasha in the strong wind, Dr. Banner thanked her and jumped out.

Call!

In the next moment, Dr. Banner’s figure disappeared in front of Natasha’s eyes in the wind.

“I hope Captain and the others can handle it!” Watching the hatch slowly close, Natasha thought helplessly in her heart.

After she failed to convince Dr. Banner, Natasha has already passed on the news of Dr. Banner’s transformation to Rogers in the battlefield below. So, what happened next was out of Natasha’s control and she will leave it to Captain Rogers.

Chapter 639 Lin Rui

After jumping out of the cabin, Dr. Banner rushed down at high speed. While diving, the green light in Banner’s eyes grew more and more, and finally, the entire pupil was flooded with green light.

After the green light in his eyes filled his pupils, the corners of Banner’s mouth rose slightly, and then he suddenly opened his arms in mid-air.

“Hulk, it’s time for you to come out!”

Rip!

In the next moment, Dr. Banner’s muscles all over his body quickly swelled, and soon the casual suit he was wearing was torn apart.

With the rapid expansion of his body, Banner's skin is also changing rapidly, changing from the original skin color to pure green. Compared with the Green Giants on the ground, the Green on Banner looked purer.

Boom!

Huhu~

Ten seconds later, Dr. Banner, who jumped down from the air, had successfully transformed into Hulk and fell to the ground.

At this time, Hulk had only a pair of shorts with very good elasticity. Halfway naked, Hulk's muscles stand out like hard stones. The Hulk's body is significantly more violent and powerful than the mass-produced Green Giants secretly created by the Military.

Pū!

Lifting his foot from the cracked pit and taking a step outward, Hulk made a huge footprint right through the debris.

After walking a few steps in a row, Hulk had already walked out of the big pit he had created on the ground. In the next moment, Hulk's gaze was already set on Rogers and SHIELD's K team not far away.

His dark green pupils contracted slightly as Hulk's right leg moved back slightly and bent by half a step. The next moment, he bent back and kicked the ground.

Boom!

There was a loud noise and the huge impact directly made Hulk jump up high. Hulk, who jumped up, fell towards the ground after reaching the highest point, and his target was Rogers and the others in front.

"Sir, the Sky Hub II is ready, should we launch?" When Dr. Banner jumped from a high altitude and turned into Hulk, and then jumped towards Rogers, JARVIS's voice came in Tony's ear.

"Not yet, let's wait for a little." Hearing JARVIS's reminder, Tony shook his head and replied.

According to Jarvis's analysis, the current Hulk is only showing a Level 4 power level, which means that the Hulk at this time is not showing his full powers.

If that's all there is then Rogers, along with the X-Men and his own Iron Man, will still be able to handle it. As for the Sky Hub II weapons, they are reserved for use as a last resort.

"All right, Sir. Now count down to Eighty Seconds." When he heard Tony's answer, Jarvis continued. Jarvis then silently began the countdown backstage. If they don't use Sky Hub II within 80 seconds then they won't be able to use it again.

Dī Dī!

And just a few seconds after JARVIS counted down, he suddenly received an emergency message.

“Sir, Mr. Mirage Knight has rushed back.” The next moment, JARVIS had told Tony the news he had just received.

“En!? Jackson is back!?” Tony’s eyes lit up when he heard the JARVIS report.

“However, it is useless even if Jackson is back now! Hulk’s strength can no longer be considered by normal thinking. Tell him to not get involved.” But after thinking about it, Tony realized that Jackson would not be able to stop Hulk, so he asked JARVIS to inform him not to rush forward.

“Okay, sir.” Upon hearing Tony’s words, JARVIS agreed, and then already sent the news.

...

Just when Dr. Banner suddenly jumped off the Quinjet and transformed into Hulk, another Quinjet belonging to SHIELD just flew to the edge of the battlefield. This Quinjet was the plane that drove Lin Rui back from Mexico. In order to get back as quickly as possible, the engine of this plane was almost burnt down.

Dī Dī Drops!

Just as Lin Rui, located in the cockpit of this Quinjet, stretched his neck to observe the situation below, JARVIS’s voice came through his headset.

“Mr. Mirage Knight, Magneto has left, and other members of the Mutants Brotherhood and the Military’s Experimented fighters are also under control.

But now, Dr. Banner had suddenly appeared on the field and he has transformed into Hulk. In order to avoid unnecessary fights, Mr. Stark asked me to inform you not to participate in the next battle.”

Hearing JARVIS’s reminder, Lin Rui’s eyebrows twitched several times in succession.

Originally, Lin Rui thought that it was only Magneto against Stryker this time and with the presence of X-Men, the incident should not be serious enough, especially in the case of Professor Charles who knows about Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch.

If Magneto really became uncontrollable then Professor Charles can also come up with news of Quicksilver and Scarlet Witch to ease him down.

However, subsequent events and accidents have surprised Lin Rui several times on the way. Both Magneto’s full-powered attacks and the military’s Green Giants and the weapons that can suppress the Mutants’ abilities have surprised Lin Rui.

And just now, Lin Rui got the news that the incident has finally subsided, and now Dr. Banner had appeared here and transformed into the Hulk!

“Why would Dr. Banner suddenly appear here? Also, didn’t he always reject transforming into the Hulk? If I remember correctly, Hulk and Banner should be two different personalities, who would think of actively turning into another personality?” A big question appeared in Lin Rui’s mind after he heard the situation from JARVIS.

If Dr. Banner can really switch at will between the normal high-IQ scientist and the invincible Hulk, then he is really the most powerful Superhero in Marvel World, at least in Lin Rui's view. However, is this really the case?

"No matter what, I still have to take a closer look. That's Hulk! He could even punch Thor who was fighting with Mjöltnir!" Mentally speculating about this Dr. Banner, Lin Rui finally made a decision.

"JARVIS, tell Mr. Stark I already know, I won't mess around." Lin Rui, who had already made his decision, replied to JARVIS.

Then, Lin Rui had walked to the rear cabin position. Taking out the Hoverboard, Lin Rui directly asked the pilot in front to open the hatch for himself.

Phew!

At the next moment, Lin Rui had grabbed the Hoverboard and jumped out.

Chapter 640 Crush

When Lin Rui jumped out of the Quinjet with his flying skateboard, JARVIS also relayed his words to Tony, whose expression was very hard to read after hearing the news from JARVIS.

After knowing Lin Rui for such a long time, Tony did not believe that he would stay honest and watch. However, Tony had no way to make Lin Rui listen to him. After all, Lin Rui is a teenager, he is in an age where when they don't like to listen to anyone's advice.

"Forget it, Banner must be here for fun this time. Even if Jackson couldn't help joining the battle, there shouldn't be any problems." In the end, Tony could only comfort himself. As for the credibility of his statement, no one knows how true it is.

"JARVIS, pay attention to detect Dr. Banner's energy level at all times, and tell me as soon as it exceeds Level Four." Failing to manage Lin Rui's side, Tony spoke towards JARVIS.

"Yes, sir." Upon hearing Tony's words, JARVIS quickly replied.

Whew!

Then, Tony also flew forward quickly in his Armor. Although Tony didn't plan to fight with Hulk, he also wanted to see if the guy who had left a big shadow on him can surprise him again now.

...

Huhu!

Just when Tony contacted Lin Rui and failed to stop his curiosity, the Hulk flying in the air was about to fall onto the K team led by Captain Rogers.

"Team K! Release and control the Force Field!" Rogers shouted loudly as he watched the huge figure descending towards them.

Kakaka! Hum!

After Captain Rogers finished shouting, the K Team standing behind him all turned on their Force Field Weapons. After a burst of noise, bursts of force field spread out from the K team members.

Soon, these force fields are interwoven and fused together to form an area that strengthens the force field.

And the Hulk falling in the air happened to be in this area. Rogers wanted to control the situation as he really didn't want to fight the Hulk, although this battle was unilaterally initiated by Banner.

Huhu! Boom!

When the Force Field on Team K's side was just merging, the huge figure in midair had already crashed down. Almost ignoring the force field's resistance, the huge green figure slammed into the ground, creating a huge crater on the ground as well as a large cloud of dust.

"Not good! Disperse! Strengthen the output power of the Force Field!" The expression on Rogers's face changed and he hurriedly shouted after seeing the green figure breaking through the Force Field and smashing into the center of the K Team.

Whew!!

However, although Rogers's reminder was already fast, the reaction of Team K was still a bit slower. Just when Rogers' voice fell, a thick arm was already swung out in the dust.

Pū! Pū!

In the next moment, the strong arm abruptly withstood the blocking of the strengthening Force Field and shot towards the two nearest K Team members, making them fly out.

Huhu!

After slapping two k-team members, the huge figure shrouded in smoke and dust moved quickly and soon walked out of the dust-shrouded area to appear in front of Rogers and others. The Hulk emerges from the dust and appears to be unaffected by Force Field, which could have trapped even the military-made Green Giants.

"Pull back! Use long-range weapons!" Staring dead at the Hulk in front of him, Rogers gave the order again.

Facing such a humanoid monster, fighting him at close range would be the height of stupidity. If they keep a distance then perhaps they can still hide and hold on for a while...

Didn't Banner want to see what SHIELD could do? Then they will let him see for himself! Moreover, Rogers now has more than just the K Team with him. Behind him are the X-Men and Tony's Iron Man.

Huhu!

Hearing Rogers's command, Team K quickly dispersed. In addition to maintaining the output of the Force Field, they also took far superior attack weapons and aimed them at Hulk in the center of the encirclement.

Although two of their members were down, the K team would not just retreat. The members of Team K, who are only several times better than ordinary people in physical fitness, certainly can't compare with the Hulk in front of them, but their use of various high-tech weapons is enough to allow them to deal with people with special abilities.

Pū Pū Pū!

After the K-Team pulled away, Hulk, who had wanted to continue slapping a few people away, had only taken two steps out and had already been attacked by no less than a dozen energy attacks and vibration waves.

However, these attacks, while very powerful, are still unable to leave a mark on Hulk's body. In terms of defense, the Hulk is not really afraid of anyone or anything in this world.

After a few seconds of being blandly attacked by Team K, Hulk's eyes suddenly flashed with a green light, and since his pupils are also green, the flash goes unnoticed. In the next second after the light flashed in his eyes, Hulk, who was walking, suddenly stopped. Then, he suddenly opened his arms and slightly leaned forward.

"Hulk~~~Clap!" At the same time as a loud shout, Hulk's open arms slapped together violently in front of his chest.

Call! Rumble!

After Hulk's hands were slapped together, a shock wave quickly propagated from the position of Hulk's hands in front of his chest. The shock wave emitted by Hulk completely using his strong body is no worse than the shock wave released by the Mutants Brotherhood's Shockwave Girl.

Pū Pū Pū!

Swept by a powerful shock wave at close range, almost all of the K Team that had been stretched for a certain distance were knocked to the ground, and most of the equipment in their hands were also destroyed.

Only Captain Rogers was able to somehow block Hulk's attack with his shield. However, by this time, the K-Team had little fighting power left.

Shout!

Hulk, who sent out a Hulk Clap, glanced over the fallen K Team with a little disdain, and finally stopped in front of Captain Rogers. The next moment, Hulk raised his foot and walked towards Rogers.

Brush! Boom!

Faced with the approaching Hulk, Rogers threw out his shield with all his might. However, the shield attack, which even wounded the military's transformed Green Giants, grazed Hulk's face before turning in mid-air and returning to Rogers' hand.

Compared to individual strength, Captain America really can't compare with Hulk.

Brush!

However, just as Hulk was striding towards Rogers, an icy blue figure suddenly rushed towards him from the side. Then, a large swath of cold engulfed the unsuspecting Hulk.
