Chapter 801: Feeling

On earth, Siberia SHIELD's base, the teams that are being reintroduced through the space portal are receiving a proper settlement and Recovery Serum. Especially the members of the Avengers, League of Defenders, and X-Men. They are the core of the team and the ones who give the most and were hurt the most.

In this base, in addition to the most heavily guarded portal, the place where Captain Rogers was given the Recovery Serum was also heavily guarded.

This time, the most important people were seriously injured, and the temporary commander was very nervous. If something happened at this time, even if he died a hundred times, he would not be able to atone for his sins. This was related to the protection of the entire earth.

Snapped! Clap Clap!

Just when these Soldiers or Heroes who had just returned to the earth from the fierce battle were receiving the highest-end Recovery Serum in the medical room, a person who was half leaning on the hospital bed suddenly ripped off the medical connection to detect the physical condition on his body and sat up.

Shout!!

The next moment, he was already out of the hospital bed.

Dī Dī Drops!

"Mr. Falcon! You're not well enough to get out of bed!" When the man suddenly pulled out the detection instrument and got out of bed, the medical staff who had been paying attention to the situation on this side shouted nervously and ran over.

Ignoring the medical personnel who ran over, Falcon stepped out of the bed and walked towards the side of the ward with a pale face.

The medical room in this base is large enough to be divided into several medical areas. Falcon and the others who were not seriously injured were placed in the peripheral medical area. As for Captain Rogers and the others who were seriously injured were placed in the center, and the direction Falcon walked was the center.

After a dozen steps, Falcon stopped at a transparent glass wall. On the other side of this glass wall is the center of the infirmary, where Rogers and others are. He observed the situation inside.

Da Da Da~

After Falcon was standing against the glass wall for a moment, there was a sound of footsteps behind him. Then, in silence, a man came and stood beside him, looking with him over the glass wall. It was Hawkeye, and it was Hawkeye who chased the paramedics away.

“Don’t worry, Captain and the others will be fine.” Hawkeye reached out and patted Falcon’s shoulder as he spoke in a serious tone.

“Well, I know Captain and the others will be fine,” Falcon responded lightly after hearing Hawkeye’s words.

“However, Hawkeye... what was the point of us doing this? Is it... Do you really think that it was to create an out-of-ground zone?” After answering Hawkeye, Falcon gently asked two more questions.

For this S-Plan, the action of gathering the powerful warriors on the earth side and to take them through the portal to enter the battlefield of an extraterrestrial civilization. Falcon had a lot of doubts from the beginning, but he still followed Captain America seriously and carried out his mission.

At the end of the day, Falcon is still a true soldier, and he is a very upright soldier. After seeing the cruelty of the battlefield with his own eyes, Falcon was not very supportive of the conflict between the Earth team and extraterrestrial civilization.

Hawkeye: “ ...”

Faced with Falcon’s question, Hawkeye was momentarily at a loss for an answer. Hawkeye didn’t know exactly what Rogers was thinking. He knew, however, that Rogers was not launching the S-Plan to open up a base on the extraterrestrial civilization areas.

Furthermore, this time it was the search for Magic Cube that led to the discovery of this stable space portal. Rogers didn’t plan to do anything with this portal and it was just normal scientific research.

However, Rogers’ mind changed when the Dark Elf war beasts and those powerful and cruel warriors appeared.

Since this portal has been established to allow the safe transport of civilizations on both sides of the space, a collision between the two civilizations is inevitable.

So, now that the other side has figured it out, to limit the damage on this side of the earth, Rogers has taken the more radical step of actively opening the battlefield on the other side of the portal!

Of course, Rogers could not have decided on such a plan alone without Mirage Knight’s information and intelligence. However, thanks to the trust of Tony Stark and Professor Charles in Mirage Knight, Plan S can proceed smoothly.

However, due to misinformation and a miscalculation of Dark Elf’s power, the Earthside almost did not return.

“Whatever Captain had planned, I don’t think he would have liked to see us like this. So let’s get back on our feet. We still have a lot of problems we need to solve.” After two seconds of silence, Hawkeye replied.

“Hey! I know, it’s just...” Falcon looked at the severely injured people on the other end of the glass wall in front of him again, and he didn’t know what to say.

“By the way, where are Tony Stark, Spiderman, and the guy the League of Defenders left behind? Are they not supposed to be here, as early retractors?” After watching Rogers and the others, Falcon suddenly remembered that there were a few people who were not injured very much, who should have been here.

Of course, Falcon wasn't blaming Tony and Spiderman for their absence. After all, if it wasn't for the support of Tony's 100 Iron Man, they didn't know how many of them would be able to withdraw.

One must know that during their retreat, the Dark Elves threw out several black hole grenades. The retreat of the Earthside would have been greatly affected if the power of the black hole grenades had not been blocked by a dozen Iron Man's serial self-destruct.

"Stark and the others... According to Vince, they all rushed back to New York after receiving a message." Hawkeye replied after thinking about it. Vince is the current commander of this base.

"Went back to New York in a hurry? What's the news? Is it even more urgent than what we are here?" Falcon asked in confusion after hearing Hawkeye's answer.

"I haven't..."

"It's Mirage Knight!" Just as Hawkeye was finishing his sentence, a voice came from behind them.

Hu~

When Falcon and Hawkeye turned around together, they saw Storm with short silver hair standing behind them. The voice was hers. However, while Falcon and Hawkeye were looking at Storm, her eyes went through Falcon and Hawkeye to the seriously wounded man behind the glass wall.

"Storm, what did you just say? Mirage Knight? What happened to him?" Hawkeye couldn't help but speak, seeing that Storm's eyes hadn't moved back.

Chapter 802: Staff Restoration

Hearing Hawkeye's questioning, Storm turned her eyes back to Hawkeye and Falcon.

"From the information I got, Mirage Knight was attacked by the Dark Elves when he went to inquire about their situation. Now his life is in critical condition and he may die at any time." Storm replied calmly while looking at Hawkeye and Falcon who were puzzled.

"What?!"

"Mirage Knight..."

Hearing Storm's answer, Hawkeye and Falcon both shouted in disbelief.

"Yes, I know there were some inaccuracies in Mirage Knight's information, but he didn't expect that either." Seeing the expressions on Hawkeye and Falcon's faces, Storm continued.

"Then he now..."

"He is currently undergoing the conservative Recovery Serum at Stark Industries. Whether he can survive it or not depends on luck. Because those who can help him may not be willing to take action." Before Hawkeye could finish speaking, Storm continued to answer.

Storm got the news from the X-Men. Of course, she already knew that the League of Defenders asked the X-Men to find Anna Marie. However, based on Storm's understanding, she may not break the peaceful life she has maintained for so many years for a stranger she has never met.

Neither Hawkeye nor Falcon said anything else after hearing Storm's words. Although they were curious as to why some people would be reluctant to help Mirage Knight, looking at what Storm just said, she wouldn't have said it if she didn't believe it. So, they won't ask much.

"If you look at it this way, the S-Plan this time really hurt us!" Just when Hawkeye and the others felt anxious and helpless because of the current situation, another voice came from behind them. Then, the unscathed Dr. Banner appeared in Storm's line of sight.

"Dr. Banner, how is the situation over the Portal? Is there an attack from the Dark Elves?" Hawkeye asked quickly when he saw Dr. Banner coming over.

They knew in their hearts that there would be nothing wrong with the Portal as they can still safely accept the Recovery Serum here, but they have to confirm it themselves before they can feel at ease.

"Nothing has happened at the Portal yet, and even if someone or something comes out, it will take them passing by the other green guy. So, don't worry and recover. Worrying about this and worrying about that won't help your injuries." Hearing Hawkeye's words, Dr. Banner quickly replied and then persuaded.

"That's good! As for us, this injury is nothing, but I am worried about Captain and others. This time, I don't know when they will be able to recover." Hawkeye spoke with a relieved expression on his face after knowing that the Portal is safe.

"Huh?! Captain is awake!" While Hawkeye was talking to Dr. Banner, Falcon over there suddenly pointed to the glass wall and shouted in surprise.

Shout!

Following Falcon's shouts, Hawkeye and the others immediately looked on the other side of the glass wall. Then, they saw that Rogers, who was lying on the hospital bed by the glass wall, had opened his eyes and was trying to sit up with difficulty.

However, because of the wounds all over his body, Rogers tried several times without success and finally stopped his movement after attracting the attention of the medical staff.

"Haha! Like I said, Captain will be fine!" Hawkeye said with a surprised expression on his face as he patted Falcon on the shoulder.

"Yeah! That's right!" Falcon just replied with a relieved expression on his face.

"It seems that the Super Soldier Serum effects were much stronger than I had thought! Or, is Steve have something more special?" After seeing this scene in front of him, Dr. Banner's evaluation was better than others.

And not long after Rogers woke up, other people who were unconscious because of their injuries also woke up one after another. No one knew if it was because they were blessed by the protagonist halo or something else. Rogers' situation on earth is much better than it was on the other side of the Portal.

Of course, although Rogers and Professor Charles are both awake, they still need a long time to recover because of their serious injuries. Moreover, Siberia's plan for Portal has failed.

As long as there is any change in the Portal, Rogers will destroy it at any cost, just like the dimensional space in London.

So, after Rogers and the others recovered a little, except for Rogers and a few members of the Avengers, everyone else returned to their homes one after another.

The Magic Cube has been obtained, and Mirage Knight who has obtained the Magic Cube is now in critical condition. It is useless for the injured Professor Charles and others to stay in Siberia.

Huhuhu~

The members of the X-Men are in the rear cabin of a fighter jet taking off from the Siberia base.

There were five people from the X-Men team that participated in the S-Plan, of which Storm's status should be considered the best. Blink and the Beast are now unable to use their mutant abilities, and as for Path Finder, he is also seriously injured. And Professor Charles can't use his full power.

"Professor, Anna..." Looking at Charles, who had been resting with his eyes closed, Storm hesitated for a moment before speaking.

Iceman has been trying to contact Rogue for a while, but so far there has been no response. If Rogue doesn't want to do something then no one can force her.

Hearing Storm's words, Professor Charles slowly opens his eyes. Storm and others could see the deep fatigue in his eyes. But Charles's wisdom was not diminished by injury or fatigue.

"Logan's over there. If they're coming back, they're coming back together." There was a pause, and Charles couldn't hide the weariness in his voice.

"Then, do you think they'll come back together?"

"Who knows?..." Charles closed his eyes and rested again after he said that.

Whoosh!

Asgard, the forbidden place where the Aether was originally hidden, a violent spatial fluctuation suddenly spread from the inside of the mountain.

Buzzing~

This space fluctuation lasted for half a minute before it ended, after which the forbidden area returned to a quiet state again. However, inside the mountain, the structure that had been stable for thousands of years has been destroyed.

Chapter 803: Distressed

"Ahhhh!..." After a pause in space fluctuation, a roar of incomparable anger came from the deep red mountain.

For more than an hour or so, there had been a series of battles inside the mountain since Jane Foster had accidentally entered the forbidden territory through dimensional space. From Thor's power to Lin Rui's rescue, to Lin Rui's final battle with an entire team of Dark Elf warriors, the forbidden land is devastated.

At this time, the center of the mountain, where the original dimensional space existed, has been completely collapsed by the earthquake, not even a passage exists. However, in this piece of a complete collapse of the ruins, a figure stood on a piece of rubble looking in a direction.

Moreover, the man had clearly suffered a severe blow to his chest, and his entire breastplate looked shattered and deflated. Although this man looked a little dusty and was obviously hurt, the guy's eyes were still cold.

"Midgard! That place is Midgard!" Suppressing the anger that he could not hold in his heart, the guy standing on the ruins let out a low cry as his throat puffed out a few times.

Needless to say, this dusty-looking guy standing on gravel in the forbidden realm of Asgard is Malekith who was blasted back from Earth by a space-based weapon.

Had it not been for his quick reflexes which allowed him to dart back into the interdimensional space the moment the space-based weapons fell, the leader of the Dark Elf race would probably be gone by now.

Because SHIELD on Earth used space-based weapons to directly smash the dimensional space, the dimensional space on the side of the Asgard forbidden area was shattered.

Malekith was thrown out almost at the same time as the dimensional space collapsed. Ordinary people would not be so lucky to survive such a space collapse. It can only be said that Malekith's own strength and luck made him survive such a disaster.

"Midgard! Midgard! If the Aether is taken to the Midgard..." Melekith's breath slowly calmed down and his mood also got better and there were some other changes in his cold eyes. It seems that Malekith has also thought of something else.

Huhu~

Just as Malekith was thinking about what to do with the current situation, there was a slight movement at his feet. It was obvious that something was about to rush out from under the ruins.

Malekith's expressions didn't change at all at the movement beneath his feet. Because he knew that beneath the ruins were War Beasts and Dark Elves buried by the collapse of the dimensional space.

Bang Bang!

Sure enough, under Malekith's calm gaze, several holes were drilled from below the ruins. Then, the heads of several cannon fodder war beasts were exposed first. Immediately afterward, the buried Dark Elf warriors also crawled out one after another.

Except for the Dark Elf warriors who didn't return from the Earth. Several Dark Elf warriors who have not yet crossed the dimensional space died as they were all affected by the collapse of the dimensional space just now.

The expression on Malekith's face was very ugly as he looked at the war beasts and Dark Elf warriors crawling out of the ruins. This time, the Elites of the Dark Elf race had followed Malekith to the forbidden realm of Asgard in search of the Aether.

Malekith's heart also hurt as he realized his losses. Fortunately, he was safe, and there were two of The Kursed left behind. Otherwise, Malekith would have regretted coming here.

"Chief!

"Chief!

After climbing out of the gravel burial, the Dark Elf warriors ran towards Malekith in horror. Although these Dark Elf fighters are the most elite team under Malekith, after facing the crisis of life and death, these powerful fighters also felt fear.

Just as Malekith frowned at his panicked men, a Dark Elf warrior walked in front of Malekith with a black scepter in both hands.

Shout!

"Chief! Your scepter!" The Dark Elf warrior who found the scepter from the ruins shouted, raising his hands respectfully.

A complicated expression appeared in Malekith's eyes when he saw the scepter being handed to him. This scepter is made of sacred wood unique to the Dark Elf Clan and it has always been a symbol and weapon of Malekith's identity, but now, there is a very obvious crack in the upper third part of the scepter.

This crack was caused by Malekith after throwing the scepter to block the space-based weapon, and after the scepter was smashed back by the space-based weapon, it hit Malekith himself. The broken breastplate on his chest was because of this Scepter.

His eyes swept over the badly damaged scepter several times, and Malekith finally reached out and took the scepter. Although the scepter may now be broken in two with a little force, its symbolism is still enormous, and Malekith could not discard it.

"Has everything been investigated? What else happened in this forbidden place before we came? I do not feel the Aether's energy in the people of Midgard, so the Aether must not be in them." Malekith asked as he looked at the dusty Dark Elf warriors before him as he folded his staff.

Before Malekith went to Earth through the dimensional space, he had arranged for some Dark Elves here to continue to investigate what had happened in this forbidden area before.

Because Thor and Jane didn't meet any Dark Elf, they were just met by a few war beasts. In fact, what these Dark Elves saw was only a Lin Rui, but there was no Aether on Lin Rui.

In fact, this is a very good judgment, because Dark Elves are very familiar with the energy of Aether. If those Dark Elf warriors had sensed the energy of the Aether from Lin Rui at that time then maybe they had become desperate from the beginning, then Lin Rui's situation might have been much worse than it is now.

“Chief! According to our battlefield analysis, there was more than one enemy here. Actually, there were supposed to be three people here. According to a cave tunnel that has been destroyed, several of the beasts were killed by the Power of Thor .” At Malekith’s words, one of the Dark Elf who had gathered around him took two steps forward and answered.

“Three people? The Power of Thor? Could it be!...” Malekith’s eyes sparkled with a terrifying light when he heard his men’s reply.

“Odin?!” Odin is Malekith’s first thought if it’s clear that the beasts have been pulverized by thor’s power

Chapter 804: Guess

However, after thinking about it for a while, Malekith decided that it was highly unlikely, if not impossible. Because, if it was Odin, he couldn’t have just killed the cannon fodder beasts.

This is, after all, the forbidden land of the Asgard, and the place where the Aether is hidden. If Odin did find out that Malekith was leading the best team of the Dark Elf clan to find the Aether, he couldn’t have just done something so unimportant.

So Malekith was almost certain that Odin couldn’t have killed the beasts that had been pulverized by the Power of Thor. Well, maybe there’s only one possibility left.

“If it wasn’t Odin then the only person with the Power of Thor would be... Asgard’s Crown Prince, Thor Odinson.” Malekith thought quickly in his heart.

“In that case, in addition to the troublemaker of Midgard, the Crown Prince is also involved in this. However, according to the information Laufey gave me, wasn’t the Crown Prince of Asgard banished to some world by Odin?” Combining the various situations reported by his subordinates, what happened in this forbidden area was gradually restored in Malekith’s mind.

“Could it be that... this Thor was banished into Midgard by Odin?!” After thinking about it, a thought suddenly flashed in Malekith’s mind.

But while the situation was largely straightened out, Malekith’s brow remained furrowed. According to his theory, Whether Odin discovers his movement or not, Thor, the eldest son of Asgard, is involved with the Crown Prince of Asgard and he should be involved with Midgard.

And now, the whereabouts of the Aether is very uncertain, it may be in Midgard, or it may be in Asgard, which makes the situation very complicated.

“If this is the case then I can only go back and trouble the High Priest again! No matter what the price is, I must get the Aether and the Nine Realms will be plunged into darkness forever. I can’t give up now!” In the end, Malekith, who was unable to determine the whereabouts of the Aether had no choice but to make such a decision.

Then, after recovering on the spot, Malekith quickly left the forbidden area of ??Asgard with his wounded soldiers. Their venture into Asgard’s forbidden area to find the Aether was almost a total failure, but they were still certain that the Aether did exist and wasn’t destroyed.

Shortly after leaving Asgard, Malekith received urgent news from his base camp. A portal had appeared inside the territory of the Dark Elf Clan and there were powerful enemies from other worlds there, which caused a lot of damage to the Dark Elves.

Malekith, who got this news, almost smashed the communicator in his hand. He took the most powerful team of the Dark Elves to go out to do a big mission, but he almost lost his home!

Through the detailed information that came from there, Malekith discovered that among those enemies, there was something completely similar to the Colossus weapon used by the Midgard man he met in the forbidden area of Asgard.

“Could it be that Midgard had joined Asgard to conspire against the Dark Elves? Maybe... they have discovered our plan to take advantage of this Convergence to plunge the Nine Realms into darkness forever?!” After a little analysis, Malekith couldn’t help thinking of this.

It’s no wonder that Malekith thought so much as it was a series of experiences and special circumstances that point to this outcome. If Midgard, who has not been seen on the universe stage for a long time, has teamed up with Asgard against Dark Elves then Malekith will have to think about what to do next. At the very least, his original plan was bound to be revised.

“Asgard... Midgard, what the hell is going on with them!?” Malekith, who was already in the Spaceship, stood in front of the cockpit and looked blankly at the eternal darkness of the universe outside as he quickly thought in his heart.

Huhu~

The Spaceship carrying Malekith and a group of powerful Dark Elf warriors quickly flew away from Asgard’s territory. Because of the Dark Elf Spaceship’s stealth function, Heimdall did not notice the departure of the Spaceship.

...

Earth, New York, Stark Industry Building.

Tony, who had returned, only revealed a small part of the situation to Pepper before he comforted her and hurriedly went to the fifth underground floor to check on Lin Rui’s situation.

“Mr. Stark!” Harry shouted excitedly after seeing Tony coming back.

Harry and the others have thought of all the ways to save Lin Rui, but none of them can help Lin Rui. Maybe, Tony has some other way to save Lin Rui here.

“Mr. Tony Stark.” When Harry called Tony, Thor, who was standing beside him, also took the initiative to greet him.

After all, when Thor was banished to Earth by Odin, Loki had sent the Destroyer to kill or maim him, and it was the support of the Earthling in front of him that helped defeat the Destroyer.

Although Tony at the time was more interested in Lin Rui, he had saved Thor and the Four Warriors. So, Thor is still somewhat grateful to this equally arrogant Earthling.

“Huh? Harry Osborn, is that you?” Tony was stunned for a moment when he saw Harry, and then he immediately reacted. Since Spiderman is Peter Parker, it’s pretty obvious who Dark Knight is.

“And Thor, it looks like we got the news about Dark Elves from you.” Tony looked at Thor and said after looking at Harry.

Speaking of which, although Tony knew for a long time that Thor was not from Earth, he didn’t pay much attention to him because Thor seemed so ordinary. However, this incident with Dark Elf makes Tony realize that extraterrestrial civilization is not as ordinary as Thor. And Thor, it turns out, isn’t ordinary.

As for Deadpool, Tony just glanced at him and didn’t take the initiative to say anything. Although Deadpool wanted to talk to the famous rich philanthropist, it seems that the occasion is not suitable.

“Mr. Stark, is there any other way you can help Jackson?” Harry asked, not caring that Tony had guessed his hidden identity.

Hearing Harry’s question, Tony didn’t answer immediately and just walked past them and walked to the front glass wall. Beyond the glass wall, Lin Rui was lying quietly on the hospital bed.

Chapter 805: Ways

Tony stood by the glass wall and looked at Lin Rui inside for quite a while. He did not speak and his facial expression did not change. But the look in his eyes had changed many times in that time.

“What a mess you’ve made of yourself, Kid! So what if you had something to save your life? Are things going the way you think they are? All it would take is a single mistake and then everything would be gone. Who will bear that?!” Tony thought helplessly as he looked at Lin Rui who was constantly wandering between life and death in the medical room.

Among those people who knew that Lin Rui was Mirage Knight, Tony was the one who knew him the most and he also knew that Lin Rui must have something to save his life before he dared to make these kinds of moves.

This time, for example, he was attacked by the Dark Elf Elite warriors, but he was able to pull himself back from the brink of death with the magic item that emits green light.

However, no matter how amazing Lin Rui is, and no matter how powerful his life-saving thing is, accidents will still happen. Just like now, Lin Rui’s body is maintaining a very delicate balance between the dark energy and that powerful green energy. Once this balance is broken, what Lin Rui will get is either new life or destruction.

“JARVIS, did you get the results of the experiment I asked you to do?” Without answering Harry’s question right away, Tony asks JARVIS a question.

On the way back, Tony also thought of a solution that might help based on Lin Rui’s current situation. However, that method must be tested first to ensure that it works. That’s why Tony asked JARVIS if he had the results.

“Sir, the results are in, but they are not very good.” Hearing Tony’s question, JARVIS quickly answered.

Brush!

After JARVIS finished answering Tony, a ray of light was projected directly on the glass wall in front of Tony. Then, a series of complex data was displayed in front of Tony and the others, which was the result of the experiment Tony just mentioned.

“The experimental results are not good?” Hearing JARVIS’ answer, Tony’s eyes swept to the data on the glass wall.

The core of Tony’s solution is similar to that of Harry and Jerry, which is to eliminate or absorb the dark energy from Lin Rui. And when Tony thought about absorbing energy, the first thing he thought about was Venom, which he again shunted. Venom can absorb almost any energy, even from the human body and other lifeforms.

The last time Tony experimented with Venom, he thought he could control it to absorb only the electrical energy provided by him, but at the last moment, Venom still attached to Tony to absorb his energy to survive. If Lin Rui hadn’t scanned it carefully with his Psychic Power, Tony might have been parasitized by Venom.

And this time, Tony planned to use Venom’s ability to absorb the dark energy from Lin Rui. However, after listening to JARVIS’ answer, there seems to be a problem with Venom.

“Looking at the data, Venom can indeed absorb two kinds of energies currently present in Jackson’s body. However, Venom seems to be more interested in the green light in Jackson’s hands. As for those dark energies, Venom has also shown interest, but he will not absorb it in front of the green light.” Tony silently thought in his heart as he looked at the experiment data in front of him.

The use of Venom is also because Lin Rui’s situation is too dangerous, but if it can absorb the dark energy within Lin Rui’s body and the green light in his hand at the same time then Lin Rui’s current crisis can be overcome.

However, looking at Venom’s performance on those two energies, if Tony lets it take action, Venom may only absorb the green energy which would be a death sentence.

It is very normal for Venom to have this kind of performance. Although the dark energy left on Lin Rui is very powerful, it is a destructive energy. Compared to the life force energy of the Heart of Life in Lin Rui’s hands, absorbing dark energy would cost Venom a greater price.

Moreover, if Venom did absorb the Heart Of Life from Lin Rui, it could recover the original power it had when it left the collapsed planet in a short period of time. That way, even Tony’s surveillance and freezing of Venom wouldn’t have been able to trap it. Venom, though, crossed over many stars to come to earth, and its original form was far more powerful than it is now, and it was stronger than ever.

“In this case, I can’t risk using Venom.” Tony thought silently in his heart after analyzing the experimental data given by JARVIS.

“In this case... JARVIS, prepare some Venoms first. We have three different solutions now. We can combine them and see how we can get Jackson to recover safely.” After thinking for a while, Tony spoke to JARVIS.

“Yes, sir.” JARVIS was already preparing Venom after replying to Tony.

Venom has been sealed inside a cold container since the last time it caused damage to Tony. This time, it was let out and it was very excited when it felt the breath of the Heart of Life and Dark Energy. Therefore, if it is allowed to absorb that energy then it may not let it go even if it is dead.

Brush~

“Harry, I don’t have a particularly good method to save Jackson at the moment. However, although your method is dangerous, it is worth trying. So for now, let’s wait for news from X-Men. If that Rogue woman is willing to come then we will be able to rescue Jackson together.” Tony waved his hand to let JARVIS take back the light curtain in front of him and then he turned his head and said to Harry.

“Yeah! However, it has been more than ten minutes, and there is still no response from the X-Men side. Is it because they haven’t found Rogue yet? Or, is it because Rogue is not willing to help?” Harry nodded after hearing Tony’s words. However, he was still worried that the most important part of Jerry’s plan would go wrong.

“Although Rogue left the X-Men and been living someplace remote for a long time ago, I believe that the X-Men can still contact her. As for whether she is willing to help, as long as she is found, there is always a way for her to help.” Hearing Harry’s concern, Tony said calmly.

“Okay! Then I’ll wait here!”

Chapter 806: Decision

While Tony and others are racking their brains to think of ways to ensure Lin Rui’s safety, Anna and Logan are preparing dinner in their cabin in a Mexican town far away from New York.

“Anna, are you sure you’re not going to reply? Robert has made three calls, and he won’t believe anything I say.” Logan asked as he placed a plate of beef on the table and looked at Rogue, who was still in the kitchen.

Rogue had said nothing about the matter regarding the X-Men seeking her help. However, if she doesn’t make a statement then it means that she had refused which is something everyone can see. And Logan, who had already answered three calls, knew how urgent the matter was, and that the injured Mirage Knight seemed to have a special identity.

Of course, Logan won’t say much if Rogue is really unwilling. After all, Logan finally found his peaceful life, and he didn’t want this peace to be broken. If Rogue chooses to go back then Logan will definitely go back with her.

“Logan, do you want to go back?” After Logan spoke, Rogue walked out of the kitchen with two plates, and she was finally starting to face the problem.

“Me? I’ve been away from that kind of life for so long...” Logan paused and answered after hearing Rogue’s words.

However, Rogue continued to speak before Logan could finish his words.

“We all hid here to get away from that life, but that life is etched in my mind. Logan, have you missed anything over the years?” Rogue asked softly, looking into Logan’s eyes as she put down two plates of sliced bread.

Logan was stunned even longer by Rogue’s question. Yeah, they’re hiding out here to get away from their old lives. But is it true that they have not missed the life they lived so many years ago? No! In fact, Logan often sleeps at night dreaming about what happened. No matter how peaceful his life was when he opened his eyes, all he could think about were the battles and the big events related to Mutants.

Seeing Logan’s silence and expression, Rogue could already guess what he was thinking. In fact, Rogue is not the same. While Rogue doesn’t have as much experience as Logan, Logan has lived through Mutants’ events for generations. However, as a Mutant who also participated in the big events of Mutants, how could she really forget her past experience?

“Miss? Perhaps we should call it nostalgia, because we may not have really separated from the past life.” Logan was stunned for a moment before he replied.

“Also, if we really wanted to completely break away from our past, we wouldn’t have chosen to live here,” Rogue spoke with a small smirk on her face as she heard Logan’s answer.

“What about your decision? Do you want to go back? You know, once we go back, we may not know when we’ll be back.” Hearing this, Logan also roughly guessed the decision in Rogue’s heart.

Huh~

“Of course, I know that when we go back this time, it won’t be so simple to just help save a person, but we have been living like this for so many years, and it’s time to change it.” Sitting down at the table, Rogue stares at the dinner table and speaks quietly.

“Huh? Could it be that boy Bourne and you...” The look in Logan’s eyes changed and he said as if he could hear something else in her tone.

When Logan mentioned Bourne, there was a slight fluctuation in Rogue’s calm eyes. Sure enough, under the pursuit of such a simple person for many years, it is impossible for Rogue to be completely unmoved. However, they live in two different worlds, and Rogue didn’t want to put Bourne in harm’s way

“If we go back this time, we will probably be involved in another big event. I have a hunch that maybe this event would be a turning point that can completely change the status quo of Mutants. So, I may come back for good after this incident is over...” Rogue said with a wandering gaze as she picked up a piece of bread with her hand.

Although Rogue didn’t answer Iceman’s call, she still knew a lot about what was going on in the world right now. Judging from the previous incidents, it seems that the X-Men and Mutant Brotherhood, which have been silent for a long time, have begun to take the stage again. Therefore, even if she and the others like her choose not to take action this time, they will inevitably become involved in the future.

“Is that so? Iceman also told me a little bit about it. But I don’t care much about them. After all, I have tried so many times before, and I have been disappointed every time. Fortunately, I have lost a lot of memories, or there would have been a lot of disappointment.” Logan said lightly after hearing Rogue’s words.

For Rogan, the big event of Mutants has happened several times, and each time it is a big event that almost overturned the existence of the entire Mutants on Earth. But what about now? The current situation of the Mutants is indeed much better than it was a few decades ago, but in that way, it is still far from what Professor Charles has been fighting for.

“The memories you lost are not necessarily all bad. Perhaps, you used to have a lot of happy times. And if you get a chance this time, you can try again to get your memories back. After all, the world is changing so fast these days, and we don’t even have smartphones.” Rogue smiles as Logan mentions his lost memory.

“Haha, I don’t struggle with my old memories anymore. But you’re definitely going back.” Logan said with a smile as he munched on beef.

“Don’t you want to go back? We see the green mountains and clear water in the small town every day, we should go back to see the tall buildings in the big city. After all, we used to protect those cities.” In the face of Logan’s jokes, Rogue did not deny the answer.

“Yeah, protect. After so many years, how many people in this world still understand the meaning of the word protect?”

“By the way, the injured guy who needs help this time seems to be someone from an organization called League of Defenders.”

“Really? I don’t remember hearing about them. But, with your help, aren’t they really worried about you sucking him dry without noticing?”

“Logan, you want to try?”

“Haha! Just kidding!”

Chapter 807: Goes Out

Earth, New York, Lin Rui’s neighborhood.

Lin Rui has not been home for many days, and of course, he has not gone to school. This situation will come as no surprise to anyone familiar with Lin Rui’s relationship with Tony Stark. After all, no one would be surprised if Lin Rui dropped out of school now to be seen by a globally renowned talent like Tony Stark. But someone who knows more is worried about Lin Rui.

Bang Bang~

Standing in front of Lin Rui’s house, Tom Smith, who had not been out for almost a week, couldn’t resist knocking at the door. Lin Rui hasn’t been home for a week, and there has been no news about Mirage Knight for more than a week, and the League of Defenders website has no information. Therefore, Tom is very worried about Lin Rui’s situation.

Given Tom's experience, he knows that his best friend is more than just a simple student who is an intern at the Stark Industries. They are all doing things that ordinary people cannot imagine, and they are all at great risk. However, everything they do is about protecting the innocent, which Tom also admires very much.

Card~

After Tom knocked on the door a few times, the door to Lin Rui's house opened from the inside. Then, Lin Rui's father Lin Hai appeared in front of Tom. Lin Hai was obviously stunned seeing Tom in front of him. After all, Tom came back from a long period of disappearance and he seemed to be left with a serious psychological trauma, and he hadn't been out of the house.

"Tom! Come in, what are you doing here?" After being stunned for a while, Lin Hai hurriedly invited Tom to enter.

The Smiths had met with Lin Hai and his family after Tom came back. Because of the changes in Tom's return, the Smith family was also very worried, so they wanted Lin Rui to take care of Tom.

However, Tom has hardly left the house since his return. Although Lin Rui knew about Tom's situation, he had more important things to do and he also didn't want to involve Tom.

In Lin Rui's opinion, he is responsible for Tom's experience and the current result, and he feels very guilty. However, in order for Tom to return to a normal life, Lin Rui does not want to let him be involved in his other identity.

"Uncle Lin, has Jackson called you in these days?" Tom asked calmly as he followed Lin Hai into the living room.

"Oh, you're here to find Jackson. He's busy now, but he calls me and his mother every day to check-in. Do you want to talk to Jackson?" Hearing Tom's words, Lin Hai replied with a smile on his face.

"Is that so? What did he say on the phone? I haven't seen him for a long time and I do want to meet him up for a chat." Hearing Lin Hai's reply, Tom asked with a twinkle in his eyes.

"Oh, it's almost the same thing. The experiment is very complicated, very tiring, and so on. And the experiments he did with Mr. Stark were still relatively confidential, and he hung up shortly after each conversation." Lin Hai simply answered seeing that Tom seemed to really want to chat with Lin Rui.

If Tom really wants to talk to someone, Lin Hai is happy that he wants to talk to his son. After all, they have been good friends since childhood.

"Really? I see. Thank you, Uncle Lin. Let me know the next time Jackson comes back. I miss him." Hearing this, Tom had already made his own judgment, so he finally said some words and prepared to leave.

"Yes, I know. Tom, it is a good thing that you are willing to chat with someone instead of keeping things bottled up in your heart. If Jackson comes back, I'll make sure he comes to see you." Lin Hai spoke with an earnest expression on his face when he saw Tom leaving.

"Got it, Uncle Lin, then I'll go back first." With a promise, Tom turned around and walked towards the door.

Then, with Lin Hai watching him, Tom slowly walked back to his house next door. Shortly after Tom returned to the room, his mother, Mrs. Smith, quietly ran to Lin Rui's house next door. After chatting with Lin Hai about Tom's situation, Mrs. Smith returned with a relieved expression. As long as Tom is willing to find someone to talk with and go out, the Smiths will feel great.

However, Lin Hai and the Smith family do not know that Tom only goes to Lin Rui's house to find out what happened to his best friend with a hidden identity. However, Lin Hai's answers didn't make him sure what was going on with Lin Rui.

The once-a-day call is very simple and does not mean that Lin Rui is now very safe. After all, phone calls can be made and voices can be imitated. Lin Hai says Lin Rui's calls are short, probably because he doesn't want her parents to hear anything.

"Jackson, what are you going through?" His fingers slowly moved on the mouse wheel, Tom whispered lightly while looking at some information on League of Defender's official website.

"Dad, Mom, I'm going out for a walk."

"Do you want us to come with you? We can go to the mall and buy you some new clothes."

"No, I'll just walk around, I'll be back soon."

"Then... come back soon."

"Yeah, don't worry, I won't disappear like last time."

After dinner, Tom talked to his parents and went out. Judging from the Smiths' reaction, it seems that their son has been suffocated at home for a week, and it is normal to want to go out for a walk now. However, because of what Tom has experienced before, the Smiths are still very worried about him going out alone.

So, as soon as Tom went out, Mr. Smith called Tom's psychiatrist to inquire about what to do in the current situation. And Mrs. Smith called a few neighbors and asked them to pay attention to Tom.

Although Tom didn't know what his parents did after he walked out of the house, he could probably guess something. However, Tom didn't care, he didn't really have a mental problem, he just wanted to know how Lin Rui was doing now.

So, after a friendly greeting with a few neighbors, Tom made his way to Peter's house. If he didn't get any news from Peter then Tom would probably go to the Stark Industry.

However, not long after Tom walked out of his community, he heard some sounds outside a remote alley.

Bang!

PūPū!

It seemed that someone was fighting in the alley next to him, and Tom was very familiar with the sound of a body being hit by a hard object.

Chapter 808: Not A Fan

When he was tricked by Hydra to do the new Winter Soldier experiment, Tom experienced the greatest pain of his life. After the experiment succeeded, Tom, who survived, lost his consciousness and became a ruthless warrior who only listened to orders and was completely controlled by Hydra.

After luckily becoming a new Winter Soldier, Tom was forced to instill a series of combat skills and the ability to use a variety of machinery and weapons. In order for the new Winter Soldier to be able to master these skills, some real combat was inevitable.

So, Tom went through a long period of skill training before he could really be called a Winter Soldier. At that time, Tom did not have his own consciousness. After his recovery, Tom could often recall the cruel training during that time in his dream.

It was also when he remembered everything that happened when he was Winter Soldier that Tom had great inadaptability to normal life. Otherwise, Tom wouldn't have stayed at home for more than a week.

Bang!

Pū Pū!

At this time, Tom subconsciously clenched his fists when he heard the sound of hard objects hitting the human body in the alley. Still, after standing outside the alley for a few seconds, Tom unclenched his fist and prepared to leave. No matter what happened inside, it had nothing to do with him, and Tom's not in a good place to start anything right now.

Clatter!

"Haha! Do you also want to be like Mirage Knight? You want to be a Vigilante?!"

Bang!

And just as Tom took a new step, a few words came out of the alley. Although the sound was already very small when it came out, Tom, who was far from normal, still heard it clearly. It was because of these two words of contempt that Tom stopped and silently turned around.

Pū! Pū!

"Dressed like a Superhero? Didn't your mother tell you not to take apart the clothes she hid in the closet? Hahahaha~" When Tom stopped and turned around, loud voices and laughter continued to spread from the alley.

"That's right! Does he really think he's Mirage Knight in all this crap? Do you really think Mirage Knight is that good? He's just an asshole!" A second voice followed the roar, and Mirage Knight was mentioned again.

It's not clear if the person they're beating up idolizes Mirage Knight, or if they hate Mirage Knight so much that they're beating him up and denigrating him.

“Bah! Aren’t you scared shitless of Mirage Knight?!” After the two arrogant voices finished cursing, a very young voice suppressed the pain in his body and retorted.

As if they didn’t think that the wounded guy who had been beaten could talk, the two guys with fierce looks were momentarily stunned. However, after being stunned for a second, the words of the young man seemed to have been stabbed the pain nerve in their bodies and they raised the iron rod in their hands again.

“I told you, you talk too much!”

Brush!

While he was cursing, the iron bar had swung over the head of the man on the ground. If it hits then the person on the ground will be disabled. It seemed that his stubborn words had completely kindled the cruelty in both men.

However, when the two of them were going to maim the man on the ground, they didn’t notice that there was another figure behind them. When the iron rod in the man’s hand was drawn to the head of the guy on the ground, the man who appeared behind them just raised his hand.

Boom!

In the next second, just as the iron rod was about to hit the head of the man on the ground, a black shadow flew over from behind and just hit the iron rod. The huge force directly knocked the iron rod into the air and the man who fell to the ground was also spared from this heavy attack.

“Who?!” The iron rod in his hand slipped away, and the guy who was still committing the crime just shouted and turned around. At the same time, his accomplice also turned around suspiciously.

Shout!

And just as they turn around to see what’s going on, a figure approaches in front of them. Then, without giving either of them time to react, a fist hit them back and forth in the face.

Pū Pū!

There were two muffled thuds, some sputtering saliva, and a few broken teeth, and the two men who had been so ferocious just now flew straight back, crashing into the alley wall and falling silent. Judging by the way they look, they probably won’t be waking up anytime soon.

Da Da~

Only after the two men had been dealt with in an instant did the sudden figure take two steps towards the wounded man on the ground and then slowly crouch down.

“Are you all right?” Tom asked calmly as he looked at the guy lying on the ground wearing colorful tights and an ugly hood.

That’s right, the one who saved the life of this guy on the ground was Tom who was about to leave. If he hadn’t heard the two comatose guys slander Mirage Knight, Tom wouldn’t really care about it. Still, Tom would love to save someone who was clearly Mirage Knight’s fan.

“Cough cough! Huh?! I am okay!!” Hearing Tom’s voice, the guy who fell to the ground coughed a few times, and then replied with a little excitement in his voice.

Just when the iron rod was about to hit him, the guy on the ground subconsciously closed his eyes, and when he opened his eyes again, the two gangsters were already on the ground, and in front of him appeared a man who looked like a sunny looking big boy. No, although this boy looks very young, he does not look at him as an ordinary young man, but as someone who has experienced a lot.

“Cough cough! Thank you, if it weren’t for you, I would probably be dead by now.” After coughing a few more times, the guy on the ground tried his best to turn over and try to get up as he spoke.

Huh~

“You’re welcome. Are you a Mirage Knight fan?” “Tom asked as he reached out and helped the guy up.

“Thanks~ uh! That’s right, I’m Mirage Knight’s fan!” With Tom’s help, he stood up, and the guy in the weird tights replied excitedly after hearing Tom’s question.

“You too?!” After answering Tom’s question, the guy followed up with a follow-up question.

Hearing the question from the guy who could hardly stand in front of him, Tom blinked his eyes several times and was stunned. But it didn’t take him long to catch on.

“No, I’m not a Mirage Knight fan.”

Chapter 809: Help you?

Hearing Tom’s answer, the guy he helped up seemed disappointed. But before he could say anything more, Tom spoke up.

“No, I’m not a Mirage Knight fan. I am a... Friend of his.”

After Tom finished saying this, the atmosphere in this dimly lit alley became a little strange. The eyes of Mirage Knight’s fan, who wore a hood with only one pair of eyes, instantly widened, and even if other expressions couldn’t be seen on his face, the look in his eyes was enough to guess how excited and shocked he was at this time.

Brush!

Then he ripped off the dirty hood to reveal his bloody face. At this point, however, he would not care about his injuries.

“Are you serious?! Are you really Mirage Knight’s friend?!” The guy who ripped off his hood tightly grabbed Tom’s shoulder and asked with a nervously and excited expression on his face.

Ignoring the rude behavior of the guy in front of him, Tom nodded silently, “Yes, I am a friend of Mirage Knight.”

Shout!

“Ah! I’m going to faint! I’m going to faint!” After confirming what Tom said again, the guy seemed so excited that he couldn’t control himself.

Judging from his appearance, he probably completely believed Tom’s words. Although Tom was telling the truth, ordinary people couldn’t believe it. It can only be said that the fan of the Mirage Knight in front of him is relatively simple-minded. Maybe it’s also because Tom saved his life just now.

“By the way, you still haven’t told me your name?” Tom asked as he looked at the dancing creature in front of him.

Since this guy is a Mirage Knight fan and wants to be a Vigilante, Tom is interested in him. After all, Tom couldn’t have been fooled by Hydra if he hadn’t been aware of his friend’s alternate identity.

“Ah! My name is Dave! Dave Lizewski!” Hearing Mirage Knight’s friend asking his name, the guy answered without hesitation.

“Dave Lizewski... My name is Tom, Tom Smith.” After the guy in front of him introduced himself, Tom also introduced himself.

“Yes! Hello! Mr. Smith!”

Tom: “...”

A few minutes later, Tom was a few hundred meters out of that alley. Beside him, a young man about his age in a jumper suit walked with him. Although the person beside him was wearing a loos jumper, it couldn’t hide the unnaturalness of his walking, he was injured. And, if one looks closely, they would be able to see a lot of bruises on his face. Those bloodstains have been simply cleaned, and now Dave Lizewski is not looking so beaten up.

“That..... Tom, it’s not that I don’t believe you, it’s just that this is amazing. Are you really... Are you really friends with Mirage Knight? The Mirage Knight! From fighting street crime to becoming the Superhero Mirage Knight!” Walking slowly beside Tom, Dave Lizewski once again confirmed the situation for the first time.

Looking at the strange new boy beside him, even though Tom has matured a lot because of a lot of things, he can’t help but get a little depressed. Seeing that Dave took out his phone and started searching for Mirage Knight’s information on the Internet, Tom could only continue to speak.

“I do know Mirage Knight and count him as a friend. However, I don’t know what he did as Mirage Knight. So if you want to ask me about this, you might as well go directly to the League of Defenders’ official website. Got it.” Tom said calmly when Dave put the phone in front of him.

“Uh... Ok!” Hearing Tom’s words, Dave still suppressed a lot of questions about Mirage Knight in his mind.

“Were you fighting street thugs?” Taking a glance at the backpack that Dave was carrying, Tom changed the subject. The colorful homemade tights that Dave was wearing before were packed in this backpack.

“Well, I’ve been watching them for a long time. Just..... If I had been better prepared this time, it would have been different!” Dave replied with a twitched mouth when he heard Tom’s question.

“If you had prepared better, I probably could not have saved you.” Seeing Dave’s reluctance, Tom said faintly.

“Huh? Why?”

While Dave was wondering, Tom had pulled a small gun out of his shirt. Those two street thugs didn’t just hit people over the head with iron bars, they’ve got guns. If Dave had done them any harm, Dave would have ended up with not a beating, but probably a bullet wound.

“This is!... A gun, a real gun! Tom, where did you get that?!” Dave shouted in surprise when he saw the gun in Tom’s hand.

The connection between what Tom had just said and the gun he was now taking out had not yet entered Dave’s simple mind. He thought it was Tom’s own.

“This is not mine, I took it from those two people. So if you had managed to injure them and didn’t incapacitate them quickly, do you think you would still survive?” Tom explained helplessly when he saw the expression on Dave’s face.

Gasp~

Dave gasped at Tom’s explanation. Dave is not afraid of being beaten; he’s rough and thick anyway. But if a shot had been taken, Dave’s life would have ended up in that alley forever, and that’s not the result he wanted when he decided to become a Vigilante.

“He! ~He! They even have guns!” Dave couldn’t even imagine that he dared to attack people with guns, but he was now terrified with hindsight.

“Well, so, if you want to do this kind of thing in the future, you must first determine the opponent’s real strength and situation. Otherwise, you won’t have such good luck next time.” Tom said seriously as he looked at Dave’s fearful face.

“Huh? Do you think I can still do such a thing? After all, I’m so weak that I can’t even beat two street thugs.” Dave looked up at Tom in surprise and asked when he heard Tom’s words.

Dave’s dream of becoming a Vigilante like Mirage Knight was almost shattered after what happened today. Dave, after all, was just a human being, and a very weak one at that, who was able to do something like this entirely with the virtue of his heart. Now that reality has hit him, he had come to realize that this kind of thing is not so easy to do.

“What if... I said I could help you?”

Chapter 810: Preparatory Work

Ten minutes later, Tom and Dave parted after exchanging contact information. As for what Tom and Dave said to each other during those ten minutes, only they know. Dave, however, walked away looking excited, like he’d hit the jackpot. Because he has confidence in his future dream again. And it was the confidence that came from a friend at Mirage Knight.

After being separated from Dave, Tom went on to Peter Parker’s house. Although there were some incidents on the way, Tom did not forget the purpose of his trip. That is to inquire about Lin Rui, who has not been heard from for a long time. Peter Parker is the most convenient person to find out about Lin Rui besides his family.

“Dave Lizewski, an innocent guy! But I was also as simple as he is.” On the way to Peter’s house, Tom unconsciously thought about meeting Dave.

In fact, Dave’s behavior is more reckless than Tom’s, but it is also a strong expression of his desire to become a Vigilante. Tom might have been just another high school student until he learned that his best friend was Mirage Knight. Although both of them had the idea of being a hero, Dave was clearly more driven than Tom.

“But is that really a good thing? Dave is just a human being, and there are a lot of dangers on the way to being a hero.” While walking, Tom also thought about some questions repeatedly in his mind.

Before he parted ways with Dave, Tom told Dave that he could help Dave become stronger. Also, he can form a team with Dave to deal with the thugs, just like the Mirage Knight back in the day. After all, as long as human society exists in this world, these social worms will not disappear.

Moreover, with Tom’s current strength, the average street thug can’t be compared with him. One must know that Tom is a successful new Winter Soldier. As far as physical fitness is concerned, Tom is stronger than Bucky Barnes. Lin Rui would have brought Tom into the League of Defenders if he hadn’t always felt that Tom’s unfortunate experience had something to do with him.

As for helping Dave grow into a strong person, Tom is not lying. Although Dave is a regular guy now and he may not even be able to beat several girls in a fight. But he’s very malleable, and with the fighting skills in Tom’s head, he’s confident he can train Dave to be a tough guy.

“However, isn’t it normal to be in danger? Jackson has experienced danger countless times since he became Mirage Knight, and he has persevered all the time.” The thoughts in his mind slowly changed from worry to firmness as Tom made a major decision under the influence of Lin Rui’s stimulation and Dave’s behavior.

“However, Dave’s nickname for himself is the same as his clothes which is to say that they were both ugly. He is actually calling himself Kick-Ass...”

Huh~

While thinking about contacting Dave to form his own team in the future, Tom was almost at Peter’s house. As for the gun he had just seized, his fingerprints had been wiped off and it was dumped on the side of the road. Tom didn’t need them now.

Half an hour later, when Tom came out of Peter’s house, the expression on his face was still very heavy. Peter hasn’t been home in a few days, but Aunt May has been able to reach him. She just called Peter in front of Tom and Tom found out that Peter is still at Stark Industries.

“Jackson, what’s wrong with you?” Tom whispered to himself while standing in front of Peter’s house and looking up at the downtown location.

When Tom went out to look for any news regarding Lin Rui, Lin Rui was still lying in the medical room five floors underground of the Stark Industry Building. But by this time Tony and his team outside the medical room are already getting ready. Because word from the X-Men is that Anna Marie, aka Rogue, has agreed to return to help save Mirage Knight. So, Tony will get everything ready before Rogue arrives.

“JARVIS, how’s the preparation on Venom?” Tony asked JARVIS while his hands quickly calculated something on the touch screen in front of him.

“It’s ready, Venom will be ready to absorb external energy when needed.” JARVIS’s answer almost followed Tony’s words.

“Well, remember to be extra careful, don’t let Venom touch Jackson,” Tony warned as he looked at some data in front of him.

“Yes, I will be careful.”

“What about Thor? How’s his recovery? He’s not going to drop the ball by then, is he?” Tony raised his head and asked after confirming that there was nothing wrong with the experiment on Venom’s side.

“Thor has been given the best Recovery Serum and conditions, and his body has almost completely recovered. Also, Thor has just tested it, and his strength is indeed able to restrain the dark energy in Jackson’s boy.” JARVIS quickly answered.

“That’s good, there’s no problem with Deadpool. I didn’t expect this guy to be the most critical part of the plan, so I’m really worried.” If Thor’s all right, that’ll just leave Rogue and Deadpool. Tony was a little worried about Deadpool.

Why would Jerry assign Deadpool to Stark Industries? A phone call is all you need to send a message. That’s because, to absorb Lin Rui’s dark energy, it’s impossible to rely on Rogue alone. The dark energy is obviously a powerful destructive force, and if Rogue had simply absorbed the dark energy, she would have been overwhelmed during the absorption process and it would cause an accident.

Therefore, the complete plan proposed by Jerry actually needs Deadpool to cooperate. Rogue would first absorb Deadpool’s super recovery ability and then she will absorb the dark energy from Lin Rui. In this way, Rogue with Deadpool’s recovery ability can hold on under the invasion of those dark energies.

Of course, because there are now three different options. Under Tony’s precise calculation, he will integrate these three schemes in the most reasonable way. In this way, at least this plan to save Lin Rui can be guaranteed to have the greatest chance of success.
