Chapter 831: New Change

After Tony and Rogers both confirmed that Mirage Knight would return, they chatted a little bit about the future of the alliance. Even with Mirage Knight out of the picture, some things have to go according to plan.

“Jackson, you’ve been bouncing around since that showdown with me! It would have been fine if you didn’t go home but at least you were on earth but now you aren’t even on earth right now!” After hanging up the video call with Rogers, Tony looked at his lab and whispered to himself.

“JARVIS.”

“I am here, sir.”

Then Tony calls out to JARVIS as they have a lot of work to do. Right now, aside from focusing on the events related to the Bifrost, their first priority is to take care of the Extremis soldiers who surrendered the other day. Although Killian, the leader of the Extremis crisis, is dead and Mandarin is also being held a prisoner by Lin Rui. However, the situation with Extremis is far from over.

According to Tony and Rogers’ conjecture, there may be some people behind this whole incident as Killian and a not-so-smart Mandarin wouldn’t have been able to create such a huge commotion even if the power of Extremis is very strong. So, in addition to studying the Extremis formula, Tony and the others have to pay attention to something deeper.

“Sir, do you want to unfreeze those Extremis Soldiers now?” JARVIS, who was called out by Tony, cast a pale blue light and asked.

Since Lin Rui had asked JARVIS if he had conscious projections in the newly remodeled base in Siberia, JARVIS has had some new ideas, and now it seems to be preparing to design its own projections. The light blue rays with no fixed shape are some of JARVIS ‘attempts.

“Let’s thaw one first. Extremis cannot exist without a human body if it has been injected. If we want to find out the secrets that are in Extremis then we need a living subject and those Extremis soldiers will do the trick.” Hearing JARVIS’s words, Tony said while explaining his reasoning.

Tony didn’t say anything about the light blue light that JARVIS projected in front of his eyes. For Tony, this is also a very normal thing. And, through those pulsating bluish lights, Tony could also observe the changes in the “mood” of the JARVIS system.

“Roger that. Starting the unfreezing process of Extremis Soldier Number 1.” Receiving Tony’s confirmation, JARVIS is already working on unfreezing the Extremis Soldier Number one.

There were thirteen Extremis Soldiers who surrendered before, nine of them were in Tony Stark’s hands, and the rest were in SHIELD’s custody. Although Tony doesn’t know how SHIELD will deal with the Extremis Soldiers, he will follow his own plans.

“Well, before No. 1 fully wakes up, let’s bring Venom over. Didn’t it absorb a lot of life energy just now? I want to see if there have been any changes.” While waiting for No. 1 to wake up, Tony decided to have a look at Venom’s condition first.

“Yes Sir.” JARVIS agreed and brought over the Venom that had been re-sealed before.

However, when Tony saw Venom trapped inside the ultra-hard nanoglass box, he could barely recognize it.

“This is Venom?! Why did it become like this?!” Tony asked in disbelief as he looked at the unknown lifeform in the glass box with a pale green glow all over its body.

What appeared in front of Tony’s eyes was not the Venom he had seen before. Although the previous Venom was also a lifeform, when it was not active, it looked like a puddle of mud, and its whole body used to be pitch black.

But now, in addition to the color of the thing in the glass box, its whole shape has also changed. It seems to have some basic characteristics of the earth’s lifeform, and its physique is no longer soft and greasy but has some texture.

“Venom has been changing since it absorbed so much life energy. What it is showing right now is only temporary, and it will recover its original appearance in about five minutes.” JARVIS quickly responded after hearing Tony’s question.

“Has it been evolving? These are just temporary, right? Is it testing the direction of evolution with the energy it has absorbed?” After hearing JARVIS’s answer, Tony blinked his eyes several times and said.

“According to my detection and background calculations, the probability of this situation is very high. I have just counted the six forms of Venom that have changed during this period, and each time it is getting more adapted to the earth’s environment.” Tony guessed and JARVIS also gave its own results.

“It’s... as expected!” Although he was surprised, Tony wasn’t really shocked by Venom’s change.

After all, Tony had anticipated this situation before. Not to mention that Venom had absorbed so much life energy, even if it absorbs some ordinary energy, it will try its best to start to evolve to adapt to the environment of the earth.

What’s more, the life energy absorbed from Lin Rui this time is so pure and large that it has more perfect energy reserves to experiment with its own evolution direction.

“Can we stop this evolutionary experiment?” Tony asked JARVIS, worried that there would be problems with Venom evolving like this.

“A lot of the previous approaches don’t work very well for the current Venom, and it’s very difficult to freeze it apart from completely destroying it.” Hearing Tony’s words, JARVIS calmly replied.

Tony felt helpless when he heard JARVIS’s answer. Although Venom here is only part of the original Venom, it would be a big problem if it really evolved to the point where Tony could no longer control it.

“Is there any way we can take the energy out of it? If it ran out of energy then its evolution would stop, and it would not develop any new powers.” Unable to stop Venom’s evolution, Tony can only control it from that aspect.

“We can’t do that for now, but we can continue to drain Venom’s energy with powerful energy attacks. It wouldn’t have the time or energy to evolve itself.” With a quick answer to Tony’s question, JARVIS himself came up with a possible solution.

“Drain its energy? Yes! But before that, I also want to see where it will go if it keeps trying. So, let’s cut it!” Tony’s eyes lit up after hearing JARVIS’ suggestion as he spoke.

“Yes, sir.”

Chapter 832: Arrives

While Tony was conducting some follow-up planning experiments at his base camp, some plans and actions were also being carried out in the SHIELD headquarters in Washington. There is still a lot to do without the Magic Cube and Mirage Knight.

As for the X-Men, Professor Charles, who took a beating from the Siberia incident, doesn’t seem to be doing much. But every day Mutants, who specialize in locating and tracking people, leave the school to go somewhere. Where they went is anyone’s guess, but the Mutant world is starting to shake.

And the League of Defenders, after Tony sent Peter and the others back, they went back to their base first. However, when they returned to the base, they discovered a very surprising thing. That is, Jerry suddenly had a younger brother! That younger brother is actually the anonymous guy that Deadpool brought back from the battlefield!

Well, it’s not right to call him an anonymous guy anymore, no, he should be called Jeremy now. Harry deliberately asked Jerry to take Jeremy to the other side of the base while Harry and others gathered together to look at the seemingly harmless John Doe over there and discuss.

“Do you think that guy is reliable? Is he pretending?”

“I don’t think... it doesn’t look like it. He seems to have lost his memory as Jerry said.”

“How can there be such a coincidence?! Deadpool, what do you think?”

“Uh...I don’t know. But I have a feeling that he is the same kind of person as me.”

“Of course, he is similar to you, his recovery ability is not lower than yours! Besides, he has more than one mutant ability, and if he’s playing dumb and ready to strike when we’re unprepared then that could be dangerous!”

“What then? Kick him out or just...” Hearing Harry’s words, Deadpool made a wiping motion on his neck.

“Based on what Jerry had seen, we may not be able to handle it...”

“In any case, the defense system on the base is on all day and saturation strikes will be carried out whenever there is any change.”

“That’s the only way it can be... However, it seems that the two of them are getting along pretty well now...”

On Earth, everyone is still living a normal life without Mirage Knight. Tony and the others, who were close to Mirage Knight, were anxious, but they were still doing what they were supposed to do.

Back in time almost half an hour ago, the Bifrost landed on the top platform of the Stark Industries building. After teleporting Thor and Jane Foster away, the Bifrost suddenly expanded and enveloped Lin Rui. Before Tony and the others could react, Lin Rui disappeared in front of their eyes along with Bifrost.

Brush Brush!

“Wow~~” Colorful light flashed in front of Lin Rui’s eyes as he shouted while his body kept spinning in Bifrost.

Although Lin Rui had experienced Bifrost’s teleportation twice with the Ancient One last time, he was under the protection of the Ancient One both times, and the teleportation process ended without him feeling anything at all.

It was completely different now. Lin Rui, who was seriously injured and had not yet fully recovered, was brutally pulled in and teleported. Lin Rui’s current situation is like being thrown into a front-loading washing machine, and his body is spinning around without his control.

“Huhh~ I am ~ What the F ~ Sh*t~~” Lin Rui, who was unable to resist his situation at this time, could only shout intermittently, and he kept hoping that this teleportation would end soon.

Brush Brush!

Just when Lin Rui was feeling extremely depressed and helpless, the Bifrost left the earth and took the three people through the vast cosmic starry sky, and returned to Asgard.

No one knew how long has passed, and Lin Rui can’t accurately judge the passage of time in Bifrost. But, it shouldn’t be long and Lin Rui finally saw a different white light appearing above Bifrost, which should be the end.

Brush!

When approaching the white light position, Lin Rui tried his best to protect himself with his posture. Without protection, Lin Rui was worried that he would faint when he was thrown out by Bifrost.

Pū!

In the next moment, Lin Rui had already passed through the white light position and had actually exited the Bifrost. Although Lin Rui had curled up his limbs, he still fell firmly on the ground and rolled twice before stopping.

Hu~

Roughly thrown out by Bifrost, Lin Rui, who was completely weak, slumped on the ground and slowly opened his eyes to look around. That’s right, this is Asgard, the Bifrost Obesarvatory hall that Ancient One passed by last time when he returned from another planet with Lin Rui and Deadpool.

“Huh?! Jackson! Why are you here?” Thor’s voice suddenly came into his ears as he was helplessly looking around.

At this moment, Thor was standing beside Lin Rui holding the unconscious Jane Foster. Their teleportation process was obviously much smoother than that of Lin Rui.

"Cough cough~ I don't want to come here either." Lin Rui, who was lying on the ground, said helplessly after hearing Thor's words.

Clang! ~ ~

Just as Lin Rui and Thor finished speaking, a sword unsheathed sounded from the center of Bifrost's guardian hall. Then, a sound of footsteps approached slowly from the center of the hall.

Da Da Da~

When Thor, who was holding Jane, and Lin Rui, who was lying on the ground, turned their heads to look, they saw Heimdall in a dark golden armor walking toward them.

"Heimdall!" Thor shouted excitedly when he saw Heimdall.

"Thor." Compared to Thor's excitement, Heimdall was much calmer.

Although Thor has indeed left Asgard for a long time, Heimdall has been watching him. Therefore, Heimdall did not feel that he had not seen Thor for a long time.

"Since you opened the Bifrost and brought us back, you should know the dangers of the Aether. Take us to my father!" Thor said anxiously.

"Well, King Odin is already waiting for you," Heimdall said expressionlessly when he heard Thor's words.

"Uh... that, if there's nothing wrong, can you send me back first, I still need to recover!" Lin Rui, who was lying on the ground, shouted when he saw that Thor and the others were leaving.

Although Lin Rui was almost certain that he was teleported because the Magic Cube on his body was discovered, he still hoped to go back.

Heimdall looked down at Lin Rui after hearing what Lin Rui said. Thor also looked at Heimdall suspiciously, Lin Rui really didn't have any reason to come here.

"You have something that belongs to Asgard, just take it out and I can send you back now."

Chapter 833: Contest

Heimdall said in a light tone as he looked at Lin Rui lying on the ground with little mobility.

Hearing Heimdall's words, Lin Rui's eyes flashed as he thought to himself, "Sure enough, they found the Magic Cube in my portable space!"

"What? How could Jackson have something from Asgard?" Just when Lin Rui was silent, Thor, who had heard Heimdall's words, began to speak in confusion.

"Thor, Jane's situation can't be delayed, take her to the palace and find some way to heal her. The longer it takes, the more dangerous her situation will be." Without letting Thor delay in his own place, Lin Rui looked at him and quickly said.

Hearing Lin Rui's words, Thor looked down at Jane in his arms. Then, Thor saw Jane's pale face. The effects of the Elven Holy Spring Water are almost exhausted. Without treatment, Jane will lose her life energy.

"Okay! I'll take Jane to the palace first. But don't worry, this is Asgard, and no one will do anything to you. Even if you have something from Asgard, I'll let you have it!" Thor quickly rushed out of the Guardian Hall while holding Jane in his arms and he didn't forget to call out to Lin Rui.

Of course, Thor's last sentence was apparently also addressed to Heimdall. Thor is the Crown Prince of Asgard. Although his current situation is not very good, he thinks that Heimdall will still follow his words.

"Hehe... It's the Magic Cube, an Infinity Stone, the treasure of the universe, is it something you can give away as you want?" Lin Rui chuckled inwardly as he watched Thor rush out quickly with Jane in his arms. Still, Lin Rui is grateful.

Soon, Thor and Jane's figures had disappeared from the guardian hall. If there was a long solid Bifrost Bridge out there, Thor would have to run all the way if a ride isn't already there.

"Do you want to continue lying on the ground? Although your physical condition is not that good, it is not so bad that you cannot move." After Thor left, Heimdall spoke as he looked at Lin Rui on the ground.

"Can't you let me rest..." Lin Rui, who was lying on the ground, muttered helplessly after hearing Heimdall's words.

Then, Lin Rui, who seemed to have no strength at first, slowly got up from the ground. Although it was a bit difficult, at least Lin Rui didn't appear as listless as before.

Although Lin Rui woke up early when he was on Earth before and wasn't in the best state. It was because of Tony and the others' care for him that he was in a wheelchair even when he could move. Now being taken to Asgard by Bifrost for no reason, he would show weakness even if he could move freely.

"What? You didn't really think we'd give you the Magic Cube just because Thor said so, did you?"

Heimdall asked faintly as his golden eyes fixed on the young man standing up in front of him.

"Of course, I wouldn't be naive to think you guys would give me the Magic Cube, but... when did the Magic Cube become Asgard's property?" Lin Rui looked up at Heimdall after hearing Heimdall's words and spoke in an even tone.

"Huh? What did you say?" Heimdall's tone became a little unpleasant when he saw that Lin Rui, a young man he didn't really like, dared to refute his words.

Huh~

At the same time, Heimdall's aura as the Guardian of Asgard quickly surged, and this invisible aura pressed toward Lin Rui in front of him.

"Humph! Although I'm not in the best condition now, but this aura is just oppressive, do you really think this would be enough to handle me?!" Sensing the pressure from the pavement, Lin Rui grunted coldly, then straightened up and took a step forward.

Brush!

In the next moment, fierce sword energy that was almost no less than Heimdall's momentum rushed out of Lin Rui's body. Lin Rui used his internal energy to transform the sword energy as he didn't want to lose his momentum at this time.

Brush!

In an instant, Heimdall's aura collided with the sword's energy. Both energies collided in the guardian hall, and Lin Rui's figure swayed unsteadily. However, Heimdall's burly body stood firmly on the spot without any movement, and it seemed that he had won the momentum competition this time.

Huhu~

After a few seconds, the airflow in the hall finally stopped, and Lin Rui and Heimdall had already withdrawn their momentum and sword energy.

"If it weren't for the suit of armor you're wearing, I wouldn't be sure who would lose." With some embarrassment on his face, Lin Rui, who lost the momentum competition, looked at Heimdall on the other side and said angrily.

In the momentum match just now, Lin Rui had no defense and suffered some shocks in the momentum clash. But Heimdall suffered the same shock, but his dark gold armor helped to counteract most of it.

"You wouldn't be my match even without this armor." Hearing Lin Rui's words, Heimdall's eyes flashed.

"Humph!~~"

"Anyway, are you unwilling to hand over the Magic Cube now?" Heimdall asked, not planning to continue fighting with Lin Rui.

"How could I be willing? That's something I found with hard work and risked my life to get it. Besides, you must know that the Magic Cube itself is an Infinity Stone. It is the treasure of the universe, the Infinity Stone has no owner. Asgard is now in a mess of its own, aren't you asking for trouble by taking the Magic Cube back?" Lin Rui replied seriously after hearing Heimdall's words.

Otherwise, one day the plot suddenly changes, and other people use Magic Cube to connect the earth with the outer universe, then the Battle of New York, which has not come yet, is likely to happen again.

Anyway, it is impossible for Asgard to simply obtain Magic Cube from Lin Rui. Although Loki, the second prince of Asgard, does not seem to be the villain now, Lin Rui will only be relieved only when the Magic Cube is in his hands. Otherwise, it is possible that the plot will suddenly change one day and someone will use the Magic Cube to create a portal from earth to some other place, then the War of New York that has not yet come would likely happen.

"How do you know there is a mess in Asgard?" Ignoring Lin Rui's knowledge that Magic Cube is Infinity Stone, Heimdall was interested in Lin Rui's knowledge of Asgard.

One must know that Asgard has always shown a strong front to the outside world. This time, the battle with the Frost Giants was a success. If the Dark Elves had not intervened, the war would have ended long ago.

However, Asgard is not as strong as it was a thousand years ago. The most critical of them is the decline in the strength of King Odin, who is already very old.

Chapter 834: Situation

At that time, the name of Asgard was also created by Odin step by step. In his prime, Odin was a real warmonger, even more so than Thor before him.

The reason why Asgard became the most powerful kingdom of the Nine Realms and the force to maintain the peace of the Nine Realms is not because of Odin's powerful power and the shock that Asgard brought to the alien races of other worlds a thousand years ago.

But now, Odin is old and his strength is not as good as before. Although he can still use his previous prestige to control the scene, it will not last for long.

The reason why Odin sealed Thor's power and banished him to Earth after he angered the Frost Giants was actually to awaken Thor himself. Thor's strength and his hammer-wielding powers would not be enough to deter the Nine Realms and maintain the peace of the Nine Realms.

While the purpose of banishing Thor was to awaken him, the purpose of taking the hybrid Loki to the front of the battlefield was to create a real god of deception. Odin does not mind Loki's identity and believes that Loki will not betray him.

Of course, if Loki actually betrays Asgard on the battlefield. Odin will try his best to wake up Asgard's victorious team and give them a taste of Asgard's brutality even if that put his life on the line.

Therefore, at this time, Asgard is in a period of transition between the old and the new. At this time, Asgard is fragile and can not withstand all the new and old happenings at the same time. So Heimdall was surprised when Lin Rui said something like that.

"Never mind how I know it. I know more. Anyway, I'm not going to give you the Magic Cube. It was on Asgard before but it was put on the Earth or maybe it was stolen from Asgard. Your Treasure-Vault is not so great as it sounds and Asgard is not as secured as you would let others believe." Hearing Heimdall's question, Lin Rui waved his hand and said indifferently.

From what Lin Rui knew, Malekith sneaked in not long after Thor brought Jane back to Asgard. After knocking down a corner of Asgard's palace, Malekith directly invaded the interior of Asgard's palace.

In order to protect Jane, Thor escaped from Asgard with Loki's help in the original plot. But right now, Loki should still be on the front lines and Odin hasn't fallen in Odin Sleep, and if Malekith really broke into Asgard, he wouldn't be able to scare Thor away that easily.

Of course, according to Lin Rui's conjecture. Since Loki has not yet been locked up for the Battle of New York, Malekith has no one on the inside to help him break into Asgard's palace like the plot Lin Rui knows.

However, each change in the plot comes back in a more serious way. So Lin Rui thinks that Malekith is going to make a big move soon.

"Hum! You've got a lot to say about Asgard and its vault, which claims to have the most extensive and valuable collection in the Nine Realms!" Hearing Lin Rui's words, Heimdall said with a frown.

“You know that the items in the treasury are of high value, but if you don’t make your defenses tighter, so what’s the use of a Destroyer?” Lin Rui, who already knew about Asgard’s attitude, continued to argue with Heimdall. Anyway, he was sure that Asgard wouldn’t fight against him.

If Asgard really wanted something from him, the current Lin Rui wouldn’t have been able to stop them. Even if Lin Rui recovers all his strengths in a short period of time, at most he can fight against Heimdall. Without Bifrost, he still can’t go back to Earth.

“Well, don’t waste your time on me if that’s all you have to say. Let me remind you that Dark Elves have great ambitions for Aether and they would come for it. So be on your guard.” Lin Rui continued to speak after seeing that Heimdall is going to say something.

Thor has taken Jane to find some help. Odin hasn’t appeared yet, and Lin Rui can’t guarantee that Odin really hasn’t fallen into a deep sleep. If Malekith leads the Dark Elves Elite team to attack Asgard at this time, Lin Rui’s position now would be counted as the first line of defense.

“With me guarding Bifrost, no one can threaten Asgard,” Heimdall said arrogantly after hearing Lin Rui’s words.

“That may not be true...”

Hum~

Just as Lin Rui finished saying this, he suddenly had a very bad feeling in his heart. Then, he suddenly looked up at Heimdall in front of him. After seeing Heimdall’s face changing instantly, the expression on Lin Rui’s face also changed.

Brush!

In the next moment, Heimdall left Lin Rui and rushed towards the center of the hall.

“Really?!...” Lin Rui shouted helplessly as he looked at Heimdall’s hurrying back.

Although a bad feeling had suddenly appeared in his heart, Lin Rui hadn’t really noticed any danger. However, after seeing the look on Heimdall’s face and his subsequent actions, Lin Rui knew that the bad feeling in his heart should be because something really bad happened.

Clang!

The next moment, Lin Rui heard the sound of a sword being unsheathed. Then, he saw Heimdall rush out of the guardian hall with the Divine Sword that activated Bifrost in his hand.

Bang!

As he rushed out, Heimdall had already sent a message through Bifrost. Lin Rui didn’t know what information Heimdall had passed, but he saw the inside of the Guardian Hall quickly blink with colorful light. Then those lights gathered together and rushed out along Bifrost, they should be heading towards the Asgard Palace.

Ta-da-da!!

“Should I follow it? It won’t be dangerous, right!” Lin Rui, who was still standing there, though hesitantly after seeing Heimdall’s figure that had rushed out of the gate of the guardian hall.

Through the tug of war with Heimdall just now, Lin Rui’s internal energy had recovered a lot. If Lin Rui hadn’t experienced a life and death crisis and strengthened his body many times by mistake, his recovered internal energy should have filled up his body long ago.

However, because of the enhanced physical quality, the internal energy that could fill his body before was only about two-fifths of what Lin Rui had recovered.

Of course, Lin Rui can also play a powerful role with the current two-fifths of the internal energy. However, the situation outside now may simply be outside of Lin Rui’s scope.

“Forget it! At most I would just die! Anyway, I’m also the one who changed the plot and it’s just some Dark Elves. What’s there to be afraid of! I can just take some revenge!”

Chapter 835: Start

Brush!

With this thought in mind, Lin Rui was already sprinting after Heimdall’s disappearing back.

Lin Rui, who is running now, doesn’t look as injured as he looked when he first came out of the Bifrost. Since he fought against Heimdall, Lin Rui has once again shown his might as the Mirage Knight.

Lin Rui doesn’t feel out of place without the Phantom Suit. Perhaps because he is now on Asgard, Lin Rui has nothing to hide from the people here. What’s more, Lin Rui seems to be more open than Mirage Knight, who needs to hide his identity.

Rushing out of the guardian hall, Lin Rui saw the magnificent entity of Bifrost Bridge leading to the palace of Asgard in the distance at a glance. Lin Rui, who had no chance to see this scene last time, was almost shocked by the scene before him. However, Lin Rui’s attention is caught by Heimdall running around the Bifrost with the Bifrost Sword in his hand.

“Is there really a Dark Elf invasion?” Lin Rui, who hadn’t sensed anything yet, muttered as he watched Heimdall’s wildly running figure, but he ran as fast as he could.

Boom!

Just when Lin Rui stepped on Bifrost Bridge with a little excitement while running Insight Technique to find any danger, Heimdall who had already rushed to the edge of the Bifrost in front of him suddenly stomped his feet and already rushed out of Bifrost.

“No way! It’s a completely invisible Spaceship...” Lin Rui, who followed behind, muttered with an ugly expression on his face as he looked at Heimdall’s flying figure.

In the plot of Thor II remembered by Lin Rui, the Dark Elves has an invisible Spaceship, which deceives Asgard’s defense system (I don’t know if Asgard has any defense system). But it was discovered by Heimdall when it was passing through Bifrost, and then Heimdall broke the invisibility with his sword.

And now the scene in front of Lin Rui is very similar to what he remembers. Heimdall, holding the Bifrost Sword, jumped out of Bifrost. The target seems to be the transparent air next to Bifrost Hall.

The next moment, Heimdall, who had jumped to the highest point, slammed the Bifrost Sword down.

Stab! ~ ~

There was a crisp metal collision sound, and Heimdall, who had slashed in mid-air, seemed to have slashed at some hard object, and his sinking figure suddenly stagnated.

Buzz~

In the next instant when the Bifrost Sword in Heimdall's hand was stuck in the air, the front part of it magically disappeared. A special energy fluctuation passed out with the Bifrost Sword as the center. Then, the location where the Bifrost Sword was inserted appeared with a thick black metal deck, and the Bifrost Sword is now inserted in the center of this black deck.

That particular wave was like some kind of energy shield being broken, centered on the black deck where the Bifrost Sword was inserted, and the space around it blinked with translucent energy rays. Soon a large black flat Spaceship appeared just above Bifrost Bridge.

"Damn it! There was an intruder!" Seeing a black Spaceship coming up in front of him, Heimdall, hanging on the outside of the Spaceship, muttered with an ugly look on his face.

The kid who came from Earth just now reminded Heimdall to be careful about the threat of the Dark Elves, but he didn't expect them to touch the door silently now. Heimdall just now said very confidently that no one could invade Asgard as long as he was there. Now, hanging on the Spaceship, he feels his own words stabbing his face!

Hoo-hoo!

And so Heimdall, clinging to the guard's sword, hung on the outside of the black Spaceship, rocking as it moved. The Bifrost Sword looks sharp and elegant, but it is not used for frontal combat on the battlefield. The Bifrost Sword is used as a key to turn Bifrost on and off. It is more symbolic than it is powerful.

And now, because the Bifrost Sword isn't sharp enough to cut through that black metal deck, Heimdall can only hang on the Spaceship. As the Guardian of Asgard, Heimdall couldn't give up the Bifrost Sword even if he died, which was the only way to control the Bifrost. Arguably, Heimdall's attack landed him in a very uncomfortable position.

"Come on! Come on!..." Just as Heimdall was hanging on the outside of the black Spaceship that appeared out of thin air and swaying along with the Spaceship, Lin Rui was still running and chasing him on the Bifrost Bridge.

Buzzing~

Just as Heimdall was hanging on the Spaceship and Lin Rui was chasing and running on the Bifrost Bridge, another energy wave was seen near the Spaceship. Sensing this energy wave, the expressions of Heimdall and Lin Rui became even more ugly.

“Damn!”

“No way.....”

Whoohoo!

In the next moment, with the black Spaceship whose cloaking was broken by Heimdall as the center, a translucent energy glow blinked out from a large area of the surrounding space. Then, black flat Spaceships appeared in front of Heimdall and Lin Rui’s eyes one after another.

When all the invisible energy lights disappeared, Lin Rui had seen seven more identical black Spaceships in front of him. In this invasion of Asgard, the Dark Elves had sent a total of eight Spaceships!

It seems that after being stabbed by Heimdall, other Spaceships have no intention of continuing to be invisible. Anyway, this place is very close to the Asgard Palace, and the opponent should have no time to defend.

“Come on! Even if the plot changes, it shouldn’t be like this! Has Heimdall stabbed a hornet’s nest?!” The running footsteps were almost disrupted by the seven extra Spaceships in front of him as Lin Rui could hardly believe the scene appearing in front of him.

“Not good! Heimdall is in danger!” The next moment, Lin Rui’s expression suddenly changed, and he rushed out at a rapid speed.

Brush!

While rushing out, Lin Rui quickly swiped his right hand around his waist, and something appeared in his hand.

Huhu~

After all eight Spaceships appeared, the speed of Spaceship’s progress significantly accelerated a lot. Moreover, two of the Spaceships were rapidly moving at an angle aimed at Heimdall’s position.

Apparently, they’re going to take a shot at this guy hanging outside the first Spaceship. After all, in Heimdall’s position, there wasn’t much way of getting rid of him in this Spaceship he was taking.

“Heimdall! Jump down! Now!” Lin Rui shouted anxiously from below as the two Spaceships aimed at Heimdall, revealing a dark row of weapon ports.

“Damn it!” Not knowing if he heard Lin Rui’s words, but Heimdall is really in a bad situation now.

Chapter 836: Taking Action

If there was only one Dark Elf Spaceship then it may not be a big problem for Heimdall to hang on it like this, and it will be alright to find a chance to pull out the Bifrost Sword later. After all, the location Heimdall hacked into was just below the deck of the Spaceship, and no weapons could hit it here.

But now there were eight more Spaceships surrounding him, and two Spaceships had already pointed their weapons at Heimdall. If Heimdall doesn’t let go and continues to hang on to the deck, he will soon be attacked by the Dark Elf Spaceships.

Huhu~

“Heimdall... let go... jump down!...” Lin Rui’s somewhat vague voice came into Heimdall’s ears, who was hanging on the Spaceship deck and swaying as the Spaceship moved forward.

“That kid, why didn’t stay in the Guardian hall, why did he come out to join in the fight?!” Heimdall turned his head and looked up at Bifrost Bridge when he heard Lin Rui’s faint voice, and muttered in his heart.

Then, Heimdall saw the two Spaceships that had approached and turned their weapons on him.

Heimdall: “...”

Bang!

“Get the hell out!” Seeing the rows of black holes on the Spaceship, Heimdall slammed his feet on the deck, trying to pull out the Bifrost Sword.

However, the Bifrost Sword was as immobile as if it had grown on this deck. I don’t know if the outer metal deck of this Spaceship has memory metal, otherwise, how can the Bifrost Sword be tightly clamped.

Buzzing~

Just when Heimdall couldn’t pull out the Bifrost Sword even when he tried with all his strength, bursts of energy fluctuations came from the rows of dark weapon ports on the two Spaceships.

“I won’t give up!” Although he was about to be hit by the enemy, Heimdall was not ready to give up the Bifrost Sword and run away by himself.

Shout!

As the weapons systems on both Spaceships were gathering for an attack, Heimdall caught a glimpse of a silver chain flying swiftly from Bifrost Bridge’s position. The silver chain had a tiny claw on top that looked like rock climbing equipment.

Brush!

The next moment, the silver chain rushed directly in front of Heimdall and shot along his arm to the Bifrost Sword. Then, in front of Heimdall’s surprised expression, the small claw wrapped around the Bifrost sword a few times and finally buckled on the chain.

“Hold on tight! ...” As the silver chain that suddenly flies from Bifrost wraps around the Bifrost Sword, Lin Rui’s voice again comes from below.

“Huh?” Although somewhat surprised and puzzled, Heimdall subconsciously grasped the hilt of the Bifrost Sword.

Brush!

The moment Heimdall grasped the hilt of the sword, the silver chain that was still loose and slack instantly tightened, and a force passed from the silver chain to pull the Bifrost Sword out of the deck.

Noticing the scene in front of him, Heimdall's eyes lit up, and then he worked hard with the silver chain.

Huhu~

"Ahhh!!" With his feet firmly nailed to Bifrost Bridge, Lin Rui clasped the silver chain tightly in his hand and shouted.

Lin Rui also understands that Heimdall will not give up the Bifrost Sword that could operate the Bifrost, so he can only save him in this way, and also pull out the Bifrost Sword!

"Damn it! It's almost impossible to drag it out!" Lin Rui, who was standing on Bridge, was dragged by the huge force from the silver chain as soon as he exerted his strength, and he almost fell out of the Bridge.

"Like I would fail to drag it out, I won't believe that!"

Buzz~

Then, a burst of Azura glow comes from Lin Rui's arms holding a silver chain. He has used Internal Energy. Clinging to the side of the chain, Lin Rui is pulled along the Bridge fast.

Bang!

Just when Lin Rui was about to be dragged out of Bifrost Bridge, his sliding feet suddenly stopped at the edge of the Bridge.

"Come back here!" At the next moment, Lin Rui shouted and an Azura light flashed in his eyes.

Rip!

After being stretched to the limit, the stretched silver chain finally pulled out the Bifrost Sword that was inserted into the Spaceship. The silver chain wrapped around the Bifrost Sword took Heimdall's figure under the strong force of Lin Rui just now and they both flew back towards the Bifrost Bridge.

Pū Pū Pū Pū!

And just when Lin Rui pulled out the Bifrost Sword from the Spaceship and took Heimdall to fly back to Bifrost Bridge, the attack of the two surrounding Spaceships launched. Dozens of energy beams almost rubbed Heimdall's back, and he would have been dead if Lin Rui was just a second late.

Boom!

"This kid!... He still has something like this!" Heimdall, who saw the flames erupting behind him, muttered strangely as he grabbed the Bifrost Sword and was pulled towards Bridge by the silver chain.

Bang!

Soon, Heimdall, who had been flying in the air for a while, had landed on Bifrost Bridge again and he landed next to Lin Rui.

The look in Heimdall's eyes changed as he glanced at Bridge, where Lin Rui's feet had left some marks but he didn't say anything.

“A total of eight Spaceships have invaded! Why hasn’t Asgard’s defense system responded yet?!” Ignoring Heimdall’s reappraisal of himself, Lin Rui cried anxiously as he stared at the eight Spaceship zooming towards Asgard palace.

Without killing Heimdall, the guy who stabbed the hornet’s nest, those Spaceships did not waste any more time, but once again accelerated their speed and rushed towards the position of the Asgard Palace.

It is not known what their target was, but did Dark Elf already know that The Aether had been brought to Asgard?

“It was a surprise, but who said Asgard’s defense system didn’t respond?” Hearing Lin Rui’s words, Heimdall puts the Bifrost sword on his side and looks toward the palace.

Buzzing~

Just as Heimdall spoke, Lin Rui felt the bursts of energy waves coming from the Bifrost Bridge under his feet. Then, he saw a very shocking scene.

At the end of Bifrost Bridge, as far as Lin Rui can see, is the location of the Asgard Palace. It is called a palace but its scope is much larger than any super metropolis on earth. And now, a translucent golden light is rapidly rising from the edge of the magnificent city. Obviously, it was a means of defense.

“Energy Shield?” Lin Rui muttered a little worriedly as he watched the light shield rise.

Although he doesn’t remember the original plot so clearly, Lin Rui knew that the Dark Elves would not be easily blocked by this defense.

“It’s not a simple Energy Shield Defense, this is Asgard’s unique combination of magic and technology defense, which is enough to resist the enemy’s invasion,” Heimdall said confidently after hearing Lin Rui’s muttering.

“Really?.....”

Chapter 837: Defense of Asgard

Hearing Heimdall’s words, Lin Rui replied, but his tone was obviously filled with disbelief.

“What? You don’t believe it?” Heimdall asked when he saw Lin Rui’s expression.

If it wasn’t for Lin Rui saving his life just now, Heimdall would have replied in a rude tone.

“Whether I believe it or not, we’ll find out later, but, Heimdall, I remind you to be mentally prepared.” Lin Rui said calmly as his eyes fixed on the direction of Asgard Palace.

“You, although Asgard has not been invaded for a long time. But there’s more to us than you can imagine.” Standing in the middle of the Bifrost Bridge, Heimdall also looks in the direction of the Asgard Palace as he spoke.

“How is the King?” Just as Heimdall finished speaking, Lin Rui suddenly asked this sentence out of the blue.

Siii!

Hearing Lin Rui's words, Heimdall's head snapped around and he stared at him with a deadly stare. The good feelings he had after Lin Rui saved him just now seemed to be all gone, and Heimdall released his power to press Lin Rui at this moment. It was as if he was treating his biggest enemy.

"You!... What did you just say?!" Heimdall asked in a deep tone as he stared into Lin Rui's eyes, regardless of the situation at the Asgard Palace.

In fact, Lin Rui just asked casually, because in the original plot, Odin's situation at this time should not be very good, otherwise Loki would not be allowed to do things. But the plot has been changed to what it is now, and as far as Lin Rui knows, Odin should be fine.

So, he wanted to ask now. If King Odin is really okay, then the invasion of the Dark Elves may really be snubbed on Asgard. But judging by Heimdall's expression right now, maybe Odin still has a problem.

"Er... It's nothing, I'm just asking. I greatly respect King Odin, he is as great a person as the Ancient One...!" Seeing Heimdall's mutated expression, Lin Rui quickly explained.

However, Lin Rui has probably guessed that Odin's situation is obviously not so good. At the very least, Asgard may not be able to rely on Odin for this invasion.

"It had better be! King Odin is very well now!" Heimdall said bluntly after hearing Lin Rui's explanation.

Then, Lin Rui and Heimdall's eyes shifted to the direction of the palace again. There, the Spaceship of the Dark Elves that flew over had already encountered the first wave of counterattacks from inside the palace.

"They may not even be able to withstand the first round of attack," Heimdall said calmly as he looked at the curtain of light emanating from the palace.

Although Heimdall's mistake here allowed these cunning creatures to slip past Bifrost and into the heart of Asgard, he sounded the alarm as soon as he spotted something unusual. Otherwise, the curtain of light would not have risen so soon.

So, now Heimdall will stand here and watch how those enemies are annihilated by Asgard's fire. They dared to invade Asgard so they will forever be buried here.

Brush Brush!

The next moment, under Lin Rui's nervous eyes, the eight Dark Elf Spaceships had already rushed into the sky filled with artillery fire.

A few minutes back, not long after Lin Rui and Thor were transported back to Asgard, Thor carried the unconscious Jane and rushed out of the Guardian Hall. Then, a flying machine with the shape of an oriental fishing boat rose up beside the guardian hall, and Thor sat on it with Jane in his arms.

After that, this rustic-looking craft carried Thor and Jane quickly along the Bifrost Bridge towards the location of the Asgard Palace. Unlike what Lin Rui originally thought, Thor was not required to run back.

After returning to the palace in this flying machine, Thor did not see his father, but his mother Frigga. Thor learned about his father, Odin, from his mother.

It turned out that after exiling Thor to Earth and sending Loki to the front battlefield, Odin's health dropped, and he was at a critical moment of Odin's Sleep. Therefore, even if this is related to Aether, Odin can't go out to deal with it at this time. However, under normal circumstances, Frigga is actually enough.

As Odin's Wife and the Queen of the Nine Realms, Frigga's strength should not be underestimated. If Odin was the fearsome and powerful warrior of the Nine Realms back then, then Frigga, in addition to being known for her beauty, her superb magic is also a factor in her fame.

In fact, although Thor is the biological son of Odin and Frigga, he only inherits the warrior side of Odin. In terms of magic, Thor is only an ordinary person. Loki, on the other hand, is an adopted hybrid with a flair for magic. Under Frigga's careful guidance for so many years, Loki's achievements in magic were no less than Thor's achievements in physical power.

So, even though Odin is in retreat, Thor is almost relieved to see his mother.

Hu~

"Mother, this is Jane Foster, the woman I love dearly." Laying Jane Foster in his arms on a bed in the infirmary of Asgard's royal Palace, Thor looked at his mother beside him and said earnestly.

"I know, she's the Earthling Loki mentioned." Hearing Thor's words, Frigga looked at Jane and said calmly.

Loki, who had met Jane Foster, must have said something to Frigga when he got back to make things worse for his brother. However, Frigga certainly has an opinion of her own and she knows about Loki. But it's not good for Thor to be with an ordinary earthling.

"Loki! Did he say something again?!" Thor asked while clenching his fists at his mother's words.

"No matter what Loki said, the Aether is inside your girlfriend right now, right?" Frigga said after waving a hand to interrupt Thor and walking around Jane Foster.

"Uh... It should be!" Thor was stunned after hearing his mother's words, then replied.

In fact, Thor was not sure that the Aether was inside Jane's body. It's just that Lin Rui told Thor that this was what he had to say and only then would Asgard send down Bifrost to pick him and Jane Foster up and bring them back and only in Asgard would there be a way to save Jane.

"Should?...?" Frigga was speechless when she heard Thor's answer.

Chapter 838: Request

Having received no useful information from her unreliable eldest son, Frigga has already begun examining Jane.

Buzz~

Frigga waved her hand and slid it over to the edge of the bed, and a pale golden light rose from below, enveloping Jane Foster. Then the golden lights moved slowly in front of Jane in a certain pattern.

"Huh? How strange?..." A look of surprise came over Frigga's face as the golden glow reflected Jane's physical condition.

"How... Thor, did you just give her something to keep her alive?" Having ascertained her present condition, Frigga turned to Thor, who was standing beside her with a nervous expression on his face.

"Something to keep her alive? Er... Jackson gave me a bottle of water for Jane back on the earth." Hearing his mother's question, Tony pauses and answers quickly.

"Jackson? Oh, it's that kid. It seems that Ancient One really cares about him." Hearing Thor's answer, Frigga thought for a moment and then remembered where she had heard of the name and spoke.

The last time Lin Rui and Deadpool were accidentally teleported to another planet, the Ancient One came to Asgard to find Odin, saying that he wanted to borrow Bifrost to find someone. Later, Frigga also briefly learned about the boy mentioned by Ancient One, who was Jackson Lin, an earth boy who seemed to be nothing.

And now Thor said that the same boy gave something to him which allowed Jane to keep her life so Frigga naturally thought that Ancient One must have given it to Lin Rui. After all, something that replenishes life force is not something one can pick up from a store and it should be impossible for someone like Lin Rui to have it.

"Mother, how is Jane's situation now? Jackson told me that whatever he is giving Jane would only temporarily delay her situation, and she must get help in time." Thor asked nervously.

"Well, no matter what she drank before, it's almost consumed now. After a while, we will be able to determine what caused her to be like this." Frigga said lightly after seeing Thor's nervous look.

Buzzing~

Then the golden light spots around Jane Foster continued to drift around her. After about three seconds, those golden light spots, which had been some distance from Jane Foster, struck her as if attracted by something.

Shhhhh~

In the next moment, these golden light spots disappeared on the surface of Jane's body.

"This!..." Seeing the scene in front of them, both Frigga and Thor showed surprised expressions on their faces.

Hoo!

However, before Frigga and Thor could recover from their surprise, Jane, who was lying quietly on the bed, suddenly trembled. The next moment, her eyes suddenly opened! The eyes that were supposed to be brown were now filled with a strange crimson light, and the crimson light covering Jane's eyes was flowing around.

Buzz~

Then, amid Frigga and Thor's continuing surprise, Jane, who suddenly opened her eyes, frowns and then closes them again. As she closed her eyes again, a dark red speck of light rose from her like sand.

Defying gravity and other laws of physics, the crimson sand flits casually above Jane's bed after flying out of her body. But no matter how the crimson sands change, they won't be far from Jane's body.

"So... it really is the Aether!" After seeing the crimson flying sand-like light spots that suddenly appeared in front of her, Frigga couldn't help but speak as crimson light reflected in her eyes.

Although Heimdall did open Bifrost to bring them back to Asgard because he heard Thor say that the Aether was in Jane Foster's body, Frigga didn't believe it until now and she was shocked to see that the Aether would remain inside an ordinary human's body.

According to Aether's characteristics, if it was attached to Jane's body, then she should have been killed by its Devouring property. But that's not the case now and while Jane was hurt, it was not fatal.

"What a miraculous substance... Is this the Aether you're talking about? Is this what put Jane's life in danger!?" Seeing the Aether in the ever-changing shape in front of him, Thor first sighs with shock, and then reacts and asks in a silent voice.

"Well, it's the Aether, the artifact that almost led to the destruction of the Nine Realms." Hearing Thor's words, Frigga replied in a severe tone.

"So now that it's out of Jane's body, Jane will be all right, right? However dangerous it may be, I won't let it hurt Jane again now that it's out!" Instead of caring about the magical nature of the Aether and the infinite power it possessed, Thor is now concerned about whether Jane is safe.

"No, although it's now coming out of her body from the energy spots that were used to test her, they're still attached to her. Look at that." Hearing what Thor said, Frigga responded by shaking her head slightly and at the end, she raised her hand and pointed in one direction.

"Huh?!" Following the location indicated by Frigga, Thor soon noticed a difference in Jane's body.

The direction Frigga pointed to was Jane's waist and abdomen, where a trace of crimson flying sand was looming and connected to the Aether flying outside. It turned out that they were not completely out of Jane's body at all.

"Mother, can you get them all out?" Thor asked Frigga when he saw the crimson light spot connected to Jane's body.

"Although the Aether is a substance that can change at will between reality and fantasy, it should have consumed a lot of energy due to the thousand-year-old Seal. I can try it, but I am not sure." Frigga frowned slightly and replied after hearing Thor's words.

In fact, Frigga would have done it without Thor's request. The Aether was reborn, and this was the safest way to hide it or seal it again to keep it out of the hands of some not-so-good people.

However, if Thor wasn't there, Frigga might have used a more effective but less life-saving method for Jane Foster.

Hum~

And just when Frigga had already learned about Jane's situation and was ready to take action, an urgent message suddenly rushed in from outside, and a golden light curtain exploded directly in front of Frigga.

Chapter 839: Choice

"The Dark Elves have invaded Asgard, they have now crossed the Bifrost Bridge!" This was the message from the golden light curtain that exploded in front of Frigga and Thor.

After seeing the news on the golden light curtain in front of them, Frigga and Thor looked at each other, and they both saw the worry in each other's eyes. However, although Frigga and Thor were a little surprised and worried about this unexpected news, they didn't actually take this invasion too much as a threat to Asgard.

Asgard has been at ease for too long, and the Nine Realms have been at peace with each other for over a thousand years. This unrest had started when Thor and Loki went to the Frost Giant's territory to fight them and then the war began.

However, even the war between Asgard and the Frost Giants was only a minor affair. The last time Laufey sneaked into the Asgard Palace to attack Odin, he was wounded, and now he has not appeared on the front line. On Asgard's side, Odin also retreated, completely throwing everything on Loki's shoulders.

So, the battle between Asgard and Frost Giant was nothing at all. It wasn't until the Dark Elves joined the battlefield that the battle escalated a little, but it didn't hurt Asgard.

However, Thor and the others were surprised that Dark Elf's invasion was able to get past Bifrost Bridge and approach Asgard Palace. However, they felt that even if the Dark Elves crossed Bifrost, there should only be a few people sneaking in like the Frost Giant last time.

"Mother, I will leave Jane to you here, I'll go out and see!" Thor clenched his fists and said after the golden light curtain dissipated.

"Okay, be careful too." Frigga reminded Thor, knowing that Thor's power is now sealed.

"I will." With a reply, Thor began to turn and go out.

Although he has not fully recovered his powers, Asgard still has many powerful warriors. As the eldest prince, it is still not a problem for him to lead the warriors to repel the invaders.

Whew!

But just as Thor was halfway around, another golden light rushed in and burst into a curtain of light before them, and another message came from Heimdall.

"Dark Elf invasion! The number of enemies is high, and there are now eight combat spaceships! I have activated the first-level defense system." This was the second message from Heimdall.

Rumbling~

Upon seeing this new message, Thor and Frigga both noticed that the whole palace shook slightly, which was a sign of the defense system being activated! It seems that Heimdall judged the enemy invasion situation to be more serious than Thor and his mother had initially thought.

After seeing this new message, Thor, who had already turned halfway around, suddenly stopped. He was a little surprised and embarrassed at this time. It turned out that this time Dark Elf's invasion was real! His current situation may not be safe even under the protection of the Asgard warriors, so he hesitated.

"Thor, you'd better stay here with me and your little girlfriend." Frigga also understood what the eight battle spaceships represented, so she looked at Thor and said.

Since the Dark Elves can send eight combat Spaceships to invade Asgard this time, it is impossible for these eight Spaceships to contain ordinary warriors. Even if Heimdall had activated the first-level defense system in time, Frigga still felt that it was not enough. For Thor's safety, it's better for him to stay deep in the palace.

From Frigga's point of view, even if the Dark Elf's invasion broke through the first-level defense system, it was impossible for them to break into the palace. One must know that the guardians of the Asgard Palace are all very powerful warriors and sorcerers.

Thor's eyes flashed as if hesitating and thinking when he heard his mother Frigga's words. But the look in Thor's eyes soon settled down.

"No! I'm going out! No matter what their purpose is and how many powerful warriors they send, I won't let them take a single step into the Asgard Palace!" Looking up at his mother, Thor spoke in a firm tone.

Frigga finally compromised when she saw the serious expression on Thor's face and said, "Then you pay attention to your safety!"

"Mother, make sure Jane is cured!" Thor pleaded again before turning around.

"Don't worry, I will try my best."

Then Thor turned around and strode out of the palace. As the Crown Prince of Asgard, even if he doesn't have his powers, he has to stand at the front to block the enemy.

Buzz~

When Thor's figure was about to disappear at the door, a brilliant pale blue light caught up from behind and landed on Thor. This is a blessing spell cast by Frigga that will help Thor avoid some damage and negative effects in battle.

When the blue light on his body disappeared, Thor's figure just disappeared around the corner. Frigga's eyes were filled with relief at seeing her son, whom she had not seen for months, once again take responsibility for Asgard's safety. She then turned to work on how to safely remove the Aether from Jane Foster.

Unbeknownst to both Thor and his mother Frigga, just as Thor decided to go out and fight the invasion of Dark Elf, Odin's mouth turned up a little as he was resting in a golden glass coffin in the depths of his palace.

Even the emergence of the Aether and the invasion of the Dark Elves did nothing to Odin in Odin's Sleep. It can be seen that he was not worried about these situations, but more concerned about his son's growth and responsibility.

"With that kid there, things have changed and have become uncertain. Thor, the timing of the appearance of the Aether is just right to test whether you can awaken your real powers." Odin, who had closed his eyes to rest silently thought.

Boom!

On Bifrost Bridge, Heimdall and Lin Rui, who were standing side by side, looked at the distant fire with different thoughts. The counterattack of the Asgard defense system was very violent, and their attacks were nigh unstoppable against the eight Dark Elf battleships.

In Lin Rui's judgment, the intensity of the firepower should be much stronger than the firepower equipped by the special forces on Earth at this stage. As for the comparison with the weapons that SHIELD and Stark Industries are now secretly researching, Lin Rui doesn't know who is stronger.

Boom!

Lin Rui frowned as he felt the continuous vibration of the Bifrost Bridge under his feet. Because he had seen the battleships rushing forward despite the intense firepower pouring down on them.

"How is this possible?!"

Chapter 840: Break

While Lin Rui frowned, Heimdall's disbelieving exclamation also came from the side. Apparently, he did not expect the Battleships to remain unstoppable despite Asgard's defenses.

In front of Lin Rui and Heimdall, the eight battleships that had just been covered by Asgard's firepower came out without any obvious scars on the surface of the Spaceships. In other words, Asgard's defensive counterattack failed.

"It looks like your counterattack isn't strong enough!" Lin Rui said calmly after hearing Heimdall's exclamation. Although there were so many surprises, this situation was expected by Lin Rui.

"Impossible! Unless those Spaceships have reached the Planetary Level!..." Heimdall said loudly while holding the Bifrost Sword tightly in his hand, ignoring what Lin Rui said.

"Planetary level? Is this what you call in Nine Realms or is this the classification of Spaceships in the universe? Star-Lord and his Spaceship doesn't seem to be inferior to Dark Elf Spaceships..." Heimdall's words, Lin Rui's eyes twinkle as he whispered in his heart.

After the first round of counterattacks by the Asgard defenses, the Dark Elf combat Spaceship did not pass up the opportunity of the defense being neutralized. The eight Spaceships were quickly arranged in a diamond shape in mid-air, and all of them opened their weapon ports in the direction of Asgard Palace.

Bang Bang Bang!

The next moment, the Dark Elf Spaceships began to rain down fire on the Golden Shield and the firepower poured out by the eight combat Spaceships did not lose to the firepower of the Asgard defense system. Moreover, the firepower of the eight Spaceships did not spread out but aimed at a point in the middle of the pale golden protective shield!

Buzz!

Boom! ~ ~

Hundreds of thousands of energy beams converged to one point from eight directions, coupled with countless grenade-like attacks that spread out. The energy shield protecting the Asgard Palace soon shook with a wave of fluctuations, and most of the energy movement was affected and replenished towards the attacked position.

"Can you stop it?" The performance of Asgard's counter-attack just now made Lin Rui have no confidence in their defense, Lin Rui was more worried after seeing the Dark Elf attacking the.

"The Shield will hold on!" Heimdall, who had been wrong many times, still said firmly when he heard Lin Rui's words.

Rumbling~

"Is it a turn-based system?" Lin Rui thought speechlessly as he felt the transmission of energy in the Bifrost Bridge under his feet and then looked at the pale golden shield that was simply defending against the Dark Elf attacks.

"Heimdall, shouldn't we go and help?" Having been a spectator at Bifrost Bridge for a while, Lin Rui now wants to do something.

"There's nothing we can do. I am not needed for such an invasion. Even if they do break through, we have enough palace guards to deal with them." Hearing Lin Rui's tone, Heimdall spoke with a proud expression on his face.

In fact, Heimdall says this to show that he has no definite confidence in this defense either. And Heimdall wasn't unhelpful in the past. However, Heimdall's strength is not particularly high. His duty is to protect Bifrost and he cannot leave the vicinity of the guardian hall without special circumstances.

"You... can't leave this hall, can you?" Lin Rui looked at him and asked curiously as if he could hear something from Heimdall's tone.

In the original plot, it seems that Heimdall did not leave the Guardian Hall before the Bifrost was destroyed.

Heimdall didn't answer when he heard Lin Rui's question, he just kept staring at the location of Asgard Palace.

"If you can't get out of here, send me there. I can be of some help anyway, don't you think?" Lin Rui continued to speak without getting an answer from Heimdall.

Lin Rui was feeling a little itchy after seeing the battle ahead. Moreover, after reaching Asgard, his body that had not been fully recovered was recovering at speed far faster than Lin Rui thought.

His body which has been strengthened several times has also been fully filled with internal energy, and the current Lin Rui's strength is far more powerful than what it was a few days ago.

Perhaps only Lin Rui's experience can lead to such a strange change in strength. When he goes back to earth, Spiderman and the others will definitely be surprised.

"You're going there?" Heimdall looked at him and asked seriously after hearing Lin Rui's words.

When Lin Rui just arrived at Asgard, Heimdall asked him to hand over the Magic Cube with a very tough attitude at the beginning. After the invasion of the Dark Elves, the Magic Cube issue was temporarily put to one side. And after Lin Rui saved Heimdall, Heimdall softened his attitude towards Lin Rui again.

Now, Lin Rui's willingness to help when Asgard was clearly in danger renewed Heimdall's view of the young man in front of him. Perhaps there was a reason why the Ancient One came to Odin to ask for help in searching for him.

With that in mind, Heimdall was also waiting for Lin Rui's answer.

"Er... If you want to send me back to Earth now, I can skip it." After meeting Heimdall, Lin Rui thought for a while and said.

The plot on Asgard's side has also changed too much, and Lin Rui has little understanding of the current situation. As powerful as he is, he is not capable of determining the outcome of a race war. Therefore, for his own safety, it is safest to go back to Earth.

"You... Like I said before, if you want to go back then just hand over the Magic Cube." Heimdall said helplessly after hearing Lin Rui's answer.

"Then I'd better go and help." No matter what, Lin Rui will never hand over the Magic Cube.

Heimdall: "..."

Rumbling~

Just as Lin Rui and Heimdall were talking on Bifrost Bridge, there was a sudden violent tremor under their feet, which was obviously different from before. So, Lin Rui and Heimdall's eyes were drawn back to the Palace again and when they saw the scene in front of them, both of them were stunned.

Buzzing~

Under the joint attack of the eight combat Spaceships, the light golden defensive Shield has been holding on, which is why Lin Rui and Heimdall can keep chatting. However, just now, a crack appeared in the golden shield!

Bang!

Ka Ka Ka!

From so far away, Lin Rui and Heimdall both heard a clear sound of something cracking. Then, the defensive light shield began to collapse from below.
