

Master Odell 1321

Chapter 1321

Madam Carter angrily blurted out, "It's been days! When is Odell coming back?"

Sylvia smiled and tried to calm her down. "Grandmother, he's probably busy. Why don't you get some rest first? I'll call him later."

Madam Carter sighed. "I'm angry because he doesn't know the importance of coming back home to you and the kids."

Sylvia maintained her smile. "I understand, but don't worry about it."

After calming Madam Carter down, Sylvia wheeled her back into the room to rest.

Odell pursed his lips in silence.

Anger rushed into Sylvia’s mind and broke her rationality. She asked, “Odell, did you just call me unreasonable because of her?”

Odell’s lips remained pursed, but the veins started to pop on his forehead.

Sylvia shouted, “Say something! Have you fallen for her?!”

“Enough!” he shouted back. His powerful shout echoed throughout the entire office, as though a clap of thunder sounded right in front of them.

The whole office plunged into silence.

Shermaine was stunned and terrified as it was her first time seeing Odell this furious.

Sylvia’s face turned pale, but that was soon replaced by boiling anger. Her eyes became watery, and she tossed the food container on the floor to express her vexation.

Horried, Shermaine immediately apologized, "I'm sorry, sir! I didn't... I'm so sorry." She bent over, intending to wipe his pants.

Odell bolted up immediately, causing her to bump into his crotch. The office went quiet.

"What are you two doing?"

A cold voice broke the silent atmosphere in the office.

It was a quiet night, but Sylvia's mind uncontrollably replayed the scene she saw at Odell's office where Shermaine had leaned against his body.

She did not want to dwell on the thought, but she could not help herself, even more so when he barely came home recently due to work, and it was his secretary that accompanied him day and night.

Ding!

She suddenly received a text on her phone.

She picked it up, anticipating it to be the man, but it was actually a text from the teachers' group from the academy. She had been home for more than an hour now, and the man did not even bother to text her.

Did he not bother to even explain himself anymore?

Her eyes became watery again, but she rubbed them dry before she tossed her phone to the side and buried herself under the sheets.

At Carter Tower, the man had rested his eyes for quite some time after Sylvia left. After he got enough rest, he returned to his desk and continued his work.

Shermaine scoffed. “Hmph. You say it as though you know him really well. If you really know him that well, why would he have fired you from the company back then, and why are you still staying abroad even now?”

If she had not taken the initiative to approach him, Sylvia would not have bumped into them having intimate contact. It would not have aroused his urge to protect her and scold Sylvia either.

Despite Ruth’s constant reminders, which started to get annoying, Shermaine obtained her funding and aid to escape poverty and acquire her current position. Therefore, she was in no position to talk back.

With pursed lips, she replied, “I understand, Aunt Ruth. I’ll be careful.”

It was a sleepless night for Sylvia.

When the sky started to turn bright, she got up. She washed up, changed into some fresh new clothes, and went to the kids' room.

The teachers who had signed up for the sketching trip arrived with their respective luggage. Sylvia joined the group and waited with them for Christopher and the bus to arrive.

It was a quarter past noon, which was lunchtime for Liam and Isabel.

She picked up her phone and called Liam. The call got through instantly.

The little guy's youthful but mature voice asked, "Yes, Mommy? What is it?"

Sylvia smiled. "Liam, is Issy with you?"

"Mommy, I'm here!" Isabel's loud voice rang out through the phone.

Sylvia smiled. "Liam, Issy, Mommy has an urgent job from the academy, and I have to be away for two weeks."

Liam simply hummed a reply.

Isabel asked, "Mommy, where are you going?"

"I'm going somewhere far away but the scenery is gorgeous. I'm going with the teachers from the academy, so don't worry about me."

Odell's expression shifted. He looked at Aunt Tonya and asked, "Aunt Tonya, where's Sylvia?"

Irritated, Aunt Tonya answered, "She's not at home."

"Where is she?"

"Go ask her yourself." Aunt Tonya's tone remained annoyed and irritated.

Odell looked at Sebastian. "Uncle Sebastian?"

Sebastian sighed. "Madam went on a trip with the teachers from the academy."

"What trip?"

"I am not clear, but it seems like a sketching trip to somewhere far away. She's away for two weeks."

Two weeks?

Odell frowned. "When did she leave?"

Ms. Johnson sighed and said helplessly, “You know about my husband cheating on me two years ago, don’t you? I forgave him back then because of the kids, and I thought he would be better. Now, he’s cheated on me again, so I confronted him.

“He scolded me and shifted the blame on me. I’m so tired and exhausted, so I thought of coming out to take a fresh breath of air.”

The person Ms. Johnson was confiding in was Ms. Kang, and she got upset as well. “What a prick! Men never change! He cheated, yet he thinks he did the right thing?”

After venting her emotions, Ms. Kang continued, “What are you going to do next? Get a divorce?”

“The kids are still young. He treats me poorly, but he’s quite good to the kids. I don’t know. My mind is in a mess now, and I need an escape. I’ll see what I can do after I get my head straight.”

“Sounds like a plan. Don’t pressure yourself too much.”

“I will.”

As he regained his cool composure, he got up and said, "Inform the departments that we are bringing next week's weekly meeting ahead, and it will be in an hour at the main meeting room. Tell them to be prepared."

"Yes, sir."

Cliff nodded and went out. As soon as he stepped out of the office, he ran into Shermaine.

Shermaine went up to Cliff and asked in a small voice, "Assistant Bogard, what's wrong with Master Carter? I noticed the sour look on his face when he came up."

Cliff said, "Something happened to his family."

"His family? Is it because of Mrs. Carter?" Shermaine asked.

Cliff was surprised by the insight. "How did you know?"

Shermaine frowned and wore an apologetic look. "Yesterday night, I went in with a thermal flask and accidentally spilled water on him. I tried helping, but he suddenly stood up, and I accidentally fell onto him. Mrs. Carter came in and saw us..."

Sylvia turned on her phone and realized that Isabel had created a chat group with herself, Liam, and Flint

Although Flint was still young and did not know how to use the chat function yet, he was probably dragged in by his sister to fill in the numbers.

There were a ton of voice messages in the chat group. already.

Liam asked, "Mommy, have you landed?"

Isabel reported, "Mommy, we went back to our room after dinner. We're good kids." Isabel then posted a picture of Flint eating dinner obediently.

A while later, Isabel asked, "Mommy, did you and Daddy argue again? Flint said Daddy came home in the afternoon, and when he found out that you went on the trip, he got so angry."

Isabel then sent another voice message. "Yeah, yeah. He's so angry. He stared at me too!"

The adorable voice was obviously Flint's.
