

Master Odell 1441

Chapter 1441

A pair of charming eyes stared at her.

He feigned an adorable voice and said, “Sherry, I’m bored. Will you go out with me?”

Carl’s face was less than a finger away from her.

Sherry covered his face single-handedly and pushed him back, forcing him to stand straight. She said, “I’m busy. Go play by yourself.”

She turned away and continued typing on the keyboard.

Carl sighed and pouted. “Sherry, you’ve been in this room for three days now. Aren’t you bored at all?”
“No.”

Carl’s gaze shifted. He suddenly bent over and moved close to her ears. “Are you afraid of running into someone on the streets? That’s why you’ve been hiding here for so long.”

Sherry’s typing hands froze all of a sudden. She turned to the man and stared at him coldly. Her lips curled as she said, “Young Master Sager, are you thinking of your mother again?”

annoyance flashed on his face as he looked askance at her. “Sherry, if you threaten me with my mother again, I’ll fire you.”

say I will strip you

“Fine! Fine! Stay here forever!”

angrily turned around and headed to the door.

again and narrowed his eyes. “Oh, there’s something I forgot to tell you. The Glenchester Business Guild’s annual conference is going to be held this Friday. I’ve already accepted Sherry’s expression shifted.

you going, my dear

a drizzle that added a layer of mist

eighth floor of the hotel where Sherry used to stay, Caprice had just fallen by the window and gazed at the drizzle outside. His glasses reflected from outside the door.

on the couch.

so

the man’s expression first before he said softly, “Sir, we’ve searched all the clubs and hotels in Glenchester in the past two days his words subsided, the man had a layer of gloom shrouded over his handsome face without surprise.

but did not have the nerve to make

Chapter 1442

A young woman was berated and insulted by a group of people in public, including her own biological parents who called her a thief. Even the ones she used to love and the father of her daughter refused to spare a glance at her.

No one would be able to tolerate such grief. She must be hiding somewhere to lick her own wounds.

Peter cautiously looked at John after he voiced his opinion.

The man opened his deep eyes with no focus on his pupils. He seemed to be in deep thought, but fortunately, he was not mad.

Peter sighed a breath of relief.

In the next second, the man's gruffly voice sounded, "Do you think I treated her poorly?"

Peter choked on the question.

How should he answer the question?

she had done to the man treated Sherry poorly, the man would probably be angry; if he lied about it, it seemed wrong looked at Peter. "Just speak your mind. I won't little too harshly recently. She's Ms. Caprice's biological mother after all, and haven't you his eyes. "How poorly did I voice, "She passed out in the snow once because of you, and when she was

it upon herself."

years ago, but she had insisted on abandoning him and the child. He texted her often in the past two years, but she had not once replied to his

John's expression turned cold as he glared at back. "Sir, you said you wouldn't closed his eyes again to suppress his quiet for a

the conversation anymore. He then said in a small

A slightly gloomy expression lingered on his handsome face, but it was not a sign of

asked, "Yes,

on his glasses and looked at him indifferently. " How do you think I should treat her

the man's

Ms. Caprice's mother, why not treat her better? Try to bring her

Chapter 1443

The door closed, hence returning the moderately spacious room to peace and quiet.

The sky continued to drizzle outside the window.

Caprice was sleeping soundly on the bed, her cheeks slightly blushing.

John's anxiety and annoyance calmed down when he saw the adorable girl sleeping. His eyes were glued to the girl for a while before he sighed.

It seemed like he was dedicated to treating her better when he found her.

Should conscience remain in the woman's mind and know what was best for her, he could marry her once more and make her Caprice's mother legitimately.

With the thought in mind, the depression and annoyance that troubled him faded. He got up and wanted to have a bath before resting, but his phone rang.

It was from Julie.

he put the phone

Caprice in the past few days? Mother hasn't seen Caprice

Caprice is with me on a of concern, Julie asked, "The business guild's conference is tomorrow night. I've accepted the invitation on your behalf because you said you were answered gently, "Caprice and I will come back tomorrow afternoon. I don't plan to bring Caprice care of Caprice. I'll tell Mother right away. She'll be happy about next day, after a delicious meal at the restaurant

to the Stocktons' residence.

and Julie were waiting for them.

moon when she saw them back. She strode over and reached out

Madam Stockton's

up into her arms and headed she walked John inside. "How's work, John? Is hummed a

at home. Queenie has been obedient, and other

Chapter 1444

Queenie's eyes lit up. "He's that awesome?!"

"Indeed." Even Julie showed a hint of admiration on her face. "Without this person, the Sagers would not have regained their former glory. Even Young Master Sager became his student. But the Sagers were afraid of their rivals scouting him, so his existence is kept a secret. Other than the Sagers themselves, almost no one has seen this person before."

Queenie asked out of curiosity, "Then, why is he coming to Glenchester with Young Master Sager?"

"Glenchester is famous for its tourism industry. Both the tourism and entertainment industries are considered the best in the country. I believe the Sagers want to expand their reach in the entertainment industry as well, so they sent him and Young Master Sager here to learn from us. But I have a hunch that they want to work with John even more."

Julie then looked at John.

John curled his lips. "You've analyzed it quite well."

Julie smiled at the praise she got from John.

Queenie complimented, "Julie, you're awesome! You handle everything at home perfectly and even know all of this?"

Madam Stockton, who held Caprice in her arms, joined the conversation. "Then, you should learn more from Julie."

like it's something I can pick up in John as well. If you spend a little more effort in learning, you'll be able to do it as outlets Brother assigned you have been doing great in the past few years. It's not about learning, it's about talent. You don't need to console me. I'm just not be like that.

"That's enough, Julie. You don't need to be humble with this girl here. You're talented in running businesses, in fact, a lot better than "Mother, please don't say

then looked at John.

I gave you nicely. I am planning to hand

She smiled and said, "I know, John. I'll do my

"John, why don't you bring Julie along to the business guild event later? Give her the chance to meet more people in the industry."

Julie's eyes gleamed.

"Sure. Why

Julie's smile widened.

"Queenie, you should

some handsome

"No. I'm not going. I want to stay at home and play with at her. "I'm here to take care of

want to go!"

Chapter 1445

John saw Julie beside him.

She wore a slim violet dress coupled with a white linen shawl. Her wavy hair, which complimented her delicate /makeup, was draped on her shoulders.

The moment John landed his gaze on her, she was smiling gently at him.

John's heart skipped a beat.

It was his first time seeing her dressed up this beautifully. She was much more eye-catching compared to her usual quiet demeanor, and she also had a stronger aura compared to what she wore during the previous event. She highly resembled a professional lady who held high authority in a company.

A moment later, he smiled. "You look great today."

Julie smiled and said mischievously, "I'm attending the event with you, after all. I can't just embarrass you in public."

John simply chuckled.

noticed his faint smile, and she, too, curled drove

the front with subtly sized him up.

layer of frostiness, he looked as handsome as ever with his fair skin. In addition to his elegant posture, he looked like a prince from a fairytale, bearing a tie around his neck was violet, which was the same color as her dress.

they ought to turn heads and people would think they prestigious background. Not shared the same recognition for her as new heights in the even worthy to carry her heels.

must believe that she was a hundred car sprinted towards the event venue.

a black shirt with his medium–short hair tucked neatly behind his ears. The button around his chest was left undone, exposing his fair chest.

the black shirt. There was even

Chapter 1446

“Don’t worry. With me around, no matter how powerful that John Stockton is, he won’t dare to take advantage of you in front of me,” Carl said as he steadily steered the car.

They were all people with status, so it was unlikely for John to do something heinous to her in public.

Sherry frowned. “Who told you I’m afraid of him?”

“Then, why the long face?”

“I don’t have a long face!”

Carl sighed. “Fine. No long face. I was wrong.

Sherry ignored the frivolous man.

Carl had another glance at her charming looks. “Sherry, we are going to reach the venue after a couple more turns. If you want to go back now, I can still turn around.”

Sherry’s expression changed. She glared at him and said, “I don’t want to go back. Just drive and stop blabbering, or I’ll call your mother right away!”

I’ll drive.”

strongly and straightened

on her charming face was replaced by confidence, followed by a frosty aura that would keep people away.

had one last glance at her before he curled his lips into a grin.

the guild president, Master geographical wonders. All the famous tourist spots were within a hand’s reach. The villa was brightly lit and

the grand hall behind the villa.

ceiling–to– floor windows, which showed off the liveliness inside the building.

guests had arrived. Everyone mingled with each other with a glass of wine most prominent guests had yet to arrive: John Stockton and Carl Sager.

chatting and mingling, but they all spared a sliver of attention at the silver MPV drove into the villa entrance like a flock of said, "I recognize the car. It's Master Stockton's ride. He's here!"

words hastened the car drove to a stop in front of the entrance,

Chapter 1447

John shook his hand with a smile.

Master Carrel then turned to Julie and was surprised to see her. He smiled and said, "It's rare to see you here, Second Mrs. Carter."

The crowd finally knew who Julie was, but they started to size up John and Julie with a complex gaze.

A handsome man with a strong presence coupled with a beautiful and elegant lady—one a bachelor, one a widow.

They somehow spent quite a lot of time together, and it was difficult for people to not view them as a couple.

Julie smiled. "Master Carrel, thank you for having me. You may just call me Julie."

"Right, right." Master Carrel then subtly moved his gaze back to John.

It was the first time John was attending an event with a female partner, and this time, he came with his sister-in-law.

Master Carrel sized John up subtly, attempting to find out what he thought of Julie, but he noticed the man was into the crowd, seemingly trying to find asked, "Master Stockton, looking Master Sager is coming too. Is he here?"

"He hasn't—"

from the gate and drifted into the front entrance, screeching while John narrowed his eyes. Julie and the others looked at the down and revealed a youthful and charming face of a Carrel, I'm here!" Carl smiled at Master Carrel Carrel was taken aback by the sudden wink. He then showed a delightful smile and said to John, "Master Stockton, let car and opened the door for Carl himself.

Old Man Carrel."

he opened the door and put his hand out for the person inside. "My dear silenced by his frivolous behavior, but at the same time has three

Sagers is coming. Young Master Sager here is also the enigma's student, and if he called way, that person

was intrigued.

topic aggressively, Julie also locked her eyes on the

Chapter 1448

Everyone glued their eyes on the woman's back, waiting for her to turn around for a better look.

Everything went quiet for a few more seconds.

The woman took two steps forward following Carl's movements and then turned around to the crowd. Her charming looks and delicate facial features immediately came under the spotlight.

Suddenly, it got so quiet that one could even hear a needle dropping on the ground.

Many were astonished by her breathtaking looks.

There were also some who widened their eyes in shock, including Matthew, Janine, and Jake who intentionally avoided John from the moment he arrived.

Julie was also stunned.

The man beside her who stood firm suddenly petrified. His smile froze as if the freezing wind stopped his movements.

Things went quieter than before.

"What's with the silence?" Carl chuckled. He then looked at Sherry affectionately and tapped her head. "Sister Sherry, I think they are stunned by your beauty."

askance

cold here. It's a lot colder

his jacket and put it still was, those who knew

event, including Matthew, Janine, and Jake,
What happened?
residence and was
she end up as Carl's good attentive Carl was to her, the knew Sherry were more confused
like the coldest hands, slapping
she be the mysterious person who helped the Sagers overcome it was obvious that she had a close relationship with Carl,
felt

Jake remained
was the girl from the rural village, was Julie. She frowned as her face

Chapter 1449

"Master Stockton, this is Ms. Fowler."

Assuming that they did not know each other, Master

Carrel introduced the two of them. He turned to Sherry and said, "Ms. Fowler, this is Master Stockton of Glenchester."

"Oh, I know her. Sherry Fowler," John said.

Things went awkwardly quiet again.

Master Carrel looked at him with surprise, together with the crowd and also Julie.

Under people's curious and nervous gazes, John looked at Sherry and continued, "We're old acquaintances."

Sherry was left speechless for a moment, but she maintained her professional smile. "Master Stockton is right. We know each other, but we're not that close."

"Huh..." John scoffed.

looked away and averted his

I didn't know you

pursed her

John. The reason he asked

ago. Master Stockton has always been the person at the top of the pyramid

But I suppose that is so. If Master Stockton had his eyes on you, you wouldn't have come are slightly on his face turned cold. " I did not expect you to

"You're a busy man. It's normal for you to be

John was silenced.

crowd noticed the conversation was taking a

Carl chuckled.

Ahem!

topic with a fake smile. "It seems like everyone has a lot of things to talk about. It's freezing out here. Why don't we go in then led the group inside the remained standing on the spot. He was standing in the

Chapter 1450

Julie tightened the shawl around her shoulder and cautiously looked at John.

"John, are you okay?"

John stared at Sherry and Carl, who had disappeared into the hall, and curled his lips into a wry grin.

"I'm fine. Let's go in."

The hall was a lot warmer.

Sherry returned Carl his jacket and thanked him. " Thanks."

Carl put his jacket back on and winked at her. "You're welcome."

Sherry quickly grabbed a glass of wine and started sipping; Carl did the same.

Soon, someone came to greet them.

Carl was great at handling people. He used the least words to send them on their way because those who came to mingle were trying to win his favors.

ask her how she helped the Sagers overcome the crisis. Due to privacy simply picked the trivial matters to emphasize and then shifted the topic. After exchanging name cards, the others walked away. She wore a polite smile throughout the process a smile. He even helped her with her wine glass when she was exchanging in a secluded corner, the man's slender figure he watched the woman's every move. His deep gaze was glued to her, and his lips would curl from time to who helped the

to be full of surprises.

people on their way, but another group came to greet her.

a few conversations and exchanging name cards, corner for some wine. To her surprise, after sending the last group of people away, a familiar person came to her.

the

to her with a glass of wine and a polite and gentle smile. She made it

Julie's words subsided, Carl

Sherry said, "No."

Julie's expression froze.

professionally and asked, "Miss, you do look