

Master Odell 1671

Chapter 1671

When that happened, Sherry would no longer have the dignity to continue the engagement with Carl.

Lisa would probably dislike her when she found out, and so would Carl.

Caden said, "Yeah. Aiden, let's tell Dad, Mom, and Grandma!" He was eager to see Sherry embarrass her self in public.

Aiden, however, went silent.

A moment later, he said, "These pictures alone can't prove that the girl is her daughter, and it also can't prove that the man is her ex-husband."

Caden asked, "Why not?"

Ada looked at him as well.

Aiden explained, "Sherry has been keeping her distance from her ex-husband, and it's quite the distance I must say. Even though she held her daughter, we don't have a video of them talking. She could simply say the man was her friend or relative, and that the girl is her niece or someone else."

Caden tightened his brows.

"That

with Carl in a week. I believe her ex-husband has his own agenda for appearing at this particular time with her daughter.

"What if we can't get anything and they proceed

Ada. There's a week left." A sudden thought rushed into Aiden's mind and he added with a smile, "Maybe we can have a private Ada's gaze shifted.

scoffed. "Bro, are you planning to prepare something to prepare something so 'big' that they won't forget it for the longer be Carl's fiancée and back to her own place; Caprice slept soundly in her bed, removed the girl's jacket and shoes, and tucked the girl in before she headed to the bathroom

she came thoughts. She could not help but kiss the girl on the cheek before she hugged fell asleep soon after hugging her daughter her apartment, the man's slender figure leaned against the car with for a while

Jason came over.

Chapter 1672

Jason then pulled his phone out and tapped on the video he got from the bodyguard assigned to follow Sherry. He handed John the phone.

John took it and watched with his brows furrowed.

Jason added, "When our men found them, one of them was taking videos of you and Ms. Fowler. They only stopped when you and Ms. Fowler separated."

The video clearly showed the group watching him and Sherry and one of them was clearly taking videos of him interacting with Sherry and Caprice.

The video of the group was taken from a distance, hence their blurry faces, but it was enough for John to recognize them.

The men were Aiden and Caden, the first and second sons of the Sagers. The woman in the glamorous dress might be the father's niece, Ada, who had been living with them and had a crush on Carl.

They were having dinner at the restaurant when Sherry embarrassed them at the table. They must have found out when Sherry came down to see him and Caprice.

His gaze shifted after the video ended, and it put a grin on his face.

Jason was baffled by his expression. "Sir, why are you smiling?"

He was followed and taken video of, so how could he still smile?

"It's nothing."

put away his curiosity and asked, "They have hired more men to follow you and Ms. Fowler. I believe there's a car on our tail now. Do we need to the phone back and leaned back comfortably. He said with a smile, "No need to act now. Just pretend that they are

judging from the evil grin wolf finding out that it was followed by a bunch of rabbits. Not only did it not act immediately, but it also seemed to have a plan to lure the rabbits

and no longer

could have gone on if the alarm did

Saturday, which she usually spent at work, but with Caprice around, she just wanted girl was still

the girl on her plump cheek and continued lying down beside her, watching

her phone suddenly

It was Lisa.

that the call would wake the girl, she got up and answered answered the phone, Lisa said, "Sherry, I have some friends who want to meet you. They are with me now. You should be free now."

Lisa, I'm actually busy for the day," Sherry back at the office, but there's no rush. You can settle it on Monday.

she could say a word, leaving her

"

Chapter 1673

Outside the door was a young, buff man.

Sherry already noticed him when she brought Caprice home last night. She knew the man was one of John's lackeys.

Sherry said, "Call your boss to come over."

The bodyguard nodded and pulled out his phone.

Sherry returned to the living room and hugged Caprice with a heavy heart.

A while later, knocks came from the door. Sherry opened it and saw John in a casual white T-shirt and long pants, standing straight in front of her. His handsome face was coupled with his signature golden-framed glasses. He was smiling like a gentleman when Sherry opened the door.

Sherry instinctively reacted with a frosty look.

said, "I'm here

stepped aside without saying him, her eyes curved into two lines and she squealed happily, "Daddy!" She ran to the was greeted by Sherry's cold glare. His expression shifted and it made him over to his arms and then looked Caprice, "Caprice, Mommy is busy later. I'll go find you when I'm her to be quick.

was slightly disappointed when she heard her mother was leaving, but she

at her. "Good

her frosty look and stared at out for a walk. If you want to see Caprice after young bodyguard who had stood him. She looked at

Caprice pouted. "Bye, Mommy."

Chapter 1674

Jason also got into the elevator, and the door shut after he went in.

John said, "It's because Daddy did something that made Mommy mad."

Caprice's expression turned serious. "What did you do?"

John furrowed his brows and lowered his voice, "A lot. I did a lot to hurt Mommy."

Caprice pouted. "Why did you hurt Mommy?" Her tiny hands wrapped around his neck, and she leaned against his chest. She pouted and glared at him angrily.

John choked up for a moment. He regained his voice after a while and said, "I didn't do it on purpose, but I did hurt her."

"Hmph!" Caprice pouted angrily and looked away.

He then said to the girl, "Caprice, I know what I did wrong, and I'll try my best to get at need your help," John said with

he might

heard her father asking adorable and enthusiastic expression, John curled his lips.

"Caprice, you don't have to do anything now. You just need to tell Mommy you miss her when you see her cared about Caprice, she would not be able to leave two men stood outside the elevator. One of them was on watch while the other was

Fowler's room, and she was taken away by the changed into some fresh new clothes and went out. She planned to head to Lisa's place by car, so she headed to the parking lot by her car keys out,

Sherry turned around.

by her side with her body out. Her hands were stretched out as

Chapter 1675

Both the tuna sandwich and hot latte were her favorites.

Sherry wanted to throw them away, but she instantly recalled the adorable Caprice handing her the breakfast.

She had no idea how long the girl had waited for her in the car because she found the girl's handprints on the sandwich.

Sherry exasperatedly sighed and took the sandwich.

When she was almost done with the sandwich, the traffic finally cleared up.

Less than twenty minutes later, she arrived at Lisa's mansion in the city center.

The gate has a facial recognition system installed, so Sherry got out of the car and stood in front of the gate.

A beep later, the gate opened for her.

When she entered the living hall, she saw Lisa and several fashionable middle-aged ladies chatting on the couch. They all looked at her when she walked through the door.

Sherry.

went over got up and introduced Sherry to her friends. All the ladies came from prominent she was escorted to the table for tea. They chatted until shoulder, and smiled at his mother. "Mom, are you done? I haven't seen Sherry at him. though there was a smile on her face. "It's echoed her haven't had enough fun with stay a Sherry's been with us for the whole day now. It's time to let her go out

ladies, Carl immediately dragged Sherry had the intention to leave, so she used Carl to escape Lisa and her friends before leaving and walked out of the
they left, Lisa and her like your

Chapter 1676

Sherry rolled her eyes at him. She walked around him and continued heading to her car.

Right after she opened the car door, Carl's towering figure blocked her again.

Bang.

He shut the door with a bang and moved closer to her face.

Sherry instinctively retreated, but Carl caught her by the wrist. She furrowed her brows." Carl, what are you doing?"

Carl curled his lips. His dreamy eyes shimmered enchantingly. "I'm trying to tell you, but you won't let me, so don't think of leaving me today."

Sherry pursed her lips. "What is it?"

Carl said, "I went to three places and did what you assigned to me last week. Other than that, I've also closed two major deals for the company."

Sherry was intrigued. "Which two major deals?"

"Heiner Development in Suntory City's new district development and the restructuring of the old district."

Sherry's eyes gleamed. "You really closed the deal?"

the contract with me. What do you

Sherry smiled. "Well done."

well this

the recent workload, she ran out of ideas and had been himself.

was more capable than she thought. If only he could without her around...

face moved closer to her. "Sis, I've got us two speechless. A moment later, she said, "Keep up the good work. If you can keep this up, you will shareholders of the company disagreed with Carl taking over the company. While Ada played a crucial role in their decisions, they also disagreed because Carl had been a playboy before this, company.

pouted. "I don't want do you

"I want in front of immediately changed his words. "Fine, I want you to have dinner with me to celebrate my little achievement." He then puppy.

Carl arrived. It was four to five hours too early for dinner, and she wanted to go back she said, "Fine. Let's go have just have lunch with my mom

Chapter 1677

A car was simply a means of transportation for Sherry. Her car might not be big or luxurious, but it was comfortable to drive around.

When the light turned green, Carl stepped on the accelerator. With an enchanting smile lingering on his face, he said, "I've already booked it. It will reach Coastrock on our engagement day."

Sherry frowned. "I really don't want it. Give it to someone else."

After all, it was just a fake engagement. She was more than grateful for Lisa and the company's kindness. The sports car must cost a fortune, and if she accepted it from Carl, what must she do to return the favor?

Carl said, "I want to give it to you. Just take it as an engagement present."

Sylvia ignored him, but he smiled and continued driving.

A while later, the car stopped in front of a restaurant adorned with classic Mediterranean architecture.

Sherry got out of the car together with Carl, and the waiters came out to welcome them. One of the waiters smiled and said, "Mr. Sager, Ms. Fowler, your room is ready."

led to a door, the dim environment inside surprised Sherry. It was sunny and bright outside, but the curtains in long table. There were was rendered speechless by the suite of the five-star hotel opposite stood by the window, and his eyes were glued to the apartment opposite the this Ding.

phone rang. It was and put his phone beside a small voice, "Sir, the bodyguard assigned to follow Ms.
out from Mrs. Sager's place and went to a restaurant
gaze turned grim. "Are they having
"Yes. They are in a VIP room with the

Chapter 1678

Back in the restaurant, even if Sherry was an idiot, she could tell it was actually 'dinner' instead of lunch.
She had no idea what had gotten into Carl's mind for arranging a candlelight lunch in the middle of the day.

However, she agreed to have a meal with him, so she tended to keep the promise. She reluctantly walked in and sat down.

Carl sat opposite her across the long table.

The waiter served the food and left them alone, leaving only a violinist playing inside. The music was pleasant to the ears.

Just when Sherry wanted to eat, Carl stopped her. He raised his glass of red wine and smiled bewitchingly with his charming eyes curved. "Sis, a toast."

Sherry grabbed her glass and said, "Carl, congratulations on closing two major deals. Cheers." She then finished the glass of wine in a single gulp.

Carl pursed his lips helplessly and took a small sip of wine.

her. She was too lazy to cut it with a knife, stunned. He simply responded with a helpless and bitter eyes and smiled bewitchingly.
without looking at

want one more?"

nod. It was delicious, but the portion was a little small his lips and told the waiter to bring another serving of steak in her stomach. She put the fork and knife down and smiled at Carl. "Thank you, Carl. I'm done. I still his cheek on his hand and looked at her. Watching her getting up in purse and walked out without saying the rose petals blessed the atmosphere with a faint

Sherry left.

sighed helplessly.

I'll have all the time

the restaurant, Sherry

Chapter 1679

The girl in the man's arms pouted as a hint of helplessness gleamed in her eyes. Her father had woken her up, and she was still sleepy.

However, since they were coming for her mother, she simply let her father off the hook this time.

Sherry ignored the man and looked at Caprice with a gentle gaze.

John was aware of the gentle gaze, so he put Caprice down on her own.

Caprice waddled her way to her mother. Sherry picked the girl up and carried her into her arms.

"Mommy, did you just come back?" the girl asked with pouty lips.

Sherry answered softly, "Mommy got held up by something."

"Mm-hmm..." Caprice yawned and then leaned into Sherry's neck.

carried the girl to the elevator. She moment there, John was silenced by her response. He cleared his throat subtly to against her mother's shoulder, the man's grunts and the girl's change of expression. She feigned grievance and started to sob, "Daddy, Daddy, looked at the girl and saw her looking at her father with a pout. She frowned and looked at you? You can stay with Mommy for the night,

Mommy and Daddy. I want Mommy and Daddy together troubled look. "Caprice, be a good Although no tears were rolling down her cheeks, her grieving Sherry consoled her, "Caprice, Daddy
a peek at her father through her shifted. He said, "Mommy's right. Daddy has to call Uncle but before she could wrap her mind around the situation, Caprice pouted again.
frowned at him. She wanted the man and teary eyes. "Mommy, can you let

Chapter 1680

The door opened, and Sherry walked in with Caprice. John followed them in.
Sherry turned around to glare at him. He stopped and stood still in the living room like a monolith and kept his distance from the mother and daughter.
Sherry's grim expression eased up when John decided to act tactfully. She then smiled at Caprice and asked, "Caprice, are you sleepy? Do you want to continue sleeping?"
Caprice sneaked a glance at John and then shook her head. "No. I'm not sleepy."
"Do you want to have anything to eat?"
The girl shook her head.
"Do you want to play games?"
The girl continued to shake her head.
Sherry sighed helplessly. "Then, what do you want to do?"
leaned into her arms and said adorably, "I don't want to do anything. I just want to be with Daddy and Mommy." She stuck her cheek
the
her back turned. The girl could and Sherry felt uncomfortable with the man staring at her from the back. A quick thought later, she said to Caprice, "Caprice, why don't I play some nodded and pulled her phone out. She had Coastrock, she had a problem with insomnia, and it was the children's storybooks that lullabied her to sleep most of the time. All the storybooks that she listened

the storybook

to the stories for a while,

Caprice

leaning against it. His hands crossed as he casually at him before she went into the room with the inside before she carried Caprice

the beach. When she opened the window, a soothing sea breeze hugged Caprice and fell asleep as the girl's scent seemed to comfort

Sherry opened her eyes, she found herself in a dark room. The sky was dark and the