Chapter 2051

Roland entered the car after her.

The five-seater car was made by an international manufacturer and looked brand-new.

This did not seem like the same car he drove here two days ago.

Isabel asked curiously, "Is this a new car?"

"Yeah."

"Why aren't you using the company's car?"

"I didn't want to drive the company car to see you."

Isabel seemed startled by the response.

Roland peered into her eyes without a word.

There was not a hint of indecent ideas in the clear sparkle of his eyes and yet, Isabel was too shy to stare into them for too long.

She distracted herself by opening the food container and began munching at its contents.

The snacks Martha made for her this time were different from the ones she usually made, but they were just as delicious.

She could not stop eating once she started.

Roland watched her silently.

The sound of her teeth clacking against the food was the only noise inside the car.

Their lips were glued to each other's as they went at it for a while.

The temperature inside the car was rising rapidly, it was quickly getting hot and steamy inside.

That was when Roland let go.

With her cheeks completely covered in red, she asked brazenly, "What are you doing?"

"This isn't a good place," he said in a raspy, suppressed voice.

He thought this place was too small and cramped for it?

Fair enough, she was not sure about doing it here either.

She only kissed him because she did not want to lose face as she wanted to be in control.

She knew better than to say it, so she squinted playfully and teased him, "What, you don't want to continue?"

Roland admitted quite frankly, "Yeah."

She scoffed and gently nudged him away before sitting up. She declared proudly, "Just remember that you're the one who said no so I'll let you off the hook this time. Next time, I won't be so merciful no matter the location!"

She put on a haughty display like she was the one in control.

Roland pursed his lips to try to suppress a smile as he replied, "Understood."

"I'm going back into the hotel for now, why don't you go home too?"

Roland was calm at first, but after a while, his ears began to turn red.

Isabel snickered at the sight.

He looked at her with a puzzled expression. "What are you laughing at?"

She motioned him over. "Come closer and I'll tell you."

Roland hesitated briefly before bowing his head closer.

Isabel drew herself closer toward him as well, their cheeks brushed against each other. Then, she gently nibbled his ear with her teeth.

Roland seemed to gasp at the touch of her teeth.

He stiffened up.

Even his breathing began to turn erratic.

Isabel was so absorbed in teasing him that she did not sense the looming danger.

After nibbling his ears a few more times, she whispered breathily into his ear, "I'm laughing because your ears are turning red."

Isabel recognized her. She was Teresa, one of the actresses who played one of the good guys on Legend of the Goddess.

She only had a handful of scenes on the show and they rarely had any scenes together, the point being that she was not very close with Teresa.

Still, they were all part of the film crew and since Teresa took the initiative to approach her, there was no reason she should refuse, especially since no rules were saying that she owned this corner over here.

Naturally, she gestured Teresa over. "Sure."

Teresa sat down next to her.

"Isabel, why do you eat the same boxed lunch as the film crew?" Teresa stared perplexedly at the tray of food Isabel was eating out of.

Isabel responded with another question, "What else am I supposed to eat if not this?"

They were far away from the city and they had many more scenes to shoot, getting to eat anything at all was a blessing enough.

Teresa remarked, "You're a big shot, I thought you wouldn't eat something as common as this like the rest of us. You're more grounded than I thought."

Teresa's assistant asked cautiously, "What would you like to eat?"

This instantly prompted a wrathful scowl from Teresa. She asked snappily, "Don't you know my appetite by now?"

"Okay, I'll buy something right now but it might take some time because I need to drive to the city."

"If you don't come back with my food within half an hour, you don't have to bother coming back."

The assistant grimaced but knew better than to protest. She held her tongue, then frantically ran to get food.

Teresa sat down and reached for her phone. Then, she sent a text to Isabella, "Hey Isabella. I talked to Isabel and she's got her guard up the entire time. I only chatted with her for a while and only managed to find out that her boyfriend wasn't part of the entertainment industry, I still don't know who he is. She did mention that her boyfriend didn't come from a rich family, maybe he's just a commoner."

Isabella replied almost instantly, "There's no way he's any ordinary person."

Teresa asked, "How can you be so sure?"

Isabella replied, "Let me worry about that, just continue trying to probe for more details from her. Anyway, I got some scripts sent to me recently and I went through them. Some of those roles are a good fit for you. If you can get more information for me, I promise that I'll pass one of these scripts to you."

Teresa's eyes shone, she frantically thanked Isabella, "Thank you so much, I promise I'll get something useful for you!"

"Yeah." he said stiffly.

It was just a short answer, but Isabel felt like it punched into her chest like a hammer.

She took his hand to comfort him. "Sorry, I shouldn't be upset at you."

Roland smiled affectionately. "It's not your fault, I should've said something earlier."

Isabel did not even know that his father passed away, in a car accident no less.

This explained why he only lived with his mother.

Come to think of it, she knew nothing of his family. She asked him, "Can you tell me about your family?"

Since they were dating, she should try to get to know him better.

"Hey Isabel, are you done for the day already?" Teresa asked with a quick smile.

Isabel nodded with a grunt.

Teresa asked nonchalantly, "There's this fashion show going on tonight, are you going to be there?"

Isabel made a look. "Yeah."

Teresa announced gleefully, "What a coincidence, I'm going too! Why don't we go together then?"

Isabel was not against it. "Sure."

She did not mind going with Teresa.

Teresa was ecstatic. She took a seat nearby to wait for Isabel.

After only a brief silence, she started to ask questions again, "Isabel, since we get the weekend off before we go to Glanchester, what are your plans? Are you going to see your boyfriend?"

Isabella replied within seconds, "I know, she's the most cunning and arrogant person I know, I'm surprised it took so long for you to get stung by her."

It seemed like she was no stranger to Isabel's aggression.

Teresa heaved a sigh of relief upon seeing that Isabella was not going to tell her off for her lack of progress. She followed up with another text, "Sorry Isabella, she saw through me, I don't think it's very likely I can get more information from her from now on. I did some research on the car her boyfriend drove here every time he came to visit her. The model barely costs a million dollars so I'd wager he's respectably rich, but not to the point of being absurdly rich."

Isabella replied after several minutes, "Alright, I see."

Teresa tried her luck, "By the way, you mentioned you got some script for me recently. How are things progressing?"

Even though she failed to uncover the identity of Isabel's boyfriend, she still managed to take some pictures and videos of the two together, so they must at least be of some use to Isabella.

She figured that she at least deserved something nice in return, perhaps a chance to star in a female lead role.

Isabella replied after a while, "I'm busy getting my make-up done for tonight's fashion show right now. Don't worry, I always remember the promises I make. I'll get back to you about the scripts in two days when I have time."

Teresa replied courteously, "Alright, thank you again, Isabella. I'll let you get back to it."

She smiled jovially and put away her phone after that.

Meanwhile, Isabella, who was already on her way to the fashion show, tossed her phone aside and snarled violently, "Useless idiot."

Isabel gave Carla a reassuring look before stepping onto the stage, clacking her high heels against the platform.

Bright lights beat on her from every direction.

There were many attendees to the show and a lot of them were very fond of her as they cheered and cried out her name.

"Isabel, I love you~"

"Isabel, you're awesome!"

"Isabel, you're so beautiful!"

The cheers reached one crescendo after another, there was no limit to their excitement.

Almost everyone in the venue was chanting her name.

Even Isabel was shocked by the reception. She smiled and waved at her rabid supporters.

It was quite clear that she could not fathom nor accept how Isabel managed to play it off with such confidence and coolness.

Upon noticing Isabel's gaze on her, she immediately turned away from her sight.

Isabel jerked her lips into a sharp grimace.

"Isabel, Amanda is calling, do you want to answer the call right now?" Carla asked while handing a phone to her.

Isabel continued staring at Isabella who was filing toward the stage and told Carla, "Not yet."

Carla carefully put away the phone while staring perplexedly at Isabel. Triss and Ramona were casting the same strange looks at her as well.

Some of the other models who were waiting for their turn to go onstage as well as the ones who have already come off the stage were visibly confused to see Isabel still there as well. They were wondering why she was not changing out of her torn dress yet.

Isabel continued holding the hem of her dress in hand and stared intently at Isabella who was about to step on stage soon.

Isabella was staring straight ahead and pretended to not notice Isabel even though she was practically standing right in front of Isabel.
