

Master Odell 2171

Chapter 2171

"Oh, okay."

...

In the next few days, Roland mostly left early and returned late.

He most likely had many things to deal with after just taking over Rockwell Corporation.

Isabel also received news from Amanda saying that the female lead role that was snatched away before was available again, and filming was expected to start officially next month.

Besides this drama, there were also several variety shows and businesses that approached her.

Amanda spoke on the phone happily for a long time.

Isabel thought back to the day that Roland and Decker signed the contract, and the words that he used to threaten Clarice, and she pursed her lips in a smile.

Thus, while Roland was busy these days, Isabel also took on two commercial advertisements and spent her spare time chatting with Martha, who had just returned from Westchester City.

It was Friday afternoon in the blink of an eye.

With Martha's help, she got her and Roland's luggage ready. Just then, Roland's car arrived at the door.

He got out of the car and walked over quickly with his slender figure.

Isabel's eyes lit up when she saw him.

Isabel was stunned.

After Roland took everything out, he said to the guard, "Please carry these things in as well."

"Right." The guard immediately called for the others.

Only then did Roland look at Isabel, who was speechless.

He smiled boyishly. "I came in a hurry, so I only prepared this much. I don't know if your parents will like them."

Isabel replied with a smile, "They'll like them."

They were all expensive items, and they were all things that her parents usually liked. She could tell that he chose them with care.

After speaking, she went forward to take one of his hands. She looked at the gifts being carried in by the guards and said, "Come on, let's go inside."

Roland pursed his lips. "Okay."

Isabel sent a message to Sylvia before boarding the plane, saying that she would be coming back with Roland tonight.

As soon as Roland and she entered the living room, they saw Odell and Sylvia, as well as Liam and Caprice holding their child. Flint, who had an infuriating smile on his face, was sitting on the sofa looking at them.

Isabel suddenly felt a little nervous, but when she saw that it was just her closest family in front of her, that tension disappeared.

Odell looked at Isabel.
He remembered that Isabel voted against Roland when he applied for the position of director-general of Carter Corporation.
At that time, if it were not for him overseeing the matter, Roland, a genius in business, would have been lost because of the ignorant Isabel.
However, one thing was for certain: Although she and Roland knew each other at that time, they should be no different from strangers.
No, to be precise, she thought of Roland no different than a stranger.
As for how they got together, it was most likely that they slowly got together as time passed.
Just then, Sylvia asked, "How is your mother?"

Roland replied, "My mother is in good health now, thanks to Isabel saving her in time. Thank you for your concern."

When he said this, he seemed to deliberately glance at Isabel.

Isabel pursed her lips.

She did not expect Liam to remember something that happened so long ago.

She almost forgot that she had accidentally saved his mother.

Roland smiled. At that instant, his eyes suddenly lit up, and he said, "Thank you, Mr. Carter."

Flint, who was leaning on the sofa, could not help but laugh. "Dad already approved of you. Why are you still calling him Mr. Carter?"

Roland was stunned. Then, he looked at Odell and said seriously, "Thank you, Uncle."

Odell pursed his lips and hummed.

"Rest early." With that, he got up and left the living room.

Liam also stood up and said in a faint voice, "You can just call me Liam in the future."

Roland said, "Okay, Liam."

Liam also went upstairs.

Roland looked at Flint, who had not left yet.

Flint jumped off the sofa and said with a smile, "Just call me Flint, Roland."

He had a good character and temper. If Isabel lived with him in the future, he would not hurt her even if they had a large conflict.

Sylvia thought about it and asked, “Isabel, have you met his mother before?”

She heard that his mother was his only kin left.

Isabel said honestly, “I’ve met her many times. She’s very gentle and is a good cook. She often cooks food for me.”

Sylvia smiled. “I’m sure his father was quite good too.”

“Yes, he used to be very happy, but after his grandfather and father passed...”

“Mm, I’ve heard.”

Isabel fell silent.

Master Rockwell gave him a suspicious look but did not pursue the topic. He said instead, "Do you think Roland feels deeply for his girlfriend?"

Decker's eyes flashed darkly at the thought of Roland being with Isabel, and he replied, "Roland has never been close to women, and Isabel is his first girlfriend. He even threatened Clarice before not to suppress his girlfriend. In my opinion, he likes her very much."

Master Rockwell sneered. "That makes things easier."

Decker asked in confusion, "What are you planning, Dad?"

"I'll use his girlfriend and force him to return the shares he took from you."

Decker's expression tightened. "What are you planning to do to Isabel?"

Master Rockwell frowned crossly. "I'm not going after your woman. What are you worried about?"

Decker quickly schooled his expression and explained casually, novelebook "I'm not worried. I'm just curious about what you're going to do to her."

Roland fell silent. "It's nothing."
He turned to say to the person on the phone, "It doesn't matter what method you use. Deal with it immediately."
Isabel was puzzled when her own phone rang.
It was from Amanda.
She casually picked up the phone. "What's up, Amanda?"
Amanda's voice shouted anxiously on the phone, "What have you been doing? Why haven't you been picking up my calls?"
Isabel frowned. "I just got off the plane. What happened?"

Roland, who was right beside her, heard her words and looked at her with a tense expression.

Before he could speak, Amanda said to Isabel over the phone, "The Internet right now is full of dirt on you about you living off a rich man. I searched everywhere for help,novelebook.com but I couldn't suppress the news. It seems all those marketing accounts are being controlled. I approached several accounts who usually have a good relationship with me, but they didn't dare to clear your name either. Hurry up and ask Roland for help. The second was: Isabell Ross hooks up with the new person in charge of Rockwell Corporation.

The third was: Isabell Ross' new love affair.

The third trending search was not as hot as the first and second. Judging by the time, the first one went viral first, followed by the second one.

Isabel frowned and clicked on the article.

A paparazzi camped outside the recording venue for The Wonders and took a very high-definition video of Roland coming to pick her up, putting his coat on her, and hugging her in the car.

The netizens commenting on the video were very rational, and most of them were just exchanging gossip.

Then, someone recognized Roland and exposed his identity. There was also a series of marketing accounts who commented strangely: Isabel Ross is the best when novelebook.com it comes to methods. It's no wonder there wasn't any gossip about her with male celebrities for so many years. It's because she devoted herself to clinging to rich men. We should congratulate her for successfully getting Roland Rockwell, the new head of Rockwell Corporation.

At that point, there were still many people who were unhappy with those accounts. Isabel's fans got angrier and scolded those accounts for being jealous of her.

However, an account that replied to Isabel's fan caused a sensation.

Then, a large number of people mocked and scolded Triss.

Some of Isabel's fans who continued to defend her were also drowned out by the netizens' ridicule.

Isabel felt dizzy after she finished seeing all this.

She imagined being scolded before, but not by the entire Internet. Furthermore, they called her an escort, a fake lady, and even a high-class hooker...

Her anger stuck in her throat. Just as she wanted to make a post to clarify and vent, Marcus, who was sitting in the passenger seat, took a phone call. After the call ended, he anxiously looked at Roland and said, novelebook.com "Young Master Rockwell, Rockwell Corporation's stocks have fallen. "No need. You go to Rockwell Corporation. I'll go back by myself."

The seaside villa was far away, but Rockwell Corporation was located just past the downtown area from the airport.

Roland did not say anything and just held her hand tightly.

Only when the car was almost at the door did he say to her, "Rest well. I'll deal with the matters online."

Isabel was just about to answer him when he wrapped his arms around her body.

He bowed his head, kissed her on the lips, and whispered, "Trust me."

Isabel's stifled mood lightened slightly as she smiled. "Okay."
