

Chapter 265

"Mental Asylum?" Sophia murmured in shock.

As if Victor had finally lost his temper, he grabbed Bryan's collar and growled at him.

"Just because I am quiet doesn't mean you will keep running your mouth and hands. Everything will affect your throne; mark my words."

Bryan raised a brow as though he did not care what he was saying. He grabbed Victor's wrists and yanked them away from his collar.

As if his touch were dust on his shirt, he patted his collar to brush away.

"Victor Laurant, why are you calm? To show the woman next to you that you are a nice guy? And don't give me these hollow threats. Because of the game you are playing, you are just a student, and I am the principal here."

Victor intended to strike Bryan, but his officials stopped him.

"Alpha, it's not our pack. Control yourself. We will take action about it after going back."

Bryan chuckled when he heard Victor's officials.

"Joker and his official team."

His eyes shifted beside Victor and focused on Sophia. She was staring at him. Her gaze was filled with disbelief.

Her eyes conveyed her feelings towards him at the moment, which were pure rage.

"How could you kill his mate and then send the man to be tortured in a mental asylum, Alpha Bryan? How much more do I have to get shocked by learning about your true face?" She asked in a lower tone.

Bryan shook his head and replied, "You haven't known me yet, Sophia Berge. It's all because of you. You started everything, but I will end it. You want to marry a man who appears innocent to you but will reveal his true colors later. I warned you many times, but you ignored me and made fun of me in front of him."

"I am talking about you. You are a heartless man," she muttered with a broken expression.

Bryan took a step back while responding to her.

"I tried not to be heartless just for you, but it looks like I shouldn't have treated you differently. You are just the same as other women. You are going to marry him in four days, right? Now let me see how you will get married. Just two days and you will come back to me."

Sophia's broken look slowly turned fierce as she gave him a stern look.

"Back to you? I will never go back to you. Even if you are on the edge of death, I will never return to you. You don't deserve love. You deserve to get punished for torturing others."

Robert tightened his fists as he roared at her.

"Hold back your tongue before he—"

"Robert, let's go. Let her spend her sympathy time with her so-called fiancé," Bryan interrupted Robert, turning around and heading back to the staircase.

Robert turned around and left the floor. Behind him, Delta Edger and Theta Nobel also left after glancing at Sophia and Victor for the last time.

When the floor turned silent, Sophia turned to Victor.

"Are you okay?"

Victor stared at the way Bryan and his officials had just gone. "Hmm, I am fine."

She glanced at his head, which was still bleeding. "No, you are not. You need to go to the pack hospital."

Victor held her hand and asked,

"I am happy that you chose me over him. I am sorry that I hid that thing from you. I thought you would..." He paused, as if losing his words.

She glanced at his hand and slowly removed it from hers. "You have such a great temper. I am surprised you didn't lose it in front of him."

He noticed how she moved his hand away from hers. He frowned but then replied,

"I did not want him to hurt you. I was afraid he would kill you just like he did to my mate."

Sophia raised her gaze to look at him. She wondered if he really cared for her this much.

Later, Victor went to the pack hospital with his officials and Sophia. His officials kept talking about how Bryan wanted to kill Victor just like his mate.

Sophia felt really bad for Victor.

She was shocked to see how Bryan behaved today. It was like he was not the same person who was very calm and cold. He almost turned into someone else today.

She had so many questions in her head, and she asked Victor about them. In response, Victor replied,

"My father did not want to give me the whole pack and wanted to give half to Mila's husband. I opposed the idea that Mila should not marry Bryan because his pure motive was to get our half pack. Bryan saw I could create a problem in his way, so he planned with my father and caged me in a mental asylum. He made his men torture me for a whole year. His plan was to take over my whole pack. But I got out of there and returned to my pack. After that, my father had no choice but to make me the head Alpha immediately."

Sophia lowered her head after listening to him. The more she learned everything from him, the more she felt sad. It was like he was creating a soft corner in her heart for himself. Because he showed her his vulnerable side.

"I am sorry for whatever happened to you, Victor," she said, looking at him sadly.

Victor's head was bandaged, but he looked fine. So Sophia took a deep breath and said,

"I think I should leave now. It's getting late and I have to go back home."

Victor nodded at her and said he would drop her. She tried to refuse, saying that she could leave by herself and he should rest, but he did not listen to her.

In the car, Sophia felt a little tired and sleepy. Victor noticed it and said,

"Why not sleep for a while? I will wake you up when we get to your house."

She recalled how he kissed her in the club, but that was not the situation when she could talk about it. However, she would have to accept him since she would marry him soon.

"It's okay," she replied, refusing the idea of sleeping in the car.

However, she felt so sleepy that she did not know when she fell asleep.

When she opened her eyes, it was already morning and she was in her bedroom.

She went to her mother and asked about last night. Her mother told her that Victor carried her to the house and then left after settling her into the bed.

Sophia realized that Victor was a gentle guy. Though he was in pain, and Bryan humiliated him a lot, he did not lose his cool and still treated her well.

She spent her whole day with Sara and Nolan. They asked what had happened last night since all of Victor's officials had told the guests to leave the club.

They did not want anyone to see their Alpha's wound, so they did it before leaving the club.

Sophia did not tell her friends about the fight either since it was confidential for Victor.

Sophia returned home in the evening. When she entered her house, everything was silent.

She noticed her mother was not in the living room, so she went to check on her in her bedroom.

However, when she entered her mother's room, Sophia was shocked.

Her mother was on the floor, unconscious. Though she was breathing, her eyes were closed, and she was clutching her chest.

"MOM!"
