

Chapter 284

Sophia was sitting in Angelina's car as she told her that she would drop her off at the pack hospital.

Angelina kept glancing at her from time to time, asking her if she was okay.

"Look, you are very young. Your family never lets you face the outside world, so you have no idea how dangerous people are. But I can tell you one thing: many people in this world enjoy rejecting their mates. But your mate is really different. He still loves you. I just want him to be happy. He has seen many things in his life, but he never gave a damn about anything until he came to stop in front of you. I hope you will understand his love."

Sophia's head was low as she stared at her lap. Tears kept falling, soaking her dress.

When Angelina dropped her off outside the pack hospital, she thanked her and made her way to her mother's cabin.

People around her kept glancing at her because of her broken look.

When she reached her mother's cabin, she noticed the guards outside. They bowed to her; she nodded her head at them and entered the cabin.

As soon as she entered, she saw her brother sitting beside the bed.

She walked to the bed and looked at her mother. She did not look as pale as the night before yesterday. She looked like she was just sleeping, but peacefully.

"She will be fine soon," Abraham said as he stood up from the stool.

He signaled for her to sit there, close to their mother. Sophia sat down on the stool and stared at her mother for a while.

"Mom, please wake up. I am very lonely. I don't know what mistake I made or what happened to me. I need you, Mom. Please wake up soon," she said in her head.

She felt Abraham's hand caressing her head. "You need to calm down. Why does your face look so colorless? You are a new bride. You should look happy."

Sophia looked at her brother. "You know I got married to your Alpha, right?"

His hand paused as he nodded his head. "Yeah."

They turned quiet as both of them turned at their mother.

After some time, Abraham spoke up.

"Mom did not have a heart attack naturally; instead, she became ill due to someone else's actions."

Sophia turned her head to look at her brother once again. She felt upset. She thought Bryan did that so that she would marry him.

Despite everything Mila and Angelina told her about Bryan, she could not ignore the fact that he almost killed her mother.

If he really loved her, he would not have risked her mother's life like that.

"I know that," she replied.

"You know? It's good that you know. Now, at last, your eyes have opened. That man is not a good man but an animal. I wish I had gone to his pack before the wedding announcement; things would have been different."

Sophia frowned and rose from the stool. "Brother, who are you talking about?"

Abraham looked confused. "Why did you ask that? Didn't you just say you knew?"

Sophia grabbed her brother's hand and asked, "Brother, wasn't it Bryan who made mom sick?"

Abraham's eyes widened as he snatched his hand away from her grip. "Have you gone insane? How did you even think that?"

Sophia felt like everything inside was becoming lighter. It was like she had almost lost consciousness. She did not know why she was feeling like this. Maybe the truth was too much for her to handle.

"It was Victor Laurant who was responsible for mom's condition. He tried to kill Mom, and Alpha Bryan protected her. He even switched Mom's doctor to his private physician, who can only treat the head Alpha. It was Alpha Bryan who saved Mom. If not, she would not have survived. Victor was after her life, so Alpha Bryan sent all of his guards here to keep her safe."

Sophia's eyes grew larger. Her lips trembled as she realized that she had been misunderstanding Bryan.

"B-But he called his men in front of me, and..."

"Delta Edger told me about it. He just tried to scare you because there was no way to stop you from marrying Victor."

Sophia blinked her eyes. She had no idea how many truths she was unaware of or how often she would have to feel guilty.

Abraham hugged her and said, "I know I told you that Alpha Bryan is a dangerous man. But I also couldn't believe it when he told me that he would marry you if I could get all of the signatures in time. But he promised me that he would not let you get into a bad hand."

Sophia embraced her brother tightly and cried. She had promised herself a year ago that she would never cry, but now she could not even stop shedding tears.

The whole day,

Sophia was with her mother. Abraham told her that he would have to get back to work.

When Sophia returned to the pack house, she saw no one in the living room. She assumed that most people in this house preferred to stay in their rooms.

She asked a maid if Bryan was back. She did not know how she was going to face Bryan.

"Alpha is in his office. Everyone is with him," the maid replied.

Sophia sensed that something was going on in Alpha's office because everyone was inside.

She made her way to Alpha's office and stood there, slightly opening the door.

She noticed Bryan sitting on a single couch with others standing around him.

Mila's head was down as he stood next to his mother.

It was a very large office room, and the door was located quite a distance away.

Sophia fixed her gaze at them, trying to understand what was happening there.

"Please, Alpha, accept my daughter as your mistress," Alpha Lucas said to Bryan.

Sophia's hands trembled as she opened the door wide. Everyone's attention was drawn to her, except Bryan, who appeared to be aware of her presence.

Sophia was shocked that an alpha like Lucas Laurant was asking Bryan to make his daughter his mistress.

"Why do you want that, Alpha Lucas? Don't you know some people really neglected the mistress's position?" Bryan asked.

Sophia felt his words directed at her.

She felt terrible inside her heart. She did not know the reason. She used to think she had lost all feelings for Bryan, so why was she upset when she heard someone was becoming his mistress?

Was it because she learned all the truth? Or did she still have feelings in her heart for him?

"I understand she can't be your Luna anymore, but even if she becomes your mistress, it will also be a blessing for her. She will be Alpha Bryan's mistress. I can die peacefully after giving her to your hands. I will not have to worry about Victor coming for her. Because he will never dare to hurt your woman. Just like he never dared to hurt your mate."

Sophia's brows lifted as she heard Alpha Lucas.

She lowered her head because she thought Bryan would make Mila his mistress, a position she had neglected before.

She believed he would show her that another woman could love him and be his mistress without any greed to be his wife.

However, she was shocked when Bryan replied to Alpha Lucas.

"I can't make her my mistress. My Luna doesn't like to share me with another woman."

She could not believe how many times she had humiliated him, but he still considered her in his decision.

She felt warmth when she realized that he really loved her, and that was the only reason he wanted her as his mistress. So now that she was his wife, he had no desire for anyone else.

Sophia was about to enter the room to ask why Alpha Lucas was making such a request of Bryan. However, her eyes widened when she saw Alpha Lucas kneel in front of Bryan.

Mila and her mother gasped. Bryan's parents were also taken aback by his action.

"If that's what you want, then I have nothing to oppose."

Sophia could not believe her ears when Alpha Lucas spoke up again.

"But please don't abandon the Moon Valley Pack. The people of that pack have been waiting for you for so long. Because their real lord is not Victor, but you, Alpha Bryan."
