

Maxing MT 441

Chapter 441: Starmoon Army's First Battle Shocks the World!_3

Even Li Yueming was considering if he could turn the tables on the emperor.

With such a good opportunity, shouldn't she give the emperor a good lesson about the future?

Of course, it was still early.

It might be better to try it when the emperor didn't believe it in the future.

Now, apart from his daily cultivation, he was also very busy.

What needed Li Yueming's attention the most was how to develop North Glacier Town quickly.

Of course, after two years of thinking.

Li Yueming had already outlined a rough outline.

Now, he was just short of a suitable time to start executing it.

In the past two years, Northern Ice River Town had been living a good life.

But the entire Northlands was in chaos.

Originally, the 50,000 Qin soldiers from two years ago had not been wiped out in time, but a year later, another 50,000 Qin soldiers had crossed the Hundred Thousand Mountains and arrived in the north.

This time, the pressure on the Northlands suddenly increased.

One had to know that under normal circumstances, the 50,000 Qin soldiers would not be able to pose a threat to the northern cities.

However, it was different for an army of 100,000!

If the 100,000-man army worked together, they might even be able to take down most of the cities in the north in a short time!

After receiving the news, the Great Zhou finally realized the seriousness of the situation.

They began to mobilize the entire country's power to suppress the Qin army in the north.

However, in the past two years, the number of Qin soldiers had doubled again, reaching 150,000!

This was because the logistics department could not keep up.

Otherwise, based on the rate at which the Qin army increased their troops by 50,000 every six months, they would have sent over 200,000 troops in two years!

The entire Northlands had been turned into a battlefield.

These 150,000 Qin soldiers seemed to have already made up their minds not to clash head-on with the Zhou army.

They harassed and robbed the supplies of the Northern Zhou army every day, trampling on the food planted by the Northern people.

This directly caused the people of the entire Northland to have no harvest for several years.

Fortunately, seeing the situation, the people had already reduced the planting of grain in the second and third years and used it as rations.

But even so, by the third year, the group of people was already at the end of their rope.

He could only rely on digging wild vegetables and eating tree bark to satisfy his hunger.

At the same time, more and more disaster victims began to spread to the northwest and northeast of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

In this context.

Li Yueming's expression was very cold.

Of course, this was a good thing for him, as he was also the one controlling the conflict between Great Zhou and Great Qin.

Now, the effects were beginning to show.

However, with his team of only 5,000 people.

When the situation was not chaotic enough, it was not enough to rule the world.

Therefore, he had to wait patiently until the time was ripe before he could take advantage of the situation.

He had no choice.

If he only wanted to obtain an ordinary achievement, he would be able to achieve it.

For example, he wanted to get into the top ten in the exam.

Another example was exercising every day.

Perhaps he could do it with his own hard work.

However, if he wanted to obtain an Epic achievement that would shake the world, he would be able to do so.

Then it had to be at the right time, place, and people.

Nothing less.

Now, Yueming had created the right time and place through man-made means. They just had to wait for the last person.

Why don't you ride the wind and soar ninety thousand miles?

Finally, on the third year.

Famine broke out in the Northlands. The refugees in the Northlands could not hold on any longer and began to flee with their wives and children.

In order to prevent the refugees from going to the northwest and disrupt the raging war in the northwest, the government had to send a large number of refugees to the northwest.

The Imperial Court could only pinch their nose and begin to distribute food to the disaster relief.

However, the famine in the Northlands was too severe. Millions of households had not been able to harvest anything for several years.

This big hole was not so easy to fill.

Even though the Great Zhou was considered rich, they had shed a lot of blood for this.

But the problem was that mobilizing food from other places to help the Northlands was only a temporary solution!

As long as the Qin army in the north was not eliminated, the people would not be able to grow food.

The Great Zhou would have to continue to give blood to the Northern Lands.

There were millions of mouths waiting to be fed.

The amount of silver and grain spent on disaster relief every day was astronomical.

The entire Great Zhou was in a bad state.

Left with no choice, the emperor was already prepared to order the Dragon Tiger Army to head to the north to suppress the Qin army.

The Dragon Tiger Army had a total of 300,000 people. They were the most elite troops of the Great Zhou.

For the past tens of thousands of years, it had been used by the emperors of the Great Zhou Dynasty to protect the capital.

It was also the reason why the Zhou Dynasty had been able to stand for so many years.

Now that the emperor was forced to use the Dragon Tiger Army,

But at this moment.

An army that seemed to have descended from the heavens appeared in the north.

They were dressed neatly and had high morale. Their formation was as precise as the precise parts of a siege weapon. They rode tall horses and waved hundred-tempered steel knives. Every soldier had strong physical strength and spiritual power.

Wherever the blade pointed, even the elite troops of the Qin army, who had always been arrogant and despotic in the north, would be killed. In just a few days, they had defeated 12 smaller Qin armies.

For a moment, he was in the limelight.

After the news spread, the whole of Zhou was in an uproar.

It had to be known that the war that had erupted in the Northern Lands had replaced the western border. It had become the place that the people of the Great Zhou, the people of the Beyond Heaven, and the great clans paid the most attention to.

Who knew how many pairs of eyes were paying attention at all times!

At this moment, a mysterious force that had never been heard of before suddenly appeared and actually defeated the Qin army in a head-on battle!

The attention it attracted was obvious.

At this moment, deep within the royal palace of Haojing, the emperor received a secret letter from the north.

He looked at the information on it.

The expression on the emperor's face started to waver!

Chapter 442: The World Was Shocked by His Victory!_1

When they heard the news, the entire Great Zhou Dynasty was in an uproar.

It had to be said that in the past few years, the Great Zhou Empire had been quite passive against Great Qin's wanton attacks.

They could only adopt the strategy of not moving at all, hiding in the city and occupying a certain geographical advantage to be able to contend with the Qin army.

But now, an army that could fight head-on with the Qin army had suddenly appeared in the north.

It was no wonder that everyone was so shocked.

At the same time, Li Yueming, who had been depressed for a long time, finally appeared in front of everyone again.

"Have you heard? The commander of that mysterious army seems to be the son of the Marquis of South Peak, Li Yueming!"

"F * ck, is that true? If I remember correctly, the son of the Marquis of Southern Mountains was only promoted to general last time, right? At that time, he was even called the youngest general in a hundred years..."

"I heard that it seems to be true. There has been no news of the son of the Marquis of Southern Mountains for several years. I heard that he was carrying out a secret mission."

"Oh my god, Li Yueming is not even twenty years old yet, right? Did His Majesty really trust him with the heavy responsibility of building a new army?"

"I don't know if Your Majesty is at ease, but in any case, this army has already been established. This is very likely the first ten feet of the new army that will be fought in public after it is established!"

"The Li family in the western border has really struck it rich. If this continues, it might even be possible for them to take back the real power of the Duke's estate!"

After the news spread, all the well-informed people in the Great Zhou scrambled to discuss and spread the news.

After all, this was the freshest first-hand news.

It was related to the national economy and the safety of hundreds of millions of people.

Therefore, it was not surprising that so many people cared about him.

Moreover, this news was not only spread among the upper circles, but even the peddlers on the streets had heard some rumors.

Great Zhou, Wenzhou City.

Outside the Cultivator Academy.

The two sisters, Li Ruxing and Li Ruyue, were drinking in a private room of a restaurant at the entrance of the academy. They were listening to the storyteller in the hall downstairs talking about the mysterious army in the north.

After all, this was the nearest air outlet.

Mr. Storyteller...If he wanted to earn more money, he naturally had to talk about topics that everyone was interested in.

The Northlands, where hundreds of millions of people gathered, was obviously an excellent choice.

Under the storyteller's polishing.

The mysterious Northland troops were described as heavenly soldiers descending from the heavens.

The leader of this army was even praised as the reincarnation of the martial star in the sky.

He was born to sweep the world.

Relying on the storyteller's outstanding drama skills, he had attracted many customers to cheer for him.

When he heard that the mysterious troop rode on black horses and attacked the Qin army's camp at night, razing the camp to the ground in one fell swoop and killing countless Qin soldiers, he was shocked.

Li Ru Xing, who was the second brother, immediately stood up excitedly. He couldn't help but stand up and applaud, "Good, well said. This job is not bad."

With that, Li Ruxing threw out several thousand taels of silver without even blinking.

The silver not only stunned the storyteller downstairs, but also the customers who were listening to the story.

When she finally came back to her senses, she looked at the silver on the ground.

The group of people's eyes instantly turned red.

They couldn't help but rush forward and start a fierce fight.

Mr. Storyteller was indeed a professional player. He actually squeezed through the crowd and fished out hundreds of silver cars.

This skill of picking up money was not for show!

Knowing that there was a big client upstairs, the storyteller straightened his sleeves and spoke even harder.

In the private room of the restaurant upstairs, Li Ruxing was throwing out a lot of money.

Li Ruyue rolled her eyes and said, "Second Sister, who let you spend so much money?"

At this moment, even Li Yueming was almost eighteen years old.

As the older sisters, the two girls had naturally grown up a lot and had already entered the teenage years.

Whether it was Li Ruxing or Li Ruyue.

They were born with bright eyes and were extremely beautiful.

His sister, Li Ruyue, looked more dignified and gentle, and her every move showed the demeanor of a great family.

His younger sister, Li Ruxing, was the complete opposite. She was cute and had a cheerful personality. She always liked to study some strange hobbies.

In the early years, the great clans and top-notch forces that wanted to marry the Li family had already broken through the threshold of marriage.

However, the two girls were still cultivating in the Cultivator Academy.

Marquis Southpeak was not at home all year round, so he was still unmarried.

Li Ruxing was quite honest in front of her sister.

There was nothing she could do. In the entire Li family compound, she was neither afraid of her father nor her mother. She even dared to secretly pull open her brother's pants to observe the growth of earthworms. He had the image of a demon king.

He could only behave himself in front of this big sister.

Li Ruxing was a little unconvinced at being reprimanded at this moment, but she did not dare to refute. She could only pout and say, "This storyteller described our little brother as the reincarnation of the star of martial arts in the sky. This blade killed a Qin army, how impressive. I heard from a prince in the Northern Liang that this good job should be rewarded!!"

Li Ruyue naturally liked to hear it too. She was proud of the storyteller praising her underground!

Otherwise, Li Ruxing would have thrown out a thousand taels of silver.

At this moment, she did not just roll her eyes..

Chapter 443: The World Was Shocked by His Victory!_2

Despite this, Li Ruyue still scolded her sister, "You, you... Although our family business is big, this will be my family business in the future. Dad and Grandpa have worked hard to earn it back. You have to be careful as a prodigal. You can't squander all of my family's property!"

Li Ruxing turned her head and rolled her eyes silently, but she did not talk back.

After all, the eldest sister had always been biased towards the younger brother since she was young, so she was used to it.

Moreover, as an elder sister, it was not wrong for her to help her younger brother look after the family's assets.

But wasn't she happy?

Her eldest sister was like a bitter gourd all day long. When the time came, no one would be willing to marry her.

She was still better. In the future, she could just stay at home and let her little brother support her.

Of course, Li Ruxing did not dare to say these words out loud.

Otherwise, Big Sister would definitely skin her alive.

At this moment, the storyteller began to tell the story of the mysterious army in the North with all his might.

The two sisters immediately quieted down.

have worked hard to earn it back. You have to be careful as a prodigal. You can't squander all of my family's property!"

Li Ruxing turned her head and rolled her eyes silently, but she did not talk back.

After all, the eldest sister had always been biased towards the younger brother since she was young, so she was used to it.

Moreover, as an elder sister, it was not wrong for her to help her younger brother look after the family's assets.

But wasn't she happy?

Her eldest sister was like a bitter gourd all day long. When the time came, no one would be willing to marry her.

She was still better. In the future, she could just stay at home and let her little brother support her.

Of course, Li Ruxing did not dare to say these words out loud.

Otherwise, Big Sister would definitely skin her alive.

At this moment, the storyteller began to tell the story of the mysterious army in the North with all his might.

The two sisters immediately quieted down.

After listening for a while.

As the sister, Li Ruhui and Shen Lai were the first to speak, "This little brother has really grown up this time. He actually quietly created a force that is enough to resist the Qin army!"

Li Ruxing didn't feel much, but she still nodded and said, "If you ask me, there's no need for the other troops of the Great Zhou Dynasty to exist. As long as my younger brother becomes the Great General of the Great Zhou Dynasty, he would have long unified the world and swept across the world.!"

"Where my brother's sword points, no one in the world dares to disobey!" Hearing Li Ruxing act like an old man at such a young age, he felt a little awkward.

He didn't even forget to pretend to give some pointers.

It was as if she was the emperor of the Zhou Dynasty.

Li Ruyue rolled her eyes again and said unhappily, ""Although this little brother is capable, he's still young and hasn't even given birth to any offspring for our Li family! Family, family, family was the most important. Why was he in a hurry to go to the battlefield and make contributions?" At this point, Li Ru thought of something bad.

He couldn't help but reveal a worried expression.

As the eldest daughter of the family, she obviously knew more than the second daughter, Li Ruxing. She also had a deeper understanding of the human heart. At this moment, she sighed worriedly."However, the higher-ups are not 100% at ease with our Li family. Now that my younger brother has also made a name for himself, I have to write two letters to my father!"

Li Ruxing grabbed a piece of pork trotter from the plate and stuffed it into her mouth. She mumbled, "Don't you know better than a dabbler like you?"

Seeing that his second sister hadn't beaten him for three days, he once again went to the house to tear off the tiles.

Li Ruyue suddenly felt an inexplicable anger and couldn't help but raise her fist.

.0.

Fifteen days later.

In the distant western frontier.

Li Nanfeng, the Marquis of Nanyue, who was still in a stalemate with the nearly one million Qin soldiers outside the pass, received a secret letter from his eldest daughter, Li Ruyue.

Although it was a secret letter, there was actually only one. The one outside was just an ordinary letter to deceive people. Li Nanfeng quietly put the secret letter into his pocket and then opened the ordinary letter in front of everyone.

After reading the contents of Feng Pu's letter, even though he was still in the tent of the military camp and a large group of generals were still waiting for him for a meeting, Li Nanfeng still couldn't help but laugh out loud.

He didn't know if it was an illusion, but he actually looked a little silly and happy.

The generals who had been waiting for a long time looked at each other.

Marquis Southpeak was famous for his stern attitude on the battlefield.

But now, because of a letter, his character was destroyed in front of everyone. It was even more unbelievable than the sun rising from the west.

Some generals saw that he was smiling happily and did not seem to be faking it.

Only then did he stand up and ask cautiously,""General, what good news has happened? Can you share it with everyone?"

The western frontier was almost a hundred thousand miles away from the Central Plains.

It wasn't easy to send a message.

Even a secret letter from the nearest town would take seven or eight days to arrive.

Similar to the letters from Haojing, even if they were urgent, they would still take ten days to half a month.

It was common for some of the slower roads to take a few months.

Therefore, the generals in the western frontier were basically out of touch with the outside world.

Now that he finally had the chance to gossip, he was naturally curious about the contents of the envelope in Li Nanfeng's hand.

Li Nanfeng did not hide anything.

He tore off a map in the meeting room, spat on it, and pasted the secret letter on it.

It was as grand as the release of the results during the cultivators' major examination in the past. Those who did not know better would think that he had been promoted and raised to a third-grade general.

At this moment, everyone was not in a hurry to hold a meeting.

After all, the battle between the Western Garrison Army and the Qin Army at Hangu Pass had not just been a day or two.

The meeting could be held at any time.

However, watching the show and enjoying the melons was a rare entertainment activity in this bitter and cold place where news was blocked.

Therefore, after Li Nanfeng pasted the letter on the paper.

The group of West Garrison Army commanders swarmed up.

He began to read the contents of the envelope.

Seeing that the group of people were in high spirits, Li Nanfeng couldn't help but cough twice and say, "Everyone, don't be too excited," "This is my family's eldest daughter," "This is my family's letter," "It's not a big deal," "Just simply mention that my son seems to have created a mysterious army in the Northern Army.. This army defeated more than ten elite Qin troops in one fell swoop on the battlefield some time ago!"

Chapter 444: The World Was Shocked by His Victory!_3

Hearing Li Nanfeng's words.

Then, he looked at the letter from Li Xingyue.

The group of generals could not help but widen their eyes.

Good fellow...

If he remembered correctly, the son of the Marquis of Southpeak had already become a general a few years ago, right?

He seemed to be less than fifteen or sixteen years old at that time.

They had originally thought that Marquis Southpeak had helped his son through the back door.

After knowing that the higher-ups' commendation statement and Li Yueming's many achievements had been exposed, they found out that Li Yueming did not rely on the second generation of the family.

He was a genius youth!

It wasn't easy for him to keep a low profile for a period of time, but how long had it been?

The son of the Marquis of Southern Mountains had actually created an elite army?

This was simply beyond their imagination and understanding.

One had to know that as the enemy of the Qin army.

Probably no one in the world understood the combat power of the Qin army better than the Western Garrison Army.

The Western Garrison Army was already well-experienced.

However, when faced with the Qin army that was like a wolf or a tiger, they were no different from mad dogs.

However, he still felt powerless.

Otherwise, he wouldn't have held the city for so many years without retaliating.

He was really afraid of the valiant and good at fighting of the Qin army's disciples!

That's why.

When they saw the new army that Li Yueming had created, they were able to defeat the Qin army head-on.

The group of generals gasped, and their voices were particularly ear-piercing.

After a long while, the generals finally came back to their senses.

Looking at the contents of the envelope, he was in disbelief.

"F * ck, is that true?"

"How can it be fake? Lord Marquis wouldn't lie to us!"

"Lord Marquis is too powerful. As expected, a tiger father like a dog son!"

"This is a good relationship. Lord Marquis will be fighting the Qin army in the western border, while the young Lord Marquis will be fighting the Qin army in the north. A pair of tiger generals will beat the Qin army until they are scared witless. At that time, the people in the north will be saved!"

"Little Marquis is not even twenty years old yet and already has such achievements. In time, won't the student surpass the master and surpass the master?"

After a brief daze, the group of generals began to praise him.

One had to know that this was a direct defeat of the Qin army!

Although the higher-ups might lie about their achievements in order to boost morale.

However, it was enough to make the Western Garrison Army members gasp in amazement.

When Li Nanfeng heard this, he felt as if he was floating on air.

There was nothing he could do about it. He could remain calm about everything else.

However, he could not calm down when it came to his youngest son.

A young child born in his later years was simply too rare!

Fortunately, he didn't give up when he was drawing lots. Now, didn't it prove that his judgment was right?

At this moment, he was beaming with joy among the group of soldiers, and they could not help but curse in their hearts.

The generals present all had families and children.

In the past, he might not have thought much of it.

However, as the saying went, people would die if they compared people, and goods would be thrown away if they compared goods.

After seeing Li Yueming's achievements, he felt that he had a lot of potential.

When he thought of his own children who only knew how to rely on their elders, he could not help but feel envious.

She even had the thought of asking Li Nanfeng for advice on how to educate her.

Of course, most of the generals chose to remain silent.

As one of the few smart people in the camp with a political mind, this group of generals clearly saw something deeper in this matter.

Li Nanfeng still had a smile on his face.

However, only he knew what he was actually thinking.

.0.

The weather in the northern regions of the Great Zhou this year was exceptionally cold.

It had just been the beginning of autumn.

The heavens had covered the endless Gobi Desert with a thick blanket made of white snow.

In just a few days, the entire ground had been decorated into a silver-clad appearance.

However, in this pure white world, the sound of hooves suddenly rang out.

The sound of horse hooves was very hurried, and it came closer and closer with the galloping north wind.

Soon, thousands of densely packed black dots appeared in the snow at the end of his line of sight.

Soldiers clad in armor and riding on warhorses trampled over the snow.

All that was left behind was a clear and pitch-black hoof print.

The soldiers of the Star Moon Cavalry Battalion rode their horses and whipped their horses with murderous intent. Their armors were stained with brownish-red blood.

From afar, the figures on horseback looked like dancing red torches.

In the white snow, it was particularly dazzling.

It had just entered autumn, but the weather in Northern Glacier Town was already exceptionally cold.

Fortunately, the cavalry unit was wearing thick jackets, and the food they ate was plentiful. Moreover, both the spiritual horses and the soldiers had enough exercise.

Therefore, even though they were speeding forward, they were still able to move.

His body was still steaming hot.

The thousands of riders had just returned to Northern Glacier Town when all the residents of the town who had yet to leave their homes gathered.

They had also heard about the mysterious army of the Northlands.

However, due to the lack of information, they could only learn the truth from the outside world.

At that time, the citizens of Northern Glacier Town had already sensed that the legendary mysterious army was the Star Moon Army stationed in their town.

However, even if they had some guesses at that time, they did not have any evidence. No one dared to be sure!

Li Yueming and the others were riding tall horses with reddish-brown blood stains on their waists..

Chapter 445: The World Was Shocked by His Victory!_4

Only then did the group of residents confirm that it was the newly established Star Moon Army that had been active in the Northlands during this period of time.

To be honest, the residents of Northern Glacier Town were already numb.

What was this?

The Northern Glacier Town they were in was neither a transportation hub nor a battleground for military strategists.

In fact, the population did not even exceed 15,000.

Logically speaking, it was impossible for such a powerful army to be stationed here.

But now, regardless of whether they believed it or not, the truth was right in front of them-the Star Moon Army was the mysterious force that defeated the Qin army, and they had actually hidden themselves in this godforsaken place for several years.

He even helped many residents build their farmhouses...

Was there anything more wonderful than this in this world?

Of course, this was a great thing for them.

After all, they could have an army to protect them. At least, they did not have to worry about being wiped out by the Qin army's small troops.

He finally came back to his senses.

After a moment of silence, the group of residents could not help but cheer.

After all, even though they did not like the Great Zhou, they were still in the Great Zhou Empire.

However, Great Qin seemed even more unlikeable.

After all, although the Great Zhou collected grain and taxes, they would still give them a way out.

However, the Qin army was really going to kill them again.

Not only did they burn, kill, pillage, but they also trampled on the food that the people had just sown.

It directly caused millions of people in the North to have no harvest for several years.

Why had the number of hunters and herb gatherers in Northern Glacier Town increased so drastically in the past two years?

It was because a large number of farmers had been harassed by the Qin army and could no longer continue farming.

Although the Great Zhou had braced themselves and distributed some relief food.

However, that bit of food could only ensure that a portion of the people would not starve to death.

How could it be enough for the human body?

Therefore, most of the newly joined hunters and herbalists carried the hopes of their families. They wanted to go to the Hundred Thousand Mountains to try their luck in this year of great desolation.

The famine in the north had left the victims unable to even afford food.

However, the price of these spirit herbs and spirit beasts had soared all the way. Even if they only harvested a little, it would be enough to cover their expenses.

If he could gain something.

Wouldn't there be food at home?

Therefore, he had no choice.

At this moment, many residents of Northern Ice River Town hated the Qin army to the point of gnashing their teeth. If they had the chance, they would even want to skin and pull out the tendons of this damn Qin army who was always taking advantage of others.

Now, Li Yueming had actually intercepted more than a dozen small Qin troops in just a few days, and obtained several victories through tactical interludes and sneak attacks.

However, it was a great revenge for the Northern Battlefront Army and the millions of residents in the north.

Naturally, it was warmly welcomed by many people.

After approaching Northern Glacier Town.

There were even commoners who took the initiative to take out woven garlands and some coarse grain to hand over to the travel-worn soldiers. They even kindly signaled for them to eat and drink as much as they wanted.

Some hunters who had been harassed and attacked by the Qin army shouted loudly.

“Star and Moon Army, Triumph!” “ Star Moon Army, triumph!!” “ Triumph! Triumph! Triumph!”

It was also under such circumstances.

For the first time, the soldiers of the Star Moon Cavalry Battalion tasted a strange taste! !!

In the past, the glory of the soldiers was the salary and tokens issued by the imperial court.

But now, the admiration and admiration of the people under their feet seemed to be a symbol of glory.

The glory symbolized by the salary and the token was crude and perfunctory.

It was so heavy that it made people feel envious.

But in the end, he only gained vanity.

The people’s admiring and admiring eyes could not be seen or touched. It sounded even more illusory, but it made them straighten their chests and look proud.

There is a saying in the book of the sage: establish the heart for heaven and earth, establish the life for the people, inherit the great learning for the past saints, and open up peace for all generations.

Although they were not that enlightened and could not do all the things that the saints said.

But at least at this moment, he could live up to his conscience.

After all, if he had a choice.

Who wouldn’t want to be a good soldier with a clear conscience?

Being able to be welcomed and praised by the people was ten thousand times better than being looked down upon by the cowardly soldiers in Zhenbei City.

At this moment.

The soldiers looked at Li Yueming with even more respect.

After all, they had not forgotten that it was Li Yueming who rescued them from the scout camp. They could have everything they had today because of this magical man.

Chapter 446: Super political skills, two sources!_1

Year 7285 of the Great Zhou Royal Calendar.

It had been two years since Li Yueming sent the Star Moon Cavalry Battalion to fight the Qin army.

It was also this year that Li Yueming finally turned eighteen.

He had become a true adult.

In the past two years, the Starmoon Troop had developed at an impressive speed.

The biggest reason was that there were simply too many Northlanders whose families had been destroyed by the Qin army.

Currently, the residents living in the villages and towns were all gathering in the big towns in the north.

There was no other way. The villages and towns did not have the protection of the army.

A large number of people could only go to the big towns with city guards and city walls.

This was the only way the Qin army would not dare to trample on their lives.

However, there were only so many large cities in the north that had garrisons.

In the beginning, they might be willing to let some refugees enter the city.

However, as the number of residents who entered the city increased, the housing and other facilities in the already slightly bloated city were not enough.

The imperial court could only urgently cut off the channels for the residents of other towns to enter the city.

The refugees from the north who had nowhere to go did not dare to go to the western frontier. After all, the imperial court had set up checkpoints in several key towns to enter the western frontier when they were distributing relief food. The refugees who did not have a travel pass and local household registration were all prohibited from fleeing to the western frontier.

Furthermore, the western border was still at war and was not rich either.

Therefore, the refugees had no choice but to flee south or east.

The northeast was under the jurisdiction of Prince Yu. Although it was also poor and backward compared to the rich Central Plains, at least it had not been affected by the flames of war at this moment...

Of course, there were even more refugees who had been without food for a long time and had brought their wives and mothers with them. They felt that they could no longer move east and had nowhere to run, so they chose to come to Northern Ice River Town to seek refuge.

After all, Northern Ice River Town was the most famous Star and Moon Arts encampment in recent years.

If there was still a troop in the north that could defeat the Qin army on the battlefield with their powerful combat strength.

In the entire Northlands, the Starmoon Corps was the only force that could do so.

As long as they could enter Northern Glacier Town, they might be able to settle down.

At least he wouldn't have to be woken up by the ferocious Qin army in the middle of the night.

Of course, Li Yueming was in favor of this.

After all, what Northern Ice River Town lacked the most was manpower.

Only with more people would there be a snowball effect, allowing Northern Glacier Town to develop faster and faster.

Soon, the news of Northern Glacier Town accepting refugees spread.

The refugees within a few hundred kilometers of North Glacier Town gathered here after hearing the news.

In just two short years, the number of new residents in Northern Glacier Town had already exceeded 50,000.

Most of them were strong laborers in their twenties or thirties.

After all, no matter which dynasty or which world, the first to die in a year of disaster would always be the old, weak, sick, and disabled.

Only those who were in their prime could survive.

However, it was a big problem to properly settle these refugees.

In a short period of time, the population without houses and jobs caused the entire Northern Glacier Town to become chaotic again.

Fortunately, the imperial court had allocated a lot of food to Li Yueming in the past two years.

In addition, You Aotian would often think of ways to raise a batch for him.

Therefore, Northern Ice River Town could still hold on for the time being.

The Zhou Dynasty was located inland and was considered a poor country in terms of various rare mineral resources.

However, in terms of agriculture, the Great Zhou was in a rather good position.

The Western Garrison Fortress was a natural barrier that had helped the Great Zhou fend off the ferocious army of Great Qin in the northwest.

The Hundred Thousand Mountains in the north helped the Great Zhou block the covetous eyes of several other countries.

In the northeast, Da Qi, which bordered it, was a coastal country.

The Qi Kingdom's energy was basically used to expand the sea.

They had no interest in launching a meaningless war of aggression on land.

Such a geographical location was undoubtedly very comfortable for an agricultural country.

However, years of peace had caused many people in the Great Zhou to lose their sensitivity to war.

The Western Garrison Army at the western border was fighting to the death with the Qin army.

However, the people and the imperial court had never been greatly affected by this.

In fact, in the eyes of most people, the terror of the Qin army only existed in legends.

After all, even a group of poor and destitute scoundrels in the western frontier could block it.

How powerful could the so-called Qin army be?

Until five or six years ago, the Qin army bypassed the western border and opened up a path from the hundred thousand mountains in the north to the northern part of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

Only then did the people of Great Zhou deeply feel the terror of the Qin army.

Unmoving like a mountain, moving like lightning.

They were like hundreds of thousands of hungry wolves.

In the past few years, the Great Zhou Imperial Court had sent nearly 500,000 troops to the Northern Lands.

However, the 150,000 Qin soldiers still regarded them as nothing.

They galloped unbridled in the north as if they had entered a no-man's land.

Therefore, the Great Zhou Imperial Court, which felt a great threat, had placed their attention on Li Yueming.

After all, at this moment in the entire Great Zhou.

It seemed that only Li Yueming's Star Moon Army, which was born from the scout camp, had a better performance.

In order to obtain Li Yueming's training methods and methods, he had to be careful.

Whether it was the imperial court or the emperor, they would grant Li Yueming's every request.

If it wasn't for Li Yueming's special status and lack of experience.

Perhaps the higher-ups would really give Li Yueming the position of a Rank

One General..

Chapter 447: Super political skills, two sources! 2

In the past two years, Li Yueming had painted a cake for the emperor several times.

At the beginning, the effect of the flattery was pretty good. The emperor waited for his good news excitedly.

However, after some time, the emperor seemed to have reacted.

After all, he couldn't do it again and again.

This year, Li Yueming didn't dare to continue to paint a picture.

In order to appease the emperor and the imperial court.

Li Yueming could only take out some real things.

Starting from this year, he had already drafted several memorials.

They were all things that needed to be taken note of when creating a new army.

In addition, in order not to cause any gossip, he also handed over a portion of the new army's training methods.

Of course, Li Yueming was not that stupid.

What was revealed to the emperor and the imperial court was only superficial.

He had left behind the core technique.

After all, it was not uncommon for a disciple to starve to death. Li Yueming naturally would not make such a low-level mistake.

The reason why he had to be patient and choose to make a big fuss about the form.

In fact, it was only because Li Yueming's wings were not strong enough. If his personal strength was strong enough, he would have changed his course and established his own sect.

Through various exchanges of interests.

Li Yueming was still able to maintain the normal operation of North Glacier Town for the time being.

However, this was clearly not a long-term solution.

The refugees did not have houses or a place to live.

They could only live in temporary houses and simple shacks for rest.

The timing was fine.

If it took a little longer, the streets of Northern Glacier Town that had been cleaned up with great difficulty would probably become smelly again.

In addition, the refugees did not have houses and food.

The crime rate in the town would probably soar.

If that happened, the disaster victims would become rioters and lose control completely.

Therefore, Li Yueming had to find a way to make them settle down quickly.

Fortunately, Li Yueming had accumulated enough experience in this aspect in the previous martial arts world.

This time, he was doing things simply and efficiently.

It could even be said that he was so calm that it made people panic.

First, Li Yueming used a group of exiled officials from Northern Ice River Town..

They were led by Xue Zhiqian, the assistant minister of the Ministry of Revenue, who had been exiled to this bitter and cold land to be punished because he had chosen the wrong side during the handover between the previous and current emperors. He was also his son, who had first responded to Li Yueming's original letter.

There was no other way. There were too few talents in Northern Ice River Town.

Even the number of scholars who could read and write was very limited.

The twelve reincarnators in the cavalry battalion now belonged to the military and political system.

Li Yueming didn't want to involve them in the administrative system.

From the looks of it, only this group of exiled sinners and their descendants were still of value.

No matter what, Xue Zhiqian and the others had been outstanding people in politics in the past, and many of them were even high-ranking scholars who ranked among the best in the literary exam.

Even though he had been relegated and ended up in a miserable state.

However, his ability had not been wasted.

Of course, Li Yueming would not give them any official positions in name.

After all, these were the criminals exiled by the emperor. Before they completely fell out with the emperor, Li Yueming couldn't possibly take over their duties and wash their sins.

However, not giving them official positions could also let them be responsible for some specific matters.

Don't ask. If you ask, it's a temporary job.

After seeing Li Yueming.

A group of officials, whose edges had been worn away by the cold north wind and the surging waters of the Northern Ice River, cried bitterly.

Ever since Li Yueming came to North Glacier Town, they had been looking forward to the moon and the stars, hoping that Li Yueming would notice them.

After all, Northern Glacier Town was a remote place. If Li Yueming wanted to develop here, they would definitely not be able to avoid them.

If he was lucky, he might be able to escape from the hard life of farming.

Therefore, when they heard that Li Yueming was going to give them some tasks, they were shocked.

This group of people was just short of showing Li Yueming their sincerity.

Li Yueming Ming was not surprised by this. After all, they had been waiting for him, and he had been observing them.

After issuing the order, Li Yueming looked down at the group of officials kneeling at his feet and said, "'I don't care how glorious you were in the past, nor do I care how miserable you were in the past. I only care if you can be of use to me, and how much value you can bring to me!"

"If I find out that you have any second thoughts or that you made any mistakes, you can stop planting potatoes here and go swimming in the Northern Ice River!"

After saying that, Li Yueming waved his sleeves and let them leave.

Huang Li 'er, who was the bodyguard beside him, was speechless when she saw this.

To be honest, over the years, she had felt that Li Yueming was different.

This man was like a deep mountain in the fog.

Even though they knew that they were right in front of them, they could only see a blur because of the thick fog.

Every time there was a gust of wind, it would blow away the thick mountains hidden in the fog.

Just the tip of the iceberg was enough to make people gasp in amazement...

After using the talents.

Li Yueming immediately ordered the people to investigate all the refugees in Northern Glacier Town.

They counted the number of old, weak, sick, and young adults.

After registering them in a simple manner, they began to distribute the work.

It was early spring.

Li Yueming gathered ten thousand strong laborers..

Chapter 448: Super political skills, two sources!_3

5,000 of them began to grow grain in the wasteland not far from North Glacier Town.

That piece of barren land was different from the fertile land in the lower reaches of the Northern Ice River. The growth rate of food was not as high.

The remaining 5,000 would be secretly transported to the fertile soil downstream of North Glacier Town for planting.

The reason why they were mixed was that Li Yueming didn't want the specific amount of grain produced in North Glacier Town to be exposed to everyone.

The amount of grain planted in the wasteland near North Glacier Town was obvious.

It was about 600 to 700 pounds.

It was slightly higher than the ordinary land yield of the Northlanders, but it was not too high.

At that time, he only needed to block the fertile land downstream of the Northern Ice River and not let anyone approach it. After the harvest was completed, he would announce the grain production.

At least in the short term, there shouldn't be any problem of being exposed.

Among the remaining 40,000 refugees, 10,000 were old, weak, sick, and disabled.

In other words, there was still 30,000 left.

Li Yueming once again dispatched 20,000 young adults to the Northern Ice River to harvest.

The ancients were most particular about relying on the mountain to eat the mountain and the sea to eat the sea.

Don't underestimate this river. Because it was close to the Shiwan Mountains, the fishing resources in it were extremely rich. Every September, a large number of salmon would swim back.

When there were the most salamanders, there was no water in the entire river.

The surface of the river was filled with fish.

As long as the fishing industry was mature enough, it would not be a problem for this river to feed 300,000 people.

The reason why they sent out 20,000 strong laborers to harvest was because they were not afraid of being caught.

Naturally, it was because the amount of food in Northern Ice River Town could no longer support it.

Farming and transporting grain required time.

However, he didn't need to fish. He just needed to weave some hemp rope into a net.

The caught fish were directly thrown into a ceramic pot and boiled into fish soup.

The refugees who had jobs lined up to drink first.

It could solve an urgent problem.

Finally, there were 10,000 people who were selected by Li Yueming.

It was directly expanded to become the 1st Battalion of the 1st Infantry Division of the Starmoon Troop.

The first mission he received was to follow the cavalry unit and repair houses for the people who had no place to live.

As for the remaining 10,000 old, weak, sick, and disabled people, they were responsible for doing some chores.

For example, the hemp rope used to weave fishing nets.

For example, cooking for the strong laborers...

A year and a half ago, Li Yueming announced that he would accept refugees to take refuge in Northern Glacier Town.

The population of the entire Northern Ice River rose in a straight line.

Originally, everyone in Northern Ice River Town, including the Starmoon Troop, thought that there would be a huge commotion.

However, they did not expect Li Yueming to have more political experience than they had imagined.

No matter how many people came at the same time, he could digest them in the shortest time possible and immediately put them into production.

This made many people dumbfounded.

Was General Li really a full-time expert?

Was there anything in this world that he didn't know?

Of course, no matter what happens,

It was beneficial for them to have more people in North Glacier Town.

After all, the Star Moon Army was currently stationed here. The bigger North Glacier Town was, the more successful the Star Moon Army would be!

For a time, the entire Northern Ice River Town was bustling with activity.

There were shouts everywhere, completely different from the cold and quiet in the past.

This was the power of population.

No matter which world it was, people who were as lowly as ants were often the most inconspicuous.

But in the end, no matter how powerful those experts were, they would still be able to fight back.

However, he still could not ignore their existence.

Li Yueming was taking in refugees in North Glacier Town, while the Qin army was taking advantage of the situation in other places in the north.

Occasionally, there would be conflicts between the two sides.

However, most of the time, there was a subtle tacit understanding.

The leader of the 150,000 Qin soldiers was the Great General of the Qin army, Meng Tian.

There were two princes with the army, the First Prince and the Ninth Prince.

The Ninth Prince had been in charge of the invasion of the Northern Lands from beginning to end.

But now, the First Prince had suddenly appeared and taken away a portion of the Ninth Prince's power.

It was obvious that the Ninth Prince had been affected by this.

However, this was normal.

After all, Li Yueming had interfered with the Ninth Prince's mission in the Extreme Cold Snow Mountain.

As a result, the Qin army's original plan of a full-scale invasion failed, and they could only send a small group of troops to harass them. Under such circumstances, it was normal for the First Prince to seize a portion of power.

Of course, this was not important to Li Yueming.

Li Yueming would occasionally lead the Star Moon Troop out to fight the Qin army.

However, most of the time, they could only intercept a small number of units. After flashing the Star Moon Army's flag, they casually attacked and then let the Qin army ride away.

This was what Li Yueming and the Ninth Prince had agreed upon on the extremely cold snow mountain.

Li Yueming would think of a way to help the Ninth Prince seize the throne of the State of Qin, and the Ninth Prince would also need to cooperate with Li Yueming.

The Ninth Prince was already at a disadvantage in the battle for the crown prince.

Therefore, even though he didn't have much hope for Li Yueming's explanation, he didn't reject it directly.

After all, what if?

He had coveted that supreme throne for a long time.

As long as he could climb up to that position, it was worth it no matter how many sacrifices he had to make.

Therefore, after following the army into the north, the Ninth Prince contacted Li Yueming using the secret code.

The purpose was to make Li Yueming attack his half-brother, the First Prince, so as to weaken the First Prince's influence in the army.

The 150,000 Qin troops that invaded the Great Zhou were divided into two factions.

As a general, Meng Tian did not participate in the battle for the crown prince.

Standing in the middle and not helping anyone, he was like a referee.

The Ninth Prince's faction was the Left Forward Strike Battalion, while the First Prince's faction was the Right Forward Strike Battalion.

Currently, the Ninth Prince's faction was weak in the army.

After all, the First Prince was older and had more prestige in the army. Seventy percent of the 150,000 troops were supporters of the First Prince.

The number of supporters of the Ninth Prince was less than 30%, including some who were wavering.

If they followed the normal procedure, the Ninth Prince would definitely lose this battle.

The Ninth Prince, who was unwilling to accept failure, naturally had to think of ways to go through some abnormal procedures.

Li Yueming naturally had no reason to refuse.

He had played so many chess pieces between the Great Zhou and Great Qin in order to be sandwiched between the Great Zhou and Great Qin.

Chapter 449: Little Fox Reappears, Qi Fan's Face Turns Green! 1

Year 7286 of the Great Zhou Royal Calendar.

Li Yueming had been in North Glacier Town for three years.

After the initial discomfort, the Starmoon Troop had already gained a firm foothold in this cold land.

After three years of expansion, the population of Northern Ice River Town, which originally had more than 10,000 households, had already approached 100,000.

With such a large number of disaster victims, even if they came to Northern Ice River Town, they would not be able to eat their fill for the time being.

However, compared to the famine in the other cities and towns in the North, the famine was not a big deal.

There was at least one Northern Ice River in Northern Ice River Town that could be used for fishing.

With the many wild vegetables and fish soup that grew in the early spring, although the commoners were still not full, they did not have to worry too much about starving to death.

As for how long it would take for the disaster year to pass.

The Great Zhou did not know, and neither did the Northlands.

Years of cruel wars were always cold.

human lives are as cheap as grass.

To be able to struggle at death's door and keep one's life, one could already burn incense and pray to Buddha.

However, just as the citizens were working hard to take root in Northern Ice River Town.

However, something unexpected happened.

It was midsummer in the North, and the temperature should be able to reach a dozen degrees Celsius for a short period of time. Most of the snow that had been silent for a long time in the past would melt.

But this year, there was a rare anomaly.

During the midsummer season, the Northlands did not warm up. Instead, it suddenly became even colder than winter.

After discovering this phenomenon, the natives who lived in Northern Ice River Town all year round were all on guard.

Everyone packed their luggage while burying the treasures and tools that were inconvenient to carry in the caves that each family had dug in advance.

He hurriedly finished all of this and prepared to leave with his bag.

After seeing Li Yueming, a native hurriedly said, ""General Li, there's a phenomenon in the world. I reckon that the spirit beast tide will arrive in less than two days. Quickly organize our men to retreat!"

Li Yueming also felt this abnormal phenomenon.

From the information he had, every time the weather was abnormal, there would be a huge wave of spirit beasts in the Hundred Thousand Mountains.

At that time, tens of millions of Spirit Beasts would rush out from the Hundred Thousand Mountains.

He had to avoid the extreme weather in the Hundred Thousand Mountains. The spirit beast tide usually came once every ten years or so, so it was probably about time now.

However, Li Yueming was obviously not prepared to leave, so he rejected the suggestion of the aborigines and replied, ““The Star Moon Army is stationed here not only to defend against the Qin army, but also to suppress the spirit beast tide. Now that the tide is coming, we naturally have no reason to retreat!”

Hearing Li Yueming’s strong and righteous words.

The native of Northern Ice River Town was dumbfounded.

He looked at Li Yueming from head to toe, as if he had gotten to know this young general in front of him again.

Initially, they thought that Li Yueming was joking when he said that he would be a permanent resident!

After all, the spirit beast tide was vast and mighty, and no one knew what kind of trouble it would cause.

Northern Ice River Town did not have a city wall to defend itself. If the number of spirit beasts exceeded the army’s ability to defend, the entire town would be at risk of being trampled by the spirit beasts at any time.

Who knew that Li Yueming wasn’t joking.

Were they really prepared to lead by example and resist the spirit beast tide?

Although this sounded a bit absurd, in general, this local citizen had to give Li Yueming a thumbs up in his heart.

After all, when the spirit beast tide opened.

The spirit beasts in the Hundred Thousand Mountains were endless.

As long as one’s brain was still normal, anyone would probably choose to avoid it. No one would want to have a conflict with a group of crazy beasts.

In this day and age.

There were many soldiers who bullied the people.

However, it was extremely rare to see an army like Li Yueming and his Starmoon Troop that could truly help ordinary people.

Regardless of whether this decision was wise or not, at least Li Yueming’s initial intentions were good.

The news of the upcoming spirit beast wave and the Starmoon Troop not preparing to retreat and staying behind to guard Northern Ice River Town had just spread.

Everyone in Northern Ice River Town was boiling with excitement.

When everyone heard the news, their first reaction was disbelief.

However, when Li Yueming's instructions and the subsequent arrangements were written in black and white in the 'decree notice room', the group of people could only believe it no matter how hard they could not believe it.

For a moment, many people felt that their horizons had been broadened today.

The Star Moon Army was still acceptable to them. Even if the soldiers were short on food, they had never mistreated them.

Therefore, a group of people wanted to go to Li Yueming and explain the situation.

After all, in their opinion, Li Yueming's move was not a good one. However, no matter how much they persuaded him, he would not be able to escape.

Li Yueming's determination to lead the army to defend this place had never wavered.

The group of residents could only sigh helplessly when they saw that they could not move.

As they discussed, the residents quickly began to feel anxious.

After all, the spirit beast tide was no small matter.

If he didn't handle it well, it would be a light punishment for his family to be destroyed.

He had to pack his luggage and go somewhere in the south to hide as soon as possible.

Many residents decided to pack up and flee south overnight.

After a period of time, the beast tide in Northern Ice River Town would end before returning to Northern Ice River Town.

Li Yueming didn't stop them from leaving.

In fact, he couldn't stop it. After all, these matters concerned the life and death of many people's families. As long as Li Yueming didn't put a knife on the necks of the residents of Northern Glacier Town, it was impossible to stop them from escaping in large numbers..

Chapter 450: Little Fox Reappears, Qj Fan's Face Turns Green! 2

Of course, the most important thing was that Li Yueming didn't have any intention of stopping them from escaping North Glacier Town.

The reason why Northern Ice River Town had never been able to develop was because of the fact that it was a small town.

The most fundamental reason was not because of its geographical location or the lack of resources.

'Tms was because It was often attacked DY spirit beasts and was a tidal City that could not be settled.

The residents could not cultivate and grow food on the land in peace. They had to constantly guard against the spirit beasts in the Hundred Thousand Mountains.

That was why Northern Ice River Town was in a half-dead state.

To completely dispel the residents' sense of crisis, the Star-Moon Army had to prove that Northern Ice River Town could hold on under the attack of the beast tide. It was no longer like before, where they had to immediately pack up and run away at the slightest sign of trouble.

Just like that.

The 100,000 people that Li Yueming had gathered with great difficulty had all fled in just two days.

Only some old, weak, sick, and disabled people who had physical problems and could not run remained in the city.

You Aotian also received the message.

That afternoon, he was given a military order to lead the 15,000 Starmoon Troops to Ding Bei City to lay low.

However, Li Yueming naturally refused and chose not to move.

In the past few days, the wild beasts in the extremely cold snow mountain had been restless, so much so that some traces of wild beasts could be seen in the distance of Northern Glacier Town.

This made the soldiers of the Starmoon Troop nervous.

After all, most of them were natives and had lived in the Northern Lands since they were young. They had long heard of the spirit beast tide in the Hundred Thousand Mountains.

Now, it was their turn to face this Calamity Grade disaster.

It would be impossible to say that he wasn't nervous at all.

Fortunately, after several years of intermittent training, although the Star-Moon Army still had a bit of childishness, they had already condensed a strong willpower. Even if they did not dare to face the collapse of Mount Tai, they could at least be considered organized and disciplined.

As long as Li Yueming did not run away, the core of the army did not run away either.

No matter how flustered the soldiers were, their morale was still very stable.

As for Li Yueming and the core members of the army, would they run away?

There was no need to worry about this at all.

Li Yueming didn't say anything.

The twelve reincarnators, who were the core members, did not even blink. This was because more than 95% of the residents of Northern Glacier Town had moved away.

At this moment, the originally busy Glacier Town became a rare leisure. The reincarnators were so bored that they even had the time to play chess and cards!

They did not care when the spirit beasts would arrive.

As sinners, Xue Qian and the others did not run. They were exiled prisoners.

In the past, when no one was watching over them, it would not be a problem for them to sneak out and avoid the spirit beast tide.

But now, they were all working under Li Yueming!

Even if they had the guts, they wouldn't dare to run away before Li Yueming and the others left.

At this moment, he saw Li Yueming and the group of reincarnators with relaxed expressions. They even had the leisure to discuss whether they should eat hot pot or barbecue for supper. They did not seem to be worried about the upcoming spirit beast tide at all. They couldn't help but feel stunned.

Good fellow...

When did the spirit beast tide become so oppressive?

The Starmoon Army only had 15,000 soldiers, and 10,000 of them were new recruits.

To put it bluntly, he didn't even have the qualifications to stop a chariot. Where did they get their confidence from?

They weren't the only ones who couldn't figure this out. Even You Aotian, who was far away in the imperial court, couldn't figure it out.

In this suffocating atmosphere.

Two days later, the spirit beast tide arrived as scheduled.

Even though they were hundreds of miles away, everyone could still hear the sounds coming from the horizon.

Half an hour later.

Lines that looked like swarms of locusts appeared on the desolate Gobi Desert. Countless spirit beasts were densely packed everywhere in the sky and on the ground. The sound of their stampede was like muffled thunder. Even from afar, one could feel the earth shaking.

In Northern Ice River Town, all the members of the Star Moon Army were in high spirits.

Even so, when they saw the tide of spirit beasts at the end of the horizon, they couldn't help but tremble.

It was too terrifying...

With so many spirit beasts, there must be at least a few million of them, right?

Even though most of them were charging in all directions, not all of them were charging towards Northern Glacier Town.

However, even if only one-thousandth of the monster horde's shockwave passed through Northern Ice River Town, it was not something that their army, which had yet to form an army spirit, could easily face!

The leading herald took a glance through the binoculars.

He was so frightened that he immediately sat on the ground.

After being stunned for a while, he suddenly got up and ran towards the Star

Moon Army camp.

He had no choice...

With so many spirit beasts, anyone would panic!

At this moment, the herald could only feel a little safe when he saw Li Yueming with his own eyes.

However, when they arrived at the camp.

Li Yueming was actually instructing the horse officer named Qi Fan to prepare a barbecue.

After making sure that he was not hallucinating, the herald felt numb.

For a moment, he was so stunned that he even forgot why he had rushed over.

In the end, Li Yueming found him and asked, ""What's the matter?"

He heard a voice.

Only then did the herald wake up from his dream.

He looked at the group of higher-ups who were focused on the barbecue..