Chapter 521: Victory will belong to the Star Moon Army!_2

This time was no exception.

Under normal circumstances, it would be fine if both sides spat at each other.

But this time, the scholars had made a big mess.

On the surface, it seemed like the officials in the imperial court had given up on the northwest and focused on building a line of defense at Dragon Crouching Pass and Futian Pass, but in reality, it was the emperor's tacit approval.

This group of scholars pointed at this decree and started to curse.

Wouldn't he be scolding the emperor?

The emperor naturally could not tolerate such an act of overstepping his authority.

Thus, the emperor, who would always pretend to be the referee in such situations, did not mediate in his rage. Instead, he allowed both sides to criticize him.

In this kind of situation, under the big week, the internal contradictions between the two intensified once again.

If it weren't for the fact that the army of the capital region was still fighting outside, the nobles who controlled the Great Zhou would probably have already turned against the scholars and the nobles with different surnames behind them.

.0.

In Northern Glacier Town, the battle between the two sides was still ongoing.

At this moment, everyone, including Great Qin in the northwest and Great Qi in the northeast, was watching this battle.

There was no need to say much about Great Qin.

The Ninth Prince and Li Yueming had a close relationship. For a long time, Li Yueming had the upper hand in their exchanges.

Because Li Yueming had a very good relationship with the little fox, he controlled the vital point of the Qin country's invasion into the Northern Lands. Due to the situation, the Ninth Prince had no choice but to lower his head.

Clearly, the State of Qin was many times stronger than Li Yueming, but they had always been restrained by Li Yueming.

This was undoubtedly very aggrieved for the State of Qin and the Ninth Prince.

The Great Zhou army attacking Northern Ice River Town was a once in a lifetime opportunity for Great Qin.

If Li Yueming couldn't hold on, there were only a few people in Northern Ice River Town who could seek help.

Great Qin was one of the best choices.

When the time came, the Ninth Prince, who had gained the initiative, would definitely ask Li Yueming to give up the path to the snowy mountain and kick Li Yueming away completely.

As for the Northern Qi in the northeast, they had been reorganizing and training their army for the past few years.

Because for the past thousand years, the government had been focusing on maritime politics, and the land army had not had any conflicts with other countries for many years.

Now that Great Qi had obtained sufficient financial resources from the ocean, they had the intention of conquering the Central Plains. Naturally, they had to take this opportunity to take a good look at the strength of the armies of the other countries in the Central Plains so that they could formulate a feasible plan to dominate according to the actual situation.

Under normal circumstances.

It should be impossible for the northwest to resist the entire Great Zhou.

In fact, it is true.

All the people in the northwest and the central plains added up to only 10 to 20 million, while the Great Zhou had a population of nearly 100 million. The difference between the two sides was huge.

If the Star-Moon Army wanted to win this war, they definitely couldn't resist it head-on. They had to come up with a plan.

Li Yue Ming naturally understood this logic.

Thus, in the second month of the battle, the Star Moon Army on the walls of Northern Ice River Town could not hold on any longer, and the alliance army was starting to get impatient because they could not take down the town for a long time.

Li Yueming sent out the most elite special forces of the Star Moon Army.

When building the city, Li Yueming had already considered a few plans after being attacked by the Great Zhou.

Now, it was at the stage where it could be implemented.

Under the cover of the night, 5,000 soldiers of the special forces left the city through a secret passage and rushed to another secret horse breeding place of the Star Moon Army. They mounted the warhorses that had been prepared long ago and took a detour of more than 3,000 miles in the morning of the next day to attack the grain road of the allied army.

The dukes had quite a good control over their supplies, but the special forces were well-trained. Every one of them was a powerful cultivator. Under normal circumstances, such elite troops should have appeared on the battlefield to fight against the royal guards with military souls, not secretly running thousands of miles away to attack the supply routes of the allied forces.

But now, this army that did not care about martial ethics had appeared.

Therefore, the soldiers guarding the provisions of the feudal lords found that the strength of this mysterious army was much stronger than they had imagined. In just two short battles, the number of casualties under their command exceeded their imagination.

He could only throw away his armor and flee for his life.

They cut off the grain supply of the alliance army.

The special forces did not dare to stay for even a moment. They immediately rode their warhorses and headed towards a city called Ye.

Ye City was located to the south of North Binghe Town, and it was a place that the allied forces must pass through on their way to retreat. Now that the special forces were lying in ambush here, it was obvious what Li Yueming was planning.

After receiving the secret letter that the grain road was cut off.

The general of the alliance army punched the table, and the huge force shook the entire ground.

He raised his head and looked at the hazy city wall of Northern Ice River Town in the morning fog, then looked at the tired Tian Zi's army behind him.

His rationality told him that the first thing he had to do after the Food Road was cut off was to withdraw his troops.

However, how awe-inspiring was he when he led the army from Dragon Conqueror Pass?

The emperor and the nobles had high hopes for him. If he retreated without obtaining enough results, his career as a general would come to an end.

After returning to the pass, he could already burn incense and worship Buddha without being punished.

During this period of fierce attacks, the city wall of Northern Ice River Town had been cut off by more than ten inches. The Star-Moon Army had also become an arrow at the end of its flight. Now, the rations in the United Army Camp could last for another month. He did not believe that they could not break through Northern Ice River Town in this month.

Even if there was really no other way, it would not affect the overall situation if they retreated in the middle of the month.

Thinking of this, the alliance army decided to continue attacking.

.0.

He looked down at the army that was charging at him like a tide.

Li Yueming revealed a smile. He was not afraid of the alliance army continuing to attack, but he was afraid of the alliance army retreating decisively.

Northern Glacier Town only had a population of less than a million people. Even if they could gather the strength of the people of the entire Northwest, they would only have less than ten million people.

It was absolutely impossible to fight against the Great Zhou with just this bit of strength.

Let me give you a simple example.

The Star-Moon Army had lost close to 100,000 soldiers in this war. If they wanted to replenish these soldiers, it would take 20 years for the population of Glacier Town in the north to recover. Even if they relaxed the recruitment authority of the army and recruited soldiers from all over the north, it would still take 10 years to recover their strength before the war.

However, the Great Zhou Empire was backed by the rich and vast Central Plains. Whether it was in terms of military strength or population, they were ten times more powerful than Northern Ice River Town. Similarly, if they were given ten years, not only would they be able to recover their strength, but they would also be able to reorganize a million strong army.

This was the difference between the two sides.

It was also why there were countries in ancient times who could defeat another country five or six times.

However, they only needed to lose once to directly destroy the country.

Therefore, Li Yueming didn't just want to defeat the allied forces, he wanted to defeat them and obtain the greatest victory with the smallest price.

Only by hurting the Great Zhou and letting everyone in the world see the powerful combat strength of the Starmoon Troop and the fierce inner power of the Great Zhou could Northern Ice River Town be preserved and not be swallowed by endless wars.

Otherwise, Li Yueming's only option would be to give up on North Glacier Town and escape into the Hundred Thousand Mountains.

They found that the alliance army had charged forward again.

A chiliarch of the Starmoon Troop stood on the high city wall and looked at the tired soldiers. He said,""Everyone, take a good look. Behind you is the home that we built brick by brick!"

Every household living in it is a Northland citizen who was affected by the war. Every single one of them is a fellow citizen of our Starmoon Troop..."

"Thanks to Great General Li, we refugees were able to survive and even learned how to read and write. It was also thanks to Great General Li that we joined the Star Moon Army and became a part of protecting our homeland in Northern Ice

River Town!"

"I don't understand the righteous path of the king, nor do I understand what it means to be a traitor. The Zhou Dynasty labeled us as traitors, but they never considered that the people of the northwest had never had a good day under their rule!"

"General Li gave us the land to live on, the opportunities to study and work, and the hope to live a good life. Therefore, he is our second parent!"

General Li had already sent people to cut off the supply routes of the alliance army. In less than half a month, the Liang army would definitely be unable to withstand the pressure and retreat!"

“This is the final darkness before dawn. As long as we can hold on, victory will definitely belong to Northern Ice River Town and our Star-Moon Army!”

Chapter 522: Heroic and Heroic!_1

In the darkness, a bonfire was burning.

The centurion of the Star Moon Army stood on the high platform, facing the soldiers of the emperor’s coalition army who were about to launch their final counterattack. He sobbed as he carried out the final mobilization of the soldiers of the Star Moon Army.

Logically speaking, this kind of thing wasn’t something a chiliarch like him could do.

However, the higher-ups had their own arrangements and did not have time to mobilize. He could only be replaced by a chiliarch who did not have a high level of speech.

That’s right, the Starmoon Troop had already fought to the point where all the higher-ups had come out.

Huang Li ‘er, Tian Liang, Ding Yi, Wang Biao, and the other reincarnators, regardless of whether they had any conflicts or conflicts in the past, were now charging at the forefront of the battle formation in the most decisive manner.

Using the power of two places to resist the crusade of the entire Great Zhou Royal Region was not a simple matter.

If it were not for the fact that these powerful reincarnators had always taken the lead and did not care about their lives, the city walls of Northern Ice River Town would have probably collapsed.

For this reason, a few reincarnators had even died on the battlefield.

It was also because of this that the eyes of the other soldiers of the Star Moon Army turned red when they heard the news. It had to be known that these reincarnators were the top figures of the Star Moon Army in the eyes of these ordinary soldiers.

Not only was he knowledgeable, but he was also extremely powerful.

A son of a thousand gold will not hang down in the hall.

Logically speaking, they could hide in the tall central tent and command them to fight. There was no need for them to personally go to the battlefield to fight the enemy.

Now, in order to protect them and Northern Ice River Town, they were willing to risk their lives.

How could the soldiers of the Star Moon Army cherish their lives when they encountered such a general and a monarch?

Therefore, the Starmoon Troop formed a human wall with their own lives, and with their tenacious willpower, they killed every enemy who tried to cross the defense line. They were unwilling to retreat even if they were bleeding.

Although the benefits of the reincarnators were different.

However, after all, everyone had a basic goal—to jointly assist Li Yueming, the chosen one, to establish a country that belonged to their reincarnators and complete the most difficult ultimate mission in this Reincarnation Instance Dungeon as much as possible.

For this reason, they had already formed an alliance with each other.

After the reincarnators who sacrificed themselves in the process of achieving this goal returned to the main world after their reincarnation, the other reincarnators who had obtained enough resources would distribute the benefits equally according to their contributions.

This was also the main reason why Ding Yi and the others were willing to risk their lives.

After all, no one wanted to die. However, the situation was like this. If even the reincarnators who were at the top were unwilling to sacrifice themselves, how could Northern Ice River Town become an invincible army?

Of course, the reincarnators of the three factions had different interests, but this did not affect the three factions from heading the same goal.

In the darkness, a large number of soldiers approached the heavily damaged city wall of Northern Ice River Town with the help of the light from the torches.

Under the reflection of the blazing fire, the eyes of the soldiers guarding the city were as fierce as the lone wolves of the north.

The battle was about to begin.

Many reincarnators charged around in the night and beheaded every Zhou Dynasty soldier who tried to climb up the city wall.

The troops of the West Garrison Army were also wandering around, guarding against the enemy elites who could charge over at any time.

The commander of the allied army of the Zhou Dynasty had given a death order that they had to break through the city walls of North Ice River Town within three days. For this, he had promised that the first soldier to charge into the city would be given a hundred miles of land, and those who fled would be exterminated.

Therefore, the intensity of tonight's battle was very high.

Strangely, the battlefield was unusually quiet.

Other than the weak wails of the wounded soldiers lying on the ground, there were countless corpses lying on the ground on the walls of Northern Ice River Town, but no one said anything loudly.

Sensing the abnormality, the Starmoon Troop quickly made a series of arrangements to guard against any possible accidents.

Finally, after the allied forces below the city launched three consecutive waves of attacks and were still forced back, a mysterious guard suddenly appeared in the darkness.

Sensing the powerful aura that erupted from the guards, the killing intent of the entire Northern Ice River Town suddenly froze.

An enormous pressure seemed to materialize.

In Northern Ice River Town, many reincarnators sensed something and looked at the rapidly approaching army.

After watching for a moment, the many reincarnators immediately knew that the alliance army had finally made a ruthless move!

This was an army formed by many reincarnators of the Zhou Dynasty. It was also one of the strongest armies under the emperor's alliance army.

Seeing that they were attacking, the many reincarnators of Northern Ice River Town could only retreat from the battlefield and prepare to face the menacing Zhou Dynasty's reincarnators with all their might.

Tian Liang glanced at the other reincarnators who were coming at him menacingly, and then at his slightly tired companion behind him. At this moment, they had just engaged in an extremely intense battle. The spiritual energy in their bodies was severely depleted, and their combat strength had plummeted.

Under normal circumstances, when one saw the undamaged reincarnators under their feet, one should avoid them.

However, the current situation was really a little bad. If they did not go up, with the strength of these dozens of reincarnators, they would probably be able to easily tear a hole in the defense line of Northern Ice River Town.

At that time, the mighty alliance army would rush into Northern Ice River Town from the torn defense line. The results that they had painstakingly persevered for so many years would be destroyed in a single day..

Chapter 523: Heroic and Heroic!_2

Without a choice, Tian Liang and the rest could only grit their teeth and charge forward.

The speed of the two troops formed by reincarnators was very fast. Whether it was the Star Moon Army on the city wall or the Emperor's army below the city wall, they only saw an afterimage flash past in the darkness. Immediately, an extremely powerful spiritual energy conflict erupted in the air above Northern Ice River Town.

Many reincarnators circled in the sky.

Among them, the reincarnator who had joined the emperor said, "I really don't understand you guys. You know that you can't do it, but you still do it. Do you really think that you can complete the last mission and get the top reward for this war?"

Huang Li 'er said as she fought with him, ""Humph, everyone has their own aspirations."

Seeing that Huang Li 'er still dared to mock them, the reincarnators under the emperor could not help but sneer."Hehe, you really don't know what's good for you. Don't you understand? The path you chose is destined to fail!"

“If you can establish your own dynasty and start fighting for hegemony and complete the most difficult mission, then what face will the others have? The path you chose is the opposite of all the Descended Ones, and you are destined to be defeated!”

Hearing this, Huang Li ‘er, Tian Liang, and the others’ expressions did not change much.

It could only be said that they were well aware of the difficulty of completing the mission of establishing their own country and unifying the six countries.

After all, all the reincarnators in the world were not fools.

Everyone was following the rules to complete the first few simple missions. How could they just sit back and watch them try to complete the highest level mission of the death difficulty?

It was fine before he took this step.

Many reincarnators were very busy and did not have the time to care about a small place.

However, once they took this step, the group of reincarnators who followed behind Li Yueming undoubtedly became the common enemy of many reincarnators.

However, even so, under the circumstances where the benefits were tempting enough, they still chose to stand on the other side of the world. Even if they were enemies with the many reincarnators of the other six countries, they had to try to complete this impossible mission.

Of course, the most important thing was that this final mission was so difficult. As long as they took a few more steps, the rewards they would receive would be stronger than 90% of the reincarnators who followed the rules and completed the ordinary mission.

At the very least, the Star Moon Army’s independence from the Great Zhou was enough to give them a basic reward.

Countless soldiers below were looking at the many reincarnators fighting in the sky.

Not only were there fewer reincarnators on the Star Moon Army’s side than the allied forces, but because they had just experienced a chaotic battle, their combat strength was also lower than that of the allied forces.

Towards the end, the battle was almost one-sided.

The reincarnators of the entire Star Moon Army were suppressed by the reincarnators sent by the Great Zhou Royal Capital.

If it were not for the archers in the city helping out, the Star Moon Army’s reincarnators would have already suffered casualties. However, even so, they could only barely hold on.

Seeing this situation, the morale of the Star Moon Army, which was originally full of vigor, immediately dropped.

In a sense, the reincarnators led by Huang Li ‘er and the others were the bones of the Star Moon Army. During this period of time, they relied on their bravery to support the huge beast, the Star Moon Army, from collapsing.

Now that they were at a disadvantage in the war, there were not many soldiers in the Starmoon Troop who could support them as reinforcements. The fact that the morale of the Starmoon Troop had not collapsed was already a sign that they were very determined.

In contrast, the alliance army of the Great Zhou Emperor was completely different.

The soldiers on the ground, who were already a little timid, shouted when they saw this situation. Their morale was constantly rising...

In the command center of the allied forces not far away, the high-ranking officials of the Son of Heaven's allied forces stood on a high platform made of yellow soil, looking down at everything under their feet.

The alliance general closed his eyes and let out a long sigh. After a while, he opened his eyes and said excitedly to the left and right deputy generals, "It's finally over. If nothing goes wrong, Northern Ice River Town will definitely fall

The two deputy generals on the left and right also heaved a sigh of relief when they saw this situation. They all revealed happy expressions and echoed, "Great General is a god-like soldier. The small rebel army of Northern Ice River Town is not worth mentioning!"

Even though he had said that, he had led an army of nearly a million people, but they had not taken down North Glacier Town after so many days. All the higher-ups in the alliance army were feeling a little panicked.

If they couldn't take down Northern Glacier Town, they would all be implicated when the emperor's letter of responsibility came.

Now that victory was at hand, all the higher-ups naturally heaved a sigh of relief.

The general of the alliance army was glad that he did not reveal the news of the grain route being intercepted to them. Otherwise, this group of incompetent fellows would have been so anxious that they would have jumped up and down a few days ago.

Everyone had different thoughts, but at this moment, the expression on their faces was generally very excited.

After all, no matter what, as long as they could break through the city, they would more or less be rewarded by the emperor when they returned to court.

However, the situation on the battlefield was always changing rapidly.

Just when everyone thought that the outcome of this battle was already decided and could no longer be reversed.

Suddenly, a rider charged out from the battlefield..

Chapter 524: Heroic and Heroic!_3

The female knight wielding a long saber had a valiant bearing and her black hair fluttered in the wind. There were nearly a thousand riders surrounding her, and every one of them was a super elite who had been through hundreds of battles.

These were the cavalymen who had followed the Star Moon Army since they were in the North City. Each of them was a veteran of the Star Moon Army.

Back then, they had followed Li Yueming.

Even the Qin army was amazed by the strength of the army.

They were from when the Star Moon Troop was first established, and they were also the main force that Li Yueming led to fight against the Qin army's Black Armor Guards. They had already begun to condense the spirit of an army.

After a few more rounds of training, they would become the people who would ignite the soul of the Star Moon Troop. Today, they put on their battle armor again and tied up their hairbands. However, they were not following behind Li Yueming. Instead, they were following a woman as she rode on Nanshan Hill again.

Li Ruxing was wearing a metal mask with the Star Moon Army's logo on it. He was riding a tall horse, and his black hair was tied into a high ponytail. At this moment, he was jumping up and down with the galloping horse.

Unlike his lazy and lazy attitude in the past, Li Ruxing's entire body was emitting a powerful aura today. Just from the strength of his cultivation, he was not inferior to the strongest batch of reincarnators!

She led the Star-Moon Troop and charged out from the side of the city wall. Like a sharp arrow, she plunged into the alliance army and killed the soldiers who were about to attack. Before the army could react, they had already left the battlefield on their horses.

Under her long blade, no matter if it was the elite of the alliance army or the ordinary soldiers, they were all invincible.

Everyone was stunned by this sudden scene.

No one had expected that under such a high-intensity battle, the Star Moon Army, which was already the weaker side, would actually send an elite unit to ambush outside Northern Glacier Town!!!

The generals of the allied army who were still chatting and laughing were all shocked. Someone even cried out, "Where did this army come from? It had never appeared in the previous battles, right? Could it be that the Star Moon Troop was still hiding their strength when the city was about to fall? Isn't he looking down on us too much!"

No wonder they were surprised.

The intensity of this war was already high enough.

Not to mention the feint attack, just this general attack alone, the alliance army had been attacking without rest for almost half a month.

Even the allied army, which had the advantage in numbers, was exhausted.

They didn't believe that the Star Moon Troop, which didn't have enough reserves, would still have a backup plan.

However, the truth was right in front of them.

No matter how unwilling they were to believe it, the generals could only accept this possibility.

To be honest, no matter how unwilling they were to admit it, these arrogant alliance army generals were all amazed by the strength of the Star-Moon Troop and the tenacity of the army.

It was no wonder that he was able to achieve such great feats under the trampling of the Qin army.

Fortunately, due to the short period of time it had been established, such a terrifying army had yet to awaken its military soul. Otherwise, the alliance army would not be able to do anything to it even if they used all their strength.

He finally woke up from his shock.

After regaining his senses, someone smiled and said, "It's fine. This amount of soldiers is not enough to completely break our formation. When the soldiers react, even if this woman is the reincarnation of the God of War, she can forget about killing her way out of the formation!"

The other quick-witted generals also nodded in agreement. "That's right. The Star Moon Army arranged this elite troop to charge out of the city. I guess the commander must have lost his mind and asked the emperor's guards to stop this elite troop. I'd like to see what other tricks these rebels have!"

After a brief discussion of the battle situation, an order was immediately issued from the command post. The elites of the Dragon Tiger Army were called out from near the main tent and charged at Li Ruxing, who was rampaging on the battlefield.

Not long after the Dragon Tiger Army left, they quickly stopped Li Ruxing who was attacking the army formation from the side.

All the generals on the command platform couldn't help but smile when they saw this.

On the main battlefield, the large number of Royal Guards was about to break through the city wall of North Ice River Town. On the side battlefield, the backup troops sent by the Star Moon Army were successfully suppressed by them. The cultivators who were fighting in the sky and the Star Moon Army were also on the verge of collapse.

The balance of the battlefield had completely tipped in their favor. With one country suppressing two places, the alliance army had a huge advantage.

As long as the commander was not a pig without a head.

There was no way they could lose this war.

However, this time, their smiles appeared very abruptly, and they disappeared just as abruptly. This was because they saw a golden sun suddenly appear in the sky not far away!!!

Chapter 525: 223, Heavenly Fate is not in Zhou!_1

On the battlefield, countless soldiers were engaged in fierce battles.

As the scales of victory gradually tipped towards the alliance army, a golden sun suddenly appeared in the sky.

Li Yueming walked out of the tent step by step. As he walked, the golden light on his body became more and more dazzling. At this moment, it was really like a sun slowly flying into the sky!

On the battlefield, all the soldiers were stunned. They stopped fighting and looked up at the sky.

Everything they saw was like a miracle, deeply shocking everyone's hearts!

After flying into the sky, Li Yueming looked at the Star Moon Army's crumbling defense line and said lightly, "Since the establishment of the Star Moon Army for decades, our foundation has been to be close to the people, love the people, and respect the people. We treat every ordinary citizen as our family and friends..."

"As for you, most of you are also the children of the people of Northern Ice River Town. After joining the Star Moon Army, your job is to protect Northern Ice River Town and all the people in the world who are suffering, so that the glory of the king's way can shine on the entire world!"

"The Star Moon Troop is a soldier of the heavens, and will definitely save the world. Are we going to be defeated in such a war?"

Li Yueming's voice wasn't loud at all.

For the current him, there were many times when he really did not have that much emotion.

However, this did not stop the Star Moon Troops from worshipping him like a god.

Therefore, the members of the Star Moon Army below them all retorted in unison, "The Star-Moon Army will never give up!!"

The soldiers who had received great encouragement seemed to have been injected with chicken blood. The morale that had been low because they could not see any hope was thrown away in an instant.

For the Star-Moon Army and the people of Northern Ice River Town, Li Yueming was the sun, the light, and the chosen one they followed.

Moreover, the sun was still emitting a sacred golden light.

Hearing the answer, Li Yueming nodded slightly.

Then, he looked at the Zhou Dynasty reincarnators not far away.

At the same time, the reincarnators were also sizing him up.

It could be said that the two sides were not strangers. After all, most of these reincarnators had graduated from the Great Zhou Cultivation College, and many of them had met Li Yueming before.

But now, because of their different standpoints, the original brothers had to fight.

Looking at Li Yueming, whose entire body was covered in golden holy flames and whose face was full of hostility, the Great Zhou reincarnators' faces flashed with joy.

It had to be known that Li Yueming had not appeared on the battlefield before today, causing several reincarnators to suspect that Li Yueming had abandoned everything and ran away.

Now that they saw Li Yueming appear with their own eyes, all the reincarnators could not help but heave a sigh of relief.

It was good that he did not run away. Otherwise, it would be troublesome.

Capturing Li Yueming was obviously a great achievement.

If they could obtain it, then their future career in the Great Zhou officialdom would definitely be smooth sailing.

Moreover, as long as they eliminated the reincarnators in Northern Ice River Town, the entire Great Zhou would be in their hands in the future.

After finally suppressing the strange expression on his face, a reincarnator said, "Back in the academy, I heard that Senior Brother Li's strength was extraordinary. I wonder how true the rumors are?"

The attention of the reincarnators from the Great Zhou Dynasty had all shifted to Li Yueming.

Huang Li 'er, Ding Yi, and the others finally took a breather.

Looking at Li Yueming who was emitting golden light not far away, Huang Li 'er, Ding Yi, and the others were not worried that the other reincarnators would threaten Li Yueming's comfort.

After all, as the core members of the Starmoon Troop, no one knew Li Yueming's current strength and realm better than them.

Even if he couldn't turn the tide of the battle on his own, he still had the strength to protect himself.

Therefore, when he saw Li Yue Ming personally fighting, Ding Yi's first sentence was not to tell Li Yue Ming not to take the lead, but to remind him, "General Li, be careful!"

Li Yueming nodded to show that he knew what to do.

With his current strength, he could definitely do whatever he wanted on the battlefield.

The only thing he had to pay attention to was not letting the assassins sent by the Great Zhou succeed.

Without wasting any time, Li Yueming took out an Earth-grade Hundred

Refined Spear and rushed in the direction of the Great Zhou reincarnators.

In the eyes of most people, the sun in the sky seemed to have suddenly turned into a dazzling meteor.

It streaked across the sky and rushed towards a Great Zhou reincarnator who took the initiative to move forward not far away.

His speed was as fast as a streak of light. In just the blink of an eye, he had moved thousands of meters and rushed over at an extremely terrifying speed with unparalleled killing intent.

The reincarnator who was being stared at by Li Yueming was shocked.

Although he had heard that Li Yueming was very powerful in the Great Zhou Cultivator College and was one of the best among the natives of this world, he boasted that he was also a powerful reincarnator and had always felt that his combat strength was not weak.

That was why he chose to be the first to step forward.

However, he did not expect that he would be scared out of his wits by Li Yueming's murderous aura in the first exchange.

Before he could fully prepare for battle, the fiendish Li Yueming had already arrived in front of him at an unbelievable speed.

After getting close, he stabbed again and again.

The spear in Li Yueming's hand was like a dragon baring its fangs and brandishing its claws. It quickly threw out a spear flower..

Chapter 526: Heavenly Fate is not in Zhou! _2

The weapon in the reincarnator's hand flew out in an instant. After sensing the danger, he wanted to retreat, but Li Yueming did not give him the chance. He pierced his throat quickly and accurately.

Fresh blood sprayed out.

The entire group of reincarnators was stunned by this scene.

This reincarnator was not considered weak among the entire group of reincarnators. Be it in terms of combat strength or realm, he was above average.

However, such an existence that could be considered a pillar among the reincarnators was pierced through the throat by Li Yueming in one move.

Damn it...

If Li Yueming was one of those powerful older cultivators who had become famous and went into seclusion, it would be fine.

After all, he had lived for a long time and had a deep foundation. It was naturally easy for him to kill a few reincarnators who did not have much foundation.

But Li Yueming was of the same generation as them!

The age gap between the two was not too big.

Under such circumstances, Li Yueming was able to kill a reincarnator with a single shot. The shock that he gave to the other reincarnators and soldiers who were still alive was extremely terrifying. The reincarnators of the Great Zhou Dynasty even felt an earthquake in their hearts!

Originally, there were still people speculating whether Li Yueming was a hidden reincarnator.

After all, Li Yueming was born at the time when the reincarnators descended. Although many reincarnators around him had observed him, they did not sense the aura of the same kind on him.

However, Li Yueming was carrying some kind of treasure that could shield his aura.

Judging from the time, it was completely possible.

However, as time passed, Li Yueming did not show much abnormality. Therefore, many reincarnators believed that Li Yueming was the chosen one.

However, now that they saw Li Yue Ming's powerful strength, the group of reincarnators could not help but doubt themselves.

He killed a senior reincarnator of the same age with a single shot.

Other than some abnormal reincarnation worlds that were above Level 6, other reincarnation worlds were really rare. If it was really the Son of Destiny, how many destinies did Li Yueming have?

Perhaps the entire world's consciousness's destiny was gathered on him? However, Li Yueming would definitely not give them the chance to think or ask questions.

After the shot to the throat, Li Yueming pulled the spear out of the reincarnator's throat and continued to move towards the elite troops formed by the remaining 30 reincarnators.

Everyone seemed to have woken up from a dream. They picked up their weapons and prepared to fight Li Yueming to the death.

Li Yueming's speed was extremely fast, and his physical strength was also very strong.

Fortunately, this group of reincarnators had more or less sensed the abnormality of the cultivation methods in this world. Therefore, in addition to cultivating, most of them had the habit of training their bodies. This was why they did not collapse immediately.

Even so, Li Yueming's combat power at this moment was not something they could compare to.

Currently, most of the reincarnators were still at the True Form Realm and Spirit Concentration Realm, but Li Yueming had long cultivated to the peak of the Spirit Concentration Realm. Not only that, but he had also activated two additional human body treasures in his body.

His combat prowess was so strong that he could completely rival a super expert at the Void Refinement Stage.

Li Yueming didn't even need to use his complete geno body to deal with these people. He only needed to use the talent of the Wild Warrior Saint that came with his perfect geno body.

After feeling Li Yueming's unparalleled combat strength, the group of reincarnators loyal to the Great Zhou could not help but be shocked.

They had just seen Li Yueming kill a reincarnator with a single shot, so they did not have an exact concept of Li Yueming's combat strength.

Now that they realized that Li Yueming could fight against the group of more than 30 reincarnators alone, they finally felt the terrifying difference in combat strength between the two sides.

"What?" someone exclaimed in horror, "With such combat strength, could it be that Li Yue Ming has already advanced to the Void Refinement Stage?" How is this possible?"

The reincarnators were not afraid of death.

However, this kind of meaningless death was something they could not accept.

Therefore, after discovering that Li Yueming's combat power was superhuman, they decisively turned around and ran.

While they were fleeing in a mess, Li Yueming went all out and killed five or six reincarnators who were unlucky enough to not be able to escape. As for the others, Li Yueming wanted to chase after them, but he knew that the battle below was more important than the lives of the reincarnators.

Therefore, after killing a few reincarnators in a row, he ignored the other reincarnators who were running away. He lowered his head and silently watched the battlefield below his feet.

Corpses fell from the sky one after another, smashing into the ground, raising a thick cloud of dust.

The Great Zhou soldiers who were still charging stopped when they saw this. They looked at the ferocious Star Moon Army on the city wall not far away and then at the elites of the Dragon Tiger Army who had been killed and fled for their lives.

In just a moment, the morale of the Great Zhou coalition army fell to a low point. Many soldiers even began to turn around and escape back to the camp.

If it wasn't for the supervisor's quick reaction, killing a few soldiers who wanted to retreat on the spot and not causing a chain reaction, the entire alliance army might have collapsed.

It couldn't be helped, Li Yueming's appearance was too eye-catching.

He walked out of the darkness, and his entire person was like a sun floating in the sky, making it difficult for people not to notice him.

And the Great Zhou Dynasty is a country that does not believe in ghosts and gods and believes in destiny..

Chapter 527: Heavenly Fate is not in Zhou!_3

The rising sun rose in the direction of the Star Moon Army and defeated the Dragon and Tiger Army, the emperor's guards. Didn't this mean that the destiny was in Northern Glacier Town and not in the Great Zhou?

They were ordered by the king to attack the rebels. They should have been valiant and spirited, crushing all the rebels who dared to go against the fate of the state. But now, the leader of the rebels was like the sun hanging high in the sky.

What did this mean?

Didn't that mean that the Great Zhou would definitely fail?

Thus, the entire alliance army was in chaos.

Countless soldiers were still charging forward, but now they looked around at a loss.

At this moment, someone suddenly shouted, ""The Star and Moon Troops have already intercepted the grain road of Ye City half a month ago. The army of the Wang Ji region has been defeated, and the grain of the army is in danger!" Hearing this, the entire battlefield was in an uproar.

Under normal circumstances, it would not be so easy for someone to defeat the morale of the army.

After all, no one was stupid.

It was obvious that he was trying to disrupt the morale of the army. In most cases, no one would be willing to believe him.

Coincidentally, in order to control the food that was about to run out, the alliance army had not eaten for many days. In addition, they had been launching continuous attacks for the past few days.

The army had already had doubts about this.

The reason why there had been no trouble before was because of the strict military law and the continuous war, which had left the soldiers with no time to think.

Now, someone suddenly shouted in the morale of the army.

It had indeed been a while since they last saw the grain transport team.

Instantly, all the soldiers reacted.

To the soldiers, it was a terrifying thing to have their rations cut off.

After all, if they couldn't even eat their fill, how could they fight the enemy on an empty stomach?

If they could be reorganized when there was no war, they might be able to appease the restless soldiers.

But now, the army was in a state of anxiety and anxiety.

Without a doubt, the cut off of the rations was the last straw that broke the camel's back.

Whether it was the Son of Heaven's coalition army that was still charging, or the reserve troops that had not had time to fight, they all threw away their helmets and armor and began to flee.

The defeat this time was from the inside out.

After chopping off a few heads and realizing that it was useless, the supervisor chose to flee with the army.

Seeing this situation, the generals who occupied the high ground all panicked.

A few minutes ago, they were still in high spirits, thinking that it was only a matter of time before they broke through Northern Ice River Town.

Unexpectedly, a few minutes later, before the smiles on their faces could completely disappear, the originally good situation was instantly reversed. The entire alliance army actually began to flee!!!

A general turned his head and asked in a trembling voice, "Great General..." Our provisions... Was it really cut off?"

Hearing this, the previously complacent commander of the alliance army was like a deflated balloon. His entire soul seemed to have been pulled out. He opened his mouth a few times but could not speak.

Seeing this situation, there was no need to answer. The generals immediately understood that the rumors were not false.

He looked at Li Yueming who was still standing high in the sky, Li Ruxing who was ready to give chase at any time, and the retreating soldiers who swept through everything like a wave.

The generals knew that the sky had collapsed..

Chapter 528: The Star and Moon Army's Territory Flourishment, Da Meng and Da Song!_1

In the year 7842 of the Great Zhou Royal Calendar, Li Yueming was 34 years old.

A few years ago, when the emperor's allied army went north to attack Northern Ice River Town, everyone thought that Northern Ice River Town would not be able to last long in front of the Great Zhou army, which was several times stronger than them.

However, to everyone's surprise, this war that was thought to have no suspense lasted for nearly three years.

The final result almost made everyone think that they were hearing things.

The alliance army left the east of Hidden Dragon Pass. On the way, they were cut off by the elite troops sent by Northern Ice River Town. The general who attacked Northern Ice River Town was afraid of being punished by the emperor and did not choose to retreat immediately after the grain route was cut off.

Instead, he chose to attack Northern Glacier Town, hoping to crush this unknown town in the north with absolute strength.

However, they didn't expect that the defense line formed by the Star Moon Army, the Western Army, and the Northern Army was more tenacious than they had imagined. They withstood their wave after wave of attacks and finally persisted until the day when the allied army ran out of food.

In the end, Li Yueming personally took action and ended this hopeless war.

The demoralized alliance army began to flee on a large scale. Because there were too many soldiers, the entire defense line was destroyed by the panicked alliance army, leaving a mess on the ground.

At the same time, in order to prevent the alliance army from retreating and gathering the remaining soldiers, Li Ruxing, who had been harassing the defense line under the city, led the most elite cavalry battalion of the Star Moon Army to chase the rebels away, making it impossible for them to regroup.

At the same time, the Star Moon Army special forces, which had originally cut off the grain road of Ye City, had already set up an ambush circle on the road where the Great Zhou army was defeated.

After seeing Li Ruxing and the others drive the defeated soldiers of the Great Zhou into the range of the ambush, thousands of soldiers of the special forces rushed out of the ambush.

Although there was a huge disparity in strength between the two sides.

However, the defeated army was already in a state of panic, and the special forces of the Star Moon Army were the cream of the crop. They were even more ferocious than the cavalymen following Li Ruyue. After charging down, they directly scattered the hundreds of thousands of Great Zhou soldiers who had retreated.

Their appearance completely shattered the plans of the generals of the alliance army to regroup their soldiers. After all, after being ambushed and killed again and again, the morale of the entire Great Zhou alliance army had fallen to the bottom. No one believed that they could defeat the Star Moon Army, which was slowly rising like the sun.

The alliance army of the emperor claimed to have one million soldiers, but they suffered a tragic defeat at Northern Ice River Town.

Less than 100,000 soldiers died during the siege.

However, the number of soldiers who were trampled to death by the rebels had already exceeded this number.

In addition to the several mutinies that had occurred along the way, as well as the soldiers who had starved to death by the roadside because they could not find food, the Great Zhou had directly lost 200,000 soldiers.

The other losses were even more incalculable.

In total, this battle had directly wiped out half of the Great Zhou's military strength.

If not for the fact that most of the casualties were ordinary soldiers who had not undergone strict training, the losses of the elites under the Dragon Tiger Army would not have been too serious.

This battle might take half of the Great Zhou's life.

However, even so, seeing the Great Zhou suffer such a huge defeat, their population and national strength suddenly dropped by a large margin, the various countries in the world could not help but have the idea of taking advantage of your weakness to take your life.

However, as the instigators of the War of the Eight Kingdoms, the few countries that currently existed in the world were still relatively clear about the Great Zhou's background.

If the Dragon Tiger Army was the four 2s of the Great Zhou on the surface, then the Six Guards of the Emperor in the dark were the true king of the Great Zhou.

Although the Great Zhou had suffered heavy losses, most of the deaths were ordinary. Although the elites with military souls had also suffered losses, it was not to the extent of suffering serious injuries.

In addition, the emperor and his six guards had not been mobilized. The loss of the core strength of the Great Zhou Dynasty was not as serious as it seemed on the surface.

Therefore, the various countries hesitated for a while before deciding to wait and see.

Even so, the Great Qi, which was located in the northeast of the Great Zhou Dynasty, could see the weakness of the Zhou Dynasty through this war. After weighing the pros and cons, they were determined to send troops to the Great Zhou Dynasty.

In the past two years, the Qi Kingdom had been training their soldiers with all their might. At the same time, they had spent a lot of manpower, material resources, and financial resources to think of ways to open up the road between the land and the coast between the Zhou and Qi Dynasties. They were preparing to send troops to attack the Great Zhou in the future.

Through this simple action, anyone with discerning eyes could already sense Big Qi's intentions.

However, other than the Great Zhou, not many countries stood up to stop it.

Compared to the Zhou Dynasty and the Zhou emperor, whose reputations had been greatly damaged.

The term "Northern Glacier Town" and "Li Yueming" suddenly became popular among the countries. In just a few months, the topic of these two keywords had fermented to a certain extent, even overshadowing the wars of any other country.

As a result, the people and soldiers of the six countries had heard of it.

Just by relying on the strength of the three armies in the northwest to resist the crusade alliance army sent by the Great Zhou Emperor and several vassal kings.

Under such circumstances, it was already very impressive for a normal person to rack their brains to protect themselves.

However, Li Yueming happened to be a huge exception. Not only did he not lose in this war where the power was extremely unbalanced, but he also defeated nearly a million coalition forces with the weak and won an unusually clean victory..

Chapter 529: The Star and Moon Army's Territory Flourishment, Da Meng and Da Song!_2

After the Tiandu Clan disintegrated, the world was divided into eight countries.

The bustling eight countries developed for hundreds of years, and in the end, two countries were attacked and annexed by the masses. The supreme power finally fell into the hands of the current Tang, Ming, Song, Han, Zhou, and Qin countries.

However, no matter how the world changed, there had never been a force other than these eight countries that could rely on their powerful combat strength to wrestle with any of the eight countries.

The game of power would always be played by the few nobles with the surname Ji who had been passed down since the Human Emperor of the Tiandu Clan.

Now, Li Yueming's appearance had finally broken this rule that was once considered unbreakable. He had taken away a portion of the power of the Great Zhou and protected his own interests through war.

This was not an easy task in the context of the Six Nations 'struggle for hegemony.

Of course, the impact of this battle was not limited to this.

Li Yueming had also become a ferocious person among the reincarnators of the six countries.

It was common for reincarnators to have conflicts with each other. However, before completing the main mission of the public reincarnation dungeon and obtaining the minimum reward, most of the reincarnators were still relatively restrained. They formed an alliance of interests with each other in order to reduce unnecessary friction and conflict.

It was also because of this that after entering this public dungeon, other than a few unlucky reincarnators, most of the reincarnators were still alive and kicking. The relationship between the reincarnators was generally considered peaceful.

However, this time, Li Yueming killed five or six reincarnators in the sky above Northern Ice River Town in public, causing an earthquake that was no less than a magnitude 12 earthquake among the reincarnators.

Li Yueming was about the same age as them!

They were all rising stars of the same age group.

However, in front of Li Yueming, they were reincarnators, but they were easily killed by him as if they were chickens.

The reincarnators of the Six Nations who heard the news only had one word to say about Li Yueming.

That was, pervert!

Such a heaven-defying monster had appeared out of nowhere, making them all smell something extraordinary.

North Glacier Town.

After Li Yueming killed five or six reincarnators, he returned to the city wall.

He had already made all the follow-up arrangements. When the allied army of the emperor started to flee, the Star Moon Army, who had been lying in ambush for a long time, would teach them a lesson.

After repelling such a large-scale attack from the Zhou Dynasty, Northern Ice River Town would no longer have to worry about the Great Zhou Dynasty's crusade for the next fifty years.

For Li Yueming, this was undoubtedly pushing a huge mountain over his head.

If the emperor in Haojing wanted to target him again, he would have to carefully consider whether it was worth it.

Of course, there was a bigger possibility.

That was to send a powerful reincarnator to assassinate Li Yueming.

Li Yue Ming had no way to stop this situation.

He could only deal with whatever came his way.

At this moment, Northern Ice River Town was littered with corpses. The thick blood had even dyed the ground red. In order to not cause a plague, Northern Ice River Town had recruited many people to clean up the battlefield.

The corpses of the Great Zhou army were burned on the spot.

As for the dead bodies of the Star Moon Troops, as long as they were claimed by their family members and the bodies had not decayed, they could be taken home by their family members. As for the incomplete bodies or the bodies that were simply unclaimed, they were buried in the Cemetery of Martyrs in North Ice River Town.

They would enjoy the admiration of their descendants for generations to come, and they would enjoy the worship of incense for generations to come.

He had roughly arranged the follow-up matters on the battlefield. Li Yueming handed over some unimportant trifles to Huang Li 'er and the others to deal with the aftermath.

As for himself, he silently returned to the central army tent and began to sit cross-legged on the ground to cultivate.

Although the war was generally smooth, Li Yueming knew that he had completely stepped onto the stage of the Six Nations this time. He was no longer as obscure and isolated as before.

The challenges that he and the Star Moon Troop were about to face would be even more difficult.

Year 7843 of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

After an extremely arduous war, Northern Glacier Town welcomed a new development trend.

After the Great Zhou army fled, they were immediately chased back to the front line of Dragon Subdue Pass and Tiger Subdue Pass by the cavalry and special forces led by Li Ruxing.

As a result, the entire northwest became the Star Moon Army's backyard.

Northern Glacier Town gathered the refugees who had fled from the war and began to select talents to develop in other towns. In just a year, the land under the jurisdiction of Northern Glacier Town doubled. Moreover, this number was still increasing as time passed.

After all, the Northlands was a vast land.

Although there were many places that were not suitable for humans to live in, those cities that could survive were not something that Northern Glacier Town, which only occupied one city, could easily annex and digest.

Fortunately, the Northlanders had a strong sense of recognition for the Northern Battlefront Army and the Star-Moon Army.

That was why there was not much trouble.

Even so, Northern Glacier Town could not completely digest such a large piece of land in a day.

It would take at least ten years of hard work.

While Northern Glacier Town was rapidly expanding, the war between the six dynasties was also becoming more intense.

West of Hangu Pass.

A few years ago, the Qin country plundered the Great Zhou and obtained a lot of wealth.

However, it was not as if the Qin State had not paid a price for this. Putting aside the fact that attacking the Great Zhou had consumed grain, just the fact that the Qin army had attacked the Great Zhou had caused the Great Tang to attack the southern territory of the Qin State..

Chapter 530: The Star and Moon Army's Territory Flourishment, Da Meng and Da Song!_3

After the mighty Qin army returned to the country, they did not have the time to rest and digest their gains in the Great Zhou. They rushed to the south to provide support.

In the end, the Qin army took back the cities that the Great Tang had conquered.

However, because of this, the Qin army had suffered some losses, causing Great Qin to become silent. Not only was it licking its wounds, but it was also recovering from the injuries it had suffered from the previous war.

As for the Great Zhou, there was naturally no need to say anything more.

They had raised nearly a million troops, but they could not even take down North Glacier Town. This matter had made the other countries laugh at them for a long time.

Although everyone in the Zhou Dynasty was furious about this and even wanted to gather an army again and use the power of the entire country to flatten Northern Ice River Town, in reality, everyone could only think about it.

Whether it was the emperor or the imperial court, they all knew that the Great Zhou might not have the energy to send troops to Northern Ice River Town again in the next 100 years after the failure of the previous crusade against Northern Ice River Town.

In the northeast, the Great Qi was constantly increasing the number of troops on the border of the Great Zhou.

In order to prevent the Qin State from attacking Futian Pass again, the Great Zhou was really focused this time.

Qi State was not considered a very eye-catching country among the six states.

Five thousand years ago.

When the Great Zhou Empire and the other empires split up Great Qian and Great Xia.

There was no one to bring Qi to play.

At that time, most of the Qi Kingdom's energy had been focused on developing the ocean. After realizing that they had missed the opportunity to divide the benefits, they had been thinking about it for many years.

Now that the second opportunity to divide other countries had appeared, Qi

State naturally did not want to miss this opportunity to increase its national strength and expand its territory.

In addition, the development of the ocean over the years had made Qi very rich.

If you have money, you naturally have to use it. Using it to dominate is naturally the most cost-effective transaction.

Due to these two reasons.

Qi State did not hide their intention to invade Great Zhou. The increasing number of soldiers and various siege weapons on the border was the best proof.

The war between the Great Ming and Great Song in the south was in full swing.

What was worth mentioning was...

In this Six Nations War.

The war between Great Ming and Great Song was even more bizarre than the war between Li Yueming and Great Zhou.

The Great Ming Dynasty advocated martial arts, and their army was very powerful. They won many battles, while the Great Song emphasized literature and commerce. Their army was very rich, but they did not have many brave warriors.

When the two collided, they were naturally defeated repeatedly.

Originally, Great Ming only needed to fight steadily, and annexing Great Song should be a matter of certainty.

However, it was unknown if the Ming Emperor had a hole in his brain. Seeing that the Great Song was so vulnerable, he had the idea of personally leading the army under the instigation of the eunuchs.

However, when the two armies were fighting, the Emperor of Ming Dynasty was captured by a consecrator of the Great Song who was in the Divine Aperture Realm, causing the Ming army to suffer a crushing defeat. Hundreds of thousands of soldiers were burned to the ground.

Of course, if you think this is weird enough.update by πewηovel.ΘRG

The weird thing is still in the back of the room.

After the Great Song kidnapped Emperor Ming, the Great Ming had originally planned to establish another Son of Heaven.

After all, the Ming Dynasty had a tradition of the emperor guarding the country gates and the king dying for the country.

Since the emperor had led his army on a personal expedition but was captured by the enemy country, rather than waiting to be extorted by the enemy country, it was better to treat the emperor as dead and take advantage of the turmoil in the country to establish a new and more capable ruler to ensure that the Ming Dynasty would not perish.

However, they had yet to choose a new emperor.

The Great Song had already sent the old emperor back and even took the initiative to express that they had disturbed Emperor Ming and were prepared to compensate him with ten million taels of silver every year.

This kind of showy operation was something that even the Great Ming monarch and his subjects couldn't do.

All the countries in the world felt that their horizons had been broadened.

The history books were as vast as smoke, and all kinds of inexplicable things had happened.

However, this was the first time he had seen such a scene between Great Ming and Great Song.
