Chapter 571: The Ancient Da Ojan that Disappeared in the River of History

In the depths of the God Burial Ground.

The desolate mountains were desolate, and all living things were destroyed.

Lava that was as red as blood flowed, and the surging lava emitted raging smoke.

The entire world was in a daze.

Li Yueming and Su Xuan carefully avoided all the dangerous areas. It took them more than an hour to finally stand in front of a huge stone door.

He looked at the scene around him that was like hell.

The two of them could not help but feel a chill in their hearts.

Stopping in her tracks, Suxuan said to Li Yueming, "This is the real entrance to the God Burial Ground. The Su Clan has guarded and worshiped this place for thousands of years!"

"According to some of the remaining records, the God Burial Ground can be forcefully opened, but the consequences will be extremely terrifying. I advise you not to do so!"

"As for how to enter it using normal methods, there are no clear records in the ancient books passed down by the Su Clan. Therefore, I am not too sure..." Li Yueming nodded.

There were no unnecessary decorations on the huge stone door in front of him.

Only when one looked closely could one see some tiny cracks on the stone door.

After thinking for a while, Li Yueming bit his finger and drew a circle with his blood along the area where the stone door was cracked. A moment later, a huge fox pattern appeared in front of Li Yueming.

In the beginning, Li Yueming didn't feel anything unusual.

It was not until the entire fox pattern was drawn that he realized that this fox looked exactly the same as the little fox on the outskirts of the extremely cold snow mountain!

This discovery shocked Li Yueming.

After repeatedly confirming it a few times, he was sure that it was not an illusion. It really looked exactly like the little fox. The only difference was that the fox engraved on the stone door was obviously much larger than the little fox. It should be an adult version that was larger and thicker.

Could it be that the little fox had some connection with this so-called God Burial Ground?

This made Li Yueming a lot of thoughts.

When he first met the little fox, it had indeed shown that it was different from the ordinary demonic beasts in this world.

For example, all the demon beasts in this world could not speak. Even if they had high intelligence, there was still a certain difference between them and real humans.

However, not only could the little fox speak human language, but it also had quite a lot of human emotions.

Not only would they feel bored because they didn't have a companion to talk to.

Occasionally, he would show some childish temper.

Moreover, the little fox had a fatal attraction to Qi Fan, who was a beast tamer.

In order to be able to come into contact with Little Fox often, Qi Fan, a veteran reincarnator, did not hesitate to throw away his face and endure the humiliation to join the Star Moon Army.

In fact, at that time, Li Yueming already knew that the little fox must have hidden some secrets that he did not understand.

It was just that due to the time and strength, he did not delve into the true situation.

After all, the situation in the entire northwest was very chaotic. Li Yueming's top priority was not to look for various missions, but to obtain more powerful forces to protect himself.

In the years that followed, he was busy establishing the Star Moon Army. Even if he knew that the little fox was hiding some secrets, he did not have the time to care so much.

Now, the sudden appearance of the fox pattern confirmed his guess.

Li Yueming did not expect the little fox to have such a powerful background. It was actually related to the God Burial Ground under the Endless Volcano.

After drawing the outline of the fox with blood, the giant stone door suddenly flickered, but it quickly darkened again.

Seeing this, Li Yueming had vaguely guessed the way to open the door.

If the gate outside the God Burial Ground was guarded by Concubine Su...

In that case, the real wall of the God Burial Grounds might need the little fox to open it.

Li Yueming suddenly fell into deep thought.

Su Xuan couldn't help but remind her, "What do you think?" "If we don't go back now, the passageway outside the altar might be closed. At that time, although I have a way to get out, it will be very troublesome..."

Li Yueming knew that she was urging him.

When he came here earlier, he had only passed through a few regions, but he was already surrounded by danger.

At this moment, he was naturally not stupid enough to use brute force to open the door of this ruin.

Now that it was blocked by this gate, there was naturally no need to continue exploring.

However, Li Yueming was not without gains.

At least he had guessed the correct way to open the stone door.

When he was ready, he might be able to enter and explore.

Thinking of this...

Li Yueming did not linger and turned around to return with Suxuan.

On the way, Li Yueming still had some doubts in his heart. He asked, "Is the Great Gan Dynasty founded by your Su Clan related to the ancient Great Gan Dynasty?"

Hearing his question.

Suxuan opened her mouth, obviously not knowing how to answer.

However, when he thought about how Li Yueming already knew the secrets of the God Burial Ground, some of the taboos and secrets of the Su Clan did not seem so unspeakable.

Therefore, she sorted out her thoughts and said, "The history of our Su Clan?"

The only thing I can be sure of is that the Su Clan is the only remnant of the Great Gan Lord Dynasty."

Hearing this, Li Yueming raised his eyebrows and said, "'Oh? This statement was really interesting.. The current mainstream of the history of the civilized world did not admit that the ancient Great Qian Dynasty really existed, but now you are saying that the Su Clan is the descendant of the ancient Great Qian Dynasty?"

Chapter 572: The Ancient Da Qian that Disappeared in the River of History (2)

Su Xuan was surprised and said in disbelief, "How is that possible? The Human Emperor of the Tiandu Clan had collected so many ancient books. Even if the Tiandu Dynasty was destroyed, the other vassal states had divided up so many of the Tiandu Clan's legacies. There should be many traces of the ancient Great Qian Dynasty recorded in them!"

Li Yueming shrugged and denied, "No, the current Six Nations do not have any official history that acknowledges the existence of the Great Gan."

Su Xuan thought for a moment and sighed. "Perhaps that's the case. After all, with the demise of the Great Qian Dynasty, all other records that could prove the existence of the Great Qian Dynasty in the ancient times have been erased. If the Su Clan were to perish, then the Great Qian Dynasty in the ancient times would really cease to exist."

At this point.

Even Su Xuan, who had always been kind and gentle, felt indignant for Da Qian and then revealed more secrets.

"Back then, the ancient Great Gan was once extremely prosperous. It was the only country that existed in this world and possessed an almost infinitely vast land.

Moreover, according to some unreliable records, the Great Gan back then had even prospered to the point where it began to explore other worlds...”

“About 15,000 years ago, due to an unknown disaster that could not be found in history, and that even the Su Clan did not have any written records, the ancient Great Qian Dynasty, which had been prosperous to the extreme, suddenly disappeared from this world.”

During the disaster, the Su Clan received the protection of the deity in the current God Burial Ground, which allowed them to safely survive the disaster that engulfed the entire world. Without the protection of this deity, the Su Clan would have been swept into the grave of history along with the Great Qian

Dynasty.”

“This is also the reason why the Su Clan has been worshipping the gods for generations and guarding their mausoleums.”

These statements involved very core things.

There were still some myths and legends about Da Qian in the outside world, but there was not a single word about these historical records.

Even Li Yueming had come into contact with so much information about the Ancient Great Gan for the first time.

Before this, he was still skeptical about the existence of the Great Gan.

” After surviving that unspeakable disaster, the Su Clan, who was the only survivor of the Great Qian Dynasty, began to investigate the real reason for the Great Qian Dynasty’s destruction...”

“According to the ancient records, due to the close proximity of the time, the investigation at that time should have some clues.”

“There might be an extremely terrifying truth behind the destruction of the ancient Great Gan.”

“However, with the rapid rise of the Human Sovereign Tiandu Clan, the fragmented world was reorganized. As the oldest clan, many core ancient books of the Su Clan were also confiscated by the Tiandu Clan and placed in the Human Imperial Palace.”

“At that time, although the clan still had some copies, they were still far from the original text. From then on, many of the Su Clan’s records began to become intermittent.”

“After that, as time passed, the traces that can be traced became increasingly rare. In addition, many ancient books were lost in the long river of time for various reasons...”

“Even now, there aren’t many ancient books left in the Su Clan. The fact that we still know about these books is because our ancestor put in a lot of effort to sort them out so that the Great Qian Dynasty and the Su Clan wouldn’t disappear in the long river of history.”

Suxuan said a lot in one breath.

As the next generation clan leader, her strength might not be considered ridiculous, but her understanding of the various ancient books hidden in the Su Clan should be the highest.

In this aspect, even the current Clan Leader of the Su Clan, Su Haotian, could not compare to her.

According to her description, Li Yueming felt that he had touched the core secret of this world.

From a normal point of view.

The ancient Great Gan had already been destroyed.

Even if the later dynasties were unwilling to admit it, there was no need to deny it.

However, if the history of the ancient Great Qian Dynasty was hidden by the Human Emperor of the Tiandu Clan...

What exactly did the Human Emperor of the Tiandu Clan want to destroy?

Could it be the disaster that destroyed the entire Great Qian Dynasty?

There should be a part of it, but Li Yueming didn’t think it was the real reason.

As for the real reason..At present, it seemed that it was not at a level that Li Yueming could come into contact with. Even if he really knew, he was afraid that he would not be able to solve it. It would only increase his troubles.

However, this information made Li Yueming even more vigilant.

Whether it was the system notifications or the information he had collected so far, they were constantly reminding him that this world was not that simple.

Once again, he returned to the area where the geyser was.

Suxuan took out a jade pendant from her pocket.

He gently tapped the black rock on the ground.

In an instant, a sense of weightlessness struck him.

Li Yueming felt dizzy again.

When he opened his eyes again, he found that he had appeared outside the altar.

Looking back, the cracked ground had disappeared.

The entire canyon returned to its original state.

Su Haotian stood on the high altar. Seeing the two of them come out safely, he couldn’t help but let out a sigh of relief. He looked at Li Yueming Ming and said,“”Since the honored guest has already obtained what you want, can you keep your promise and leave this land to keep your mouth shut about what happened here? Concubine Su had lived in seclusion here for a long time and had long lost her sense of vigilance against her own kind. If the honored guest leaked the news, the entire Su Clan would probably be exterminated!”

Li Yueming nodded and said, “”I might come here again in the future. At that time, I might need your help. Naturally, I can’t reveal the news here!” Su Haotian thought for a while. It wasn’t bad news to hear that Li Yueming would come back in the future.

After all, as he had said, as long as he had something to ask of the God Burial Ground, he would not easily reveal the news of the God Burial Ground.

This was not good for him either.

Therefore, Su Haotian nodded and said, “Since that’s the case, our Su Clan welcomes our distinguished guests to visit again! ‘”

His attitude surprised Li Yueming. He asked, “”I lied to all of you this time, and you still welcome me?”

Su Haotian was stunned when he heard this, as if he didn’t understand Li Yueming’s meaning. After a moment, he laughed and said, “”Our Su Clan has always been impartial. Our guest didn’t harm our Su Clan. On the contrary, he even helped us resolve the crisis of extermination.”

“The God Burial Ground doesn’t belong to our Su Clan. Since you were able to enter the God Burial Ground and come back alive, it means that the God has approved of you. Since the God has approved of you, how can our Su Clan not welcome you?”

These words were completely different from Su Haotian’s previous rough personality. Obviously, Su Fengtian’s betrayal had taught this man how to be rough and subtle.

Li Yueming opened his mouth and didn’t know how to answer.

Fortunately, Su Haotian didn’t mind. He smiled and said, “”Since you have absorbed the energy of the Earth Vein Divine Spring, you should find a place to digest it, right? Why don’t you come back to the Su Clan with me and wait for your body to recuperate before deciding to stay or go?

Li Yueming nodded.

The three of them stood up and returned to the Su Clan.

After returning to the Su Clan Tribe, Li Yueming did not waste any time. He immediately sat up and went into seclusion.

The effect of the earth vein divine spring was more powerful than he had imagined.

Not only could it make up for the depletion of qi and blood and lifespan, but it also loosened Li Yueming’s body treasure that had been stagnant for a long time.

If he could take this opportunity to develop the fourth human treasure.

Perhaps Li Yueming could really welcome a complete rebirth.

During the retreat, Su Xuan must have exchanged some information with Su Haotian. One night, Su Haotian approached Li Yueming’s retreat. He seemed to have something to say to him, but he saw Li Yueming leave after the retreat.

Li Yueming was naturally aware of this.

However, because he was in seclusion, his consciousness sank into his body. He did not feel any hostility, so he did not forcefully wake up.

It couldn't be helped. The more he felt that this world wasn't simple, the more urgent Li Yueming's need for strength became. As long as it wasn't a life and death crisis, strength would be the priority.

Chapter 573: If You Rise Because of This, You Will Die Because of This

Northwest of Great Zhou, North Glacier Town.

As the headquarters of the Starmoon Troop, which had been the focus of the world for a long time, Northern Glacier Town had now transformed from a remote tidal town into a hot gathering place for intelligence.

It was no exaggeration to say that.

Ever since Li Yueming was assassinated, Li Ruyue had led the Star Moon Troop's core elites to break through the Dragon Subdue Pass, Tiger Subdue Pass, and Futian Pass, the three most wanted passes in the northwest.

In just a short month, the Northwest had gathered 80% of the spies that the Six Nations could mobilize!!!

At this moment, countless pairs of eyes were focused on Northern Ice River Town.

They were all trying to find out more about the Starmoon Army.

In the beginning, the Star-Moon Army and Glacier Town wanted to take care of this.

After all, the number of spies sent by the various countries was too rampant. At this rate, the Star Moon Army would not be able to march or fight. Even a fart in the camp would be spread by the spies.

Therefore, it was necessary to deal with it.

However, as the number of intelligence agents increased, even Northern Glacier Town could not cope with them.

To put it simply, the prison was filled with spies, and there were still more spies pouring into Northern Glacier Town.

At the most exaggerated moment.

As long as they were outsiders, they would be able to find out that eight out of ten of them were intelligence spies.

Intelligence scouts from all directions gathered together.

Other than some core secrets that were still buried in the deepest depths, the rest could only be left to him.

After all, things like population numbers and army numbers were hard to keep

After all, things like population numbers and army numbers were hard to keep secret. If the Six Nations wanted to know, the Starmoon Army couldn't hide them even if they wanted to.

Rather than wasting their energy by hiding it, it was better to put this card on the table so that everyone could have a clear understanding of the Starmoon Army's strength.

Thus, as spies from various countries conducted in-depth investigations in the northwest.

The various countries' understanding of Northern Glacier Town and the Starmoon Army was also becoming more and more complete.

At the very beginning.

The Star Moon Army declared their rebellion, and the Great Zhou Empire mobilized hundreds of thousands of soldiers to attack Northern Glacier Town.

In the end, they were defeated by the Starmoon Army.

It even allowed the Qin army to break through Futian Pass, causing the Great Zhou to suffer heavy losses.

This was the first time the Starmoon Troop had appeared in the intelligence system of each country.

As the saying went, if you didn't make a move, it would be fine. Once you made a move, it would be a heavy bomb.

The six states were somewhat amazed by the powerful combat strength displayed by the Star Moon Army in that battle. They had actually relied on the strength of two places to forcefully resist the attack of the Great Zhou's nearly one million troops.

At that time, the Star Moon Army had just emerged.

Through this battle, it attracted the attention of some countries.

However, at that time, no one really cared about the Starmoon Army.

There was no other way. To the other countries at that time, the so-called Star Moon Army was just a slightly larger ant. Before they had a military spirit and obtained enough dazzling military achievements, no one would pay attention to a side court force in the desolate northwest of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

However, what the various countries did not expect was...

Not only was the overall strength of the Star Moon Army not limited by the poor northwest region, but it was also rising steadily. At its peak, the Star Moon Army won three battles and burned down the three world-famous passes on the Great Zhou's northwest defense line, the Crouching Dragon Pass, Crouching Tiger Pass, and Futian Pass!!!

Even though there was some exaggeration in it.

But no matter what, this was enough to shake the world.

Even if no one wanted to admit it, at this moment, the combat power displayed by the Starmoon Troop was enough to move anyone.

As a powerful army that had just awakened its military soul, the Star Moon Army had completely separated itself from the miscellaneous armies in the past. It had become a seventh force independent of the other six dukes.

Although the Star Moon Army's foundation was still a little thin compared to other countries, its sharpness was so strong that even the Great Zhou, which was a vassal state, could not temporarily retreat.

Therefore, after discovering that the Star Moon Troop was becoming stronger and stronger, the various countries finally became completely vigilant.

And now, the fact that all the countries in the world had sent out so many scout legions was enough to explain many problems.

At the critical moment of the war between the two countries, sending all the elite intelligence agents to the two places in the northwest where the Star

Moon Army was located was definitely giving the Star Moon Army enough face.

Of course, these investments would not be wasted.

The effect was definitely very powerful.

As the spies entered.

The various countries began to obtain detailed information about the Star Moon Army, North Glacier Town, and the Northwest.

After reading the contents of the intelligence report sent by the spy.

All the countries couldn't help but gasp.

At this moment, they realized that the rise of the Star Moon Troop was not sudden, but completely predictable...It could be said that the birth and growth of the Star-Moon Troop was an incredible history of monster growth. The various dream-like experiences had blinded countless people's eyes!

In just over twenty years.

Under Li Yueming's leadership, the Star Moon Troop had grown from a few thousand soldiers to a super army of 500,000 armored soldiers and nearly a million reserve troops!!!

According to the information, the Star Moon Army not only had the flexibility to command, but they also had the discipline to execute orders. Not only did he have the spirit to fight to the death, but he also had top-notch combat strength..

Chapter 574: If You Rise Because of This, You Will Die Because of This

He was a hexagonal warrior.

If it was just this, it would still be considered as a call.

After all, this was a fantasy world. No matter how powerful an ordinary army was, they could not threaten powerful cultivators.

However, the problem was that the Star-Moon Army had awakened their military soul some time ago.

This was even more terrifying. After obtaining the Army Soul, the Star-Moon Troop's combat power had directly gone from the ceiling of a normal army to the ceiling of an Army Soul troop.

The difference between them was like heaven and earth.

At this moment, even the originally insufferably arrogant Great Zhou had to consider if they would lose a few teeth if they wanted to attack the Star Moon Army.

Under this premise, the Northern Glacier Town that stood behind the Star-Moon Army was another legend.

When Li Yueming led the Star Moon Army to garrison North Glacier Town,

North Glacier Town was just a tidal town that could not even be found on the Great Zhou's territory. Even if it was trampled to the ground by the beast tide of the Hundred Thousand Mountains one day, no one would care.

However, with the arrival of Li Yueming and the Star Moon Army.

In the same short period of twenty years, the population of Northern Glacier Town had already exceeded one million!!!

In 20 years, the number of residents in North Glacier Town had increased by 100 times!

What kind of concept was this?

Even if Northern Glacier Town had been accepting refugees all this time, the population couldn't have exploded so quickly, right?

What kind of incredible magic did Li Yueming use to make such a run-down place that couldn't be seen with any special features suddenly become the largest and most prosperous city in the entire northeast of the Great Zhou?

When this news spread, the first reaction of the rulers of the various countries was almost disbelief.

It was only after the scouts repeatedly confirmed the accuracy of the information that they were finally willing to believe this story that was like a fantasy to them.

Not only did the population and tax revenue of Northern Glacier Town double year after year.

The population of the two places in the northwest was also growing explosively.

Originally, after the Qin army invaded the Northwest, the population had declined greatly.

However, under Li Yueming's rule, it only took less than a decade for the population of the entire northwest to double.

One had to know that this wasn't one million doubling to two million, but ten to twenty million doubling to thirty to forty million!!!

This was no longer a fantasy for the monarchs of the various countries.

It was something that he didn't even dare to dream about.

But now, the Star-Moon Army and Northern Glacier Town had accomplished this incredible feat.

It was no wonder that the Star Moon Army could barely resist the Great Zhou's attack more than 20 years ago. After more than 20 years, the Star Moon Army could already fight the Great Zhou head-on.

After all, compared to the unacceptable numbers and stories on the list.

This was easier for them to accept.

After discovering how terrifying Northern Glacier Town was, he was shocked.

The Six Nations, which had been fighting to the death, began to gradually stop.

There was no other choice, whether it was the Star Moon Army, Northern Glacier Town, or the entire Northwest... The speed of development was too fast.

From the establishment of the Star Moon Army to the garrison of North Glacier Town.

The whole process did not exceed 30 years.

For some powerful Ki Refiners, thirty years was just a blink of an eye. However, in just 30 years, the Star Moon Troop had grown to such a terrifying extent.

If he was given another 30 years to keep a low profile, what would happen to the Star Moon Army?

To be able to stand tall in the long river of time, the doctors of the six dynasties were clearly not completely vegetarian. They were shrewd when it came to protecting the cake in their hands!

If not for the fact that the original leader of the Star Moon Troop, Li Yueming, had been assassinated by the powerful Qi Practitioners sent by the Great Zhou, and that his life and death were unknown.

By now, the Six Nations had already tacitly put aside the war and formed an alliance to eliminate the Star Moon Troop, which had great potential.

However, the situation was not at its worst yet.

However, the Star Moon Troop was still in a tricky situation.

First of all, as a neighboring country and sworn enemy, the Great Zhou had suffered several losses at the hands of the Star Moon Army. Now, due to the war with the Great Qi, they did not have the energy to teach the Star Moon Army a lesson.

But now, Big Qi, who was still fighting with their dog brains, was slowly retreating.

It seemed that they wanted to wait for the Great Zhou and the Star Moon Army to fight to the death before taking advantage of it.

Not only that, but the Qin army outside the Human Emperor Pass in the northwest was also restless. According to the news from outside the pass, the Qin army seemed to be contacting the nomads in the grassland outside the border, preparing to repeat the scene when they annihilated the Great Qian Dynasty five thousand years ago.

They would use this opportunity to annex the entire northwest territory of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

Currently, although these three countries had not openly discussed it, a large net targeting Northern Glacier Town had already quietly taken shape. If these countries felt that there was a profit to be gained from casting the net, the entire northwest region and the Star-Moon Army would probably be divided up by them.

The enemy was right in front of them.

However, the internal affairs of the Starmoon Troop were not as calm as they appeared on the surface.

After taking down the three impregnable passes of Fu Long, Fu Hu, and Fu Tian, Li Ruxing immediately transferred the main force of the Star Moon Army led by Ding Yi and Huang Li 'er back from the northeast region.

After all, Li Yueming, who was the core of the entire team, was no longer in the camp. If the main force of the Star-Moon Army was still not in the camp, there might be some trouble in the northwest.

It was not easy to stabilize the chaotic situation.

However, the problem of the internal factions of the Star Moon Army had become a hurdle that Li Ruxing could not bypass.

If it was half a year ago, Li Ruxing would have no problem becoming the temporary leader of the Star Moon Troop.

Half a year had already passed.

Li Ruxing did not have the official authorization of Li Yueming, and he did not have enough support internally. How could he continue to be the leader of Northern Ice River Town and the Star Moon Army?

Whether it was Ding Yi or Wang Biao, their experience and background in the Star Moon Army and Northern Ice River Town were much deeper than Li Ruxing.

Ding Yi didn't say anything.

When Li Yueming first established the Star Moon Army, Ding Yi was the instructor of the Star Moon Army. He was a well-deserved veteran.

He also had Huang Li 'er and the other reincarnators as his hardcore support.

Even Wang Biao and Qi Fan's influence in Northern Ice River Town was greater than Li Ruxing's.

If Li Yueming was here, as the well-deserved boss of the Star Moon Army, he would naturally be able to consolidate these resources and suppress all those who were dissatisfied.

However, Li Yueming's life and death were still unknown.

How could Li Ruxing command this group of people with insufficient qualifications?

The reincarnators had already done their duty and did not cause too much trouble because of the power struggle. Even when Li Ruxing took over Northern Ice River Town, although they were a little unhappy, they still pinched their noses and reluctantly accepted it.

They worked together to get through the most dangerous phase of the power transfer.

Now, the situation had stabilized a little.

The thoughts of the reincarnators naturally could not be avoided.

The Star Moon Troop's internal forces began to make their own plans.

After all, the Star Moon Troop was no longer the same as before. Not only did it have powerful combat strength, but it also had an indestructible army spirit. It was one of the strongest armies in the entire world.

If he could take over the Star-Moon Army.

Then, he could become the strongest existence among the reincarnators.

Although the reincarnators still had a certain degree of loyalty to the Star Moon Army, after Li Yueming left, they began to calculate their own interests.

As the saying goes, if you rise with this, you will perish with this.

The growth of the Star Moon Army was the result of a group of reincarnators working hard to shape it. The current decline of the Star Moon Army also began with the separation of the reincarnators.

Li Ruxing was very smart.

However, as a woman, she was not Li Yueming.

Although she knew that the Star Moon Army was facing a catastrophe, she was powerless to solve it. She could only manage to mediate and maintain the balance on the surface.

At this moment, Li Ruxing was sitting in the big tent where Li Yueming once lived. He lowered his eyes and said, "Still no news?"

Standing in front of her was a Li family secret guard dressed in black. Ever since Li Yueming's whereabouts were unknown after the assassination attempt.

The people of the Northwest, the soldiers of the Star Moon Army, and the secret guards of the Li family were all looking for him.

But now, half a year had almost passed, but there was still no news of Li Yueming.

This made Li Ruxing, who was already restless, even more worried.

His willow-like eyebrows were raised, and his entire forehead was furrowed into a ball.

She didn't know how long she could last.

But at least before her brother came back, she had to help Li Yueming hold on to the empire that he had fought so hard to build.

Chapter 575: I Don't Want To Become A Peerless Hero, I Only Want Your Safety!_1

The Great Zhou Dynasty, Year 772.

It was another early winter that was no different from a normal day.

There were snowflakes floating in the sky. The light snow fell into the river, but it didn't cause any ripples.

In the white northwest, the rolling North Ice River was like a wild horse that had lost its reins, brimming with a boiling hot breath.

After so many years of cultivation and development, the Ice City was like the North Ice River, full of eye-catching vitality.

Northern Glacier Town had officially changed its name to Northern Ice City. It had jumped from a remote place to an economic and cultural center recognized by all the forces in the northwest.

The population of the Northern Ice City also doubled for the second time.

Currently, just the population count alone had already exceeded two million.

Such an unprecedentedly prosperous and huge city was not inferior to the big cities in the prosperous Central Plains. It was hard to imagine that it had been built from scratch in a world of ice and snow.

Moreover, it had only been less than 30 years.

This achievement not only made Northern Ice River City and the Star Moon Army feel extremely proud.

At the same time, it also received widespread attention from all over the world.

Many people in the various countries could not figure out how the Star Moon

Army and Li Yueming had created such an incredible miracle. Everyone wanted to see if they could learn anything from the successful experience of Northern Glacier Town and use it to change their own country.

After all, as the call for unification grew louder and louder, the wars between the various countries became more and more intense.

It was rare for countries to fight to the death.

The current war had already progressed to a war between the allied countries.

The Great Song and Great Zhou in the south joined forces to resist the Great Qin and Great Ming's attacks, while the Great Qi in the north signed a non-aggression agreement with the Great Tang in the southeast to jointly attack the Great Zhou and Great Ming.

The intensity of the war between the countries had directly increased to another level.

Now, a battle with less than 100,000 people on the battlefield could not cause any waves.

At least 200,000 people would be involved in a frontal battle to be considered a large-scale battlefield.

Under such circumstances, all countries were inevitably caught in a strange circle.

That was the military inner volume.

For example, if Great Qin added 100,000 soldiers, the Great Zhou and Great Song would not lose, so they could only grit their teeth and add 150,000 soldiers.

The Great Tang had increased its army by one hundred thousand, and Great Ming could only grit his teeth and increase it by one hundred thousand.

In this cruel arms race, no one dared to be timid.

Even if they could not withstand the pressure, they had to forcefully withstand it. Otherwise, there was the risk of being attacked by the other countries.

Every country was under tremendous pressure, whether it was the economy or the people's livelihood. Some people of insight naturally began to think of ways to strengthen the strength of their countries in order to become the final winner in this arms race that swept across the world.

In the beginning, each country did not have a clear learning goal.

Now, with the rapid rise of Northern Glacier Town and the Starmoon Army, they had found a very good teacher.

The various countries naturally wouldn't miss such a good opportunity.

Because of this, the various countries had never relaxed their surveillance of Northern Glacier Town and the Starmoon Troop.

Countless spies had been trying their best to find out what was so special about this place.

As a result, the spies reported all sorts of strange phenomena in Northern Glacier Town and the northwest.

For example, not only did Northern Ice River City have a high yield of wheat, but it was also particularly cold-resistant.

For the same one mu of land, the wheat planted in the area of Northern Ice River City could produce more than two mu of land in other places.

Another example was the same Mu of land.

The farmers of Northern Ice River City could produce more than two acres of land from other regions.

Damn it.

They all had one shoulder and two heads. Could it be that the peasants of Northern Ice River City were smarter than the peasants of other regions?

Other than that, the citizens of Northern Ice River City were particularly orderly.

Not only were the streets swept clean, but every household was also regularly inspected for hygiene. They also had food and clothes to wear, and they were willing to pay taxes every year.

They were all the same people.

Why was it that under the governance of Northern Ice River City, the citizens were all law-abiding and even willing to voluntarily hand over money and food? As for the territories under their command, just sending some soldiers to the battlefield was more miserable than taking their lives?

Of course, these were not the most ridiculous things.

The most ridiculous thing is that everyone in the area ruled by North Ice River City can accept learning! !!

That's right. Whether it was the son of a farmer or the son of a blacksmith, they could all enter the school to undergo the same training. When this news was known by the ruling class of other countries.

Everyone was dumbfounded.

In fact, as long as one was a decision-maker with a brain, they would know that if Northern Ice River City's theory could really be implemented, the benefits it would bring to the country and the people would be terrifying.

But the problem was that the reason why the Six Nations were able to stand tall, and the reason why the major families could look down on human lives like grass, was because they blocked the path of the poor to rise up and established a basic order that respected bloodlines.

No matter how the six dynasties fought, they were still the descendants of the Renhuang of the Tiandu Clan 10,000 years ago. The reason why they could sit on the throne for so many years was because of the bloodline and throne passed down from generation to generation..

Chapter 576: I Don 't Want To Become A Peerless Hero, I

Only Want Your Safety!_2

The children of farmers could only be farmers, and the children of craftsmen could only be craftsmen.

The son of a king was born to be a king who enjoyed the respect of tens of thousands of people.

Now, if they wanted to overthrow this theory, it would be tantamount to destroying their own foundation.

Even if they had such thoughts, would they really dare to do so?

If he revealed this thought today, he would probably be hacked into pieces by the nobles all over the world and hung on the city gate as a background wall.

In the beginning, the policies implemented in the Northwest were too novel compared to other countries.

As a result, the spies from all over the world did not know where to go to sort out the situation.

However, as time passed, countless people of insight from various countries continued to study Northern Ice River City. They finally figured out the various policies and strange phenomena of Northern Ice River Town.

However, after understanding the political context of Northern Glacier Town and the foundation of their settlement, they were able to find a way out. Not only did the countries not learn anything, but they also felt a bone-deep fear.

Because they knew better than anyone else that the reason why they could stand at a high place and point out the country was not because they were capable, but because they were born with good luck.

After confirming that the success of Northern Glacier Town could not be imitated, and that it was a poison to their existence, they were all stunned.

The various countries began to target Northern Ice River City.

The Starmoon Troop had just awakened its military soul and was one of the strongest troops in the world.

At this critical juncture, the various countries would definitely not dare to use force against Northern Ice River City.

However, just because they couldn't physically destroy the Northern Ice City didn't mean that they couldn't destroy the Star Moon Army from other angles.

For example, he sent out a fence-sitter to slander Li Yueming.

Of course, Li Yueming had only disappeared for a few years now, and his control over Northern Ice River City was still very firm. It should be impossible to disintegrate Northern Ice River City from this aspect.

It was impossible for this generation, but what about the next generation?

Li Yueming was no longer around, and his will could no longer continue. Moreover, humans were selfish. Not everyone was like Li Yueming and the other reincarnators, who were indifferent to their descendants and their afterlife.

Most people had selfish motives.

They wanted their children to be different from other people's children, and they wanted their lives to be better than others.

Moreover, the reincarnators who had accompanied Li Yueming to establish the Star Moon Army had begun to make their own plans.

How could he expect others to have no selfish motives?

Therefore, although the offensive in this area had not succeeded yet, the Six

Nations knew that as long as there was no more Li Yueming in the Star-Moon Army, it was only a matter of time before the political system of North Glacier Town collapsed.

Of course, they couldn't wait that long.

Therefore, they sent out many lobbyists, and many people called them strategists.

This method was still very useful.

Under the temptation of all kinds of benefits, many people of insight in the northwest left their homeland and went to other countries to implement reforms.

This was naturally a critical blow to the Starmoon Troop, which was already in a precarious situation.

After all, it would take ten to twenty years to nurture a talent.

However, it only took three days for each country to poach a talent.

Judging from this efficiency, the entire Northwest region would be dug into an empty shell in a few days.

Some people sensed the sinister intentions behind it.

Therefore, he went to North Glacier Town overnight to report to the current nominal leader, Li Ruxing.

However, Li Ruxing didn't seem to care about this at all. He just waved his hand and said, "If the sky wants to rain, the mother wants to get married. Let them be. The Starmoon Army can't keep such people, and the northwest doesn't need them either."

Hearing this, many Star Moon Army veterans had mixed feelings.

Not long ago, when the leader of the Star Moon Army was still Li Yueming, how could there be a situation where the Star Moon Army was indifferent when someone tried to poach him?

Now that Li Yueming had left and Li Ruxing had taken over, the Star Moon Army's power had dropped by more than one level.

Of course, they did not despise Li Ruxing.

As the core members of the Starmoon Troop, they were the veterans who had joined the Starmoon Troop since they were in North City. They were one of the few people who had abandoned their own interests and only considered the future of the Starmoon Troop.

Because they were the same as Li Yueming, they were the creators of this army.

They didn't want to see the Star Moon Army weaken and fall after losing Li Yueming.

It was because of this that they knew how much pressure Li Ruxing was carrying on his shoulders.

As a woman, she was not the founder of this army.

To be able to maintain the stability of the Starmoon Troop on the surface under the covetous gaze of the other countries, balance the contradictions of the major interest groups, and maintain the normal operation of the entire northwest region was already a very remarkable thing.

Moreover, under Li Xingyue's rule, North Glacier Town was no longer as glorious as it was when Li Yueming was still around.

However, it was still rising steadily and did not show much weakness.

This was a god among gods.

Even though Li Yueming had already made a rough plan for the Star-Moon Army and the Northwest for the next few decades or even nearly a hundred years, he was still in the dark.

However, just advancing according to Li Yueming's plan was not something that an ordinary person could do..

Chapter 577: I Don't Want To Become A Peerless Hero, I Only Want Your Safety!_3

Li Ruxing was able to achieve a comprehensive balance in such a complicated political environment. It had to be said that he had exhausted all his energy.

The reason why the group of elders were feeling emotional was because their previous leader was Li Yueming.

That was all.

.0.

Year 7825 of the Great Zhou Royal Calendar.

It had been fifteen years since Li Yueming was assassinated.

It was another midwinter with heavy snow.

At three o'clock in the morning, the cold wind outside the window howled.

Li Ruxing was sitting in the old tent, reading documents carefully.

Outside the tent, someone knocked on the wooden door.

Li Ruxing put down the scroll in his hand and rubbed his temples. He looked a little tired.

However, this expression only appeared for a moment before it immediately disappeared. His face once again returned to its usual emotionless expression as he softly said, "Come in!"

A moment later, Li Ruyue came in with a brazier.

Seeing that it was Li Ruyue, the coldness on Li Ruxing's face lessened slightly. He said softly, "Sister, why are you here so late at night?"

Li Ruyue was holding a baby in her arms, and her body was emitting a motherly glow. However, when she looked at Li Ruxing's increasingly thin figure, her face was full of worry. She said, "Xing'er, take a rest!"

Li Ruxing's expression stiffened for a moment, and she subconsciously pulled a long face.

However, after a while, he sighed and said, "Little brother's whereabouts are still unknown. These are all his hard work. I have to help him look after them!"

Li Ruyue pursed her lips. She was already married. After so many years, she had long accepted the fact that she was mediocre. Her mentality was no longer as childish as before.

At this moment, she knew that it was useless to persuade him.

He could only put the child in his arms on the bedding at the side and add a few more firewood to the fire in Li Ruxing's tent. At the same time, he said, "Many years ago, father had already led the secret guards and the Star Moon Army special forces to search deep into the Hundred Thousand Mountains. The Fox King in the extremely cold snow mountain also promised us that he would pay attention..."

"However, after so many years, I have never found any traces of this little brother...Do you think we should accept reality?"

Hearing this, Li Ruxing's eyes flashed and he remained silent.

The two sisters listened to the sound of the firewood exploding in the darkness without saying a word.

Finally, Li Ruxing sat up from the ground and picked up the child not far away. She looked at him and said, "Regardless of what you think, I know that little brother will definitely not die. The reason why there has been no news for so many years is likely because he has his difficulties..."

"Sister, do you know? When I was young, I told me a story. In the story, Zixia Fairy said that the person she loved was a peerless hero. One day, he would step on a seven-colored cloud to marry her."

"However, she guessed the beginning correctly, but not the end."

"But I am different. I believe that I can guess the beginning and also the end."

Looking at the indifferent Li Ruxing in front of her, Li Ruyue couldn't help but feel moved.

Li Yueming had never told her these messy stories. Perhaps it was because she was more old-fashioned when she was young, and Li Ruxing's personality was more playful. She always liked to pester Li Yueming.

'Stupid little brother, stupid little brother...'

We don't want you to become the hero in the story, we just want you to be safe!

Chapter 578: North Glacier Town (1)

Year 7830 of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

It had been twenty years since Li Yueming was assassinated.

It was another bone-chilling winter.

Different from the winters in the past, the entire northwest was filled with a somber atmosphere this winter.

Through Li Ruxing's mobilization in Northern Ice River Town, troops came out from the military camps in various places and were sent to various places to show their presence to all those with ulterior motives.

However, this did not mean that Li Xing and Northern Glacier Town had a stronger ruling power.

After all, when Li Yueming was in control of Northern Ice River Town, he was never worried that the major forces in the northwest would not abide by the orders of Northern Ice River Town. After all, although the strength of the Star-Moon Army at that time was not as strong as it was now, it was unified enough. From top to bottom, it was extremely clear. There was no need to worry that someone would fill their pockets after the orders were issued.

But now that it was in Li Ruxing's hands, this situation obviously no longer existed. The Star Moon Army had reached the point where they had no choice but to send out a violent organization like the army to show the prestige of Northern Ice River Town.

Over the years, when Li Ruxing issued and implemented various decrees, the backlash was gradually increasing.

All of the above signs indicated that the Star Moon Army was no longer as pure as before.

Moreover, the internal conflicts had accumulated to a certain extent.

A few years ago, under Li Ruxing's efforts, the internal conflicts of the Star Moon Army had always been under control.

However, as the war outside became more and more intense over the years, the internal conflicts within the Star Moon Troop also continued to accumulate. Now, it was almost unstoppable.

Even though Li Ruxing was still using all the means he could to prevent the Star Moon Army from splitting up.

However, this was a collection of conflicting interests of all parties.

How could Li Ruxing suppress him?

Even if Li Ruxing's political talent was full, he could only contain this kind of thing for a while, but he could never eradicate it.

At present, the voices of the outside world about unifying the world and becoming the second human emperor of the Tiandu clan were getting louder and louder.

The intensity of the wars between countries was also rising.

According to Li Yueming's initial plan, the Star Moon Army should focus on developing and strengthening themselves.

However, as they watched the other reincarnators crazily make contributions on the battlefield and complete their missions, how could the reincarnators in the Star Moon Army not feel anything?

In addition, the various countries had spent a lot of effort to poach the Star Moon Army over the years.

Especially Huang Li 'er and the others who were technical experts. Countless batches of spies from the Six Nations had come, all of them with great sincerity, wanting to poach them to their own countries to improve various crops and tools.

Although only a small number of the middle and lower levels who joined later could not resist the temptation, no core reincarnators of the Star Moon Army had left yet.

However, these incidents had undoubtedly intensified the division within the Star Moon Troop.

It was not until this winter that Li Ruxing, who had been struggling, finally could not balance the internal contradictions of the Star Moon Army. She could only rely on Li Yueming and her own remaining power to forcefully suppress the possible chaos.

Fortunately, the core members of the Star Moon Army were all young people from the Northwest. They were loyal defenders of the system implemented by the Star Moon Army. Therefore, although the reincarnators had their own thoughts, they did not dare to point the blame at the Star Moon Army and Li Ruxing himself.

That's why.

Li Ruxing, who had a bad premonition, immediately summoned the Star Moon Army.

They were prepared to use their powerful military forces to suppress the upcoming chaos.

There was no other way. Li Ruxing knew that she did not have the ability to change the current situation. All she could do was to act as a paperper and paste the holes where they appeared. The only thing that stood out was the word drag.

Now that the Star Moon Army was showing signs of splitting up, Li Ruxing was naturally the first to stand up and organize it.

However, Li Ruxing still underestimated the seriousness of the situation.

Even though she had already dispatched the Star Moon Army to various places, there was still a huge commotion within the Star Moon Army.

Qi Fan led his fellow disciples and gathered thousands of members of the Star Moon Army's Horse Raising Department. They caused a commotion in the stable and disturbed tens of thousands of horses.

When the Star Moon Army came to check on the situation, they drove the well-built horses that they had prepared and left Northern Ice River Town overnight. They most likely wanted to leave the Star Moon Army and join Great Qin or Great Qi.

Li Ruxing broke out in a cold sweat when he heard the news.

One had to know that although the horse breeder was not a very eye-catching department, its importance was indescribable.

Whether or not the Starmoon Troop could come and go freely depended on whether or not their warhorses were healthy and healthy.

But now, as the core member of the Horse Raising Department, Qi Fan was not only prepared to leave, but he was also prepared to leave with his fellow disciples.

If they succeeded, it would be a devastating blow to the Starmoon Troop.

Of course, Li Ruxing was not completely unprepared for this. In the end, he was stopped by Huang Li 'er and Ding Yi, who had already laid an ambush on the road.

In the Gobi Desert of the Northern Lands.

Qi Fan, who was galloping on his horse, led hundreds of riders and left without looking back.

Suddenly, a group of people appeared on both sides of the road.

After calming down, he realized that it was Ding Yi and Huang Li 'er. Qi Fan was stunned for a moment before he couldn't help but smile,""Li Ruxing really has some skills.. He was actually able to make you ambush him here..."

Chapter 579: 243, Where to Go and Where to Go?

Huang Li 'er's expression was complicated. She walked up and said,""Are you really determined to leave?"

"Is there a need to repeatedly confirm this? Could it be that in your eyes, I, Qi Fan, am someone who can't even make my own decisions?"As he spoke, Qi Fan smiled.

Actually, he really wanted to be a little more carefree, but in the end, he couldn't. He sighed and said, "Although I am very unhappy with you, I really do not wish to fight with you on account of our past relationship..."

"I can promise that in the future, I will not help the Qin country to attack Northern Ice River Town. Make way for me, I have sent you a thousand miles, but in the end, we will part ways!"

Back then, the reason why Qi Fan was willing to stay in Northern Ice River Town and was willing to bring Great Qin's fellow disciples over was not only because he recognized Li Yueming's identity as the chosen one, but also because he wanted to establish a master-servant relationship with Little Fox.

But now, Li Yueming's life and death were unknown. He had disappeared for a full 20 years.

The agreement between the two of them had long dissipated with the passage of time.

Thus, Qi Fan's departure was unexpected, but also reasonable.

Seeing the determination on his face.

Huang Li 'er knew that it would be very difficult to persuade her to come back. However, they had worked together under the same roof for decades. Even if they were only reincarnators and did not have true feelings, they still had a certain level of friendship.

She lowered her head and thought for a moment before taking two steps back."Since that's the case, you and your 'senior brothers' can leave, but the other core members can't!"

This was already her biggest concession.

If Qi Fan were to take away all the core members of the logistics department...

Then the Star Moon Army would definitely suffer a great loss.

Qi Fan obviously knew this, so he did not hesitate and nodded."Sure. Actually, I don't want to take them away. I only want them to stay away from this vortex that is about to explode!"

Seeing that he agreed, Huang Li 'er nodded and retreated to the side without saying anything else.

Thus, Qi Fan's gaze fell on Ding Yi.

Among the reincarnators of the entire Star Moon Army, only Huang Li 'er, Ding Yi, and other core elders had not changed their minds. After all, they were the first to join and establish the Star Moon Army, and they had accumulated a lot of points in the subsequent growth of the Star Moon Army.

If Qi Fan and the others were workers, then Ding Yi, Huang Li 'er, and Tian Liang were equivalent to the major shareholders of the Star Moon Army.

The interests of both sides were completely different.

Now that he had settled Huang Li 'er, he had not convinced Ding Yi to let him

Ding Yi's speech was as simple and direct as ever."I don't know what kind of agreement you've reached with General Li, but no matter what, you've already made so much effort in the Stars and Moons Army and gained a lot of things that you want. Are you sure you want to betray me at this critical moment and ruin your past efforts?"

These words could be said to be pointing to the source.

In fact, if it was just because of the agreement with Li Yueming.

Then, when Li Yueming went missing, everything was already gone.

However, after so many years, Qi Fan had never left. It was only in recent years that he had completely made up his mind.

The reason why he went around in circles was also a kind of struggle for Qi Fan. Just like what Ding Yi had said, he had spent a lot of effort in the Star Moon Army. Of course, he had also gained a lot.

Now that they were about to leave this place that they had painstakingly built, how could they not feel any fluctuations in their hearts?

However, after a few struggles, he still made up his mind.

He had no choice. If he didn't leave at this critical moment, he was afraid that he really wouldn't have the chance to leave.

The war between the countries that had lasted for decades finally began to come to an end. In such a fantasy world where productivity was not very developed, decades of war had become a long-lasting and fierce war.

Many of the young men in the various countries had been wiped out.

The reason why he hadn't stopped and continued to fight was because he was holding his breath and unwilling to relax.

It could be foreseen that after this war ended, just licking his wounds to recover his vitality would probably take decades.

Under such circumstances, the Star Moon Army, as the place with the most intact military strength other than the Six Nations, would naturally become a thorn in the Six Nations' side.

After all, the Six Nations were fighting this war to re-establish the world order.

It would be better if they could unify the country. If they could not, they could also redistribute the cake by starting a war.

Now, Great Qin and Great Ming had become the biggest victors of this war.

As the main opponents of Great Qin and Great Ming, Great Song and Great Zhou naturally suffered the greatest losses.

Not only did Great Qin break through the Great Zhou's Futian Pass and plunder a large amount of treasures, but it also occupied 12 cities in Great Song. It used forceful methods to make Great Song sign the terms of ceding territory, acknowledging that these cities would become Great Qin's territory in the future.

The Great Ming Dynasty was not to be outdone. Not only did they sign an annual tribute agreement with the Great Song, but they also occupied ten cities of the Great Song. They also made clear the ownership of these ten cities through the terms.

On the surface, the Great Song suffered the most.

In fact, the Great Zhou did not fawn over him either.

This was because Great Qin and Great Ming had joined forces to attack Great Song, and Great Song happened to be the buffer zone between Great Zhou and these two extremely aggressive neighboring countries.

If the Great Zhou did not care about the Great Song, then after the two countries annexed the Great Song, the Great Zhou would definitely be the next to be annexed. In order not to face the Great Qin and Great Ming's army, the Great Zhou could only pinch its nose and continue to help the Great Song..

Chapter 580: North Ice River Town (3)

Not to mention the aid in terms of various materials, money, and food, it was simply countless.

At the most critical period, the Great Zhou had to grit their teeth and send troops to the Great Song.

This kind of loss could not be seen on the surface, but it had indeed caused a huge impact on the Great Zhou.

In just a few decades of war, the national treasury's thousands of years of reserves of grain and gold and silver had been mostly used up.

Moreover, the Great Zhou was still at war with the Great Qi in the northeast. Although there was no winner between the two sides, the Great Qi had the advantage of sea trade. It was originally a rich country. If they fought with the Great Qi in terms of financial and material resources, the Great Zhou would inevitably be unable to support them alone.

In addition, the Starmoon Troop was still pestering them.

Therefore, although the Great Zhou's losses on the surface did not seem to be as great as the Great Song's, the actual losses were not any smaller than the Great Song's.

The only difference was that the Great Song was forcefully cutting the soil, while the Great Zhou was forcefully cutting the flesh.

In this war, the Great Qi and the Great Tang did not gain any advantage.

There was no need to say much about the Great Qi. Although they had a lot of money and food, they had not had any conflicts with other countries on land for many years. Even if their overall strength was very strong, their military strength on land was not strong for the time being.

The Great Tang, on the other hand, was in a rather awkward position, and there were still some ethnic minorities that had not been wiped out behind it. They needed to send troops to guard against them all year round, so they could not gain much from this war.

However, no matter what happened to the above few countries, in the end, almost all of them had bloodshot eyes.

Meanwhile, the Star-Moon Army had been developing in Northern Glacier Town for decades, and had not participated in any wars during this period.

Now that the dust had settled, how could the other countries let Northern Glacier Town have the chance to reap the benefits?

Therefore, it could be predicted that before the war came to an end, the various countries would definitely launch a military operation against Northern Glacier Town. They would not let the Star-Moon Army take advantage of them for free.

It was also because of this that the number of members who left the Starmoon Troop had increased year by year.

Many people with insight sensed that something was wrong. In addition, there were a lot of places for them to choose from. It would be strange if they did not run!

Now that Qi Fan had left North Ice River Town, other than not seeing any hope, there was also this reason.

Seeing that Ding Yi was still staring at him, Qi Fan couldn't help but smile and say, "'I want to continue working here, but is there any meaning to my existence here?'"

"Without Li Yueming, the Star Moon Army has already fallen. The only reason why I can still struggle on at death's door is because Li Ruxing is forcefully holding on...'

"However, you and I both know that the reason why Northern Ice River Town is different from the rest is not because the town itself is different, but because the person is different. Therefore, in my opinion, rather than watching it rise and fall, it would be better to leave before the impression is ruined."

These words were very honest.

To be honest, when this group of reincarnators first followed Li Yueming, their goal was very simple-to complete the most difficult mission and obtain more points and rewards from the Reincarnation Mark.

However, as more and more things were invested.

The attitude of the reincarnators towards Northern Ice River Town had also quietly changed. Rather than saying that Northern Ice River Town was a tool for them to obtain points for the Reincarnation Mark, it was better to say that it had quietly become a part of their dreams.

Here, in this once unknown Northern Ice River Town, a grand dynasty that swept across the world was established.

It had become their common dream and goal.

But now, the leader who had made this grand goal, the man who had already become a legend in their hearts, had suddenly disappeared. As followers, the reincarnators naturally lost their direction.

Looking at Qi Fan's gloomy eyes, Ding Yi became silent.

There was a brief silence between the two of them. The only sound left in the world was the sound of the burning torches.

After a long time, Ding Yi said with some difficulty, "If I say yes, I say yes. General Li might be coming back soon. Are you willing to stay and give Northern Ice River Town some time?"
