Chapter 591: The Dark Truth (1)

As the second-generation leader of North Ice River Town after Li Yueming left, Li Ruxing had always been the backbone of North Ice River Town.

Li Yueming had yet to return.

Li Ruxing, who was the backbone of the army, was prepared to give up the position of the city lord of Northern Ice River Town and the general of the Star Moon Army.

Wouldn't the backbone of the entire Northern Ice River Town be scattered?

The rise of Northern Ice River Town was too swift and violent. In just a few decades, it had completed the journey that many dynasties had taken hundreds or even thousands of years to complete.

However, there were still many internal conflicts that had not been resolved in time.

However, when Li Yueming was still around, these conflicts could be suppressed by Li Yueming's position in the Star Moon Army. Even if Li Yueming was assassinated, Li Ruxing had gained the recognition of most of the Internal people through a series of operations.

That was why it had not erupted yet.

If Li Ruxing really stepped down from all his positions in North Glacier Town, then it was imaginable that whether it was Huang Li'er, Ding Yi, or any other reincarnators, they would not have the ability to take over this stall.

"What's going on? Northern Glacier Town just defeated the allied forces of the three countries. Shouldn't they be slowly recuperating now? Why did it suddenly fall into internal strife now?"

"Li Ruxing is the sister of Yue Mingming, and these people have made many contributions in North Glacier Town, so they can still manage internal conflicts. If Li Ruxing abdicates, the other core high-level qualifications are enough, but can they still manage internal conflicts?"

"The world is indeed in chaos. Every day, something that hasn't been seen for many years appears."

"Who knows? Actually, no matter how you look at it, a divided Northern Ice River Town is much better than a unified Northern Ice River Town. I would rather have Northern Ice River Town collapse!"

Countless discussions erupted in the various countries after hearing about this matter.

The vast majority of people expressed their delight in seeing this.

After all, the existence of Northern Ice River Town itself was a heretic that could not be understood.

For many super families that had existed for thousands or even tens of thousands of years, the foundation of the current social order was stability. The sudden emergence of a force like Northern Ice River Town was a great challenge to the order established by their families.

If it weren't for the fact that they were in this chaotic era, they would have long thought of ways to harm Northern Glacier Town.

After Li Ruxing announced the news of her retirement, she left without looking back.

She did not explain to anyone what had happened.

He did not give anyone a chance to ask.

After leaving the hall, she removed all the jade seals and seals that could prove her power and status.

This scene not only stunned all the higher-ups present.

Even Huang Li 'er and the other core reincarnators of the Star Moon Army could not understand.

In fact, ever since a few years ago, when they couldn't find any information about Li Yueming, many people in the Star Moon Army had already believed that Li Yueming was probably gone.

After all, if Li Yueming was still alive, there shouldn't have been no news for so many years.

Therefore, when everyone had already confirmed that Li Yueming was dead, Li Ruxing was still able to firmly control the core power of the Star Moon Army for so many years, maintaining the order established by Li Yueming and the normal operation of Northern Ice River Town.

In fact, it already meant that most of the officials of Northern Ice River Town and the upper echelons of the Star Moon Army had recognized her position as the Great General and City Lord.

But now, the second leader who had once protected Li Yueming the most seemed to have suddenly changed his character. He announced in front of so many people that he would resign from his position in Northern Ice River Town.

What did this mean?

When they first heard the news, everyone's brains were short-circuited, so no one had investigated the reason.

However, the public opinion of the Putian Gai despised the waves.

Just like what Li Ruxing had said- --the reason why she had always firmly held onto the power of North Glacier Town was because she was afraid that North Glacier Town would be in a mess after Li Yueming returned.

When Li Yueming first started to go out, the entire world was looking for traces of Li Yueming.

It was not an exaggeration to say that the number of spies who appeared in the Hundred Thousand Mountains in search of Li Yueming in those years was probably more than the number of spies who appeared in the Hundred Thousand Mountains in the past thousands or even tens of thousands of years.

However, as time passed.

Almost everyone had accepted the fact that Li Yueming had died. Only Li Ruxing had always firmly believed that Li Yueming had no accident and firmly believed that Li Yueming would come back.

Everyone had witnessed all the hard work she had put in over the years.

At the moment, Li Ruxing was so determined to give up North Glacier Town. The only explanation that could make sense was that someone really found traces of Li Yueming and confirmed that Li Yueming was dead.

Otherwise, no one would believe that Li Ruyue would suddenly make such an extremely immature move.

In the Great Zhou Imperial Palace.

Looking at the guards kneeling on the ground, the emperor stood up and shouted, "Li Yueming is dead? Are you sure?"

The guard knelt on the ground, trembling, not daring to speak.. After a long time, he reluctantly said, "Your Majesty, this subordinate has not collected any concrete evidence, but from the reactions of all parties, there is a high probability that it is true!"

Chapter 592: The Dark Truth (2)

Upon hearing this, the emperor remained silent.

The expression on his face was a little complicated.

In the eyes of outsiders, Li Yueming should have died when he was assassinated that day. That was also what the Great Zhou announced to the public.

However, only the emperor knew that the Great Elder who went to kill Li Yueming didn't manage to kill him completely. He even left Li Yueming with a breath of life.

According to the judgment of the elder who attacked Li Yueming, although Li Yueming staggered and escaped from the pursuit, his body was still exhausted. Even if he did not see the corpse, there was still a high chance that he would not survive.

Under normal circumstances, the Great Zhou would not have to worry about Li Yueming appearing.

However, as long as he didn't see Li Yueming's corpse, the emperor couldn't feel at ease.

He felt that he had placed enough importance on Li Yueming. After he found out that Li Yueming had lost control in the Northeast, he immediately found the strongest person under his command to assassinate Li Yueming. Based on the rules set by the higher-ups, this had already crossed the red line.

However, the Great Zhou was still one of the six countries.

Moreover, eliminating Li Yueming was not only his own intention, but also the common intention of other countries.

Therefore, after the incident, there were not many voices of criticism.

However, what was unexpected was that he had clearly used the power outside of the rules, but he still could not take down Li Yueming, who he thought was an easy card.

Over the years.

Other than Northern Ice River Town, the emperor had also been secretly searching for Li Yueming. In order to find Li Yueming's corpse, the emperor had even sent a group of heaven-level guest masters to the Hundred Thousand Mountains!!!

However, even after spending so much money, after so many years of searching, there was still no clear result.

Li Yueming was still missing.

This had almost become the emperor's nightmare.

He was afraid that Li Yueming would appear in his sight again soon.

When he heard the news that Li Ruxing had decided to give up his position as the leader of Northern Ice River Town, he was shocked.

The emperor finally felt more at ease.

After all, whether it was Beibing River or Li Yueming, they were his mortal enemies.

Now that Li Ruxing had retired, the strength of North Glacier Town had been greatly reduced. In addition, Li Yueming's death had been indirectly proven. It was a triple blessing for the emperor.

After understanding the whole story, the emperor heaved a sigh of relief. He looked at the guard captain kneeling on the ground and said, "Very good.

Immediately bring some people to Northern Ice River Town to create chaos." The head guard bowed his head and left.

After he had walked far away, the emperor had an inexplicable expression on his face. He closed his eyes and took a deep breath. After making sufficient mental preparations, he stood up and walked towards a hidden palace in the depths of the palace.

North Glacier Town.

After Li Ruxing stopped meddling in the affairs of the world, the Star Moon Army finally began to fall into chaos.

In the past, Li Yueming and Li Ruxing were able to sit firmly in the position of the highest manager of Northern Ice River Town, but no other reincarnators could stand in this position. In fact, this was already very telling.

The reincarnators could tolerate the natives they recognized becoming their leaders, but they would never accept the same kind of reincarnators as them becoming the leaders of the Star-Moon Army.

This was because the natives would not specially favor them just because they were reincarnators, nor would they specially target them just because they were reincarnators.

The competition between everyone in this team was relatively fair.

If there were points, everyone would earn them together.

The older and stronger ones earned more, while the weaker ones earned less..

However, now, once one of the three reincarnator forces in the Star Moon Army obtained this supreme authority.

Then, it would immediately form a crushing force against the other reincarnators.

Originally, the Starmoon Army was the Starmoon Army of all the reincarnators. Once one of them seized the highest authority, the Starmoon Army would become the Starmoon Army represented by a certain reincarnator force.

This was absolutely unacceptable to them.

Under such an irreconcilable sharp contradiction, the balance that Li Ruxing had painstakingly maintained was completely shattered.

In the end, Ding Yi became the new temporary general with his qualifications and prestige.

However, in reality, the Starmoon Troop had already split into three forces that were incompatible with each other. They were no longer as sincere and cooperative as they used to be.

Therefore, there was a saying that it was easy to conquer the world but difficult to defend it.

The predecessors might have to loosen the soil, fertilize, water, and sow the seeds to plant the tree, but the descendants only needed to pick up the axe and cut it down if they wanted to pull it out.

However, it was worth mentioning that although Northern Ice River Town was in a mess.

The Starmoon Troop, on the other hand, was not affected much.

After all, the Star-Moon Army was the foundation of Northern Ice River Town's survival, and they weren't crazy enough to dig up their own roots.

.0.

The water was flowing.

Mist rose, and the surroundings were hazy.

Li Yueming was sitting on a small boat with a straw raincoat. At this moment, he had already entered a huge lake.

During this period of time, he had already heard the news from the outside.

Although he did not exchange a single word with Li Ruxing throughout the journey, the brainwaves of both parties had already been connected through thousands of miles of distance.

According to the original plan, Li Yueming was prepared to recuperate in Northern Glacier Town. He would return to Northern Glacier Town when his strength recovered a little and he was not afraid of being hunted again.

However, in the Su Clan, Li Yueming had collected some extraordinary information.

It was originally in his line of sight.

In this level 5 world, the strongest should be the ascension realm Qi Refiner.

But now, he had his doubts.

Let's not talk about anything else, just take the power that destroyed the Great Qian Dynasty back then.

In Li Yueming's understanding, this kind of power that could easily destroy a world was already an existence that could not be explained by ascending Qi

Practitioners. Moreover, there was a so-called god's corpse buried in the God Burial Ground worshiped by the Su Clan for generations.

Although Li Yueming had yet to see a real soaring realm Qi Refiner.

However, his current strength was enough to get a glimpse of it. Regardless of whether it was the power of the gods buried in the Hundred Thousand Mountains or the power that could wipe out the entire ancient Great Qian Dynasty in a day or night.

All are absolutely not the ascending realm of the Qi practitioners can be pengci.

This meant that this world was definitely not as simple as it seemed on the surface.

In addition to the notification from the Reincarnation Mark.

From many aspects, Li Yueming thought that he had already seen the terrifying 'reality'!

Therefore, he chose to release some information to Li Ruxing: Before obtaining enough strength to face him, Li Yueming would never appear in front of everyone.

As long as he did not exist in the Starmoon Troop, although the various countries would still be wary of them, they would not be attacked by those who did not know where they came from.

If he were to jump out and return to the Starmoon Troop to lead everything again, the starmoon 'troop' would protect the masses and cue.

The only thing that surprised Li Yueming was that he didn't expect Li Ruxing to understand it so quickly.

Not only did he immediately stand up and give up all his positions in Northern Ice River Town.

It had even 'inadvertently' confirmed his 'death'.

It could only be said that Li Ruxing probably knew more than he expected.

Thinking of this, if Li Yueming didn't know it himself, he even began to doubt whether he was the heir of the Li family.

Why did Li Ruxing know so much more about the family's true secrets than him?

But he, a true descendant of the Direct Line, had no information at all? How many people in this world knew the truth?

Anyway, no matter what.

Li Yueming had done so much so that he and the Starmoon Troop could continue to survive in this unknown world.

As for whether or not he could defy the heavens and change his fate and reveal the true face of this world.

That wasn't something Li Yueming could decide on his own.

Of course, compared to the distant future.

The most important thing was to increase his strength as soon as possible.

But now, Li Yueming had quietly approached the Divine Aperture Realm. In terms of comprehensive strength, he was already able to wrestle with a Qi Refiner in the Heavenly Tribulation Realm.

He couldn't openly move about in the outside world, especially in the northwest, which was the focus of attention. After all, it was too chaotic there, and there were too many spies left behind by various countries.

However, with such a powerful force in his hands now, it was impossible for him to really live in seclusion.

Therefore, after resolving the crisis in North Glacier Town, Li Yueming decisively came to the Central Plains in the hinterland of the Great Zhou Dynasty. He was prepared to make the Great Zhou pay for what they had done over the years.

Chapter 593: God Descends, A Rage That Trembles the Heavens and Earth 1

Year 7835 of the Great Zhou Royal Calendar.

A legend that only circulated among the fishermen in the vicinity of the Spring Water Lake in the hinterland of the Central Plains appeared.

According to the fishermen's solemn description, a living immortal seemed to have appeared on the surface of the lake deep in Spring Water Lake.

The living immortal was sitting in a very inconspicuous boat, floating in the

Occasionally, when the weather was clear, fishermen would see him sitting on the bow of the boat, sunbathing or fishing. No matter how strong the wind and waves on the lake were, they could not shake the small, unremarkable boat.

Most importantly, none of the fishermen had ever seen the wooden boat of the living immortal come ashore.

Many fishermen would worship that unknown god every time they went to the lake to fish.

I don't know if it's true or not. There's a god protecting the gods.

However, in the past few years, there had been no lake monsters or drowning incidents.

This made the surrounding people worship the lake god even more.

As this matter developed, some fishermen even took the initiative to donate money and prepared to build temples in the surrounding villages to offer incense to the gods of Chunshui Lake, asking the gods to bless them for a long time.

.0.

At this moment, in the endless Spring Water Lake.

Li Yueming's expression was solemn, and his eyes were tightly shut.

This was the third year he had sat quietly in the lake. For the past three years, he had been focusing on cultivation. At this moment, he was looking into his own body and preparing to open the sixth human body treasure.

In order not to let others find traces.

Li Yueming had been floating above the lake the entire time and had never stepped onto land.

Today, he had finally broken through the sixth human body treasure, and the cultivation on the lake could finally come to an end.

Li Yueming called the sixth human body treasure the Ascension God.

It could only be said that the human body was too exquisite and complicated. At this moment, Li Yueming felt that the path to unlocking the treasure of the human body was almost endless. As long as one understood their own body in their life, they could understand almost everything in the world.

Especially after he had completely activated the human body treasure known as 'Goddess'.

Li Yueming's understanding of the development of the human body's strength also deepened.

The so-called godhood was that he possessed a portion of the authority that only gods could possess with his human body.

For example, Spiritual Concretization.

This thing was very similar to psychokinesis, but the concept was broader.

If one had to describe it, this thing was more similar to the divine sense of fantasy and xianxia worlds.

Once he activated his Divine Telekinesis, not only could he clearly control the changes in the thoroughly meticulous state of the surroundings, but he could also sense the changes in the surroundings.

He could also use this to materialize some spiritual weapons and invade the other party's nerves.

After possessing the human body treasure, Li Yueming's combat power was completely different from more than ten years ago.

Even if the Great Zhou sent out another Qi Refiner at the peak of the Heavenly Tribulation realm to attack.

Li Yueming was confident that he could win easily.

After repeatedly verifying and familiarizing himself with his combat strength in the lake, he was finally able to make a breakthrough.

Li Yueming opened his eyes.

He didn't know what was hidden behind the Six Nations.

However, his current strength was the limit of what he could improve in a short period of time. It was not impossible to continue hiding in a corner and rely on the talent of infinite deduction to break through to a higher realm.

However, if he continued to increase his combat strength without going through the process of tempering himself, the consequences would be quite significant.

If he did not go out and train well to increase his comprehension and foundation towards higher realms, not only would Li Yueming's combat strength not be able to continue to rise, but it might even decline...

After confirming this point, Li Yueming finally reluctantly ended his seclusion. He walked to the bow of the ship with his hands behind his back and used his spiritual power to drive the already dilapidated wooden boat under his feet to drift away from the shore.

Many fishermen on the road witnessed this scene and their eyes flashed with excitement.

This world was filled with Ki Refiners.

However, most of these people were like ordinary people. They needed to eat three meals a day and had fun. They had never seen someone like Li Yueming who was no different from the legendary immortals.

Li Yueming's boat wasn't fast.

As a result, hundreds of fishing boats were already following him before he even set foot on the shore.

This time, the boat was actually heading straight for the lakeside.

Many of the fishermen who thought that he was just a wanderer in the past suddenly became anxious.

Many of them even tried their best to catch up with the small boat, trying to use this method to keep Li Yueming.

When Li Yueming was here, they could fish in peace.

Not only did he not have to worry about the raging winds and surging waves, but he also did not have to worry about the appearance of monsters in the lake.

Although the village was still very poor, it was a rare sight for them to live in harmony.

Other than the elderly who were getting old, there were basically no young adults who died accidentally while fishing in the lake in the nearby villages.

This was an incredible thing for fishermen who relied on the weather all year round.

And as the guardian who had protected them for so many years, they had to be careful.

If Li Yueming left, wouldn't they go back to the days of fear?

In this chaotic world, living was already very difficult.

It was rare to have a peace of mind.

In the beginning, Li Yueming ignored them..

Chapter 594: God Descends, A Rage That Trembles the Heavens and Earth 2

After all, he had been immersed in cultivation for most of these years and did not pay much attention to the outside world.

He would only attack when there were strong winds and waves that could affect his cultivation.

Therefore, Li Yueming himself did not even think about it. Just this alone was enough to make the fishermen near the Spring Water Lake grateful to him.

However, when Li Yueming really came to the shore, he realized that the shore was already surrounded by people.

He looked at the dark faces not far away that were filled with excitement and nervousness.

Li Yueming looked confused.

If he remembered correctly, he had never come into contact with anyone on the lake.

Why were these people so concerned about him now?

Fortunately, he had already disguised himself through some means, so he was not worried about being seen through.

Li Yueming was about to dock.

The surrounding crowd retreated a few steps. Only an old man who looked to be in his seventies or eighties stood in Li Yueming's way with a walking stick.

The old man bent down and cupped his hands at Li Yueming. After a very respectful bow, he said, "Respected Lord God, thank you for protecting us all these years..."

Hearing this, Li Yueming was stunned for a moment before he vaguely understood what had happened.

He couldn't help but wave his hand."

The old man's eyes darkened when he heard this.

He wanted this god to continue staying here.

However, they were a group of poor people who had been eating for a long time. Other than insignificant gratitude, what else could they offer to move this existence?

Therefore, after opening his mouth, the old man sighed and did not say anything to persuade him to stay.

The old man bowed respectfully to Li Yueming again and changed the topic, "'No matter what, sir, you are the benefactor of us Spring Water Lake fishermen. If not for you, we would have been forced to death by the government all these years..."

"Therefore, we are preparing to build an ancestral hall for you and worship your statue forever. We hope that you can accept the kindness of us bumpkins and stay for a period of time."

Li Yueming hesitated for a moment.

Under normal circumstances, he was going to find a place to gather information about the outside world and wait for Suxuan to come and meet him.

However, since the village had sincerely invited him, he did not want to reject their good intentions.

It wouldn't delay anything if he just waited for Suxuan.

Therefore, after a slight hesitation, Li Yueming nodded in agreement.

Seeing this, the crowd heaved a sigh of relief.

Li Yueming had deliberately restrained his aura.

However, as a top-notch expert who cultivated both internal and external cultivation, even if it was just a casual look, it was definitely not something that ordinary people could withstand.

Therefore, when they faced Li Ming, everyone couldn't help but be extremely cautious.

Li Yueming didn't have many thoughts.

Surrounded by the crowd, he soon lived in a spacious courtyard specially prepared for him in the village.

A god had appeared!

This matter spread like wildfire and soon caused a huge uproar around Spring Water Lake.

Countless people came to Li Yueming's courtyard.

They didn't dare to enter the courtyard to disturb Li Yueming's rest. They could only retreat and pray outside the courtyard, hoping to get a touch of the so-called divine aura or make a wish for the god to fulfill one of their wishes.

These were naturally useless.

Li Yueming wasn't a god, and he wasn't interested in performing the so-called miracle.

He rested in the village by the shore for about half a month.

On this day, there was a long queue in the courtyard as usual. There were probably nearly a thousand people who had heard the news.

Around one or two o'clock in the afternoon.

There was a loud noise outside the door.

Li Yueming didn't open his eyes, but the spiritual power that seemed to be tangible surged out of the treasure house, sensing all the movements of the grass within a few thousand meters of the courtyard.

In his perception, a group of Great Zhou soldiers wearing standard armor rushed in and forcefully chased the people outside the door away.

The people were furious.

However, looking at the well-equipped, stocky, and eager soldiers, they had no choice but to swallow their anger and slowly disperse.

After the soldiers surrounded the house, dozens of tall and strong soldiers used their weapons to forcefully pry open the courtyard door and swarmed into the small courtyard.

The officers and soldiers followed the road.

A general wearing armor and a sword on his waist and a middle-aged scholar dressed like a civil official walked into the courtyard.

The scholar dressed as a civil official looked around, and his eyes revealed a hint of greed.

The few of them were about to continue charging in.

The old man who invited Li Yueming to rest in the village stumbled over with the help of a group of young people. Seeing the soldiers who had already barged into the courtyard, the old man hurriedly smiled and said, "County Magistrate Zeng, what's going on today?"

The middle-aged scholar who was called County Magistrate Zeng smiled and turned to the old man, "Yo, Old Man Su, I heard that you're almost eighty years old, right? How could such an old hand be so lenient?" Seeing him act so brazenly, his face was filled with disdain..

Chapter 595: God Descends, A Rage That Trembles the Heavens and Earth_3

Old Man Su could not help but feel a little anxious. After thinking for a moment, he said meaningfully, "Thank you for your concern, County Magistrate Zeng. This old man's body is getting worse by the day. I'll live one day at a time."

County Magistrate Zeng didn't understand what he meant.

Or rather, he had never taken Old Man Su seriously from the beginning.

He raised his eyebrows and continued, "Since you know that you don't have many days to live, then get lost!"

"A few years ago, you were already spreading rumors that there were immortals in the Spring Water Lake. At that time, I only thought that you were short-sighted and illiterate, so I didn't want to lower myself to your level!"

"You guys are great. Now, you even invited the so-called 'immortals' to your doorstep. Don't you know that the imperial court is wantonly searching for members of the Fire Sect?"

"If it weren't for the fact that half of you, Old Man Su, was buried in the ground, I would have captured you first and interrogated you to see if you were a member of the Fire Transmission Sect who was spreading rumors about the rebellion of ghosts and gods!"

After hearing his sarcastic remarks.

Old Man Su's eyes widened, his beard and hair standing up, and his face was filled with anger. The surrounding onlookers could not help but clench their fists.

Spring Water Lake was located in the south-central part of the Great Zhou Dynasty. It was a land of fish and rice that was slightly famous in the entire south-central part.

The current county magistrate was a middle-aged man named Zeng Youwei.

It was said that he used to work in the central government of Haojing. The reason why he was transferred out of the capital was because he did something wrong.

However, the higher-ups did not make things difficult for him. They only transferred him to the prosperous Spring Water Lake as a county magistrate.

From this sign, it could be seen that Zeng Youwei definitely had someone protecting him in Haojing. As long as he stayed at the Spring Water Lake to avoid this storm, he would return to the royal capital of Haojing in a few years to continue his meteoric rise.

However, if he was really so honest, he would not have been banished to the outside world.

After taking office, in order to return to the prosperous capital city as soon as possible, he had done all kinds of bad things. As long as he could quickly increase taxes, he had done almost everything.

However, this guy's hands were dirty. Not only did he levy exorbitant taxes, but he also liked to buy land for himself.

Now, he had brought a group of soldiers over.

Other than hearing that there were demons in the nearby villages, the most important thing was that they had their eyes on the courtyard where Li Yueming lived.

After all, in their opinion, what kind of monster could come from such a small village?

At most, it was just a group of nobodies worshipping a charlatan.

It was completely different from the 'Fire Sect' that had been spreading around in recent years.

Old Man Wang opened his mouth to say something.

However, Zeng Youwei no longer had the patience to respond.

With a casual wave of his hand, the dozens of soldiers outside the door understood and rushed out to press Old Man Wang to the ground. Even the young men around him were subdued by the fierce soldiers.

Seeing this situation, a young girl in a torn dress rushed out of the crowd and knelt on the ground with tears in her eyes. She begged, "Lord Guan, please do me a favor. My grandfather is eighty years old..."

The soldiers ignored the girl's pleas.

With such great force, even if Old Man Wang didn't die, he would probably lose a layer of skin.

The surrounding people wanted to rush over to help.

However, more soldiers pulled out their sharp knives.

Fear and hesitation appeared on the faces of all the people.

Seeing this situation, Zeng Youwei's laughter came from behind. "How funny. A bunch of unruly people dare to fight with me. Do you know who my sister is? She was the new empress of the current emperor, second only to one person and above ten thousand people!"

"You bunch of dogs are worse than dogs, yet you dare to find trouble with me. Even if I stand here motionless, what do you dare to do to me? You really don't know what's good for you!"

He laughed wildly for a while.

After a moment, he seemed to feel that it was boring to act tough in front of a group of nobodies.

Ignoring the people outside the door, the armored general kicked open the door in the middle of the courtyard under his protection.

"Clang!"

With a crisp sound, the door of the main courtyard collapsed to the ground with a curtain, raising a thick cloud of dust.

After the dust settled, Li Yueming's figure, who was sitting cross-legged on the ground, appeared unusually hazy.

Originally, the group of people were all curious about which swindler dared to spout such heresy to deceive the public when the imperial court was chasing after the Fire Sect's disciples.

But now, the moment they saw Li Yueming's back, everyone, including Zeng Youwei, was shocked. He had no choice.

From the back view, Li Moonming was really too young.

However, it was such a young back that made them feel a bottomless depth like a lake at first glance.

The armored general behind Ceng Youwei couldn't help but feel his eyelids twitch.

Oh no, it's going to be bad!

This was his first and last thought.

Li Yueming's mind moved.

The immense mental pressure caused these two reckless fellows to kneel on the ground, and all the soldiers who had followed them into the courtyard exploded with a loud bang!

It was as if he had crushed a mosquito to death.

Li Yueming was still sitting cross-legged on the ground, but his voice was like a god, reaching everyone's ears..""It's fine if it's buzzing, but it still dares to bite people? You really don't know what's good for you..."

Chapter 596: Stealing the Fate of Heaven and Earth and uprooting the Great Zhou!_1

Li Yueming thought.

All the armored soldiers who had barged into the courtyard exploded in an instant, turning into a cloud of scarlet blood mist.

As for Zeng Youwei and a few others who had already broken into the main house not far away, their fate was even more miserable.

Although they eventually exploded into a cloud of blood mist like the others, they were still forced to kneel on the ground by Li Yueming's majestic mental power before they died. They experienced the pain of bleeding from their seven orifices.

Li Yueming sat cross-legged on the ground. The life and death of this group of people was just a blink of an eye to him. He did not care at all. He did not open his eyes even when everyone exploded into a cloud of blood mist.

Outside the house, hundreds of people and soldiers from the local government could smell the blood.

Before they could react to what had happened, Li Yueming's voice that was transmitted through his divine sense had already exploded in their hearts like muffled thunder.

Although the Spring Water Lake was famous for being a land of fish and rice, it was still very popular.

However, it was not a big town. It was already good enough to see a few Qi Practitioners on a daily basis.

When had he ever seen Li Yueming's inhuman means of telepathy?

Therefore, when he heard Li Yueming's voice suddenly ring in his ears, he was shocked.

The thousands of people in front of the courtyard were all frightened. Most of them were so scared that they knelt on the ground and kowtowed crazily in the direction of the main house.

Even the soldiers who had been ferocious and had their eyes on the top of their heads were frightened like stray dogs.

He was afraid that he would end up like the ones who had barged into the courtyard, so he also hurriedly put down his weapon and knelt on the ground.

Thousands of people knelt down at the same time.

It looked like a black hole, and it was indeed extremely spectacular.

The group of people who had invited Li Yueming into the small courtyard to rest with Old Man Su were even more nervous. At this moment, they kowtowed and shouted, "Immortal, please don't blame me..."

If Li Yueming was only guessed to be an immortal on the lake before, then he would be a god.

In the eyes of the people near the Spring Water Lake, Li Yueming's current move undoubtedly confirmed his identity as an immortal.

They were the ones who suggested to invite Li Yueming to stay in the courtyard.

But now, such an accident had happened.

They were naturally anxious and worried that Li Yueming would blame them for this.

Li Yueming didn't respond.

He didn't care about what had happened, nor did he care about who had placed their thoughts on him.

In any case, with his current strength, even in the entire world, there were only a handful of existences that could threaten him.

As for whether the others had any ulterior motives.

To him, it was something that could be resolved with just a thought.

Seeing that he did not respond for a long time.

The people outside the courtyard were both afraid and excited.

After some discussion, they finally decided to let Old Man Su enter the courtyard to take a look at the situation.

After chasing away the two young men who were supporting him, Old Man Su walked into the small courtyard with his walking stick. Looking at the courtyard that was covered in blood but no one was there, he could not help but feel his eyelids twitch.

Even if he had lived for nearly eighty years.

It was the first time he had seen someone like Li Yueming.

In just an instant, tens of soldiers and the county magistrate of Spring Water County had vanished.

Other than puddles of blood, there was not even a corpse to be found.

If he hadn't seen it with his own eyes, he probably wouldn't have imagined that such a magical scene could exist in this world.

The deep breath of the two, the good does not calm down easily.

Old Man Su mustered up his courage and walked through the blood-stained courtyard to the main house where Li Yueming was. He first knelt on the ground and kowtowed a few times before mustering his courage to speak, "I was ignorant and disturbed your cultivation. Please forgive me!"

There was no response from the main house.

However, a mysterious aura made Old Man Su feel that the immortal in the room was sizing him up.

Beads of sweat were already dripping down Old Man Su's forehead. He kowtowed to the ground fiercely. In a short while, his forehead was covered in blood. As he kowtowed, he gritted his teeth and said, "Exalted Immortal... This commoner was willing to die, but the reason why this commoner was doing this was purely for the livelihood of the tens of thousands of residents near Spring Water Lake. Half of my body has already been buried. If you want to punish me, then punish me alone. Even if I have to go to the eighteenth level of hell, I will be grateful to you for helping me today!"

There was still a long silence.

Although Li Yueming was sitting cross-legged, ever since he opened the Ascension Treasure, his body already possessed some divine characteristics.

Even if he put all his attention on cultivation.

However, even if it was just some spiritual fluctuations, it could let him know what was happening in the outside world.

Therefore, whether it was Zeng Youwei's arrival or Old Man Su's description, although he didn't pay attention, he could take in everything.

It had to be said that although Old Man Su was only an ordinary old man with a high reputation in the surrounding villages, he was still a young man.

However, his courage was extraordinary.

After discovering that Li Yueming, the Immortal of Spring Water Lake, was about to leave, the two of them were stunned.

He didn't show Li Yueming any respect like an ordinary old man.

Instead, he tried to find a way to make Li Yueming stay and used the excuse of building an ancestral hall for him to invite him to this mansion.

After doing all this.

He also got people to spread the news that an immortal had appeared in Spring Water Lake.

As a result, many people around Spring Water Lake came here to worship after hearing the news..

Chapter 597: Stealing the Fate of Heaven and Earth and uprooting the Great Zhou!_2

If this was in Glory World, it might not cause too much of a reaction.

However, it was currently chaotic times. Moreover, as early as three years ago, an organization called the Fire Sect had appeared in the southwest and southeast regions of the Great Zhou Dynasty. It gathered disciples everywhere to spread its teachings with the intention of rebelling.

It had long been placed on the highest-level pursuit list of the Great Zhou Imperial Court.

In order to prevent this so-called sect of fire from spreading and causing rebellions in other regions, Haojing had even imposed a tight blockade on the entire central and southern regions of the Great Zhou.

As long as something related to the existence of a treasure appeared, the local authorities had to react immediately and punish the people involved severely.

And now, the people of Chunshui Lake were saying that so-called immortals had appeared near Chunshui Lake.

Naturally, it attracted the attention of the local officials.

In addition, Zeng Youwei was a greedy person who would not do anything without benefits. Since he had already led his army to fight, he would definitely not be willing to return empty-handed.

This way, if everything went smoothly, Old Man Su could quietly use Li Yueming's hands to get rid of Zeng Youwei.

Even if he took ten thousand steps back.

Li Yueming was not willing to have a conflict with the government, and there was a high chance that Old Man Su would not have to pay any price.

His calculations were pretty good.

However, he had severely underestimated Li Yueming's strength and mental sensitivity.

Now, Li Yueming was silent and unwilling to talk to him.

Old Man Su understood that Li Yueming had already discovered his thoughts. Fortunately, he admitted it.

After his forehead was covered in blood.

Li Yueming's voice came from the depths of his mind, "Do you think you've successfully schemed against me?"

Hearing his voice, Old Man Su was stunned. After a moment, he said in a trembling voice, "Exalted Immortal naturally won't be schemed against by a commoner like me. County Magistrate Zeng's death is because of your Bodhisattva heart. It's just that you pity us bumpkins..."

Li Yueming smiled. "I didn't expect you to be so smart at your age!"

Li Yueming paused and thought for a moment before continuing, "You're a local sage in this remote village, right? It's useless even if I want your life. You schemed against me once. Help me do one thing and forgive me!"

"Otherwise, you heard County Magistrate Zeng say it himself. The person behind him is the new empress of the current dynasty. It doesn't matter if I kill him, but if you don't have anyone to protect you, I'm afraid that in a few days, you will be captured by the soldiers and your entire family will be exterminated!"

Li Yueming's voice was very soft.

However, it was like a heavy hammer in Old Man Su's mind. He stood there in a daze for a long time before saying, "Please instruct me, Exalted Immortal. If there's anything I can do, I'll die for it!" Li Yueming nodded.

Then, he handed some matters to him.

After listening to Li Yueming's request, Old Man Su looked a little excited. He struggled to stand up with his walking stick and bowed respectfully to Li Yueming before dragging his tired body away.

After he left the small courtyard, Li Yueming also withdrew his divine sense.

Just like what he said before, the reason why he was willing to make a move was because he wanted to. As for Old Man Su's little thoughts, he had already noticed them from the beginning.

However, he didn't feel disgusted.

After all, war was everywhere these days. Even Chunshui Lake, which was born in the hometown of fishermen, had been exploited by years of disasters to the extent that it was almost unable to open a pot.

It was too difficult for ordinary people to survive. The vast majority of people had to do their best just to survive.

Therefore, even though Old Man Su knew that scheming against Li Yueming was an act of dancing on the edge of a knife, and that the slightest mistake might cause his name to be involved, he still resolutely chose.

The reason why he had risked his life was to get rid of County Magistrate Zeng.

It allowed the tens of thousands of people near the Spring Water Lake to have a bite to eat and not be exploited by the government.

It was precisely because of this.

Li Yueming didn't make things difficult for him. He only asked him to continue to spread the news of the birth of the immortals.

He had come all the way from the Northwest to the Central Plains, not for a vacation. Instead, they were prepared to uproot this ancient country that had ruled this land for tens of thousands of years.

Currently, the Star-Moon Army's strength was comparable to the Northern Ice River Town, which had been severely damaged during the Six Nations War.

However, it was still very difficult to really destroy it.

After all, the Great Zhou Empire had a vast territory, and the various major factions were intertwined. With the population of Ice River Town and the Star Moon Army in the north, it might not be a problem to defeat the Great Zhou army on the battlefield, but it would be wishful thinking to completely destroy them.

If there was really a conflict, the most likely outcome would be that Northern Glacier Town would spend a lot of effort to crush the effective strength of Great Zhou, but in the end, it would only benefit the other countries.

What Li Yueming needed to do now was to shake the foundation of the Great Zhou Dynasty's rule from within, and then join forces to launch an attack from the outside. They would work together internally and externally to deal with the Great Zhou as quickly as possible, not giving the other five countries time to react.

Of course, this was the plan.

As for the specific difficulties that would be encountered in the implementation process, it was unknown.

Not long after Old Man Su left, five or six women entered the small courtyard. They took brooms and rags and cleaned the blood stains in the small house..

Chapter 598: Stealing the Fate of Heaven and Earth and uprooting the Great Zhou! _3

After confirming that Li Yueming didn't mind them moving around in the small courtyard, a few days later, dozens of sallow and emaciated men began to transport stone materials into the small courtyard.

One marble after another was sent to the small courtyard.

The men used all kinds of tools to stack them together, forming the shape of a human.

Immediately, another group of stonemasons began to carve the stones stacked together in the courtyard. It seemed that they were preparing to carve a stone statue for Li Yueming in the outer courtyard.

What was more interesting was that Li Yueming didn't know how these craftsmen did it. He had only shown his face a few times in the outside world, but the stone statues they carved were really similar to him.

At the same time, the surrounding people spontaneously erected a shrine outside Li Yueming's small courtyard.

As Old Man Su moved around, the miracle of the 'Spring Water Lake God' spread more and more widely. At the beginning, it was only spread in Spring Water Lake County, but after more than a month, related rumors even appeared in the neighboring counties.

More and more people began to come here to worship, hoping that Li Yueming could bless them with good weather and safety.

Li Yueming sat cross-legged in the courtyard every day.

Initially, he did not pay much attention to the outside world.

However, later on, he did not know if it was an illusion, but when he was worshipped by the nearby people, he actually felt that the fate of heaven and earth on his body was slowly increasing.

At first, Li Yueming didn't dare to believe it.

After all, the fate of heaven and earth was a metaphysical thing. It should not be materialized like this.

However, as the people around worshiped him, the number of people burning incense for him increased.

Li Yueming actually felt that the Heaven and Earth Fate in his body was slowly increasing.

This discovery surprised him.

In fact, according to the experience of the reincarnators, although there were fewer worlds where incense became gods, it was not impossible.

Some reincarnators liked to go to certain worlds that had the power of faith to spread their 'Dao'. They spent the least amount of money to obtain the most believers and finally became gods and ancestors.

However, the fantasy world he was in now should not have such a setting.

Otherwise, it was impossible for the natives of this world not to have tried it in the long river of time. If it could really work, the gods would have been everywhere in this world long ago.

In fact, that was indeed the case.

Li Yueming did not feel any so-called power of faith from the incense, nor did he feel any change in his strength.

But here came the question. Why was it that just because he was a half-baked fake god here, the fate of heaven and earth that he carried slowly increased just because he received some worship from the people?

Under normal circumstances, most of the world consciousnesses were extremely stingy.

The providence of heaven and earth was the core power that they hid behind the scenes and controlled everything. It was impossible for them to easily transfer it to anyone other than the chosen Child of Destiny.

When did the world's consciousness become so easy to fool?

Li Yueming couldn't understand it no matter how hard he thought about it. He could only say that the will of this world probably had some problem that it couldn't solve by itself. Otherwise, it wouldn't be so chaotic that it could even casually give out the fate of heaven and earth.

However, this was definitely a good thing for Li Yueming.

The fate of heaven and earth was a rare thing for the world consciousness. If he got more, the other side would get less.

Where was he now?

The core area of the Great Zhou!

He stole the luck, so who would suffer because of it?

There was no doubt that the Great Zhou was unlucky!

Li Yueming wouldn't mind another 10,000 of such good deeds.

Li Yueming had stayed here for three years, and it wasn't just for the sake of playing tricks at Spring Lake. He even secretly controlled Su Xuan to spread the teachings of the Fire Worship Sect in the southeast and southwest of Great Zhou.

Tens of thousands of people were incited to join in.

As long as they could steal the luck of these regions, it would definitely be a fatal blow to the Great Zhou Dynasty.

No wonder the Great Zhou was so wary of the Fire Worship Sect all these years.

Chapter 599: The Arrogant Fire Sect Hollowed Out the Foundation of Great Zhou! 1

At the end of August, Year 7835 of the Great Zhou Royal Calendar.

The news of the appearance of heretics near Spring Water Lake was gathered from all sides and passed to Fengnan County Governor Gan Tian.

After receiving the message, Prefectural Governor Gan Tian did not dare to be negligent. She immediately gathered all the leaders of the core departments in Fengnan County and discussed it overnight. In the end, it was decided that a Void Refinement Realm Qi Refiner would be the leader, and hundreds of internal guards in the Coagulate Spirit Realm would be the core combat force. In addition, there would be thousands of elite soldiers. Together, they would form an elite team and head to Spring Water Lake Town as soon as possible to investigate the situation.

Just as Fengnan County was preparing to send troops.

County Governor Gan Tian received the latest news from a local secret agent at Spring Water Lake. The letter stated that the local county magistrate, Zeng Youwei, was accidentally killed when he led his troops to capture the so-called 'immortal' at Spring Water Lake.

Initially, when she heard that there was a so-called living immortal who was pretending to be mysterious, Gan Tian's face did not show much emotion.

After all, wars had not stopped in recent years, and countless demons and monsters had become more and more active with the turmoil in various parts of the imperial court. It was not rare for some wild ambitions to appear.

Gan Tian had already come up with a complete plan to deal with this.

As long as they followed the procedure, there would not be too much trouble.

However, when she saw Magistrate Zeng Youwei die at Spring Water Lake, Gan Tian's face turned pale.

It was because Zeng Youwei was the younger brother of Empress Zeng.

Although this fellow had caused some ridiculous things in Haojing, resulting in him being demoted to Chunshui Lake by the annoyed emperor and becoming a ninth-grade official.

However, anyone with discerning eyes knew that as long as Empress Zeng was still in the harem, Zeng Youwei, the emperor's brother-in-law with a high status, could not be exiled in the wild forever.

One day, when the Emperor's anger subsided, he might immediately be brought back to continue eating and drinking.

Therefore, when the Emperor transferred Zeng Youwei to be the county magistrate of Chunshui Lake, Gan Tian did not ask or participate from the beginning to the end. All the procedures followed the normal rules.

Under normal circumstances, no one could criticize him in this regard. But now, Zeng Youwei had died in the Spring Water Lake, and it was very likely that he had died on the way to eradicate the evil cult...

To Gan Tian, this was no less than a thunderbolt in a clear sky.

After all, no matter what, even if Ceng Youwei was a pile of mud that could not be supported, he was still the Emperor's brother-in-law and the Empress's younger brother.

With his identity and status, even if he accidentally died from a left foot accident, it would definitely implicate a large number of related personnel to take the blame.

It was just that some unimportant guards might be buried with them.

But now, Zeng Youwei had died in Fengnan County. Moreover, he had died on the most sensitive path of the imperial court, the path of eradicating cults.

As the county governor of Fengnan County, Gan Tian was undoubtedly the biggest scapegoat for this matter.

Could there be anything more unlucky than this in the world?

It was not easy for Gan Tian to come back to her senses from the message that was like a bolt from the blue. Her face gradually turned from white to purple. From afar, she looked like a piece of pig liver that lacked oxygen.

If this matter was not handled well.

If he were to poke his head in, his own life would be in danger.

Therefore, after reading the contents of the letter, Gan Tian immediately realized the seriousness of this matter.

He immediately used his authority to mobilize even more people in Fengnan

County, and even brought out all the Guiyuan realm Qi Practitioners in his clan. It would be best if he could capture the cultist who killed Zeng Youwei before the higher-ups found out about his death.

At that time, even if the higher-ups blamed him, he could immediately hand over the real culprit to take the blame. In this way, whether he could keep his black gauze hat or not was not a problem, but at least he should be able to keep his own life.

Early September.

Fengnan County urgently mobilized a lot of provisions and soldiers. It took only ten days to form an extremely elite force. Under Gan Tian's personal leadership, they went to the vicinity of Spring Water Lake to capture the heretics.

The soldiers moved extremely quickly. Although the chaos caused was barely controlled to a relatively acceptable level, it still attracted the attention of many surrounding areas.

After all, the central and southern regions were the core grain-producing areas of the Great Zhou Dynasty. It had been many years since such an urgent military operation had erupted.

Now, Fengnan County had caused such a huge commotion without a word. The governors and princesses of the nearby provinces had sent letters to inquire, but they did not receive a response from Gan Tian.

Naturally, he paid close attention to the related matters.

The high-ranking officials of the Great Zhou Imperial Court who had heard the news were all guessing what had happened in Fengnan County that would warrant Gan Tian's mysterious actions.

After thinking about it, everyone realized that only something related to the Fire Transmission Sect could cause such a huge commotion.

But the problem was, hadn't the Fire Sect become more obedient during this period of time?

According to some clues that the internal guards had heard, the demoness from the Fire Sect who was good at bewitching people seemed to have left the Southern Barbaric Land. Her whereabouts were unknown...

Could he have come to Fengnan County?

If that was really the case, the entire land of fish and rice in the central and southern regions of the Great Zhou would probably be in great trouble..

Chapter 600: The Arrogant Fire Sect Hollowed Out the Foundation of Great Zhou! 2

The county governors and governors could not help but tighten their minds.

.0.

Under Gan Tian's intensive arrangements.

An army of nearly ten thousand people set out from Fengnan County and traveled south along the official road. They traveled for a month without stopping and finally arrived at the county government of Spring Water Lake County at the end of September.

After the army entered the county office, they immediately witnessed an extremely shocking scene.

The Spring Water Lake County Office was in a mess. All the case files and geographical files kept in the county office had been swept clean. Some confidential rooms had even been forcefully pried open from the outside and broken into.

Seeing this scene, even Gan Tian gasped.

One had to know that this was the county government of a large county, representing the dignity of the entire Great Zhou government. But now, there were people who dared to behave atrociously in such a place and even dared to snatch the files and information from the county government.

Doing such a thing was tantamount to a public rebellion.

Even if the relevant participants had nine heads, it would not be enough for the Great Zhou government to chop them off.

How dare this group of unruly people?

Aren't they afraid of being exterminated?

Including Gan Tian, all the soldiers and officials of Fengnan County were stunned when they saw the messy scene. They could not imagine that someone would be so daring in this day and age.

However, just as Gan Tian and the officials under Fengnan County were still in a daze, a few extremely embarrassed minor officials suddenly rushed out from an inconspicuous corner of the Chunshui Lake County Office.

When they saw the Great Zhou standard armor, the minor officials immediately felt as if they had been pardoned. They quickly knelt on the ground and rolled around, hugging Gan Tian's boots and crying bitterly,""County Governor, many disciples of the Fire Passing Sect have appeared in our Fengnan County. Moreover, I heard that the Holy Maiden of the Fire Passing Sect has personally rushed here from the depths of the Southern Barbaric Lands not far away..."

‘ They organized the people to repel the officers and soldiers of the county government, forcefully barged into the county government office and took away all the files and information. If we hadn’t begged them, they would have burned the county government office down...’

“County Governor...Prefectural Governor, you have to uphold justice for us!”

When she heard this, her entire face instantly fell.

Previously.

When Gan Tian heard that a living immortal had appeared at the Spring Water Lake, she thought that he was a wandering Taoist priest who was pretending to be a god. Later on, he received news that the county magistrate of Spring Water Lake had died on the way to exterminate the living immortals. Only then did he start to take what happened here seriously.

But now, when he heard the words ‘Fire Sect,’ he realized that he had thought too simply.

That’s right. How could an ordinary person dare to go against the government at such a critical moment?

Spring Water Lake, this so-called ‘living immortal’ was clearly not some swindler.

It was really related to the Fire Sect!

In addition, he heard from the minor official that the so-called ‘Holy Maiden’ of the Fire Transmission Sect had also appeared in Spring Water Lake County..

From this, it could be seen that Fengnan County was very likely to be the next place where the Fire Sect would infiltrate.

After confirming this.

The blood in Gan Tian’s body that had been extinguished for a long time suddenly boiled again.

A long time ago, he had dreamed of becoming a general who conquered all directions.

However, due to the pressure from all sides, he was unable to get what he wanted.

He had thought that he would never have the chance to lead an army to battle in Nanshan.

He didn’t expect that there would be such a good opportunity at the end.

If he could capture the Fire Sect in one fell swoop, especially the so-called Saintess, he would be able to kill them all. This huge contribution might be able to get him out of his current awkward situation.

He might even use this opportunity to return to the peak of power in Great Zhou!

As for the Fire Sect itself, Gan Tian did not care.

After all, no matter how evil the Fire Sect was, in his opinion, it was just a group of troublemakers who gathered to cause trouble. It was destined to not achieve anything big.

The reason why the government had been unable to do anything about it in the past two years was only because the traces of its core decision-makers were elusive and difficult to find, and the speed at which the doctrine spread and spread was too rapid.

It was as if a wildfire had appeared on a plain covered with licorice. With just a gust of wind, the fire would cover the sky and the sun.

It was not because of how powerful he was.

Therefore, in Gan Tian's expectations, even if the Fire Sect had organized a certain amount of armed forces, they should not be able to withstand a single blow from the nearly 10,000 elite regular army of the imperial court that he currently led.

If the Fire Sect had really set up their headquarters here, the core Saintess of the sect would still be here.

To the Great Zhou Imperial Court, there was probably no better opportunity to exterminate the Fire Sect than this.

At the thought of this, Gan Tian could no longer suppress the excitement in her heart.

He licked his lips, and his eyes revealed a fierce light. He lowered his head to look at the panicking minor official at his feet and asked, "County Magistrate

Zeng is dead. Other than you, where are the others in the county government?"

When the small official heard this, he revealed a look of fear. After feeling Gan Tian's scrutinizing gaze, he hurriedly braced himself and replied, "Reporting..."

Hearing this, Gan Tian's face revealed a hint of anger. After a while, she suddenly laughed out of anger, "'The Fire Sect has been arrogant in the southern ravines for a few years. Do you really think that no one in this world can control you? A group of unruly people really ate the guts of a bear or leopard.. This official wants to see what basis you have to hold a public trial! "
