Chapter 621: 258, Horrifying appeal, veterans don't die! 2

It was as if everyone had disappeared.

The order that she, Li Ruxing, announced during the day seemed to have never appeared.

That's right...

She, Li Ruxing, had already resigned from all her positions in Northern Ice River Town and the Star Moon Army. What right did she have to give orders to Northern Ice River Town and the Star Moon Army?

Actually, this was nothing to her.

Northern Glacier Town might be an indispensable part of Li Yueming's plan, but it was never the thing she cherished the most.

The only pity was that Li Yueming might feel sad because of this, right?

Li Ruxing stood up and gently brushed away the snowflakes on her shoulders and hair. She stood up silently and prepared to leave.

It didn't matter if Northern Ice River Town didn't want to stand with that man anymore, but she would definitely stand with that man.

However, just as Li Ruxing brushed away the snow and was about to leave...

For some reason, the surface of the ground suddenly trembled violently, so much so that before her jade-white fingers could touch the snowflakes, they had already fallen off by themselves.

Li Ruxing put down her hand that was caressing the snow and looked in a certain direction outside the central square in a daze. There was a bit of surprise and astonishment in her expression, so much so that she was stunned on the spot.

A moment later.

At six o'clock in the evening.

Ding Yi, Huang Li 'er, and the other reincarnators were the first to appear in the central square. Behind them were Li Nanfeng, Li Ruyue, and other friends and relatives, as well as other high-ranking generals from Northern Ice River Town and the Star Moon Army.

When he saw Li Ruxing.

Ding Yi's face revealed a complicated expression.

He had always had complicated feelings about Li Ruxing.

It was like a bosom friend, but also like love.

However, everything had come to an end today.

The reincarnators and the natives were destined to be unable to devote themselves to each other.

A relationship that was destined to not get the desired result was better off not starting from the beginning.

His expression was solemn and handsome.

He brought all the higher-ups of Northern Glacier Town to Li Ruxing and asked excitedly, "All the higher-ups of the Star Moon Army and North Ice River Town have been assembled. The two million soldiers of the Star Moon Army are already in the process of being assembled. The core trump card troops have also been assembled..."

"Is Leader Li Yueming still alive?"

Looking at the familiar yet unfamiliar figures in front of him, Li Ruxing had a complicated expression.

Before she did all this, she had expected many results, but she never thought that everything would go so smoothly.

It was just an uncertified edict.

It seemed that she had underestimated Li Yueming's influence in Northern Glacier Town.

But thinking about it, it didn't seem to be a problem.

After all, all the rules of Northern Glacier Town were set according to Li Yueming's existence.

Li Yueming set up a school to let the children of the commoners and the children of the dignitaries study together.

Li Yueming had given birth to the soul of the Star Moon Army and set up a strict reward and punishment system for them.

Li Yueming set up a research institute and continuously invested resources to research more high-yield crops and fruits, making the lives of the people of Northern Glacier Town better and better.

One after another.

All of them were actions that would leave their names in history.

If the grace of a gentleman could be said to have been cut off for five generations, then the seed planted by Li Yueming in North Glacier Town would be a towering tree that protected the entire northwest for thousands of years after it took root and sprouted.

The fourth generation of Star Moon Army soldiers had never seen Li Yueming, but Li Yueming had always lived in the nagging of his elders and veterans.

The officials and the younger generation of Northern Glacier Town had never seen Li Yueming before, but the spirit that Li Yueming left in the book had always lived in their hearts.

Li Yueming wasn't around, but he was everywhere.

Because of this, no matter how long Li Yueming had been gone, as long as the Dao he passed down did not change, there would still be people who could understand him.

Then, when he returned again, there would still be people willing to shed their blood for him. They would risk their lives and move forward in the direction that his gaze pointed in.

He forcefully suppressed the sour and complicated feelings in his heart.

Li Ruxing silently took out the letter written by Li Yueming and said, "Pass on the order of Great General Li Yueming. From today onwards, North Glacier Town will enter a state of war!"

"All soldiers of the Starmoon Troop, immediately attack the Great Zhou from the Dragon Subdue Pass, Tiger Subdue Pass, and Futian Pass. Attack the Great Zhou's defense line from the water and land routes!"

"General Li will be at Haojing City... We'll wait for your triumphant return!"

Hearing this.

Beneath their feet, everyone's faces revealed excitement.

Even though they had already heard the news.

However, most people were still skeptical about this.

After all, for many years, there were similar rumors about General Li Yueming returning to North Ice River Town.

So much so that when they heard the news, most people could not believe its accuracy.

But now, he had been acknowledged by Li Ruxing.

The accuracy of this news was instantly different.

Huang Li'er took two steps forward and looked at the paper in Li Ruxing's hand carefully. She said excitedly, "It really is Great General Li Yueming!!!"

In the Star Moon Central Square.

After a brief moment of surprise, everyone cheered.

As long as Li Yueming was still alive, the Northern Ice River Town and the Star Moon Army would never disperse.

This was their common thought.

That was why everyone was so happy..

Chapter 622: 258, Horrifying appeal, veterans don't die!_3

In the end, it was Ding Yi, who had a high position and authority, who stood up and coughed to get everyone to calm down. Only then did the group of people calm down.

After the surroundings quieted down, Ding Yi looked at Li Ruxing and said loudly, "Star Moon Army's Chief Instructor Ding Yi, listen up! The Star Moon Army will always advance and retreat together with General Li Yueming!"

Beside him, Li Ruyue also became serious and said solemnly, "Northern Ice River Town Lord, listen up! Northern Ice River Town will forever advance and retreat with Great General Li Yueming!"

Northern Glacier Town and the Starmoon Troop were actually one entity a long time ago.

The reason why it was split into two independent departments was that they were gradually becoming more formal and had different responsibilities. The biggest reason was that the person who could mobilize two departments at the same time had left.

And now, Li Yueming had returned once again and issued an order to these two behemoths.

Under that person's instructions, the two sides finally came together with incomparable determination and worked hard for a common goal.

After the oath, everyone's eyes fell on Li Ruxing.

Ding Yi took a step forward and said directly, "Now that the Great General is not here, I hope that General Li Ruxing will put on his armor and go into battle again."

"At this moment, the special forces and the soldiers of the Star Moon Army in the Northern Ice River Town are ready to go. With a single order, the million-strong army will destroy all existences that dare to provoke General Li Yueming!"

Li Ruxing's eyes softened as she slowly swept her gaze across everyone. She smiled and said, "' I need to correct one point. The Starmoon Army and Northern Glacier Town will never be the private property of General Li Yueming. They will be the treasures of everyone..."

"What we need to do is not to retaliate against a certain country, but to create a world where everyone is equal...No matter how far away this dream was, or how many setbacks they would encounter along the way, the Starmoon Troop would always follow and advance with high spirits!"

Hearing Li Ruxing's words.

Everyone, including Ding Yi and Huang Li 'er, was not surprised. On the contrary, all of them revealed an expression of 'I knew it'.

They all laughed.

Li Ruxing was like this...She had been in charge of Northern Ice River Town for so many years. She might be able to fill in the small details on her own, but the general plan set by Li Yueming could not be changed.

If Li Yueming was the leader of North Ice River Town, then he would be the leader of North Ice River Town.

Then Li Ruxing was the one who really allowed this big ship to sail alone...

No one said anything else.

The Star-Moon Army and the higher-ups of Northern Glacier Town quickly returned to their posts.

However, Ding Yi and Huang Li 'er did not leave.

Looking down from the city wall, they saw a white-haired army.

This group of people were the only surviving veterans of the Star Moon Army.

At this moment, even though his hair had already turned white, he still held his head high and was full of fighting spirit.

When they saw Li Ruxing, Ding Yi, and the others appear on the city wall, the army made up of veterans who had been through hundreds of battles boiled up and shouted in unison, "Please fight, please fight, please fight!"

The soaring battle intent was like a fierce tiger descending from the mountain. The entire world was trembling because of it.

Even in his twilight years, he could still intimidate the mountains and forests with just a glance.

Chapter 623: Even if I have to go to hell after I die, I will kill my way to Gaojing City!_1

Looking at the veterans who were missing arms and legs, Ding Yi's eyes teared up.

He was familiar with many of these people.

Even the elders who had been taught by him in the scout camp in North City.

And now, he was still in his prime.

However, these old brothers who followed behind him were no longer young.

He had arranged for them to retire, hoping that they would be able to enjoy the happiness of their family in the last years of their lives.

But now, after hearing that Li Yueming was still alive.

This group of old brothers who had retired to enjoy their old age had put on their armor again as expected.

The reason why they were gathered here was self-evident.

They wanted Li Yueming to see them on the battlefield, to see that they were still sacrificing their lives for that unreachable dream.

At the same time, he also wanted to pave the way for the next generation of the Star Moon Army with what little spirit he had left. He wanted to let all the new generation soldiers of the Star Moon Army, who had not experienced much, know how sacred and solemn their mission was.

The veterans might die, but their unyielding souls would not. It would be forever engraved in the legacy of this army, remembered by future generations.

Ding Yi closed his eyes.

Although the war with the Great Zhou had not officially begun, the Great Zhou Empire was still in a state of chaos.

However, just thinking about it was enough to know how dangerous it was.

With the power of two places, they were going to start a war against a huge country that had existed for more than 10,000 years.

Even if it was a country that had been hit many times and had been greatly weakened.

It was also an extremely dangerous matter for Northern Ice River Town.

Under such circumstances, if these veterans were sent to the battlefield, even with their iron-like will to fight and their cunning war accomplishments, they would still be able to achieve a satisfactory result.

However, it was also destined that they would not be able to return unscathed.

This was naturally unacceptable to Ding Yi, who hoped that his old brothers would live the rest of their lives in peace.

However, it was also at this moment that Ding Yi's gaze swept across the old comrades below the city, whose eyes were burning like torches.

The desire and expectation within was so intense and intense.

Finally, he closed his eyes and sighed. He looked at Li Ruxing and said in a low voice, "' Before General Li Yueming arrives personally, you are now the supreme commander of the battlefield. It's up to you to decide whether they stay or go!'"

Without a doubt, this was a difficult choice.

However, everyone else could escape. Only Li Ruxing, the highest commander on the battlefield, could not escape.

After a long silence, Li Ruxing said, "'Heroes have their own homes, and warriors have their own homes...Since they are wearing armor and are still roaring, let them go to the home they have chosen...'"

"Compared to dragging their broken bodies and silently growing old, dying on the battlefield might be the best ending for them!"

Ding Yi didn't say anything.

How could he not know that they yearned for battle, yearned to die on the battlefield as the best home?

However, knowing something didn't mean that it could be done.

Therefore, he chose to run away in the end and threw this dilemma to Li Ruxing.

Now, seeing that Li Ruxing had made a decision, he naturally did not refute it anymore. He nodded his head in agreement.

Northern Glacier Town had mobilized millions of troops. Such a huge commotion naturally could not be hidden from the outside world.

In fact, Li Ruxing appeared in North Glacier Town in the morning, and many rumors had already spread in the afternoon.

After all, the sudden appearance of Li Ruxing, who had disappeared for nearly ten years, was a piece of information worth reporting. There was no reason for the spies lurking in various places not to spread the news.

However, no one expected that in just a few days, Northern Ice River Town had already caused such a huge commotion.

Millions of troops were mobilized, and tens of thousands of stones of food and horses were collected at the same time. In just two days, the entire northwest region had entered the highest level of emergency combat readiness.

It was unknown how much military and economic power had been transferred to Northern Glacier Town.

How should he evaluate it?

It could only be said that Northern Ice River Town was indeed a place where fierce people frequently appeared. As expected, it was a place that shocked the world with a single brilliant feat.

He just didn't know why Northern Glacier Town had caused such a huge commotion.

However, when the people outside heard about the strategic goal of Northern Glacier Town, their eyes widened.

“What's going on? Northern Glacier Town has sent over a million Starmoon Troops...An all-out war with the Great Zhou?”

“So is it me or Northern Ice River Town that has gone crazy?”

“Could it be that they saw that the Great Zhou Dynasty had suffered repeated setbacks and was extremely weak, so they planned to take this opportunity to destroy the Great Zhou Dynasty?”

“Putting aside the fact that the Great Zhou Dynasty is a noble that rose up during the era of the Human Emperor Tiandu Clan, and its foundation is unfathomable, just the population of the two towns in the North of Binghe Town, even if we really succeed in breaking through Haojing City, can we annex the vast land of the Great Zhou Dynasty?”

“Right now, the highest level of power in Northern Ice River Town is still Ding Yi, right? He didn't seem like such an unreasonable person!”

After the news spread, almost the entire Nine Provinces was in an uproar.

After many years, the topic of Northern Glacier Town had once again become the topic of conversation among the people of Nine Provinces. At the same time, as the topic continued to rise, more information was released..

Chapter 624: Even if I have to go to hell after I die, I will kill my way to Gaojing City!_2

“Have you heard? This war wasn't decided by Ding Yi. In fact, with Ding Yi's power, it's impossible for him to mobilize so many forces in Northern Ice River Town in such a short time!”

“They said that Li Yueming has returned because only he can have such a huge influence in the Star Moon Army...However, I was skeptical about this. Li Yueming was already a long time ago. Not to mention that he couldn't be alive, so what if he was really alive? Every emperor had his courtiers. From the day he left, his era should have ended!”

“Compared to the legendary Lee Yueming, I think this matter is more like Lee Ruxing's idea. In my impression, she seems to be the only one in the entire Star Moon Army who has this ability. The first rumor that came out was related to Li Ruxing...”

“Ah... Li Ruxing was the dream lover of many men...Indeed, she was the only one who could completely awaken the war beast in Northern Glacier Town in just a few days. But what was she trying to do? Pushing North Glacier Town into the fire pit? The other countries were probably overjoyed when they heard this news, right?”

“At that time, Li Ruxing and the Great Zhou will both suffer heavy losses. They can just go up and take advantage of it...”

“It seems that this hard-won period of peace is coming to an end soon. The era of chaos is coming again. Forget it, forget it. Since I don't have the strength to win fame and fortune in the chaotic world, I'll just hide from the world as soon as possible!”

In the outside world, although the spies had clearly heard of the name “Li Yueming”, this time, few people believed that Li Yueming was really behind this.

After all, no matter how famous he was in the past, 30 years of disappearance was enough to make a generation go. Most of the people who could still be active in the court were the younger generation.

They had not experienced that turbulent era, so they naturally did not understand what the words “Li Yueming” meant.

Only a few of the older generation who knew about that era would remain silent when they heard these three words.

Of course, no matter how the outside world viewed it, this war that concerned the future fate of the nine provinces of China still kicked off.

When they learned that almost all the troops that could be mobilized in Northern Ice River Town had been mobilized, the Great Zhou finally put down their face that had long fallen to the ground and began to forcefully gather troops.

The Great Zhou Dynasty implemented a system of D100d relations, and the system naturally did not only circulate among the great clans.

It was the royal family who was the most determined to enforce and maintain this order.

As the biggest beneficiary of this order, other than the high and mighty Emperor of Great Zhou, there were the imperial relatives of Great Zhou.

Most of the time, this group of nobles with fiefs led a comfortable life.

As long as he paid enough taxes to the emperor regularly, it would be fine.

They only needed to be rescued in times of danger.

For example, the last time the Qin army broke through Futian Pass, it was the various armies that chased them back.

However, the battle with the Starmoon Troop this time was clearly different from the previous one.

Back then, the Great Zhou still had the Subduing Dragon, Subduing Tiger, and Futian Gates in their hands. The passage to the northwest gate had not been completely opened.

Moreover, the Qin army had come from afar, so it was impossible for them to fight for a long time.

Other than protecting the safety of Gaojing City and reducing the losses in the northwest as much as possible, the royal army did not need to do anything else. After all, the Qin army could not really destroy the Great Zhou in one fell swoop.

But now, everything was different.

The three passes in the northwest had fallen into the hands of the Star Moon Army, and the Star Moon Army was a huge threat to the Great Zhou. Now that the Star Moon Army had sent troops, it was obvious that they had the intention of destroying the Great Zhou.

This was absolutely unacceptable to the entire Great Zhou.

Under such circumstances, the Great Zhou Empire quickly mobilized nearly five million soldiers.

Many of them were useless soldiers who could only be used as cannon fodder on the battlefield or thrown into the logistics team to transport supplies.

However, there were also many elites nurtured by the royal families.

With the addition of the Six Guards of the Emperor, the Dragon Tiger Army, and the other elite troops of the central government, the Great Zhou finally revealed its valiant side when faced with a life-and-death crisis.

In less than half a month, they had reorganized three million troops with sufficient combat strength.

This was under the circumstances where food was limited and there was no way to supply more troops.

If there was enough food, they could even keep up.

This was the benefit of having a vast territory and rich resources.

In the north, Ice River Town had two places in the northwest. Recruiting two million strong laborers was already the limit. Even if they could barely supply food, they did not have that many strong laborers to join the army.

After losing the natural protection of the three passes in the northwest, the Great Zhou, who had long been hysterical and desperate, sent troops to form human walls at the cost of human lives.

The outermost layer of the human wall was made up of farmers who had been forcibly recruited.

They had not received any formal military training, nor did they have any suitable weapons. Each of them was like a two-legged sheep in the face of a well-organized army, unable to resist at all..

Chapter 625: Even if I have to go to hell after I die, I will kill my way to Gaojing City!_3

Being sent to the outer perimeter of the defense line was purely cannon fodder, used to deplete the Star Moon Army's strength.

When the Star Moon Army charged over and saw rows of unarmed civilians being driven forward by the Great Zhou cavalry, the entire Star Moon Army was filled with hatred.

After all, in the education system that they had come into contact with since they were young, there was no one who treated people like humans. As a result, many of the recruits had blank expressions on their faces.

They came here to fight the enemy.

But now, all he could see were the people in ragged clothes and thin skin. How could there be any enemies on the battlefield?

However, just as they were in a daze, the commoners swarmed into the army like locusts, and the entire army was shaken.

If it weren't for the strict training of the Star Moon Troop and the blessing of the army spirit, the entire army formation would have been scattered by now.

He looked at the Star Moon Army soldiers who were at a loss, unwilling or unable to kill the people.

The nobles of the Great Zhou who were commanding the battle at the back of the battlefield could not help but laugh out loud.

"I thought that the Star Moon Army was terrifying. I didn't expect that they were almost broken by a group of cannon fodder. Hahahaha, if we get out, it will be a big joke!"

"With this little bit of strength, I wonder how the three passes in the northwest fell!"

"While the formation of the Star Moon Troop is in disarray, we can send another troop to attack from the side. We will definitely win the first battle!"

The group of people chatted and laughed, as if they had already seen the victory of the war. The other nobles who led the troops to participate in the war could not help but nod.

However, just as the situation on the battlefield in front of them suddenly deteriorated, a group of white-haired veterans stood out from the Star Moon Troop.

They rode on their horses that had already lost their fur and suddenly charged out from the side of the battlefield. They were unstoppable as they carved out a bloody path through the crowd.

All those who stood in their way, be they men or women, civilians or soldiers, would be turned into broken limbs in the blink of an eye.

Their sudden appearance cut off the cannon fodder that was still charging forward, and also interrupted the enemy general's strategic intention to break through the Star Moon Army's formation.

The hair of the seasoned soldiers was stained with thick and stinky blood. They slowly glanced at the younger generation behind them who were still fighting and said in a hoarse voice, "Newbies, you have the strongest military spirit in the world, wield the sharpest iron weapons, and live in a place closest to heaven...But now, why was he unable to retaliate against the attacks of a group of cannon fodder?"

The battlefield was silent. No one answered. There was only blood spewing and the wails of the dying.

The seasoned soldiers widened their eyes and continued, "' I know. You have all learned in school that a gentleman does not draw his sword and swing it at the innocent...'

"But you bunch of noobs, listen up! This world isn't a paradise on earth like Northern Glacier Town. The only reason you can sit in the school and enjoy everything is because someone has pulled out the thorns on your body one by one "He worked so hard and risked his life so that everyone in the world could afford to go to school and eat. He didn't want you sons of bitches to be saints on this battlefield!"

As soon as he finished speaking.

The leading veteran wiped the blood off his face and looked at the wall of people not far away."If there is a sin and karma for killing, I will bear it all. Even if I have to go to the 18th level of hell after death, my Star Moon Army will complete the order given by General Li.. Kill them!"

Chapter 626:260.

The start of a war was always so unexpected that it would not give anyone the chance to prepare.

The army of Northern Glacier Town had gone south, and the armies of the Great Zhou had come to their rescue. It seemed like a very long time had passed.

But in fact, from the moment the news spread to the moment the two sides met on the battlefield, it had only been a month.

In this fantasy world, where productivity wasn't developed and the speed of information transmission wasn't fast, it was really incredible to be able to mobilize millions of troops in such a short period of time to wage such a large-scale war.

From this, one could see the decisiveness between the two sides of the war...

There was no winner, only life and death.

In order to defend against the attack of the million soldiers of Northern Ice River Town, the Great Zhou had set up six impenetrable human walls in the northwest.

These six layers of defense surrounded Haojing City, which was located in the capital of the Great Zhou Dynasty, so tightly that even a mouse could not pass through it unscathed.

Under such circumstances, the Star-Moon Army did not want to be outdone.

They sent out almost all the troops that could be mobilized from Northern Ice River Town. They had a crazy attitude of either success or death. Countless people in the nine provinces of China expressed their great incomprehension.

Because in the past, even if Northern Ice River Town was high-profile, it was only in their own small territory.

It had always been relatively quiet in the international community.

Unlike now, where they had gone crazy and dispatched troops, not considering the price they had to pay to fight the Great Zhou to the death...

“Crazy, this time is really crazy. What right does Northern Glacier Town have to attack Great Zhou? Did he really think that he could occupy the Great Zhou?”

“In the end, isn't it the third party who benefits from the fight between the snipe and the clam?”

“Who knows? Perhaps Northern Glacier Town has its own trump card. Anyway, I've already seen the scene of a mountain of corpses and a sea of blood!”

“To us ordinary people, whoever wins this war will be a calamity that we can't escape from...”

Regardless of whether the outside world understood it or not, whether they believed it or not, the offensive and defensive battle between the Great Zhou and Northern Ice River Town had already hemmed- The soldiers of both sides had long since killed until their eyes were red.

On the surface, the other countries did not move, but in fact, they were already prepared to take a share of the pie. Anyway, no matter who won this war, they would be the winners who had the initiative.

In the northwestern region of the Great Zhou.

The armies that were recruited from all over the world were divided into Yiluo River and crisscrossed all the way to the front line of Crouching Dragon, Crouching Tiger, and Futian Pass.

The Star-Moon Army had just begun to attack the first defense line when they encountered quite a bit of trouble.

The Star Moon Army was unable to adapt to the cruel behavior of the Great Zhou using ordinary people as cannon fodder. After all, although they no longer recognized themselves as citizens of the Great Zhou, they still had an inseparable connection with the Great Zhou.

Now, even the invaders did not kill the innocent after entering the territory of the Great Zhou. However, the officials of the Great Zhou could chase this group of unarmed people onto the battlefield without a care...

When did this damn world become so cruel?

Seeing the Great Zhou soldiers driving tens of thousands of people, who looked like cattle and sheep, to form a human wall, the vanguard of the entire Star Moon Army was at a loss.

Fortunately, Li Ruxing reacted very quickly. The front line of the Star Moon Army was not the most elite soldiers in the Star Moon Army. On the contrary, most of the soldiers who formed this army were new recruits who had joined the Star Moon Army in the past few years.

Li Ruxing sent them as vanguards because he wanted to let these new recruits mature as much as possible before the war became white-hot.

After all, swords had no eyes on the battlefield.

At the beginning of the war, there was still a chance for the recruits to test each other. Once the real swords and spears reached the climax, there was no need to repeat the same thing.

Therefore, although the Starmoon Troop's frontline troops had very solid basic training, their combat experience was very weak.

Many of them were even on the battlefield for the first time, and unfortunately, they participated in this war that was destined to be a river of blood and no return.

Li Ruxing, who knew the situation of the front line like the back of her hand, immediately reacted when she saw the Great Zhou drive the people to attack the front line.

They quickly deployed a battle-hardened elite force from the main camp to bring up the rear, preventing the front line from being defeated due to chaos.

He also quickly moved the elite cavalry formed by the veterans to the side to be ready to provide support at any time. With a two-pronged approach, it did not cause too much trouble.

Otherwise, the Starmoon Troop would be a big joke in their first battle.

A battlefield of a million people was all about the general trend.

Under normal circumstances, the gains and losses of a city or a land, the success or failure of an army or a general, would not directly affect the direction of the entire battlefield.

After all, as long as one was a mature general, they would not put their troops in one basket. Millions of troops would have at least dozens of battle formations.

However, the war had yet to officially begin. If the front line was destroyed by a group of cannon fodder, the morale of the following war would be severely affected.

After realizing that the Starmoon Troop had reacted, the vassal kings behind the Great Zhou could not help but spit and say, "Tsk, Li Ruxing's reaction is quite fast- If we had known that the Star Moon Troon would be surrounded by a group of cannon fodder, we could have placed a cavalry behind them and dived straight into the battlefield..”

Chapter 627: 260,

“It’s just nice to let those large sects surnamed Ji who look down on us have a good look at our strength!”

Because at that time, the strategic purpose of driving away the people was only to consume the Star Moon Army’s physical strength.

The nobles at the first line of defense had never thought that the cannon fodder army would really be able to charge into the Star Moon Army’s position, so they did not plan for a follow-up battle.

Now that they had watched an easy victory slip through their fingers, it was no wonder that they were frustrated.

Behind him, a few strategists dressed like scholars waved their feather fans and said with a smile, “Don’t be anxious, marquises. The Star Moon Army’s fighting strength is actually so weak. We still have a chance in the following battles!”

Hearing this, the group of people felt extremely comfortable and could not help but laugh out loud.

Indeed, if the Star Moon Troop was as vulnerable as before, they would have plenty of opportunities to show off in the following battles.

It was also very likely that he would be rewarded by the emperor.

In the Star Moon Army, after seeing the people being chased to their deaths like pigs and dogs, they were shocked.

The eyes of the new recruits who had never been on the battlefield before turned red.

They followed behind the seasoned soldiers, all of them covered in blood.

However, unlike what they had imagined, the blood did not make their blood boil or bring them the glory of a soldier.

On the contrary, it made them feel as if they had fallen into an ice cave, and their bodies were cold!

Most of them had lived in Northern Glacier Town since they were young. As the veterans said, they had come into contact with the best side of the world.

It was to the extent that they had never thought that there would be such an animal behavior that refreshed their understanding in the Great Zhou, which was just south of Northern Glacier Town.

This was tens of thousands of people, not tens of thousands of cows and sheep.

Furthermore, they were innocent citizens of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

He was forced to die on the battlefield, and there was no one to collect his corpse.

After this small-scale battle ended, countless soldiers in the front line looked at their trembling hands and felt unprecedented confusion and shock.

“General Li Yueming once said that only the weak can swing their blades at the weaker ones...I had always thought that the Great Zhou was still considered a powerful country, but now, it treats its people like this and treats people like pigs and dogs...According to the Sage, this was the path to self-destruction. But why did these sons of bitches still occupy this country and enslave everyone?”

In the past, many seniors always told us that the life we had was hard to come by. It was forged by the blood and sweat of Great General Li and a group of people. At that time, most of us disdained it. Only now do we know how ridiculous we were.

“Since the way of the sage is unable to explain the doubts in my heart, I might as well follow the guidance of General Li Yueming...Let us, the idealistic descendants of the Starmoon Troop, spread the glory of Northern Ice River Town to this unfair and unjust world!”

After the initial shock.

Next, the Starmoon Legion’s frontline troops erupted with unimaginable courage and cohesiveness.

In half a month, they had won three consecutive battles and successfully broke through the first line of defense that the Great Zhou had established with great fanfare.

At the front line of the Luoshui River, as the core commander of this battle, the vassal kings at the first line of defense also went from being complacent at the beginning to being in disbelief and fear.

It was the same army, but the contrast between them was too great.

At the very beginning, even a group of cannon fodder could easily destroy the front line of the Starmoon Army.

As a result, they suffered devastating blows in the following few wars.

The other party’s strength far exceeded their imagination.

The Great Zhou’s Luo River.

When Prince Yu, who was overseeing everything in the rear, heard this news, his face did not show any surprise.

In fact, if the Star Moon Army could not even tear through the first line of defense, King Yu would be surprised.

Just like how the princes sent the people to the battlefield as cannon fodder, in King Yu’s plan, the princes at the first line of defense were just cannon fodder.

As a result, the second and third defense lines were cannon fodder that weakened the Star Moon Army’s combat power and logistics.

The main forces that had real combat power were all arranged by King Yu on the fourth, fifth, and final sixth core defense line.

Without a doubt, the current situation of the Great Zhou was not optimistic.

Although Prince Yu knew that the Great Zhou State would not be destroyed because of this, if the situation continued to escalate, he and the emperor would definitely not have a good end.

Therefore, he had to do his best to repel the Star Moon Army. Then, he would go to the ancestral temple with the kings and the emperor to beg for forgiveness. Perhaps he could still obtain a chance of survival.

In these years, the power that had weakened Zhou was not entirely from Northern Glacier Town, but more from all directions.

Forget about the natural and man-made disasters that had occurred in the past few years. These were actually not a threat to the stability of the Great Zhou Dynasty when the situation was stable, nor were they the most critical factors in the rapid decline of the Great Zhou Dynasty.

The most important thing was that Great Qin, Great Ming, and Great Qi had joined forces to bleed in the war of the six kingdoms.

Not only did it cause the number of elite troops in the country to decrease greatly, but it also caused the national treasury to be unprecedentedly empty.

It was also the chain reaction caused by this reason that caused the Great Zhou to suffer a huge loss in the battle with Northern Ice River Town.

Crouching Dragon, Crouching Tiger, and Fushen Pass, the three lifeblood cities in the southwest direction, were all burned to ashes by Li Ruxing.

In other words, the Star Moon Army, which was now sharpening its blade, was also a blade carefully prepared by the other countries.

It was to weaken the power of the Great Zhou again and again, and to try to divide up the land of the Great Zhou.

The power of this world was orderly. The six dynasties had already divided up everything that should be divided up.

The Star Moon Army's growth and strength would definitely not have been a threat to the Great Zhou Dynasty if not for the connivance of the other countries.

In other words, the enemy of Great Zhou had never been the Star Moon Army, but a few countries that were hiding behind and unwilling to show their faces.

If they had not been forced into a corner, the Great Zhou would not have been so crazy as to forcefully conscript civilians to the battlefield.

After hearing the news of the forced conscription of civilians, the Six Nations were instantly in an uproar.

Countless people expressed their strong condemnation.

The pressure of the entire Nine Provinces was gathering towards the Great Zhou. However, since the Great Zhou had done such a thing, they were naturally prepared to face the pressure of public opinion.

Prince Yu's reply was very short and cold, with only one sentence: "All the people in the territory of the Great Zhou have the responsibility to protect the Great Zhou in times of crisis!"

This is a new message, a new one

The entire world was in an uproar again.

No one had expected the Great Zhou to be like this. They completely did not even care about their face.

According to the rumors, after the news spread in the Great Zhou, tens of millions of people in the Great Zhou had a certain degree of riot.

Some people even packed their bags overnight and wanted to escape from the Great Zhou with their families.

Towards these people, the Great Zhou's methods were still simple and fast.

The local authorities searched through the night and captured the people who wanted to escape. The men were directly banished into the army, and the women were sent to the rear as slaves.

The method was very rough, but the effect was immediate.

After all, it was easy to choose between one death and the death of the entire family. The riots of the people were quickly suppressed.

This was the world.

In front of the Great Zhou government, which controlled violent organizations, no matter how dissatisfied the people were, as long as there was a way for them to survive, they would not easily go to the extreme.

However, this method that had been unimpeded countless times in the past was wrong this time, and it was ridiculously wrong!!!

The people who had been suppressed by the government had indeed quieted down, but this time, the silence was not for compromise, but for an even more violent explosion!

The front line of the Great Zhou was still fighting with Northern Ice River Town. The rear troops were much emptier than before. The suppressed civilians raised the flag of the Fire Sect,

Under the leadership of the demoness of the Fire Sect who wreaked havoc in the world, they turned the rear of the Great Zhou Dynasty upside down in just two months!

Chapter 628: The world is a chess game, and all living beings are chess pieces!_1

The development of the Fire Sect was in stages.

It had only taken five years for the Fire Sect to spread the teachings of the Fire Sect from the time when Su Xuan had spread the teachings everywhere until now.

In the past, the Great Zhou did not have any external threats, so the attack and suppression of the Fire Sect was very strict.

But now, with the attack of Northern Glacier Town, the Great Zhou's internal problems had yet to be resolved, and a new wave of external aggression had arrived. The official armies of many of the counties and princes had been transferred to the frontal battlefield on the northwest border.

The strength of the Great Zhou's rear was naturally empty.

It was also under such circumstances, coupled with the cruel decrees of the internal officials against the people, that the development of the Fire Sect was ten times more terrifying than fire spraying oil!

It had only been three months.

Originally, there were only thirty to fifty thousand disciples, but the Fire Sect, which had swept across five to six counties, had grown in strength.

The number of members had increased by tens of times, reaching more than a million. The distribution of the disciples had also expanded from five to six counties to thirty-two, almost covering half of the Zhou Dynasty.

If it wasn't for the fact that the number of core members of the Fire Passing Sect wasn't enough due to the rapid development, resulting in many regions having potential disciples who were unable to spread the news, the number of members of the Fire Passing Sect would probably be even higher.

In a sense.

This wasn't anything surprising.

After all, although the government had never given up on suppressing the Fire Passing Sect in the past few years, the Fire Passing Sect had never given up on infiltrating the various counties of the Great Zhou.

The reason why they could not succeed in the past was only because of the Great Zhou's military strength.

Currently, most of the troops from various regions had been transferred to the battlefield to fight against Northern Ice River Town. Naturally, the hearts of the people in various regions could no longer be suppressed.

Of course, no matter how big the commotion caused by the Fire Sect was, it could not change the objective fact that it was formed by a group of nobodies.

But as the saying goes, three people become a wolf, six people become a tiger.

The strength of one person might not be enough, but ten, a hundred, or even a thousand people represented more than one person.

It was the common interest of a group.

The human heart was the most terrifying thing.

The rapid development of the Fire Sect was not to weaken the combat ability of the Great Zhou army.

Instead, it was to completely disintegrate the foundation of the Great Zhou's rule from the inside.

Losing the power to rule over the people, no matter how huge the Great Zhou was or how long the history of inheritance was.

It was also difficult to escape the fate of collapsing from the bottom up.

Now, it was up to the higher-ups to come back to their senses and deal with the low-level nobodies first, or the low-level nobodies to deal with the higher-ups first.

Great Zhou, Fengnan County, the central island of Spring Water Lake.

Li Yueming sat cross-legged on a futon filled with wormwood and lemongrass. He quietly opened his eyes and exhaled a mouthful of turbid air.

Whether it was the increase in believers or the increase in the scope of influence.

To Li Yueming, the power of the fate of the world was very direct.

Originally, Li Yueming estimated that it would take at least ten years of hard work to advance from the Heavenly Tribulation Realm to Nirvana.

But now, with the unknown source of the power of providence pouring into his body, Li Yueming felt that his absorption speed of spiritual energy was like a rocket.

After truly controlling an extremely terrifying amount of Heaven and Earth Fate, he had no choice but to let it go.

Li Yueming finally understood why the hot shots of every world were countless times more monstrous than ordinary people.

The effect of the power of heaven and earth providence was really too heaven-defying!

To put it bluntly, even if a pig withstood so much power of providence, it would probably be invincible in the world after cultivating for decades.

That's right, it was that terrifying.

If the efficiency of people without the power of providence was 10, then those who had a trace of the power of providence would be 20 or 50.

As for the so-called Son of Fate, who bore the fate of heaven and earth, the efficiency of absorbing spiritual energy could reach 500!!!

Of course, these were not the most important things.

Most importantly, Li Yueming, who had stolen the power of providence from heaven and earth, had already broken through 1000 points!!!

What kind of concept was this?

It was already comparable to the total luck of two ordinary children of fate!

Now that Li Yueming was meditating in the Spring Water Lake, the spiritual energy of the entire Spring Water Lake would automatically gather towards him. Even if he did not take the initiative to cultivate, the amount of spiritual energy that he poured in every day was an astronomical figure.

Therefore, Li Yueming had already reached the peak of the Heavenly Tribulation Realm. He was only left with the corresponding comprehension and the accumulation of Heaven and Earth Spiritual Energy.

After confirming that he had already cultivated to the peak state that he could reach, he was stunned.

Li Yueming stopped cultivating again.

Silently feeling the vast spiritual energy in his body that could destroy the world with a casual wave of his hand, Li Yueming did not feel too happy in his heart. Instead, he felt heavy.

Under normal circumstances, it was impossible for the world's consciousness to pour so much power of providence into a single person.

It was even more impossible for Lawless to infuse this thing into a reincarnator who was out of control.

But now, Li Yueming had really received so much luck.

This could only mean one thing-the state of consciousness of this world must be strange. Otherwise, the world's consciousness would have noticed the problem long ago and stopped it..

Chapter 629: The world is a chess game, and all living beings are chess pieces!_2

Would the world's consciousness, or the world itself, die?

It was difficult to get an absolute answer to this question.

However, in Li Yueming's opinion, there should not be absolute immortality in the universe. After all, anything that could be observed in the form of matter was too small compared to the eternal time.

Therefore, no matter how long ago life was, it would eventually come to an end beyond the time that no living creature could observe.

But no matter what, compared to the small and short human life.

The life cycle of a world could already be called an existence of 'eternal life'.

That's why.

Li Yueming found it hard to imagine what kind of accident could have caused such a huge problem in the world's consciousness...

Of course, no matter what happens,

There was still nothing left to be done.

After killing Ji Ni, the Great Zhou Imperial Court was silent for a long time.

On the surface, the Great Zhou seemed to have given up on the idea of eliminating the Fire Sect in a short period of time.

It was as if Ji Ni's death had become an insignificant matter that the entire Great Zhou Imperial Court did not care about.

As the saying goes, there must be something wrong with something abnormal.

Li Yueming knew that the problem wasn't that simple.

Therefore, in order to prevent unnecessary risks, Li Yueming only wrote a secret letter to Northern Ice River Town after killing Ji Ni, and then quietly waited at Spring Water Lake for half a year.

During this half a year, he had been waiting for news from Northern Ice River Town.

On the other hand, he was waiting for the Great Zhou's reaction.

Right now, he was in an awkward situation and could not show his face in public.

Without any external interference, time passed quickly.

Li Yueming waited until North Glacier Town broke through the four defense lines of the Great Zhou Dynasty, and the Fire Transmission Sect successively occupied more than ten counties of the Great Zhou Dynasty. All the internal and external troubles erupted at the same time, and the Great Zhou Dynasty was about to fall into chaos.

Only then did he finally feel a terrifying aura trying to lock onto his position.

This person was able to lock onto Li Yueming's aura from a distance. Without a doubt, his realm was definitely above Li Yueming's.

However, although Li Yueming could not use such a method that was beyond the imagination of ordinary people, he also had his own method of locking the enemy.

Not only did the so-called hot shots of heaven and earth have unimaginable talent and luck, but they could also sense the future by fusing with the fate of heaven and earth.

If one had to describe it in a more metaphysical way, it would be an indescribable 'intuition'!

On this day, Spring Water Lake was still covered in a misty rain.

The spring breeze blew across the shore, and the hazy and faint clouds on the lake surface quietly dispersed.

From afar, a figure hidden in a grayish-brown straw cape leaped out from the drifting clouds.

The figure was stepping on a piece of dead wood that was drifting with the current. It was as hazy as the mist on the surface of a lake.

When he got closer, he realized that the eyes hidden under the straw raincoat were silently staring in the direction of the central island of Spring Water Lake!

Almost at the same time.

Li Yueming, who was still consolidating his cultivation, also felt something. He suddenly opened his eyes in the direction of the figure. It was as if he had seen through the illusion through the layers of fog. A glimmer of light flashed in Li Yueming's eyes.

The few core members of the Fire Sect who were cleaning the hall felt their vision blur.

He rubbed his eyes subconsciously.

When he looked up again, he realized that the sect master, who was sitting cross-legged behind the screen, had disappeared from the divine temple.

High in the sky.

Li Yueming and the figure in the brown raincoat stood opposite each other. Neither of them spoke much, but the aura on their bodies did not stop at all. It kept rising, and neither of them gave in to the other.

In the end, the figure in the brown raincoat sighed.

He silently took off his straw raincoat, revealing an old man with loose skin and snow-white hair.

He looked at Li Yueming, whose hair was crystal clear and whose body was filled with blood.

The old man's expression flickered. After a moment, he said, "I always thought that Great Qin and Great Ming were secretly weakening my Great Zhou. I didn't expect that I would run over with a broken body and see a young man that I didn't expect."

At this point.

The old man's voice paused, as if he was thinking about how to describe it.

After a long while, he said seriously, "It's really..." Unbelievable!" When the old man spoke.

Li Yueming was also sizing up the antique covered in age spots.

"Is that so?" he mocked mercilessly. You've controlled this chess game for thousands of years. During these tens of thousands of years, everyone in the world has been ants under your feet, pigs and dogs in your pen. No one can threaten your position..."

However, you don't seek development. Instead, you are willing to treat yourself as an old dog and bow to the master behind you..."

"You still want to ride on everyone's necks and lord it over them for generations?"

"Now that an unexpected variable like me has suddenly appeared, you're very surprised, right? However, I had already guessed that an old thing would appear. I just didn't expect an old antique like you to appear!"

His voice was very cold.

His tone was not as gentle and calm as before. It was a little aggressive.

It wasn't that Li Yueming wanted to do this.

It was because what these guys had done was too numerous to be recorded. The world was a chess game, and all living beings were chess pieces..

Chapter 630: The world is a chess game, and all living beings are chess pieces!_3

It sounded like it was very meaningful.

However, if the Six Nations or the old man himself were chess players, then it would be fine.

The problem was that both the old man and the Six Nations were just chess pieces of the mastermind, a few dirty chess pieces.

Hearing his mockery, the old man's expression did not change at all.

Only when Li Yueming mentioned 'acting as a dog', the old man's expression froze. After a moment, he regained his senses and said, "It seems like you already know? That's true. To be able to reach this step, 90% of the secrets in the world are no longer secrets to you..."

Li Yueming did not speak, but his eyes were still filled with killing intent.

The old man was still not angry. He slowly said, "According to our agreement, I should get rid of you. But just like what I said earlier, to be able to reach this step, there should be a part of the secrets buried in this world that you know."

"The Great Zhou can ignore your previous actions and admit that Northern Ice River Town has the same status as the other five countries. You will obtain the status and power you deserve, as well as the opportunity to become a believer of the supreme god race!"

At this point, the old man narrowed his eyes and his age spots trembled. "This condition is already the limit that I can offer. It's not easy for young people to cultivate."

Li Yueming was silent for a moment.

The old man didn't seem to be in a hurry to get an answer. He took a step back and suddenly disappeared into the vast clouds of the Spring Water Lake, as if he had never appeared.

After completely losing track of the old man in his perception.

Li Yueming heaved a sigh of relief.

Although the old man looked very old, it was as if he would die if the wind blew.

However, the rising aura on his body was still like a blazing volcano.

It was surging and unstoppable.

If they really fought, Li Yueming didn't have the confidence to win.

At least in the battle of aura just now, Li Yueming did not gain any advantage.

All these years.

Li Yueming had also collected a lot of information through various channels.

After all, the so-called God Burial Ground that appeared in the Hundred Thousand Mountains and the mystery of the destruction of the ancient Great Gan...It should be the key information for deciphering the hidden mission.

Knowing that there was something fishy going on, Li Yueming naturally couldn't stay still.

It was a pity that there was a considerable amount of information collected over the years that could not be confirmed.

However, Li Yueming was not in a hurry.

There was a series of history and stories spread by the people all over the world. One or two of them might not be able to see anything wrong.

However, once he collected a huge amount like Li Yue Ming, everything would be completely different.

Through the vast amount of broken documents and legends of gods and ghosts, they confirmed each other.

Many truths that were deliberately hidden by people could be roughly judged by this method.

After all, for humans, as long as the race was not extinct, history would not be completely hidden. It was just that it was not so easy to be discovered.

For example, the legends of gods and ghosts...

For example, the inscriptions on the bluestone slabs...

For example, the flowers, birds, fish, and insects in the ruins...

It was another form that had existed in history.

When documents and information could not be passed down, in theory, as long as these things could be analyzed, a considerable part of history could also be restored.

An ordinary person would not be able to complete the collection of so much information, not to mention the huge amount of calculations required for the comparison part.

However, Li Yueming was obviously not an ordinary person.

Not only did he have Northern Ice River Town, but he also had the Fire Sect as well.

In terms of collecting information, only the other six dynasties were slightly better than him.

The most important thing was that Li Yueming still had the talent of infinite deduction.

Through the arrangement of the fragmented history of various places, coupled with some of the documents of the Su Clan in the Hundred Thousand Mountains, Li Yueming had roughly restored the true history of this world.
