Chapter 861: Exploration Missions, Extravagant Resources!_3

With Sulaman's treasures, Li Yueming did not need to worry about weapons and equipment anymore.

After simply equipping it with some mechanical parts for replacement and maintenance, it was stuffed into a small space capsule specially made by the Military Committee and ready to go.

Flay didn't make him wait for long.

About two days later, she sent a message to Li Yueming to gather outside the dock at the school gate.

When Li Yueming arrived, there were already nearly a hundred students gathered outside the dock.

At a glance, most of the students in this group were from the martial arts department. The striking sign was that each of them was not only tall and burly, but they also carried weapons such as swords, spears, swords, and halberds on their backs.

Only a handful of them were students from other faculties.

This was normal.

The Ultimate Martial Arts School was the most prosperous school in the martial arts department, and the quality of the students was also the highest.

It was not strange at all that there were so many martial arts students nowadays.

While Li Yueming was sizing them up, the students were also sizing him up.

It couldn't be helped. Among the group of students who were carrying things on their backs, Li Yueming's sudden appearance was really eye-catching.

Compared to the luggage bags that they were carrying, Li Yueming was much more free and easy. He didn't even bring a change of clothes and came empty-handed.

The group of students even thought that he was not here to carry out a mission, but was on his way back to the Imperial Sun Star and wanted to hitch a ride.

In the end, it was Flay's appearance that dispelled their doubts.

Looking at Li Yueming who was empty-handed, Flay asked with some suspicion, "I specially told you so many days in advance to prepare your luggage, but you came empty-handed?"

Li Yueming smiled and said, "I did. But I stuffed them all into the space capsule!"

Flay was speechless.

The space capsule was nothing special, and its price was not very high.

However, the civilian version of this thing was not very stable. It could only store some low-value items such as clothes and jewelry. Under normal circumstances, they would not dare to put high-value items in it.

After all, the spatial fluctuations in the civilian version of the space capsule would occasionally be very large, and there was a risk of losing the stored items at any time.

Only the military version was more stable and could store items without worry.

However, the price of the military version was very high and it was not circulated to the outside world at all. It could not be bought through normal channels.

And now, Li Yueming dared to put all his supplies into the space capsule. If his head was not broken, did it mean that he had the ability to come into contact with military-grade space capsules?

Thinking of this, not only were the students shocked, even Flay was shocked.

This was not a joke. The military-grade space capsule required a lot of technology. Even within the military committee, not every soldier was qualified to apply for it.

At the very least, it had to be a sergeant or above.

Now that Li Yueming could have it, didn't it mean that he had a military rank in the Military Committee before he graduated?

He had a military rank before he graduated...

Even in the Ultimate Martial Arts School, only a small group of top students were qualified to enjoy such treatment.

So, a super big shot had snuck into their exploration mission this time?

Because they were in public, it was not convenient for Flay to ask him whether it was for military or civilian use. She could only wave her hand and say, "Hurry up and come over. The military commission's spaceship will be here soon!"

Chapter 862: Secret document, sign a confidentiality agreement!_1

The Military Affairs Committee's spaceship arrived on time.

Not long after Flay finished speaking, the roof of the Ultimate Martial Arts School's exclusive dock suddenly opened. A huge interstellar spaceship entered, bringing with it waves of boiling heat.

This was the result of the spacecraft cooling down.

If it suddenly stopped at a high speed, the temperature of the surface of the shell alone would be thousands of degrees Celsius.

It was also when they heard the movement of the dock behind them that the attention of the group of bewildered students was diverted away from Li Yueming. However, there were also smart students who took the opportunity to take the initiative to walk up and say, "Hello, my name is Manda, a student of year 7412 of the Galaxy Calendar!"

Seeing that the other party had taken the initiative to express his goodwill, Li Yueming did not hold back. He smiled and stretched out his hand. "Hello, senior. My name is Li Yue, a new student in year 7432 of the Galaxy Calendar!"

He heard that Li Yueming was a freshman in year 7432 of the Galaxy Calendar.

Including Manda, the expressions of the group of people immediately became interesting.

Because Li Yueming had a space capsule, most of the students thought that he was a top student with a military rank!

But now, after greeting him, he was surprised to find that this student was actually a first-year student who had just entered the school last year?

How could a first-year student have a military-grade space capsule?

So this was a big mistake!

Thinking of this, even Manda, who had taken the initiative to greet them, froze, let alone the other students who were watching the show. After a moment, he forced a smile and said, "Oh, I see!"

As he spoke, he pulled back his outstretched hand, and the smile on his face suddenly disappeared.

She was just a junior student. She was not worthy of him taking the initiative to befriend her.

Sensing the teasing gazes of the students around him, Manda even felt that he had lost face this time.

The expression on his face was a little ugly as he said stiffly, "Junior, you should bring your luggage with you next time. A civilian space capsule is not a good choice for storing items!"

Li Yueming didn't know much about this.

However, he had seen the change in Manda's attitude. Seeing Manda's unhappy expression of being played, he was stunned for a while before he came back to his senses and replied casually, "Oh, you don't have to worry about that, senior!"

He did not deny it.

Manda had already confirmed that Li Yueming's space capsule was a civilian grade one. He returned to the team with an ugly expression.

Li Yueming was too lazy to explain to them. After all, it had nothing to do with him, let alone in public.

Ignoring the other students' confused gazes, Li Yueming waved at Flay and said, "I'm sorry to have made you wait!"

Flay also noticed the other students' attitude. She did not say anything and only snorted coldly. "It's nothing. Let's go!"

As she spoke, she did not greet the other students and directly brought Li Yueming to the dock first.

After regaining their senses, the other students also walked towards the spaceship one after another.

There were more than 120 students in this batch.

They were all students who had accepted missions from the Military Committee during this period of time.

The Military Committee would send out spaceships at the beginning and end of each month to pick them up and send them to the Imperial Sun Planet. Then, they would allocate the tasks according to the tasks each student had accepted.

Compared to the previous misunderstanding, the students were more concerned about the relationship between Li Yueming and Flay.

One had to know that Flay was a well-deserved department belle in the martial arts department. She was even a famous beauty in the entire Ultimate Martial Arts School. There were quite a number of martial arts students who had come specifically for this mission.

After all, the martial arts department was a major that was filled with strong Vitality. There were naturally many martial artists who were interested in beautiful women.

However, until now, no one had been able to take advantage of Flay. It was precisely because of this that this incomparably beautiful flower was increasingly sought after.

Isn't that what men are like?

The more he couldn't get it, the more he wanted it.

And now, Flay had a very close relationship with a first-year student of unknown origin. Naturally, it attracted the attention of many students, especially those from the martial arts department.

He looked at Li Yueming's back with some hostility.

Someone suddenly thought of something and whispered to his companion beside him, "Last time, there seemed to be rumors that Flay was very close to a pretty boy, right? The two of them even had coffee together in a coffee shop?"

Speaking of this problem.

Instantly, all the other students recalled the rumors that had spread widely on the forum a few months ago.

They had no choice but to remember it deeply.

Flay hadn't spread any random information in all her years in school.

Only that time was witnessed by many students.

Thinking of this, a few martial arts students exclaimed, "F * ck, could this Li Yue be the pretty boy who drank coffee with Flay last time?"

A student pondered for a moment. The more he thought about it, the more he felt that this was possible. He could not help but say bitterly, "So the goddess likes this. Damn it, if I had known earlier, I would have gone for plastic surgery!"

The other student couldn't stand it anymore and cursed, "Forget it. With your pathetic appearance, forget about plastic surgery, you can't be saved even if you reincarnate. It's better to quickly wash up and sleep."

Chapter 863: Secret document, sign a confidentiality agreement!_2

A few students from the martial arts department sighed. They were obviously very sad about this.

After all, for them, who were still at the age of youth and ignorance, what could be more tragic than the goddess they had a crush on having a boyfriend?

Of course, there were also some who did not give up, but these people were much calmer.

He only glanced at Li Yueming who was chatting happily with Flay not far away, and silently engraved Li Yueming's appearance in his heart.

If there was a chance, he would definitely teach this pretty boy a lesson!

This was the truest reflection of their current feelings. Other than venting their anger and envy, they also had the idea of making Flay change her ways.

Being together with a pretty boy wouldn't last long. She had to fall in love with a group of muscular men to feel more secure!

The military committee's interstellar spaceship was very advanced.

Furthermore, there was a special interstellar sea route between the Ultimate Martial Arts School and the Imperial Sun Planet.

Therefore, in less than five days, Li Yueming and a group of students who accepted the mission entered the exclusive dock of the Military Committee of the Imperial Sun Planet.

It had been less than a year since he left the Imperial Sun Star.

However, for some reason, Li Yueming had the illusion that a long time had passed and that things had remained the same.

In fact, this was because he was too focused on researching machinery, and his strength had increased too rapidly.

After all, staying in the Ultimate Martial Arts School not only allowed him to enjoy the best treatment of teachers in the entire Imperial Sun Star Field, but he could also enjoy a large amount of martial arts and Mechanic resources. Coupled with Li Yueming's shocking cheat and a little talent, it was difficult for him not to improve his strength quickly.

After they got off the spaceship, the military committee sent someone to bring them to the mission department of the military committee.

When the group of people arrived at the mission department, they realized that there were already hundreds of people gathered there before them.

Seeing Li Yueming's puzzled expression, Flay took the initiative to explain, "These are the students who have completed the last mission and do not intend to return to school. Instead, they are staying here to continue receiving missions. They are basically your seniors!"

Li Yueming pursed his lips.

There was basically no student younger than him.

After all, the Ultimate Martial Arts Academy hadn't started recruiting students this year. He was the youngest batch to be recruited last year.

Hundreds of students gathered together.

Seven or eight senior special agent team leaders of the Military Council in special agent uniforms walked out and said in turn, "Mission number 3007, gather at my side!"

"Mission number 4396, this way!"

There were twelve teams in the Special Agent Unit of the Military Affairs Committee, and there were eight of them here. Li Yueming swept his gaze over them, but he didn't see the team leader who looked like An Lin.

In that case, An Linna should be one of the four teams that hadn't arrived yet.

The exploration mission number that Li Yueming and the others accepted was 4399. When the leader of the sixth team of the Special Agent Group of the Military Committee called this number, twenty students, including them, slowly walked out of the crowd and walked towards the team leader of the Special Agent Group.

On the way, Flay whispered, "Recently, the Military Committee has been issuing exploration missions very frequently. I wonder if they have located some undiscovered mineral area in the Imperial Sun System or something else. Anyway, the Special Agent Team has always been short of manpower. You're lucky to have met them. Hurry up and earn more credits during this period of time. Then, you won't have to run around for credits like me in the future!"

Li Yueming nodded.

Although he didn't feel that his luck was very good, since Flay had said so, perhaps he really didn't know how lucky he was!

Under the leadership of the sixth team leader of the Special Agent Group of the Military Committee, the few of them came to a closed and narrow meeting room.

The moment they entered the conference room, many students felt that something was wrong.

The group of people looked at each other, and their expressions became a little puzzled. Flay frowned and said in a low voice, "Strange, isn't this an ordinary exploration mission? Why did you bring us to the secret room where we signed the confidentiality agreement?"

This was Li Yueming's first time on a mission. He looked around but couldn't find anything wrong. He asked, "What's wrong? Shouldn't you sign a confidentiality agreement?"

Flay opened her mouth to say something, but before she could say anything, the team leader of Team 6, who was walking in front, had already closed the door of the secret chamber.

After the door of the conference room was completely closed, the leader of the sixth team of the Special Agent Group turned to look at the group of students who were still confused about the situation and said solemnly, "Everyone, for the sake of confidentiality, we didn't explain it in advance on the school's mission forum. But now, I'm very serious to tell you that this mission may be a little special!"

Hearing this news.

Immediately, the students in the secret room were in an uproar.

It was not that the students had never seen classified missions with false information, but they would basically mark the level of confidentiality in the mission hall in advance.

However, he had never encountered a situation like today where no news was revealed and they were only told that this was a confidential mission after they arrived.

It was no wonder that the group of students were unprepared for this.

The leader of the Sixth Special Agent Group did not say anything. He stood there for a while and waited for the students to gradually quiet down before continuing, "Everyone, please calm down. The mission this time is not too dangerous, and the rewards are quite generous. The reason why we are making such a big fuss is that the confidentiality level of this mission has reached the level of 'top-secret.' Therefore, all the students who are present now need to sign a confidentiality agreement!"

He heard the two words 'Top Secret'.

The expressions on the students' faces changed.

Most of them were shocked.

The team leader ignored their attitude and continued, "Of course, it doesn't matter if you're unwilling to sign the agreement. You can withdraw now, but for the next two months, the students who withdraw will have to stay in the Military Committee's confidential area and not come into contact with any outsiders!"

"Of course, the military commission will also give you some resources as compensation for detaining you for two months!"

"You are all here for the exploration mission of the Turing Space Zone. After the two-month detention period, the military commission can double your original reward as additional compensation!"

At this point, his meaning was already very clear and accurate.

The importance of this top-secret mission was so high that even the students of the Ultimate Martial Arts School would be detained for two months if they were unwilling to sign a confidentiality agreement after hearing about it.

The expressions of the twenty students present were all rather interesting.

Not only was he detained for two months for not signing the confidentiality agreement, but the military commission also compensated him with twice the resources?

If he signed the confidentiality agreement and completed the mission assigned by the Military Committee, wouldn't the resources he received be several times more?

For a moment, even the students who were about to turn around and leave became hesitant.

After a while, a student mustered his courage and asked, "Sir, is it really not too dangerous?"

"Yes." The team leader nodded. "A high level of confidentiality doesn't mean a high level of danger. This mission is slightly more dangerous than you originally estimated, but it's far from dangerous for you!"

After hearing his answer, a few students immediately decided to take the risk of turning a bicycle into a motorcycle.

He gritted his teeth and signed the confidentiality agreement.

Of course, there were also many students who chose to cut their losses in time. After all, they could get double the resources for free after being locked up for two months. Where could they find such a good thing?

In the end, including Li Yueming and Flay, there were still 12 students who chose to stay.

The team leader distributed the confidentiality agreement to the twelve people. After making sure that they had all signed it, he continued, "All of you are excellent students with clean backgrounds who have been carefully selected by the military commission. Now that you have signed the confidentiality agreement, you should know the consequences of leaking the secret!"

"The information I'm going to tell you is confidential. You can't reveal a single word!"

Chapter 864: In the face of the righteousness of the human race, they were united against the outside world!_1

The team leader of the sixth special agent team slowly swept his gaze across the students present, revealing traces of ruthlessness.

Hearing his warning, the dozens of students present were nervous and excited.

After all, they were not the top students of the Ultimate Martial Arts Academy. If there was anything special about them, it might only be that their family background was clean enough.

And now, it was precisely because of this that he had actually obtained such a seemingly good opportunity. If he could achieve something... Perhaps he could gain the attention of the Military Affairs Committee.

After making sure that all the students had heard him clearly.

"This new mission is also an exploration mission," the team leader said slowly. "However, the area you need to explore is not the previous Turing Star Field, but another place. The reason why you are involved is that there are not enough people in the special agent team during this period of time. That's why we need you to assist in the investigation and help us complete some missions that are within our capabilities..."

At first, Li Yueming didn't feel that there was anything wrong, but after thinking about it carefully, he noticed something unusual.

The exploration of the Imperial Sun Star Area was quite complete. Except for a few desolate Star Clusters, most of the Star Areas had been explored.

Under such circumstances, most of the planets with special minerals had already been registered, or they had simply arranged many corresponding mineral collection methods. It was almost impossible to miss out.

Now that the Military Committee had suddenly recruited people to explore, other than a few desolate Star Clusters... Were there really undiscovered and registered mineral resources in other areas?

Perhaps there were, but there were not many of them, and most of them were small Kuangqu.

A large scale operation in a small Kuangqu might not even be enough to cover the cost of mining. Therefore, only those large mining areas had the value of being mined. Large mining areas were very eye-catching, and it was basically impossible for resource exploration teams to miss them.

Then the question was, what was the purpose of the Military Affairs Committee suddenly sending out so many exploration teams?

Li Yueming lowered his head and thought for a moment. He could infer three possibilities.

The first possibility was that the Military Committee had discovered a new Kuangqu, which was why they had sent out reconnaissance teams to investigate on a large scale.

The possibility of this was actually not high, because there was actually a specialized mineral resource exploration team within the Military Committee. There was no need to assign the special agent team of the Military Committee to overkill.

Of course, it was also possible that they had discovered some extremely precious resources that were not suitable for the outside world to know about. Therefore, they had entrusted a special agent team with a higher level of confidentiality to investigate.

The second possibility was that the resources within the Military Committee had really reached the point of exhaustion, so they had no choice but to send many teams to investigate the location of those mineral deposits, preparing to forcefully mine them regardless of the consequences and costs.

Although this possibility was not high, it was not completely impossible.

If Li Yueming didn't stand on the shoulders of the giants and knew that the war between the Alliance of Order and the Zergs would continue for a few more eras, this possibility would be the highest.

The third possibility was that the Military Committee had made a new discovery in a special unexplored star field, and that area was relatively dangerous. Ordinary resource exploration teams could not enter it at all.

This was why they needed to assist the people to be able to go beyond their powers.

Regardless of the reason, it was something that Li Yueming needed to pay extra attention to.

After all, he had not forgotten the results of his deduction.

The Emperor Sun Star Field was quite far away from the frontline battlefield of the third universe. It could be considered to be the central area of the third universe. Logically speaking, there was no reason for it to suddenly be affected by the flames of war before the frontline fell.

However, the reality was that on a certain day forty years later, the Insect race suddenly appeared in the Emperor Yang Star Field and ignited the flames of war that engulfed everything.

If there was no deeper reason, how could it be difficult to explain why the bugs did not choose to invade other star areas, but chose to invade the unremarkable Emperor Sun Star Area?

There must be a reason why it appeared.

Although there were still more than 30 years before the Insect Tribe invasion, if there was really something special about the Imperial Sun Star Area, it should be time to show it.

For some reason, Li Yueming recalled the interstellar fleet that he had discovered in Nilra when he left planet 7-20003.

At that time, almost all the students thought that the fleet was just an accidental stop during a long voyage in space, and that they had caught it by chance.

Only Li Yueming didn't agree with this theory.

Especially after he learned the knowledge of the Mechanic class, he was even more disapproving of the judgment of those students back then.

Not to mention that during space travel, the probability of an interstellar warship's deceleration being captured by the naked eye was negligible.

Taking a step back, even if the interstellar warship really happened to decelerate because of the engine overheating, the speed of its movement after deceleration was still quite terrifying. It was impossible for ordinary people to capture it with their naked eyes.

The only reasonable explanation was that the fleet's target was Nilra!

What did this mean?

Li Yueming didn't know that the only thing he knew was that the interstellar battleships were a strategic deterrent even on the frontline battlefield. The problem of a few interstellar battleships appearing behind the Third Universe was definitely not that simple!

Chapter 865: In the face of the righteousness of the human race, they were united against the outside world!_2

If the current exploration mission was really directed at Nilra Star Ruins, then based on the known information, it was very likely that the Alliance of Order had discovered something in Nilra Star Sector.

Of course, all of this was Li Yueming's speculation based on the information he had.

As for whether it was real or fake, Li Yueming couldn't guarantee it.

After signing the confidentiality agreement, the expression on the team leader's face completely eased.

After all, the students of the Ultimate Martial Arts School weren't just any Tom, Dick, or Harry. Now that he was treating them with such an unyielding attitude, even he felt a little pressured.

Now that the most difficult part was finally settled, the rest was easier to handle.

After gathering the confidentiality agreements signed by the students, the team leader said, "Since you've signed the agreement, I can reveal some necessary information to you!"

"Firstly, what you are most concerned about is the reward for completing this mission..."

"You can rest assured about this. The Military Committee will never mistreat anyone who has made contributions! As long as you can successfully complete the mission, not only will you receive three times the original basic reward, but you will also receive 100 million Universe Credits in cash and a high-grade weapon of your choice!"

“In addition, if there are additional contributions...You still have a chance to receive a military rank reward from the Military Council!”

If the first few rewards only made the students’ hearts skip a beat, then the final military rank reward was enough to make many students’ breathing quicken.

If they were able to obtain military ranks before graduation, it meant that they had made special contributions to the military committee in school.

Such talents would often be fought over by all parties once they graduated.

How could it not make their hearts beat faster?

Even Flay couldn’t help but show some interest.

Seeing that no one was paying attention to her, Li Yueming patted her shoulder and said, “Senior, calm down!”

Hearing his reminder, Flay came back to her senses. Her burning heart cooled down a little. She forced a smile and said, “Don’t worry, I won’t be too impulsive. Moreover, the opportunity to obtain a military rank isn’t forced!”

Although that was what he said.

However, only Flay herself knew what she was thinking.

After all, she was desperately accepting missions in order to graduate and enter the battlefield as soon as possible. Now that there was an opportunity to promote her military rank in front of her, it would be a lie if she was not tempted.

However, no matter how tempted they were, as she said, the opportunity to obtain special contributions was ultimately something that could only be encountered by chance. The team leader of the Special Agent Team only gave them hope, but it might not really be able to let them get what they wanted.

The Imperial Sun Star was still surrounded by steel and tall buildings, and the traffic was unusually dense.

However, Li Yueming didn’t have the time to appreciate it this time.

After describing the reward for this mission, the team leader did not describe the destination of the mission itself or the more detailed mission requirements.

According to him, knowing too much was not a good thing for them.

As for what they needed to do, someone would naturally tell them when they arrived.

The group of people stayed at the Military Committee of Imperial Sun for a few more days. They thought that there would only be twelve of them on this mission, but they did not expect the special agent team to bring more than twenty students over the day before they left.

It was worth mentioning that Manda, who had greeted Li Yueming before, was also among the more than 20 students who had been assigned to the school.

Adding on the original twelve students, the Ultimate Martial Arts School’s student team alone had expanded to thirty-eight.

Moreover, according to the information revealed by the 26 students, other than the students who were unwilling to sign the confidentiality agreement, all the students who came to participate in the mission this time were basically recruited.

From this, it could be seen that the Military Committee probably sent more than one or two special agent teams for this operation.

It was just that the students were not on the same spaceship.

Just like that, with some nervousness and uneasiness, Li Yueming and his thirty-eight students set off toward the depths of the endless sea of stars.

About half a month later, the spaceship left Emperor Sun Star Field.

This time, the seventh team in charge of the Special Agent Team sent out more than a hundred special agents. Among them, the lowest was a Level Six martial artist. Even the team leader, who was a Level Eight martial artist, was sent out.

It could be seen how much importance the higher-ups placed on this mission.

Although the students had signed a confidentiality agreement, they were not assigned to the same cabin as the agents. After all, there was not only a difference in strength between the two sides, but there was also a difference in identity and status.

The students of Ultimate Martial Arts School were assigned a separate cabin. During this process, other than calling them to eat on time every day, the special agent team did not reveal any information to them.

In this journey that was filled with many unknown, nervousness and excitement could not last long. Therefore, after the initial excitement, many students began to feel uneasy again.

To be honest, if they didn't know that the Alliance of Law and the Military Committee wouldn't use them as cannon fodder, they really wouldn't have dared to participate in this mission.

After all, the mission's level of confidentiality was so high that he had yet to explain the cause and effect to them.

The members of the special agent group sent by the Military Committee were all elites, and even the leader of the special agent group came.

If it wasn't for something big, the ship wouldn't have made such a big fuss.

Most of the students present were still Level Five martial artists. Only top students like Flay had reached the standard of a Level Six martial artist.

Level five martial artists might be able to play some role on the battlefield that was suitable for human survival, but they basically had no ability to protect themselves if they encountered any danger during the interstellar space voyage.

This was the difference between a real interstellar martial artist and a fake interstellar martial artist.

Not only did Level Six martial artists learn and comprehend powerful combat techniques, but they could also achieve a certain sense of perfect control over their bodies. They did not need to breathe or eat to absorb the mysterious energy from the star radiance as the source of their body's power.

However, Level Five martial artists could not do that. Even if they could stop breathing and eating for a short period of time, their lives would be in danger as long as the time was slightly longer.

There were more than 30 students from the Interstellar Martial Arts School in the spaceship cabin, but less than 10 of them had broken through to the sixth rank.

The rest, including Li Yueming, were only Level Five martial artists.

Of course, Li Yueming was special because he was not only a Level 5 martial artist, but also an Intermediate Mechanic.

If combat power was also included, it was even more difficult to measure it directly.

After the first few days of silence, the large group of students in the cabin finally became familiar with each other.

In addition, Li Yueming didn't know if it was an illusion, but he felt that a few students from the Martial Arts Department were looking at him strangely. However, they didn't reveal too much hostility. They just liked to pester and inquire about his relationship with Flay.

After thinking about it carefully, Li Yueming quickly understood what this group of people meant. They probably still had designs on Flay!

He could only say that being young was good...

Not only was his hormones exuberant, but he couldn't even tell his priorities.

Li Yueming didn't hide anything and calmly told them about his relationship with Flay.

The students from the martial arts department did not believe it at first.

After all, Flay was so outstanding and beautiful, and Li Yueming was about the same age as them. How could they not be tempted and ambiguous at all?

However, as time passed, they began to doubt Li Yueming and Flay when they saw that there was no intimate action between them.

On this day, the spaceship passed by a desolate starfield. Several martial arts students took the lead in organizing a discussion. The main purpose was to familiarize themselves with the various abilities and specialties of the students present.

Chapter 866: Exploration, Return to Nilra Star Ruins!_1

After all, they would probably have to spend a long time together in an unknown star field. Understanding and familiarizing themselves with each other's strength and various specialties would be beneficial for the next mission and create more value.

Li Yueming had no objections to this.

The Interstellar Martial Arts Academy was an organization that was at the forefront of the fight. Although the competition between students was very fierce, they could still abide by a bottom line: That was to unite against the enemy in the face of the righteousness of the human race!

Now that the Military Affairs Committee had made such a big move, even if it was not a military action directly against the Zergs, it was definitely related to the Zergs.

In the face of such a situation, the students were very united.

Even though some of the students from the martial arts department were hostile towards Li Yueming, they put down their prejudices and took the initiative to shake hands with him.

At this moment, on the smooth metal benches in the cabin of the spaceship, more than 30 students sat solemnly, their eyes looking at the three people in the lead.

The three students who organized this communication meeting were all from the martial arts department.

It couldn't be helped. In the Ultimate Martial Arts School, the students of the martial arts department were much more outstanding than those of other departments.

It wasn't that there weren't any outstanding freshmen in the other majors, but that if they were outstanding enough, the other majors would have their own specialized colleges. They wouldn't choose to study in the Ultimate Martial Arts School, which was relatively less 'expert'.

For example, there was a mechanical engineering school in the Sixth Faerie Star Field next door that was famous for its mechanics. It was obvious that the students of the mechanical department would have a better future if they chose to study there than in the ultimate martial arts school.

Under such circumstances, the Mechanic students who still chose to join the Ultimate Martial Arts School were naturally the ones with weaker talent and ability.

To put it bluntly, it was because of his lack of talent and ability that he couldn't get into the Mechanical Power School. That was why he could only settle for the special admission channel of the Ultimate Martial Arts School.

Therefore, their talents and abilities naturally could not be compared to martial artists who specialized in the same field.

One of the three martial arts students was Manda, who had taken the initiative to greet Li Yueming before. He was also the most senior student present. Not only was he very experienced in carrying out missions, but his strength had also reached the upper limit of a Level Six martial artist.

The other martial arts student was called Donderna.

He was tall and thin, his skin was grayish-brown, and his eyes flickered with a strange amber color. He had the typical characteristics of a cosmic human, and he didn't like to talk much among a group of humans on the surface. Only when they looked around occasionally could they feel the heart-palpating aura on his body.

He was also a Level Six martial artist, and his strength was higher than Manda's.

The last one left was Flay. She was also a Level Six martial artist and the youngest Level Six martial artist present. With her strength and influence, she also had a place in this meeting.

As for Li Yueming, not to mention the fact that everyone present was a senior, the strength he had displayed was not enough to attract the attention of others.

Of course, the main reason was that he was not too interested in these things.

He wasn't so free as to steal the limelight from a group of students.

After the discussion began, the students took turns introducing their majors and strengths.

The martial arts department had a set of perfect evaluation standards.

After all, martial artists were the most sensitive to their own strength. They always liked to use the most intuitive and rough way to show their strength.

Vitality, combat strength, agility level... Every item had a specific measurement method.

Therefore, the students of the martial arts department introduced their own abilities in a simple and intuitive manner. Although their actual combat strength would deviate due to various aspects, the deviation would not be too ridiculous.

For example, Manda's Vitality was 2586 points, his Combat Power was 28745 points, and his Agility was Level 3.

These values were tested by the professional equipment in the Ultimate Martial Arts School. They were quite accurate. Li Yueming had heard about this, but because he was too busy, he had not personally tested it.

However, judging from the shocked expressions on the faces of the other students around him, Manda's physical fitness was still very exaggerated.

The second one was Donderna. He was also expressionless as he revealed his body's various stats. They were 2884, 31214, and 3.5 points.

As soon as these numbers appeared, Li Yueming could immediately feel the changes in the expressions of the other students around him when they looked at Donderer. It was a process of gradually changing from disbelief to shock.

Manda felt a little embarrassed, but he could only turn his head gloomily.

Next, it was Flay's turn. She also reported a string of numbers, which were: 2443, 25116, and Level 3.

Although it was not particularly outrageous compared to the previous two, she was undoubtedly the youngest among them. To be able to reach this level was already beyond the imagination of many people.

There were even quite a few martial artists who whispered, "No wonder Flay has defeated countless suitors over the years, but no one has been able to gain an advantage in front of her. Her combat strength is almost approaching the limit of a Level Six martial artist. If it weren't for those few freaks, who could have done anything to her?"

The crowd discussed for a while before they quieted down and continued their discussion.

Among the 38 people, 30 of them were muscular martial artists. There were only two students from the Beast Taming Department and three students from the Special Ability Department. There were also two healers from the medical profession and Li Yueming, a martial artist who claimed to be a mechanic.

Chapter 867: Exploration, Return to Nilra Star Ruins!_2

Although it seemed like the specialization was very serious, the distribution of each class was actually more reasonable than Li Yueming imagined.

After all, he had thought that everyone on this boat was a martial artist...

However, after thinking about it carefully, it was very likely that the Military Affairs Committee had deliberately distributed the troops in such a way so that the teams could be evenly matched.

He did not know what the purpose of this mission was, but he hoped that he could find some fun!

When it was Li Yueming's turn to introduce himself, he stood up and briefly explained that he was a Mechanic and was an Intermediate Mechanic.

This message made many students cast sidelong glances at him.

After all, it was not easy for a Mechanic student to appear on a planet like the Emperor Sun Star Field. Moreover, an Intermediate Mechanic...Had he already left the scope of a normal Mechanic?

Because the Mechanic class was a minority, not many people knew the value of an Intermediate Mechanic at this age. Only Flay, who had specially checked some information, had a puzzled and shocked expression.

After the introduction.

As the most experienced senior, Manda began to explain to the students what they needed to pay attention to during the mission, as well as how to cooperate and help each other if they were all on a mission.

Although Li Yueming wasn't very interested, it wasn't a bad thing for him to listen to it while he was bored on the spaceship.

Just like that, after another ten days, the Military Committee's spaceship finally slowed down beside a deep star field.

When the spacecraft completely released its brake and approached a planet, the students saw through the glass window that there was a huge space station built on the surface of the planet not far away.

The space station looked very simple and crude. It had probably only started construction not long ago and was not completely completed yet.

However, just the outline of the vast area was enough to make many students exclaim in awe.

Li Yueming was even more shocked.

Other students might not be able to see how terrifying the space station was due to their limited knowledge and horizons, but as a Mechanic who had come into contact with all kinds of advanced knowledge, Li Yueming naturally knew about it.

Just from the specifications, the space station here could be considered a military-grade one. Its scale was not inferior to the space station in the Imperial Sun Galaxy, and it could withstand the warping of interstellar spaceships and the transfer of supplies here!!!

This was a desolate starfield. The Alliance of Law had spent a lot of money to build such a luxurious space station. Under normal circumstances, it would take 10,000 years to recover the cost.

Now, not only was the space station under construction, but some of its functions could even be used normally.

Although Li Yueming didn't know what was so special about it, he was sure that this place was closely related to the Zerg's surprise attack 40 years later.

The spaceship slowly entered the giant space station. After resupplying some energy, the leader of the Sixth Special Agent Group finally appeared in the cabin where they were.

Looking at this group of young and ignorant students, he slowly said, "Next, we will transfer to a small probe spacecraft to carry out an exploration mission in the target area. Follow me. All of you will be under my direct leadership for this mission!"

Upon hearing his voice, the expressions on the faces of the students present relaxed a lot.

Obviously, this arrangement was made after careful consideration.

The team leader was a Level Eight martial artist. With him leading the students of the Ultimate Martial Arts School, he could effectively prevent any sudden situations that might endanger the students' lives.

After all, although the mission this time was not too dangerous in name, in reality, there were many unknown situations in the vast sea of stars. Moreover, the students of the Ultimate Martial Arts School were all precious. If anything happened, it would be a huge loss.

The students followed behind him and left what was originally called a large starfield spaceship. Instead, they boarded a small and exquisite exploration spaceship.

Compared to the normal spaceship, this special exploration spaceship was more flexible and light. It could adapt to more and more complex sailing environments. It could also freely travel in certain special areas.

After entering the exploration spaceship, the team leader activated the automatic navigation. Not long after, the group of students saw a star field full of debris, as well as the huge snow-white planets in the depths of the star field.

The moment Li Yueming saw this scene, he roughly knew what this place was.

The debris of planets scattered everywhere, the vast ruins of the universe, and the hazy dust of the star field... If he was not wrong, this should be the Nilra Star Market that he had seen from afar before!

Everything that was happening now was because the Alliance of Law had found some resources or other items in Nilra.

Because of this, the Alliance of Order had spent a lot of effort to mobilize the manpower and resources of the entire Emperor Sun Star Field to develop this place.

If he were to deduce from this result, then the few interstellar warships he saw on the spaceship back then were very likely the advance party sent by the Alliance of Order to investigate the information of the Nilra Star Ruins!

The Special Agent Team Leader turned to look at the students behind him and pointed at the dozens of broken snow-white planets in his line of sight. "This is a planet that existed long before the Initial Epoch. Its core was destroyed in an unexplainable cosmic disaster, and it has long since been torn apart by various chaotic force fields."

“Your mission is to explore the surface of this planet and test the amount of flammable ice. I will be in charge of the spaceship. If you encounter anything beyond your knowledge, remember to inform me!”

The seventh group had more than a hundred elite agents.

The number of troops that the team leader had to command was obviously not small.

They were specially stationed here to prevent accidents that might occur during the mission and to protect the lives of the students.

The group of students all nodded when they heard this, and their expressions were quite solemn.

As the spaceship slowly approached, the outline of the snow-white planet that was scattered in all directions was also getting bigger and bigger.

After closing in completely and stopping.

The spacecraft scanned the surface temperature. The planet’s surface was currently -1224 degrees Celsius.

Such extreme temperatures made the group of students feel a little apprehensive.

However, since they were already here, there was no longer any chance for them to retreat or escape.

Under the guidance of the AI, they put on special thermal protective clothing.

Just as the group of students packed up and were about to leave, an Intermediate Mechanic who was guarding the cabin with the Special Agent Team leader stopped them and reminded them, “Most of you are not even Level Six martial artists, so you must remember that only by wearing protective clothing can you ensure the safety of life on this planet!”

“Once the protective suit is damaged or leaked due to an accident, you only have about five minutes to escape. If you can’t return to the control room of the spacecraft within five minutes, you need to immediately activate the emergency plan of the protective suit!”

” If your limbs are injured, activate the corresponding emergency survival plan. The protective suit will cut off your corresponding limbs and block the invasion of the cold air...Although that would also lead to disability or even more serious consequences, it should at least be able to save your lives!!”

Previously, when the team leader of the special agent team designated the exploration mission plan, the students had already carefully understood the various functions and operation methods of the protective suit through the A0004 artificial intelligence.

Thus, no one questioned the Mechanic’s reminder.

The missions issued by the military commission and government agencies were all quite dangerous.

Every year, there were at least a hundred or eighty students who died in the Ultimate Martial Arts School while carrying out missions. As long as they left the territory of the Alliance of Law and traversed the vast universe, there would never be true safety.

Even the geniuses of the Ultimate Martial Arts School were nothing more than tiny grains of sand in the vast sea of stars.

Chapter 868:

The planet under his feet was labeled I-544204 on the Star Map of the Interstellar Committee, which represented an extinct planet that had been destroyed by unknown events in the first era or even earlier.

In the endless years, similar dead planets were like the sands of the Ganges River in the universe, almost endless.

This was the law of the universe—destruction breeds new life, and new life is mixed with destruction. Everything is like a grand cycle, revolving tirelessly in the gear called ‘time’.

However, this planet was obviously different from those completely exhausted dead planets. Perhaps it was because the extinction was not complete, but this planet still retained a lot of resources stored before it was destroyed.

Now, these resources were frozen under layers of thick ice and snow, like a boiling furnace that constantly emitted heat, attracting all the people who coveted these energy treasures from the previous era.

Even if tens of thousands of people searched for decades, they might not be able to get an accurate report on the resources on such a large planet. The Alliance of Order could not place their hopes on a group of students who did not even have a Level Six martial artist.

The ‘flammable ice’ that they needed to investigate could only be considered a medium to low-level energy source that could be detected on the planet’s surface.

Planet I-544204.

Li Yueming and the others were wearing thick protective suits as they walked along a huge ice shell.

Most of the people present were Level Five martial artists. They could not withstand the various extreme environments in the universe, so their efficiency was very slow.

Only Flay and the others could maintain their agility.

According to the arrangements on the spaceship, the Level Five martial artists among the group of students were in charge of the specific exploration and collection, while Manda, Donald, Flay, and the others were in charge of reconnaissance and defense.

Therefore, the lineup of the group of people was scattered. The Level Six martial artists were active at the edge of the team, while the Level Five martial artists could move forward with peace of mind.

Following the navigation, a huge ice cave soon appeared in front of them.

This was a hole that the Starfield Explorer had drilled in the ice, specifically for detection and reconnaissance.

When everyone approached the cave, the sky turned dark.

The team leader's voice rang out. "When the scouts were drilling here, they detected traces of activity of many energy lifeforms underground. The energy level is about 1500 megapascals. Although it's not high, it's still dangerous. Be careful. Return after you find the approximate location and capacity of the flammable ice. Don't go too far!"

The so-called energy life form was a very strange creature in the universe.

They usually appeared in various places that stored energy on a large scale. They fed on the stored energy and grew very fast. They would also attack any creature that tried to compete with them for energy.

Although I-544204 was a dead planet, the huge energy contained in it was obviously the most sought after by energy lifeforms.

Therefore, even if they were thousands of meters underground and isolated from the outside world, there were still energy lifeforms that chose to take root and reproduce.

This was also the reason why the Explorer did not dare to venture too deep underground.

After all, no one knew how many energy lifeforms were hidden beneath the planet. If they probed too deeply, they might poke a hornet's nest. They had to send people to slowly explore layer by layer to ensure that the energy content and purity were suitable for mining before they could continue to invest resources.

The mysterious energy of 1200 megapascal was equivalent to a martial artist with 12000 combat power.

Relatively speaking, it wasn't very high. However, on such a large planet with so many minerals, the number of energy lifeforms should be very high. Moreover, there might be some powerful mutants mixed among them. If a conflict really happened, it would be difficult for the team to gain an advantage.

Upon hearing the clan leader's order, everyone perked up.

They followed the traces of the Explorer's spiral in the mineshaft and began to walk down.

As they went deeper and deeper, the temperature of the surrounding environment continued to drop. Because of the protective clothing, everyone did not feel any discomfort, but they became more and more nervous.

After all, the surface of the earth when minus a thousand degrees Celsius, their physical body can barely resist.

When they arrived at the mission target location, the surrounding temperature would probably be close to -2,000 degrees Celsius. If something happened to them at this time and caused their protective suits to break, they would be one with the surrounding temperature in a few minutes.

Li Yueming was in the middle of the group.

Because he was a Mechanic, he enjoyed better treatment. He only needed to follow the team and repair all kinds of weapons and mechanical devices that might be damaged. He did not need to join the battle.

Of course, no one expected him to participate in the battle.

After all, Mechanics were known for their weak combat strength before they were promoted to Battle Mechanics. Instead of counting on him to kill, it was better to count on him to repair things faster so as not to drag down the team's efficiency.

The traces of the spiral that the scout had dug out were so deep that they could not see the bottom. The group walked unhurriedly for three to four hours before they arrived at the target area.

In front of him was a dark blue ocean.

If one ignored the naked eye and looked at it with the energy scanning system that came with the protective suit, everything in front of them would be even more spectacular. Countless flammable ice piled up together, like the bluest ocean in the world.

Chapter 869:

The layers were extremely pure.

The footage from the special agent team was synchronized with the footage from the explorer team.

At this moment, when they saw the huge amount of flammable ice energy, the students couldn't help but widen their eyes.

Compared to their shock, the team leader's voice did not show much excitement. He calmly ordered, "Collect as many samples as possible from a few areas and bring them back to test the purity of the energy!"

The Explorer probably had a rough inventory of the resources stored. The reason why they were sent down was to collect more flammable ice samples and determine the exact amount of flammable ice.

The students slowly spread out, forming a triangle as they approached the flammable ice layer not far away.

It was called a mineral layer, but in fact, the distribution of the flammable ice was similar to the ice on the surface of the planet.

It was also a thick piece, emitting an extremely cold aura.

However, just as the group of students was about to investigate, an alarm suddenly sounded from their protective suits.

The students in the middle immediately looked around vigilantly.

The agent team leader's solemn voice sounded. "Be on alert, there is a lifeform approaching you from underground. The distance is 300 meters in a straight line. The preliminary judgment is that it is an energy lifeform on the surface. Don't fight."

As the commander of the Sixth Special Agent Group, the team leader's attention was basically focused on the students of the Ultimate Martial Arts School.

After all, the high-level agents in the Special Agent Group were basically level-six martial artists. Whether it was adaptability, strength, or experience in the face of danger, they were much stronger than this group of students.

He only needed to issue orders and give some instructions at the key nodes.

Upon hearing the command, Manda, the leader of the expedition team, said decisively, "Everyone in the collection team, move out immediately. The logistics team will also help. The combat team will follow me. We will stop these energy lifeforms on the road!"

The students of the Imperial Sun Star, who had already discussed various battle plans, displayed extraordinary calmness that was far different from other academies. They began to carry out the orders in an orderly manner.

Originally, Li Yueming only needed to stay in the logistics team to get some resources.

However, since the situation had changed and Manda had ordered him to help collect specimens, he had no objections. He rushed over to a more remote area to help a collection team of students continuously knock on ice to collect specimens.

He didn't turn around to check the situation.

However, Li Yueming's perception was quite sharp. Even if his back was facing the battlefield, he could accurately know the situation of the battle.

Flay, Manda, and Donald stood at the front of the defense team. The remaining seven Level Six Warriors stood not far behind them, all of them pulling out their weapons.

At the bottom of the huge spiral slide, strange creatures that looked like blue flames scuttled up.

When they discovered that a group of students were working hard to knock on the flammable ice with the intention of collecting the resources in their territory, the group of energy lifeforms instantly flew into a rage.

This group of strange creatures that were floating in the air like hot air balloons let out a series of strange syllables. It was as if they were ancient languages that had existed since ancient times, causing people to subconsciously feel their bodies tense up.

A0004's artificial intelligence, Silent Disaster, roared angrily and said with great difficulty, "The energy lifeform is issuing a warning, ordering you to leave immediately!"

Upon hearing the translation, Manda turned around and glanced at the students who were still frantically collecting samples. After thinking for a moment, he said, "Translator, ask it to give us some time. As long as we achieve our goal, we'll leave immediately!"

A0004 quickly expressed his intentions.

However, the energy life-form obviously did not fall for his tactic. After realizing that he was unwilling to leave immediately, it immediately swelled up like a puffy smoke and pounced at the students who were blocking its way.

It was obvious that the negotiations had broken down and the life energy had launched an attack on them.

Fortunately, Manda and the others did not expect to be able to negotiate successfully. After all, the low-level energy lifeform was more like a simple machine than a life form. It did not have much self-awareness and would only follow the original instructions engraved in its body.

Thus, the moment they pounced, Manda had already drawn the weapon at his waist and roared, "Everyone, stop them!"

He heard some movement.

The dozen or so Level Six martial artists on the scene instantly rushed over, arriving in front of the dozen energy lifeforms like lightning.

As the strongest, Donald was even more direct.

He took a step forward and instantly arrived in front of an energy life-form. He grabbed and clenched his palm, and in an instant, he grabbed the energy life-form closest to him.

He gently exerted force with his ten fingers.

Instantly, the energy lifeform in his hand turned into a pool of sticky light blue liquid.

Even Li Yueming felt his heart skip a beat, let alone the others.

A student exclaimed, "This is the secret technique, Buddha's Kingdom in the Palm. It's considered top-notch even among Level 6 cultivation techniques. I didn't expect Senior Donald to be able to use it. His strength is so terrifying. How come we haven't heard of his name?"

Chapter 870:

Hearing his praise, the other Level Six martial artists around him also came to their senses.

Someone took over the topic and said, "What do you know? Our Ultimate Martial Arts School has many hidden talents. There are even many seniors who have met the graduation requirements and have yet to leave... Donald is so low-key. It's normal that we don't know him!"

The energy lifeforms in front of them were not of high energy levels, so they were confident that they could kill them easily.

However, Donald's strength, which could easily crush an energy creature into a puddle of slime with a flick of his fingers, was something they did not even dare to imagine.

After all, compared to ordinary creatures, the existence characteristics of energy lifeforms were too strange. The mysterious power in their bodies was almost endless near the energy source, and they could absorb mysterious factors from the energy source at any time to transform back to their strongest state.

Only a secret technique like the Buddhist Kingdom in the Palm, which was extremely aggressive, could do it so easily.

Donald had already established his victory.

Unwilling to be outdone, Manda also used a powerful move to deal with a flying energy lifeform.

Although everyone was collecting samples, most of their attention was still on the battlefield. After all, if anything happened in such a cold and deep ice cave, their small bodies would not be able to resist.

Only when they were sure that Manda and Donald could easily deal with the energy lifeform did the students of the collection team heave a sigh of relief.

It was good that they could stop him. They could continue working without worry.

In the pit, everything was normal except for the energy life form that was still screaming.

Just as the special agent team had previously judged, this exploration mission had a certain risk, but compared to other missions, it was definitely one of the easiest missions.

As long as there were no major accidents, there would basically be no deaths.

And the battle that was happening right now also confirmed this point.

Although he didn't know how many energy lifeforms were underground, at least the dozen or so that came out were easy to deal with.

Only Li Yueming frowned with uncertainty, feeling a trace of danger.

Seeing that he had stopped his work, the student beside him reminded him, "Ah, you damned Mechanic, can you not drag us down at this critical moment? Hurry up and complete the mission!"

She ignored his complaints.

Li Yueming frowned and tilted his head to listen for any movement.

Because all the basic abilities in his body were far superior to ordinary people, he could hear some movements that ordinary people could not hear. Now, he could feel some strange sounds in the depths of the ice cave under his feet.

It seemed like something was wailing, or someone was calling for help.

Sometimes sharp, sometimes rough

It continued to spread through the ice layer.

He did not know if it was an illusion, but he felt that the voice was getting closer and closer to them.

After repeatedly confirming that he was not hallucinating, Li Yueming slowly stood up and said, "There's something approaching from below. We should either leave immediately or find a few people to go down and take a look!"

At this moment, the group of students was quite nervous. When they heard him suddenly speak, they could not help but turn their heads to look at him and ask, "What's going on? I didn't hear it!"

They were less than half of the energy samples required by the Military Committee. If they suddenly retreated, it meant that they had not completed their mission.

They had already taken such a huge risk to come here. The group of students were obviously unwilling to return empty-handed.

Li Yueming knew what they were thinking.

Therefore, after a short moment of thought, he said decisively, "Then come with me and take a look. If you don't want to be caught off guard, we have to take the initiative to attack!"

Hearing his words, the students present all looked at each other.

If this order had come from Manda, Flay, or Donald, there would definitely be students who would respond to the call.

However, Li Yueming was a Mechanic who advocated logistics. He was a peripheral figure in the team who had no sense of existence. At this moment, he made up a groundless excuse to make them accompany him down.

If anyone responded to this, they would have to be crazy.

Everyone looked at each other, but no one moved. After a while, some students turned to look at Manda and the others.

After all, the other party was the leader recognized by most people in this team.

Manda had just finished dealing with an energy creature. When he heard Li Yueming's words, he turned around and glared at him coldly. "I didn't hear any strange movements. Since you're so sure, can you pay for your actions?"

Li Yueming opened his mouth, wanting to say something.

But before he could speak, Manda continued, "Even if you have the ability and courage to pay for your actions, your strength is not enough to convince others. There are even more energy lifeforms down there. I won't allow you to take the risk!"

Hearing Manda's retort.

Initially, Li Yueming wanted to say something, but after thinking about it carefully, he didn't insist.

After all, from the perspective of the other students, there was nothing wrong with Manda's judgment.

The reason why Li Yueming did this was because his intuition told him that this should be the case. It was obviously impossible to convince others and gain their support.

Thinking of this, he no longer insisted. He looked at Flay not far away and said, "Then I'll go down alone. Just give me a signal before you retreat!"

Flay looked at him with some hesitation in her eyes, but in the end, she said firmly, "Since you insist on going down to take a look, I'll accompany you. I'll take care of you on the way!"

Without waiting for Li Yueming to reply, Flay took the initiative to report to the team leader, "Sir, a member of the team has reported an abnormal situation to me. In order to ensure the safe completion of the mining mission, we are preparing to head down to check the source of the abnormal situation!"

The radio was silent for a long time.

The team leader glanced at Li Yueming's fake information on the table and said, "Forget it, there's no need to take the risk. Everyone... Retreat first!"

Although the life detector did not show that there were any living creatures approaching, and the team leader did not feel that there would be any sudden danger, safety was the most important thing in this mission. If they retreated first, it would only delay them a little.

However, just as he was about to order everyone to retreat, Li Yueming frowned and said, "There's no need to leave. It's already here!"
