

Married by Mistake – Chapter 0376

“Have you already told Jeremy that the b*tch is Madeline?”

“N-No! Plus, it seems like that b*tch doesn't want Jeremy to know that she's Madeline.” Rose denied it when she realized that she could not let Jeremy know about this.

After Meredith heard that, she let out a sigh of relief.

“There will be a hearing in two days. Eloise has already hired the best lawyer for me. I should be able to get out of here soon.”

Rose's eyes lit up. “Really?”

“Of course.” Meredith snorted. “It seems that Madeline doesn't plan to tell the Montgomeries about her real identity.”

Jon and Rose looked at each other in confusion. “Mer, doesn't that b*tch already know that she's Eloise's daughter? Since she has already exposed herself to us, then why won't she acknowledge that Eloise and Sean are her parents?”

“If you're in her shoes, would you still want to go back to your parents after you've been attacked, yelled at, and ignored by them?” Meredith rolled her eyes.

“I think she resents Sean and Eloise.”

Jon and Rose felt that it made sense after Meredith's analysis.

At this moment, the door of the conjugal room opened and two officers walked in.

Jon and Rose thought their time was up, but they did not expect the two officers to walk over and handcuff them.

The three of them were startled. "Officer, w-why are you arresting us?"

"Mr. Whitman was just here to make a report. You two are involved in an attempted murder."

"..."

Rose and Jon were stunned for a few seconds. Then, they remembered what had happened just now.

"Officer, we didn't! We've been wrongfully accused!"

"Mer, you have to ask Eloise to save us! Mer!"

Mer watched as Rose and Jon were taken away by the officers. In the next second, she was brought away by the officer as well.

She could not imagine how deep Jeremy's feelings for Madeline were. He could protect Vera even without knowing that she was Madeline and it was all because of her face.

She was so jealous!

"Madeline!" She spat out her name through gritted teeth. She wanted so badly to crush Madeline into dust.

After knowing that Jon and Rose had been locked up, Madeline felt pleased.

She went to make a statement at the station, proving that Jon and Rose did have the intention to harm her. After signing her name, Madeline was about to leave when she ran into Eloise at the entrance.

She remembered that she had also run into her at the entrance last time. However, Eloise was hostile with her back then. She still looked elegant and noble, yet she did not look too well. There were even dark circles under her eyes.

Madeline turned around silently to prevent any unnecessary conflict. However, the moment she turned around, she heard Eloise calling out to her in a gentle and friendly tone that she had never heard before. "Miss Vera."

Madeline felt her heart tremble. She could not believe that Eloise would call out to her in such a soft tone.

She stopped in her tracks and turned around. She smiled nonchalantly. "Can I help you, Mrs. Montgomery?"
