

Chapter 351

When Elena was about to speak, Chuck waved his hand. Since they didn't believe him, why should he bother to explain anything?

In fact, now that he was already in this state, these students who liked to be jealous of others were nothing to him. They weren't even comparable to a clown.

Since they had different perspectives, Chuck was too lazy to argue with them.

"I'm not lying. You should leave now," Chuck said to Elena.

Elena became anxious and she persisted, "You were clearly lying. You have obviously transferred to Aaron 25..."

"Haha!!"

Before Elena could finish speaking, the whole class burst into laughter.

They laughed mockingly and interrupted Elena.

A boy jeered, "What? Did Chuck give 25 dollars to Aaron? Haha, what was he thinking?"

"It can't be that he'd owed 25 dollars to Aaron, and just paid it back recently, right?" Another boy mocked.

"You're really shameless. Aaron is a freshman, how can you borrow money from him? You're embarrassing your classmates!" One of the girls said.

"That's right. It's too embarrassing!"

The whole class burst into laughter once again. Elena was dumbfounded. What was going on?

"What are you laughing at? Chuck transferred 2.5 billion dollars to Aaron, not 25 dollars!" Elena screamed.

Everyone in the class suddenly became quiet.

Three seconds later, everyone's face turned red.

"Haha! Chuck transferred 2.5 billion dollars to Aaron? Oh my God, why did he have so much money? Was that counterfeit money?" A boy asked.

Another classmate echoed, "What counterfeit money? How much cash could 2.5 billion dollars be converted? I doubt that Chuck, the loser, has such a huge sum of money. I'm sure it was play money from Monopoly!"

"Haha, it's 2.5 billions of Monopoly money. Haha, this is too hilarious. Did Chuck transfer the money to Aaron? Did he not get beaten up?" A girl couldn't help laughing aloud.

Her friend scoffed, "I'm sure he got beaten up. If Chuck gave you Monopoly money, wouldn't you beat him up?"

"D*mn it, if he ever dares to do that, I'd kill him!" One of the boys roared.

"What are you saying? It's for real," Elena spoke up at this time. She was shocked. What was going on? Didn't the class know that Chuck was well off?

"Oh my God. Chuck is too humble, isn't he?" Elena thought.

She couldn't believe it!

There were only two people in the class who did not laugh, which were Queenie and Lara. Queenie knew that Chuck was rich. However, she was still shocked. How could Chuck transfer so much money to Aaron?

Lara was stunned as well. She knew that Chuck had a plaza and a sports car. But he had actually transferred 2.5 billion dollars to someone else, he must have been very rich.

If it was in the past, Lara would've laughed at Chuck along with her classmates. But now, Lara believed it firmly although she did not know why.

"Shut up!" Lara suddenly shouted angrily and the whole class was offended.

"Lara, are you out of your mind? Why are you defending him? Don't tell me you fell in love with Chuck," they accused unhappily.

Although they didn't believe it, how could they feel good to be told off by Lara?

Lara's face turned red and she cursed, "You're a bunch of fools, fools..."

Chuck glanced at Lara who was blushing and said to Elena, "You should leave now."

Elena could tell that Chuck wasn't going to take that opportunity. But she didn't want to back down. After all, that was the chance to get close to Frieda!

It was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity!

And yet, Chuck had given it up easily, which really shocked Elena.

Elena decided to try again and persuaded, "Frieda is the campus belle.

As long as you break it to her, you..."

"It's none of my business that she's the campus belle," Chuck cut her off nonchalantly.

Elena was speechless. How could he say that? Did he not like Frieda? Elena didn't know what to say, so she left.

When she left, the whole class looked at Chuck even more sarcastically as they thought, "What? It turned out that he cheated the campus belle saying that he had transferred 2.5 billion dollars when it was only 25 dollars. Who would believe that? Did he think that Frieda was a fool?"

Lara argued with the people in the class. Only when the teacher came, they stopped arguing. Lara had been blushing. When she sat down, she secretly looked at Chuck. However, Chuck did not pay attention to her. He was paying attention to the lecture. He had to ask Yvette if there was something he didn't understand during class.

After class, Chuck came out of the classroom. One of his classmates asked sarcastically, "Chuck, did you really give Aaron 2.5 billion of Monopoly money? Haha, you have guts!"

The people in the class left with laughter. Chuck frowned and went straight out of the school. Lara followed him closely, panting while chasing Chuck. She called after him, "Hey, are you heading to the plaza?"

Chuck looked back and noticed that Lara's injury on the leg had not fully recovered yet. He told her to come with him. Since Betty was driving, it would not be a problem for Lara to follow.

Lara was surprised. Her face flushed red again and her heart was pounding as she followed Chuck. It was going to be her birthday in a few days. She really hoped Chuck could come over and celebrate with her. But Chuck had found an excuse and rejected her invitation.

There was no reason for Chuck to go to Lara's birthday party. Hearing his excuse, Lara was a little disappointed. Why didn't he want to come?

Lara felt slightly disheartened. She then followed Chuck and didn't know what to do. Since Chuck wasn't going to show up, Lara didn't feel like celebrating her birthday anymore.

Chuck turned and told her that Betty was almost there as he had already noticed her car. Betty had just gotten into the car, planning to protect him along the journey.

However, when Chuck and Lara were walking, Frieda, who was sitting in the car at the school parking lot saw them. Her beautiful eyes were filled with repulse as she hated that she had once again bumped into such a disgusting person.

At that moment, there was a roaring engine noise of a sports car. Frieda certainly did not want to see Chuck, so she turned away and saw a Ferrari coming over. It was Aaron.

Aaron had been thinking about that since he'd spent the money, it would be such a waste if he didn't get to sleep with Frieda. Hence, he went to purchase a Ferrari. He had bought it with cash. He was very determined to sleep with her.

Frieda frowned and muttered to herself, "Why is he here again? I've given him a chance but he let it slip away."

Then, Frieda started the car to drive away, but Aaron stopped her. He got out of his sports car smilingly with a gift in hand. He approached her and said, "Frieda, I'm sorry. As an apology, this present is for you."

It was a 300,000 dollars watch. Aaron thought that spending 300,000 dollars to have a date with Frieda was a good bargain.

Frieda remained calm and unmoved.

When Aaron opened the box, a flash of surprise crossed Frieda's beautiful eyes.

"This watch suits you. Let me put it on for you," Aaron smiled slightly as he spoke. Frieda hesitated and nodded. She found the watch to be nice. Since it was a gift from him, Frieda accepted it happily.

She deserved it.

It was his fault for leaving her by the roadside that day.

Frieda stretched out her delicate wrist, and Aaron's smile deepened. He then helped her to put on the watch. He couldn't help but think that her hand was pretty, her fingers long and slender.

"Let's go and have dinner together. I know a restaurant where it serves delicious food" Aaron smiled and said. Indeed, the dishes at Hotel Luna tasted amazing, and the rooms were available upstairs. After the meal, they could go up to the room and do some 'exercise'. Aaron thought that was a great idea.

"Alright," Frieda agreed.

"Come, you should take my car. I've just bought it, what do you think about it?" Aaron showed off smugly. Frieda had already seen his car. She exited her car and followed Aaron into the sports car.

She thought that his sports car was pretty good.

"Can I add you on WhatsApp now?" Aaron asked as he took out his phone. Frieda agreed and also fished out her phone for him to add his contact.

Besides her family members, there were not more than 20 men on Frieda's WhatsApp. After all, there were too few people who could meet her standard.

Aaron was very proud of himself. He clicked on Frieda's photos, she was very stunning. There were various photos with different styles such as leisure, at home, and even at the beach. Her body was really perfect. She had everything he wanted.

Aaron thought, "Could it be that Frieda is mixed-blooded? Otherwise, how can she have such a perfect body?"

Nonetheless, it was not the right time to think about it. He might get to see her body for himself later. At this thought, Aaron put away his phone. He then drove Frieda to Hotel Luna as he had already made a reservation in advance.

He just needed to bring her there.

As they drove away, Frieda saw Chuck and Lara from a distance. Frieda snorted lightly, "My best friend, Elena said that Chuck had transferred 2.5 billion dollars to you last time."

"Haha, how could that be possible? How could that poor guy have 2.5 billion dollars?" Aaron sneered and laughed it off. Needless to say, he couldn't admit it. At least, he had to wait until he had slept with her. Otherwise, it would be troublesome.

Frieda snorted again. It was a waste of time for her to ask such a question. That was simply impossible.
