

My Dreamy Old Husband Chapter 1236

Sophia not only set a different time to hold Bayside Fashion Week, she even bought over their sellers and models.

Other than promoting their own brand, the Ronney Group would be promoting other famous brands from all over the world during the Ronney Fashion Week. These famous brands came to Bayside for a show because they respected the Ronney Group.

Unexpectedly, that disgusting b*tch took the opportunity to buy over our sellers to participate in their imitated fashion week.

Other than that, Sophia even took advantage of our popularity!

Their imitated fashion week was held right after the Ronney Fashion Week and at a similar venue. They were going to start almost immediately after the Yard Family ended their event. Even the scale was similar, causing the fashion industry to be confused, thinking that this year's Ronney Fashion Week had been extended to twice the duration.

There were even rumors saying that Ronney Fashion Week got its name because it had always been held in Ronney City. Now that they suddenly changed their venue to Bayside City in Cethos, it was renamed as Bayside Fashion Week. After all, the four greatest fashion weeks from all over the world were named after the cities that it was held at.

Many of the people, who didn't know the truth, would think that Ronney Fashion Week and Bayside Fashion Week were organized by the Yard Family in collaboration with Bayside's fashion industry.

What was even more surprising was that some of them thought that it was the same fashion show.

That b*tch Sophia not only didn't clarify that rumor, she even took advantage of the Ronney Group's fame.

Many fashion celebrities came for the Ronney Group's fame but it was now benefiting the others!

It's rude, mean, cheap and dirty!

Lucy couldn't help rolling her eyes.

Is that the reason this pair of losers asked my assistant to call me and demand I come over immediately for an urgent discussion?

After glancing at Henry, Lucy questioned, "What do you want to do then?"

Ryan replied angrily, "Firstly, we must clarify that Bayside Fashion Week has nothing to do with our fashion week."

Henry then continued, "We'll also list out those sellers that signed with Bayside Fashion Week and give them warnings. Anyone who attended Ronney Fashion Week mustn't attend Bayside Fashion Week. Period!"

"The same applies to models, designers and other fashion-related workers!"

"We must sue them!"

"Anyway, we can't let Bayside Fashion Week go on successfully. In Bayside's fashion industry, there'll be no place for Sophia and her nonentities to stand."

Upon hearing the Yard brothers' plan, Lucy rolled her eyes at them again.

She understood what they were complaining about.

Since Ronney Fashion Week got back on track lately, Sophia knew that she wasn't the Ronney Group's match so she changed her tactics from suppressing them to taking advantage of their fame. In fact, she took every opportunity to benefit from their fame and strived to mix up the two fashion weeks by deliberately fixing the date and venue closely. With that, she successfully deceived many people.

However, Lucy didn't say anything about that.

Her task was to make the fashion week successful and since Sophia's actions didn't affect Ronney Fashion Week, even if she took advantage of their fame, why would she attack her?

Hence, Lucy told Henry and Ryan, "We should have a leeway for everything. If the Ronney Group plans to survive in Cethos, we have to build a rapport with the local fashion industry and provide them benefits if we wish to have a smoother development in the future. In order for an enterprise to survive, it's not only about suppressing the competitors rudely; it should be about free competitions, endless improvisation and sharing resources. Must we get rid of the local fashion industry in Bayside so that the Ronney Group is the only one remaining? Would you be satisfied with that?"

Henry wanted to say something but Lucy cut him off. "What do you want me to do? Prohibit all the models and sellers from participating in Bayside Fashion Week? For the next step, are you planning to prohibit anyone from renting the show venue that we used for Ronney Fashion Week?"

Henry and Ryan knew they couldn't win against Lucy in that argument but they weren't happy to let Sophia, who suppressed them previously, take advantage of the Ronney Group's fame now.

Besides, Lucy was obviously taking Sophia's side!

Under Henry's glare, Lucy announced, "My next step is collaborating with Bayside Fashion Week."

She had this idea since the beginning—rather than suppressing each other as opponents, they might as well unite the two forces as one!

In that case, as a foreign force, the Ronney Group could enter Bayside market with the help of the local fashion forces. Besides, Sophia's backings were the Mitchell and the Fletcher Families, which were both strong forces that they should be cautious of, who might even cause trouble at any time.

Instead of putting up their guard, they might as well show their friendliness at suitable times and collaborate with them. In return, the local fashion industry could enter into the international market with the help of the Ronney Group's global influence. With that, everyone would have a slice of the pie.

Then, she would successfully complete the task given by Jordan and step out of everything as soon as it ended.

She really didn't want to get involved with this pair of fools any longer than necessary!

Naturally, Lucy's idea was strongly opposed by Henry and Ryan.

"You plan to collaborate with Sophia?" Henry shouted angrily and his astonishment was indescribable.

Even Ryan was stunned. "Lucy, are you doing this on purpose? You're on the same side with Sophia!"

Lucy glanced at them contemptuously before instructing the bodyguards on both sides, "Keep an eye on them. Before the fashion week ends, I don't want them to doubt my work and plan."

With that, she left without considering their opposition.

Henry and Ryan were forced to stay at the hospital. Since their legs were broken, they couldn't go out and stir up trouble.

In the ward, both of them trembled in anger.

It turned out that it was Sophia and Lucy's scheme all along.

Their plan must be asking the Fletcher and the Mitchell Families to break their legs and trap them in the hospital. Then, Lucy would collaborate with Sophia.

That cunning old woman!

Meanwhile, Lucy had an appointment with Bayside Fashion Week so she headed straight to JNS Group right after she left the hospital.

That day, many people went over to JNS Group. Sophia was the host and she invited the Bayside City Fashion Association to carry out the official signing of the agreement for the collaboration between the two fashion weeks.

Lawyers of the two parties came and they negotiated the contents. Then, both parties signed the agreement smoothly, looking forward to earning a fortune peacefully and sharing their fashion resources.

Sophia was overjoyed too.

She knew that she couldn't outcompete Ronney Fashion Week that was organized by Lucy, so she would rather take advantage of their fame. Even better, she would just collaborate with them.

Unexpectedly, as soon as the idea of having a collaboration hit Sophia, Lucy had taken the initiative to contact Sophia and suggested a collaboration.

Both of them hit it off immediately and decided to abandon their prejudice temporarily and make a fortune together.

The scale, date and venue would remain the same but Ronney Fashion Week incorporated a Bayside special introduction show, which was originally Bayside Fashion Week.

After the collaboration was announced, it caused a huge splash.

In the hospital, the Yard brothers almost exploded from rage, yet they couldn't do anything since they were locked up in the hospital. Even worse, their legs were broken so they even needed help to go to the bathroom, not to mention stopping Lucy. Therefore, they could only watch helplessly as Lucy ruined their plan.

Even Cooper was shocked at how things ended up. After all, Lucy and Sophia were hostile toward each other previously but all of a sudden, they collaborated. However, that made sense from a business point of view, which was benefit-oriented. There was no enemy that was forever but there were forever friends. His darling was clever and that was as expected, with her being his descendent.

And so, Bayside Fashion Week rejoiced.

My Dreamy Old Husband Chapter 1237

The news soon spread to Ronney City.

“These two youngsters have shocking ideas!”

Anna was the first to know the news and she was surprised.

Beside her, Callum was sipping tea; he remained rather composed and only sighed. “Plans always fall behind changes!”

Initially, they planned to make Sophia fight against the useless brothers. They had to get rid of them even if it cost the entire Bayside City market.

Unexpectedly, Jordan sent his eldest daughter from the Edwards Family, Lucy, to interfere in the matters of Bayside City just to support that pair of brothers.

Even more surprising, Lucy ended up collaborating with Sophia!

That outcome was truly not what they had expected.

Sophia wasn't happy about getting rid of that pair of brothers for Anna to begin with. She was only interested in developing her career but that pair of brothers were in her way, so she had to deal with the Ronney Group even if she wasn't willing to.

On the other hand, Lucy was only aiming to complete Jordan's task, so collaboration was a great solution for both of them.

Looking at the report from Bayside, Anna suddenly asked Cade, “What about Jordan?”

Jordan didn't trust anyone but surprisingly, he sent the eldest daughter of the Edwards Family to interfere in the Yard Family's issues. Now that his daughter made such a shocking decision, it was impossible that he stayed calm.

Cade murmured in response, “Until now, he hasn't given a response.”

However, Jordan surely knew about what took place. Therefore, he must have tacitly agreed to it since he didn't say anything.

He knew that the collaboration between Lucy and Sophia would only bring benefit to his sons in expanding Bayside City's market.

Callum sighed. "I'm really unhappy with this outcome. I didn't expect that Lucy would interfere in this matter."

However, Anna didn't think that it was a big deal.

Jordan would never allow Lucy to control Ronney Group's market in Cethos, so she would have to return the power to that pair of brothers sooner or later.

Therefore, it was still uncertain if they could hold onto their achievement even if they had established their foundation.

"The best is yet to come!" Callum smiled cunningly while clenching the tea cup in his hand.

Anna looked at the photo in the documents, where Lucy and Sophia were signing the agreement. They were shaking hands while smiling brightly; although they had their own plans, they knew that collaborating with each other was a win-win solution.

However, would that pair of brothers think the same way?

Yet, Anna's focus was on their smiles.

Lucy indeed took after her father, Jordan's temperament. Judging from her looks, she was obviously not an ordinary person. After all, she was Jordan's eldest daughter and it was only natural that she was extremely outstanding.

On the other hand, Sophia resembled Cooper when she smiled.

Looking at her, Anna thought about Cooper.

When he spoke to her, he would sometimes show the same gentle and charming smile. At the same time, it was mysterious and enchanting.

What a pity that his smile will only bloom for that one person...

On the other hand, Henry and Ryan had called Anna several times to vent their grievances.

Yet, Anna glossed it over every time. They knew that the Ronney Group was controlled by Jordan and Lucy was appointed by him, so Anna didn't have any true authority.

Anna also did not care about how Jordan comforted them.

In Bayside City, Cooper heard about what had happened in the Ronney Group lately. It turned out that there was an issue in their business and that was why Anna rushed back.

Cooper knew Anna's phone number and her current whereabouts.

Every night, he would stare blankly at his phone for some time but he had never dialed that number. Yet, that number was deeply engraved in his memory.

Hesitating, he wanted to call her and ask about her situation but he didn't know where to start. Besides, he didn't know who he was to call her and the reason for seeking her out.

After all, she had her own family.

Once Cooper recalled that Anna had been married to Jordan for years and even gave birth to so many children, his heart bleed in pain.

He wondered why fate had to torture them heartlessly. He wanted to take a step forward but his conscience told him that nothing would work out now. The love and affection were in the past and since fate mistakenly cut off the string that bonded them together many years ago, it could never be reconnected.

Soon, Sophia and Lucy's collaboration was reported in the newspapers.

Jordan didn't respond to that so he must have tacitly agreed to it. Meanwhile, Ryan and Henry were still lying in the hospital due to the injuries from the fight, so the one who couldn't accept their collaboration the most was naturally Sandra.

"How could you collaborate with Sophia? Who gave you the courage to do so, Lucy?"

Lately, Sandra had been extremely busy with taking over the entire Mitchell's Technology. Unexpectedly, Lucy betrayed her and collaborated with Sophia when Sandra wasn't paying attention.

Before this, the Ronney Group was caught off guard by Sophia's attack; even their fashion week was almost put to a stop. In order to save the event, Sandra threatened Lucy to help her because she had something against her. Without any choice, Lucy obediently came to her rescue.

I did not expect that this b*tch, who runs errands for me, would collaborate with Sophia!

"I invited you over so that you can ruin Sophia, not collaborate with her! You'd better cancel this collaboration right now!"

Looking at Sandra, who shouted and yelled at her as soon as she came in, Lucy snorted.

If Jordan hadn't appeared suddenly and asked her to come, she wouldn't have interfered in the Ronney Group's matters. However, Lucy didn't want to reveal her relationship with Jordan so even until now, Sandra thought that Lucy came because of her.

"My task is to ensure the smooth and successful operation of the fashion week. Other than that, it's none of my business!"

Sandra rushed toward Lucy and slammed her office table angrily while cursing rudely, "So you collaborated with that b*tch? Do you want to die?"

Lucy gave Sandra another contemptuous glance while sneering inwardly.

Sandra was never the one she was afraid of; it was Jordan.

Who does Sandra think she is?

Coldly, Lucy commanded, "Get out. This is my office and my work. I don't need your input."

Receiving such a rude response from Lucy, Sandra slammed the table again. Ever since she took those drugs, her temper had worsened.

"Lucy, aren't you afraid that I'll expose your secrets immediately? I'll make you lose your right to inherit the Edwards Group!"

Without lifting her head, Lucy countered, "I know you don't dare to do so now because once you expose it, I can instantly make you go bankrupt. On the other hand, I'll immediately regain my rights as an heir as long as I apologize to the Edwards Family and marry someone."

Choking on her words, Sandra was rendered speechless.

Lucy added, "Get out. You've been fired. In the future, don't ever come to the Ronney Group again!"

Those fools, Henry and Ryan, thought that Sandra was a local force and they could take over Bayside Fashion Week with her help; little did they know that they were just three fools that were birds of a feather and all they did was mess up a supposedly great business.

Sandra refused to leave but the bodyguards started to chase her away.

Before she left, Sandra threatened Lucy viciously, "Just you wait and see. You won't be smug for long!"

Sandra knew that it wasn't the time to expose Lucy's secret now because once her secret was exposed, she wouldn't obey her anymore.

Lucy and Sophia... Damn it!

I won't let you two live happily for long!

Looking at Sandra's receding figure, Lucy massaged her temples. After working several hours at a stretch, she was completely worn out.

Suddenly, her assistant brought a basket over. Inside the basket were a rose, a note and a heat insulation lunch box containing pork rib soup.

On the note, there was a neatly written sentence.

'No matter how busy you are, don't forget to eat. Come home early; I'll be waiting for you.'

Looking at that sentence, Lucy's eyes smiled.

My Dreamy Old Husband Chapter 1238

Sandra wanted to ask Ryan and Henry for their help and come up with a solution, but she found out that they had been placed under house arrest at the hospital, so it was difficult for her to see them.

Sophia crippled them and Lucy took the opportunity to put them under house arrest in the hospital. They had indeed orchestrated a great plan!

In fact, apart from wanting to denounce Lucy, Sandra's biggest purpose in going to the Yard Family was to borrow a sum of money.

Mitchell's Technology was in shambles. Their products were unsellable and the investors had withdrawn their capital. Meanwhile, their stock prices had fallen and their source of capital was unstable. Their executives had all changed jobs, even poaching some of their employees. Thus, they had received resignation letters one after another. Sandra had many issues to solve before she could even rejoice in her role as the newly appointed president.

Mitchell's Technology was in many industries, from retailing and banking to high-tech currently. They were constantly adapting to the changes of the times, as well as regularly transforming and expanding. Mitchell's Technology had operated for a hundred years but when it was passed on to Sandra, it was already half ruined.

If anything happened in Bayside City, the company would collapse immediately.

The sum of money invested by the Yard Family had long since been emptied. At the end of the year, they could not pay the wages of the workshop workers and they only had a small amount of cash. They were struggling and on the verge of bankruptcy, and they could collapse at any time.

In the face of this situation, Sandra was at a complete loss. First, she did not have the ability to turn things around. Second, Mitchell's Technology could not be saved.

She needed a lot of money!

And so, she began to secretly sell Mitchell's Technology's assets and equity to collect money.

For example, the shares of the most valuable Glory Entertainment Company were sold by her and they were all bought by Sarah. Sarah received a large number of shares in Glory

Entertainment and directly became a top executive, concentrating on supporting her husband's career.

But no matter how much money they had, it was futile because very soon, they ran out of funds again. Plus, the Yard Family and Lucy refused to lend them money. Thus, Sandra then changed her target to the Mitchell Residence...

It wasn't long before Sophia learned that Sandra was selling her ancestral home.

The ancestral house was indeed valuable. That piece of land was worth no less than a few billion, not to mention the house itself!

However, Sophia was after that piece of land.

As the owner of countless Bayside City real estate, Sophia was the favorite of Bayside City's real estate agents. The moment she gave out the order, no real estate agent in Bayside City dared to help Sandra sell the ancestral house.

Of course, no one in Bayside City dared to buy the ancestral home of the Mitchell Family!

Sandra and Mitchell's Technology were on the verge of collapse, so Sophia didn't want to waste time on her. Her main task now was to do a good job during the fashion week.

If she did a good job, the fashion industry in Cethos would usher in a new decade.

The fashion week would be held after the new year because all work in Cethos had to be put off for a period of time due to the new year celebrations.

Even the bad guys wouldn't want to cause trouble during the new year; after all, everyone wanted to celebrate and welcome the new year.

On December 27, 'Anna' called again. During the phone call, Carmen sweetly said to Anna, "Miss Beautiful, I hope you're doing well in heaven! I love you!"

'Anna' also said gently, "Carmen, you're the best. I hope you do well in school too next year! Happy New Year!"

After making small talk, Carmen said, "Miss Beautiful, I'm off to play with my neighbors. Grandpa said he misses you very much. Would you like to have a few words with Grandpa?"

After Carmen finished speaking, she gave Cooper the phone and slipped out to play, wearing her Snow White costume.

Seeing her leave, Cooper pretended to say a few words to the phone and hung up.

In the study, Michael, who pretended to be Anna again, was simply exhausted.

However, he didn't know that at this time, Carmen had already sneaked out to the Winston Residence next door to have fun. When Sarah saw her, she hugged her and raised her up high.

After lifting her up high, Sarah watched Harry's drama in the living room while Carmen, Poppy and Hope entered the room together.

After entering Hope's room, Carmen diverted the babysitter away. She and Hope then pressed the buttons on Nicholas while Poppy asked ignorantly, "What are you guys doing?"

Hope looked serious as he answered, "Go and guard the door."

And so, Poppy went to guard the door rather aggrievedly.

Together, Hope and Carmen dismantled Nicholas and turned off its system, leaving only the communication system on. Now, this robot was just a large phone and could only make calls. Plus, their call history would not be recorded.

Turning off the robot, Carmen sucked on a lollipop in her mouth with a serious look. Then, she took out a business card—which she had stolen from her mother's office—from her pocket and dialed Anna's private number.

The whole family fooled her, thinking that she was just a three-year-old kid!

However, everyone forgot that she was already four years old!

She was not a three-year-old kid anymore. How could they lie to her and say that Miss Beautiful was going back to heaven?

She had seen the set of equipment that Linus hid in the study before. Every time before 'Anna' called, she would see Michael sneak into the study. It was too obvious!

Everyone was already a member of the society, so they should have acted more maturely!

In order to cooperate with everyone, Carmen had been pretending to be ignorant for several days and she finally couldn't hold it in anymore.

After dialing Anna's number for a video call, Anna's face was soon projected onto the wall through Nicholas' projection system.

"Carmen?" It was already getting dark where Anna was at. Thus, she didn't expect to suddenly get a video call from an unfamiliar number as it was rare for her to receive calls on her private phone number. To her surprise, she saw Carmen as soon as the call was connected.

Anna was taken aback but she was delighted deep down. She thought it was Cooper who made Carmen call, but unexpectedly, Cooper wasn't in the call at all. There was only Carmen, Hope and a lolita guarding the door, secretly peeking over from time to time.

"Miss Beautiful!"

When Carmen saw her, she jumped up happily, looking extremely cute in her Snow White costume. When Anna saw her, her eyes teared up.

She had made an agreement with Carmen but she didn't keep her word. Seeing the little Snow White dress Carmen was wearing, Anna felt upset.

"Carmen, what's with the sudden call? Where are your parents and grandpa?"

Anna looked around but didn't see anyone else; it seemed that Carmen was calling her without them around.

Carmen said sweetly, "Mommy is busy with work and has not returned home. Grandpa and Daddy are at home making preparations for the new year!"

Looking at Carmen in the video call, Anna was filled with adoration. She really wanted to rush over and hug Carmen.

"Carmen, why are you looking for me?"

Carmen said happily, "I'm going to perform Snow White for you, Miss Beautiful!"

Anna's brows, which had long been knitted tightly together, finally relaxed. Feeling both sad and joyful, she murmured, "Okay!"

Carmen had a strong desire to perform. She had been thinking about it all these years and she insisted on performing for Anna. Thus, she sang and danced in the small dark room, performing for Anna.

Hope had a sour expression the whole while.

After the performance was over, Carmen sat down and chatted with Anna while petting Hope's dog.

"After you left, Grandpa and I were very sad. Grandpa is so handsome; why don't you like my Grandpa, Miss Beautiful? I'm going to be on 'My Grandpa In Shining Armor' with my Grandpa so he'll soon become a celebrity. There will be many, many people who want to be my grandmother. You have to seize the opportunity, Miss Beautiful!"

Hearing this, Anna did not know whether to cry or laugh. She really didn't know how to answer Carmen.

Is Cooper sad about my departure?

No... He's only sad about Annabel's departure...

After Carmen and Anna chatted harmoniously for a while and became more familiar with each other, Carmen finally revealed her true purpose.

"Miss Beautiful, will you come to our house for the new year?"

My Dreamy Old Husband Chapter 1239

Celebrate the new year in Cethos? Anna's smile suddenly stiffened.

Carmen also knew that this request was over the line, so she changed the topic and said, "Miss Beautiful, you must come and play with me when you have the time. I'll go home first."

Anna had mixed feelings in her heart when she said softly, "Okay. I will definitely come and play with you, Carmen."

Hearing that, Carmen then went home joyfully.

At home, Michael was picking roses in the garden while humming a song, planning to make a bouquet for Sophia. Ever since Anna left, Carmen had finally stopped stealing the roses, but Celine and Harry still occasionally sneaked in to steal them.

Harry not only stole roses, but also the bacon and dried fish hanging outside their house. How annoying.

Seeing Carmen come back, Michael asked while wrapping up the roses, "Baby, where did you go?"

"I went to play at my godmother's house!" Carmen murmured.

Michael was wary that Harry would come to steal roses and bacon again, so he asked, "Is your godfather at home?"

Carmen shook her head. Harry is not there? It's already December 27 and that guy is still filming?

However, Harry still hadn't returned the next morning. As such, Michael found it strange. When he went out in the morning, he glanced at the Winston Residence and found that it was strangely quiet over there. He then left curiously. The new year was around the corner so he was going out to deal with some things. After that, he would finally be able to celebrate the new year at ease.

Meanwhile, Sophia was already preparing for the new year. She stayed at home and watched TV in the living room after breakfast, while Cooper took Carmen and the dogs out for a walk. Suddenly, Sarah came over crying. "Sofie!"

Seeing Sarah crying, Sophia was startled. "What's the matter?"

When Sarah saw her, she broke into sobs.

“Old Wolf is c-cheating on me!”

Cheating? Sophia thought that Sarah had some misunderstanding so she hurriedly said, “Are you sure? Your Old Wolf treats you so well.”

Sarah took out her mobile phone while choking intermittently. “He went out to film yesterday and didn’t come back all night. It turned out that he went to the hotel with someone else. That woman even sent photos of them in bed in the middle of the night to show off!”

There are even photos of them in bed? Sophia took the phone and saw an unsightly photo sent by someone. In the photo, Harry was naked and his chest was covered in lipstick marks. Meanwhile, a naked foreign woman was wrapped around him like a snake. Her G-cups weren’t even censored!

He really cheated! The woman also sent the hotel room number; how arrogant of her!

“How could he?” Sophia slammed the table and stood up. “Damn it! How can you bear this?” she roared. “Let’s go! I want to see what the hell the disgusting man and woman are going to do!”

Sarah wailed helplessly. She only saw this photo this morning and she didn’t dare to cry in front of the three children at home. She wanted to catch them red-handed, but she was too afraid to do so.

Sophia gathered her men together hurriedly, even deliberately bringing along a few fierce-looking dogs to catch them red-handed. “Come along! Follow me!” Sophia dragged a crying Sarah into the car. Then, the group of cars quickly gathered and went to the hotel where the incident occurred.

Sophia never thought that she would catch Harry cheating red-handed in her lifetime and she was huffing and puffing with anger. Men are all the same. They’re all disloyal and lustful! I’m going to skin Harry and that woman alive!

...

When Michael received Justin's call, the hotel was already in chaos. Michael hurried to the scene of the incident and saw that the hotel had been closed due to the frightening chaos; he could hear people screaming and yelling from a distance away.

There were many cars parked at the entrance. They were cars from the Winston Family, the Mitchells, the Michel Family, and even Justin. Michael's hair stood on end. He didn't expect to encounter this situation in his lifetime. He didn't know who he should help when he arrived at the scene.

He hurriedly entered the hotel lobby and saw Dimon standing at the gate with a group of people squatting beside him. They all had the Winston Family crest on their bodies. Their leader, Dana, was being tied up.

"Why is she here?" Michael was startled when he saw Dana.

"I don't know," Dimon replied. "She was sneaking around outside the door when we came in, so we tied her up."

Michael was about to rush upstairs anxiously to check the situation, so he ordered, "Tie her up first; we'll interrogate her when the matter is over." He then hurriedly entered the elevator with Hale and the others and they went up to the eighth floor.

The elevator opened with a ding. As soon as the door opened, Michael saw that the golden corridor of the hotel was already filled with people. Several people were fighting with each other without weapons; they were fighting barehanded in groups.

The men from the Winston Family, the Mitchells, the Michel family, and Michael's men were fighting against a group of blonde and blue-eyed foreign martial artists. In the chaos, there were three huskies leading a few black Labradors to bite humans. What the f*ck...

When Justin saw Michael coming, he shouted to him from a distance, "They are in the room." He then led his men to stop the foreign bodyguard who tried to rush into the room, so no one could enter the room.

Michael glanced at the clothes of the foreign bodyguards. There were familiar-looking uniforms with symbols on the sleeves. Meanwhile, Hale had already taken out his mobile phone and scanned it.

“This is the emblem of the Adams Family. Their family business is the Western European insurance giant Adams Insurance.”

Adams Insurance? Isn't that the property of Cooper's fiancée? Why are they involved in this?

Soon, Michael broke through the crowd and reached the door of the room; the door was closed and a woman's scream sounded from within.

The people of the Adams Family were tyrannical as well. Even if they were having a hard time fighting the group of men, they still managed to stop anyone from entering.

Michael knocked down a few people one after another as he said to Hale, “Bring the robots up here and attack them precisely. Everyone with the Adams Family emblem must be brought down.”

Hearing his orders, Hale quickly sent someone to bring Nicholas and Shae up. They still had to rely on illegal technology during critical times.

Finally, Michael rushed into the room. Unexpectedly, when he entered the door, he saw four women fighting fiercely with each other in groups of two. Sophia and Sarah were beating up two foreign women.

Sophia brought all the equipment Michael had prepared for her to fight high school students. She wore a black nano-polymer battle suit, brass knuckles, impenetrable armor, and a helmet. She was armed from head to toe and she was scratching the foreign woman's face bloody.

Sarah was also well-equipped and fought with a tall woman with voluptuous buttocks. The woman didn't wear a single piece of clothing and her big bosom dangled and shook around. If Sarah hadn't worn a helmet, the woman would probably be able to knock her out with her bosom.

What an eyesore. Michael turned his head away and looked left and right. He didn't see the adulterer, Harry. Coincidentally, Judge came in to support them in their fight. With its expert dog's nose, Judge managed to sniff Harry out. It then used its paws to push open the door of the master bedroom. What greeted them was the sight of Harry being tied to the big bed, a BDSM butt plug stuffed in his mouth. There was also a full set of BDSM equipment on one side.

Upon seeing that, Michael gasped.

My Dreamy Old Husband Chapter 1240

Michael did not expect Harry to be into such kink!

Poor Harry! With tooth marks all over his body, he wore only a pair of underwear; even said underwear was covered with an obscene lipstick mark.

Harry knew that someone had come to rescue him when he heard noises outside but unfortunately for him, he couldn't move from the bed. Plus, his mouth was gagged, so he couldn't speak. He could only hum and grunt, which went unheard for a long time.

Last night was simply one of the darkest nights of his life...

He was busy filming on set. After taking a sip from a drink, he immediately blacked out. When he woke up, he saw the cow riding on him with a whip!

How terrifying!

Upon seeing Michael's arrival, Harry was ecstatic. He kicked his feet around and his eyes widened while he mumbled vigorously. Michael stepped forward and saw that there were leather whips, candles, and all kinds of props on one side, and was promptly reminded of the woman with the huge bosom.

Michael made a sound of disgust and untied Harry. As soon as Harry was free, he pulled the gag out of his mouth and stroked his numb tongue. Quickly, he found his own clothes and put them on.

"What the hell is going on? Aren't you into lolitas? Why did you hook up with a G-cup mature woman?" Michael asked hurriedly.

This is not good at all.

“Bah! What do you mean I’m into lolitas?”

Harry took a sip and muttered darkly as he put on his pants, “I was tricked by the b*tch, Dana! That b*tch colluded with Betsy, that cow, kidnapping me and tying me up!”

When Michael heard the story, he hurriedly said to Hale, “Tie Dana up tightly.”

When Harry heard that Dana had been tied up, his eyes became bloodthirsty.

I was almost raped by that cow!

If it was not for Dana, how could that cow successfully kidnap me?

Fortunately for Harry, he stubbornly resisted for half a night and managed to wait until someone rescued him.

Dana!

This time, I will skin her alive!

Harry put on his pants while Sarah rolled in with the G-cup woman in her arms. The two people were fighting each other. Sarah, who was much smaller, was weaker than the muscular woman. However, Sarah had the upper hand as she had better equipment, not to mention a husky to assist her in the fight.

However, Sarah was so shocked when she saw a lipstick covered Harry that her fists froze in the air and she looked at Harry motionlessly.

And the woman under her actually took this opportunity to fight back, pressing Sarah under her body and even trying to pull off her helmet.

Upon seeing that, Harry was furious. He walked over and kicked the woman away before stepping on her with one foot. However, when doing so, he accidentally stepped on her ample bosom. Terrified, he quickly retracted his foot.

He wanted to teach this lewd cow a vicious lesson, but Justin and the people from the Adams Group rushed in at that moment.

This isn’t good.

There was a sudden chaos in the room and the crowd that rushed over dispersed the few people inside. Michael saw that G-cup woman being surrounded by the crowd and she was rescued after a while. He then worked hard to separate the crowd and when he found Sophia, he picked her up.

“Let go of me! I’m going to tear that b*tch apart!”

Sophia was having fun scratching the woman when she was suddenly picked up by Michael. Hence, she kicked in dissatisfaction and shouted, “Let go!”

The situation was chaotic and Michael couldn’t care less anymore. He picked Sophia up and walked out of the room. Then, he saw that there was still chaos outside. The two robots had already entered the place and they immediately carried out precise strikes to knock down the people there. Meanwhile, the cow had already vanished.

“Let’s withdraw first.”

They had caused a huge scene and it would be difficult for them to give an explanation later on.

Harry also quickly picked Sarah up and left.

After they reached home, Sarah walked in very calmly like never before.

She said to Sophia with a cold expression, “Sofie, please send the children to your home. I will pick them up later.”

Seeing this, Sophia hurriedly sent the three children away so that they would not be traumatized when the adults started quarreling later.

Seeing her walking away with the three children, Sarah cried loudly.

“Winston, you b*stard! I gave birth to your kids and this is how you treat me? Tell me, what is the relationship between you and that b*tch?”

Sarah cried as she smashed things around. Harry wanted to explain but she refused to listen.

He was at a loss and felt as if he would never be able to clear his name no matter what.

I am the victim here and I was almost raped by that cow!

He then said to Michael, "Bring me that b*tch Dana!"

Michael's hair stood on end as he asked Justin to send Dana in, who was still tied up. They made her kneel on the ground before tearing off the tape from her mouth, letting her explain.

"Tell everyone what happened!" Harry roared viciously.

"That woman is Betsy Adams," Dana muttered. "Her family is very rich and she has already been in an affair with Harry for a long time—"

When Sarah heard this, she started to cry again.

Harry was furious and kicked Dana in her face viciously.

"If you don't f*cking explain things clearly today, I will f*cking beat you up!"

After being punched and kicked, Dana started to sob loudly. Yet, she still insisted, "Harry, I'm helping you. Although that cow is kinky, she is rich. You can have as much money as you want after you are with her! You took naked loans after all, so let's find a way together to repay your debts, alright? Why bother to act in some crappy drama and ruin yourself? You'll just be an eyesore! What's so bad about that cow? She has a big bosom and is a freak in the sheets; even I want to sleep with her! The moment you bed her, your naked loans will be paid off in minutes!"

...

Upon hearing that, Michael laughed—he actually laughed on such a serious occasion.

Sarah cried again, "So you think I'm too poor for you?"

Harry was about to go crazy.

Dana had been rebellious since she was a child and she always liked to blabber nonsense.

Although Harry took on some crappy dramas that didn't even have a script, he really wasn't short of money!

He only accepted those dramas because his wife liked them!

This b*tch Dana just wants to take the opportunity to trick me!

Furiously, Harry went over and began beating Dana up again. "This is what you get for trying to trick me! You b*tch! You're so capable, eh? How dare you drug me on the set! You even tied me to that cow's bed! You b*tch!"

Beaten up, Dana cried and begged for mercy, "Harry, I was wrong. Stop beating me. I'm really sorry!"

Harry kicked her hard twice and finally stopped.

This b*tch! She'll never change even if I beat her to death!

"Kneel down before Sarah and tell her what you did!"

It was only then that an aggrieved Dana kneeled in front of Sarah and blubbered, "Sarah, I know your family is struggling financially recently, so I introduced my brother to a profitable job, which is sleeping with the rich cow. The cow promised to pay off all the naked loans that Harry owed. Harry refused and kept resisting, so I drugged him. He is really innocent—he was forced into it."