

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 140

Nathan probably knew that Sophia was aware of the trouble he had caused, but he still put on an arrogant face saying that he was just a kid, so she couldn't blame him.

She then carried him up angrily. "What happened to my character, huh? Why am I now a monster? Why did I r*pe and kill Beast in front of everyone, huh? I only gave you my account. Shouldn't you explain yourself?"

Nathan turned his cold face away. "What are you talking about? I have no idea."

Sophia stared at him because she didn't know what else to do.

I can't bear to hit or scold him! What else can I do besides staring at him?

She put him down as he looked at her with displeasure. "Didn't you promise that you'll get me back my character as soon as you come back from military training?"

Sophia was rendered speechless. Not only won't he admit to what he has done, he is even trying to blame me for something else.

"Hmph, your character is gone. He is now in the hands of Scary Phoenix. You go look for him yourself!" Sophia imitated his demeanor and turned her face away coldly.

Nathan looked at her angrily before pointing to the door emotionlessly. "Get out."

“Fine!”

She picked up her bag and walked out.

Just as she got out, Nathan slammed the door shut.

He really is a heartless little boy.

After that, Sophia went back to the master bedroom she and Michael shared. She lay down on the bed and rolled around comfortably. Without Michael's presence, even the toilet had the fragrance of freedom.

A while later, she stood up and made a phone call to Hale.

“Hale, I need you to call the gaming company tomorrow and report to them that my account was hacked. I promise that I won't kill any other innocent people, so tell their game manager to stop coming after me. Also, do you have any technical ways to bring back Nate's character? Money isn't a problem. If you really can't do it, try hiring two hackers to hack the game.”

Nathan was utterly mad at Sophia, so she ignored him as well.

The next day, she got out of the house early in the morning after waking up. Without waiting for Nathan, she went to school alone and refused to come home for the whole day. She even had lunch without him, and she also had her dinner outside before returning home. The moment she got back, she hid herself in her room and read some books without even talking to him.

It was the same on the third and fourth day, so Nathan's small face grew gloomier every day.

During the fifth day, he finally couldn't stand it, so he woke up early and blocked Sophia, who was about to ride away, at the gates. His tiny face was gloomy as he said to her coldly, “I'm fine with being angry for a few days, but I'd soon be traumatized if this goes on. I'm still a little kid. How could you argue with a little kid?"

Sophia's face, which had been tensed for the past few days, finally softened. She squatted down and hugged him while pinching his tender face. "Oh, dear. My darling, you are so adorable! Muacks! I love you so much!"

He truly will be an imposing president in the future. Even the way he called a truce is so dominant!

The two of them finally called it a truce for the moment. He is just too cute to ignore! But his character is still in Scary Phoenix's hands. That is a big problem!

Hale made a phone call to the gaming company. In the company's response, they promised to stop the game managers from coming after her, but they really couldn't bring back her son's character because it was against the rules.

Hale also contacted a few hackers, but it was pointless. The opposition's rank was so strong that even the hackers couldn't do anything about it.

Should I just give up on Nate's character and forget about it?

Sophia comforted Nathan by touching his tender face. "Darling, I'll just help you train a new character, alright? We'll just give up on the old one."

He looked at her angrily and bitterly, but in the end, he finally agreed.

He also tried to attack the opposition, but it didn't seem to work at all because the opposition's rank was too strong.

Even he himself wasn't able to find a way, so he could only train a new character.

Therefore, Sirius233 reappeared in the game with a new son—NateKato.

There was a new announcement in the 'Swordsman Game', saying that Sirius' account was hacked, so she apologized to the mass amount of innocent players who were killed.

The Sirius who appeared again wasn't as arrogant as before, and she became a great man. Everyday, she would bring Call Me Taylor and NateKato around to fight monsters and upgrade their attributes. She stopped inviting trouble to herself and flirting with other girls; she had left the arena to live a happy life of retirement.

Snow Fox also stopped bothering her because she had been so well-behaved lately, but No.1 Beast of the Server was still unconvinced.

Beast really hated Sirius. He r*ped and killed me in public. Does he really think he can push away all his responsibilities just by saying that his account was hacked? Dream on!

At the moment in Xoskha, the filming crew of 'Doctor Invincible' had moved the shooting to this country. The whole crew stayed in a hotel where they shot the movie during the day and played computer games during the night.

Harry suddenly dashed into Michael's room with his laptop. "Dad, Sirius is online again. I want you to kick his a*s!"

The moment he entered the room, he immediately saw Michael wearing a green one-piece pajama that was covered with spots. There was even a weird green hoodie on his head.

Is this a f*cking... frog?

Harry felt that he opened the door wrongly, so he closed it and opened it again. When he looked into Michael's room, there was still a massive 6-foot-tall frog sitting inside.

The frog turned its head around and glanced at Harry. When Harry saw Michael's face on the frog body, he was shocked. "What the hell are you wearing?"

Michael took a sip of coffee and answered him calmly, "A parent-child outfit."

Harry scratched his head as he seemed to remember seeing a picture of Sophia and Nathan in parent-child outfits that she posted in her IG Stories today. In the picture, Sophia was also wearing a frog-like pajama. He sighed inside. When a man becomes a father, he will evolve from a human to another creature—for example, a frog!

He put down his laptop and noticed that Michael was training his new character, who was a female. When he saw it, he made a strange shriek. "Old man, you really are training a female character. Sh*t. You do have weird taste!"

Michael remained silent as he opened two windows for the game so that he could log into both his new and main character. He enlarged the window for the main character to cover his new character. After that, Scary Phoenix dazzlingly appeared in the game.

At the moment in the game, Sirius was fighting some monsters along with Call Me Taylor and NateKato. Nathan once said that Sirius' character design wasn't good-looking at all, so the good father, Sirius, immediately changed her looks to a dashing swordsman with a pair of extravagant bunny ears on her head. Call Me Taylor also made herself a bunny one-piece suit with a pair of bunny ears.

Nathan also wore a pair of bunny ears on his head so that the whole family was wearing the same parent-child outfits.

Whether in the game or in real life, Nathan had always put on a cold face.

This outfit is so embarrassing, but if Sophia likes it, I'm fine with it.

After a brief moment of embarrassment, he suddenly felt that he looked quite good in the outfit.

In reality, it was already the middle of December. The weather was getting a bit cold, so when Nathan played the game at night, he wore a small one-piece frog pajama along with a hoodie that resembled the head of a frog. When he put it on, he looked exactly like an adorable tiny frog.

“Ah, my sweet Nate, you really are adorable!”

Sophia hugged him and rubbed his face excitedly.

He pushed her face away. “Calm down. I’m still a kid.”

For some reason, Sophia also got herself a one-piece frog suit. After putting on the hoodie, she curled up in front of the computer. Her tiny face was exceptionally bright and pure when the white light of the computer screen shone on her.

The two frogs, one big and one small, were focused on playing the game. Unexpectedly, just when they were about to exit the game, they immediately saw the system making an announcement to the whole game—Scary Phoenix, the immortal, was online!
