

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 461

Sophia, whose role was an extra in the crew, was already done with all of her scenes. Hence, she merely sat aside and swiped on her phone as she was not needed on the set.

Since her husband was a celebrity, she was attentive to any news that was related to 'War Dragon' online. Whenever she had time on her hands, she would search for related keywords to read about the news.

There was another piece of sensational news that appeared today with the title 'She used to be the queen of a local TV drama yet she has to kneel before others today'.

What?

After Sophia clicked on the link, she saw a picture of Nicole, which seemed to have been secretly captured by someone in the filming crew.

With the script in her hand, Nicole was kneeling in front of Michael and Harry in the picture.

Her head was lowered as she attentively looked at the script with a humble attitude. However, the two male leads in front of her crossed their legs. As it was secretly taken from a distance, the expressions on their faces could not be clearly seen, but overall, the two men looked rather arrogant. With her posture, it looked like she was indeed kneeling in front of them.

Then, many comments about 'bullying a new actress' and 'Taylor Murray and Ethan Winston are abusing their power' filled the news section.

Many ghostwriters flooded the comments section and repeated the few words from time to time, brainwashing the public's logic and causing the news to gain traction.

“Gosh, his image of a male idol is completely ruined now! It seems that the rumors being spread online weren't for nothing. I can't believe that Taylor is this type of person!”

“There's even a picture as evidence this time! We'll see how the fans defend their idol this time! Taylor and Ethan have even forced her to kneel before them. Now, we know how they actually treat people!”

“We have to boycott 'War Dragon'!”

Sophia was so furious that it made her butt ache even more.

Obviously, that was because Nicole had nowhere else to sit, so she temporarily kneeled there. I immediately brought her a stool! Who the hell uploaded this picture? This familiar tactic and the smell of the same formula...

Sophia eyed Xyla, who was touching her makeup. Even though Xyla looked innocent, Sophia knew that she was definitely related to the incident. After all, Glory Entertainment knows the best method to spread rumors. Could it be Richard? As Michael always speaks up for me, Richard has taken offense and used this opportunity to slander Michael? How disgusting! Seems like I've been too easy on them!

While she was busy replying to the comments online, she did not forget to take a look at Nicole.

As Nicole was busy filming, she did not have time to look at the news online. Although she was almost done with her scenes, the final parts had kept her busy, flying around in the air with metal cables tied to her.

Sophia reminded Nicole's assistant not to allow her employer to be influenced by what she read online.

When the filming crew were done with their work, everyone scrolled on their phone. Hence, some of them definitely saw the news and spread it among themselves.

In no time, everyone in the filming crew understood what had happened. They were aware of Nicole's sense of professionalism and some of them even helped to speak up for her by revealing the truth online.

In a short time, the full video had been leaked online. Finally, the netizens finally knew what exactly had happened.

However, Sophia felt that the matter would not end just like that. Sure enough, after dinner, the news exploded like wildfire once again, but in a different direction.

In the afternoon, everyone still felt sorry for Nicole as they thought that she was being bullied by her seniors. However, by the time evening arrived, rumors had it that Nicole was the one who intentionally leaked the pictures and hired ghostwriters to slander Taylor and Ethan, using their fame to boost her own popularity. It had infuriated Taylor and Ethan's fans, who were canceling her online.

With the influx of countless ghostwrites, the rumors couldn't be stopped at all. In just under one night, everyone started to hate Nicole and many reporters flocked to the film set to interview her.

However, since Taylor and Ethan were experienced and famous actors, they refused the interview. On the other hand, Nicole was utilizing every second to shoot her scenes, so she had no time for any interviews.

Since they weren't able to interview anyone, the media concocted many different stories and rumors to slander Nicole until everyone hated her. Meanwhile, they also slandered the filming crew of 'War Dragon'.

Taylor and Ethan's fans insisted that Nicole's role as the lead actress be swapped with someone else. If she was not changed, they would boycott 'War Dragon' to the end.

When it came to slandering people, Glory Entertainment was an expert.

Even some people in the filming crew were slightly unhappy with Nicole after being influenced by what they read on the news. They thought that she was the culprit behind the rumors to gain sympathy and fame.

"Taylor, look at Nicole—that b*tch! She even has the courage to use you to promote herself. See, you were insulted by the public in front of her. You have to tell the director to change that b*tch! Otherwise, the entire filming crew would be dragged down by her."

Olivia pouted as she pulled on Michael's sleeves. After all, she couldn't wait for him to ask the director to fire Nicole from the crew. As long as Taylor speaks up, the director will definitely agree with him! When the time arrives, I will definitely be the female lead!

While looking at the script lazily, Michael raised his gaze and glanced at Sophia, who had been using his hotspot in the corner. Then, he told Olivia, "I'll talk to the director later."

Upon hearing his reply, Olivia left happily to wait for her turn to be the female lead.

Even Xyla came over to congratulate her in jealousy.

The entire filming crew seemed to know that Nicole was about to be fired.

However, at that moment, she had no idea about it as she lacked the time to peruse the news online. On top of that, her assistant also forbade her to look at them and asked her to concentrate on the filming instead.

In order to decrease the amount of bloopers, Nicole was memorizing her lines and practicing her moves whenever it was time for her to rest.

Her stomach still hurt—the medicine had only alleviated the pain for a while. During the final fight scenes, her hand hurt so much that she couldn't even hold her cutleries.

Every step on the ground felt like Nicole was stepping on knives. It was so painful that she almost burst into tears, but she still managed to suppress all of that. It will be a matter of time before I finish my scenes and everything will end!

Upon hearing the conversation between Michael and Olivia, Sophia knew that he wanted to fire Nicole. Hence, amidst her anger, she stopped talking to him.

With her butt slightly aching, she was angered to the point where she didn't want to use his hotspot anymore. She hid in another corner so that she wouldn't have to see him.

The more she looked at the comments online, the angrier she became

The comments had insulted Nicole, the filming crew, and Michael.

Argh! I'm so angry!

When she returned to the hotel, she was still furious when she lay on the bed.

Everyone is hating Nicole now. As long as Michael says something about it, everything will be fine. However, his position is much higher, so he will not speak about something like this.

The more Sophia thought about it, the more her butt hurt. She lay on the bed on her belly with her butt facing the ceiling.

We can never use the 'backdoor' again the next time!

No way!

Not even when Michael tries to seduce me!

It's the same level of pain as the time I lost my virginity!

With a towel around him, Michael came out of the bathroom and climbed onto the bed before he caressed her buttocks that faced upward.

"Does it still hurt?"

Sophia's voice came from the pillow. "It's none of your f*cking business."
