

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 109

Chapter 109 Back when Paisley had walked away from the Sullivans after their fallout , the family was doing okay at best .

At the time , the familys business had been barely scraping by Gregorys watch back then was a modest model worth a few tens of thousands of dollars .

But now , in just four short years , it seemed their wealth had multiplied exponentially .

There was no way Gregorys brainpower pulled this off alone .

The Sullivan family had to have some major player backing them .

Without it , there was no way the company wouldve survived , let alone thrived , in four years .

That explained Brittanys boldness to land a lead role in that movie .

It turned out the family had the cash to throw around .

But seriously , Paisley thought , whos dumb enough to bankroll the Sullivans ? Must be someone with more dollars than sense .

Paisley wasnt about to waste energy on them .

She gave them a quick once over before heading toward the exit Gregory wasnt having it .

He barked , Tms talking to you .

Whats wrong with you ? Ever heard of respect ! His outburst echoed through the hospital lobby , drawing stares from passersby .

Paisley stopped mid step , spun around , and glared at the trio .

Whats your problem ? she shot back coldly .

Starting drama this early ? Save yourself the headache You better watch your tone .

Gregory fumed , practically puffing up with indignation .

Paisley , come on , Brittany chimed in , looking all concerned while paning Gregorys arm like she was calming a raging bull .

Dads just worried about you .

You shouldnt lash out at him this way .

Hold it right there , Paisley snapped .

Who do you think you are to talk to me ? Brittanys face darkened as she glared at Paisley , Gregory , seemingly calmed down , patted Brittanys hand .

His gaze lingered on Parsleys out a cheap T shirt and jeans with a worn looking backpack slung over her shoulder .

It seemed like life hadnt been kind to her .

He sighed heavily as if trying to appear magnanimous .

Since youre back , you should come home .

Were family , after all .

We wont leave you out there to fend for yourself Forget it , Paisley replied , as Gregory grew irritated at her defiance .

If you werent my Desh and blood , do you think Id bother with you ? Youve been out there all these years- havent you learned your lesson yer ? Paisley let out a sharp laugh .

Oh , so you do remember Ive been gone for years ? Nine years .

After nine long years of being ignored by the Sullivan family , they now had the nerve to play the concerned family members .

It was laughable to Paisley .

Gregory was momentarily stunned before snarling , You insolent brat .

Looks like you still need to be taught a lesson Paisley had no interest in continuing this pointless back and forth .

She turned on her heel and walked away Behind her , Gregorys voice thundered through the hospital lobby .

Im warning you dont you dare go around claiming youre my daughter .

If you embarrass us and tarnish the reputation of the Sullivan family, I wont let it slide .

Now , it made sense to Paisley The Sullivan family had climbed up the social ladder and didnt want her tarnishing their shiny new reputation as his daughter .

Paisley rolled her eyes so hard at that .

His words sounded like shed ever be desperate enough to fact their name Why waste your breath on her ? Christina snapped , glaring at Paisleys retreating figure .

When shes at her last straw , shell come crawling back to us .

Besides , everyone knows Brittany is our only daughter .

Even if she tries to claim shes part of our family , whos going to believe her Dad , lets just focus on why were here , Brittany said , nudging Gregory .

We need to check on Mr.

Paul Vanderbilt quickly .

Gregory snapped out of his anger , realizing Brittany was right .

This was the real reason theyd come to the hospital .

He composed himself and ushered Christina and Brittany into the elevator .
