

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 160

Chapter 160 The restaurants restroom had a garden style design .

The background music was the soothing sound of flowing water and birds chirping , with the pleasant aroma lingering in the air .

Paisley stood by the sink , taking a moment to collect herself .

She still wasn't used to socializing in such complex circles .

It wasn't that she couldn't handle it she just didn't want to waste her energy on such meaningless interactions .

Just then , a man walked out of the mens restroom while talking on the phone .

Come on , don't be mad .

It'll be home tonight He was well dressed , with a deep , magnetic voice and eyes full of amusement .

From the tone of his voice , he was probably coaxing his girlfriend or wife I just came to drop by my daughters birthday party .

I promised the kid I'd show up .

Don't worry , I won't be staying the night I'll be back in Brightmoor tonight .

Yeah , yeah , that old hag disgusts me .

She even has a scar on her stomach I don't even want to touch her ! You're the cutest , the prettiest Alright , be good and wait for me tonight , love you ! Paisley frowned .

It was obvious that he wasn't talking to his wife or girlfriend but to his mistress .

After ending the call , the man walked over to the sink to wash his hands , finally noticing Paisley standing there .

His eyes lit up instantly .

Hey , you look familiar .

Have we met before ? Paisley felt repulsed and quickly washed her hands .

The man , however , wasn't discouraged .

Instead , his smile deepened .

He pulled a business card from his pocket and offered it to her .

This is my private number .

Give me a call if you're interested At that moment , Tubella happened to be walking toward the restroom and saw the whole interaction .

She immediately recognized the man standing next to Paisley .

It wasn't just anyone it was Millie's father , Nate .

Her instincts kicked in , and she carefully barked away before turning and rushing back excitedly to Vivian Why are you in such a hurry ?

Vivian asked , looking at Isabella with slight disdain .

She had never thought highly of the woman considering her shon-sighted , obsessed with petfairs , and nothing more than a gossiping shrew .

Isabella glanced around before leaning in closer to Vivian and whispering , I just saw Mr.

Morgan by the restroom .

Vivian's smile widened , her expression full of happiness .

Oh , my husbands here ? Yes Isabella deliberately emphasized her next words .

Ms.

Sutton was there too Vivian's face stiffened for a brief moment .

So ? Isabella grew more anxious .

I saw Mr.

Morgan give Ms.

Sutton his business card .

He even told her to call him if she was interested What did you just say ? Vivian's voice rose sharply , catching the attention of those around her .

She quickly lowered it again , glaring at Isabella .

Are you making up lies to slander my husband ? Isabella inched slightly .

How could I possibly slander Mr.

Morgan ? We know what kind of person he is .

But not everyone does .

She cast a meaningful glance toward Serena , who was playing with Millie nearby .

Vivian's expression darkened .

What are you trying to say ? Tubella gestured toward Isabella .

Ms.

Sutton is young and beautiful , and stars raising a child alone .

Didn't you once say that a woman like her is usually barcomers some rich mans sugar baby ? Mr.

Morgan is such a gentleman how could he possibly see through those womens tricks Ms.

Sutton must have said something to him , which is why he gave her his card .

If they keep in touch , then Isabella hadn't finished , but Vivian was already unable to sit still .

She had originally planned to storm into the restroom and confront Paisley right then and there .

But halfway there , she suddenly stopped and turned back .

Whats wrong ?

Mrs.

Morgan Don't worry , I'm eager to follow and watch the drama unfold , Isabella was confused when Vivian changed her mind .

Wh on your side .

A woman when tries to destroy anothers family should be taught a lesson ! Vivian nodded , her eyes turning hostile .

Yes , she needed to reach her a lesson .

But just a little punishment wouldnt be enough not enough for her to learn , not enough for it to stick Her gaze shifted toward Serena , who was playing happily with Millie .

12:11:01 AM of Chapter 160 At that moment , the kids were gathered around , curiously admiring a bottle of Closed Carst knocking it over , the expensive wine bottle had been placed on a case .

To represent the children's interest in reality , it was just another way for Vivian to show off .

She had deliberately placed the rare bottle in the art prairie space , where everyone could see it but wouldn't dare ask for a share .

After all , Cloud Crest Reserve was incredibly expensive .

Even though her husband was the general manager of Crest Crest Bridemann Arriva wasn't something they could just bring home whenever they pleased .

She was already heartbroken about sharing just a small sip with everyone here today .

But compared to that , Vivian still thought it important .

However , at this moment , neither the heartbreak nor her ego mattered nothing was more important than her family .

This bottle is so precious so pretty .

I wonder what the wine tastes like .

Elara said longingly .

She wished she could grow up instantly and drink like the I don't know .

My mom says its really good , something most people don't get to drink .

Thats why she brought it out for everyone to try today Millie replied .

Millie , your mom is so nice .

My dad is really happy he even drank Ms.

Suttons share , Elara added .

Millie turned to Serena Rena , why didn't your mom drink any ? Its not good , Rena answered honestly .

We have this at home too , but our bottle is even prettier .

My mom says that one is the best .

If its so good , how come your mom never brings it out for everyone to try ? Elara pouted , teasing Serena .

Serena scratched her head .

Next time on my birthday , I'll ask my mom to bring it so your parents can taste it .

Rena , youre lying .

My mom says you don't have a dad and that your family is poor .

This wine is super expensive your mouth couldn't witho Elara said , parroting what she had heard from her mother .

Serena was confused .

But my family isn't poor .

We live in a big house But you don't have a dad , Elara bigged out .

She didn't mean to hurt Serena .

She was just repeating what her mom had said .

Little did she know , those words hit Serena right in the heart .

Her eyes welled up , and within seconds , tears started rolling down her cheeks .

In her blurred vision , her small hand accidentally knocked into something Then , a sudden crash rang out .

The bottle , which had been placed high on the stand , somehow toppled over , shattering into pieces .

The expensive wine spilled all over the floor .
