

The billionaire and his son want me back novel
Chapter 178

Chapter 178 After raising their glasses to toast Dominick , Keith sent Baron another message .

Since Dominick was nearby , Keith didnt want to keep checking his phone , so he just quickly sent a brief note .

He reminded Baron to take the arranged meeting seriously .

In the small room next door , Baron was already getting impatient .

When he saw his father had sent two messages reminding him to take the arranged meeting seriously , he barely glanced at them and didnt think much of it .

was just some uneducated woman .

What was there to take seriously ? She was If she looked decent , hed have some fun with her , and if she could give him a son , hed marry her .

If she was ugly , though , hed just say goodbye , no son , no marriage .

He wasnt going to sleep with an ugly woman .

Speaking of which , why hadnt that woman arrived yet ? Letting him wait for so long hed make sure she regretted it when she showed up .

Just as Baron was thinking about how to humiliate the woman he was supposed to meet , the sound of a knock on the door came from outside .

Sir , theres a guest Baron lazily leaned back in his chair , narrowing his eyes , like a wild boar waiting for its prey to enter .

But as soon as he saw who was entering , his eyes , which had been narrowed , suddenly widened in surprise .

The woman in front of him had fair skin , large bright eyes , and long lashes that uttered up and down with every blink , like delicate feathers .

Her long , slightly wavy hair was casually tied at the back , with a few strands falling at the front and on the sides , framing her perfect face .

She had a tall gure , and though she wore loose clothes that werent ashy , her cool and composed aura carried an undeniable sensuality and charm Baron was immediately mesmerized , his thick lips involuntarily parting , drool spilling from the corner of his mouth .

Is she really the one ? Shes much prettier than that Brittany ! he thought .

At that moment , Baron felt like he had struck gold .

Not only was she gorgeous , but she hadnt been to school .

This meant she was not smart , and easy to manipulate .

Suddenly , Baron felt that , with such beauty , not having an education wasnt such a bad thing after all .

And she was still so innocent .

As he thought about this , the lecherous re inside Baron began to uncontrollably stir.

Paisley followed the address and room number Gregory gave her to the designated location .

Gregory had told her over the phone that someone was already waiting for her , and she found it odd who could be waiting for her ? As soon as she stepped into the room , she saw a bloated pig sitting there .

Sorry , I think I might have entered the wrong room .

As soon as she saw that disgusting man , she had already guessed Gregorys purpose for inviting her today .

A cold sneer appeared in her heart as she realized she had underestimated the disgusting nature of the Sullivan family .

Follow new episodes on the CrushnovelS.Com

Although she had expected Gregory to have some ulterior motive for inviting her to dinner , she had to admit that , deep down , she had still hoped for something different tonight .

But reality slapped her in the face .

She shouldnt have expected anything nice .

So this was Gregorys plan to set her up with a disgusting , bloated man to help the Sullivan familys agenda .

Seeing the pretty girl about to leave , Baron quickly got up , unusually agile for his size , running over and shutting the door behind Paisley before she could escape .