

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 181

Chapter 181 Back in the large private room , the atmosphere around the main table was getting lively .

Most of the conversation was between Gregory and Christina , with the Jackman family parents chiding in from the side .

But Gregory wasnt really paying attention to anyone else now .

His only focus was getting some information about Paisley from the Sullivan family members , which was the real reason he was here today .

So , just as Gregory was about to raise his glass for a toast again , Dominick raised his hand and pressed down on his glass .

I want to ask you about- Cary , arent you going to raise a glass to Dominick Brittany sharp voke interrupted what Dominick was about to say .

Dominick turned to look at her , a hint of displeasure appearing in his eyes , However , Brittany was lost in her own excitement .

She looked at Cary across the table with a haughty expression , determined to force him to bow down to her in front of everyone On the side table .

Cary was called out by Brittany and felt a surge of anger .

But seeing that Dominick was involved , he couldnt show any resistance .

He could only stily pick up his glass and , with heavy steps , slowly walked towards the main table .

He knew full well that this was Brittany trying to embarrass him .

But in the face of absolute power , he had no room to resist He awkwardly approached the main table , stood behind Brittany , and slightly bowed as he raised his glass towards Dominick Dominick , I offer you this drink .

Dominick furrowed his brows , finding the middle aged man in front of him vaguely familiar , but he couldnt quite place where he had seen him .

Who is this ? he asked , turning to Brittany .

Brittany met his gaze , her eyes sparkling , her voice soft and sweet .

Cary is the director of my next film .

I have to thank you , Dominick .

If you hadnt stepped in to help me , I wouldnt have gotten the lead role .

Youve been so good to me Dominick felt there was an underlying meaning in Brittanys words , which made him uncomfortable .

But it was indeed his suggestion to Julian to help Brittany get the lead role .

To him , it was just a trivial matter that didnt require thanks from the Sullivan family .

On the contrary , he began to feel a bit repulsed by this meeting with the Sullivan family .

He had thought it was just a simple family dinner , but he didnt expect the Sullivan family to invite so many people he didnt care about He could see through their intentions , but out of respect for Paisleys side of the family , he was putting up with it Dominick picked up his glass and clinked it briefly with Carys but didnt drink .

He set the glass back down on the table .

Brittany misinterpreted this as Dominick trying to intimidate Gary , and her demeanor became even more arrogant .

Gary , Ive heard that youve been working hard to kick me out of the cast ? Hearing this , Garys back immediately stiffened .

He carefully gauged Dominicks reaction , but Dominick remained silent , his face showing little emotion .

But it was this silence that made it all the more chilling .

Gary didnt know that Dominick was thinking .

Is Paisleys sister a bad actress Otherwise , why would the director want to kick her out of the Dominick remained silent , and Cary began to sweat nervously , quickly denying it , No , no , Im just still looking for other actors .

Once we have the cast set , we can start filming Brittany any sneered , clearly pleased with herself .

Oh , so after the filming starts , youll still be the director ? she asked .

the film ? This question made Gary break into a cold sweat again , and he started looking away .

How did Brittany know he was planning to give up directing
