

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 219

Chapter 219 Serenas surgery took three hours , but her spleen was saved .

She was now transferred to a recovery room .

The anesthesia hadnt worn o yet , so she was still unconscious .

Maria sat by the bed , tears streaming as she looked at Serenas pale face .

My poor Rena .

Shes been through so much , Maria sobbed as she wiped her tears with her sleeve .

If I hadnt taken Rena to the restaurant , this wouldnt have happened .

I was so clueless that I didnt even notice .

If I had realized sooner , none of this wouldve happened .

Saying this , Maria slapped herself hard across the face .

Marial Paisley quickly reached out to stop her before she could slap herself again .

Paisley .

I feel terrible .

I just cant stand it , Maria sobbed uncontrollably .

Seeing Marias torn clothes , scratches on her face , and messy hair , Paisley felt a pang of sadness .

Maria , you did everything you could to protect Rena today .

No one wanted this to happen .

It was just bad luck that Serenas abdomen hit something hard during the chaos , and the strong impact caused her spleen to rupture .

Thankfully , her spleen was ultimately saved .

With proper rest , she would recover without major issues .

Paisley looked at Maria and said .

So really , this isnt your fault .

If anyones to blame , its me .

Ive been neglecting Rena because of work .

You only wanted to make her happy by taking her to that restaurant , didnt you ?

Whenever Paisley thought about how her job almost cost her the chance to see Serena again , she was lled with fear .

And of all days , today had to be the one when she was nishing the most important part of her script, working tirelessly without eating or sleeping .

It just so happened that today , her phone had run out of battery , and she didnt even realize it .

As a result , she missed so many calls from Maria .

And also today , the explosion caused Serena to su er a ruptured spleen , requiring an urgent blood transfusion , forcing her to reveal Serenas true blood type in front of Dominick and the Vanderbilt family .

It felt as if everything was preordained .

But so what ? Nothing would change .

In the future , her life and Serenas life wouldnt change either .

At that moment , a doctor walked into the ward and politely said to Paisley , Im here to check on Serenas condition .

Seeing that it was the doctor who performed Serenas surgery , Paisley didnt think much of it .

She didnt notice that while examining Serenas condition , the doctor discreetly took a few strands of Serenas hair .

The condition looks good .

She should wake up in a little while .

Once awake , she might feel some pain from the wound , the doctor advised before leaving the room .

After the doctor left , Paisley realized she hadnt seen Max in a while .

It seemed like he disappeared after Rena returned to the ward .

Paisley wanted to thank him properly for his help today .

Maria , have you seen Max ? she asked Maria , hoping to shift Marias focus away from her guilt .

Sobbing and wiping her tears , Maria replied , I didnt notice .

I was just looking at Rena the whole time .

Maybe he went home ? Paisley nodded .

Probably went home .

She didnt overthink it .

They were just neighbors if he saw that everything was ne , it made sense for him to leave .

Maria , maybe you should go home too , Paisley said , noticing how disheveled Maria looked and feeling bad about making her stay .

Knowing Maria would refuse , Paisley continued , Go home , take a shower , change your clothes , and get some sleep .

Also , pack some clean clothes for Rena and bring them over tomorrow morning , okay ?
