Chapter 230

Chapter 230 Seeing Diana had her daughter in law with her .

Lauren felt a bit uncomfortable .

Oh .

Dianas here , come sit over here , the women hurriedly made room , leaving the best spot for Diana and Lauren .

Julia naturally sat next to Diana .

Lauren , long time no see .

Diana was the only one who addressed Lauren by her first name .

After greeting , she looked at Laurens side and said .

Why dont I see Marissa today ? You used to bring her everywhere with you ? She almost seemed to announce to the world that Marissa was her future daughter in law .

The other wives , already curious , now all turned to look at Lauren .

Lauren used to always bring Marissa to all these events , and they were as close as a mother and daughter .

They all thought the good news for the Vanderbilt family was coming soon , that Marissa would definitely marry Dominick But today .

Marissa wasnt here .

In fact , they suddenly realized they hadnt seen Marissa around for quite a while .

Lauren also stopped bringing her around anymore .

When asked about Marissa Lauren froze for a moment .

Looking at Dianas almost smiling face , she knew she was doing it on purpose .

She must know everything Lauren forced a smile , trying to seem nonchalant .

Oh , she got herself into trouble , did something wrong , and got locked up This wasnt a secret that could be hidden forever .

Soon , everyone would know , so she didnt need to cover it up .

Oh my Diana blinked , looking as if shed heard something very serious .

Didnt your family try to get her out ? Havent you always treated her like a daughter in law ? Dianas words were like a jab at Lauren , and in front of everyone , Lauren couldnt lose her composure .

So she pretended to be relaxed and said , What daughter in law ? She was just a tutor I hired for Sonny .

I was just being nice to her , but shes nothing like my real daughter in law .

Your daughter in law ? Diana smiled .

Where did you get a daughter in law ? As soon as the words were out , Lauren was pissed .

The other ladies immediately fell silent , none of them daring to speak up , not even showing much expression .

Diana , however , looked completely unconcerned .

She took Julias hand and said , But I do , Julia lifted her head proudly , enjoying the glory that came with being associated with the Beaumont family .

In the future , when her husband took up the decision making position , she would become the lady of the Beaumont family and the next sought after figure in the ladies association .

Diana released Julias hand and picked up the cup .

Raising an eyebrow , she said , Speaking of daughters in law , my family might have more good news soon More good news ? From what Lauren knew , Dianas eldest son and daughter were already married , leaving only the troublemaker Nathaniel Seeing Laurens curious gaze , Diana chuckled , My son Nathaniel has fallen for a good girl .

And you actually know her .

1/3 20:33 Fri , 14 Feb Chapter 230 I know her ? Lauren immediately became suspicious .

Could it be that Nathaniel had taken an interest in Kayla ? Yes .

Diana didnt make her wait .

Its Paisley The sound of a thunderclap seemed to explode in Laurens mind .

You dont know who she is ? Shes- I know .

Diana nodded .

But my son likes her , and I like her too .

If she marries into our family , Id treat her wholeheartedly , unlike some people .

Lauren felt a tightness in her chest .

She knew Diana was mocking her for once pushing Dominick to divorce while being so kind to Marissa .

No way ! She rejected firmly .

Why not ? What you say doesnt count , Diana laughed , clearly unfazed by Laurens face now turning a deep shade of purple .

Damn you , Diana , Nathaniel , and the Beaumont family ! How dare you try to take Paisley ? Lauren thought .

Just then , a commotion outside broke the tense atmosphere in the room .

Whats going on outside ? Lauren asked the service staff in an annoyed tone .

The staff quickly explained , A Mrs.

Sullivan came to the door and wanted to enter , but her name isnt on the list , so the security guard stopped her .

Mrs.

Sullivan ? Since when did we have a Mrs.

Sullivan ? Lauren asked , clearly displeased .

This was not a place for everyone .

Someone who could make such a scene at the door without any sense of decorum would only lower the status of the club .

One of the other ladies quickly apologized , She was originally the wife of one of my husbands business partners .

She begged me to introduce her , so I brought her last time .

But she- The lady didnt say much , but everyone understood .

No one liked Mrs.

Sullivan .

So , we didnt invite her this time .

I dont know how she found out , but now shes come by herself .

This lady was furious with Christina .

Last time , she had brought her in , and Christinas crude behavior had offended everyone .

This time , they didnt invite her , and yet she showed up uninvited , Outside , Christina was still arguing with the security guard , insisting that she had to get in today .

Behind Christina , Brittany stood uncomfortably , far away .

She really didnt want to be seen with this embarrassing Christina , but she knew that right now , Christina was the only person she could rely on .

Christina had said that by attending the club , she could meet the upper class ladies , which might help her .

But no matter how much Christina pleaded , the security guard kept refusing entry , stating that her name wasnt on the list .

The guard also warned coldly that if she caused more trouble , he wouldnt be polite .

Christina felt a lump in her throat .

She couldnt let all her efforts go to waste .

She had to secure new connections and opportunities for Brittany .

Thats when she suddenly thought of Paisley , and shouted loudly into the room , Im the grandmother of Grayson Vanderbilt ! His mother is my daughter ! You dare not let me in ? The loud shout was clearly heard inside.

Everyone instinctively looked toward Lauren .

However , the first to rise was Diana .

Lauren immediately understood what Diana meant and quickly followed her .
