

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 232

Chapter 232 And this was just the entrance .

As they walked further into the main hall where the event was being held , the sheer opulence took her breath away .

Now she completely understood why Christina was so determined to bring her here .

Arriving just moments after Diana , Lauren could only watch helplessly as Diana warmly escorted Christina inside .

Seeing the annoyed expression on Laurens face , Diana felt a wave of satisfaction .

She glanced at Christina , noticing she didnt seem to recognize Lauren .

Curious , Diana asked , Mrs.

Sullivan , dont you know her ? Considering Paisley had been with Dominick for four years , Lauren and Christina should technically count as in laws .

How could they not know each other ? Christina took a closer look at Lauren and con rmed she didnt recognize her .

She hadnt seen this woman during her previous visit .

She shook her head cautiously and said , Who is this ? Diana chuckled softly , glancing at Lauren .

Shes Mrs.

Vanderbilt .

Mrs.

Vanderbilt Dominicks mother ? Christina and Brittany hearts skipped a beat at the same time .

They had no idea how much Dominicks mother knew about what had happened in the past .

Would she be furious enough to kick them out ? If that happened , it would have been better to not come at all , rather than face the humiliation of being thrown out in front of everyone .

But what Christina and Brittany didnt know was that Lauren felt even more awkward than they did .

Back then , she had looked down on Paisley and had no interest in learning about her other connections .

Besides , Paisley had never mentioned her own family .

At the time , Lauren had assumed Paisley didnt have any relatives in Harrowfell .

It wasnt until recently that she overheard from Grayson that Dominick had taken him to meet his grandparents .

Grayson had said it was chaotic , with his grandparents and Paisley getting into something . ghts or

But Grayson was only seven years old , recounting bits and pieces .

His fragmented descriptions left Lauren utterly confused .

She went to ask Dominick , but he refused to talk about it and told her not to get involved .

It was only then that she realized Paisleys biological parents were also in Harrowfell .

But it wasnt until today that she actually met them .

What surprised her most was the image of the woman in front of her , who claimed to be Paisleys biological mother .

Her eyes , though humble and polite on the surface , carried a constant calculating glint .

The young woman who came in with her wasnt much better her eyes darted around the main hall , restless even when she stood still Looking at the two women , whose overall demeanor was worlds apart from Paisleys , Lauren couldnt help but ask , Are you really Paisleys biological mother ? Christinas heart skipped a beat at the question .

Of course , I am .

Not long ago , my family had dinner with Dominick and Paisleys family .

We even had a little argument afterward , Paisley is just stubborn .

She laughed awkwardly , unsure how much Lauren knew about the Sullivan family .

She tried her best to make it seem like her con icts with Paisley were just normal mother daughter disagreements .

1/2 20:33 Fri , 14 Feb Chapter 232 32 % ㄹ Paisley was stubborn that much Lauren had to agree with .

Since she could mention having dinner with Dominick and Sonny , she was likely Paisleys real mother .

Lauren disliked people like Christina , but since she claimed to be Paisleys biological mother , Lauren had to suppress her distaste for the time being .

As long as Dominick and Paisley could reconcile , Lauren could put up with it for now .

Lauren walked over and affectionately took Christinas arm .

Its my fault .

All these years , I never came to see you .

Now that weve met , we should keep in touch .
