

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 258

Chapter 258 +23) Paisleys current project required the screenwriter to be on set during filming to explain the storyline to the actors and make script adjustments as needed .

After several setbacks , the production had finally resumed .

Technically , as the head screenwriter , Paisley should have been on set constantly during the early stages .

However , due to Serenas hospitalization , she had arranged with Gary to film less critical scenes first and to step in only for major ones .

Todays schedule included one of those important scenes , so Paisley headed to the indoor studio , where the crew was still preparing the set .

Gary was busy directing the team to finalize the scene layout .

Upon seeing Paisley , he quickly gave the staff a few instructions before walking over with a smile .

Nion , youre here .

Yes .

Paisley replied , noticing the white strands in Garys hair .

He had been tirelessly working on the production .

Hows your daughter ? Is she okay ? Gary asked .

After all , as long as Serena was in the hospital , Paisley couldnt fully commit to the project .

Shes fine now .

Just a few more days of observation , and she can be discharged .

Paisley felt relieved and grateful that Serena had been treated in time , avoiding any irreversible consequences .

Glad to hear that , Gary said with visible relief .

As a father himself , he could somewhat understand Paisleys feelings .

After a brief chat , they discussed the upcoming scene and rehearsed it with the actors .

Once the discussion was over , Paisley sat in her designated chair , reviewing the rest of the script .

Ms.

Vaire , hello .

A soft , sweet , and slightly shy voice suddenly sounded above her .

Looking up , Paisley saw a stunning beauty with striking features and fair skin .

It was Sheela , the female lead of this project .

Sheela was one of the top beauties in the entertainment industry , often hailed as the epitome of elegance .

She was the favorite of luxury brands and a regular showstopper on red carpets .

She was once mocked by the media as a candy star , and because of her stunning looks and immense popularity , she faced a lot of criticism from various sectors .

But she remained calm and focused , steadily improving herself and proving herself .

In the past two years , thanks to a few well received TV dramas , she quietly shed the candy star label .

Gary chose her this time because of her improved acting skills and the huge boost her popularity brings .

So when the official Twitter announced that the lead role of the show was switched to Sheela , it caused quite a stir .

The once one sided mockery quickly turned into widespread anticipation .

Although there were still some who criticized the show , it wasnt enough to shake things up .

There was a top tier superstar , yet in front of Paisley , she was as shy as a newcomer to the industry .

Holding the script , she blinked her beautiful starry eyes and stared at Paisley , not even blinking .

Paisley had met some big stars before .

While some were approachable , she had never encountered someone like Sheela before .

Is there something you need ? Seeing Sheela being so cautious , Paisley softened her voice .

After all , everyone loved a beautiful person .

Admiring beauty truly was a pleasant experience .

Well , theres a scene where I cant quite grasp the heroines emotional shift , so I thought Id ask you , Sheela said , her eyes sparkling as she gazed at Paisley .

Paisley couldnt resist such a gaze .

She leaned forward .

Which scene ? Let me take a look .

Two breathtakingly beautiful women , side by side , heads leaning together , both reading the same script .

They whispered softly , occasionally exchanging smiles , sometimes frowning in discussion .

The behind the scenes director certainly didnt miss this moment , and by the time Paisley and Sheela realized it , the camera and photographer were almost right in their faces .

Whats going on ? Paisley felt a bit uncomfortable .
