

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 267

Chapter 267 Chapter 267 # 23 Near the liming location was a small hospital .

Since it was just a minor issue of stitching wounds , Paisley told the ambulance to take them there .

The paramedic initially hesitated .

Dominicks injury seemed straightforward a hurt hand .

But Paisley had a head injury .

Small hospitals might not have the capacity to handle it .

If treatment got delayed , the consequences could be severe .

However , Paisley insisted and even signed a liability waiver .

In the end , the paramedic had no choice but to take her to the small hospital .

In the treatment room , two doctors worked separately on Paisley and Dominicks injuries .

Compared to the doctors cautious and slightly nervous demeanor , Paisley and Dominick were much calmer .

Paisleys wound was treated rit , and she sat in the hospital corridor , calling Maria .

She told her not to wait for her return and to rest early .

In her current state , she knew she needed to go home and clean up rit , at least to change into fresh , blood free clothes .

She didnt want to frighten Serena and Maria when she got back .

Okay , sweetheart , sleep tight .

When you wake up tomorrow , I will be there , Paisley said gently , comforting Serena , who had been very clingy lately .

After ending the call with Serena and Maria , she opened her call log .

While she was on the phone earlier , another number had been trying to call her repeatedly .

Checking it , she saw it was an unfamiliar number .

They probably had something urgent to tell her .

As Paisley debated whether to call back , a message came in from that same number .

She opened the message and saw Sheelas name at the top .

[Ms .

Sutton , can you see this ? Maybe Im overthinking , but I feel somethings off about this person .

] Attached to the message was a photo Sheela had sent .

In the photo , a man in casual workwear was crouching by the fallen stage light .

Due to the angle , it was impossible to tell what he was doing .

But just one look , and Paisley recognized him .

She remembered seeing this man before liming started standing behind her .

When she asked him what he needed , hed awkwardly said he was just passing by .

Feeling suspicious , Paisley immediately called Sheela back .

It was as if Sheela had been waiting for her call .

She picked up within a second .

Ms .

Sutton , are you okay ? Sheelas voice was lled with concern .

Im ne , Paisley replied .

Why do you think this person is suspicious ? The man was dressed as a crew member , so it made sense for him to be near the fallen light unless he had done something truly unusual to draw Sheelas attention .

Sheelas next words confirmed Paisleys hunch .

Sheela explained how she had seen the man walking around the overhead rigging .

At the time , everyone including you had already left the set .

But he stayed up there .

And I noticed that the spot where he stood was directly above where you were sitting earlier .

In other words , if the light had fallen then , Paisley wouldnt have been able to react in time because she was tied to the chair for the shoot .

The light wouldve struck her directly .

The consequences couldve been catastrophic .

My seat , Paisley murmured to herself , suddenly realizing something .

Today , she had been sitting in a different spot than usual .

Normally , at the set , she had a designated chair .

Wherever it was placed , she would sit there .

1/3 19:39 Tue , 18 Feb & SO Chapter 267 34 % 2 Previously , to facilitate discussions with Gary about the script , her chair was always placed near Gary .

But today , it seemed like her chair was positioned further away from Gary .

+3 Initially , she didnt pay much attention to it , as no one would care about where a chair was placed .

But now it seemed that someone had deliberately positioned her chair that way , with the intention of having the falling light hit her directly when it dropped .

But just as the light was about to fall , she was called away because of Dominicks arrival .

Ironically , Sheela hadnt gone out because she was fasting to lose weight , and she happened to witness the whole scene .

Ms .

Sutton , based on my years of acting experience , I feel this person is trying to harm you . Sheela said , sounding very serious , with a tense and worried tone .

Paisley could almost picture the way Sheela furrowed her brow at that moment .

But now , thinking it over , this was indeed something worthy worrying about .

Alright , I understand .

Thank you for letting me know , Paisley replied , still calm so far .

Should we call the police ? Sheela became more agitated , then lowered her voice as if realizing something .

Isnt this attempted murder ? If it were true , then it would indeed be attempted murder .

However Ill handle this .

You just pretend nothing happened and dont make any rash moves , Paisley said .

If this was really the case , then there must be a bigger purpose behind it , and Paisley didnt want to involve Sheela .

Alright , I understand .

No matter what you decide to do , Ms .

Sutton , Ill support you , said Sheela .

Follow new episodes on the CrushnovelS.Com

Paisley smiled wryly .

It seemed Sheela had misunderstood her intentions .

Just as Paisley hung up the phone , Gary and the production team rushed over in a panic .

At that moment , Dominick , having nished treating his wound , walked out of the treatment room .

Upon seeing Gary and the production team , he immediately gave them a murderous glare .

Gary and the production representatives were so frightened that they froze , drenched in cold sweat .

Ms .

Vaire , are you alright ? Gary was more concerned about Paisley than he was about Dominick .

He nervously approached her to check on her .

Im ne .

Its not a big deal , Paisley reassured him .

She knew that in situations like this , Gary would be the most panicked .

If either she or Dominick suffered any major issues , the whole production would have to stop .

And Garys directing career would come to an end .

After several con rmatons , Gary was relieved to know that both Paisley and Dominick were ne , though he still felt uneasy .

Ms .

Vaire , I know its unfair to you , but could we please not pursue this matter for now ? Gary said , almost reluctantly , as if under Dominicks threat of death .

The production had already faced so many setbacks .

If Paisley and Dominick pressed charges , the entire production would halt , waiting for an investigation .

No one knew when theyd be able to restart liming .

The actors all had tight schedules , especially Sheela , whose schedule was packed .

Even one more day of delay could ruin everything .

To alleviate his guilt towards Paisley , Gary quickly added , Dont worry , the production has insurance for every staff member , including you .

All costs will be covered by the insurance .

As for Mr .

Vanderbilt- Gary glanced at Dominick , whose expression was gloomy .

The production will cover his medical expenses too 1 2/3 19:39 Tue , 18 Feb 5a Chapter 267 Dominick was somewhat offended .

He didnt care about the money .

All he cared about was Paisleys safety .

At rst , he was only focused on Paisley , but now , thinking back , he couldnt say for sure whether the light falling was intentional or accidental .

There was no way he could just leave this matter like this .