

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 268

---- Paisley knew exactly what Gary was thinking, and she could understand both his and the production team's concerns.

But she still asked, "Mr.

Anderson, after I left, did you conduct any follow-up inspections on the set?" Gary nodded.

"Yes, I did.

I promise this kind of thing will never happen again." After all, no one could afford for something like that to happen a second time.

What I want to know is, aside from the fallen spotlight, were there any other issues on set?" Paisley asked further.

Gary's expression stiffened.

His lips parted and closed a few times as he hesitated for a long while.

From his reaction alone, Paisley already understood.

Alright, I got it." Looking at Paisley, Gary suddenly felt something click in his mind.

He had indeed arranged for a thorough inspection of the set, and the latest report had just come in another spotlight had a problem.

---- Based on the photos sent from the site, he realized that the faulty spotlight was positioned right above Paisley's chair.

Until Paisley brought it up, he had assumed it was just an installation mistake caused by careless workers.

But now, it seemed like someone had done it on purpose with Paisley as the target.

How could this happen? However, Paisley remained calm with a calm smile.

"D.

worry, Mr.

Al mn.

It was just an accident, know you didn't mean for this to happen. I won't hold anyone accountable.

Once the safety checks are done, let's continue filming.

ay "Paisley," Dominick interrupted her coldly, thinking, Is this woman an idiot? Being too soft-hearted would only get her hurt.

Paisley lifted her gaze to Dominick, her eyes full of warning.

Shut up.

This has nothing to do with you." ---- Dominick was rendered speechless, thinking, This woman is only ever tough on me.

She treats everyone else well.

Hearing Paisley's response, Gary and the production team let out a sigh of relief.

But Nion, you" Gary still felt uneasy.

He thought that if someone had done this deliberately, then there could be a next time.

I'm fine.

No need to worry." Paisley reassured Gary again, giving him a slight nod.

After seeing Gary and the others off, Dominick blocked Paisley's path.

"Paisley, don't tell me you can't see that something is off here?" I know," Paisley admitted without hesitation.

Dominick said, Then why are you still" Paisley cut him off.

I have my own plans.

Stay out of it.

With that, she ignored Dominick, called Lucy over, and got into the car.

Julian walked over.

"Dom, are we really just going to leave it like this? ---- He thought, Paisley is so softhearted to handle this.

Dominick stared in the direction of Paisley's departing car.

"Let her be for now.

Arrange for some people to watch over her in secret.

Got it." Julian nodded and started making calls to set things up.

In the car, Paisley looked at her reflection in the mirror.

Her head was wrapped in layers of bandages, but her face no longer carried the calm expression from before.

Looks like they really want me dead," she muttered, her eyes flashing with icy determination.

What should we do next?" Lucy asked as she drove, her usual warm and friendly demeanor nowhere to be seen.

Paisley said, Don't act recklessly.

Have someone follow that stagehand and see who he meets next." Understood.

Lucy nodded.

---- Paisley thought for a moment.

Let Linna handle this.

She's got too much free time anyway, might as well give her something to do." Linna was another one of Paisley's students.

Paisley rarely assigned her any tasks, because Linna was ruthless.

gan someone had already tried to take Paisley didn't even realize it. She Paisley hadn't been completely done seemed to agree. She wondered how Max's Sorch for his sister was going.

Two days later, Serena was finally discharged from the hospital.

Early in the morning, Jonathan arrived at her ward with the attending doctor.

Good morning, dear Mr.

Walsh." Serena greeted warmly.

After spending a week together, she had grown quite close to Jonathan.
