

The billionaire and his son want me back novel
Chapter 31

Chapter 31 Chapter 31 Sometimes bad things would just pile up all at once .

After hanging up with Gregory , Paisley spent a little while playing with Serena in the room .

After lunch , she was getting ready to put Serena down for a nap when the doorbell rang She opened the door to find Dominick there with Grayson .

How did you even find me ? Paisley asked before she could stop herself .

Then , she realized how silly the question was .

With Dominicks connections , it was easy for him to find her address . Plus , when Serena enrolled in the school , shed had to fill out basic details , including their home address .

As a board member at the school , Dominick could easily access that info .

Since it was the weekend and she hadn't planned to go out , Paisley was dressed pretty casually .

She wore a simple pink loungewear set with a neckline that went down to her collarbones .

Her long hair fell naturally around her neck , accentuating her pale skin .

One lock of hair even playfully slipped inside her shirt .

She wore no makeup .

Her cheeks were soft and pink , and her long lashes fluttered as her eyes flickered with confusion .

The afternoon sunlight streamed through the window , casting a warm glow on her as if she were glowing .

Dominick stood there , froze for a moment , and took in the whole view .

For a second , it felt like time had stopped .

Can I help you with something ? Paisleys voice , cool and distant , broke the silence .

Dominick snapped back to reality , his tone just as distant .

Are we gonna talk at the door like this ? Paisley frowned for a second , but considering the neighbors , she reluctantly stepped back and said , Fine , come in .

minick strode in and stopped at the entryway .

Grayson , without saying a word , kept his head down and quietly followed in .

Dominick scanned the room .

It was a typical three room apartment , but since it was on the top floor , there was an attic as well .

The living room was bright , clean , and tidy .

The couch was a soft beige , and the coffee table was a light brown .

On it sat a glass vase with a few pink flowers , matching Paisleys outfit .

A cozy throw blanket was draped over the couch .

On it was a book , half read .

Almost instantly .

Dominick couldn't help but picture how Paisley lounged on the couch and quietly read with a blanket over her legs .

It was an image that haunted his memories .

She used to wait for him at home every night .

Sometimes , if he was late , shed fall asleep on the couch .

His gaze turned darker , his throat tight , and he quickly shifted his attention elsewhere .

Next to the couch was a photo wall , mostly photos of Paisley and Serena .

In each one , Paisley carried a gentle , content , and radiant smile .

21:56 Mon , Jan 27 Chapter 31 Take your shoes off please , Paisley said , snapping Dominick out of his thoughts .

Dominick retracted his eyes and pressed his lips to change into the slippers as Paisley had demanded .

He looked down at the slippers she had set out for him , which were perfectly fitted to his feet .

His jaw couldn't help but clench .

Who are these for ? he wondered .

Her daughters father ? Or that so called honey ? Or maybe that guy she called honey is her daughters father ? Paisley didnt care to notice the changing expressions on his face Without wasting time , she got straight to the point.

What are you doing here ? Dominick met her gaze , his tone cold but insistent .

Im heading out of town tonight for business .

Ill be back the day after tomorrow .

Youll take care of Sonny for me while Im gone .

Obviously irritated , Paisley frowned , Why would I take care of him ? You can send him to your parents or Marissa .

She had left that world behind for good and had no interest in being tangled up with him or his son anymore .

Paisley , dont forget youre Graysons birth mother , Dominick said , his voice low but firm .

Just as Dominick was about to say something , Grayson , who had been silent and staring at the door the whole time , suddenly spoke up with red eyes , Shes not my mom .

She left our family with nothing .

I dont want her to be my mom ! Paisley raised her eyebrows and smiled at Dominick as if to say .

Did you hear that ? Your son just said it himself .

Dominicks face tightened , and he turned to Grayson .

Grayson , dont talk to your mother like that .

Alright , youve said your piece .

Can you two leave now ? Paisley was done with the whole scene and couldn't wait to drive them away .

Grayson , still teary eyed , clung to Dominicks pants and pulled at him .

Fine , I dont like this place anyway .

Its even smaller than my playroom .

Dad , lets go .

I want to see Marissa .

Paisley didnt show any sign of anger but just watched Grayson quietly .

It reminded her of a time when Grayson had just started kindergarten , and there was a parent child event at the school .

She and Dominick had arrived separately she from home , he from his office .

By the time she got to the school , Dominick had already arrived , with Marissa by his side .

Marissa was holding Grayson , and they were walking towards the event with the teacher .

Paisley called out to Dominick and told the teacher that she was Graysons mother .

The teacher , who was new , didnt know Paisley and assumed Marissa was Graysons mother .

Marissa awkwardly explained , Sorry , Paisley , I just came along with Dom , but Sonny wont let me leave .

She handed Grayson to Paisley and said , I should leave now .

Sonny , your mom is here .

Ill see you next time .

However , Grayson burst into tears , clinging to Marissa and crying , No ! I dont want her ! I want Marissa ! His cries made everyone else at the event turn and stare .

Dominick simply glanced at his watch and said impatiently to Paisley , Its just a small event .

Hurry up and get it over with .

It 21:56 Mon , Jan 27 Chapter 31 still have a business trip .

Why dont you go back now so he can calm down ? Looking apologetic , Marissa gave Paisley a nod .

Sorry , Marissa I take Sonny in now .

And just like that .

Paisley watched her husband and son , holding hands with another woman , walk into the parent child event an event that was supposed to be for family That was the moment she had lost all hope in their marriage , the moment shed realized things would never be the same .

But now , she didnt care anymore .

They couldn't hurt her any longer .

Mommy , do we have guests here ? Serenas soft voice broke the tension in the room .

She padded out from the bedroom in the same matching loungewear as Paisley while rubbing her eyes When she saw the visitors , she was startled and immediately ran to Paisley , wrapping her arms around her mothers leg .

She thought , Did Graysons dad come to yell at us because I hurt him yesterday ? Paisley , trying not to laugh at the misunderstanding , crouched down to explain , Dont worry , sweetheart .

Theyre paying a visit to us .

Dominicks brow furrowed as he watched Paisley explain to Serena .

The word guest didnt sit well with him .

Serena , now visibly relieved , looked up at Dominick , her voice a little shaky .

Hello , sir , welcome to my home .

Even though Serena wasn't his daughter , Dominick couldn't help but soften at the sight of her .

He managed a slight smile , his voice a little warmer than before .

Thanks , Serena .

Still clutching Paisleys leg .

Serena looked at Grayson thoughtfully before speaking up , Hi , Grayson .

She gazed , If he doesnt like me calling him Sonny , then I won Grayson blinked , feeling a bit strange at the way she addressed him .

He thought , Wait , why didnt she call me Sonny ? Good.

ridance , though , I dont want to be so close with that womans daughter anyway .
