

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 68

Chapter 68 In truth , the VIP area wasnt limited to just this section , and the grounds were spacious enough that even if multiple groups were using it at once , they wouldnt interfere with one another .

Initially , the sta couldnt understand why there was any con ict between the guests .

Then they saw the women start racing horses two ladies , of all things , competing in a race .

The sta assumed it was just a friendly activity since neither party sought their assistance .

They wisely kept their distance , thinking nothing of it .

It wasnt until the accident happened that they panicked and called David over .

One of the sta thought , But even so , we didnt do anything wrong.

That horse went wild only because Ms.

Prescott intentionally jabbed it .

And as for Ms.

Sutton , shes a premium VIP .

She has every right to be here ! At rst , when the sta saw Paisley carrying a child with a nanny in tow , they thought she was just a regular member .

It was mainly because their out ts were so plain , and there werent many premium members in the club only a handful in total It wasnt until Paisley gave her name , room number , and presented her membership card for veri cation that they realized she was the Ms.

their boss .

Nathaniel , had speci cally instructed them to take special care of x .

Sutton David barked furiously , Didnt you hear me ? Who let them in ? Even though Paisley was technically a club member , he felt he had to show the proper attitude in front of Dominick .

However , David didnt realize his harsh demeanor was displeasing Dominick , whose face was already darkening Just as Dominick was about to speak and clarify that Paisley was with him , one of the sta members , trembling , nally spoke up . But Mr.

Wilson , this lady is a premium VIP Hearing this , David froze in surprise , and Dominick also paused , momentarily stunned .

Grayson , though young , understood the situation .

He wondered , Paisley ? A premium member here , on the same level as Dad ? That woman ? No way .

Even Marissa doesnt qualify for something like that .

Just then , a voice cut through the air .

Thats impossible .

You must have made a mistake .

It was none other than Marissa .

By then , the doctor had done a quick check on her .

It seemed her bones were ne , but she had some bruising in the soft tissues .

An X ray was needed for a more thorough evaluation Yeah , you guys definitely got it wrong , Alexis chimed in , backing her up .

Harrowfell and the surrounding cities werent exactly small , but their elite circles werent too big either .

The top tier gures might not all know each other personally , but they were certainly aware of one another.

None of them had ever seen or heard of this woman .

Sensing the skeptical stares from David and the other distinguished guests , the sta hurried to clarify.

Its true .

This lady is the guest of room Marissas mind started to race as she pieced things together .

She pondered , 3303 The presidential suite ! The club only has three of those .

One is Nathaniels , another is Dominicks , and the last one ... Paisleys ? Her eyes widened in disbelief .

She couldnt wrap her head around it ..

Dominick froze for a moment before frowning deeply .

For the rst time , he realized he might not know Paisley as well as he thought he did .

Just then , a smooth , teasing male voice ring out .

Oh , everyones here .

That saves me the trouble of making introductions .

It was Nathaniel , arriving fashionably late .

Nathaniel stood tall , nearly six foot three , with awless skin that made his striking red hair even more eye catching .

A diamond stud glinted in his left ear as he sauntered forward , the light catching it and making it sparkle brilliantly .

But the easygoing smile on his face vanished the moment he got a closer look at the scene before hun .

His expression darkened instantly .
