

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 430

The villagers looked at him enviously. “Feng Group? Does that mean it’s run by the Feng Family? The famous one in Donghai? I heard of them.”

“Yeah, me too. They have a lot of properties under them.”

“You’ve made it in life, Tiecheng. To think you’re one of the leaders of such an awesome company. Cool.”

Qin Jun smiled. Feng Group, huh? The company run by Feng Shuqiang.

Wang Yongsheng felt proud, for his son was the most successful young man in the village. Even the village chief couldn’t compare to him. “Tiecheng, your uncle’s son-in-law also works at Donghai. Why don’t you hire him? Being a doctor’s no fun. It’s better working in a big company.” Everyone else started looking envious.

“Yeah, becoming a big company’s employee is a big step up from being a doctor.”

“Jun. Come here and talk to your future leader, quick. At least give him a toast.”

“Ah, they’re relatives after all. It’s really enviable.”

Wang Yongsheng and Wang Aimin were brothers, so asking his son to get Qin Jun a job wasn’t out of line. On the other hand, everyone else could only watch.

Wang Tiecheng finally felt that he could hold his head up high now. All the comparisons earlier were nothing. Only by comparing jobs could a man show his skills and status.

Qin Jun was just a doctor, so he thought the most Qin Jun could become was an expert in the field. Besides, it was uncertain when Qin Jun would be an expert. It's useless if he becomes an expert at eighty.

Wang Tiecheng thought that he had a bright future, for he was already the leader of a big company at this age. "What's your qualification? Where did you graduate from?" Wang Tiecheng crossed his leg and asked Qin Jun like he was the actual boss here.

"Me? I've never gone to any university."

"Huh?" Wang Tiecheng pretended to look shocked. He then frowned, looking like he was in a dilemma. "It's going to be hard entering our company without a degree."

Instead of 'impossible,' he said it was 'difficult.' In other words, he could do it, but Qin Jun had to beg him for it.

Xu Juan immediately got what he was saying. Qin Jun was her future son-in-law after all, so she had to ask Wang Tiecheng for help if a chance presented itself.

"Here, Tiecheng. A toast to you. You're a successful young man now, and we're your family, so do please help if you can."

Wang Tiecheng smiled in satisfaction and said arrogantly, "Well, now that you've asked for my help, aunt, I can't refuse, can I? Well, all I can do is recommend him for a job, but everything else after that depends on him."

Xu Juan didn't quite get what he was saying, but she felt that Wang Tiecheng had a point, so she flattered him.

Qin Jun smiled. "Thank you for your help, Mrs. Wang, but I don't plan on changing jobs at the moment."

"Huh? Oh, okay then." Xu Juan put her glass down upon hearing what Qin Jun said.

Before anyone could say a thing, Wang Tiecheng was irked. What the hell? Is he trying to embarrass me? "Hmph. Young men like us should strive higher. If you don't even grab the chance when it's right in front of you, you won't amount to much."

Wang Tiecheng sneered at Qin Jun. "If you don't want to grab the chance to skyrocket into success, nobody can help you."
