

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 478

Qin Jun acted before the woman could lay her hand on him, slapping her across the face.

When Qin Jun struck her, the layer of powder on her face was shaken loose and his handprint appeared on her face. It was like hitting a blackboard that was full of chalk dust.

With a tight slap from Qin Jun, the woman's true appearance was revealed. Half her face was covered in acne, freckles and wrinkles, making her look like an ugly monster.

"You...hit me! How dare you hit me, you little piece of shit! Darling! He hit me!" she shouted hysterically.

Yan Peng didn't expect that the young man would get physical. "You hit my wife! Are you looking for trouble?!" he threatened Qin Jun.

Although he was furious, he was stuffed from his meal and wasn't in the right state to fight back. Moreover, Qin Jun was physically bigger than him, so he chose to hold his horses.

"Just you wait and see!" he shouted.

Right after that, Yan Peng took out his phone to make a call.

Qin Jun couldn't be bothered to deal with a moron like him. The fact that Yan Peng needed to call for backup annoyed him.

"Let's go," he said to the two ladies.

The three of them walked into the mall and left Yan Peng and his wife outside.

At the entrance, Yan Peng's wife, Bai Ya, turned pale and exclaimed, "Darling, they're getting away! Why didn't you do anything just now? You couldn't stand hitting that little bitch?!"

Yan Peng shook his head and tried to calm her down, "Darling, don't misunderstand the situation. Don't worry, if we ever meet them again, I assure you that they will get a piece of me!"

Bai Ya grunted, "I'll hold you to your word. If we ever bump into that little bitch again, you better not hold back!"

The trio shopped around the mall and took a look at every skincare brand. The mall was rather high end, so the cosmetics products there weren't cheap.

Wang Dongxue shook her head repeatedly and commented, "Everything here is so expensive. We're better off buying Stratus Beauty's products."

Lingling felt the same way and responded, "Let's go to Stratus Beauty then. Oh, have you seen the news lately? Their owner, Liu Qingqing, is absolutely gorgeous and has flawless skin. Her videos aren't even filtered, and her natural skin is better than any filter out there."

Wang Dongxue nodded and said, "Yeah, I've seen her pictures. Their products must be quite good. Alright, let's go and take a look."

Wang Dongxue's income was twenty to thirty thousand per month; she could easily afford higher end products. She didn't wear makeup on a daily basis, so her products could stretch a long way.

Qin Jun laughed and said, “Stratus Beauty? I happen to know the owner. I can help you get a discount.”

“For real?” Wang Dongxue answered with surprise. She wondered how Jun knew so many people. He knew the owner of the clothing store they went to previously. Now it turned out that he knew the owner of Stratus Beauty too?

Qin Jun replied, “Of course. You could even try out their prototypes.”

Wang Dongxue felt like she just got her hands on tickets that would allowed her to visit behind the scenes, just like watching a movie premiere or access to beta versions of games, she would now be able to have the privilege to test out beauty products.

When companies launch new products, they typically won’t launch on a large scale in order to safeguard themselves in case of any unforeseen problems arose.

What they would usually do was launch new products for a selected group of premium members first. These members would be long-term loyal customers of the brand, so dealing with any potential problems would be easier.

Although Qin Jun had never shopped at Stratus Beauty before, he was already a shareholder of the company, making him a premium member automatically.
