

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 661

A line appeared between Ye Wan'er's brows. She ignored them and headed towards the television station.

Liu Yu and Chi Mei kept talking to Ye Wan'er since they were heading towards the television station, but Ye Wan'er gave them the cold shoulder. In the end, they lost interest and kept mum.

"Liu Yu, do you think that man beside Ye Wan'er is her boyfriend?" they started gossiping quietly.

"I guess so. Look at him. He doesn't even have a car, so he must be broke."

"I think so too. Anyways, that's probably Ye Wan'er's standards. She can act like she's better than us, but we all know what kind of person she is."

The gossip continued, and in just a short while, they reached the television station.

There was a long queue at the entrance. Since it would be a live telecast, the security had to check each and every audience member thoroughly to make sure they did not carry anything with them.

Upon noticing Ye Wan'er and Qin Jun still loitering outside the station, Chi Mei said, "Ye Wan'er, are you sure you want to get in? This is a CCTV live telecast. You can't enter with fake tickets."

Chi Mei did not believe that someone who worked in a lowly medical center could get tickets to this show.

Basically, tickets were only given to department heads and the management teams in established hospitals. Even Chi Mei and Liu Yu had to pull a few strings to get the tickets for themselves.

It would be an eye-opener for them to witness how experienced Chinese physicians would treat patients. At the same time, they would also be able to brag about the fact that they had attended The Chinese Medicine Forum in front of their colleagues.

Ye Wan'er frowned and took out her ticket, "I have a ticket."

The two women were dumbfounded when they noticed Ye Wan'er's ticket was black in color.

"How come it's different from ours?"

Chi Mei took out her tickets and checked. Theirs were red in color, whereas Ye Wan'er's was black.

Of course, they were different. Qin Jun's tickets were entrance tickets for staff, and Chi Mei's tickets were for the audience.

A line appeared between Chi Mei's brows, "Ye Wan'er, you're not going to enter using a fake ticket, aren't you?"

Chi Mei's loud voice had gotten everyone's attention.

People, who were queuing up to enter the hall, began to turn their attention to Ye Wan'er.

Ye Wan'er frowned, "Mind your words, Chi Mei! My ticket is real!"

Chi Mei let out a cold snort, "Haven't you learned a thing or two in school? Can't you see your ticket is different from ours? Do you dare to claim that the one you have is not a fake ticket?"

Liu Yu also sneered, "You're a disgrace to the healthcare industry. Security! Please get them out of here!"

The two women started yelling, and the commotion had caught a few security guards' attention.

CCTV had strict security protocols. They were stricter now since they would be going live. There were even policemen on standby to make sure everything was in order.

A few security guards came over and asked with frown, "What's wrong?"

Chi Mei pointed at Ye Wan'er and said, "This woman is planning to enter using a fake ticket! You all better check her properly!"

The security guards' forehead puckered and walked to Ye Wan'er, "Madam, please show us your ticket."

Ye Wan'er's face changed, but she still handed the ticket to the guard.

The guards then took out a device and scanned the ticket.

"Madam, the ticket you have is for staff. Please enter using the special entrance."
