

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 674

Qin Jun chuckled. "You can say so. Why? Do you want to know Master Qin?"

Lin Yueyao glared at him. "Obviously. Did you see how Master Qin looks like?"

Qin Jun shook his head. "I didn't see his face because he was wearing a mask."

"Aw..."

Lin Yueyao sighed and had no choice but to give up.

They took a cab home. Qin Jun took the opportunity to visit his aunt and eat dinner together.

After reaching home, Lin Yueyao took out her phone and scrolled through Weibo. However, the more she looked, the worse her expression became. She even looked like she was on the verge of tears.

Tang Min asked, "What's wrong, Yueyao?"

Lin Yueyao shook her head quickly. "It's nothing. I don't have any appetite. You can eat first."

After speaking, Lin Yueyao entered her room and locked herself inside.

Tang Min was a bit puzzled. "Jun, what's wrong with Yueyao?"

Qin Jun felt helpless too. "I don't know."

Lin Yueyao probably felt sad after seeing the rumor about Master Qin and Su Wenqi's relationship...right?

However, this was for the best. If she realized that her cousin was Master Qin, she might have a massive break down.

"Jun, do you have a girlfriend?"

Qin Jun was stunned before nodding. "You can say so."

He should just say that he had a girlfriend. If he did not, his aunt would probably introduce a girl to him again.

Tang Min nodded. "Bring her over to visit me a few days later. Oh, right! A distant relative from the capital is going to visit soon. Bring your girlfriend over so we can meet her."

"Alright."

Qin Jun knew a bit about his distant relatives from the capital. They were quite close with his aunt, but not so much with his mother. When something so major happened to his family, they did not help out at all. Hence, Qin Jun did not have a good impression of them.

However, since they were coming to visit, it was not a big deal to host them.

Qin Jun went back home. As Master Qin's popularity had been soaring recently, he received a lot of calls.

Many people tried to contact Qin Jun through the production team. Some people wanted to be his student, while others were businesses trying to collaborate with him. However, Qin Jun rejected all of them.

As there were not a lot of people who knew Qin Jun's true identity, the calls became fewer as time passed.

One day, Qin Jun's phone rang again. It was a call from Zhao Likun, the Director of CCTV.

"Director Zhao, is someone trying to be my student again?"

Zhao Likun laughed and said, "Don't worry. I rejected everyone who wants to be your student. I'm calling you this time for something else."

"Huh? What's wrong?"

"I heard that you have an uncle called Qin Yushu, right?"

Qin Jun was stunned before saying, "Yes. But he has passed away."

Qin Jun had a total of four uncles and two aunts. The youngest uncle was Qin Jun, who was only around ten years older than Qin Jun. However, he passed away when he was only a young man.

Zhao Likun paused and sighed.

"I heard of this before. I called you today to ask whether your uncle has children."

Qin Jun frowned. "Although my uncle had a lot of girlfriends, he never married or had any children."

Back then, the Qin Family was a powerful and prominent family. Naturally, Qin Yushu was a wealthy playboy.

However, he did not have full autonomy over marriage matters. Hence, even though he had a girlfriend, he never married and nor had any children.

Zhao Likun asked, "Is it possible that your uncle had children whom you do not know about?"

Qin Jun was stunned. "What do you mean, Director Zhao?"
