

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 704

After the waiter finished speaking, everyone was astounded. They widened their eyes and gaped at him fearfully.

One and a half million? Did these few bottles of wine cost so much?

Just like what the waiter said, imported wines were usually not as expensive. However, they had opened the wines on display in the room.

This was the best suite in the karaoke bar. These vintage wine were used to decorate the room.

These wine were like red and white wine. With age, the costs would skyrocket. It was normal for a bottle of wine to cost more than ten thousand.

The girls were stunned. Knowing that they had messed up, they turned around and look at Yu Qiang, who was still immersed in his singing. Everyone was at a loss for words.

“Yu Qiang! Yu Qiang!”

Yu Qiang was still singing when he discovered that there were a lot of people staring at him. Hence, he stopped.

“What’s wrong?”

The girls looked very embarrassed. “Yu Qiang, the waiter... said that the wine is quite expensive.”

Yu Qiang frowned. "How expensive can a Remy Martin be? You know how much the wine in a karaoke bar usually costs."

After speaking, Yu Qiang placed the microphone down, paused the music and walked over. He asked, "How much is it?"

The waiter said with a smile, "A total of one and a half million, Sir."

"Haha! It's only one and a half... What?"

Yu Qiang was stunned. He widened his eyes and gaped at the waiter.

The waiter repeated, "It's a total of one and a half million, Sir."

Yu Qiang was astounded. "One and a half million? Are you joking?"

"Sir, I'm not joking with you. These bottles of Remy Martins are vintage wines. You can search them up on the official website. Plus, we bought them when we first started. We have the recipes."

Yu Qiang grabbed a bottle of wine immediately and started inspecting it. Having drunk some of it before, he knew quite a bit about high-end wine.

When he saw the year of manufacturing, Yu Qiang's eyes widened. Then, he whipped out his phone, googled it and realized that the price quoted was true!

One bottle cost more than ten thousand. There were more than ten opened bottles of Remy Martines on the table.

I'm doomed! The color was completely drained from Yu Qiang's face. In this karaoke session, they drank one and a half million worth of wine. Were they trying to kill him?

Yu Qiang squeezed out a smile reluctantly and said to the waiter, "Okay, I understand. You can go first."

Since the bottles had already been opened, there was no more room for regrets.

Yu Qiang sat down and continued drinking with the rest, as if nothing had happened.

"You guys continue drinking. I'll get some fruits for you."

Yu Qiang left the suite and pretended to get some fruits. However, when he reached the counter, he took out his phone and acted like he received a call.

"Hello? Why did you take so long to come? Alright! I'll come down to welcome you!"

After speaking, Yu Qiang went downstairs, hailed a cab and escaped.

He did not even take his clothes. His Mercedes was still parked outside the restaurant, but he would retrieve it tomorrow.

He did not even want his coat. Compared to the one and a half million, his coat was nothing.

As he agreed to pay for the bill today, he would have to foot the one and a half million as well.

Although Yu Qiang earned quite a lot, one and a half million was not a small amount for him. Even his entire savings did not add up to that much. If he had to pay it all, he might even need to sell his car.

He was just trying to make himself feel good by showing off in front of his classmates. However, he was not foolish enough to lose more than one million for this.

It did not matter if his classmates insulted him or his reputation got damaged because he escaped.

Anyway, it was those ignorant girls who opened the bottles of wine. They should pay for their own actions!
